Oliver's Status To Be Investigated

The Peterborough Junior O. H. A. team have asked the O.H.A. to inquire into the status of Claude Oliver, goalkeeper of the Lindsay team, claiming that he is not eligible to play with Lindsay under the the residence rule. If the claim is substantiated it is likely that Peterborough and Lindsay will be ordered to play a sudden death game to decide the group championship. In the meantime, however, Lindsay has been ordered to play Midland in the second round, the first game to be played in Midland to-morrow night.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Delegates to the convention of the National Association of Merchant Tailors, which met here, forecast a new era for picturesque sports attire for men. Garish designs and hues will be the rule, the delegates announce, and they ascribe the prospective situation to the association of people of divers nationalities during the war.

The woollen goods industry almost approached a condition of demoralization at the time during the war, it was declared, because of a state of hysteria due to busybodies, who intruded on the province of the tailors and advocated the wearing of "homespun sackcloth and ashes."

The German Government

the National Assembly, condemning the "seizure" of Alsace and the delayed repatriation of German war prisoners, while Edward David president of the Assembly, showed the same open defiance in his getting to "our captive Alsatian and Lorrainian brothers."

Strong Movement.

There is a stronge movement under way for the political neutralization of foreign affairs to enable old experienced officials under Foreign Minister Brockdorff Rantzau, to present a strong and united front at the peace conference. The National Assembly will take up foreign problems Tuesday. They will first be submitted to open debate and then will be worked out by committees.

The newspapers in addition to publishing numerous articles from supposed residents of Alsace-Lorraine, calling for liberation from the French, continue to quote various secretaries as demanding the return of German colonies.

Fifty Years' Work.

(United Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 10.—I believe a reconciliation of the peoples of the Central Powers and the Entente can be effected only if a peace of right and justice is made," declared Count Brockdorff Rantzau, Germany's Foreign Secretary, in an interview with the Weimar correspondent of the Matin.

"You want to take from us the results of fifty years' work in Alsace-Lorraine," he continued. "We seek only an equitable peace. The huge majority of German people cherish no thought of revenge. One has the impression, however, that France is trying to profit from the armistice negotiations by making it appear we admitted the justice of its terms."

Campaign is Nearing Close

The Young Women's Christian Association Membership Campaign is drawing near the end. All returns should be handed in by the captains to the office staff by Wednesday the 11th, in order to be counted in the results. Those who would become members of the Association and have not been canvassed are urged to leave their names at the office. Following are membership privileges.

Membership in the Association is necessary before joining any of the classes. In case of removal to another city, membership is transferable, and serves as an introduction and a safe guard to the girl who is a stranger in the city to which she goes. Members are privileged to use the Library and Reading Room at all times, and the Gymnasium for recreation and basket ball on certain evenings. Membership admits to parties, entertainments, mass meetings and the social life of the Association, and entitles to enrolment in Bible Study Classes and Dramatic Clubs, and also in the Chautauqua Reading Course. Membership in a Club entitles to the use of the club rooms for games, meetings, practices. Your membership helps the Association to be a more attractive place for other girls because of your interest in it, and offers you opportunities for service in helping other girls and in maintaining the ideals of the Association.

If you do not wish to become a member yourself, your fee will make it possible for some one else to belong.

Music & Drama

"A NIGHT IN HONOLULU."

"A Night in Honolulu," a story of Hawaii resembling in its plot and characters "The Bird of Paradise," and "A Daughter of the Sun," proved a very entertaining production as presented at the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening. The volcanic eruption which distinguished the other two Hawaiian plays was a again in evidence in Saturday's offering, and provided an opportunity for spectacular scenic effects. Local colour was furnished by a trio of Hawaiian musicians who scored heavily in a programme of delightful music. The company was one of uniform excellence. Especially good work was done by Miss Dolly Gay as Kalama, the dancing girl, while Ray Simmons provided most of the comedy of the action as "Bubbles." Miss True Powers' presentation of the difficult role of Keola, was a feature.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the attraction at the Grand will be "A Little Mother."

ILLUMINATED CERTIFICATES FOR DISCHARGED SOLDIERS

LONDON, Feb. 10.—It is learned that all demobilized soldiers are now being furnished with a letter of thanks from the Army Council for services rendered. It is pointed out that the men are not being finally discharged until after peace is signed and that then every officer and man who served will be given an illuminated certificate, in addition to a service and a war medal.

WOOD ALCOHOL CAUSES DEATH IN LUMBER CAMP

SUDBURY, Feb. 10.—One man is dead and three are in St. Joseph's Hospital here, while others are sick at a lumber camp near Kashbaw, Mileage 66, C.N.R., from drinking wood alcohol. A foreigner admits taking the liquid into the camp, and is now under arrest. He says he got it in Montreal. An investigation has been ordered.

BROKE INTO DISTILLERY.

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 10. — Albert E. Dunk, Arthur Palmer and Charles Wellman were by Magistrate Masson sentenced to six months in the Ontario Reformatory for breaking into a warehouse of the H. Corby Company's distillery at Corbyville, and stealing a quantity of liquor.

Rev. D. A. Macdonald Addressed Three Meetings in St. Paul's

Returned Missionary Spoke on Religious Life in Korea—A Great Awakening.

Rev. D. A. Macdonald, B.A., missionary to Korea, addressed three meetings in St. Paul's church yesterday. In the morning he spoke on certain phases of religious life of the Korean church. He said in part:

"In recent years there has been a great awakening up and down the continent of Asia. In no nation has this awakening been more rapid or more remarkable than in Korea. Korea for long was known as the hermit nation of the world. It was the last nation to open its doors to western influence and to Christianity. While a generation ago the first Presbyterian missionaries entered Korea, to-day there are 223 ordained native pastors, 2,500 church buildings, 86,000 communicants, and more than 300,000 Christians.

The Korean church has many distinctive characteristics.

1. Bible Study. From the beginning of missionary work great emphasis has been placed upon the systematic study of the Bible, and to-day the Korean Bible study classes are noted all over Christendom. People gather together from long distances and spend from a week to a month in the systematic study, under qualified teachers, of the Bible and religious subjects. Last year in Korea, there were 3,000 such classes, of from four days upward, attended by 82,000 people, all of whom attended these classes at their own expense.

2. It is a Moral Church. The morality of the Korean church will compare very favourably with the Canadian church. The ten commandments are taken seriously by the Korean. Matters of drinking, polygamy, Sabbath breaking, and other vices are matters of strict discipline, in which it is the native pastor rather than the Foreign Missionary who is most insistent.

3. The Korean church aims at self support. It will not be long, we hope, before the Korean church, as regards not only money, but men and administrative ability, will be independent of the home church. During the past year the average giving of the Korean church was $2.00 per capita. This would represent at least $20.00 of our money value.

4. The Korean church has already become a missionary church. It has followed its emigrants into Manchuria and Siberia. A native pastor has for several years been working among the Korean students in Tokio. But it is not only in home missions but in foreign missions that the Korean church is enthusiastic. Six years ago three Korean pastors were sent as foreign missionaries to the province of Shantung in China, and already churches have been established and a Christian community organized. These are supported entirely by native funds. And the foreign missionaries near this district speak in the highest terms of the work of the Korean missionaries. This is probably the only instance in the history of Christendom since the first century when a first generation church has established a foreign mission movement.

Anniversary Services Held in Mark Street Methodist Church

Interesting Discourse By the Rev. R. Bamforth of Cobourg—Special Music for the Occasion.

Mark Street Methodist Church was filled to capacity at both services yesterday, when the Young People's anniversary was celebrated with special services. Rev. Mr. R. Bamforth, of Colborne, conducted the services.

Special Music.

In the morning the music was especially good. Miss Elva McIntyre sang "The Ninety and Nine," by Campion, very sweetly. Mr. R. F. Downey rendered "Alone," by Weir, and Mrs. Ward, "Rome's "Silent Voices." Mrs. Ward also sang the solo in the anthem.

In the evening the anthem, Pitts' "Little Church by the Wood," was splendidly sung by a quartette, consisting of Messrs. J. Spiers, C. Howson, G. Rome and McKillicken, while the full choir, which included a large number of the boy scouts, sang "Will You Be a Volunteer?" Mr. H. Nelles very ably taking the solo. Miss Etta Kempt, the organist, left nothing to be desired, both as an accompanist and in the regular music.

Evening Sermon.

In the evening Rev. Mr. Bamforth preached an impressive sermon, teaching the lesson that man is victor over circumstances, not circumstances over man, devloping his point from the text, Paul 4, verse 22: "All the saints salute you, even they that are of Caesar's household."

We who know the conditions of his house will naturally ask what wonder was this. It is as easy to conceive the idea of doves in eagles' cages; lambs living with lions, or angels with white wings living in a coal pit. These saints correct society's mistaken idea about environment and the tyranny of circumstances. Our generation has fallen into error in its thinking. Science has over-emphasized environment and man has come to look upon circumstances as all controlling. There never was a day of age in the world's history when free men had the chance to rise above circumstances that they have to-day. Any man with an honest conception of God is master of circumstance.

We can rise above poverty, neglect, obscurity and loneliness. There were only 2000 nobles in Rome, and these owned all the land of Italy; the rest were tenants. The people received their bread as a free gift from Nero. They toiled and laboured and another ate the clusters they produced. They toiled but Caesar had the harvest. They made houses and Caesar collected the rents. All the economic principles of injustice of to-day and the political injustice multiplied a thousand fold would not equal the economic wrongs of that epoch. Nevertheless, fearing God, they honoured the king; they met hate with love, curses with pity, and vulgarity with pardon. And the promise of the Saviour, "the truth shall make the free was fulfilled," after many years. They became master of environment.

These saints teach us that we can be victorious over injustice and oppression and criminal wrong. Doubtless many of them were slaves. One-half of the people carried the mark. These slaves could not hold property. Their owner had the power of life and death over them; they were bought and sold like any merchandise.

The saints also teach that good work is immortal, and that though the man dies his good work lives after him. The saints slept in a dungeon, and now the dungeon has become a sounding board from which they speak to the world. Their saintliness and gentleness have taken wings and leap across centuries to meet and greet us with their undying lesson.

WANT AMERICAN GRAIN FOR RHINELAND BEER

COBLENZ, Feb. 10.— One of Germany's war hardships which have held over is the lack of good beer. The beer which one gets here to-day is considered terrible stuff by those who are able to judge. They say that it smells bad and tastes worse. There is much discontent among the Germans because of their beer.

The question of improving the brew was the subject of discussion yesterday at a meeting of the Rhineland Brewers who, after much debate, decided to look to America for grain to make good beer. It was stated that if America would furnish grain for this purpose she would be doing a great service and that President Wilson could thus greatly enhance his reputation in Deutschland.

I understand that the case will soon be laid before the American military authorities here with a plea for the expedition of action.

Americans On Home Stretch

Total of 67,038 Officers and 1,035,812 Men Have Been Discharged.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—General March, U.S. Chief of Staff, said here that demobilization in the U.S. Army was on the "home stretch." Up to Friday a total of 67,038 officers and 1,038,812 men had been discharged, while the total ordered for discharge had reached 1,442,000.

Up to January 31, 236,824 men had been returned from France. The department estimates that 160,000 will be returned in February. This is an increase of 46,000 over the January total, due largely to the transformation of cargo vessels into transports.

General March said that 51 cargo ships had been ordered converted, and that the first of these were now coming into service.

Plans for divisional parades in some cities have been upset by the commander flow of troops homeward. General March said the units were returning in such scattered form, that in a great majority of cases it now seemed improbable that divisional organization could be held together long enough for large parades.

The greatest military camp in the world will be established at Brest when plans for extension of embarkation facilities have been completed. General March said Brest would be the backbone of the American demobilization system. It already has handled 51 per cent. of the soldiers sent back to the United States up to date. Its capacity for 50,000 men is to be doubled.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Ziang Sun Wan and his brother, T. L. Wan, students at New York University, were formally arrested yesterday in connection with the murder of Dr. Theodore T. Wong, Shsie and Ben Zen Wu, officials of the Chinese educational mission to the United States, whose bodies were found at the Mission's headquarters here on the night of January 31.

United States Labour Agitators Are Deported

Consist Mostly of Scandinavians and Will Be Sent Home—Whole Train Load Deported by U.S. Immigration Officials.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Fifty-four members of the Industrial Workers of the World passed through Chicago last night in a special train under heavy guard on their way to an Atlantic port, where it is said they will be deported at once by the immigration authorities. Forty of the prisoners came direct from Seattle where it is alleged they took part in fomenting the general strike. The majority of the men were alien labour agitators picked up by officers of the United States Immigration Service during the year of secret campaigning in industrial centres of the Pacific coast. The majority of the prisoners will be sent back to Russian provinces. They are principally Norwegians, Swedes and Finns, according to the guards on the train.

The Spartacans Rebel in Berlin

Former Chief of Police in Berlin Leads the Extremists—German Censorship Withholds News — Government Troops Open Fire — Numerous Casualties Reported.

Canadian Press:

ZURICH, Switzerland, Feb. 10. — Grave Spartacan disorders broke out in Berlin on Saturday evening, according to advices received here. Soldiers and sailors commanded by former Chief of Police Eichhorn, are reported to have occupied the Alexander Platz, and the Government troops opened fire upon them. Eight persons were killed and forty wounded, it is said. The German censorship is withholding details of the trouble.

MADE A GREAT RECORD

It may not be generally known what was accomplished by the Sarnia city fire department in the knitting of socks, but during the time that the knitting machines were at the fire hall the fire laddies turned out nearly 5,000 pairs of socks. This is a remarkable record and reflects much credit on the boys who so willingly contributed their services in the interests of the boys overseas.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT GEORGE STREET

At the George street Methodist church on Sunday morning the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to a large congregation, and twenty-nine persons were received into the church membership. The pastor's evening theme was "A House to Let," and was based upon the words of Jesus, in Matthew, 12, 43 to 45. It was an exhortation to attain to a goodness which is not simply negative but also positive. The speaker declared that the elements which should be put into life are an humble acceptance of Jesus Christ, a practice of religious habits, a practical expression of kindness and an investment of our powers for the fulfillment of the divine idea. The music of the evening was of a fine order. Mr. Harold Jones and Miss Rathbone rendered a duet,

Voice of The People

Editor Examiner, City:

Dear Sir,—I am pleased to see the Review so vigorously advocating the temperance cause. It advertised liquor until the Government put a stop to the importation of liquor into Ontario, and no one will ever know how much hard-earned money went out of this province to Montreal, through the Review advertisements. A good way to keep your money at home and build up your own city!

However, the well known temperance views of the controlling shareholder of the Review, no doubt decides its policies and now we have a first-class, blue-ribbon temperance journal, even if it is an eleventh hour confession.

I congratulate the Review.

Yours truly,
Temperance.

Editor Examiner, City:

Dear Mr. Editor,—Why should the Unionist Conservative Review, for I understand Mr. Stratton is now a Conservative, attack every night the Labour men and those who advocate a Labour party. The Review says Labour failed to create a party in the United States and in Canada. What about England? There is a live, growing Labour party there which has been the cause of more reforms for the good of mankind than either of the political parties have ever given.

The trouble with the Review is, that it represents the hungry, grasping, hard-hearted capitalistic view of life and not the cause of reform, fair wages and steady employment for the workingman.

Yours respectfully,
English Labourite.

Drama Dealing With War-time Conditions and Presented by Exceptionally Strong Company—Will be Given Again To-night.

A play with a lesson which is brought home to the audience in a most convincing manner. Such is "A Little Mother," a drama dealing with war-time conditions, which was presented at the Grand Tuesday night, before a large-sized audience. In this production by Lem. B. Parker, given in four acts, there is, indeed, much thought for reflection, and it holds the keen interest of the audience from start to finish. It is presented by an able and finished company each character making a great impression. The play is unique, in that it presents for the first time, on the dramatic stage, the great problem of the war baby.

As Mary Stevens, Cecilia Jacques is all that could be desired. In her many emotional scenes she showed marked ability. Earl Jamison was very good in the role of the lover. The big character, however, is that of the kind-hearted and noble grandfather, who stands by Mary, rules his house as it should be ruled, and who takes over the reins at every critical stage. This part is ably taken by Oscar O'Shea, while his wife, Esther Evans, shares honors with him in the role of Martha Stevens, the good-hearted spinster, who tried to keep things around the house as they should be kept, even though accused by the grandfather of spending too much time in her kitchen, when she should have been training Mary for her journey through life, and guiding her. All the other characters were in able hands, but particular mention is due Constance Neilson, who took the part of Cherry Bash and Charles Greiner as Johnny Stevens, "A bundle of blunder," but who was always "Johnny on the spot" when there was anything doing. Cherry Bash was heralded as "A breeze from Wyoming." She certainly displayed all the vim and dash her part called for. Cherry and Johnny made a great pair, and well deserved the hearty applause showered upon them. Last, but by no means least, there should be special reference to the real live baby that appeared on the stage. All babies are cute, so this one was no exception. "Just a dream", "and my so cute," were among the expressions heard in the audeince in regarding the baby, and everyone in the audience was ready to forgive the chubby mite for the trick he played on the fond grand father too. "A Little Mother" appears at "The Grand" for two days commencing to-morrow night with a special Wednesday matinee at 2:30.

Frank Barber Will Give Address

The public are invited to attend an open meeting of the Engineers Club in the Public Library Hall, on Thursday evening, February 13th, when an address will be delivered by Mr. Frank Barber of Toronto, who is the City's Consulting Engineer on the new Hunter Street Bridge. Mr. Barber will speak on "Canadian Concrete Bridges," with some reference to the Hunter Street Bridge. He is bringing a large number of lantern slides which will be shown during the evening.

It is expected that considerable discussion will develop with regard to this subject, which is very much in the mind of the public at the present time.

It is told of a St. Louis miser that he eats his meals before a mirror because it doubles the dishes.

Chorus Girl Asks $100,000 As Heart Balm From Mining Man

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. — Discovery that Thomas F. Barrett, wealthy coal mining and railroad official, of Washington, D. C., and Pittsburg, Pa., was a married man when in the early part of 1918, she alleges, he promised to marry her, caused Miss Edith M. Kessler, then a member of the chorus of the Follies Road Company, to begin an action in the Supreme Court of Rockland County, N. Y., for $100,000 as balm for her broken heart.

Miss Kessler, who says she is twenty-two years old, is now stopping at the Lennox Hotel, in West Forty-fourth street. In her complaint which was transferred to the Federal Court in this district at the request of the defendant, Miss Kessler declares that she first met Mr. Barrettt on November 29, 1917, in Washington.

Mr. Barrett, she informed a reporter, met her at the railroad station as she and other members of the theatrical company were awaiting a train to take them to Pittsburg. The very stupid porter, she declared, neglected to get her a berth on the Pullman car, and as she was bemoaning her fate to girl friends, Mr. Barrett entered the car and sat beside her. He gave her a box of the most delicious candy, she said, and thereafter they engaged in a long chat, until dusk, when Mr. Barrett surrendered his berth to her and consented to spend the night in the day coach.

Miss Kessler said the first time she learned Mr. Barrett was married was when Mrs. Barrett and her twin children came on from Pittsburg to ask the actress why she was writing affectionate letters to her husband. Mrs. Barrett's interrogation, Miss Kessler said, last night, took place at the home of her father, David D. Kessler, secretary of the State Racing Association, in Nyack, N.Y.

That was on April 23, 1918. Miss Kessler said last night she explained to Mrs. Barrett she did not know "Frank," as he was known to her was married. The information that he had a wife and two children was a great shock to her, Miss Kessler declared last night.

Justice Joseph Morschauser, in the Supreme Court in White Plains, N. Y., signed the removal papers so that the case can be heard in the Federal Court, because of the residence of Mr. Barrett in another state.

Poland Reaches the First Rung

Food Prices Are Still High in Poland.

Canadian Press:

WARSAW, Feb. 10.—Poland has reached the first rung in the ladder of freedom, Ignace Jan Paderewski, Premier and Foreign Minister, said in a statement to-day. "The union of all parties in Poland," he added, "was shown by the result of the elections and by the fact that the elections were conducted peaceably. One of the first of our needs is the opening of the port of Danzig so that we will be able to bring in products to lower the terrific cost of living. To bring in products would automatically decrease the cost in the local markets," said the Premier.

Premier Paderewski is bearing up well under the tremendous strain of the last two months. He lives at the Hotel Bristol, of which he is part owner with Madame Paderewski.

British to Clear War-Strewn Land

Troops Will Remove Mines and "Duds" So That Farmers May Plow.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The British Army will co-operate actively in the reconstruction of French territory devastated by the Germans. The British High Command has informed the French military authorities that it will do its utmost to put the ground in condition for cultivation and to facilitate return of the inhabitants and will also undertake the removal of unexploded projectiles from the fields, as well as of other war material which would hinder cultivation.

It is difficult for any one who has not visited the battlefields to realize the importance of such work. There are not only "dud" shells, but land mines and anti-tank charges that were laid by both sides in the flux and reflux of battle. Inhabitants who have just returned from the region of Cambrai—to take one instance only— say that explosions are constant. Some are deliberate, as the result of the work of the specialists cleaning up the ground, but many are accidental and attended with loss of life and damage to property.

The British will obviate all this by thorough demarkation of all danger points, which will be followed by expert removal or blocking up of the charges. They purpose to organize working companies in the various armies of the northern region, from Amiens to Valenciennes, and from Bapaume to Roubai.

The British High Command has also announced its desire to satisfying in every way possible the requirements of the local civilian authorities with a view to repairing war damages. All material gathered from the land will be stored in proximity to railroad depots, to be handed over as required to the inhabitants for building and other constructive work Finally, all expenses of the maintenance and payment of the working companies will be borne by the British Army.

It is doubtful if any decision could be of greater benefit to the devasted regions. Hitherto the confusion of powers between the French military and civil authorities—not to mention the further complications between the functions of the State and local bodies—combined with transport difficulties, has resulted in the regions concerned being little better off materially than during the German occupation. The prime necessity is to clear the land, not only of projectiles, but of barbed wire, concrete, and thousands of wooden structures that might be useful elsewhere, but which in their present position are merely obstacles.

It is hoped that the British initiative in the north will be followed by similar action on the part of the French army in other sectors. Once the ground is cleared agricultural work, which is not the least important feature of reconstruction, can be resumed speedily and without danger.

Carpenter of 72 Demanded Wage of 45 Cents An Hour

Judge Colter, However, Awarded Him 10 Cents Less.

ST. THOMAS.—Claiming that the plaintiff could not do as good a day's work as another man, David McIntyre of Yarmouth disputed an account of $300 rendered by L. E. Clowse, a carpenter of New Sarum, who is 72 years old. The case came into the county court and was adjourned at the last sitting. After a trial lasting a whole day, His Honour Judge Colter gave judgment for 35 cents per hour for all the time the plaintiff worked for the defendant.

The defendant hired the plaintiff to do some work, and he brought his son, Charles Clowse, with him. According to the evidence, he charged the same wages, 45 cents per hour, with board, and a dollar a day extra if he boarded himself, at 72 years, as he did for his son, a young fellow. McIntyre claimed that the plaintiff had not been on the job all the time owing to sickness, and his son had not properly finished it. An offer of 40 cents per hour was made him, but he refused to accept this. J. B. Davidson appeared for the defendant and J. D. Shaw for the plaintiff.

Wants Guarantees of Quick Aid in War

PARIS, Feb. 10. — The true inwardness of the French attitude toward the Society of Nations is set forth in a Temps editorial on the Wilson and Deschanel speeches yesterday in the Chamber. France is not yet sure how far international action may be practical and efficacious. So after analyzing Deschanel's points (which chiefly concern the material guarantees for France's future protection) the writer discusses President Wilson's view, in which he holds that only international guarantees are suggested.

He says that, satisfactory as the President's statement that other nations have aided and would in the future aid France against aggression, there are two important factors, time and space, to be considered. It is not only a question of reuniting the forces of widely separated nations, but also of the moment at which their intervention may take place. Thus nearly three years elapsed before America intervened in the recent conflict, during a considerable part of which the army of Russia, he says ,was the only great army cooperating with France.

France's position, he holds, is such that if she be willing in the interests of world peace to waive full material guarantees she must have the certainty of whole hearted and immediate aid from the Society of Nations. The editorial concludes:

"Each nation affiliated with the society must have the will and power to sign the convention according to the terms on which it pledges itself to enter war immediately with all the forces at its disposal against any State that attacks another State.

"France is ready to sign. The United States doubtless is ready also. No other interpretation can be placed on the President's statement and it will be a cause for rejoicing when this interpretation is confirmed by facts."

Several Peterboro Soldiers Return

A Number of 93rd Battalion Men Were Among the Number.

Lieut. George Logan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Logan, Murray street, returned to his home over the week end after a year's absence overseas, during which he spent ten months at Holzminden as a prisoner of war. While he declined to tell anything about his treatment in the German prison camp he gave some idea that conditions were far from ideal by admitting "that things could have been worse and a lot better." He never suffered seriously from a lack of food.

He said that the only thing he noticed in particular when he left England was the eager anxiety with which the crowds of Canadians are waiting to return to Canada.

Pte. Coleman Home.

Pte. James Coleman arrived in the city on Saturday evening after twenty-eight months' of active service overseas, during which he went through Ypres, Passchendaele, the Somme, Vimy Ridge, Loos and Hill 70 without a scratch, but with several exceedingly narrow escapes, including being blown several feet in the air by concussion. In these escapes Pte. Coleman had marvellous luck, practically all the men about him being killed outright.

He crossed on the return journey on the Baltic in seven days, and says he personally saw no reason for complaint and was well treated.

OBITUARY

HATTIE E. HALES.

After an illness of only one week, Hattie E. Hales, daughter of J. W. Hales, 635 Stewart street, died on Sunday afternoon of influenza. She was in her 29th year, and was born in Haliburton. She was taken ill on Sunday, Feb. 2nd. She is survived by her father, one sister, Mrs. Baldry of this city, and two brothers, Walter, of Saskatchewan, and William of Park Rapids, Minnesota.

The funeral arrangements were not definitely known this morning, but it is expected that the funeral will not be held until Thursday pending the arrival of the brothers from the west.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 635 Stuart street, on Thursday, at 2 o'clock to the Little Lake cemetery. Service will be conducted by Rev. A. J. Thoma and Adjutant Buntin.

DISBANDING HIS STAFF.

KINGSTON, Feb. 10.—Major H P. Cook, District Registrar under the Military Service Act, is disbanding his staff, which will complete its duties on the 14th. Capt. Hamilton will go to Ottawa and Lieut.-Col Dehertel to Perth. The records are practically closed up.

TEN MONTHS OF CRIME COSTS MONTREAL MUCH

Property Loss Estimated at a Million Dollars—Very Little is Recovered

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—Accurate figures from police records, show that the city and district of Montreal suffered heavily in the crime wave of the past ten months. Montreal citizens and merchants have lost property valued at one million dollars included in which is the loss by one firm of diamonds valued at $100,000. Of the booty stolen only $150,000 worth has been recovered, although during the ten months, $1,300,000 has been spent on police protection.

ECCENTRIC MINISTER

Shared Room With Poultry and Dies in Poorhouse

LONDON: The Rev. John Watters who has died at Galashiels Poorhouse Hospital at the age of 78, was an eccentric, who lived a solitary life in a house of his own construction in Abbots-place, Galashiels.

He was a licentiate of the church of Scotland, but never obtained a charge. For some years he was a member of Galashiels School Board and created stormy scenes, on one occasion being handed to the police for an attack on the clerk of the board.

Thirty-five years ago he stood as Democratic candidate for the Border Burghs, but withdrew before the contest. He shared his living room with hens and ducks, and tried to keep a calf also, but the authorities induced him to give up the idea.

As Mr. Watters had not been seen for two or three days by neighbors the house, which is in a ruinous condition, and was never completed, was entered, and Waters was found lying seriously ill on the floor.

How is Your Watch Running?

Is it running fast or slow? Never quite on time?

Well, perhaps your watch is capable of very accurate running, but it is not in perfect order. You know the tiny mechanism of a watch demands that each of the dozen of little parts be just right, or good time is out of the question.

Corp. D. R. Kendry Reaches Canada

Peterboro Soldiers Return on the "Tunisian."

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 10.—The C. P. O. S. liner "Tunisian" arrived here to-day with a large passenger list. There were on board 711 adults, 202 children, most of whom were under fourteen years of age, 285 returning N.V.O.'s and men, and thirty-five officers. The trip across was uneventful, the weather was clear and fine, and in addition there were no complaints from the men. There were only two soldiers for Peterborough on the ship. They were Corporal William Lovell and Corp. David R. Kendry. The name of Sarah Ann Wilson appeared as a civilian passenger.

TRAFFIC BY-LAW FOR SMITH TOWNSHIP TO COVER CHEMONG ROAD

Speeding on the Chemong Road this year may yield Smith Township a revenue that should help defray the expense of keeping that much used and abused highway in repair. The Council has a traffic by-law in preparation, which it intends rigidly to enforce, and every offender against the municipality's speed law will be hailed before County Magistrate Langley. The patience of the farmers north of the city has been tried to the limit by auto fiends, who made of this six-mile course a raceway, and so numerous are the cars coursing over it, both by day and night, that the farmers' waggons and buggies have worn new paths in the ditches, where they seek safety. Last summer, however, was the limit, and Reeve Nicholls and his Councillors are determined that the rural vehicles, motor and horse, shall have some rights of the road. The by-law will assert the municipality's long suspended sovereignty over its high ways, and if the Good Roads system is withheld there is more than one means of reaching the speeders' purses.

SOCIETY RECEIVED HOLY COMMUNION.

Yesterday morning the Holy Name Society of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, East City, received Holy Communion in a body at the 8.30 mass. A number of new members were received into the Society, the Rev. Dean McColl officiating. The society will hold an "At Home" to-morrow.

COBLENZ, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Martha Greeff arrived here recently and presented credentials at army headquarters, explaining that she wanted to see her son, and for this reason had made the journey from her home in Essen. American officers explained to her that the only German soldiers within the occupied zone were those on special duty in connection with the turning over to the American army property of the German army, and that Greeff's name did not appear on the list of the men.

"Apparently you misunderstand me," said Mrs. Greeff to an American who spoke German. "My son is in Company B, 11th Infantry, U.S.A., which will soon be stationed in the region of Treves."

Permission for Mrs. Greeff to visit her son will be granted by headquarters.

MOTHER! GIVE CHILD "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF TONGUE IS COATED

A child simply will not stop playing to empty its bowels, and the result is ,they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, the stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, the breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach ache or diarrhoea. Listen, mother! See if the tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs,' and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mother give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR CANADA'S TRADE

Trade Commissioner Has No Misgivings Over Future of Manufacturers.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—Mr. Henry B. Thomson, in the dual capacity of chairman of the Food Board and member of the Canadian Trade Commission, has no misgivings about the outlook for Canadian manufacturers. He assured a gathering of confectioners and others in the sugar industry that there is a bright prospect for nearly all staple manufactures which the Dominion can undertake, either for home consumption or for export. The occasion was the presentation of an address expressing the appreciation of the confectionery, biscuit and chocolate industries of Mr. Thompson's able direction at the Food Board, especially as it concerned the distribution of sugar, which is regarded at the Food Board as one of the most difficult problems the department had to solve.

Von Hindenburg Urged the Acceptance of Allies' Terms

Surrender of the German Forces Was the Alternative—Men Deserted Towards the Last.

Berlin, Feb. 11. Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in urging last November that the armistice terms of the Allies be accepted, admitted that the German army would otherwise be forced to surrender, according to a statement made by Constantin Fehrenbach, vice president of the National Assembly at Weimar.

Herr Fehrenbach said he was present on November 10 at the meeting in the Chancellory. After Dr .Solf, the Foreign Secretary, read the terms of the armistice a telegram from Field Marshal von Hindenburg was read in which the German commander requested that the armistice conditions be accepted forthwith, as he could not hold his army together any longer.. The army was already deserting him, the field marshal declared, and if the allied conditions were not accepted he would be forced to capitulate with his entire forces.

Peterboro Farmers' Club Meeting

Passed a Resolution Condemning the Daylight Saving Measure.

The Peterboro Farmer's Club met last evening in the Sons of England Hall, Hunter street and discussed a number of subjects, including daylight saving. A resolution was adopted condemning the idea of daylight saving. The use of commercial fertilizer was also discussed.

GRAIN MARKET

Grain markets were stronger yesterday. Corn receipts are light, and there was talk of an active enquiry for export. Bull reports affecting the tone of the markets generally, were to the effect that winter growing crops are already damaged from lack of snow covering. Local cash quotations are higher on oats and barley, though business continues very quiet.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 northern, $2.24 1-2; No. 2 northern, $2.20 1-2; No. 3 northern, $2.17; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards—Receipts were 211 cars, with 4,269 cattle, 103 calves, 1,127 hogs, and 739 sheep and lambs.

Good strong market at last weeks' best prices for choice quality steers and heifers. Common quality barley steady and inclined to drag. There is still a good export demand for the best heavy steers and choice steers and heifers. An extra choice bunch of six prime heavy steers was sold by Dunn and Levack at $17.25, but the top price for good loads of steers was $16.50.

Lambs firm.
Hogs steady.

German Agent Who Plotted to Blow Up Sarnia Tunnel Is Run Down at Last

Max Schulze, in Confession, Declares That Albert Kaltschmidt of Detroit Arranged With Him to Dynamite Detroit, Windsor and Walkerville Factories Working on War Orders—Trailed by U. S. Secret Service Man.

(By Hal Lytle)

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—A stocky-built man in his early forties, good-looking and with a square bulldog jaw, who might be easily taken for an affluent businessman, a man of many aliases, but whose right name is never spoken—walked into the federal building Saturday afternoon and went to his office.

"Got Max Schulze, the German dynamite secret intelligence officer, whose war heroism also will never be written, asked.

"French town, Shanghai," replied the arrival. "Soldiers guarding him in the police station. Kept me jumping to get him, but got him cold finally. Told all he knew."

Chase Lasts Three Years

The homecoming of "John Elliot," a recent alias to be found on hotel registers between San Francisco and Shanghai, ended one of the most remarkable man hunts in the war's history. Three years ago, lacking one month, the intelligence officer got his orders.

"Get Henry Steeneck," they read. "Henry Steeneck" turned out to be Max Schultze, alias Sievens, alias Scholtze, alias Sevens. Like the bloodhound on the scent went Elliot. Dozens of times Shultze was within arm's length, but the time was not opportune.

The confession of Schultze is sensational. It involves the names of several Chicagoans and residents of Detroit, Mich., as well as former officials high in the German diplomatic service in this country. It recites cold-blooded dynamite plots in which German agents participated in blowing up railroad up railroad shrdluu hing up railroad tunnels and munition factories and tells the inside of the great plot hatched in this country to bring about a revolution in India while the Allied nations were warring on Germany.

In these pits Schulze, a former baker and resident of this country since 1910, was the mechanic—the man who handled the high explosives. Part of his lengthly confession is being kept secret until those named as his conspirators can be apprehended.

Part of His Story

A portion which could be made public ,telling of plots—some executed some failures—as well as the concentrating of ex-German soldiers in Chicago at the outset of the war follows:

"In April, 1914, I went to Canada. For nine weeks I was laid up in the general hospital in Winnipeg on account of typhoid fever. After my recovery I obtained work in Souris, Manitoba, as a baker, and worked there until the outbreak of the war. On August 1 or 2 I went to the Winnipeg immigration office and they gave me permit to travel in the states.

"In March, 1915, I heard from Germans that ex-soldiers and ex-sailors were being sent to Germany. I went to the office of the Hamburg-America line and told them I wanted to go to Germany. They gave me the address of Gustav H. Jacobsen, 4200 Hermitage avenue. In the evening I went to see Jacobsen, and he told me I could do some work here in America to help my country. 'All right,' I said, 'so long as I can help my country I will stay.'

Met Wehde and Boehm

"A few days afterward he sent for me, I went to his home in the evening. There I met Albert H. Wehde, George P. Boehm, and a Hindu. Later on Baron von Reiswitz came there. I was told to go to Detroit and meet Albert Kaltschmidt and he would tell me what to do.

"The next day I went to Detroit. I went to Kaltschmidt's office. William J. Jarosch was with me. Kalschmidt told us the Detroit Screw works had a $3,000,000 order from the Allies and we should blow her up. He told me he kept some dynamite in Canada, but that he also had about 100 sticks of it stored in a country place not far from Detroit.

"That same night we went down to the factory, but found it too well guarded, and we could not get near from any side. We took the parcel home to our room and reported the next morning to Kalschmidt. He then gave us the names of the Peabody Company, Walkerville, Ont., and some buildings at Windsor, Ont., and told us to get them.

Port Hurch Tunnel Plot

"Then we looked over the Michigan Central Railroad tunnel at Detroit, figuring on blowing it up. Kalschmidt decided not to. He said it would be better to blow up the tunnel under the St. Clair River at Port Huron, Mich. So my partner and I went to Port Huron and took the necessary measurements of the tunnel and then went back to Detroit.

"We held a conference in the Eisenmann Magneto Company offices. We got three pairs of roller skates and built a machine which would run down on the track loaded with a strong case filled with dynamite and a large roll of fuse. After everything was ready it was to be taken out in Kaltschmidt's automobile.

"My partner and I went to the country place and removed the rest of the dynamite and buried it about half way between there and Detroit, and about ten miles from the train line at a place covered with trees and shrubs. We also made another small bomb, about two pounds in weight and having a long fuse to be used in a building.

The India Plot

"Then suddenly I got orders from Chicago to return. I do not know what happened after I left but all the plans were ready. Upon my arrival I went to see Mr. Jacobsen. There I again met Wehde and Boehm. Jacobsen told them about the work I was doing and said I would be the right man for India. Boehm said he would take me along. The next evening we met again at Jacobsen's and I was introduced to an Indian named Hassan, who had come from Berlin, travelling on a Persian passport.

"Our orders finally were that Boehm, Hassan and myself should go to Bangkok, and then proceed to Bengal. In Siam we were to get arms and ammunition. After training as many Indians as possible for the uprising we were to start a revolution against the British Government at a given signal. Wehde's orders were to go with an Indian named Sahn, who had a business in Charleston, S. C., to Bombay and distribute $20,000 among the Indians for the movement.

The Man Hunt

"What Schulze says is true, partially," the intelligence officer said. "He did bother with a lot of dynamite and a lot of it went up—and buildings with it. We know a lot he hasn't told."

Then, pressed, Elliot told the details of his three-year chase after Schulze no detail omitted—how the government's long arm first obtained information as to the dynamite mechanic.

"When I got to 'Frisco," he said, "I found Steenick had left on the Manchuria with a couple of Germans and Indians. I figured Honolulu was the right place.

"I booked to Honolulu and found the bunch had been there, but Boehm and my man had gone. I found they booked for Yokohama. I got there and they were gone. I went to Nagasaki. Again I missed them, but heard they had gone to Manila. I was tied up for several weeks before I could make the trip. When I got there I found Schulze was at the Elite Hotel registered as Henry Steenick; Wehde was over at Manila and Boehm was at the Oriental. Sahn was there, stopping somewhere on Calle Real.

"I started to pick them up and there found they had some big game on; so I figured I'd wait for a better time. They were constantly at the German consulate. Finally I found they were waiting for arms and ammunition to be shipped into Siam.

"Then they slipped one over on me. One day I woke up and found they had gone. Wehde had bought the motor schooner Henry S., which had been secretly loaded with arms and

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, cold, and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not disturb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Brian Leaves Ruth. She is Heart-broken.

CHAPTER CXVI.

Ruth was glad of the interruption, and hurried Brian out to the table where, in the incredibly short time given her, Rachel had managed a tasty supper.

"No—dear—I'm not a bit hungry. I had my dinner rather late."

"Well, I had mine early, and a good one too; but I am as hungry as a bear. I wish I could be sure of some one like Rachel to cook meals for the next few months. I expect it will be some change, all right. But what's the odds? Nothing counts but just one thing! and that is licking the German's to a standstill. And we'll do it too, Ruth, you see if we don't! Give me another cup of coffee, please. Rachel makes dandy coffee. My, I must hurry!" He had again looked at his watch.

Ruth left the room a moment to wipe her eyes, and choke back the sobs rising in her throat. When she returned Brian said:

"Please put that picture of yourself in my bag, Ruth. The one you had taken before we were married. Give me one of the latter ones too; but you know I always thought that a perfect picture of you. I don't believe anyone of the boys will have a handsomer wife to show."

"Do you really want to take my picture, Brian?" she tried to speak carelessly, but failed. Her voice was tense, and rather hard. "I did not think you would care to take it."

"Not care to take it!" a note of wonder in his voice, "Why should you say that? There's nothing else I care a whoop about taking, but that."

Now Ruth's tears did fall. She rushed from the room and, while she wrapped the picture Brian wanted, she again exercised her self-control to the extent that, when he came in, he did not notice that, for just a moment or two, her emotion had gripped her. Had he known that it had been all she could do to keep from screaming, he would have been utterly at a loss to account for such extreme feeling on her part.

His supper finished, he came in to fasten his bags. That done, he looked at his watch for the third time.

"Well I must be off, Ruth," he said, drawing her into his arms. "Be good to yourself, dear. If I didn't know what a fine little business woman you were I should feel guilty to leave you. But you are worth two of me when it comes to making money, so I know you will not suffer."

"Money isn't everything, Brian. I shall be very lonely." She spoke from the shelter of his arms.

"Yes—but have your aunt up. Now that I shall be away, she will enjoy herself better. The old dame never has forgiven me for marrying you. I don't blame her for that, but she will be glad to have me away."

"I don't want her or anybody! I only want you," Ruth had given way at last. Her body shook with sobs and her tears fell without thought of staying them.

"But dear, I shall come back soon and with my belt hung with Hun scalps, I hope." Brian tried to joke, but his own voice sounded full of tears. And he wrapped his arms more closely about Ruth.

"But maybe you won't come home."

"Oh, yes I shall. A bad egg, you know, and also only the good die young. And whatever I have been famed for, it never has been goodness. So don't order widow's weeds expecting any chance to wear them. I only hope I may do what it is up to me to do," his voice suddenly grown grave, "and then it doesn't really make any difference what happens, does it?"

"I suppose not—but it is hard, Brian, awfully hard. Harder than you know," she reiterated.

"Yes—it is always easier to be the one to go," then: "but cheer up, Ruth. We'll have those Huns licked before you know it. I must go now. I'll run out and say good-bye to Rachel and tell her to take good care of you; altho there's really no reason for it, as she almost worships you. She isn't the only one, either."

Someway, that last sentence warmed Ruth's heart; and when he came back she had put all thought of the overhead telephone conversation from her mind, and was only absorbed in duty of sending Brian away with a smile—which she managed to do, altho it was an effort.

"I'll write every chance I get," he had said.

"Ill send you a letter every steamer," she replied.

"I'll be watching for them. Goodbye darling!" and he was gone. For a long time she sat by the window, where she had watched him go down the street with a long, swinging stride. She wondered casually if she wouldn't have felt happier if he had planned for her, a little. Of course it was nice to be thought capable, but—To-morrow—Ruth Asks Her Aunt to Visit Her.

BERLIN WOMEN ILL-PAID.

Their Average Lot is One of Wretchedness and Misery.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.— The lot of the working woman in Germany is one of wretchedness and misery. She has to toil long hours to earn a beggarly pittance.

According to the last available Berlin figures the wages were:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| For tailoresses | $2.16 | a week. |
| " sempstresses | 2.28 | " |
| " hand buttonhole workers | 1.68 | " |
| " machine buttonhole workers | 3.24 | " |
| " other women factory employees | 1.68 | " |

Waitresses and barmaids in Germany work for a "nominal wage," sometimes no wages at all. There are more than 40,000 of them, and one-fourth are under 20 years of age.

A Lightning Flash.

An eminent electrician has figured out the horsepower of a lightning flash. The amount of light given by a single lightning flash is sufficient to illuminate an area two miles square, with an average illumination of one candle. To produce such an illumination, he estimates, the expenditure of 13,000-horsepower for one second would be required.

Ottawa's Fire Loses.

The annual report of Fire Chief Graham shows that the losses in the last year from fires in Ottawa amounted to $250,000 for 482 alarms. This is the second lowest loss in several years and is less than half the loss of 1917, which was $507,153.

It its natural state the alligator eats little or nothing from September to May.

RAISING BEAVERS.

Experiment Started Two Years Ago Proving Very Successful.

Two years ago James Park, of Dalhousie, Ont., presented a petition to the Ontario Department of Lands, Forests and Mines asking for the establishment of a colony of beavers at Park's Lane. It was something new for the department, for, although beavers had been shipped abroad for breeding purposes, no attempt had been made to establish colonies at home under department control. Put the desire of a large number of responsible men to have the department make the experiment, supported by the opinion of one who had studied the habits of the beaver that the venture would prove successful, influenced the department to consent to the proposal. In March, 1917, three beavers were shipped from Algonquin Park to Park's Lane, one buck three years old and two females, one two years old and the other one year. A committee of eight men were appointed to look after the colony, which multiplied and prospered.

"Busy as a beaver" is a phrase illustrated in their work. Three dams have been built near Park's Lane, and at present a fresh cut of timber is in progress for some further proposed engineering project. The dams already built are about twenty feet in length and three feet high, and are covered on the upstream side with a thick coating of mud on a sloping face over a distance of ten feet from the crest of the dam. The mud was removed from a swamp near by, and represents a vast amount of animal labor. Some of the trees felled, which are chiefly poplar, are eight inches in diameter.

A branch of the Park's Lake colony has established itself on a meadow on the Larmont Mill road. Here Amell built a dam himself some years ago for the purpose of flooding at certain times of the year the meadow, which supplied him with a quantity of meadow hay. Amell experienced difficulty in keeping the dam from leaking. But the skill of the bat-tailed builders soon remedied the trouble. The dam is now absolutely tight. The colony of beaver is exceedingly timid; a sentinel is posted on watch while the others work. On the approach of danger smack goes a tail on the face of the water, making a loud noise, which warns the builders and gives them time to scurry to their house.

The success of the Park Lake beaver colony has caused the Department of Lands, Forests and Mines to discuss the advisability of establishing similar colonies at other favorable natural grounds throughout Ontario.

The Fulmar.

The fulmar, a sea bird common on the Island of St. Kilda, is so oily that when the natives kill one they simply pass a wick through his body and use it as a lamp. In St. Kilda it is said to kill the fulmars only during one week in the year, but during that week from 18,000 to 20,000 birds are destroyed.

HAD SEVERE COLD AND TICKLING SENSATION IN THE THROAT.
This trouble is most distressing, and is caused from a cold that has settled in the throat.
How many people have lost a good night's sleep by that nasty, tickling, irritating sensation in the throat?
The dry, hard cough keeps you awake, and when you get up in the morning you feel as if you had had no rest at all.
Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which is composed of the most soothing and healing expectorant herbs and barks, combined with the lung healing virtues of the world-famous Norway pine tree, will give almost instant relief in all cases of this nature.
Mrs. G. C. Routley, Bright, Ont., writes: — "I take great pleasure in writing you of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.
For several weeks I was troubled with a severe cold, and a tickling in the throat. I tried numerous remedies, but found no relief until I used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which I had heard so much about, and on taking one bottle got instant relief. I highly recommend it to those who need a quick cure."
So great has been the success of "Dr. Wood's" in curing coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc., it is only natural that many imitations have been placed on the market. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Boring Pole Holes.

The tiresome and time consuming work of digging holes for telegraph and electric service poles is now at an end, says Scientific American. At least, there has been evolved a gasoline driven earth-boring machine which makes an average boring time per hole of one and one-half to two minutes. The equipment is mounted on a horse drawn truck and is operated by two men. In ordinary soil it maintains an average of 100 holes per day, each measuring five feet deep by 24 inches in diameter. The equipment consists of a truck, which carries a gasoline engine, driving mechanism and a huge auger which is slowly rotated and fed downward. The augers are furnished in sizes from 2 to 24 inches.

Disdain Western Finery.

In reply to an inquiry from an American firm as to the demand here for lace goods and embroideries, it can be stated, reports the American consul at Yokohama, that as the Japanese women cling very tenaciously to their style of dress and as no use is made of lace or embroideries either in their dress or home furnishings, it is improbable that any considerable market can be developed in Japan for American-made lace goods or embroideries. The demand would be limited to the foreign residents here, who now number about 6,000, exclusive of Chinese, and to such goods as are not being manufactured in Japan.

Army Water Supply.

Like many another character sung by Kipling, the regimental water-carrier has glanced at the new armies, shaken his head, and decided that he might as well take to machinery. At present the Allied fronts have a water supply as efficient as the most progressive municipalities.

Reserve, munitions, and supply camps well back of the lines, of course, have permanent waterworks, in many cases erected specially by the engineers. On the front itself, where the constant fluctuation of battle makes permanent works impossible, the supply is maintained just as effectively by mobile units.

These units are trains, manned by specially enlisted experts, that ply between the nearest waterworks and the rail-head near the front lines. Each train is a miniature waterworks, entirely self-contained, and equipped with all the facilities for filtering, sterilizing and distributing possessed by non-mobile waterworks.

Each unit carries a chemist, a bacteriologist, a pump-man, and an expert staff of assistants for the laboratory on board; and tests are made every two hours.

KAROLYI CURSE ENDED

OLD MALEDICTION UTTERED AGAINST HAPSBURGS.

It Has Been Fulfilled to the Last Item During the Past Seventy Years and Grandson of the "Cursing Countess" Now Occupies Place of Honor Among Hungarian Statesmen.

IT is just seventy years since Countess Karolyi, Hungarian noblewoman, whose son's life had been taken because he was one of the Hungarian rebels in the uprising against the Hapsburgs in 1848, cursed Emperor Francis Joseph in words which have been recalled over and over again by the whole world as one horror after another has befallen the House of Hapsburg. Now her grandson, Count Michael Karolyi, president of the Hungarian National Council, is leading the ancient Hungarian national movement at last to victory, and is telling the world that a successful revolution has been waged in Budapest and that the government is in the hands of the National Council. Evidently the long, long fight of the Karolyi family has not been in vain, and with the years the ancient, negative crime has passed into a positive and constructive warfare, not for the defeat of the royal family so much as for the final independence of the Hungarian people.

"May Heaven and hell blast his happiness! May his family be exterminated! May he be smitten in the persons of those he loves! May his life be wrecked, and may his children be brought to ruin" were the words of the Countess Karolyi. Emperor Francis Joseph was only eighteen years old then and had just been made emperor with the abdication of Emperor Ferdinand, and perhaps the boy was too young to deserve so harsh a curse for the policies and traditions of his line. And perhaps it was not the curse, but rather the Hapsburg tyrannies which had inspired the curse, which brought on the long series of scandals and sorrows and sudden deaths visiting the Hapsburg house. At any rate, the long series came, lasting all through the long, seamed life of Francis Joseph, and going on until now, after he himself had mercifully been taken away.

The elder Karolyi, uncle of the present count Michael, lost his life in the same fight which Michael is winning now. He was the brother of Count Aloys, the famous Austro-Hungarian diplomatist, and of Count Stephen, father of Count Michael. Their mother, "the cursing countess," was a Karolyi only by marriage, but she was fiercely loyal to the traditions of her husband and her sons, and rebelled with them in the uprisings of '48. It was the same fight for a Hungarian national independence in particular and for liberal ideas in general.

In 1830, there had been mutterings of the storm, but the storm itself had been delayed. Historians call it the age of transition, when all over the earth nationalities and individuals began to assert themselves as separate and individual entities. The people wanted a constitution, and they wanted freedom of thought and speech, and a country of their own. The Hapsburgs had no mind for understanding these new things. They were, as may be seen from Princess Melanie Metternich's diary, naively surprised at the new ideas. They had married and intermarried among themselves until there was no room or chance for the glimmering of a new mentality. They had grown to be a little insane themselves, and so they thought the people had gone mad. The old emperor was kind, but weak, a little feeble, so he did the easy thing and turned it all over to young Francis Joseph. And all that Francis Joseph and the men he had around him knew to do was to hang and shoot and take the heads off the rebels. Statutes of 1723, it seems, had said that Hungary was independent. But the Hapsburgs had forgotten. One entegral state—was the Hapsburg idea, reiterated maddeningly. And the people reiterated also maddeningly, that they would recognize no Hapsburg emperor until he had been crowned by their archbishop of Pesth, and sworn to obey the laws of the kingdom of St. Stephen. They didn't talk the same language at all.

"It is one of those forgotten wars," says a historian, writing before this war. But it is a forgotten war no longer. And the Karolyis never did forget.

A Vienna paper, when announcing the assassination of Francis Joseph's wife, the Empress Elisabeth, recounted baldly and boldly the misfortunes which had come upon the royal line since the countess spoke her maledictions.

"On Jan. 30, 1889," says this terse sheet, "Crown Prince Francis Rudolph took his own life in his hunting-box at Meyerling. In May, 1897, Sophie, Duchess d'Alencon, at one time the affianced bride of Ludwig II of Bavaria, was burned to death in Paris. On June 16, 1867, the Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, the emperor's brother-in-law, was shot by a firing party at Queretaro. His consort, the Belgian princess, Marie-Charlotte, lost her reason, and has been for the last thirty years under restraint at the Chateau of Bouchout. Archduke William Francis Charles died in the summer of 1894, at Baden, near Vienna, from injuries sustained through a fall from his horse. Archduke John of Tuscany, who had resigned his rank and taken the name of John Orth, disappeared on the high seas off the coast of South America. King Ludwig II of Bavaria, the empress's cousin, committed suicide on June 13, 1886, by drowning himself in the lake of Starnberg in a fit of insanity. Count Ludwig of Train, Prince of the two Sicilies, husband of Duchess Matilda in Bavaria, the sister of the empress, committed suicide at Zurich. Archduchess Matilda, daughter of Field-Marshal Archduke Albert, was burned to death in her father's palace as the result of a blazing log from the fire having set alight her ball dress. Archduke Ladislas, son of Archduke Joseph, came to grief while hunting by an accidental discharge of his gun. And now we learn," it ends resignedly and unsurprised, "that the Empress Elizabeth has been murdered."

An even more complete list could be made out now by the compilers, including the taking off of Archduke Francis Ferdinand on June 28, 1914, by that tool of fate, the Serbian assassin, and the taking over of the Government recently by the Hungarian National Council, headed by Count Michael Karolyi. Francis Joseph died in his bed and missed no sorrow except this last one. There was no mention made in the curse, it will be remembered, of his coming to a violent end himself.

And ever since those early uprisings there has been the Independence party in Hungary, the same one which has now won the day. That was the party which would not recognize the compromise of 1867, by which Austria and Hungary were made two states of equal rights and powers, under one sovereign. The Independents wanted separate sovereigns, separate armies, separate ambassadors. But the old compromise was renewed in 1897, and again in 1907.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this to-night, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Poetic Justice.

There is a singular appropriateness in the fact that the death sentence of German militarism should have been signed at Senlis. To this quiet little town, sleeping behind its old ramparts on the banks of the tiny Nonette, Kluck came in September, 1914. The rear guard of the retreating French fired upon his troops, and, in accordance with the German custom, the Mayor of Senlis was murdered in a nearby field, while the city was sacked and burned. In the central square, the old houses stand unroofed and blackened. Even the trees are slashed, and the noble cathedral escaped destruction only through the courageous intercession of a brave priest.

In all of Hun-wasted France I saw no sadder town than Senlis. Nowhere did German brutality and wantonness seem more stupid or more senseless. It was a relief to leave it for the quiet park above the river, where one could look eastward and southward along the roads Kluck's armies followed — the white straight roads that lead to the Marne. And Senlis was but one of so many French cities thus wickedly ravaged.

It was to me, therefore, a pleasing thing to think of the German mission, with its general and its brilliant staff officers, coming under a flag of truce down the Guise Road, by which invading armies had marched toward Paris, four years ago! They came to poor, wasted Senlis, the nearest point to the capital that German armies reached in 1914, and there signed their names to a document which will for all time record the utter and immeasurable failure of German arms, of German terribleness, of the spirit which was expressed so brutally at Senlis.—American Review of Reviews.

SPORTS FOR SOLDIERS.

Big International Meet Planned for Next Year.

Let it be admitted at the outset that the term "Olympic" as applied, or as intended to be applied, to the projected inter-allied army meet in France, next summer, pending the complete dispersal of the victorious forces, is a misnomer. The Greek word is used in this connection by athletes, a very large percentage of whom are college-bred, with a full understanding of its meaning, but it suits their convenience so to use it, and that, after all, save in the estimation of the hypercritical and pedantic, is the main thing. That point settled, what is proposed is that, while the allied fighting forces are still practically intact, one of the greatest athletic contests ever held shall take place.

The project has, it is understood, the sanction of Sir Arthur Currie, so far as concerns Canadian participation. As the plans have been discussed, they provide for competitive games, such as track and field sports, shooting matches, and so on. It is tacitly arranged that competition shall begin by platoons, and progress through companies to regiments, brigades, divisions, and army corps. The program, it is announced, "will embrace unique events for every phase of the service, such as competition between machine gun organizations, the artillery trench mortar, and other branches, and between platoons and companies of infantry."

Thus far the enterprise seems to have been handled almost wholly, if not altogether, under American auspices, but it is intended to be, in the broadest and best sense, a friendly inter-allied military-athletic contest. The Olympic feature of it will be displayed at its close, naturally, when the champions in the various games and drills shall be pitted against one another.

The next Olympic game year, properly speaking, will be 1920. The last observed was 1912, when the meet was held in Stockholm, Sweden. On that occasion the United States took away the honors in field and track sports. The score in points for all contests stood, at the close: Sweden, 133; United States, 129; Great Britain, 76; Finland, 52; Germany, 47; France, 32; Denmark, 19; South Africa, 16; Hungary, 16; Norway 16; Canada, 13; Italy, 13; Australia, 13; Belgium, 11; Austria, 6; Russia, 6; Greece, 4; Holland, 3.

Germany was the successful competitor for the privilege of holding the Olympic meet of 1916, and for some time the Kaiser and his government apparently evinced great interest in the meet, which was to have been held in Berlin. In fact, the Olympic Stadium at Grunewald, within the jurisdiction of the capital, was opened by the former Kaiser, on June 8, 1913, with no little ceremony. It is worth recalling, in illustration of the peculiar German conception of sportsmanship, as differentiated, for example, from the British, that, in a descriptive book issued by the German Imperial Association for Olympic games, Carl Diem, secretary of the Olympic contests for 1916, wrote of the Stadium in this bombastic fashion, doubtless with the approval of his superiors:

"This Stadium is to us in itself an expression of that unity which is attained with such difficulty, and of which we have made use with such success. Only fortunate nations, nations sure of themselves and of their future, build themselves such monuments of their times. Not alone the plans of the projectors and the hands of the workmen have fashioned this building. The sinewy fists that hunted the French from German soil, that on bloody fields forged the unification of Germany; those keen and active minds which, in the battle of commerce won renown and riches for the credit of Germany, all those who have helped to build a cosmopolis in Berlin — all these have done their share to forward the establishment of this Stadium. The austere days of 1813, the glorious period of 1870, the years of economic development, sowed the seed and in the warm sunshine of German idealism the fruit ripened."

It should be borne in mind that Berlin was to have welcomed, on the occasion of the holding of this contest, representative athletes from all parts of the earth. How vain and hollow sounds such boasting now! Not in Berlin, but in Paris, with the Germans driven out of France, are the world's athletes to celebrate a triumph.

No doubt the Grunewald Stadium would have been the scene of a great Olympic meet in 1916 if, as the former Kaiser and his generals expected, they had been able to reach Paris early in the winter of 1914, or, at all events, in 1915. But this was not to be, and the Stadium had to be put to other and sadder uses in the last Olympian year.

It is highly fitting that the proposed military Olympic affair should be held. The athletes of every country have responded so splendidly to the call to arms. The only men who received any criticism for holding back were the professional baseball players, and professional ball is a business, not a form of athletics. Here in Canada, the typical games of the Dominion, lacrosse and rugby disappeared almost entirely. There can be no doubt that the real Canadian athletes "did their bit."

Spitzbergen.

A flower garden in Spitzbergen sounds like an anomaly. Spitzbergen being within the Arctic Circle. A party of British travelers, struck with the beauty of a plateau, called it the Flower Garden ever after. It was in the nineties of last century, and the party that of Sir Martin Conway. Landing, in midsummer, on one of the headlands by Dickson Bay, they were impressed with the deep water, clear as crystal, the marvelous wealth of seaweed, the splendor of a great glacier, and the sharp blue peaks of the mountains separating glacier from glacier; while in another direction, over Advent Point, coiled wreaths of ragged clouds. Added to it all was a carpet of flowers; andromeda, saxifrages, and dryas; so the Flower Garden was actual after all.

They have large tracts of land on which they raised all kinds of vegetables.—Commerce Reports.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigour and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and sold by McDermid & Jury in Peterboro and most all druggists under a guarantee of entire satisfaction or your money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the ealth. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:— Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

The turpentine used in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is not the ordinary commercial article, which is little used because of the unpleasantness of taste, but is specially extracted from tamarac and spruce gum and so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be at the same time pleasant to use and wonderfully effective in the cure of affections of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Canal Zone's Growth.

A census of the Canal Zone taken at the end of last June shows a total civilian population of 21,707, which is a decrease of 1,588 as compared with the population a year ago. Of the total population 2,527 Americans and 7,074 men of other nationalities (chiefly British West Indian negroes) are employed by the Panama Canal and railroad. There are in the Canal Zone, 1,776 American women and 2,040 American children and 3,073 women and 4,102 children of other nationalities. Of the 1,588 decrease in population, 757 are Americans and 831 of other nationalities.

Potatoes.

About three and three-quarter bushels of potatoes per capita were consumed yearly for all purposes in this country during the ten years preceding the war. The rate per family is almost seventeen bushels. About 10 per cent. of the consumption is for seed and starch, mostly for seed.

TOOK CARE OF TURKS.

Important Task Was Given to Gen. G. N. Cory.

The allied officer who arranged the carrying out of the terms of armistice with Turkey was a Toronto man, Gen. G. N. Cory, D.S.O., son of Mr. Chester D. Cory. Not long ago Gen. Cory was appointed chief of staff of the British army in the Balkans and as such he was the envoy sent to Constantinople to arrange the carrying out of the terms of the armistice with the Turkish Government. He went to the capital of the Turkish empire on a destroyer and was received by an imposing guard of honor and conducted in a Turkish automobile to the leading hotel of the city.

There he was waited upon by the Grand Vizier, Izaat Pasha, as head of the Turkish Government, and Gen. Liman von Sanders, the German commander-in-chief of the Turkish armies. Subsequent to arriving at a final settlement Gen. Cory took possession of the battleship Goeben.

Gen. Cory was at one time on the headquarters staff of the Third Division. He has been in the British army since he was twenty. He is a graduate of Bishops College School, Lennoxville, and of the Royal Military College, Kingston. On his graduation he was gazetted to the Second Battalion, Royal Dublin Fusiliers, then station at Ortella, India. When the South African Boer war was threatened his regiment was ordered to South Africa in 1897, and he was in the first engagement at Dundee. After the retreat of Ladysmith the regiment was refitted and left that place on the last train out, as did Gen. French, now Field Marshal French.

Subsequently the then Lieut. Cory was appointed adjutant of a mounted infantry regiment under command of the present Gen. Gough, and served throughout the war. He was mentioned in despatches twice and received the D.S.O. for "skill in handling his troops." He has the Queen's Medal with seven clasps and the King's Medal with two clasps.

Gen. Cory comes of good fighting stock. His father served with the 13th Hamilton Regiment at Ridgeway. His grandfather was a surgeon with the Prince Edward County Regiment in the rebellion of 1837, while in the war of 1812 his grandfather, upholding U. E. Loyalist principles, served with a battalion from the same county.

When the war broke out Gen. Cory was a major. He has since been decorated with the Mons medal, the Russian Order of St. Anne, the Greek Order and made a Commander of the Bath by His Majesty King George, the latter honor having been personally conferred upon him only a few months ago at Buckingham Palace. Gen. Cory was several times mentioned in despatches and promoted to his present rank about a year ago. He is now in London, England, and expects shortly to visit Canada.

The Remedy.

"Discussing the influenza epidemic and the many so-called influenza cures, a well-known authority says: "Isolation, warmth and perfect care are the only treatment. The so-called cures remind me of a story about a grocer. To this grocer a patron brought back a pound of butter.

"'I want to complain about this butter. It's awful,' the patron said.

"The grocer sniffed it. 'Smells sweet enough to me,' he observed.

"'But it's full of hair,' said the patron. 'I counted eight or nine hairs in it. Yes, sir, this butter's full of hair, and I want to know what you're going to do about it.'

"'Why, make it right, of course,' said the grocer genially, and he reached up and took a tiny packet from a shelf. 'Here. Here's a packet of hairpins. You can pin it back with them as you go along.'"

Speed.

A golfer of Hibernian extraction, after learning a few strokes, started out for his first game, his opponent being also a beginner. When he reached the eighteenth green he was playing a lone hand. "Where's your opponent, Dennis?" asked a friend. Pointing down the course to where that worthy was just leaving the eighteenth green, Dennis replied, "Faith, I have him three down."

German Agent Who Plotted

ammunition from the German ships Sueva and Sachsen, originally addressed to Shanghai and Dalny.

Goes on Wrong Scent.

"I figured the Henry S. would head for Siam, transship the boxes to the Northern Railway and have them sent up to the Bengal frontier so far as possible. My dope was wrong and I went off on a wild goose chase. A couple of months afterward I found they had headed for Chitagon India.

"I doubled back and found the Henry S. had put in at Shanghai, but clearance papers had been refused and they had been questioned in the harbormaster's office.

"Then they took clearance for Pontianak, Borneo, really figuring on going to Sourahaya to take some Indians on board who had escaped in the Singapore riot and take them to the Dutch colonies. They even picked up Lauterbach, Moller and some more who had been on the Hun raider Emden.

"I lost the boat then for several weeks. Finally I got wind she had arrived at the north entrance of the Macassah straits and had stopped in at Palele, a mining camp, for compressed air. I got on a Jap cruiser that happened in and went after her. We had to lay outside the three mile limit and a Dutch cruiser warned them away. When the Japs were off-guard one night the Henry S. and started for the Philippines again.

Another Year's Chase

"I didn't follow but got off at Palele. It was lucky I did. I found Bohem and Schulze my man, had taken a Dutch steamer for Macassar. I got there and found they had gone on to Sourabaya. From that time on it was a straight chase for a year.

"My luck changed at Swatow, I found Schulze had booked on the steamship Kansu for Shanghai. I chased after him. It took six months to find him after I got there. He had disguised himself and went under the name of Max Sievers.

"One night I went down to 72 Bubbling Well, and there was Schulze. Not much of a story, except I went to a lot of places."

Schulze was indicted by the federal grand jury here on June 2, 1917, along with Baron Kurt von Reiswitz, Jacobsen, and twenty others on a charge of conspiring to foment a rebellion in India. Jacobsen and Wehde were sentenced to terms of three years and fined $3,000 and Boehm was given one year and six months. Von Reiswitz fled and returned to Europe with Count von Bernstorff.

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Vanish

(Helps to Beauty.)

A safe, reliable home-treatment for the quick removal of superfluous hairs from your face or neck is as follows: Mix a stiff paste with some water and powdered delatone, apply to objectionable hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This simple treatment is unfailing and no pain or inconvenience attends its use, but to avoid disappointment be certain you get genuine delatone.

A New Fuel.

Because of the fuel shortage that is facing the United States and Canada a new fuel is to be introduced known as "carbocoal." A plant is being erected in Virginia for the protection of this substance which is a by-product. Its use has been tested by the United States navy and two railroads, which pronounce it a valuable smokeless fuel. By a new process bituminous coal is treated in such a manner as to recover greater quantities of such valuable by-products as toluol, sulphate of ammonia and valuable oils. From the residue is made the smokeless fuel "carbocoal" in the form of briquettes.

A MOTHER'S WORK

Mothers as a rule spend so much time in looking after their children and in household work, that they overlook the absolute necessity for that rest and relaxation upon which their health depends. The consequence is that soon they find their health breaking down. The daily humdrum of household life as a mother knows it, with hurried meals and family and household cares, quickly thin the blood and weaken the nerves. Then follow headaches, pains in the side and back, swollen limbs, palpitation, a constantly tired feeling, and often an inclination to fretfulness. These symptoms are the sign of poor blood and are the inevitable penalty of overwork and over anxiety in the care of children and the affairs of the household.

Whenever a mother finds her health failing and household duties becoming more than she can comfortably manage; whenever extra demands are made upon her strength she should adopt the safe and simple expedient of enriching her blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills are especially valuable to the nursing mother and the woman who is worn out with household cares. They renew her blood supply strengthen her tired limbs, and drive away the headaches and the backaches that have made her so miserable. They have restored thousands of despondent women to good health and right spirits, and will do for you as much as they have done for others if you will give them a fair trial.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HOG CHOLERA DANGER

How to Detect Disease and the Measures of Control.

Spraying to Be Effective Must Be Done at Exact Time — Have Everything in Readiness When Season Opens — Write Department of Agriculture for Up-to-Date Spray Calendar.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

THE symptoms of hog cholera differ somewhat according to the virulence of the virus and the resisting power of the hogs in any particular outbreak. Owing to this variation, two forms of the disease are recognized—the so-called acute form and the chronic forms.

In the acute or severe form, the hogs sicken and die quickly, appearing to be well one day and frequently dead the next. In the chronic or less severe form, the hogs may be sick for weeks before they die or get better.

When cholera enters a herd, the hogs do not all become sick at once. One or two fall to come for their feed and will be found lying down in some dark corner. On being raised up their backs will be arched, and they will shiver as with cold. They soon become thin and tucked up in the flank and stagger around when trying to walk, the hind legs being particularly weak. The eyes become inflamed and show a whitish discharge, sometimes causing the lids to stick together. When the lungs get affected there is a cough. Constipation is noticed at first, followed by diarrhoea; red and purple blotches appear on the skin of ears, belly, and inner surfaces of the legs. The temperature of the sick hogs will rise to as high as 107 degrees F. or even higher, the normal temperature of healthy animals being 101 to 104 degrees F.

Methods of Spreading.

So far as known, the virus of hog cholera will not propagate outside the body of the hog. As already stated, the virus is given off in large quantities in the urine and faecal discharges of sick hogs. Anything that gets contaminated with these discharges is liable to spread the disease to healthy hogs that come in contact with it. Consequently, boxes, wagons, and cars in which sick animals are shipped, are potent sources for spreading the disease. The pens and yards in which sick animals have run get heavily contaminated, so that anyone walking over the same get their shoes and clothes contaminated, and may carry the disease to other herds subsequently visited.

Prevention and Treatment.

From what has been said above regarding the way the disease is spread, it will at once be seen that one way to keep the disease from a healthy herd is to take all steps necessary to prevent materials contaminated by sick hogs from coming in contact with the healthy herd.

In Canada (by order of the Veterinary Director-General)—If by any chance the disease gains entrance to a herd anywhere in Canada, the laws of the Dominion require that a veterinary inspector be notified without delay. Failure to make this notification means loss of compensation for animals slaughtered under the act, and liability to a heavy fine.—Prof. D. H. Jones, O. A. College, Guelph.

Order Everything Early.

Spraying is something that cannot wait. It must be done at a definite time. Failure to do it then means failure to get clean fruit. Experience shows there is no one factor so important in obtaining a good crop as spraying. Therefore apply business-like forethought to it. Estimate at once how much material you will need and place your order for this not later than March 1st with definite instructions to have it shipped to you by the first week in April.

If you have to purchase a new outfit find out the make you think best and have it shipped just as soon as possible. Run no risk of its not being on hand when required. If the old outfit is to be used do not fail to overhaul and test it out in March or early April. Don't leave it until the first day of spraying. If you have to send it away to be repaired remember that many others will be doing the same and if you postpone sending until April you will in the rush of work have to wait your turn and may not get it back until after spraying has begun. This often happens.

What discourages and annoys you most when spraying? Is it not delays and poor pressure? With proper foresight and a little knowledge of the mechanism of your engine and pump you can almost entirely prevent this annoyance, discouragement and loss of time and money, so learn to do your own repairing as far as possible, pack your own pump and clean your own engine. If, however, you have no mechanical ability, get a handy neighbor to help you. Work with him yourself to learn all you can.

Be determined that this year you will do your spraying right, that you will have a good working outfit with no leakages, good long hose firmly attached, good nozzles or a good spray gun, plenty of material, a spray calendar to guide you and everything ready to start the first day the spraying season opens.

If you do your part the spray will do its part, and the result will be a clean crop. You cannot be too thoughtful about your spraying. Nothing about the orchard pays so well as intelligent spraying. You can't do it intelligently unless you are ready and follow directions carefully.—L. Caesar, B.S.A., O. A. College, Guelph.

CATARRHOZONE

Gives Effective Relief in Five Minutes, and Cures Perfectly

FINE FOR COUGHS OR COLDS

It was their inability to reach the real source of catarrh and bronchitis that caused the medical profession to drop liquid cough medicines and adopt "Catarrhozone" instead. This wonderful inhaler provides a method of breathing into the lungs certain rare medicinal vapors which are so healing and comforting as to entirely banish coughs, catarrh and throat trouble in a very short time.

The most wonderful thing about Catarrhozone is, that no matter where the germs of bronchitis or catarrh are hidden, Catarrhozone will reach and destroy them.

Get the large size, lasts months, is sure to cure you, price $1.00; smaller size, 50c; sample or trial size, 25c. All dealers.

Invisible Periscope.

It was the visibility of the periscope, more than anything else, that made an effective war against German submarines possible. A periscope is useless if it is submerged.

The part of the periscope tube that extends above the surface of the water is not more than about two inches in diameter—not much, but enough for the vigilant watchers on the numerous patrol boats that cruised in the danger zone.

Various methods were tried to diminish the visibility of the periscope. At first they were painted in shades of blue or grey or green so as to make them blend with the color of the sea. Coating the tube with aluminum paint was also tried. But all such attempts at camouflaging were found to have but little protective value. Covering the tube with a green and violet checkerboard proved effective in some cases.

A suggestion that is theoretically good provides that the tube of the periscope be surrounded by a series of conical mirrors, which, when seen from a distance, blend with the background, because they reflect the sea.

RECONSTRUCTION

Employers Must Not Be Governed by Dollars and Cents Only.

The employers of Canada will fail in their duty to their country and to the men who by their service and sacrifice have kept it inviolate if in their attitude toward returned soldier-workers they are governed only by dollars-and-cents considerations. In such words as these Hon. C. S. Mewburn, Minister of Militia, speaking at the Canadian Club in the city of Toronto appealed to the manufacturers of the Dominion to accept a full share of responsibility in the task of reabsorbing into the life of the nation those men who for two, three and four years past have been fighting Canada's battles abroad. Only by sympathetic co-operation and an intelligent understanding of the inevitable loss in working efficiency suffered by the soldier would it be possible to bridge the transition period between war and peace without serious social and industrial disturbance.

"Is it fair or reasonable that these men whose whole training for years has been to kill, can go right to the work bench or the office desk and concentrate for eight or nine hours?" he asked. "It isn't possible. Therefore I say to the men of the Dominion, you have a far greater burden on your shoulders than you have had since the war started. You have to be sympathetic and encouraging. You have to foster this man, you have to bring him back. I say the employer has to do his part. Suppose the returned man goes back to his old job and finds himself working against a man who has been at it steadily all during the war. The returned soldier will not be able to do the same amount of work, he will be unable to stand the strain of concentration. And that will worry him. The employer sees that the man isn't 50 per cent. efficient and says to himself, I cannot keep that man. I cannot get the same amount of work out of him.

"I say the employer of labor in this country has got to do it," declared Hon. Mr. Mewburn with emphasis. "He has to recognize that he has to re-educate that man, to get out of him the education of killing and get into him the education of work for the national existence."

Novel Form of State Socialism.

Hon. Valentine Winkler, Minister of Agriculture for Manitoba, has announced the intention of his Government of going into the business of importing stallions for use in Manitoba. The Government will sell the stallions on a cash basis and at a price sufficient to cover cost plus actual expenses. Even at that Mr. Winkler thinks he will be able to save purchasers from $1,000 to $3,000 on each animal bought.

The Minister said efforts will be made to select only the best strains of Clydes, Percherons and Belgians—the Clydes from eastern Canada, and the others from the United States.

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive, the bowels become constipated, the tongue becomes coated, the breath bad, and the stomach all out of order.

Then come those terrible sick headaches. They take out every bit of life and ambition, bring on depression, and often end in complete mental and physical prostration.

To keep the liver active, and your bowels moving regularly, is the only way to get rid of the constipation and the distressing sick headaches. Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will do this for you by stimulating the sluggish liver into manufacturing sufficient bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular.

Mrs. Winslow McKay, Jordan Branch, N.S., writes: "I have been sick for a number of years with sick headache and constipation. I tried all kinds of doctors' medicines, but none did me any good. I tried Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and after using four vials I am completely cured. I would heartily recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are small and easy to take; and do not gripe, weaken or sicken as so many pills do. Price 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

British Reconstruction Parliament Was Formally Opened To-day By King

PEACE QUESTIONS

(United Press Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 11.—King George, speaking from the Throne, in formally opening Parliament shortly after noon to-day, expressed his desire that the understanding between Great Britain and the United States should increase, and that the two countries will "act together in the future."

Great Britain's Reconstruction Parliament was expected to swing immediately into business at the conclusion of the brief ceremonial programme, when it was formally opened by King George to-day.

Labourites, who now form "His Majesty's Opposition," were scheduled to move an amendment to the King's speech in regard to the present industrial troubles. George N. Barnes, Cabinet Minister without portfolio, who has been repudiated by the Labour party, probably will reply for the Government. The non-Coalitionist Liberals also were to present an amendment to the important speech Premier Lloyd George was to deliver in the afternoon. Their amendment was expected to be based on general labour reconstruction problems and possibly on peace questions. Andrew Bonar Law, Government leader in the House of Commons, was scheduled to speak in behalf of the Unionist wing. The Government probably will allow two days for debate on the amendment to the King's speech before a vote is taken on it.

The King's speech dealt with the Allied victory and peace-time reconstruction. The usual brilliant scene attending the formal opening of Parliament was slightly dulled by the fact the galleries were in mourning for the death of Prince John.

Decisive Action.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, Feb. 11.—King George, in opening the new Parliament to-day, after alluding briefly to economic matters since the dissolution of the last Parliament, just after the armistice, urged quick and decisive action on reconstruction measures, and asked Parliament "to spare no effort in healing the causes of the existing unrest."

The King stated that a Government bill would be presented simplifying the procedure in the House of Commons so that the lower body might expedite what the Government considers imperative measures. Among the measure he said were better housing, the formation of a Department of Health, the fulfilment of pledges to Labour that unfair competition would be prevented and the betterment of the agricultural situation through improved transportation.

RESOLUTE ACTION.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Feb. 11. — King George and Queen Mary were cheered by crowds in the streets on their way to Westminster, where the King addressed the House of Parliament from the throne to-day.

The vicinity of Parliament Square and Whitehall were packed with people gathered to witness the arrival of the King and Queen. In concluding his address he said: "We shall not achieve this end by undue tenderness toward ackuowledged abuses and it must necessarily be retarded by violence, even disturbance. We shall succeed only by patient and untiring resolution in carrying through the legislation and administrative action which is required. It is that resolute action I ask you to support."

Borden May Visit Canada

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, Feb. 11. — Expert committee which the Council of the Great Powers decided a week ago to set up to examine the claims of Greece will meet Thursday next, the British Empire delegates being Sir Robert Borden of Canada and Sir Eyre Crowe of the Foreign Office. Immediately upon the committee completing its work the Canadian Premier will probably pay a short visit to Canada returning when President Wilson returns from the United States.

A Short Stay.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—It was disclosed that President Wilson plans to return from Washington by March 15th, this involves so brief a stay at Washington as to permit only the signing of bills during the closings hours of Congress.

ANOTHER COLD STORAGE PLANT MAY BE ERECTED

Ruddick Goes to the United States to Look Into Cold Storage Question.

Special to the Examiner:

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—J. A. Ruddick, Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, accompanied by the Architect of the General Harbour Commission, are leaving for the United States to look into cold storage and refrigerating plants in that country with a view to the adopting of the most up-to-date methods and appliances in connection with the million dollar Government-owned refrigerating plant to be constructed by the Harbour Commission at Montreal.

A site has already been purchased for the plant. This will be the first public cold storage plant in Canada. If the experiment proves a success another plant of the same kind will be constructed at Halifax.

Soldier's Night At the Y.M.C.A.

Membership Ticket for Six Months for Each Returned Soldier.

All arrangements have been made for the returned men's night at the Y.M.C.A. Thursday night of this week. A large number of the men have signified their intention of coming. Indoor baseball seems to be the popular game and should attract many of the old players of the game. Col. Johnston has promised to come and will be glad to meet men of his old regiment as well as all others. The Association has but one object in view that of welcoming the returned men and of giving them a good time. The usual small fee for bowling and billiards will be dispensed with for the evening and for those who have no shoes who wish to play in games in the gym, shoes will be provided.

The Y.M.C.A. expends full privileges for six months to all returned men and will be glad to issue a membership ticket for this period.

Not Connected With the Packers

Tumulty Was Not Revealed as the Diamond "T".

(United Press Service.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, was cleared of any connection with packing interests by Henry Veeder, Swift counsel, before the Senate Agricultural Committee today.

Veeder denied Tumulty was the "diamond T" from whom the packers got inside information as to President Wilson's plan for a packer investigation.

Letter to Judge Widdifield Offering $500 to Patriotic Fund if Son Was Exempted.

IN GOOD HEALTH

Canadian Press:

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 11.—Joseph Weber, Reeve of Neustadt, was today committed for trial at the Assizes on the 24th by Magistrate Creasor on serious charges under the Military Service Act. A letter was read, in evidence, from Weber to Judge Widdifield, offering $500 to the patriotic fund if his son was granted exemption. There was other evidence by the Dominion Police. Weber's bail was renewed. He appeared to be in good health, despite his experiences with the mob here ten days ago, but he was evidently much depressed. His son is under sentence of ten years' imprisonment as a defaulter under the M.S.A. There was no demonstration here to-day.

Appreciation of Late Col. Edwards

On Sunday evening in St. John's church, Canon Rev. J. C. Davidson spoke in high appreciation of the late Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, who passed away in Edmonton on Saturday last. Canon Davidson referred to the deceased as a useful public spirited citizen and a devout Christian man. He commented upon the warm support the late Col. Edwards has given him as Chaplain in the 57th Regiment the morale of which was greatly strengthened during his term of office.

BRANTFORD MAN HAS LEMON IN BACKYARD.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 11.—A new record for winter growing in Canada was submitted by Mr. Denton, 54 Lyons Avenue, who exhibited here a lemon grown from a real lemon tree in his backyard. The lemon weighed 16½ ounces, and the tree stands about two feet high. This is surely the best proof of Canada's mild winter climate yet exhibited.

Interesting Developments in Work of the Peace Congress Are Expected Some Time To-day

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, Feb. 11.—Interesting developments in the work of the Peace Congress are expected to-day. The draft of plan for the Society of Nations will be before the commission for its second reading, and it is probable that it will be prepared for action by the plenary sessions of the Conference late in the week. The Supreme War Council, although hearing the claims of Belgian delegates in supporting the French view that their country should be protected until on the same footing as Germany, is expected to refer this matter to an economic committee. It is now evident that the Supreme War Council will be relieved entirely of this question which is now regarded as an economic rather than a military question. The Supreme Economic Council, which is about to be organized, is expected to consider French and Belgian proposals that Essen and other German industrial towns should be occupied to prevent the manufacture of munitions and arms. This is a question which bares the ability of Germany to pay heavy indemnities through the products of industry and it is the American view that suppression of Germany's muntion production can be as well assured by a system of authorized inspection by Entente agents. This would permit German industries to continue with safety to the Allies.

Anarchists Are Deported

Clubs Were Freely Used on the I. W. W. Members—Cheers for Bolsheviki.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Fifty-four radicals, alien born anarchists, Industrial Workers of the World and others, arrived at Hoboken to-day on a train from the west, en route to Ellis Island, immigration station, where they are to be deported. As the second group of men was led from the train, three cheers for the Bolshevik were given and three more for I.W.W. One I.W.W. member objected and struck a policeman on the nose with his fist. Others of the I.W.W. closed in, and the police came to the recue of the man attacked, and not until clubs had been used freely and effectively were the I.W.W. members subdued.

Belgian Delegates Will Meet the Supreme War Council To-day.

(By Robert J. Bender—United Press)

PARIS, Feb. 11.—President Wilson planned to-day to leave Friday for Brest, preparatory to sailing for the United States. There was a possibility, however, that his steamer might not leave before Sunday.

The President's party, it was learned, will include Earl Reading, French Ambassador Jusserand, Italian Ambassador Collere and Franklin Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

WILL BE READ TO-DAY.

The reprint of the League of Nations' Constitution, which was completed and approved yesterday, was to be read at to-day's session of the committee, of which Wilson is chairman. During the afternoon the President was to meet the Supreme War Council, when the Belgian delegates were to discuss the systematic plans of the Germans to destroy Belgian industries. The matter will be referred to the Supreme Economic Council for handling, in connection with the indemnities and armistice provisions. The War Council was also expected to consider Marshal Foch's plan for further military demonstrations, such as the occupation of other strategist points to ensure compliance with the armistice.

Estabeth Stood By Sophia 20 Minutes

Then Stayed Behind Island for Two Days—Inquiry Into Wreck Resumed.

VICTORIA, Feb. 11.—Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the British Columbia Coast Service of the C.P.R., was the principal witness before the Commission sitting at Victoria on the inquiry into the wreck of the Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Princess Sophia in Lynn Canal on October 24 last.

A Greek cook named Christ Dimitry, who was employed on the United States mail vessel Estabeth, which left Juneau at 4 o'clock on the morning of the wreck and reached the Sophia at 11 o'clock the same morning, said the Estabeth stood by the Sophia for about twenty minutes, and then went behind a nearby island and stayed there for two days. When they reached the Sophia they could hear a piano playing and all the passengers were on the deck. They lowered a small boat to go to the Sophia for the purpose of getting some supplies, but the attempt had to be abandoned.

Capt. Troup filed the entire wireless and telegraphic correspondence between his office and the officials at Juneau. Capt. Troup stated that everything possible had been done under the circumstances. He stated that the money spent by his company to date in connection with vessels standing by the wreck, searching for bodies, transportation and other items amounted to $78,074.

SIGNING OF THE TREATY

May be Much Later Than April the First Before Peace is Concluded —Interview With Balfour.

BANDIT NATIONS

(United Press Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 11.—The peace settlement need not wait for the establishment of the League of Nations in as much as it is not the League's business to conclude the terms of peace Foreign Secretary Balfour declared to-day.

Balfour said that no one could tell exactly when peace would be signed. Asked specifically if he thought it would be concluded by April 1, he replied that he believed that date was rather over-sanguine.

In reply to a question as to how Germany can pay the indemnities if she is not allowed to recuperate her industries, he said that Germany's repatriation should not be at the expense of France and Belgium, but that "it is to nobody's interests that Germany should become a derelict nation." Balfour said he believed the question of freedom of the seas will disappear with the organization of the League of Nations, under which all will enjoy that privilege, except "bandit nations."

Discussing the question of reparation, Balfour said the evidence presented to the Conference indicated that Germany's destruction of French industrial plants was unnecessary from a military standpoint, but instead served a doubly sinister purpose, first that of putting French industry behind in comparison with Germany, and second, that of forcing France after the war to buy machinery from Germany, who would thus furnish additional employment for thousands of Germans. While he favoured the principle of Germany handing over to Great Britain the shipping she had destroyed, ton for ton, Balfour said he did not know whether she had sufficient tonnage for such a programme.

The Foreign Secretary said he believed the League of Nations would come into existence only after the treaty is signed, because the questions of boundaries and other matters must first be settled. He said he was a firm believer in protectorates which have not yet received sufficient attention because they are subordinated to the League.

Clotheslines Robbed In the South End

Entire Week's Washing Taken Off Two of the Lines.

Three clotheslines were robbed in the south end of the city last evening. They were as follows:

Mrs. N. Drake, Sherbourne street.
Mrs. J. Moss, Sherbourne street.
Mrs. W. H. Moore, 67 Morrow street.

Sherbourne street runs south from 43 Lansdowne avenue and crosses Morrow street, so that all of the thefts were committed within a block of each other. The clotheslines of Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Drake were completely stripped of the entire week's washing, while that of Mrs. Moore was only partly stripped. Mrs. Moore lost two sets of blankets, a tablecloth and a number of smaller articles. The thieves took advantage of the moonlight and the absence of snow on the ground which made it impossible to trace their footsteps.

JAPAN MAY WAGE WAR

Japan's Attitude Towards China is Causing Grave Apprehension Among the Other Powers.

THE DEMANDS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, Feb. 11.—Japan has reiterated her intention to hold Marshall and Caroline Islands in the Pacific which she took from Germany during the war, as well as to insist upon the execution of her agreement reached in September last with regard to Shantung. This is an official announcement of the Japanese delegation.

(Canadian Press Despatch).

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. — Japan's attitude toward China in the Peace Conference is causing grave apprehension among representatives of other Associated Powers. According to official diplomatic information reaching here, Japan virtually has threatened war if China makes public secret treaties between the two countries and fails to carry out an agreement to make Japan successor of Germany in rights of property and concessions held by Germany at the outbreak of the European war.

China is relying on the peace conference, where her delegates are said to have made an excellent impression and is seeking support from the United States and Great Britain.

Goose Went to Mrs. Tobin

Dance and Card Party at the Lyceum Last Evening.

The dance and card party last night at St. Alphonsus Lyceum was attended by about one hundred couples, and the evening proved a great success. A feature of the entertainment was the euchre contest, for which a prize of a goose was donated to the winner. In this Mrs. Neil Tobin and Miss Vera Carew tied, and in playing off Mrs. Tobin finally obtained the highest score. Splendid music for the dancing was provided by Moher.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS.

According to press reports from Ottawa the daylight savings measure is to be again put in force in Canada during the summer, commencing at the same time as the system recommends in the United States. The same report says that little opposition has been offered to the scheme, which leads to the belief that the resolutions of the different county councils, which have condemned the plan as hurtful to the agricultural industry, have not yet reached Ottawa. The announcement from the capital will be reassuring to the people of the urban communities of Canada at least, for the measure was enthusiastically endorsed by the vast majority of city dwellers, and there was anxiety, because of the indications of increasing opposition from the rural sections. It will be welcome news that this opposition has not caused any change in the programme, and that the daylight savings bill will again be in force. It has a dozen advantages that far more than offset any grievance, real or fancied, that the agricultural interests complain of, and for that reason its reintroduction will be heartily welcomed.

A GREAT ANNIVERSARY

It is a notable event that the Peterboro branch of the War Veterans will celebrate tomorrow night, the landing of the 1st Canadian Division on French soil four years ago. The selection of this anniversary as the date for the re-union which Veterans propose to hold annually, is as appropriate as was the choosing of the anniversary of the beginning of the second battle of Ypres, as the occasion for the annual church parade. These two dates should be memorable ones in Canadian history, the day in February when the Canadians first set foot on French soil and that awful evening in April when the Germans first used the terrible gas and when the Canadians hurled themselves into the breach and stopped the rush on Calais. The Veterans have done well to set apart these two days as anniversaries to be commemorated and to-morrow's gathering promises to be

MR. BARBER'S ADDRESS.

In arranging for an address by Mr. Frank Barber, the city's consulting engineer on the new Hunter street bridge, and in extending an invitation to the public to be present, the Engineers' Club of Peterborough has performed a service to the community that should be recognized by a crowded hall. The address is to be given in the Public Library Hall on Thursday evening and should be of absorbing interest, inasmuch as Mr. Barber will speak not only on the general subject of Canadian concrete bridges, but will make a reference to some features of the structure which it is proposed to build here. A large number of lantern slides will add to the interest of the occasion. The Hunter street bridge is one of the biggest projects with which Peterborough has ever had to deal. The opportunity of hearing Mr. Barber discuss the matter is one that no public-spirited citizen should miss, as any information that can be secured in regard to the proposal should be eagerly sought. In addition to the address it is likely that there will be a general discussion of the subject, and the meeting will be one of interest.

LET THE CHILDREN COAST

Early in the winter the Examiner suggested the advisability of setting aside certain hills in the city and allowing their use by the children during stated hours for coasting purposes, advocating this plan as a preventative against accidents and as a means of providing a cheap, healthy and lively amusement for the youngsters of Peterboro. Mr. Ryerson Ritchie made a similar proposal to the city council but the suggestion met with scant approval from the city fathers and no action was taken.

It is pleasing to note that Chief Thompson has incorporated the proposal in his annual report to the Police Commissioners and has emphatically endorsed the plan suggested by the Examiner. Chief Thompson points out that during the past month there have been several accidents as a result of coasting in different parts of the city, while the police department has been notified of other narrow escapes.

In recommending that the Commissioner take up with the city council the question of allowing coasting on certain hills, Chief Thompson shows that he is keeping abreast of the spirit of the times. As his report points out coasting on public streets is forbidden in Peterboro by a by-law that was passed many years ago when this city was a town. Providing facilities for young people to engage in healthful recreation was the last thing the authorities thought of in those days. There were no public play grounds or free skating rinks and the river was the only bathing place and the shelter of a convenient bush the only dressing room.

"Since then," remarks Chief Thompson "times and customs have changed. To-day public men and municipal councils are, as a rule, strongly in favor of providing such places of amusement for the youth of our cities."

The Examiner is glad to heartily support Chief Thompson's recommendation. The plan is a simple and feasible one. It would be possible if coasting on certain hills was legalized to have a constable or some other person on duty at these places during the hours of coasting and in this way all danger of accident either to pedestrians or to coasters would be minimized.

The suggestion will be forwarded to the council by the Board of Police Commissioners and backed by that body and by the Chief of Police, it should surely receive consideration from the aldermen. There is no expense involved in the scheme and it affords a practicable plan of making coasting safe and legal—neither of which it is under the present by-law.

REHABILITATING THE BOLSHEVIKI

The wolf has accepted the invitation to treat with the lambs. The Bolsheviki government has consented graciously to meet the allied representatives and offers, as a means of placating any who may be opposed, to guarantee the payment of interest on Russian financial obligations to holders of Entente nationality. It would even meet some of the Russian political groups at the request of the Entente Powers.

This is certainly a great inducement. The Allies and the United States delegates eagerly received th reply and made arrangements to send a committee composed of the representatives of the five great Powers to meet the Bolshevist emissaries. What a splendid idea it was for the Allies to issue the invitation! The war might have been ended with Germany on the same lines two years ago. After the Germans had violated Belgium and Northern France burned their towns, destroyed their industries and enslaved their populations, the Berlin government doubtless would have been willing to call quits and even to require from occupied territory.

We forget—the rulers of Germany then were not supposed to represent the people of Germany. Those dear people—one-tenth of whom committed unspeakable outrages on the unfortunate inhabitants of the countries they occupied and the crews of the submarines who laughingly drowned their prisoners—were not then in power. Now that the fiction of the substitution of popular sovereignty for the will of the Kaiser has been accomplished it is all right to treat with them.

But the Bolsheviki, of course, are a popular government. No individual in their power can deny it and live. So by all means let us have peace with them. But the Allied delegates who attend this conference with murderers should paste in their hats the report of Mr. Pusta, Esthonian delegate to the peace conference, quoted in a special cable to the Herald, who tells how Esthonian women were compelled to dig their own graves then stripped of their clothing, shot and buried because they refused to tell where their husbands were hiding. By making a compact with such criminals the Allied will acknowledge themselves beaten in the east, although victorious in the west, and such a compromise with evil will surely have an evil reaction, not only among the Allies by throughout the civilized world.—New York Herald.

I. W. W. Speakers Roughly Handled by Passaic Strikers

10,000 Workers Pull Radicals from Platform and Police Rush Three Agents Out of Town

NEW YORK, Feb. 11—Passiac woolworkers on strike repudiated all attempts by I.W.W. agitators to organize them into a local of that union and three recruiting agents of that organization were taken in tow by the police, placed upon trains bound for New York and warned not to return.

The denunciation of the I.W.W. and its sister organization, the W.I.I.U. (Workers' International Industrial Union), followed a mass meeting of ten thousand of the strikers in the First ward park. When agitators representing the I.W.W. attempted to mount the truck upon which speakers stood, they were pulled off by the strikers and roughly handled. After four such attempts, one thousand members of the I.W.W. bolted the strikers' meeting and started one of their own elsewhere.

Samuel Krieger, of New Brunswick, an I.W.W., after being forced off the speakers' truck several times, was taken by Police Captain Benjamin F. Turner and rushed out of town on a New York train. Later Captain Turner interrupted a meeting in Dayton Hall, confiscated I.W.W. literature and badges, ordered all money paid by the strikers for membership in the I. W.W. to be returned, and placed another I.W.W. agitator, Edward Rankin, upon a New York train.

Adolf Lewis, I.W.W. leader of Paterson, for whom Captain Turner was looking, escaped from the hall ten minutes before the appearance of the police and could not be found. Another I.W.W. recruiting agent, Octave Bartoni, of Manhattan, was discovered at a meeting in Masonic Hall later and forced to follow the preceding I. W.W. agents to New York.

"Any I.W.W. from out of town is going to be shipped away in a hurry, and if he gets fresh he's going into the lockup," said Captain Turner last night.

While there was little change in the wool workers' strike yesterday other than their organization into an independent union, recruits to the strikers came from the handkerchief factory workers, the cigarmakers of Garfield and a few workers in the rubber works of the New York Belting and Packing Company, a total addition of six hundred. Their demands are mainly for a forty-four week and increases from twenty-five to one hundred per cent.

DEPTH CHARGE PURELY A BRITISH INVENTION

Was Developed and Used Before U. S. Entered the War.

LONDON, Feb. 10.— Official attention has been called to statements made in the press to the effect that America was mainly instrumental in developing the depth charge method of defence against submarines, and so did a great deal towards the eventual overcoming of the submarine menace. The actual circumstances are as follows:

The commander-in-chief of the Grand Fleet recommended in 1914 the addition of a depth charge defence, and experiments and an investigation followed. The Vernon experimental school took the matter in hand, and the submarine attack committee, of the Admiralty ultimately recommended the adoption of a design which was practically that used throughout the war. There were improvements from time to time, but the British navy adopted and developed the depth charge method of defence two years ago and before the United States came into the war. The British navy also led the way in the use and development of the weapon and in the fitting out of special vessels for its intensive employment.

The invention of the "thrower" and other devices in connection with the mines were purely British.

Three Lads Lose Lives in Skating

One Breaks Through Ice, Two Others Try to Save Him—Port Dover Tragedy.

PORT DOVER, Feb. 11.—After school yesterday four young lads went skating on Lake Erie. Jackie West broke through the ice, his brother, Teddie, went to his rescue. Seeing he needed assistance Jhonnie Miller also plunged in. The fourth lad, Lindsay Gunton, not being able to swim, tried to attract attention by callink as loudly as possible. His cries brought Capt. John MacAulay, who plunged in, dived to the bottom, brought the lads to the surface, and placed them on firm ice. The lads have been worked with steadily since they could be hurried to a suitable place, but Drs. Cook and Todd now (at 8:30 p.m.) think resuscitation impossible.

Capt. MacAulay, after his trying experience, is in bed at his home, but is beginning to react favourably from the chill following his brave deed. The West boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest West. Mr. West is at present in the Government service at Halifax. Johnnie Miller is the youngest son of Mrs. R. J. Miller.

Death o Former Peterboro Man

Mr. J. D. Graham Passed Away in California.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 11.—Mr. W. M. Graham received a telegram on Monday informing him of the death of his brother, James Duncan Graham in Long Beach, California, on Saturday, Feb. 8th.

Mr. J. D. Graham was born in Peterborough 60 years ago, but moved to Lakefield with his parents a few years later. He received his education in the Lakefield Public School, Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Toronto Univeraity. For two years he was principal of the Lakefield Public School. After his graduation from University he accepted a tutorship in Englewood, California. Later he received the appointment of Mathematical Master in the Pasadena High School, and subsequently was made supervising principal, of Pasadena, Cal., who with seventeen years in Pasadena he accepted a similar position in Long Beach, Cal., where he has remained ever since.

In 1892 he married Miss Emily Rust, of Pasadena, who with five children survive him. The children are Donald of California, Mrs. C. E. Crandall of Oregon, Duncan, Robert and Malcolm at home. A sister, Mrs. B. A. Haskell, resides in Edmonton, and two brothers, William and Robert are in Lakefield. Mr. Graham was in failing health for some time, and though particulars are available of his death, it was not altogether unexpected.

THE LADIES' AID OF GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

The Ladies' Aid of the George Street Methodist Church is always ready to serve those on the "Honour Roll" of its church. This society has done very much for the soldiers while overseas. The ladies connected with it have always, during the war, considered that their most urgent duty to be, namely, to help the soldiers overseas, and they have done splendid work for the soldiers. Yet they feel that they have not done enough for them.

On Tuesday, Feb. 18, a week from to-day, they intend holding a "Victory Tea" in honour of the returned soldiers on their "Honour Roll." The tea will begin at 5.30 o'clock. After the tea a "Pinafore" Concert" will be given. The preachers of the city and the surrounding district will take part. All returned soldiers of the George Street Methodist Church are welcome.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

WEIMAR, Feb. 11.—The German National Assembly has adopted a provisional constitution with little amendment. The national president will be elected to-day

ST. THOMAS G.W.V.A. REFUSE TO SUPPORT GRANT TO Y.M.C.A.

Will Not Accept Invitation of Council to Meetong.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 11.—"That the G.W.V.A., as a body, refuse to attend the meeting of the City Council, re the Y.M.C.A. grant, and refuse to have its name mentioned in connection therewith." This was the resolution passed by the Great War Veterans' Association Branch in this city in reply to the request from the City Council that the Veterans attend the special meeting of the Council, which is to be held this week to discuss the grant to the overseas Y. M. C. A., which was made a year ago, but never handed over to the officials.

The veterans feel that they would be better off without entering into any controversy, and apparently the matter is dropped as far as they are concerned. The reason for the Council's request is in the fact that a year ago when the grant was made the G. W. V. A. of Ontario voted against making any grants to the Y.M.C.A. for overseas work.

The local association also found from statements by members present that there are men in the city who are out of work while alien enemies are being employed in their places. A committee was appointed to look into this complaint.

ONE OF THE BEST KNOWN LANDMARKS OF TORONTO CHANGING

The "Salada" Tea Co., have surrendered their building at 32 Yonge street to the Bank of Montreal, the purchasers, and are moving out to 459-467 King street west, a few doors west of Spadina Avenue on the South side.

We do not suppose there is a resident in Toronto or neighborhood who des not know the "Salada" warehouse, and many of us who have visited Toronto by boat will remember the large Electric Sign flashing over the Bay.

This will be missed by hundreds of thousands, as it had become to be looked upon as a 'Beacon Light', but the premises had become altogether too small to handle the immense business of the "Salada" Tea Co. Twenty one years ago they moved from Front street east to their Yonge street place and after three or four years' occupancy the volume of their trade increasing, compelled them to put on three extra stories, thus making the building a six-storey one.

The growth of the demand continuing, their warehouse again became congested which necessitated them erecting a new warehouse in Montreal, cor. St. Paul and St. Sulpice Sts. Previous to this a branch had been opened in Buffalo, the business, however, being handled from Toronto. A year or two afterwards a branch was opened in Detroit; then one in Boston, Chicago, New York and other points in the United States.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS WITH ECZEMA.

Mrs. Link, 12 Walter Street, Halifax, N.S., states: — "After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but slight temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by using Dr Chase's Ointment. After the third of fourth application of this grand Ointment I obtained relief and a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure.

Chief of Police Thompson Presents His Ninth Annual Report to Police Commission

Murder Was Not Included in the Police Calendar for the Past Year—General Remarks and Recommendations—Number of Persons Arrested During the Year—The Juvenile Court.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners held Saturday afternoon, the ninth annual report of Chief of Police Thompson was presented. It is interesting to note that murder is not included in the police calendar for the past year. Included in the Chief's recommendations and general remarks was the following:

General Remarks.

"I regret very much to have lost during the Year one of our most valuable members of our Department, in the person of Mrs. McElhiney, our Police Matron, it is only those with whom she was closely associated who feel her loss most in the work in which she seemed to be especially adapted for in connection with the handling of female prisoners, and we hope that she may be long spared to continue in her work among the unfortunate and fallen ones.

I again wish to thank Mr. Joseph Wearing, Solicitor for the Children's Aid Society, for the able assistance he has given in connection with the Juvenile Court.

I also wish to express my thanks to Mr. G. W. Powell, Agent for the above mentioned Society, for the efficient manner in which he has performed his duties regarding Juvenile offenders.

I desire to extend to Chief Grange, and the members of the Fire Department my sincere thanks for their willingness to assist the Police at all times.

Two Increases.

During the Year the members of the Police Department were given two increases in salary, on behalf of the members and myself I desire to express our thanks and appreciation of the very fair and generous manner in which your Honourable Board dealt with these matters, making it possible for us to retain our experienced men.

Our City is so situated that it affords many opportunities of the dangerous practice of coasting on our Public Streets, by small girls and boys During the past month there has been some serious accidents occur, and a number of reports has reached my Office where pedestrians and the persons coasting have narrowly escaped serious accidents and in some cases almost fatal ones.

We have a By-law which was passed many years ago when Peterborough was a Town, this By-law prohibits coasting on any Public Street within the Town, but as Your Honourable Board knows at that time in question of providing Public Play Grounds, Skating Rinks and Bathing Places was not taken into consideration.

Times Change.

Since then times and customs have changed, to-day Public men and Municipal Councils are as a rule strongly in favour of providing such Places of Amusements for the Youth of our Cities.

I would suggest that the Board of Police Commissioners take the matter up with the City Council with a view of considering the advisability of setting apart certain hills in different parts of the City, which could be used during certain hours of the day for coasting purposes.

My desire is to avoid if possible the swelling up with convictions of small boys and girls, on the other hand my object is to try and keep them away from Police Court as long as possible for any offence, and I believe if what I suggest was done a Police Constable or some other person could be placed in charge of the places which might be named for this amusement that would eliminate the danger of accidents to both the individual coaster and pedestrians.

As it is at present with coasting on nearly every hill in the City and the number of men on my Department, I find it impossible to supply the protection which this important matter demands, so it is a matter of more play grounds or more Police, I trust that this matter will receive your best consideration.

The Chief Constable's Association of Canada meets for their Annual Convention for the Year 1919, in the City of Calgary, Alta., I trust Gentlemen you will make it convenient for me to attend same accompanied with the necessary appropriation.

FINDS BROTHER ELK DID NOT BITE BUT MERELY KISSED HER

Lodge No. 1 Tries Capering Member Said to Have Caressed Wife of Another Upon Neck.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Human Elks are generally domesticated and with fewer capers than their symbolic brethren of the woodland tribe. There is nothing which shocks the members of that benevolent and protective order as an exhibition of wild antics on the part of one of their brothers. The members of local Lodge No. 1, with headquarters in the Elks' Club, at No. 108 West Forty-third street, recently brought one of their number to trial who had, in their opinion, shown too high an appreciation of beauty and acted indiscreetly.

The incident caused considerable excitement at the club. According to the story current in certain social circles one of the Elks has a most beautiful wife. She was the centre of attraction at a recent entertainment at the club. When the dance was on and the depressing thought of prohibition was far from the minds of the capering Elks, one member in a state of high excitability was alleged to have bitten this wife of another on the neck.

The object of his undue affection quite naturally screamed, and a whole herd of Elks are said to have pounced on the frisky member and ejected him from the ballroom. He was brought to trial, and the evidence is said to have shown that he did not actually bite the lady but merely kissed her.

The defendant might have been expelled from the order but for this mitigating circumstance, which led the court to show clemency and suspend sentence. Frederick E. Goldsmith, exalted ruler of Lodge No. 1, and other officers of the lodge have carefully guarded the name of the fair complainant, as well as other details of the incident and court proceedings.

German Airplanes Belied Allies' "Dope," Says Priemier Ace

Captain Rickenbacker Says Enemy Craft He Underrated, Nearly Killed Him Twice.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—At a luncheon given for him by the Aero Club of America Captain Edward V. Rickenbacker, America's ace of aces, verified the report that the official "dope" as to the efficacy of the German aircraft apposed to the Allies on the French front was not always to be depended upon. Twice, he admitted, his own life was endangered by a too confident reliance upon it.

According to the story confirmed by Captain Rickenbacker, he devoted several days to the study of the official "dope" sheets of the French Technical Department, giving data and performance information about the latest German machines, such as their rate of speed, climb, ability to perform stunts and the best method of attack.

After mastering this technical information one morning he jumped into his machine and went up to patrol over the lines. Spying one of the wireless Fokkers, the latest creation of the Germans, he engaged it according to instructions. After a few minutes fighting he broke away and darted back to his headquarters. Jumping from his machine he ran into the office, and picking up the "dope" sheet exclaimed:

"That's the second time I've been nearly killed by the 'dope.' If any one says that machine can't climb and can't stunt, I know better, because I've tried it out."

When a young girl is unable to convince a man, she calls him a crank.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

Mortgage on Church Property Was Destroyed Last Evening

Securities for $2,700 were deliberately destroyed by fire last night by Messrs. J. Carr, J. Spier, T. Sargeant, W. Gamble, T. Hendry, C. Howson and A. Tighe. This act of incendiarism was witnessed by a large representation of Mark street Methodist church, who took no action to prevent the act, but on the contrary gladly applauded the disappearance of the mortgage on the property, corner of Mark and Hunter streets, where a new church will be built.

The ceremony of burning the mortgage was performed in Mark street church following an interesting lecture, "Four Months in a Mining Town," by the Rev. Mr. Bamforth. The board of trustees were called to the front of the church by Rev. R. J. Whattam and each handed a lighted taper which they applied to the document, which had been strung on a wire across the platform, and held by Mr. Nellis and Mr. Hendry.

Chairman's Address.

The chairman, in a short address, said he regretted the audience was so small, due not to a lack of enthusiasm for that important duty which was to be performed, but to the many counter attractions in the city. The event had been looked forward to for years. He spoke in glowing terms of the fidelity to the purpose of lifting the mortgage shown by the members of the church, especially the members of the trustee board. He especially referred to the good work done by the secretary-treasurer, Mr. T. Hendry.

Rev. Mr. Bamforth.

In introducing the speaker of the evening, Rev. Mr. Bamforth of Colborne, the chairman, said that the audience could not fail to appreciate the wonderful spirit of the man who was really a hero.

Mr. Bamforth then told a remarkable story of his experiences as a pastor in a mining town, Kewabec, 80 miles north of Dakota. In 1913, Mr. Bamforth, with a college friend, both anxious to earn money for the winter months, accepted parishes unknown to each and set out for their destinations. Arriving at Kewabec he was met by a man who was in a great hurry to convey the new minister to his destination in order to be on time for a quilting bee. That was the first insight into conditions in the town. Later investigation showed it to contain 28 hotels, which were in reality drinking places, and several variety theatres.

Not Wanted.

Mr. Bamforth was not long in discovering that he was not wanted amongst the rough mining population, and his life was threatened at his every appearance on the highway. The church was attended the first Sunday he preached by four people. Undaunted by his evident unpopularity he persisted, and with the aid of a Salvation Army man, with whom he conducted street corner services, Mr. Bamforth at the end of his four months gathered a good congregation and left the town reassured he had made fast friends with several of his would-be assassins and persecutors. Mr. Bamforth's description of his housekeeping struggles, which were carried on in the church he preached in, was very amusing and kept the audience in fits of laughter. He concluded by telling that in the spot where he carried on his apparently hopeless mission work, a large and well-attended church now stands.

Good Programme.

A pleasing programme was given during the evening, to which Miss Kempt, Miss Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Rolland contributed much enjoyed solos. Miss Kempt was accompanist for the different numbers.

Votes of Thanks.

Hearty votes of appreciation were passed for Rev. Mr. Whattam, Rev. Mr. Bamforth and the secretary-treasurer, Mr. Hendry.

De Valera Said To Be In Paris

Notorious Sinn Feiner May Present Ireland's Claims to Peace Conference.

United Press:

CORK, Feb. 11.—Prof. Edward De Valera, Sinn Fein leader, who recently escaped from an English prison, has arrived in Paris, according to reports received here to-day.

De Valera, providing the above despatch is confirmed, probably will present Ireland's claim to independence before the Peace Conference. He was elected to the new British Parliament from East Claire.

Matter For Ottawa to Deal With

Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., showed the Examiner a communication today, which expressed the opinion of a high legal authority in the Provincial Government. The writer thoroughly agrees with Mr. Burnham's minimum wage resolution, and says it is clearly a matter for the Federal authorities to deal with and not for the Provincial Parliament.

Free Shipping For Red Cross Ends in April

In reply to a question, "What is the Red Cross Society doing now?" it should be of interest to learn that a recent shipment sent overseas in response to a cabled request from the Chief Commissioner included 65,000 pairs of socks, 20,000 suits pyjamas, 15,000 personal property bags, 10,000 towels, 2,000 sheets, 2,500 shorts and other articles in like quantities.

For the week ending January 25th, 1,365 cases of supplies for Siberia were reported, from the Vancouver warehouse of the society. Hospital supplies, general comforts and canned goods from the fruit kitchen at Hamilton—that latter alone valued at, $11,000—made up the contents. On the S. S. Monteagle, which sailed from Vladivostok on January 30th, went 1,418 cases of Red Cross supplies.

The balance of the stock in the fruit kitchen at Hamilton has been shipped. In all there were five carloads for England, one for Siberia, one for Winnipeg, and a half car each for Calgary and Regina. The value of this entire output is estimated at $60,000. The Fruit Kitchen has now finished its work.

Free transportation of Red Cross supplies ceases at the beginning of April next. It is felt by the executive that by this date the bulk of the shipments will have ceased and that the termination of the privilege of free carriage is right and just. Generous treatment has been accorded the society in this respect. This termination will affect the period for the utilizing of surplus material in refugee supplies. A circular to this effect has already been sent to the provincial and district branches.

S.O.S. Calls From Disabled Steamer

(United Press.)

QUEENSTOWN, Feb. 11. — S. O. S. calls were received to-day from the steamer Kwarra of the Elder-Dempster Company line, reported disabled 400 miles to the south west of the Scilly Islands.

Two Sides to the Bacon Question

ONE SIDE

A statement issued by the Department of Agriculture on the 22nd inst., touches on the situation created by British cancellation of orders for Canadian meat products. The statement reads: "Sales of Canadian bacon are very slack on the European market at the present time. This is largely due to market readjustments, which are now going on in Great Britain. Comparatively large quantities of American dry salt bacon are in storage there. This unusual supply of bacon, of a kind not usually used by the British consumer and not relished by him, is reducing consumption. It is anticipated, however, that considerable of the American bacon in question will shortly now be sent to continental nations accustomed to using it, and thus relieve the situation in Great Britain. There are no large stocks of Canadian bacon on hand in Great Britain, hence the present cessation of shipments is regarded as only temporary, and need not cause undue alarm. As far as can be seen at present, the British market will be ready to absorb our whole exportable surplus in the near future."

ANOTHER SIDE

The Toronto Telegram: The price of hogs has slumped from $19.00 to $17.00 per hundred. The Old Country market has disappeared. The packers have had to stop buying hogs. The Toronto packing plants, at least, will shut down on Saturday night unless the Old Country market is restored. Canada's overseas statesmen, headed by Sir Robert Borden, and Canadian trade representatives, headed by Sir George Foster and Lloyd Harris have allowed the old country market for Canadian bacon and pork products to be transferred to the United States by H. C. Hoover. Hog feed is $60 per ton. The farmers were called to Ottawa and urged into a campaign for the greater production of hogs. A semi-peramnent price of $17.00 a hundred was mentioned as a figure that would give the farmers a fair profit. That price disappears with the Old Country market. The farmers will become discouraged and will slaughter their brood sows. The packers will either secure action at London, via Ottawa, or the packers will have to close down their plants and Canada's hog-raising industry will be shadowed by a disaster, almost a death blow."

American Girl May Be Portugal's Queen

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. — A Chicago girl, who ten years ago was thought to have paid millions for an empty title, is enjoying to-day the possibility of becoming Queen of Portugal.

Princess Anita, wife of Don Miguel of Braganza, and the stepdaughter of the late James Henry ("Silent") Smith, Chicago and New York millionaire, will be the first American woman to become a European queen, if the monarchial movement in Portugal turns to a once scapegrace royalist as a successor to former King Manuel.

Portugal is now a republic, but the monarchial revolution appears to be gaining headway.

Mrs. James Henry Smith became the wife of the Chicago millionaire after she divorced Rhinelander Stewart, of New York. "Silent" Smith died in Japan. In his will he bequeathed half a million dollars to his stepdaughter, who was at that time still untitled Anita Stewart. The major part of his vast fortune was left to his widow.

All Depends on Revolt.

Reports circulated from Paris recently state that if former King Manuel, who is now on a steamship off Lisbon, is not prepared to return to the throne, a counter-attack by the Royalists against the revolutionists will put on the throne the prince who sought his wife and wealth in America.

Anita Stewart, daughter of Mrs. James Henry Smith by her first marriage, became the wife of Don Miguel, son of Don Miguel, the pretender to the Portugal throne, on September 15, 1909, after a million dollars made on the Chicago Board of Trade and other money marts of the United States had been turned over to the bankrupt coffers of the Portuguese prince. Shortly before the marriage the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria gave to the heiress the highest title ever conferred upon an American girl when he proclaimed her a princess.

Made Princess Before Marriage.

Miss Stewart was the first American girl to be made a princess before marriage, as she is now the first American-born woman to be mentioned as a possible future queen.

The gown for her wedding was the marvellous pearl robe of the former Shah of Persia, which the girl's mother, Mrs. James Henry Smith, purchased with several hundred thousand dollars of her millionaire husband's winnings.

Much of the married life of the Portuguese prince and his Americean wife has been spent in Austria with the prince's father, Miguel, the pretender.

The Duchess of Vizen, as the American wife has been called during her residence in London and at the Austrian court, gave birth to a daughter in 1910. The child's titles are Princess of Braganza and Princess (infanta) of Portugal.

Under the title of the Duke de Vizen, Miguel went into brokers' offices in London in order, he said, to master the intricacies of finance in case his royal aspirations would some day go amiss and he would have to become a business man.

Smith Millions Aid Royalists?

As early as 1911 the followers of the elder Portuguese pretender were suggesting that the pretender's elder son was ready to take his American wife to Portugal's throne. The Smith millions have since then been said to be helping the Royalist cause.

The rivalry over the throne of Portugal dates from the year 1828, when Don Miguel the elder declared himself king after kidnapping his infant niece and imprisoning her. Miguel, branded as an usurper by the House of Bourbon, was driven from the throne by revolutionists and the crown given to the Bourbon claimant.

The party of the pretender was banished, and on Miguel directed from the court of Austria his intrigues for the Portuguese kingship, first in his own name and later in the name of his elder son, Miguel, the stepson-in-law of "Silent" Smith.

But when the young King Manuel became King of Portugal after the assassination of Don Carlos in 1908 the quarrels between the houses of Bourbon and Braganza were reported to have been peaceably ended.

It takes a versatile man to make a different kind of fool of himself each day.

Monaghan Council Invites the City to Discuss the Gravel Road

Proposes That It Be Assumed As Provincial Highway Completing Improved Section From Peterboro to Port Hope.

BERT SANDERSON ASSESSOR

The North Monaghan township Council held its regular meeting at the Court House on Saturday. John Stewart applied for permission to cut some trees on the north side of Woodland avenue. In reply the Council appointed Deputy-Reeve Bell and Councillor Forster a committee to investigate Mr. Stewart's request with power to act.

A communication was received from G. N. Gordon re taxes on lots 72 and 73 Edison Avenue, which were in arrears. He stated that the lots were owned by different parties, and asked that the Council apportion the taxes in order that they may be paid. On motion by Mr. Henry, seconded by Mr. Bell, that the clerk and tax collector be committee with power to act.

Bert Sanderson was appointed assessor for 1919 at a salary of $200, on motion by Mr. Henry, seconded by Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson expressed a desire that some action be taken to secure the extension from Fraserville to Peterboro, as a provincial highway, of the County Provincial Road already adopted between Port Hope and Fraserville. He moved, seconded by Mr. Forster that Mayor Duncan, Ald. Phelan. Ald. Turner, president of the Board of Trade, Roland Deane, president of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition, R. H. Turner, chairman of the Motor League, S. D. Hall, W. H. Bradburn and ex-Warden Anderson of Otonabee, be invited to discuss this question at a special meeting to be held at the Court House.

On motion by Messrs. Henry and Wilson, Mr. W. H. Bradburn, township treasurer, was given an increase in salary of $40 a year.

The following accounts were ordered paid:—

N. Moncrief—$100, Half his salary.
J. J. Little—$15; grading and gravelling Hopkins Street.
R. Hicks—$9.35,coal, charity.
H. B. Taylor & Sons—$6 coal, charity.
Davis Thompson Co.—$5.95, insurance on Town Hall.
J. McIntosh—$29.85, 199 yards of gravel.
Brinton Carpet Co.—$5.10, 34 leads of cinders.

By-law No. 762 was regularly read as finally passed, appointing Mr. H. G. Webber as Township auditor at a salary of $40.

A French Delegate Tells the Truth to the Germans

"You Continue to Insult the Allies," Says Pierre Renaundel to German Socialists—"You Forget Lille and Also Belgium."

Berne, Feb. 11.—Pierre Renaundel, a French delegate to the International Socialist Conference, rebuked the German Majority Socialist delegates for their demand that German prisoners be returned to the allies.

"You continue to insult the Allies," he declared, "by pretending that French militarism is retaining the German prisoners. You forget the deportations from Lille and from Belgium. You try to influence our working classes by alleging that the use of your prisoners is unfair conscription for our working men. This is our business, not yours. You continue your propaganda in favor of the former German Government, but if you desire to reach results you must adopt an altogether different attitude."

M. Grumbach, the delegate from upper Alsace, protests against the speech made in the German National Assembly at Weimer by Dr. David, the president of the assembly, in which Dr. David declared that Alsace—Lorraine belonged to the German people. Grumbachs remarks were endorsed by Karl Kautsky, German independent Socialist, and declared that the election of Dr. David as president of the National Assembly was a challenge to the Entente.

Bolsheviki Suffered Heavy Losses

British, American and Russians Took Part in Operation.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Bolsheviki launched an infantry attack on Saturday against the Allied positions near Sredmakrenga, southeast of Archangel, and were repulsed. In the operations, Friday, in which the British, American anad Russian troops improved their positions on the Petrograd Road south of Kadish, the Bolsheviki suffered heavy losses.

Subsisting on Hunger Rations

Bolshevism Is Becoming More General in Germany.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—Dr. Bernhardt Dernburg, Writing in the "Zeitung am Mittag," says that Bolshevism in Germany up to the present is local and a passing phenomenon, but is "becoming more general and threatening, especially in the big cities where the people are subsisting on hunger rations and hordes are unemployed."

Allied Soldiers Had Hard Time Chasing Huns

After four years' service overseas with the 47th Battalion from British Columbia, Cadet R. H. Duce arrived in the city en route for Victoria, and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, Brock street. Cadet Duce belongs to a newly created status in the army, that of infantry cadet, which indicates the holder of the title was recommended for a commission on the field and returned to England to qualify. That the armistice interfered with the taking out of the lieutenant's commission is a source of dissatisfaction to the several hundred cadets who were waiting.

Four Years Overseas.

During his four years overseas, Cadet Duce figured in the fighting at Lens, Amiens, Passchendaele, Cambrai and Arras, and left France only two weeks before the armistice. He said that the men in the front line expected the end of the war at that time, but never dreamt it would come so suddenly and were prepared to wait at least two months before the Hun finally gave in. Before he left France the Germans were retreating at such a rate the British could not keep pace with them, and the allied soldiers became so exhausted pursuing them they dropped in their tracks and had to be forcibly wakened up.

Prisoners' Attitude.

Asked the attitude of the German prisoner on being captured, Cadet Duce said that of the thousands he had seen taken, the privates were very glad to be captured and never to his knowledge exhibited the fear commonly attributed to them of ill-treatment at the hands of the British. They were mystified at the jocular attitude of their captors.

With the officers the attitude was quite the reverse and they were arrogant and insolent. As a general rule they refused to be taken prisoner by non-commissioned officers. Those officers will never return to Germany as they met with an argument at the end of a gun.

Kingston Strike Has Been Settled

Terms of Settlement Have Not Been Announced.

United Press:

KINGSTON, Feb. 11.—At a conference held last night, the strike of cotton mill spinners of the Dominion Textile Company's plant was settled, and all the workers went back to work to-day. The terms of the settlement have not yet been announced. The strike has been on since early in December.

HOW CAVAN BLAZERS PASSED TOLL GATE

Broke It Down, Put House Keeper in It, on Sleigh, Dropped in Swamp.

COBOURG, Feb. 10.—The passing of the toll gates on the Cobourg-Port Hope and Cobourg-Baltimore roads, which have been landmarks of the district for some seventy years, has given rise to some interesting reminiscences. It is told that when some of the people of Durham county presented the levying of toll on an unfinished road, the "Cavan Blazers," who, in some of their exploits sought to outrival the Arabian Knights, at once espoused the people's cause. A sleighload of the "Blazers" drove to the first toll-gate and demanded to be allowed to pass through free. Upon being refused, they broke down the gate, and lifted the little house containing the toll-gate keeper upon the sleigh and drove off. Arriving at a swamp, they deposited their burden and drove off.

BRITISH PURCHASES OF CANADA'S WHEAT TO BE RESUMED

Export Company Will Discuss Matter With Government Officers

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—Representatives of the British wheat export company are expected in Ottawa shortly to discuss with the Government resumption of wheat purposes in Canada. Although there is no indication as yet when buying will be resumed every hope is expressed n official circls that the 1918 crop will be disposed of without any necessity on the part of the Government to implement its guarantee.

The exportable surplus of the 1918 crop is stated to amount to from 60,000,000 to 70,000,000 bushels.

Voice of The People

February 10th, 1919.

BEER BRUTALIZES.

Dear Sir,—Observation, covering a period of years, as well as the testimony of scientific men and others, leads all candid men to declare that beer is brutalizing.

Some one was insisting that beer did no harm—it could not. An army officer—a Colonel—overhearing the remark, replied, "You may be right, but I lived in the same apartment house once with a German who came home from church every Sunday bringing on his shoulder an 'eighth' keg of beer. He drank it till night, and then he always wound up by kicking his wife downstairs."

Another of the men suggested that the beer drinking habits of German people might account for atrocious tendencies among German soldiers. A gentleman in the group, intelligent, well-informed, and frank, said, 'You may not know that I have been a drinker myself, in an occasional, moderate way. A beer drinker. For a while I took a glass of beer when it was handy, or I was invited to do so. Just a glass of beer at one time, because I chose to, and had no scruples against it. But by-and-by I discovered that for a day or two after the one glass I felt differently. A kind of brutal feeling possessed me, at which I first wondered, but which I could not immediately throw off. Then I began to study over it, trying to think it out. After a number of experiences, making a fair test, there was but one conclusion—the beer had a brutalizing effect upon me. It made me want to do brutal things. I stopped it, entirely, and the brutal tendency stopped."

No other word fits the case. The brutality of the German army in France and Belgium has shocked the civilized people.

Yours to victory,
J. H. Hazelwood,
Department of Social Service.

Peterborough Feb. 11th, 1919.

Sir,—Rip Van Winkle has awakened at last, eh? After 40 years he has found a third party? When he awakens a little more, and somebody places a couple of matches between his eyelids, he will find a fourth. He will also find out it's the Independent Labour Party, and not the old frauds of 40 years ago, when he fell asleep.

They then called themselves an Independent Party and had nothing whatever to do with an Independent Labour Party. Why did he not explain the difference? Is it to construe to the people that the present Independent Labour Party are a similar party. If so, he is greatly mistaken. The working men are no fools; they know the difference in 1919.

The Independent Party in former days were simply absolute frauds—without Labour principles—invariably plutocrats or capitalists—looking for all they could grab from either Tory or Grit party. Give him a panacea: Take the cylinder out of his kidneys. The connecting-rod out of his brain. From the small of his back take the crank shaft. And send him to sleep once again.

But what about the Unionist Association of West Peterborough, who are backing up the Unionist principles and the governments at Ottawa and Toronto, and if necessary to nominate at a convention candidates for both houses. They have not included Mimico and Rockwood. Have they forgotten these? Apparently they have their eyes on the millionaires and have a solid plank before them, i.e., the Unionist government have 15 millionaires in the Cabinet. We have now 10,000 millionaires in Canada since the war began. Glorious Unionist record. Probably Sir Joseph Bacon will be Hon. President; he deserves it? Kindly add—also ran.

Thousands of working men are still running around selling their Victory bonds—or face starvation.

All these are under the Unionist government and principles, I presume.

Now these thousands of workingmen are compelled to pay 5 1-2 per cent. to the millionaires and capitalists. The Unionist government (safety first) have protected these millionaires who bought Victory bonds, so that their money cannot be taxed for years and years.

In England the government removed the tax on food and put it on wealth.

In Canada the Unionist government put the tax on food—took the tax of wealth. Oh, what a game it is.

Can the Unionist Association of West Peterborough, who are backing up the Unionist principles and the governments at Ottawa and Toronto, with these facts before them, expect to get followers to support them. I guess not. The working classes are too enlightened in these days.

Yours truly,
C. DUGGAN,
I.L.P.

"A Little Mother" Drew Large Audience

"A Little Mother," Lem B. Parker's new four-act play, was presented at the Grand last night to a capacity audience and proved a most interesting and human-like play. The large audience who saw the play did not fail to be impressed with it, and were delighted with the production.

The play itself dealt with true-to-life incidents. In it was unfolded the love of Mary Stevens, excellently portrayed by Cecilia Jacques, for Leroy Bryant (Earl Jamison), a soldier. Filled throughout with pathos, the play showed more than a play; it was an incident in almost every day life. Milo Stevens, as a gentleman of the old school, and Martha Stevens, a maid of the old school, were leading lights in the splendid play. These roles were portrayed by Oscar O'Shea and Esther Evans, both of whom are well-known in Kingston, and received a hearty welcome last night.

The aim of the play was to bring home to all the most important question of "war babies," and in doing so, the play was most successful. Mistaken interference, to which can be attributed many of the present day domestic tragedies, was never so forcibly demonstrated as in the play last night.

There was scarcely a weak character in the play. Charles Greiner, Constance Neilson, George Clark, Edward Simpson, Chas. Ohlmeyer, and Joseph Hanke, each took their parts well, and their acting was very good. The setting of the play was in a New England country seat, and was real appropriate.

Reorganization Plans Discussed

Officers of 57th Regiment Met Last Evening.

General plans for the reorganization of the 57th Regiment were discussed last night by the officers assembled in the officers' mess at the Armouries.

Present were: Lieut.-Colonel Joseph Mills, Capt. Gordon Hall, Capt. Maurice Park, Major T. Hounsell, Major Rev. Dadson, Major Vincent Eastwood, Lieut. C. B. Widdifield, Lieut. Percy Stock, Capt. Homer Myers, and Lieut. H. Strickland.

Largely Attended Meeting of the Local Life Underwriters

Interesting Addresses Were Given By Men Well Qualified to Deal With Problems Pertaining to the Work.

There was a large gathering of local Life Underwriters, as well as some from the surrounding country, at a banquet last night in the Empress Hotel, when Mr. P. A. Wintemute of Calgary, President of the Dominion Association, was present, accompanied by J. H. Castle-Graham, Secretary of the Dominion Association.

After the banquet, Mr. A. J. McClellan, the president of the Central Ontario Life Underwriters, introduced Mr. Castle-Graham, who in his able manner, spoke to the members about the programme as laid out for the coming year. It was indeed an elaborate one, providing as it did for legislation, advertising and education, features all concurred in by those present. It is generally felt that the people do not take the time nor have the interest to study what is most vital to themselves and the community, namely, life insurance.

Mr. Wintemute was then introduced. He is typical of the Westerner, full of vim, fire and as broad as the plains. He is a gifted, eloquent and finished speaker and during the 45 minutes he addressed the gathering, the intense was intense. He could have held his audience for twice that length of time.

Mr. Wintemute has been in the life insurance business for a good many years and feels that after all his experience he is only beginning to learn something of the value of life insurance as a protection to widows and orphans and the provision of old age.

Life Insurance.

Mr. Flatt, inspector of the Imperial Life, and Mr. Patterson, Supt. of the Excelsior Life, both spoke of the value of the life insurance agent to the community, encouraging as he does the very thing that our governments have been recommending for years—thrift and protection.

Among those present, all of whom took some part, were: Messrs. A. E. Dawson, Imperial Life; Thomas Mark, Manufacturers' Life; P. A. Ferguson, Dominion Life; Hughson Johnstone, Monarch Life; W. R. Widdess, Canada Life; W. Morrison, Imperial Life; W. Patterson, Great West Life; W. D. Lewis, London Life; G. C. Roy, Prudential Life; A. G. Roberts, Metropolitan Life; N. Ireland, Sun Life; T. W. Robinson, Canada Life; J. I. Allen, Prudential Life; James Middleton, Crown Life; M. Ketcheson, Manufacturers Life, and others.

Scores in the DeLaval League

Creamery Factory Won Two Out of Three Games.

The Creamery Factory and the Office met in a League match at the Water Street Alleys on Saturday, Feb. 8th, the Creamery Factory taking two out of the three games. The scores were very closely contested, and plenty of excitement prevailed. Scores were as follows:

| | 806 | 742 | 755 | 2303 |

The high single score of 209 is still held by W. Fitzgerald, while W. Byers captured the high three score rolling the magnificent score of 579.

Harold Rolph Knocked Out

Canadian Took the Count in the Eighth Round.

United Press:

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Eddie McGoorty, of Oshkosh, Wis., knocked out Harold Rolph, of Canada, in the eighth round of a scheduled twenty round bout before the National Sporting Club here last night.

CHURCH HOCKEY LEAGUE PRACTICE.

The players in the George street Church Hockey League are asked to turn out for practice on Thursday between seven and eight o'clock in preparation for the big game to be played on Friday evening with Knox Church. If George street wins this game they will be the champions, and if they lose the league finish will be tied up and another game will have to be played. A large crowd is expected to turn out and see the two undefeated teams meet.

EAST LAWN BOWLERS WIN FROM THE REX.

Last night at the Water street alleys in B League the East Lawn defeated the Rex and took 3rd place in the B. League for the East Lawn. McLean was high with 581; Pratt second, with 555; for the Rex Scheffel was high with 497.

Do Not Anticipate Lower Prices For Bread in Peterboro

Asked to-day whether the drop in the price of bread in Toronto would be followed by a similar drop in Peterborough, several of the bakers said that they do not anticipate anything of the kind.

Mr. Stock said that the drop is not due to any decrease in the cost of production of bread, but rather to a war of extermination which is going on among the bakers in Toronto. One large company has recently extended its business and several of the other companies which have lost trade because of this, are organized to undersell the company. In conducting this campaign one firm is losing at the rate of $3,000 a week.

There is nothing to warrant the drop, he said, and with labour conditions a raise of price had been anticipated. In Peterborough prices will not come down until the price of flour comes down unless sentiment forces the baker to lower the price. In further conversation with Toronto bakers last night he learnt that bread prices have gone down to 13 tickets for $1.00.

Lower Wages.

Mr. Hooper said that he doesn't expect any lower prices as bread is now sold as low as possible. Wages are higher to-day than ever before, and flour has not dropped. He agreed that the lowering of prices in Toronto is due to merchants endeavouring to undersell each other. If prices are cut the men's wages will necessarily be lowered, he said.

GENERAL STRIKE WILL END TO-DAY

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 11.—Seattle's general strike, the first of its kind ever attempted in the United States, ended officially at noon to-day.

Decision to call off the strike was reached at 1 o'clock yesterday by the General Strike Committee, composed of delegates from the 130 "locals" on strike, after a four-hour session.

ONLY ONE NAME IN THE LIST.

Sergeant W. K. Pinney is the only new name appearing in the list of soldiers who have reached Canada within the past few days.

CHURCH LEAGUE HOCKEY RESULTS

Three hockey games in the Junior Church Hockey League were played last night on Brock street rink. The first game was staged between St. Paul's and Murray street. The Presbyterians romped away with the game with a score of 9-4. From 8 o'clock until 9.30 Knox church played with the All Saints' six and won easily with a score of 8-1. George street Methodist team tried it out with the boys from Trinity church and won with a score of 19-3.

"FOX" PROGRAMME ROYAL TO-NIGHT

One of the two big features to be shown today is the great Fox production, starring Jewel Carman in "THE BRIDE OF FEAR," in five acts. It is a story of true womanhood with a past. Another high-class feature is a Fox production introducing Tom Mix in "FAME AND FORTUNE," a peppery western story of warm hearts and cold lead, in five parts. To-Night will be the LAST CHANCE TO SEE THIS GREAT FOX SHOW. In addition to this we are showing a one reel MUTT AND JEFF Comedy. Tonight's programme is unusually good. Do not fail to miss it. Admission sixteen cents to all.

Splendid Response to the Local Club's Effort to Provide a Big District Assemblage for Midland Curlers—37 Rinks From Outside Clubs.

216 CURLERS PARTICIPATE

Fifty-four rinks, comprising some of the best curlers in midland Ontario, registered this morning for the Peterborough bonspiel, and after brief preliminary ceremonies, the games were started at ten o'clock in the first round of the Morrow cup. Enthusiasm pervaded the crowded assembly room at the Charlotte street rink, after the first draw was made after the visitors and home players had exchanged greetings. Mr. W. G. Morrow, chairman of the Bonspiel committee, welcomed the curlers on behalf of the Club and expressed the hope that they would enjoy their visit to Peterborough, both on and off the ice. Secretary Harry Poole explained the various competitions, stating that every rink was assured of at least three or four games.

The Morrow and Matthews-Blackwell trophies are the objectives of the first rounds. The rinks were drawn first for the Morrow cup, and a second and entirely separate draw was made for the Matthews-Blackwell trophy. When a rink loses in the first it plays its game in the second. The winning rinks, however, proceed through each competition, and it was pointed out that it is possible for one rink to win both these prizes. Rinks that are defeated before reaching the "sixteens" in these games, qualify for a consolation contest for the Peterborough Club's cup. It is hoped that to-day's play will advance to the "sixteens" round.

The R. M. Waddell Trophy.

Skips Flavelle of Lindsay, Clifford of Oshawa, and Field of Cobourg, were appointed by the visitors to designate the rinks that shall play twelve rinks from the Peterborough club in the preliminaries of the Waddell trophy. They reported the following selection of rinks: Bottum of Bobcaygeon, May of Belleville, Besse of Claremont, Smith of Campbellford, Delaney of Cobourg, J. J. Moore of Keene, Redpath of Lakefield, O'Connor of Lindsay, Clifford of Oshawa, Harvey of Orillia, McCullough of Port Hope, and Sanders of Stouffville.

The intentions of the Bonspiel committee are to play those game tomorrow morning.

A Great Gathering.

The Bonspiel committee and the officers and members of the local club were delighted by the attendance at this bonspiel. In respect to the entries it excels all the bonspiels of the past. Thirty-seven rinks were from out of town. Oshawa sent five rinks and Lindsay four, including some of their best skips, the veteran J. D. Flavelle for example. The ice at Charlotte street was in splendid condition and the Brock street sheet was entirely satisfactory, although a trifle rough in spots. However, there were no complaints, and considering the fact that it was built up only yesterday for curling. Manager Meharry perhaps exceeded the expectations of the committee.

Probably the closest game of the morning was played on Brock street, between George Giroux and "Pete" Lang. Both rinks were strong and were tied coming home, but Lang won out by a single shot. Percy Fitzgerald and Bill Delaney of Cobourg, won their games on the Brock street ice by narrow margins.

The McIntosh ice was perfect and if the weather remains fairly cold the success of the bonspiel is assured, even to the roslest hopes of the committee.

The Clubs Represented.

Bobcaygeon, 2; Belleville, 1; Claremont, 1; Campbellford, 2; Cobourg, 3 Fenelon Falls 2; Gravenhurst, 1 Hastings, 2; Keene, 3; Locust Hill 1; Lakefield, 3; Lindsay, 4; Markham 1; Millbrook, 2; Norwood, 1; Oshawa 5; Orillia, 1; Port Hope, 1; Stouffville 1.

Prizes on Exhibition.

The four silver trophies, together with the prizes for the various competitions, are on exhibition in McDermid & Jury's window at the corner of Charlotte and George streets. The display represents the choicest products of the silverware manufacturers, and incidentally the collection in its quality and extensiveness, may be regarded as a symbol of the sporting spirit of the Peterborough Club.

The Matthews-Blackwell Games.

The feature of this afternoon's play in the preliminaries for the Matthews-Blackwell trophy was J. C. Strickland's victory over J. D. Flavelle of Lindsay. History of Peterborough's bonspiels repeated itself in this game, for at the last bonspiel, held several years ago, the Lakefield skip was also drawn against the Nestor of the game and likewise won out from the "old man," as his rink refers to him. When they were again taken from the tin box in the draw this morning, Mr. Flavelle said, "I remember him. We were drawn at the last bonspiel, and he beat us." Perhaps he had a "hunch" that Strickland would duplicate the win. A pleasing note in Mr. Flavelle's game is his commendation of surpassing plays made by opponents.

The Waddell Cup Games.

Peterborough's rinks for the Waddell trophy preliminary were named this afternoon as follows: Skips — McDermid, J. E. A. Fitzgerald, Morrow, Oke, Giroux, Brightman, Davidson, Taylor, Hicks, Lang and Percy Fitzgerald.

They will meet the twelve rinks chosen by the visitors to-morrow morning. If Peterborough's rinks run up a total exceeding that of the visitors, then, according to the rules for this trophy, only local rinks may continue the round for its possession. But if the visitors run up the bigger aggregate score, then only visiting rinks may compete for the cup. A special individual draw will be made for the visitors or the local competing rinks, as soon as the preliminary games have been decided tomorrow morning; and this draw will be continued in conjunction with the other competitions that are being pushed along to their respective finals.

Bonspiel Notes.

A five and a two on the last two ends gave Jack Fitzgerald a win over Stanton of Fenelon Falls.

Steele, of Millbrook, defeated Gilbert Howson of Keene, this afternoon by one shot, with three in the last end.

Bobcaygeon Has Lead of 7 Shots

Won First Half of Annual Contest For Fitzgerald-Bottum Cup.

The Bobcaygeon rinks set up a lead of seven shots last night in the first half of the annual home and home games with Peterboro for the Fitzgerald-Bottum Cup. The visiting skips, A. E. Bottum and Dick Nicholls, who are remaining for the Bonspiel, set a warm pace for Dave Eason and W. H. Bradburn, but Bottum was overhauled, while Nicholls maintained his lead. The local rinks were two of those that have played in the scheduled games. There was no "packing" for the purpose of winning but the selection for this event was evidently made with a view of distributing the honors and experience. Both rinks gave a good account of themselves. The rinks were as follows:

| Bobcaygeon | Peterboro |
|---|---|
| L. G. Steele | F. Bardelt |
| T. Cosh | A Davidson |
| D. Hetherington | A. Macnab |

Assuring Health To Be After War Medical System

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In the reconstruction period the industrial physician will have an important place, according to the working conditions service of the Department of Labour, which is preparing to supply a growing demand for specially trained men.

The industrial physician has supplanted the contract physician of the past, and instead of being concerned with illness, his work is to assure health. In place of counting the number of cases demanding professional attention, he will work for records that show the lowest possible number of disease victims. His work is mainly preventive.

Only within recent years have physicians devoted special attention to the study of occupational diseases. Under the old system physicians employed by factories were not called in until there was an accident or a case of serious illness, but gradually the possibilities of preventive measures were demonstrated, and it was proved that the medical men, who had been formerly a source of expense to the big plants, could become a means of gain. Gradually it was made plain that the safeguarding of health was not only humane, but an economic necessity.

The war was the means of demonstrating how important the work of industrial physicians had become. The army took numbers of them, and at the time when many lines of industry were expanding under the pressure of urgent necessity a serious shortage occurred. The need of special tarining to supply physicians for the constantly widening field of work was then recognized by the Department of Labour, which has established as part of its Working Conditions Service a Division of Industrial Health and Hygiene.

This division realised that its first work was to stimulate facilities for the education of industrial physicians, and therefore organized a section on personnel and education for the purpose of encouraging colleges to put into their courses special training for this line of work. The colleges are to be encouraged also to make affiliations with the dispensaries of industrial plants and hospitals will be asked to provide for nurses' special courses in industrial medicine.

At first thought the need of special preparation for service in shops and factories is not apparent, but the industrial physician must be a good executive, a psychologist, and an economist who not only realizes the importance of prompt repair of injuries and quick return of employees to work afterwards, but who has power to inspire in the workers zeal in safeguarding the health. He must be trained to recognize relations between sickness and occupational hazards of industrial conditions.

Statistics prove that loss of time among workers, even with present-day factory conditions, means an enormous waste for the individual employed, and a tremendous aggregate cost for the employer. The province of the industrial physician is to stop this great loss, and, while conserving the productive power of the worker, to build up the standard of national health, which is the foundation of national prosperity.

FORD COMPANY TO PAY $19,000,000 IN SPECIAL DIVIDEND

Supreme Court of Michigan Upholds Minority Stockholders.

LANSING, MICH., Feb. 11. — The State Supreme Court has sustained a decision of the Circuit Court of Wayne County (Detroit in the case of John F. and Horace E. Dodge, minority stockholders of the Ford Motor Company, versus the Ford Company, that the defendant company must pay a special dividend of $19,275,385, as demanded by the plaintiffs. In view of the large surplus profits in the company's treasury, the Supreme Court held that the dividend should have been declared for the minority stockholders.

The plaintiffs contend the dividend should be paid instead of being used as proposed by Henry Ford, in building the Ford smelting plant at River Rouge, near Detroit.

GEORGE STREET SUNDAY SCHOOL.

At last Sunday's session of the Sunday School at George Street Methodist Church, a very large attendance was made. There were five hundred and fifty-two present, being the largest attendance in five years, with the exception of Rally Days. Special note might be made of the fact that the increase in attendance at the Sunday School is due to the increasing number of young men and women that attend the school. There are several classes for young men and young women, and they are expanding every week.

Last Sunday was also a record for the orchestra of the Sunday School, there being thirty members in it. Miss Rathbone rendered a very acceptable solo.

The deposits in the King's bank, that is, for missionary, amounted to over ten dollars. Every teacher was present except one, who had arranged for another to take his place.

ACTIVE AS BOY AND 72 YEARS OLD

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. —Thomas A. Edison stretched an arm out in front of him at right angles to his body yesterday and kicked with each foot in turn until his toes touched his fingertips. "Now I dare anyone to say I am getting old," said the inventor, who will be seventy-two years old to-day, to men who had assembled here from all parts of the country to congratulate him on attaining another anniversary. Mr. Edison said he never felt in better physical condition before. To-day he will be on his way to Florida for a six weeks' rest from his war activities on behalf of the Government. These have not been completed, he said.

Says Constantinople Should Be Made a Small Republic

F. Demetrius Kalopothakis Tells Women That Empire Must Be Dismembered.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Making Constantinople a free city and the dismemberment of Turkey are the keys to the solution of the Turkish problem, said F. Remetrius Kalopothakis of the staff of the American Legation at Athens, in an address here on the Balkan situation before the Women's National Committee of the American Defense Society. Mr. Kalopothakis is on leave from his duties in Greece for his health. He said it was easy to urge the dismemberment of Turkey, but it presented great difficulties. He pointed out that, in spite of the crimes of Turkey, she must be treated justly if a lasting peace were desired.

"Reform is out of the question," he continued. "You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear or a civilized government of uncivilized people. There is not a man in Turkey who has the confidence of the people sufficiently to form a Cabinet. The Turkish intellectuals have been the worst of the lot, for they have proved by their actions more sinister and machiavellian than the old Turks. Under the Young Turks massacres were systematized to the last degree."

He said that every Turkish province has a Greek minority, and that to apply self-determination to each province separately would mean a return to the old Turkish misrule of the minority peoples of Turkey.

Make It Separate.

"Asia Minor has 10,000,000 people, of whom $2,000,000 are Greeks," he continued. "The only way to do justice to the Greeks is the proportionate dismemberment of Asia Minor. If the proportion of Greeks to Turks is 2 to 7, give the Greeks two-ninths of the land and the Turks seven-ninths. But cut it off. Make it separate, so that each nation will have its due share.

"How shall we divide Asia Minor? Constantinople is too important to let one nation have it. It ought to be made a small free State, governed by its citizens under a republican form of government, supervised by the powers. Its hinterland might be composed of the four surrounding provinces, including a population altogether of a million and a half. Under the powers, Constantinople would have a great future. Greece claims Thrace, but if it is thought that Constantinople is too small for a free State Greece is wiling to stand back from Thrace in order to allow Constantinople to have it."

The claims of Greece at the peace table embrace northern Epirus, the Dodecanese, Thrace and parts of Asia Minor, according to Mr. Kalopothakis. Italy, he said, has proclaimed of its own accord a protectorate over Albania, desiring to make the Adriatic an Italian lake. He asserted that the population of northern Epirus is Greek in sympathy and desire and not Italian. The claims of Italy in Epirus he called futile and maintained that Italy had deported to an island off Sicily 200 of the most prominent men of Epirus, and had released them but recently on the urgent remonstrance of the Greeks.

"The people on the twelve islands of the Dodecanese have always been Greek. They have always managed their own affairs, although paying a small tribute to the Turks. But no Turkish troops were even sent to the islands. In her war against Turkey in 1312 Italy seized the islands. The population welcomed the Italians as fellow Christians, but it soon became evident that Italy was interested in remaining there."

Italian Persecution.

As a result of the Italian persecution of the population of 123,000 in the islands, 112,000 of whom were Greeks, he said, the Greek population has dwindled to 45,000. Of the refugees, 5,000 are living on the dole of the Greek Government, said Mr. Kalopothakis, while many moved to the United States and 10,000 died from lack of food. "These deaths were caused by the absolute refusal of Italy to allow the rich Dudecanesions in France and Egypt to send remittance and food to their relatives, so that all communication with the outside world was cut off."

Mr. Kalopothakis predicted that if Italy defeated the just claims of the Greeks and the Jugoslavs she would be sowing a plentiful harvest of hatred to be reaped in the future. "If the Balkan league is formed after peace is signed, it will mean something to Italy to be opposed by a confederacy of from 30,000,000 to 40,000,000," said the speaker. "Italy will then be confronted by a serious enemy. I do not think war will come, but there may be an enonomic boycott which will prove unpleasant to Italy."

Regarding Greek claims in Thrace, Mr. Kalopothakis announced that Premier Venizelos was prepared to place all Greek ports at the disposal of the other Balkan States whenever they required them. This was in answer to the accusation of the Bulgarians that the Greeks desired to take away from them that Thracian outlet to the Mediterranean.

Liberty of Transit to Enemy Country is Britain's Proposal

Principle is Opposed by French and Greek Envoys, However—Commissions Named to Study Question—Ports, Waterways and Railways Problems to Be Dealt With.

PARIS, Feb. 12. — The commission on ports, waterways and railways of the peace conference met here with Dr. Silvio Crespi of Italy, in the chair. England supported by America, proposed the proclamation of the principle of complete liberty of transit to every country on equal conditions to all. This proposition was opposed by Albert Claveille, for France, and Lambos A. Coromilas, for Greece, who pointed out that England and America occupied special situations that made the question of commercial land transit insignificant for them.

The commission appointed two sub-commissions, one to study the question of the control of ports, waterways and railways, and the other the question of liberty of transit. The first commission has approved of the principle that no country may charge duties on goods passing through its ports or over its railways or waterways otehr than the freight rates paid on goods destined for the country itself. Neither may they levy on such goods for customs or local taxes.

The Belgian delegates protested against allowing freight destined for German ports to pass through their territory exempt of duty, thus helping the prosparity of Germany. They claimed also that such measures should be taken as would make the navigation of the Scheldt river free for Belgium. The Czecho-Slovaks and Poles insisted on having ports of their own, the former on the Adriatic and the latter on the Baltic. M. Coromilas proposed to give them respectively at Triest and Danzig the same privileges that Greece granted to Serbia at Saloniki, where Serbia has part of the port and enjoys territorial rights. The Czecho-Slovaks and the Poles consider this proposition an insufficient guarantee, and definition was proposed. The commission agreed that the navigation of the Rhine and the Danube should be free to all countries bordering on them, or through which those rivers pass. The Rhine passes or borders Switzerland, Germany, Holland and France; the Danube holds the same relations to Germany, Austria, Bohemia, Hungary, Serbia, Bulgaria and Roumania.

"RED MICHAEL" IN WAR PAINT

Dr. Clark Considers Himself Free to Criticize Any Measure in House

CALGARY, Feb. 11.—"Now that the war is over, the Union Government, like its predecessors, will have to stand or fall on the virtue of the measures of its policy. It has no reserve fund of patriotism to depend upon, and cannot expect to consider itself exempt from any merited criticism." Thus spoke Dr. Michael Clark, M.P., in an interview here last evening.

Dr. Clark is spending a day in Calgary while on his way to Ottawa to attend the opening session of the House. He is going a little early, he explained, in order to attend to some business before the session begins.

HORSE RACING TO BE REVIVED THIS SPRING

Government Ban Will Expire Soon Unless Further Action Ensues.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—It is believed here that the sport of kings will be resumed during the coming season. The race tracks of the Dominion have been in complete disuse ever since the Government on June 7, 1917 put the ban on race track betting and deprived the sport of its main charm. This action was taken for the purpose of conserving the financial resources of the Dominion for war purposes and the ban was to remain in for six months after the cessation of hostilities. It will therefore be lifted, if further action is not taken, about the middle of May, which is about the normal time of the spring racing.

A Study in Etymology

Only the other day a newspaper was expressing bewilderment over the ominous word that came out of Russia, "Bolshevism". "By the way," it remarked, "what's the etymology of 'Bolshevism'? A Bolshevik might practice Bolshevikism; so might the Bolsheviki, but how do we get rir of the 'k' in understanding to anglicise the word?"

From Boston, the fountain-head of accurate information, promptly came a learned exposition of this etymological problem. A more elaborate explanation would be superfluity, but we have to express some surprise that any explanation whatever is necessary after a year or more of practically daily mention of the subject in newspapers all over the world and all the enlightening comment that has been published.

Of all the new words made familiar by the developments of the war this is undoubtedly by far the best advertised, and yet it has been a stumbling block by thousands. The newspapers themselves have tripped over it about as frequently as the readers. Of the several derivatives of "bolshe" the one that has come easily and with prevalent accuracy has been "Bolsheviki." There may have been some doubt occasionally as to whether the word was singular or plural, but in general it has been correctly used. On the "ism" this is professed by the Bolsheviki, however, there has been a great amount of floundering. We should say from a casual observation of many papers during the past year that "Bolshevikism" has appeared in print more frequently than "Bolshevism."

It is strange error to survive so persistently, because there has first and last been a great amount of explaining of the matter. The form "iki" is the plural of "ik", which is the Russian termination corresponding to the English "ist." Our learned Boston friend says that the "v" is inserted for the sake of euphony, which is rather interesting because we had always thought it was merely a Rupssian habit. It has seemed as if the Russians and some of the other races in Europe, in constructing a new word deliberately introduced extra consonants just to make things more difficult. But we are glad to know that there is a logical reason for that "v". Anyway, it makes the word easier to pronounce.

A Bolshevik, if we want to anglicise the word, is a Bolshevist, and it is a matter of simple reasoning that the ism practiced by a Bolshevist is "Bolshevism," just as an anarchist is a believer in the doctrines of anarchism. If there is the slightest excuse for saying that a Bolshevik practices "Bolshevikism," then etymological analogy would compel us to refer to the doctrine of anarchists as "anarchitism."—Providence Journal.

GRAIN MARKET

It appeared to be a well founded report yesterday that exporters were getting into the market for corn and oats. Decreasing stocks, and continued light receipts, contributed to the strengthening of the cash corn markets, oats going up in strength. The option markets proved responsive to the actual bullish conditions the result being sharp advances all round, the market closing strong at 2c. to 3c. up. Local cash quotations are higher on Manitoba oats and barley. Ontario coarse grains are steady.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 northern, $2.24 1-2; No. 2 northern, $2.20 1-2; No. 3 northern, $2.17; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards— Receipts were 50 cars, with 913 cattle, 40 calves, 789 hogs, and 396 sheep and lambs.

With the usual lighter run for the Tuesday market business was not quite as active as Monday, but prices were practically unchanged. The demand continues strongest for the best quality offerings, common quality stuff inclined to dragg and slow demand.

Lambs are good, and strong for choice quality, but the barnyard culls are not so much in demand.

WAITRESSES ATTEND MEETING OF TRADES AND LABOUR COUNCIL

Montreal Meeting Welcomes Presence of Female Delegates.

MONTREAL, Feb. 11.—Traditions were upset at the meeting of the trades and labour council when among the delegates were two women representing the waitresses' union. Their presence was welcomed by President Foster who said that it was the first time in the history of the Montreal council, as far as he was aware, that women had attended as delegates.

BLOOD-THIRSTY ONES ARE THOSE WHO WANT TO PAY LOW PRICES.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Tex Rickard, prince of promoters, has an answer for those of his critics who criticise him for offering his purses and charging top prices for short bouts.

Rickard declares that it was his experience when he staged the Willard-Moran affair that the kind of man who was able to pay a high price for his seat did not worry about the shortness of the bout. The demand for a finish bout invariably came from those who were unable to pay more than street car fare to see the scrap.

COULD NOT SLEEP

When the system receives a shock of any kind, the heart becomes weakened, the nerves unstrung, the appetite poor, faint and weak feelings come over you, you can't sleep at night, and you wonder if life is worth living.

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as the best remedy to tone up the entire system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. J. J. Bunyan, Pilot Butte, Sask., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills after having suffered from a terrible shock to my whole system. I was so utterly weak, and nervous I could not sleep at night, and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling all over.

I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on the second box of your Heart and Nerve Pills, I began to feel that they were doing me good, so I kept on until I had used six boxes, when I felt like a different person.

I am never without them in the house, and highly recommend them to all who suffer with their heart."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BY JANE PHELPS

Ruth Asks Her Aunt to Visit Her.

CHAPTER CXVII

This was the only thing of which Ruth was capable of thinking. He had gone away, perhaps to be killed. She might never see him again, and—she had not told him the wonderful news.

Suddenly she recalled what she had overheard on the telephone. He had been talking to someone—persumably a woman, as she had heard a woman's voice. She wondered if it were Mollie King. All at once her jealousy, everything she had held against Brian, seemed of little moment. She must reach him and tell him—she had no right to let him go unless she did so.

She hunted up Mollie's number in the telephone and called her. It took her some time to get an answer, and when she did, she thought Mollie's voice sounded as if she were crying. A sort of nausea came over her as she thought of what she should say; to think that she could call her husband at another woman's home to tell him such a thing. The reaction was too much for her, and she quickly hung up the receiver, then sank upon the floor in an agony of spirit, and sobbed out her misery, her love and her longing until Rachel, hearing, came and put her to bed.

The next morning the postman brought her a hastily scribbled note from Brian:

"Don't fret, Ruth. Everything will come out right. I am just going aboard, and will give this to someone to mail. I shall love you every minute, and shall write you as often as I can. Brian."

Ruth read and reread the short note, finding comfort in spite of its briefness. Then as she idly turned the envelope over she saw it had been mailed at one of the terminal stations over two hours after Brian had left her.

Had the man carried it around in his pocket, or had it been posted as soon as Brian gave it to him? How she wished she knew. But now she never would know. She'd probably die, and then Brian would be free, she thought, with an hysterical burst of self pity.

But she must not give way to her feelings. She must work and save, against the time when she would be idle. So she dried her eyes and was at the shop at the usual time.

Mr. Mandel remarked upon her paleness. She told him that she had not slept, that Brian had gone very late the night before—gone overseas. She did not understand the look which swept over his face; it seemed as if he were glad of something—but it was gone so quickly, and in its place came the sympathetic expression she knew so well.

"We must not let you be lonely, now that he is gone," Mandel said, after a moment. "He is very fortunate to be young enough to fight."

"Yes—he thought so."

That night Ruth wrote her aunt a long letter. She told of Brian's going, also she told her the secret she had withheld from him. Then she said:

"When you can arrange your affairs for an absence, won't you come and stay several weeks, or months if you will with me? I am very lonely. I shall be more so. Please come, Aunt Louisa. I need you more than anyone else in the world needs you. I shall look anxiously for a letter telling me you will come—and when."

After she had posted this letter Ruth felt better. There was comfort in the thought that there was someone who cared; someone who would be interested in her. And there was—Arthur Mandel. She recalled the sympathy expressed in his face when she had told him she was to be alone now. She must take good care of her health, not fret any more than she could avoid, so that she would be able to return to work as soon as possible after her baby came—the child of whom Brian knew nothing, and which, because of the sound of Mollie King's voice, she had not told him.

But unable longer to restrain herself, because of her longing for understanding, she told Rachel. The old nurse petted and fussed over her to her heart's content. She begged her to give up her position and remain at home; but Ruth laughed at her, and told her that she should go mad at home with nothing to do but think of Brian so far away.

The submarine menace was growing hourly, and she had that fear to add to her sorrow. Longingly she scanned the papers for news. Then one morning she received the card saying they had arrived safely "Somewhere at a French port."

That night Ruth knelt down and thanked God for his safety, and prayed that he might come back to her. To-morrow—Ruth Goes out With Her Employer.

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves about $5.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (30 cents worth) in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 18 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Canadian women are right behind the Canadian troops in the trenches. Women nurses are now installed in hospitals 8 miles in the rear of the actual fighting line.

Many of our Canadian women are unable to take up the duties of nursing at the front, but they should know how to take care of their own at home, and for this purpose no better book was ever printed than the Medical Adviser—a book containing 1,008 pages, and bound in cloth, with chapters on First Aid, Bandaging and care of Fractures, Taking care of the Sick, Physiology, Hygiene, Mother and Babe, which can be had at most drug stores, or send 50 cents to Dr. Pierce, Courtwright St., Bridgeburg, Ont.

Woodstock, Ont.—"For womanly ailments I have found Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to be excellent. It strengthened and built me up several years ago when I was suffering with a chronic trouble and it also proved to be a splendid tonic during expectancy. I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all sufferers from woman's weaknesses."—Mrs. Annie Strickler, 21 Arthur St.

Prince Feisal Advocates Arabia for the Arabs.

PARIS, Feb. 11. — The Supreme Council to-day heard the claim of King Degjaz of Arabia, speaking through his son, Prince Feisal. The prince maintained that Arabia, including Syria and Mesopotamia, had a non-Arabic population of less than one per cent., and that the principles of nationality enunciated by President Wilson, should leave the Arabs to govern Arabia, with possibly some mandatory to develop intercourse with the outside world.

The prince is said to have advocated Great Britain as the mandatory for Arabia. This has aroused some sharp criticism from the French newspapers, owng to the French interests in Syria.

GIRLS! HAVE WAVY, THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

The vivid and beautiful markings of the butterfly's wings are often a puzzle to those who would find in the coloring of animals a means to low visibility. The butterfly, thanks to his gorgeous splendor, is a most conspicuous object, especially from above, whance chiefly danger would come in the way of insect-eating birds.

The butterfly's illuminated wings seem to be designed for the attraction of mates. When flying the butterfly takes a peculiarly zigzag path. A butterfly in flight is a difficult object to strike, notwithstanding its slow rate of progress.

When the butterfly is at its rest, it folds its wings over its back, so that only the drab, protectively colored lower surface is visible. In this posture the insect is of very low prominence from any angle.

The moth, unlike the butterfly, flies at night. Obviously, bright coloring would be to no purpose in attracting mates. The moth is garbed in dull tints which render it inconspicuous during the day, its period of rest. There is no need for hiding the upper surface of its wings; so a convenient means to distinguish moths from butterflies is the fact that the latter, when at rest, fold their wings above their backs, while the former spread their wings out flat.—Tit-Bits.

Is Your Blood Starving For Want of Iron?

Iron in Red-Blood Food—Wasted Iron Helps Put Roses Into the Cheeks of Women and Strength and Energy Into the Veins of Men.

If you were to go without eating until you become weak, thin and emaciated, you could not do a more serious harm to yourself than when you let your blood literally starve for want of iron—iron that gives it strength and power to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. Without plenty of iron in the blood, no matter how much or what you eat, your food simply passes through you without doing you any good—you don't get the strength out of it and instead of being filled with youthful strength and energy you are weak, nervous and all run-down. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can walk or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks, then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, rundown people who were ailing all the while have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking Iron in the proper form. But don't take the old kinds of iron crudely to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like Nuxated Iron if you expect it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. You can procure Nuxated Iron from any druggist on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or your money will be refunded.

Canned Salmon.

Prices to be paid for Canadian canned salmon commandeered for the British Government have been agreed upon as a result of negotiations which have been in progress in Ottawa. For the sockeye salmon Great Britain will pay $16 a case, the price asked. On 7,500 cases of what are known to the trade as "pinks," a reduction of 50 cents a case was allowed. The salmon was commandeered several months ago. The pack amounted to some 1,600,000 cases, of which the British Government is taking 7½ per cent., or all of the sockeye variety. Sockeye salmon will thus be a rarity on Canadian tables during the coming year.

A Delight.

I've talked with some of the infantry coming down here and they have wonderful tales to tell. The French are wildly enthusiastic over the Americans—one French regiment passed me going into action waving the American flag.

Some time when I have time I'll sit down and analyze the sensations; they're indelible—it's a sort of high excitement that makes anything possible. It's taken at least three hits to stop any of our men. Generally they keep on going, nevertheless, until they can't go any farther—then shoot from where they are until they're picked off or the advance goes too far ahead, and the litter bearers get them and bring them in.—From Letter of an American Artillery Lieutenant, printed in Collier's Weekly.

DRUMS AND DRUMMERS.

Moors Brought "Musical" Instrument to Europe.

It is said the drum was introduced by the Moors into Europe from the East after the Crusades, but under various forms it was certainly known to the Greeks and Romans for the tympanum is frequently alluded to in the classics which probably included the tambourine and kettle drum.

The common or side drum, the bass or Turkish drum, and the kettle drum.

The first is usually composed of a cylinder of wood or metal. Each end is covered with vellum or parchment, the tension being regulated by strings. It is worn at the side of the performer who beats the upper end called the "batter head" with sticks, the under or "snare head," contains a set of cat gut strings called "snares" which add to the sharp crisp tone of the instrument.

The bass drum is a large instrument of the same kind, the cylinder is of oak, while it is beaten on both ends with drum sticks that are furnished with leather pads. It is considered by the military band to be one of its most useful instruments, though it is as usefully employed by the modern orchestra, while many recent composers have availed themselves of it in their compositions.

The most important form of drum is, however, the kettle drum in all orchestral as distinct from military music. This instrument is hemispherical in shape, its bason is made of brass or copper, the cover being of vellum attached to an iron ring, the whole is placed on an iron tripod. It is tuned by screws, though its limits are, of course, narrow. Kettle drums are always used in pairs, one being tuned to the key note, the other a fourth below.

These three drums are essential in every orchestra, while for any special music, the gong, tom tom, or some other similar instrument is used.

It takes years of practice, writes H. M. Kinzett in the Montreal Star, to acquire the suppleness of wrist required by the side drummer if he wishes to excel, so it is necessary to commence the study early or the labor will be in vain.

Wright on Airplane Future.

The restricted use of airplanes at the present time is due not to the danger of traveling in the air, but to the backwardness of cities in not providing landing places, in the opinion of Orville Wright.

A statement issued by Mr. Wright is the first gun of a campaign started by inventors and designers of aircraft to boom airplanes for transportation work, including the carrying of passengers and mail, for sport and for national defence.

In Europe, and particularly that part near the front, airplanes are as common as automobiles were a few years ago.

Mr. Wright's statement is as follows: "It is most difficult to foretell all of the future of aviation. No doubt many uses will develop which are now entirely unforeseen. The most immediate and practical uses will be for national defence, for sport, for transportation of mail and light merchandise and for passenger service supplementing special trains.

"A commercial demand will be quickly created when safe landing places for the present high-speed machines are provided at frequent intervals, or when a type of machine is developed which can safely land on any ordinary ground.

"I believe the use of the airplane for sport and commercial uses up to this time has been entirely due to the lack of facilities for safe landing at any and all times.

"Many of the present military machines can be utilized in mail service between cities where the interlying territory provides frequent landing places. I believe the peace-time use of the airplane will be in proportion to the safety provided."

Broom Corn Scarce.

The scarcity of broom corn has led to the use of a substitute. In southern California the yucca, or Spanish bayonet, as it is familiarly called, thrives. This has been successfully used in manufacturing brooms. Another species of yucca is good for surgeon splints, and now experiments are under way to see if it may not be utilized in the making of artificial limbs.

THOUGHT IT WAS A BOIL

Doctor Said Abscess.

Mr. Gleason R. Young, Kingscroft, N.B., under date of Feb. 9th, 1918, writes us as follows: "About five months ago, a lump came on my jawbone. I thought it was a boil, and after it had been there quite a while it began to get larger. I went to a doctor and he said it was an abscess, and lanced it. He gave me a wash for it, so I went by his directions until it healed up, but it commenced coming again, and in about three weeks it broke itself. I thought it would get better, but it didn't. A neighbour advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, so I sent and got a bottle, and by the time it was all gone, the abscess had disappeared, and now it is all better."

Burdock Blood Bitters will heal and dry up sores, ulcers, and abscesses, no matter how large or of how long standing. If you have never applied it to a cut, wound, sore or ulcer, just try it and see what soothing, healing, cleansing power it possesses. It takes out itching, stinging and burning, and promotes the growth of healthy flesh. So, too, when taken internally, by its power of eliminating all impurities from the blood and making that vital fluid rich, red and pure, it cuts off the origin and source of the foul matter that goes to make boils, pimples, sores, ulcers, abscesses and the like, and at the same time the purified and enriched blood creates healthy tissue where there was formerly, perhaps, a sore full of pus.

Some 360 ships were constructed in Canada for Canadian registry during the period of the war to the end of November. Of the number 132 were sailing vessels aggregating 44,135 gross tons and 180 were steamships totalling 69,612 tons. In addition, 22 ships were built through the Imperial Munitions Board for the British Government. Of the number there were 15 each of 1,440 net tons and [illegible] net tons.

RICHARD CROKER RECOVERING FROM SERIOUS ILLNESS.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 11. — Following a serious illness of more than two weeks Richard Croker, formerly leader of Tammany Hall, is on the way to recovery at his home, The Wigwam, near here. Dr. Noah Webster, who has been attending Mr. Croker, believes that all danger is passed in connection with an attack resulting from congestion of the liver, which brought about great danger a week ago, but he made it clear that Mr. Croker, who is 76 years old, is suffering from digestive disorders which may delay his complete recovery for some time.

Mr. Croker left his place in Ireland just after the European war began and had made preparations to return just before the unrestricted submarine campaign of the Germans began. He has spent a great deal of time at the Palm Beach home and working very often in a large garden adjoining it. His last trip to New York was in the early part of last October.

This conversation was overheard in an English munition canteen after a serving of some heavy and half-cooked pudding.

Bill: "That's nothing. My missus made some one day that we couldn't eat, so she gave it to our ducks. A few minutes later a little boy knocked at our door and said: 'Mrs. Jones, yer ducks have sunk'."

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

NOBODY CAN TELL WHEN YOU DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. When ever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural colour and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and then the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

No man in the earthly stage can make a continuous show of good nature who lives in a flat that is heated by a furnace.

C.P.R. ENGINEER DECORATED BY KING GEORGE

"Empress of Britain."

Arthur Edward Philip, O.B.E., Senior Chief Engineer, Canadian Pacific, and Chief Engineer of H.M.S. "Empress of Britain," has held his present position in the vessel since 1906, from which time he has never missed a trip. In the course of her successful mail and passenger service he held the Canadian speed record, and was regarded by all who came in contact with him as a worthy head of his department. His ship has been fitted for work, the nature of which imposes most arduous duties upon her engineering department. Mr. Philip had his early training at Messrs. Dubs & Co.'s Locomotive Works, Glasgow, serving a seven years' apprenticeship. He was at that time a keen footballer, and played in the 1st elevens of both Queen's Park and 3rd Lanark. An enthusiastic volunteer, he was a member of the Hillhead Company of the Glasgow Highlanders, then the 10th F.R.V. His sea service commenced with Messrs. Elder, Dempster & Co., with whom he remained fourteen years, serving through all grades up to chief engineer, which position he has held for the past 25 years. On the C. P. R. Co. acquiring the Beaver Line portion of Messrs. Elder, Dempster's fleet, Mr. Philip transferred to the former company as chief engineer of the SS. "Monterey," which shortly afterwards was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland.

He was on transport service in connection with both the Benin and Ashanti expeditions, 1895-96, and later, during the South African War, for which he received the Transport Medal. He was one of the pioneers of rifle shooting in the merchant service, and during the visit to Canada of the late Earl Roberts was commissioned by that distinguished soldier on his praiseworthy efforts in this connection.

Chief Engineer Philip is an officer of the Order of the British Empire and was personally decorated by King George, who not only thanked him very cordially for his services, but added, "And it is always a great pleasure to me to meet a Canadian Pacific official."

There were 150 other candidates for decoration present to receive their honors at the same time that the chief engineer got his. "The king must have a marvelous memory," said Chief Engineer Philip, "how, under heaven, do you suppose he remembered I was a Canadian Pacific official?"

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Pleasant Evening Reveries—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide

Home should be so truly home that the weary, tempted heart could turn to it anywhere on the dusty highway of life and receive light and strength. What a blessing it is when weary with care and burdened with care and sorrow, to have a home to which we can go, and there in the midst of friends we lose, forget our troubles and dwell in peace and quietness. Home is the chief school of human virtue. Its responsibilities, joys, sorrows, smiles, tears, hopes and solicitudes form the chief interest in human life.

Home is the greatest school of life. Few can receive the honours of a college education, but all are graduates of home. The learning of the university may fade, its knowledge may moulder in the halls of memory, but the simple lessons of home impressed upon the hearts of childhood, defy the rust of years and outline the vivid picture of life. "Mid pleasures and palaces we may roam. Be is ever so humble, there's no place like home."

There is sweet music in every home where the heart strings are touched by gentleness and courtesy. The mild word, the gentle answer, the tender act, the patient considerations, will touch chords of kindness and make sweet melody in the family as everywhere. A desolate, dreary place is a home devoid of those little courtesies which are practiced in the best social life.

A great helper to gladness is a happy home. Many of us would never be able, day after day, to face life with its struggles, its duties, its antagonisms, were it not for the renewal of strength, which we get in our home.

A true home is a little fragment of heaven let down to earth to inspire us with patience and strength for the way.

The real pleasures of life are not to be bought. Amusement is for sale; but joy comes without price and without bargaining. There are no figures set upon happiness; it springs up in the pathway like a flower, the seed of which has been wafted from some other world. The quiet, deep joys of life, benison like, fall from heaven upon our hearts. None can command them, none can corner them. You may purchase assistance and interest, but affection and love come unsought, unsolicited, unbought.

We do not care how poor a young man may be if he has good health, sound principles, is respectful of sacred things, is temperate in his habits, and is not afraid to work and work hard, and face the world with a determination to succeed. That young man can be trusted with the best and sweetest girl ever reared in a home. Marriage and all that a good, loving life means, is the developing power of such a man.

Kindness makes sunshine wherever it goes; it is the real law of life; the link that connects earth with heaven. Would you live in the remembrance of others after you are gone? Write your name on the tablets of their hearts by acts of kindness and love. The noblest revenge we can make upon our enemies is to do them a kindness.

If you wish your children to be respectful to you, then you should be respectful to them. The boys and girls who are spoken to in a harsh rough tone of voice naturally fall into the habit of responding in the same way.

Praise the work of your children, no matter how trivial the act. It will give them an honest desire to do better the next time.

Do not think too much of your dignity. Do anything to make the boys think they are having a good time. In short, live with your boys. A little fun and good nature will go far towards turning work into play. When you get a boy so that he will love his home and his parents and you will go down the slope.

Home! One is more than ever impressed by the signaficance of that word, when, even in the roughest little hamlet, and most desolate looking hut, it may mean so much to those who were born in it. It is a beautiful trait, this clinging to the very soil of one's birthplace, sterile and unattractive as it may be to those who have no such associations.

The stern realities of life permit only short seasons of recreation, and it is only by planning judiciously the arrangements of time and divisions of labour that a busy mother can insure a child his rightful portion of her company.

Parental dignity and authority may be asserted with the utmost firmness, and yet without coarseness or arrogance. In fact it cannot be well asserted in any other way. A rude father or mother is likely to have rude sons and daughters.

If the mother is in the habit, in her common conversation, of colouring facts, of exaggerating what she hears and relates, can she expect her children to grow up with a love and reverence for the truth?

Where is the stream of life so dark and unproportious that the sunshine of a happy face falling on the turbid tide will not waken an answering gleam? Why, these joyful, good-tempered people don't know half the good they do.

It is the person rather than the occupation that adds dignity to labour. There are those who can beautify the most menial occupation or service and there are others who can degrade the most honorable calling.

There is no rank, no condition that may exempt a manly man from a kind regard for a mother.

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination — the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence,—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes,—let them be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness of some kind follows.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism,—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons,—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain by taking drugs that allow the rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body.

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days,—must help you, must give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.

And Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the whole system. You'll feel like a new person when you've taken NR Tablets a week. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. ## NEWSBOYS ON BATTLE FRONT

Belgian and French Youngsters Take Great Risks While Distributing Papers to the Soldiers.

During the first days of the war British soldiers going up to Mons from Boulogne were hailed by an ancient French dame with her only British phrase, "Da-e-ly Ma-i-l." She did her best. Since those far-off days "Da-e-ly Ma-i-l" has been called by the little Belgian and French boys and girls all along the line from Dunkirk to Belfort. Many a risk has been run to buy and sell the news of yesterday. One great load of copies of the London Daily Mail arrived at a distributing center by train just as the advancing wave of Germans threatened to pour over the line.

Prompt to the occasion the parcels were seized by the soldiers and thrown into the gap. Surely no newspaper parcels ever had a stranger fate than to be used, fresh from the press and unread, as sandbags for trenches and a shelter against a whining scurry of machine-gun bullets. Back in Paris an anxious publisher and thoughtful cashier wondered in what category "unsold copies" the wagon load should be put.

Three times the Daily Mail has heard through advanced line distributing agents of paper sellers shot by snipers' bullets while making their way along the trenches.

Simple Way To Take Off Fat

There can be nothing simpler than taking a convenient little tablet four times each day until your weight is reduced to normal. That's all—just purchase a case of Marmola Prescription Tablets from your druggist (or if you prefer, send 75c. to Marmola Co., 364 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.) and follow directions. No dieting, no exercise. Eat what you want—be as lazy as you like and keep on getting slimmer. And the best part of Marmola Prescription Tablets is their harmlessness. That is your absolute safeguard.

A Model Kitchen.

When the housewife boils ham or cabbage, everybody in the house knows it. If the cooking is done in the diminutive kitchenette of a modern apartment, a small edition of a German gas attack is very apt to be the result.

The architect who designed the model kitchen recently installed in Paris, solved the cooking-odor problem by borrowing an idea utilized for many years in all well equipped chemical laboratories. Many chemical operations are accompanied by disagreeable and often highly injurious fumes. Such operations are carried on in so-called draught-closets.

The draught-closet of the model kitchen is very similar in construction to the chemical draught-closet. It has glass doors through which the progress of the cooking operations on the gas stove can be watched. A slit in the lower part of the glass doors admits air, and the heat steam, smoke, and cooking odors escape through a flue placed in the upper part of the cabinet.

If the draught-closet in kitchen or kitchenette is properly constructed and provided with a good flue, it will prevent even the odor of corned beef and cabbage from penetrating into the living-rooms of the apartment.

Fagged Out Women Vinol is What You Need

If all the tired, overworked, run-down women in this community could realize how our delicious Vinol, which contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates and Glycerophosphates supplies the vital elements necessary to enrich the blood and create working strength, we wouldn't be able to supply the demand.

Dukedom, Tenn.
"I live on a farm and keep house for six in my family. I got into a nervous, run-down condition so it seemed as though I would die. A friend advised me to try Vinol. I have been greatly improved by its use and am better and stronger in every way."—Mrs. H. H. Goodwin.

Bardstt, N. Y.
"I keep house for my family of three, and raise chickens. I had a nervous breakdown, so I was unable to work. The doctor did not seem to help me, and a cousin asked me to try Vinol. It built me up—I now have a good appetite and am well and strong."—Mrs. Loyal Palmer.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

NOW FISH IN INLAND WATERS

German Submarines Have Driven Hardy Dutch Sailors From Their Occupation in the North Sea.

In this day of the lurking submarine the waters of the North sea are a marked danger zone for the fisherman of the Netherlands, and consequently the rivers and inner seas of Holland are thronged with brown-sailed fishing smacks, all eagerly pursuing the elusive herring, salmon, pike and carp.

Until the boat's tanks or barrels are filled the determined fisherman sticks at his job. If a good haul is soon made he may steer the craft up some canal to an inland town to market his catch. He gets out the sign, "Fish for Sale," and fastens it to the mast, draws the boat up to the canal's edge, and is soon besieged by housewives anxious to inspect his wares. The fish, as if conscious of their pending fate, swim uneasily about in the tank, while thrifty Dutch matrons follow certain ones excitedly with a forefinger, and the seller endeavors to locate the desired fish in the swarming tub.

On a summer evening when a fleet of the good ships has made port after a hard day's work, a fishing village is one of the most picturesque sights in Holland. Sails patched or torn and flapping rise and fall in the harbor with the motion of the waves. The brawny Dutch fisherman, revived by supper and the evening pipe, is curing fish and exchanging stories with neighbors on the dock, while his wife sits before her cottage mending nets, or perhaps adorning a torn sail with a vivid red patch.

There is little rest for these hard-working seamen and their wives. Fish have long been to Holland what rice is to China or the potato to America. With its food supply ebbing dangerously low, Holland looks more than ever to her fisher folk to feed the people.

But few can stand prosperity when it comes.

CAMP MOHAWK SOLD TO FOUR ANGLINS

KINGSTON, Feb. 11.—The Imperial Munitions Board has announced the sale of Camp Mohawk, Deseronto, to Frank Anglin of Brewers' Mills, W. S. Anglin of Battersea, and Frank and Charles Anglin, of the firm of S. Anglin & Co. of this city. The sale is a big one, as there is two and a quarter million feet of lumber in the camp which the purchasers acquire, as well as heating plants, etc. The board has also announced the sale of the summer camp at Deseronto to W. S. Anglin. This includes about three-quarters of a million feet of lumber, as well as heating plants, etc.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Charms for Soldiers.

Superstition has always played a part in war, but, according to German newspapers, the belief in charms and talismans has now become so universal that a big industry has developed as a result.

In Vienna there are numerous shops which make a specialty of charms for soldiers alleged to have the property of sparing them in battle. Rabbits' feet, horseshoes, butts of guns found on battlefields, bullets and parts of shells form some of the charms too numerous to mention. Potency is said to be given to these charms by some mysterious incantation performed over them at certain phases of the moon by a teacher or student of the occult.

The charms sell at high prices, for the belief in them is such that the credulous are willing to pay well for them. Concoctions made from the blood of various animals are sold also in order to cure disease or to be applied to wounds.

This industry, developed to a great extent by charlatans, has become a menace, and the Government is taking steps to suppress it, particularly where it concerns concoctions which are likely to be dangerous. The mere wearing of a charm, however, is not discouraged, as belief in them cannot hurt the efficiency of a soldier, but, on the contrary, gives him a feeling of security in battle that may cause him to fight the harder.

Fortune-tellers are thriving in Vienna, for nearly every mother with a son in the army or a wife with a husband at the front consulted the soothsayers in order to get some word of comfort from them, and for a good fee the comforting assurance is usually forthcoming.—Tit-Bits.

"My Little Pets Love Cascarets"

TO MOTHERS! If you will learn to give this harmless candy cathartic to your children, instead of castor oil, calomel and pills, you will save money and avoid lots of worry and trouble. Truly!

When one of the kiddies has a white tongue, a tainted breath, sour stomach or a cold; when bilious, constipated, feverish, remember, a Cascaret to quickly "work" away the nasty bile, sour fermentations and poisons should always be the first treatment given.

Children really like to take candy Cascarets and they never gripe the tender bowels, never injure, and never disappoint the worried mother. Give Cascarets to children one year old and upwards. Each 10 cent box contains full directions for children and adults.

Japan Likely to Force Issue at Peace Table if Foreign Policy Threatened

JAPAN'S AIMS

In view of the many rumors of Japanese aggression and threats against China that are now in circulation, attention is called to the following interview with Dr. Jeremias Jenks, a close student of Oriental affairs and formerly a member of various United States Government missions to China.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 12. — Japan with the knowledge that she has everything to gain and nothing to lose territorially and economically, can be expected to force the issue at the peace conference if she finds her anticipated domination of China threatened, Dr. Jeremias Jenks, the noted authority on China, told the United Press to-day.

Referring to the pressure that was brought to bear on China, both indirectly thr ugh financial societies and indirectly by threats of war in 1915, in order to secure Japan's aims, it does not seem unlikely that Japan will use similar methods now, he said.

Japan denied at that time officially many things that she afterwards herself published, showing deliberate falsification of facts. Japanese statesmen afterwards acknowledged that Japan had forfeited the confidence of the world by this misrepresentation.

Japan's policy of 1915 has never been abandoned, Dr. Jenks said, and despite assurances to the contrary, not a step toward restitution has been taken by the Japanese government.

Strong Measures.

Instead she has deliberately pushed that policy forward during the last year as vigorously as ever. People will wonder if she is not following her former methods. It takes more than words or three years, to change a reputation. The acts of the peace conference will be a settlement of all disputed questions since the outbreak of the war. If Japan loses in Paris she cannot expect to regain the things lost; consequently if matters seem to be turning against her, she is likely to adopt strong measures if there is hope for success.

On the other hand, Dr. Jenks concluded, the only sensible as well as just policy is for the other nations to insist upon disputes between China and Japan being settled openly before a disclosure of secret treaties, on the basis of Justice to all concerned. We should also bear in mind that China is chiefly concerned and her wishes should be given the greatest consideration.

Rumour is Not Denied

Sir George Perley Has Not Heard of New Position For Borden.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, Feb. 12.— Enquiring at 10 Downing street to-day regarding the Daily Express report that Sir Robert Borden had been offered the American ambassadorship, a representative of the Canadian Associated Press was told: "We know nothing whatever about it. It doesn't sound very probable, but we shouldn't like definitely to deny it."

The correspondent adds that while the report may seem surprising there is not the least doubt that several leading statesmen are firmly convinced and have privately expressed the conviction that Canada is bound to bear a predominating influence in promoting the Anglo-Saxon Entente. Sir George Perley, Canadian High Commissioner, also stated that he had no information nor have officials of the Colonail Office.

BOLSHEVIKI ACCEPT ALLIED INVITATION

Anti-Bolshevik Governments Will Also Participate—Conference Is Now Likely in Black Sea—Borden Heads Discussion.

(Special to The Examiner.)

PARIS, Feb. 12. — Prospects are brightening for the assembling of at least four of the Russian factions at a conference to be held on Prince's Islands. Word has come from Ukraine that the government of that former part of Russia will participate in the conference and the government of General Denikine will join the conference. The government of Crimea already has accepted the invitation as has the Russian Bolshevik government.

Constitution Amendments

Two New Articles Have Been Added to the Original Draft.

(United Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Whether obstructionists will gain a temporary victory by blocking the final adoption of the League of Nations' constitution prior to President Wilson's departure for the United States, as well as further stirring up Paris with a war scare, will be determined within the next thirty hours.

The League of Nations committee is scheduled to take final action tomorrow on the constitution, the draft of which was being put in shape by a sub-committee to-day. The committee's work will be hampered by the fact that many of the amendments presented at the recent meetings (two entirely new articles have been added to the original 22), are not yet entirely agreed on. If the committee cannot reach an agreement to-morrow submission of the draft to the General Peace Congress this week will be impossible.

Scare Unfounded.

The amendments to the League constitution are understood to have been introduced largely by the French, who are said to be developing an actual distrust of President Wilson, who is insinuated to be defending the Germans and Bolsheviki. This feeling not only has been demonstrated in the French press, but is alleged to have developed in various committees. The French attitude has resulted, it is understood, in the insistence that the constitution provide for the establishment of a great International army, to be stationed in France, as well as further restrictions of German and Russian membership. The war scare has incited the French to propose the occupation of Essen and other military extensions to the original armistice terms. Well informed military authorities declare that Marshal Foch is far over-estimating the situation when he says the Germans are able to put an army of 3,000,000 in the field within two months. A British officer who just returned from Germany, said that if Germany were in a position to raise a new army, the food situation is such that she would be unable to feed it more than two weeks. In addition, it is known that the German transport system was practically in a state of complete breakdown when the armistice was signed. The rolling stock, automobiles and horses turned over to the allies since then would render immobile any army Germany might gather.

The French, it is charged, in opposing the American suggestion for economic concessions to Germans, are trying to make it appear that the Americans are favouring the Germans, whereas the Americans are merely trying to apply the rule of common sense.

For instance in manufacturing after peace is signed, France and Belgium will be given preference in shipments of raw materials. But the French want German factories to be held impotent until France is thoroughly restored, industrially, and able to compete on an equal basis. Both the British and Americans appreciate the fact that France is handicapped through the wanton destruction of her plants by the Germans, but the question arises as to how money may be expected to be extracted from Germany for repatriation if she is not permitted to work and earn it. And there is always that possibility that Germany's delicately balanced political situation may be overturned by unjust measures, and the whole country thrown into chaos. Another fact contributing to the situation is that early statements regarding indemnity claims were based on the idea of taking territory in lieu of money. Since it has become evident that the old "grabbing" policy will not be tolerated, adjustment of ideas has become necessary.

THE KAISER WAS A GERMAN SOCIALIST?

So Says a Berlin Newspaper—Ex-Emperor Belied the Statements That the Empire Was Re-actionary —Will Continue the Kaiser's Blessed Work Under Ebert.

Special to The Examiner:

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—Germany will enter the new world's order as a Socialist State to continued the blessed work of the Hohenzollerns, the "Deutsche Tages Zeitung" declared to-day.

"It is well to point out to the enemy, as well as to certain German parties that the Hohenzollern Kaiser, with his social work, contradicted lies regarding Germany being a reactionary and despotic State when, in reality, it was the most liberal and peaceful State in the world.

WOODROW UNPOPULAR

Wilson Could Not be Elected Justice of the Peace in France—Attitude of French.

BRITISH CONTENTION

(United Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Two months ago Woodrow Wilson could have been elected President of France. To-day Paris would not elect him Justice of the Peace.

Whether the remainder of France has similarly changed it is impossible to say, but the people returning from the interior report that his pictures still fill shop and residence windows, and that his name still evokes the readiest cheers. This is not so in Paris, where open unfriendliness of certain newspapers is echoed in subway, tramway and hotel corridor conversation. The attitude is usually taken that Wilson is unduly lenient toward the Germans. Angry debaters allege he is more concerned in saving the Germans than in saving France.

Resentment in Paris, however, is not confined to the President. The names of Premier Lloyd George and other noted visitors are beginning to be heard, where as, after Wilson's arrival scores of prominent names practically dropped out of circulation. The names are now heard, coupled with Wilson's, charged with virtual treachery to France.

British Unruffled.

This palpable waning of friendship is worrying many Americans, but it leaves the British unruffled. They smile and say they have been through it before, and that it won't last long. France is "enjoying a war scare" and the emotional luxury of looking on the black side of things in order to enjoy the greater delight when it is found that the situation is not as bad as anticipated, they say.

National Trait.

The British contend that it is a national trait. This is one factor that can be taken into consideration in reading the pessimistic comments of a considerable section of the French press regarding peace work.

Disregarding the allegation that the government propaganda is responsible for that attitude of the French newspapers, there is another factor alleged to be included in their cries of "wolf, wolf." That is the factor that several of the best known Frenchmen are actually said to be Royalists and consider France can be redeemed only when a King again occupies the Palace.

Between pessimism, propaganda and politics, progressive democracy seems to be having hard sledding, but cool British observers declare that the difficulties are more apparent than real.

LADS STARTED TO CHOP DOWN L. AND P. S. RY. LINES OF COMMUNICATION

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 12.—Two twelve-year-old lads were suddenly seized with the idea that they should destroy the L. & P. S. Railway from here to London, and they evidently would have succeeded had not some of the officers met and apprehended them after they had armed with small hatchets, chopped up a number of the poles between here and the Grand Trunk Railway. They appeared before Magistrate Maxwell, and one of them, on refusing to own up to his guilt, was sent to the Children's Shelter for a week, while the other one was sent home. The lads destroyed property to the extent of about $25 or more. A number of the maple trees near the bridge north of the city also bear evidence of the trouble-making axes.

British Workers In Session To-day

Representatives of Over a Million Workers Discuss Wages and Working Conditions—Prepared for "National Action."

ORDERED BACK

(United Press Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Representatives of more than a million British workers met to-day to discuss wages, hours of employment and working conditions.

Miners' delegates representing six hundred thousand men, assembled to receive the Government's reply to their demand for a 30 per cent. wage increase, a six-hour-day and nationalization of mines. The National Union of Railwaymen, representing four hundred thousand, discussed the general labour conditions. The Transport Workers' Federation, speaking for two hundred and fifty thousand, will receive the employers' answer to their terms for a higher wage and a forty-hour-week. Striking shipyards workers in the Clyde District, while ordered back to work to-day, have been instructed by their committee to prepare for "national action."

Premier Lloyd George's speech before the House of Commons yesterday in which he uttered a defy to "Prussianism" in the ranks of labour, was expected to form one of the principal subjects of debate in the various industrial meetings to-day.

Labour To Strike On Election Day

Chicago Unions Will Walk Out on April 1, to Participate in Municipal Elections—No Grievances This Time.

(Special to The Examiner.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.— A call for a one day general strike of the Union Labour in Chicago on April 1, the date of the municipal election, was issued to-day by Morton L. Johnson, executive secretary at headquarters. The election day strike is not alone to enable the union workers to vote, but to give them an opportunity to spend a day at the polls, working in the interest of the labour nominees.

Labour Asks For Decisions In Present Industrial Strikes

Parliamentary Labourites Will Make an Amendment to King's Speech—Favour the Premier's Programme.

(Special to The Examiner.)

LONDON, Feb. 12.—While the press generally approves of Premier Lloyd George's labour programme, it fails to satisfy the Parliamentary Labour Party, which has prepared an amendment to the reply to the speech from the throne, regretting the absence of definite proposals dealing with, "The present cases of industrial unrest for securing, as regarding wages and working hours, conditions of labour which will establish a higher standard of life and social well-being for the people."

TURNED DOWN VETERANS' GRANT

LINDSAY, Feb. 12.—A request for a grant of $2,000 for the Great War Veterans' Association of Victoria and Haliburton Counties was turned down at a meeting of the Town Council, because it was claimed the Council could not legally make such a grant. The question of voting this amount could be taken to the people for a vote, but according to the statutes it was illegal to make such a grant, and each member of the Council might be held liable for the amount.

WARSAW, Feb. 12.—During his address in the Podiah Assembly to-day, General Joseph Pilsudski, former military dictator of Poland, referred to the close bonds between this country and the allies. His words were cheered. Just before afternoon adjournment, Prince Radziwill, senior member of the Assembly, read a telegram announcing that Brest-Litovsk had been occupied by Polish troops.

President May Be Delayed

Wilson is Anxious to Return With Finished Product.

By Robert J. Bender.

(United Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Delay in the completion of the League of Nations' constitution may necessitate President Wilson's return to France immediately after the adjournment of Congress, it was learned to-day. He is so anxious to carry back with him a finished draft of the constitution that his departure has been postponed from Friday to Sunday or Monday, which will result in him reaching America about February 25th. If the constitution is not submitted to the full Peace Congress before his departure, however, he will start back March 5 or 6.

Unless a full agreement is reached by the League committee to-morrow, submission of the constitution to the plenary session this week is out of the question. The President, too, has been elected to read the draft to the full conference.

Britain To Erect 300,000 Dwellings

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Dr. Addison, president of the Local Government Board, has obtained sanction from the War Cabinet for his proposals for housing the working classes. He will take an early opportunity of laying them before the House of Commons. A circular on the subject has already been issued to the local governing bodies, and yesterday the president made a further explanatory statement.

The present measures are confined to England and Wales, but similar plans relating to Scotland will be proceeded with. Hitherto, because new housing was a crying need, the Government has not promised any financial assistance dealing with slum areas. Now, however, exactly the same assistance wil be given for any losses incurred by local authorities in any new schemes for clearance and improvements of sanitary areas where the Local Government Board is satisfied that requirements cannot be met simply by the provision of new houses on a new site.

The necessity for housing in urgent. The Government wants the authorities to move at once. Therefore there is a time limit to the assistance. It will be given only for schemes submitted to the Local Government Board within the next two years, unless circumstances are quite exceptional.

Housing Commissioners.

The Government is helping in other ways. Housing commissioners have been appointed, while special steps are being taken to make sure of the bricks and building material available. The Local Government Board has also arranged the standardizing of fittings, but this does not mean that the houses will be built on one pattern. The Government is anxious to avoid a calamity. The settlement of prices to be paid is a difficulty that it is hoped will be overcome by authorizing valuers from the Board of Inland Revenue to advise local authorities as to the worth of any land selected for the erection of houses.

The bill implementing the Government's housing scheme will be pressed forward promptly, but there is no need for local authorities or public utility societies to wait for legislation, as the existing powers are sufficient for immediate action.

Dr. Addison declares that owing to the stoppage of building operations by the war, it would be necessary to erect at least 300,000 dwellings for the working classes throughout the country.

HOHENZOLLERN MAY STAGE A COMEBACK

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

AMERONGEN, Holland, Feb. 12.—There have been various indications during the last week that Count Hohenzollern, the former German Emperor, is maintaining communication with his former supporters with the hope of returning to the German throne.

Threat of German Militarism Remains to be Removed—A Dangerous Alliance May Be Created.

HUNS DEFIANT

(United Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 12.— The Associated Powers, according to International experts, to-day face these two vital problems: Imposition of sufficiently restrictive measures on Germany to remove any possibility of her renewing the war. Tempering of peace settlement, both as regards Germany and Russia, to prevent these countries from entering an alliance that would be a permanent menace to the world peace. Upon the Peace Conference rests the overwhelming responsibility of steering a course between this international scylla and charybdis—a course that is admitted in some official quarters to be so narrow and dangerous that its successful navigation will require utmost finesse and skill.

A Real Threat.

The threat of German militarism is far from allayed, is the view of the French nation, from the highest official to the lowest peasant. They see in Chancellor Ebert's threat at Weimar, in Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's creation of a powerful new army "to fight the Poles," in countless other incidents of similar character, a real and imminent threat against France. Rumours fly thick and fast of Germany's present alleged duplicity. For instance, "Have you heard what the Germans did about the submarines?" inquires one Frenchman of a friend. He proceeds to explain that they not only failed to turn over a hundred of the U-boats promised under the armistice, but are building 150 new ones. The sources of such stories can be traced only to the fear that permeates the whole country. An echo of this fear or in their case perhaps discretion, is heard in the speeches of French statesmen and military officials, arguing for imposition of more drastic military regulations in the new armistice terms, acquisition of the whole west bank of the Rhine, and even retention of some form of defensive alliance.

Dangerous Alliance.

While this alarm is not apparent among other Associated Powers, Germany's potential power is being thrashed out by peace conferees. Some argue that it is necessary to "strip" Germany now, lest she put an army of 3,000,000 in the field. This brings out the contention that a stripping process in Germany, together with refusal to give consideration to the Russian situation, would be the means of throwing these countries each each other's arms. Those who point out this contingency declare that such an alliance would be able to defy the world indefinitely, since it would be self-supporting—Russia producing the raw materials and Germany fabricating them.

Information is reaching the conference, it was learned to-day, bearing out the defiant attitude of Germany as pictured in a recent United Press despatch from Weimar which stated that the Government is threatening to turn the country over to the radicals if the peace terms are too "harsh." This information tends to show that while Germany is virtually paralyzed industrially and economically, she is relying on possible disaffection among the allies rather than upon her own strength.

These conditions all combine to indicate the necessity for speeding up peace work so as to present to Germany a preliminary treaty that will stabilize both her internal conditions and her relations with the allies. The other details of settlement then can be worked out with more leisure.

"SCRAP OF PAPER"

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Feb. 12 — The Supreme Council gave its attention to-day to Belgium, hearing M. Hyman, Vandenheu Vel and Vandervelde on Belgian claims for an International readjustment and for a change in the treaty of 1839, delimiting the frontiers of Belgium and providing that it be a perpetually neutral state. It was this treaty which was declared to be a "scrap of paper" when Belgium was invaded. The modifications which are now asked are:

First, freedom of commerce through the lower Scheldt, leading from Antwerp to the sea, either by the Internationalization of the river or the acquisition by Belgium of its left bank.

Second, the cessation of the province of Southern Limburg in Holland for defensive purposes.

Third, the amalgamation of the Duchy of Luxembourg, preferably by assent of the people.

THE LINDSAY RIOTS.

The investigation into the recent rioting in Lindsay has disclosed the fact that the trouble was caused by a number of oily-tongued gossips who put into circulation a harrowing tale of the imaginary abuse of a Chinese woman by her fellow-countrymen. There was no foundation for the slanderous rumours that these busy-bodies caused to be spread around Lindsay and the great harm that can be done by this all too common habit of recklessly and maliciously circulating stories without any attempt to substantiate them was effectively illustrated in the recent disturbances. Because lying reports were scattered broadcast in Lindsay the reputation of the town suffered throughout the Dominion, hundreds of dollars' worth of damage was done, and a situation was caused that has been a source of distress to every right-thinking citizen of Lindsay.

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE?

"The Review was the first Conservative paper in the province to urge the Hearst Government to grant the petition of ninety per cent. of the people of Ontario for war-time prohibition."—The Review.

Our contemporary might, with truth, have added that the Review was about the last paper in the province, Conservative, Liberal, or Independent, that refused to publish liquor advertising. No amount of angry spluttering such as the Review indulged in last evening, will cause the public to forget that when it came to a choice between maintaining the spirit of the temperance legislation, its editorial columns supported and the money of the liquor agents it unhesitatingly threw its principles overboard and reached out greedy hands for the cash. Its eloquent pleas for the cause of temperance among its leading articles lost much of their effect when on every other page in the paper the glaring display of the Montreal liquor houses told its readers that there was no need of worrying about prohibition as long as importation into the province was not forbidden and they had a cellar in their houses. The Review's position in this matter is indefensible; and its editorial columns may shriek as loudly and persistently as type can be made to shriek without in any way altering the fact that the money of the traffic our contemporary assumed to attack proved irresistible when the test came. Let the Review state the revenue it derived from liquor advertising from the day on which Provincial prohibition came into force until the importation of liquor into the province was forbidden by the Dominion Order-in-Council, and the public will know the value of its professed affection for the cause of temperance.

THE QUEBEC SITUATION.

The indignation that has been aroused in Ontario over the discovery that defaulters under the Military Service Act in the Province of Quebec were being given immunity from any other punishment by merely reporting themselves in police court and paying a fine of $5.00 will be increased to the explosive point by the suspicion that this lenient dealing with the slackers of Quebec was directed by the Federal authorities. "I may tell you," Judge Langelier of Quebec is reported as stating, "that what I have done in freeing absentees with fines was done under written instructions I received from the Federal Department of Justice. I cannot go into details of the reasons given by the Federal Department of Justice, but I acted under the above written instructions."

This statement of Judge Langelier's puts the matter squarely up to the Dominion Government, and has already been denied by Hon. Arthur Meighen. It was bad enough to know that in Quebec defaulters were escaping with a nominal fine, while in this province men convicted of a similar offence were sentenced to long terms in the penitentiary, but the blame for this condition of affairs was credited to a lax administration of the law. The situation is made infinitely worse by the charge that this leniency in Quebec has been the result of directions issued by the Department of Justice at Ottawa. Is it possible that the authorities charged with the administration of the law in Quebec have been given different instructions than those issued in other provinces? Hon. Mr. Meighen says "No," while Judge Langelier is reported to have said that in discharging absentees on the payment of a fine he has been acting on written instructions. Yet in Ontario only a few days ago a young man was sentenced to ten years in Kingston penitentiary. The people of the rest of Canada will not permit this travesty of justice to continue. Reports from Quebec say that as a result of the protests that have already been made, a new course is now being followed. But what about the hundreds of defaulters in Quebec whose cases have already been dealt with, and who, back from their hiding places in the woods, are enjoying all the privileges of full citizenship—making amends for their desertion in the hour of Canada's need by paying $5 into police court? The strict punishment that has been meted out in Ontario in a province that has done more than its share in providing fighting men, makes it imperative that the offenders in Quebec shall not escape almost scot-free. Justice demands that the Quebec cases should be appealed and an endeavour made to have the fines quashed and a more severe punishment administered; or else that the delinquents should be haled before a military court-martial and dealt with by the military authorities. The whole condition of affairs in Quebec since the outbreak of the war seems to have been badly handled, giving the minimum of results and giving the maximum of discontent and dissatisfaction. If Quebec had been treated similarly to the other provinces much of the unpleasantness and distrust that now appears to exist could have been avoided.

THE HALIBURTON WAY.

It is not necessary to go to Toronto for pointers as to how best to welcome our returning heroes. A correspondent writing from Haliburton, tells how the people of that village do fitting honour to the men from overseas as they come back. There is a spontaneous heartiness and warmth in the Haliburton plan that makes the perfunctory welcome given in some Ontario cities—and Peterboro cannot be left out in this consideration—seem cold and commonplace.

The following is a small sketch of an actual scene, enacted almost every week in Haliburton Village, which shows how we appreciate the returning heroes, says the correspondent. An organization, called the Citizens' League, has the work in hand. One member is mail clerk on the train, and he telegraphs every time a soldier starts from Lindsay. The news arrives and the parents and friends are notified, and the school bell and the English church bell ring for 15 minutes. This tells the surrounding country folks of what is expected. The Reeve, who is a liveryman, also meets the train with a special covered and highly decorated sleigh, well lighted up and bedecked with flags. The town band of 10 members (the other 13 have enlisted) plays two patriotic airs as the train comes into the station. Both engine and carriages are ablaze with red lights, supplied by the train hands. A string of red lamps runs from the station to the main street. These are the boys' first impressions of home. A torchlight procession, headed by the town band, then accompanies them to their homes, when an address of welcome is given by the Reeve, and the usual three cheers by the crowd.

An Old Boys' Re-union is to be held on June 3rd, when every Haliburton soldier will be given a present, and a field day will be held, together with the unveiling of a memorial to the eight boys who have paid the supreme sacrifice.

RESPONSIBLE LABOR LEADERSHIP.

For control of a more or less unsettled industrial situation, which gravely threatens productivity in many countries, heavy responsibility at this time rests upon the leaders or organized labor. Their training in public affairs and their knowledge of men, form an asset of inestimable value, for the effective work of reconstruction.

Labour union leaders, having been carefully chosen, usually possess a sense of proportion and a perspective. They work for the safeguarding of the future as well as for the benefits of to-day, for the worker's children as well as for himself.

The address of Mr. Tom Moore, President of the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada, at the Ritz-Carlton yesterday, was given in a tone calculated to carry its message far. Mr. Moore's frank support of evolution rather than evolution, while it loses him the applause of professional agitators, we believe to express faithfully the attitude of the workers of Canada as a whole.

Mr. Moore's policy is that of British trade unionism, adopted by the most accomplished political heads of the labour movement in the world. It is inspired by a fine sense of justice and a wholesome faith in human nature.

As Mr. J. H. Thomas, Labour M.P., said in an address in London on Sunday, workmen must always make their sectional claims consistent with their duty as citizens. Otherwise, they destroy their claim to citizenship.

Otherwise, he might have added, labour will suffer along with all other individuals with something to market in the land. In the general disintegration, there would be no opportunity for building on foundations of guaranteed justice, for either men in units or as classes.

With the specific proposals for industrial readjustment put forward by Mr. Tom Moore there may be some disagreement. The ground traversed here is new, and the methods proposed are all in the experimental stage.

But Mr. Moore is manifestly right when he demands industrial life carefully considered with regard to the social and sanitary conditions of the people. He is right also in calling a halt to the exploitation of labour through industrial enterprises wastefully conducted irrespective of the worker's need of his job.

An address of this kind by the President of the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada reflects credit upon the intelligence of Canadian labour. It remains for all those associated with labour in keeping up the country's productivity for the general good—governments, capital and the public itself—to see to it that nothing is lost to labor by this form of leadership.

The men at the top of the labour movement are mostly, because of those qualities of wisdom and fairness, which won them these elective offices, anxious to co-operate in constitutional methods of arriving at an industrial peace worth trusting. They know that, unless they receive the backing of those forces which can make for progress or deadlock, they cannot hold their present authority.

For the permanent service to all classes and elements concerned, which is their objective, they require and deserve ready and intelligent attention.—Montreal Star.

CLEMENCY FOR DEFAULTERS IS A MYSTERY TO OTTAWA

Department of Justice Knows Nothing of Instructions Sent to the Quebec Magistrate—Matter is Being Thoroughly Investigated.

Special to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 12.—The categorical instructions which Magistrate Langelier, of Quebec, declares were issued to him counselling clemency with regard to defaulters under the Military Service Act are a mystery at Ottawa. The Department of Justice continues to deny that any instructions whatever emanated from it to the Quebec magistrate and is at a loss to know from whom the instructions actually came. It is suggested, however, that they may have been issued by the local officer at Quebec. The matter is being enquired into.

Enormous Food Value of BOVRIL

Proved by World-Famed Scientist at instigation of British Government Department

The great body-building power of Bovril does not admit of argument. It is proved, just as the circulation of the blood is proved, or the law of gravity.

The independent experiments carried out by an eminent physiologist under the most complete scientific control, proved the notable body-building powers of Bovril. The experiments were conducted with human subjects, on a standard diet, and the increase in weight was never less than 10 (and it actually in some cases reached 20) times the amount of Bovril added to the diet.

This tremendous fact, tested and proved in every possible way, has given Bovril a unique place as one of the most precious food substances in the world.

CONTRACTS ONLY SIGNED.

Shipbuilding Undertakings Were Arranged Before Armistice.,

OTTAWA, Feb. 12.—Alex. Johnston, Deputy Minister of Marine here, reiterated his explanation as to why, since the armistice, Toronto has got no contracts for ships, though they have been placed at Victoria, Collingwood, Port Arthur, Vancouver, Halifax, New Glasgow, Prince Rupert and Welland.

"The whole thing is this," said Mr Johnston. "While the contracts in question were not executed till after the armistice, every single one of them was arranged for in advance of that date. At every one of these yards no other work was in progress, whereas at Toronto the yards were fully occupied working on ships for other parties. I may add that in the case of many of the contracts referred to arrangements had been made and materials bought for the contracts. What took place since the armistice was the signing of contracts previously arranged."

TRIP THROUGH TRENT CANAL

Mr. E. G. When the Department of Railways and Canals offered a silk flag to the first party making this trip, the Board of Trade, Orillia, duplicated the offer, Mr. Porter with his friends, A. Gillen, Postmaster; L. E. Allen, C.E.; B. L. Hyman, Sandy Burrows, J. A. Kerr, and G. Irvine, of Belleville, made the trip.

Pte. Harry C. Lang Arrived In Peterboro Yesterday

Fought in the Ypres Salient and on the Somme Front—Was a Prisoner in Germany For Two Years.

To have fought in the Ypres salient and on the Somme front, and to have been a prisoner of war for nearly two years in one of the worst prison camps in the German Empire, is the experience of Pte. Harry C. Lang, who returned home from overseas yesterday on the eight o'clock G.T.R. train. Pte. Lang is a native of Peterboro County. He was born in the township of South Monaghan, where his father, Mr. James Lang, was a prominent farmer for many years. The family later removed to Otonabee Township.

Working in the west at the outbreak of the war, Pte. Lang enlisted on May 5, 1915, in Edmonton, with the 51st Battalion. In France, the battalion was broken up into drafts, and he found himself a member of the 14th Canadians, a Montreal battalion, then under the command of Lieut. Colonel Clark, who has since returned to Canada.

He went through all the stages of the different battles in the Ypres salient, and later when the Canadians were moved to the Somme front he participated in fighting which has never been equalled in ferocity, (except perhaps the stand of General Petain's French forces at Verdun.) The Canadians had relieved the Anzacs on this front, who in their turn had followed British Imperial troops into the front lines.

Historic Change.

On September 7, 1916, Pte. Lang's battalion charged the German trenches directly ahead of them and after a fierce struggle occupied them. The next morning, on September 8th, the Germans supported by numberless machine guns, came on in waves and after a desperate resistance the enemy managed to oust the British. In the melee, 15 men of the 14th Battalion were captured, among whom was Pte. Lang. They were marched off by their captors in pairs to the famous French city of Cambrai where he was forced to work for six weeks around one of the big German aerodomes.

Next Stop.

Dulmer, a huge military receiving camp in the Prussian province of Westphalia, was the next stop. Here the prisoners, mostly French and English, come and go continuously The chances for escape are almost nil. Around the huts are placed barb-wire entanglements, which it would be almost impossible to penetrate. Outside of this is the electrically charged wires and still beyond are the German sentries.

"They treated us very badly," said Pte. Lang, speaking of the conditions in this centre. "We received practically nothing to eat or to wear. The food was so bad that we could not eat it and if we had not received food parcels from the British and Canadian Red Cross Societies we would all have starved, or if not that we would have been physical wrecks."

Another Move.

After a stay of two months at Dulmen, Pte. Lang was moved on to Whesterholdt, a prison camp only 20 miles from Essen, the home of the Krupp armament works. This prison camp is known notoriously throughout the width and breadth of the British Empire as "J.O. 32." In England the returned prisoners of war declare that it out-hells hell. There were about 2000 prisoners at the time when Pte. Lang arrived — Serbs, Russians, Roumanians, British, French, and prisoners of all the other allied nations. Lang with his fellow prisoners was set to work in the coal mines which were located in that vicinity. Each man had four 8-hour and two 12-hour shifts a week and this is the life that he led until the day that the armistice was signed on Nov. 11, 1918.

Food Bad.

"The German food was so bad that for a whole year we didn't eat it, and you can put in," said Pte. Lang. "that the British and Canadian Red Cross saved our lives. Very few of the parcels that they sent us were lost. In this camp were twenty or thirty Canadians, several of whom were from Toronto, but Pte. Lang was the only Peterborough boy. All the prisoners at this camp were privates. The N.C.O.'s and officers were confined elsewhere.

News of Armistice.

News that the armistice was signed was gained from a Berlin newspaper, which had been smuggled into the camp. Another paper called the "Rechlinghausen" gave fuller particulars. Most of the prisoners at the time could speak and write German. Pte. Lang has quite a smattering of the guttural, and he says those prisoners that were captured in 1914 are as proficient in the enemy tongue as their brutal guards. The day after the armistice was signed the prisoners refused to work, and although they were threatened they did not return to the coal mines. On Saturday, November 16th, the gates were opened, and after forming fours, they were led to the Dutch border by two German civilians, who came personally to guide them. At the Dutch border the French prisoners in the party were turned back (likely to cross the French border), and the British prisoners arrived in the characteristic Dutch town of Whinterwiske at ten o'clock that night. They had travelled a distance of 61 kilometres that day. A few English prisoners had to be left behind on account of sickness or injuries, but they were later sent on in trains by their repentant guards. These prisoners stated that the Serbs and Russians who had not been allowed to leave the camp were fearfully beaten up by the guards, who, relieved of the English element, vented their feelings on their prisoners because they had refused to work the day after the armistice was signed.

Russians Badly Used.

"The poor Russians had a bad time," said Pte. Lang.

"Most of them were physical wrecks, and we often tried to help them out, but we couldn't very much; we didn't get enough to eat ourselves."

Leaving the quaint Dutch border town, they went on to Rotterdam, where they took a boat for Hull, England. They were sent to one of the finest military camps in England, Ripon, which is 60 miles from Hull. Here everything possible was done to aid them. They were medically attended to, given nourishing food and well clothed, after which they were allowed two months' leave of absence by the British War Office. Personally, Pte. Lang took a three weeks' trip into Scotland. He sailed for home on Saturday, February 1st, on the s.s. "Carmania," and arrived in Halifax last Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. He stated that they received good treatment on board ship, and the food could be considered fair.

Pte. Lang is enthusiastic over the work of the Y.M.C.A. since he arrived in Canada. A Y.M.C.A. official took charge of the soldiers after they boarded the train, and "I had the best grub and best treatment that I ever had since I was in the Canadian Army," testifies to the efficienty of the Y.M.C.A. officer.

Reached Home.

The party arrived at Belleville on Monday, where a night's rest was gained. The early morning train for Peterborough was boarded, and he reached the city at 8 o'clock on Monday morning.

Pte. Lang is thoroughly enjoying himself with his wife and two children at their home, Dalhousie and Dubidge Street, and is quite content at present to allow the future to look out for itself.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD, HE SAYS

Milwaukee Man Says Mother Suffered Eighteen Years—Tanlac Restores Her.

"If everybody in Milwaukee knew how much good Tanlac has done my mother there isn't a one who wouldn't think just as I do—that it's worth its weight in gold," was the interesting statement made by Frank J. Passage, brakeman on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, living at 25 26th St., Milwaukee, recently. Mr. Passage's mother, Mrs. Minnie Passage, at the time she came to Milwaukee, four years ago, had been a resident of Shannon, Illinois, for fifty years, and is beloved by all who know her.

"For eighteen or twenty years," continued Mr. Passage, "my mother has had trouble with her stomach and I can truthfully say that Tanlac is the only medicine I have been able to find in all that time to do her any good. Nothing she would eat agreed with her and she was subject to frequent attacks of acute indigestion. In a little while after eating, her food would sour and bloat her up with gas and cause her to suffer for hours. At times this gas would press on her heart, almost cutting off her breath, and I actually thought she was going to die. She complained of awful pains through her stomach and left side and would belch up sour gas for hours. I have often had to get up in the middle of the night and doctor her on account of this gas, and I don't believe she ever got a good night's rest on account of the pain she suffered. During the past year she lost twenty-five pounds in weight, or more, and all her strength seemed to leave her. During the past six months she has failed very much faster. All she was able to eat was a little soup or milk and soft boiled eggs, and even this would hurt her. Her condition became so serious that on December the seventh I quit work in order to stay home to take care of her.

"One day I noticed a Tanlac testimonial in the paper which was so straightforward and convincing that I told mother I wanted her to try the medicine. She agreed and at the time she started taking it she had been down in bed for five weeks and couldn't stand on her feet but a few minutes, if she tried. Well, she has taken two bottles now and you may believe it or not, she is up doing all her cooking and housework and is just feeling fine. She is now sixty-nine years of age, but I declare she gets around like one many years younger. She sleeps like a child, eats anything she wants and that gas and indigestion has stopped bothering her almost entirely. I have never seen such a change in anyone as Tanlac has made in mother. I am very grateful for it and she is feeling mighty happy herself. We can't say too much in behalf of Tanlac, and have been telling everyone in the neighbourhood about it.

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Trinity Church Pass Resolution

Copies Will Be Sent to Premier Hearst and Acting Prime Minister White.

The Official Board of Trinity Methodist Church have forwarded the following resolutions to the Premier of Ontario and to Sir Thomas White, Acting Prime Minister of the Dominion:

Peterborough, Feb. 11, 1919.

Sir William Hearst,
Prime Minister of Ontario:

The Official Board of Trinity Methodist Church, Peterborough, unanimously request the Premier and Government of Ontario to enact such further legislation that will remove entirely the bane of patronage from the field of party manipulation.

The time is most opportune, with a strong government, a good record, public opinion strongly endorsing, and the Federal Government co-operating, the day of this hindrance and encroach on good government should cease.

Social Service Committee.
Peterborough, Feb. 12, 1919.

Sir Thos. White,
Acting Prime Minister of Canada

(1) That the Prime Minister and Government of Canada take the necessary steps to continue in force the provisions of the order-in-council of March 11, 1918, relating to the prohibition of the liquor traffic, by having the same embodied in legislation to be enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

(2) That the legislation so enacted be continued in effect until such time as the vote of the electors of the Dominion shall have been taken on the question of its continuance or discontinuance.

(3) That the vote on this question be taken on a date fixed by the Government, at least six months prior to the date of voting, and with due regard to the restoration to civil life in Canada of the Canadian soldiers now overseas.

(4) To make more effective, the overthrow of the traffic in our own Dominion, and in view of Prohibition coming in force in the United States, it is imperative that we protect our country, from an incursion, of the lower elements of the traffic, who deprived of action in the United States, would make our country a place of rendezvous, and sources of illicit operation.

Respectfully submitted,
A. B. Cunningham,
Chairman Social Service Department

Milking the Cows AND Cleaning the Milk Bottles

Just as there are many grades of cows so are there many grades of milk.

Many of the ways by which disease-producing organisms pass from the cows or the milkers to the consumer are now known, and scientific methods used to safeguard health.

Medical Milk Commissioners and others are unanimous that RAW MILK IS NEVER SAFE, and to make it safe it must be CLARIFIED AND PASTEURIZED.

But we must have clean bottles for clean milk. Housewives who are in the habit of rinsing their milk bottles before returning them will probably not believe that bottles come back in such condition that they cannot be used again.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon this important end of the milk business, for when milk bottles get into such out-of-the-way places and are used for purposes even beyond description here, it is most urgent that they be subjected to a cleansing process that is sure and safe.

Our milk bottles are washed and sterilized by machine, for the reason that the human hand cannot stand the high temperature of the water so necessary for efficient cleansing and sterilizing. With this outfit we use water ranging in temperature from 150 degrees to 212 degrees F.—the boiling point. Then there is the steam to consider, too, for steam sterilizes the bottles just as it does the surgeon's instruments.

An Attempt is Being Made to Unite Conflicting Irish Parties

Separate House for Each Province Susgested, With Federal House and Westminster Representation.

GWYNNE'S SCHEME OUTLINED

DUBLIN, Feb. 12.—For the moment Ireland seems divided into two parties of extremists, one side demanding the overthrow of every vestige of British rule, and the other demanding the maintenance of the existing system of government, to be varied if at all, by an actual extension of union principles and the treatment of Irish counties as if they were British shires. An attempt, however, is now being made to tackle the problem in a manner intended to reconcile conflicting interests by working out a plan for unity in diversity, such as obtains in America.

A New Party Formed.

A moderate centre party is being formed in Ireland to advocate the solution of Irish Home Rule through the principle of federalism. Before Ireland swung over to Sinn Fein the most familiar demand of those Nationalists who were dissatisfied with Mr. Asquith's Home Rule Act was for Dominion Home Rule. The new Irish centre party proposes to meet that demand. A scheme has been drafted which in the main follows the Canadian model of 1867 The political and religious differences between the provinces the variety of their character and needs, it is argued, are no more acute in Ireland than they were in Canada, and the Canadian experiment has been a great success. Ireland is declared by the sponsors for the plan to be large enough to provide for local divisions while maintaining its national unity. There are in Canada Parliaments for provinces containing a much smaller population than the smallest of the Irish provinces, and in some cases a much smaller area.

Four Houses Proposed

The new Irish plan proposes a separate provincial single-chambered Parliament for each of the Irish provinces; though some suggest only three, with a grouping of Leinster and Connaught. Each provincial Parliament would have its own executive and its own exchequer, and have full control over all the purely internal affairs of the province. At the same time there would be established a central Federal Parliament, with its own executive and exchequer controlling all affairs affecting Ireland as a whole. The plan differs from the Canadian model, however, in the proposal that Ireland as a constitutional unit of the British Empire shall be represented also in the Imperial Parliament.

The scheme of legislation for the Irish Federal Parliament is based on that of the Home Rule Act of 1914, but it is suggested that both of the Houses shall be elected by proportional representation. The whole scheme has been worked out in detail and is presented as giving the amplest opportunity to the various provinces to work out their own destines by their own methods. Belfast, it is pointed out, would be as free as Cork or Dublin from any interference with its local liberties. Power of taxation, both Federal and provincial are provided for and a re-arrangement of the judicial system has been devised.

As to Education.

The scheme prohibits both provincial and Federal Governments from any interference with religious equality. As to education the proposal is made that the national Board of Education should be resolved into its constituent elements, and two new boards to be set up in lieu of it, one to consist exclusively of Roman Catholics, and the other to represent the various Protestant denominations, each board to have its activities limited to its own denominational interests.

The plan was one of the numerous ones submitted to the Irish convention last year, but it was not considered then because the convention concentrated itself on an effort which proved fruitless, to secure the consent of Ulster to the authority of a single Irish Parliament.

Gwynne is Leader.

The men behind the new movement are from all the provinces, and of all classes, mostly men of experience in affairs. The moving spirit is Captain Stephen Gwynne, who, until the recent general election, was member of Parliament for Galway City. He was John Redmond's righthand man during the Irish convention. Like Mr. Redmond, he was an enthusiastic supporter of the war, and was a leader in the work of recruiting for the army in Ireland. He is now a member of a body charged with the work of providing for the demobilization and re-employment of Irish soldiers and sailors.

PRICE OF COAL DROPPED 50 CENTS

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 12.—Woodstock people have been paying $13 a ton for chestnut and other hard coal for some time past, despite the fact that other towns close by were being supplied at a cheaper price. To-day the dealers say, as a result of the lifting of restrictions by the United States Government on coal coming into Canada, the dealers dropped it 50c. a ton here. They claim that the coal that has been sold at a cheaper rate than in other towns has been of an inferior quality. No further drop in price is their prediction

WOMAN'S HAIR REACHES TO KNEES

A Year Ago Was Threatened With Baldness, Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow.

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the city, is the fortunate possessor of marvelously beautiful hair which, when loosened from its coils falls to her knees. Moreover, it is of soft, silky, and fluffy texture and in color a glorious glossy gold Yet just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. Urged to tell how she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time she said: "Had any one told me such marvelous results could be accomplished so quickly, I positively would not have believed it. Twelve months ago my hair, which then reached barely to my shoulders, was falling out at an alarming rate and growing very thin. actually exposing the bald scalp in several spots It was dull and lifeless in color, turning grey in patches, and very dry and brittle. My head was covered with dandruff and itched like mad all the time. I tried fully a dozen different hair tonics, but they were all the same and never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my home paper of a simple home prescription to make the hair grow that was recommended by a well known physician. It said that by taking ordinary Lavona de Composee and mixing with Bay Rum and Menthol Crystals and aplying to the scalp each night with the finger tips that new hair would grow very rapidly. I decided to try it and I had my druggist mix 2 ounces of the Lavona de Composee with 6 oz. of Bay Rum and ½ oz. of Mentol Crystals and started to use it. My, how quickly my hair did grow. First the hair stopped falling, the itching ceased and the dandruff disappeared. Then tiny hairs appeared all over my scalp. These grew and grew as though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet and while, of course I have used the treatment steadily and expect to continue it, at least until my hair reaches the floor, I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can get long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription as I have recommended it to several and all are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive and any druggist can fill it.

Those who use it should be careful not to get it on the face or where the hair is not desired.

Lindsay Woman' Adjudged Insane

Found Conditions in Scugogville Too Slow—Mind Became Affected.

LINDSAY, Feb. 11.—There was considerable interest in the police court case, when an investigation was conducted into the state of affairs which were supposed to exist in connection with the unfortunate Chinese woman, Mrs. Lee. A large number of witnesses were examined ,but little information of importance gleaned as far as the local authorities were concerned. The main fact established was that sufficient evidence was secured to warrant the magistrate in committing the woman to an institution for the insane. According to the crown attorney, the presiding magistrate and Barrister O'Connor not a ttitle of evidence was forthcoming to show that the woman was in any way ill-treated by her husband, or any one else; not a whit of evidence to show that immoral conditions existed. On the other hand it was established that the husband was legally such, a certificate of marriage having been produced, that his first wife died some seven or eight years ago, that he paid every attention possible to his wife, was devoted to her and the children and the personification of kindness at all times. Further that he had done everything possible to take care of a trying situation and had gone to the trouble and expense of purchasing tickets for passage to China for himself, his wife, two children and his nephew.

As a result of the investigation it was also established that there was absolutely no foundation or ground for a hundred and one false rumors that have been going the rounds, and because of this fact the crown attorney roundly scored the conveyors of gossip and idle rumors, which had in this case proven so detrimental.—Lindsay Warder.

Mosquitoes Dyed to Aid In War on Malaria at Air Field

Movements of Pests as Disease Purveyers Studied in the Light of Distance Travelled After Being "Painted"—Mianows Trained to Eat "Wiggle Tails."

NEW ORLEANS, Jan — Thirty thousand painted mosquitoes and myriads of minnows "trained" to eat "wiggle-tails," were part of the paraphernalia used by the federal health authorities to rid the rice fields about the aviation camp at Lonoke, Ark., of malaria influences, Major J. C. Geiger, of the United States Public Health Service, told Dr. Oscar Dowling, head of the Louisiana health forces.

Dr. Dowling had requested Major Geiger to try to enlist the aid of the federal government to rid Plaquemines and St. Bernard parishes of the mosquito pest.

Major Geiger explained that he was not telling a joke story, although he admitted over Dr. Dowling's "conscientious objection" that the minnows had not been "trained" to eat the "wiggle-tails" after the ordinary fashion of animal trainers . They had been "trained" by the ordinary evolutionary processes which control biological developments.

But getting back to the painted mosquitoes, these 30,000 pesky, pinprodding, pestiferous plague spreaders really were painted by the health forces under Major Geiger—some red and some blue. The colors were not chosen to stimulate the patriotism of the inhabitants of the Lonoke rice fields. The health men merely wanted to find out just how far a mosquito would fly in order to get in his fiendish work. And the 30,000 mosquitoes were dyed in vivid colors for identification and then released. forty-eight hours later a search for the dyed specimens was instituted, and it was discovered that they were spreading in every direction. Some of them were found a mile from the point of release ten days after they were set free.

"And how did you paint the mosquitoes?" Dr. Geiger was asked.

"Oh, we put them in lamp chimneys, surrounded them with gauze. Of course they would try and keep toward the top. A stiff blow of the breath would drive them towards the bottom where they would be met with a dyed spray from an atomizer."

ANNUAL SUPPER OF THE TEMPLE BAND

The annual supper of the Temple Band was held last night, about 180 were present. The Temple was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Supper was served at 7:30 p.m. after which a few speeches were made by Adjutant Bunton ,the Band officers and a representative from every branch of the local Corps. Our absent Bandsmen who are still overseas were not forgotten; special reference was made of these Bandsmen by every speaker. It was the general opion of those present that 1919 would be one of the best years in the Band's history.

Warden of Peterboro County Attended Meeting of Children's Aid Society for the First Time

Warden John McIntosh Gave the Committee a Pleasant Surprise —Promised to Come Again— Regular Meeting.

ACCOUNTS PASSED

Yesterday, for the first time in the history of the Children's Aid Society the Warden of the County, who is annually appointed to the Board, attended the regular meeting of the Society.

On entering the room Warden John McIntosh was warmly applauded and welcomed by the secretary, Mr. Joseph Wearing, and on leaving at the conclusion of the meeting, expressed his appreciation of the business-like manner in which the work is undertaken, and promised that though yesterday was his first appearance it would not be his last.

Board Organized.

The board organized for the year's work at the meeting and appointed the following committees:

Purchasing committee—Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, Mrs. Walter Stocker, the President and Secretary.

Finance committee—Adjutant Buntin, Alderman Edgar, and Rev. C. J. Phelan.

Garden committee to look after the arrangements for the garden at the Shelter, also report of the plumbing—Chief Thompson, Mr. Medd and Ald. Edgar.

Juvenile Court.

Mr. Powell reported that Judge Huycke had made an offer to assume without remuneration, the office of Judge of the juvenile court. No action was taken in the matter.

Detention Room.

In presenting his report the Agent, Mr. G. W. Powell, spoke of considerable trouble the matron had experienced recently through an incorrigible boy sent to the Shelter. The boy who was quite unmanageable, had to be sent to the police station, as there was no proper place at the Shelter for him. On his request for a detention room at the Shelter, the Garden committee was instructed to look into the matter and report.

Agent's Report.

The agent reported 8 applications for children during the month, 2 children brought in not wards, 1 sent to the Industrial school, 2 wards placed out, and 3 returned to the Shelter.

Members Present.

The members present at the meeting were Mr. E. A. Peck, Rev. C. J. Phelan, Adjutant Buntin, Mr. G. W. Powell, Chief Thompson, Mr. S. T. Medd, Mr. J. Wearing, Dr. King, Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, Mrs. W. A. Sanderson, Mrs. Stocker, Mrs. Hopwood, Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Kimberly.

A FORMER MOVING PICTURE ACTRESS WILL STAR IN "THE OTHER MAN'S WIFE"

Dorothy La Vern, seen in several Vitagraph and Famous Players pictures, has returned to the spoken drama and will be seen as the star in "The Other Man's Wife," which comes to the Grand next Saturday afternoon and evening. The play deals with the "divorce evil" and the equality of woman. The cast presenting it are exceptional, and include Howard Walsh, Dorothy Russell, Eugene Webber, Marie Reid and Tom Austin, which aggregation speaks for itself.

The play was staged personally by the author, Victor Emanuel Lambert. The cast selected are true types to bear in the story, and the play, that ran for six solid months at the Republic Theatre, New York, will be presented here in its entirety.

Will Not Renew Billiard License

Boys in Short Pants Said to Frequent Premises.

LINDSAY, Feb. 12.—The question of the renewal of the local billiard licenses came up for consideration at the Town Council meeting and an informal discussion took place.

Ald. Coombs, chairman of Police, told of complaints to the effect that boys in short pants were frequenters. He did not believe that the windows should be covered. These places should be exposed to the public view.

One of the licenses referred to particularly was that granted to the Shoe Shine parlour in which it was understood a Peterborough man was interested.

It was decided by the committee on motion of Mayor McLean and Ald. Horn that the chairman notify the proprietor that his license would not be renewed. Should he dispose of the business the question of renewal would be favourably considered if party purchasing was desirable one

Music & Drama

"A LITTLE MOTHER"

In the leading role of the new four act drama "A Little Mother" Mr. Oscar O'Shea, an old Peterboro boy made a splendid impression on an audience which made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers at the Grand Opera House last night. Mr. O'Shea is an actor in every sense of the word and his appearance was greeted with great enthusiasm. His delimiation of an old gentleman the character he portrayed, was excellent. Mr. O'Shea is supported by a cast of talented actors amongst whom there is no weak character. The play itself is filled with human interest brought to date by the events of the past four years and embodies a pleasing love story. A strong vein of pathos and humor runs through the whole production making it a play really worth seeing.

The aim of the play is to bring home to all the most important question of "war babies," and in doing so, the play is most successful. Mistaken interference, to which can be attributed many of the present day domestic tragedies, was never so forcibly demonstrated as in the play last night.

Mrs. W. H. Gibbs Presented the Report of Recent Conference

Social Welfare Congress Was Largely Attended—Report to Peterboro Society.

Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, who as delegate for the Children's Aid Society attended the recent Social Welfare Conference in Toronto, read the following interesting account of the conference at the meeting held yesterday afternoon:

The Social Welfare Congress opened with hundreds of representatives from all parts of Canada. It was held in the Guild Room, Toronto, on January 14, 15, 16, 1919.

The part I was most interested in was child welfare, in which I give a short report on the different papers.

On Tuesday at 2.30 the meeting opened with Mr. Harkness of Winnipeg, in the chair. In his address he said: We are not at the beginning of this agitation. Such a bureau has been advocated for years, especially by women's organizations, but Canada as a whole is now taking a deeper interest and beginning to place the emphasis on preventive rather than remedial measures. As to the illegitimate child he hoped to see the day when the phrase would be banned from the language.

Allowances For Dependent Mothers.

Mr. Falk claimed there were four classes to whom he would not have the allowance apply. First, the deserted woman, because she not infrequently contributed to her husband's delinquency. The woman whose husband is in jail, where he should be made to work to support her and his family, and for the case of the unmarried mother. The father should be brought to book. In Manitoba he certainly is. Why not here? We have a case now. It is hard to force the relatives of the woman or girl to recognize their responsibility.

Then there was the organization which looks after the inspection of children's foster homes. Mr. Bryce suggested that some means be taken to indicate to the public the real function of the juvenile courts, stating that there were only six juvenile courts in Ontario. He also urged that public opinion be sought in favour of increasing the funds of the C.A.S. and thus increasing the efficiency of that organization.

The Feeble Minded.

Dr. Hincks, who spoke on "Feeble Minded," in giving evidence of his observation in Public schools, said he had examined 10,000 children. Approximately 2 per cent. were not fitted for ordinary Public school classes, owing to the fact that feeble-minded children could not pass into higher grades in a period of 2 1-2 years; were 761 feeble-minded children convicted of thefts, 234 unmarried mothers who were mentally deficient, 231 guilty of immorality, 86 of whom were under 16 years of age. The influence of intermarriage upon mentality was a serious thing, as he had seen a family, a man, wife and 6 children, all feeble-minded, ages from 3 to 12 years of age. Surely this is a case where the government is to blame. They are not fit for Children's Shelter or detention homes. What is needed is a home for feeble-minded. Dr. Hincks was a committee to wait upon the government to lay the blame. "We will give it our serious consideration," was the answer the committee received.

Child Labour.

Miss Whitton gave a splendid paper on Child Labour. Statistics being unavailable in Canada, those from the United States were used and a compromise made. In Canada there has been shown a heavy tendency on the part of parents, children and employers to apply for permits to work in factories for women and children, with a persistent tendency to ask for permits for children under 14 years of age. The census for 1911 showed males of 10 to 14 years of age to be 74 per cent. of the total, and females 213 per cent. 3 times as many little girls as boys.

Child Welfare Week.

Mr. Stapleton gave valuable suggestions as to organization of child welfare week. The object of these demonstrations is to transfer to the many the knowledge possessed by the few. Child welfare is not merely a matter of health, but also of recreation, education and moral training. He also suggested co-operation with all agencies in the community, churches, Sunday schools, women's organizations and the like.

There were many more good papers for child welfare which I may take up again and not infringe too much and take up too much time.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

FRANCHISE ACT IS LIKELY TO BE MOST CONTENTIOUS POINT

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—Although Parliament does not open for ten days yet, the western members are already arriving in the city. Yesterday's morning train saw the arrival of four western members, while several others are already in the city. Those who arrived yesterday were: W. J. Blair, Battle River; H. M. Shaw, McLeod; H. D. Halliday, Bow River; and W. Argue, Swift Current.

Despite rumours to the contrary, there are no evidences that the Western Unionist members propose to go on the rampage against the Government. On the contrary, it looks as if the Government will have to rely largely on the West, as last session, for its most dependable support.

While the Western members are anxious for tariff reductions and will urge particularly upon the Cabinet free agricultural implements, they apparently do not propose to embarrass the Government, and are willing until peace is signed to allow the question to stand.

The two most troublesome problems the Government will have to face for the session are the tariff and the War Time Elections Act. The Government is being overwhelmed with petitions from veterans' organizations, demanding that the Act remain in force, or, if it is repealed, that it should be replaced by an Act as drastic as far as aliens are concerned. As the War Time Elections Act becomes inoperative as soon as demobilization is completed, it would seem needless to repeal it. However, in any case there will have to be a new Act, and this promises to be the session.

Citizens May Be Permitted to Go Into Hog Raising Industry

Matter Was Discussed at Last Night's Meeting of the Board of Health—A Restriction for the Farmers.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL

The local Board of Health sat long and gravely last night discussing chiefly the correct dimensions of a citizen's ash can. Sanitary Inspector Stapleton brought the matter before the board asking that the citizens be compelled to put a large receptacle in waiting for the garbage man who does not want to be bothered with two or three journeys after the week's ashes when one trip would do. Open receptacles for garbage were also objected to by the Sanitary Inspector, he alleging that many a hound in the city depends on the garbage can for a living.

"I know dogs that can get in a gate as handy as a man," went on the Inspector.

"Maybe they can get in a bank," said Chairman Buller, with a long face.

Mr. Buller was just on the point of telling the Board that they had no authority to dictate to the people what size their refuse receptacle was to be when it was discovered that a city by-law covered the point, also regulating the drainage and the screening of garbage, and the Sanitary Inspector will accordingly enforce it.

The Worthy Hog.

The question of keeping pigs within the city limits provoked another half-hour's oratory.

"Should we allow the citizens to have pigs?" asked Mr. Stapleton.

"Sure," chimed in ex-Ald. Harry Morgan. "I am going to grow a hog or two myself."

The Sanitary Inspector and Dr. C. H. Amys, M.O.H., like Dumas' musketeers, stuck together through thick and thin, contending that the pig is a menace to public health. The doctor finally conceded a pig to a citizen. The discussion graduated into the healthful propensities of chickens and poultry in general, but the matter of pigs was finally allowed to be dropped and left in the hands of Dr. Amys, who not being a friend of the noble animal, will likely either abolish the porker a back yard ornament or allow one pig to a citizen so that the refuse can be disposed of, and the larder be replenished with fresh pork.

Mr. Stapleton mentioned the disgusting habit that residests of the adjoining townships have when they come to the city on market days to sell their produce.

"The cuspidors around the stoves are not large enough. They need to be tubs," said the Inspector.

The stairs are also used as a cuspidor and Mr. Stapleton said that it was not pleasant for a lady to have her skirts dragging in it. He did not explain to the Board how ladies' skirts in these days of abbreviation could touch the stairs. The Board thought that it was a good point, and visitors to the market hall next Saturday will see posters warning the male section that no spitting or smoking is allowed. The police will be asked to see that the posters are obeyed to the letter.

Free Treatment.

Dr. Amys asked that the children of St. Vincent's Orphanage be allowed free treatment in the Isolation hospital. It has been the custom for years past to treat the wards of the Children's Aid Society, and the doctor thought that this privilege should be extended to the children of St Vincent's.

Ex-Mayor Buller here recalled some of the arguments that affected the council when he occupied the red plush chair and thought that as St Vincent's is an institution which takes care of children from all over the province, that the municipalities in which the children formerly resided should pay for any treatment given them at the isolation hospital.

A compromise was made, and the wards of either institution who formerly resided in townships bordering on the city will be treated free of charge. Other municipalities will be asked to pay for treatment of their residents.

Support the Hospital.

This resolution started the board on another train of thought, and Dr. Amys moved that Smith, Otonabee, North Monaghan and Dourc the townships that adjoin the city should be asked to send a committee to make an agreement with the city respecting the maintenance of the isolation hospital. The M.O.H. thought that the only fair basis would be to allow the adjoining townships to support the hospital on the per capita basis and indigent cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria would be treated free of charge. The city would still maintain control of the hospital and in case of any other agreement with the townships they might claim a share in its management.

An application was received from Miss Alice M. Price for the position of acting matron of the Queen Mary Hospital at an annual salary of $700. The appointment has already been made provisionally, and the Board but needed to confirm it, which was done on motion of Dr. Amys, and seconded by Mr. Morgan.

Hospital Report.

There were four scarlet fever patients in the hospital at the ebginninge of the year and during the month of January 3 scarlet fever patients were admitted and 16 diphtheria cases. There were 23 patients in the hospital during the month, four of whom have been discharged. No deaths occurred in the hospital during January.

The Repatriation Committee

From cub reporter to second in command within the space of four years, is a summary of the brilliant military career of Major Beresford Topp, D.S.O., M.C., with a bar, formerly on the reportorial staff of the Mail and Empire, and now on his way to London, England, to represent the Information Branch of the Repatriation Committee.

Major Topp was born in the town of Bracebridge, amid the rocks of Muskoka. The son of a physician, he was educated at the public and high schools of his native town, went to Toronto to train as a newspaper man, although his home suggestion was that he should be a doctor.

He was making his way as a writer when the war broke out and he was assigned the task of covering Valcartier Camp by Murdock McDonald, the city editor of the Mail and Empire.

When the first division left Valcartier Camp he went overseas with it, and acted as war correspondent for his paper, till his blood was so fired by the conflict that he ceased writing and became a combatant on June 3, 1915.

He carried on as a fighter till August, 1915, when he returned to Canada, and took out a commission in the 42nd Battalion, the Fifth Royal Highlanders of Montreal, under Lieut.-Colonel George S. Cantlie, with which regiment he served until the end of the war.

After gettin ghis commission in Canada, he returned to England, and took a special course with the Grenadier Guards, Chelsea Barracks.

Thereafter he was attached to the 17th Reserve Battalion, C.E.F., as a full-fledged combatant officer.

He carries three gold stripes on his left sleeve. He was wounded in July 1916, at the Ypres Salient, and agan at the Battle of the Somme in October, 1916, which kept him in hospital for three months, and the third time at Cambrai in September, 1918, which put him out of action for seven weeks.

His rank was that of a Lieutenant beginning with the 42nd Battalion. He was made a Captain in October, 1916. He got his acting Majority in May, 1917, which was confirmed early in 1918.

He does not seem to know just why he got his decorations of D.S.O., and M. C., but the scrap at Amiens on August 8th, when he was second in command of the 42nd Battalion, preceded his getting the D.S.O. He received the Military Cross for the excellent work he did in June, 1918, and the Bar to the Military Cross followed his fighting at the Cambrai show.

Major Topp has quite recovered from his three wounds and at the age of twenty-five, is in prime condition to carry on as an important official in connection with the Repatriation programme, which aims to demobilize Canadian soldiers and aid in re-adjusting industrial and commercial conditions in Canada. His war service makes him an outstanding figure among Canadian officers, and his experience has fitted him to deal successfully and at first hand with other men who have been at the front.

In London he will be associated with Major Anderson of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Committee, at 6 Hanover Square.

Peterboro Curlers Defeat Visitors in the Eliminating Stage of Waddell Series

Only Local Rinks at the Bonspiel Will Compete for the Waddell Cup and Prize—Dan McCrae, of Gravenhurst, Won Great Game From Coad, of Oshawa.

EXTRA ENDS ARE FREQUENT

Twelve Peterborough rinks this morning won the first stage of the R. M. Waddell trophy competition by defeating an equal number of rinks representing the visiting curlers. The total score was 139 to 118. As a result of this preliminary contest, the Waddell competition is now confined to local rinks participating in the Bonspiel. Had the visiting rinks won, the local curlers would have been excluded from the major section of this series, and only the visiting rinks would have been entered in the draw which is based on the result of this morning's games.

At Charlotte St.

G. H. Giroux, 10; Dr. Harvie, Orillia, 9.

R. P. Best, 8; F. J. Smith, Campbellford, 11.

W. G. Morrow, 16; W. Delany, Cobourg, 5.

J. W. McDermid, 12; T. D. McCullough, Port Hope, 16.

T. Brightman, 21; J. J. Moore, Keene, 4.

P. D. Fitzgerald, 8; J. D. Flavelle, Lindsay, 7.

D. Davidson, 12; L. O. Clifford, Oshawa, 7.

At Brock St.

J. E. A. Fitzgerald, 8; H. McCallum, Fenelon Falls, 15.

W. J. Oke, 8; H. W. Sanders, Stouffville, 10.

R. Hicks, 16; L. V. O'Connor, Lindsay, 12.

W. H. Taylor, 7; J. W. Ridpath, Lakefield, 14.

W. M. Lang, 19; A. E. Bottum, Bobcaygeon, 8.

Totals—Peterborough, 139; Visitors, 118.

Can Be Deferred.

Peterborough's victory this morning clears the Bonspiel boards of a tangle that threatened to supervene and create a conflict of competitions that would have delayed the departure of the visiting rinks. Naturally they would have remained to play for this trophy, but the games may be deferred until the Morrow and Matthews-Blackwell series are completed.

Excellent Curling.

Yesterday's play extended into the early hours of this morning. It was three o'clock when the last games were concluded at the Brock street rink. It is the consensus of the curlers that the games have produced exceptionally close and keenly contested plays. Narrow margins in the scores have been the rule, and the loose games have been mere exceptions.

The feature of the Bonspiel thus far was Dan. McCrae's defeat of W. A. Coad of Oshawa by 13-10 in two extra ends at the parent rink last night. Gray-haired, but as active and peppery as the youngest of them, the old Gravenhurst ship displayed wonderful form, and in the tightest corners was as steady as they make them. He simply refused to blow up. With a fine shot he tied the game on the twelfth end, blanked the 13th with a runner through a port that cleared the rings, and came through with another fast one on the 14th that picked out Coad's inner counter and lay three.

The old man, as they call him, was given an ovation by the spectators that remained at 2 a.m., and Mr. Coad was the first to congratulate him.

BONSPIEL NOTES

Delany of Cobourg and Hicks were tied coming home, but the snappy Lakeshore man came through with three for a score of 15—12.

Malcolm of Markham and Wray of Belleville went an extra end when Malcolm retrieved the game with three shots on the twelfth only to lose in the extra by 11 to 10.

The fortunes of curling were illustrated by Bell of Lindsay defeating Fisher of Hastings by 21 to 2 and their dropping his next game to George Benor by 15 to 2.

Pennefather .... ..... 111113— 9
Wightman .... .... .... 1*1242—10

Port Hope—
McCullough .... .... 114121—10
Peterborough—
T. Brightman ..... *111*222*— 9

George Stevenson defeated Stalter of Oshawa in an extra end by 12 to 11; Alderman Taylor came through with three in the 12th end and won his game from Smith of Campbellford by 14-13.

Dr. Harvey and George Morrow tied on the last end, and the Orillia skip notched up two in the extra for a 16-14 score.

In his game with Delany of Cobourg, Pete Lang touched the chalk just once. That was in the tenth end when he scored three. The final was 18-3.

Hicks and Delany were 12 all coming home, but the Cobourg skip hung up three on the final end.

Edmunds of Millbrook trimmed Wray's tankard rink of Belleville in an extra end by 13-10.

In fact the Bonspiel has been replete with close, exciting games, and everybody seems to be more than satisfied. Except perhaps those rinks that have been sequestrated, unintentionally of course, at Brosk street. Angus McIntosh himself states that Jack Meharry produced a fine sheet considering the handicap under which he worked. It was level and true, but the curlers who plugged all day at the hockey rink declared that they were "all in" last night because of the extra effort required to rench the rings.

J. H. Renwick forsook music yesterday to assume the directing of the draws, and the smooth running of the games has been largely due to his management and experience with the Bagnall system.

Winning or losing J. D. Flavelle of Lindsay, is rarely disappointing. Like all good curlers, he has his ups and downs, in other words "gets his bumps," and comes up smiling with a warm handshake for the victor. But however the game may go he invariably injects into it a degree of interest that many a curler fails to arouse, and every time he steps on to a Peterboro ice the gallery crowds around craning its neck to follow his manoeuvres. Yesterday afternoon, he lost a close game to J. C. Strickland, and in the next game crossed brooms with Jack Moore of Keene. Mr. Flavelle was one down coming home, tied up the game with a perfect draw to the centre ring and won out in the extra end by scarcely half an inch. In fact Umpire Angus McIntosh had to lay the measuring stick to three stones hanging about the outer rings to decide the winner.

Mr. Flavelle's popularity with the local Club and the public who follow the games more or less regularly is no doubt partly due to the fact that he is regarded as the Dean of Curling in this district. There may be other veterans who might lay claim to priority of connection with the game, but they lack his outstanding personality. Beyond that point, however, he is to many the embodiment of the highest and finest spirit of the old game, and curling reveals the character of a man as do few other avocations the generality of men follow for relaxation. He has exemplified its best features, and his influence unobstrusively exerted is not his least contribution to the ideals of younger players who have come in contact with him. His sympathy and broad sportsmanship, and at the same time his skill and keenness of play, are emulative qualities, unperceived in their effect, that are the essence and the tradition of curling. This game spans a man's youth and decline. For the intervening years it is both a recreation and an opportunity, and it may be said of Mr. Flavelle, without inclining to fulsomeness, that he has moulded many a younger curler in the fine points and ideals of the game. It is this aspect of his playing that is more widely recognized than mentioned, and the passing reference may not be amiss in the heat of a bonspiel.

Regular Monthly Meeting of the Lakefield Town Council

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 12.— The Lakefield Council met in the council chamber on Monday night, Feb. 10th. The Reeve and Councillors McDonald, Porter and Smith were present.

An application for a $200 grant was received from the Public Library Board and Messrs. D. H. Morrison and C. Thompson were present to support it. On motion the grant was given.

It was resolved to make application to the Federal government through the Federal representative, Mr. J. H. Sexsmith, M.P., that a new dam be built at Lakefield, as the present dam is an unsafe condition and may collapse into the river at any moment, thereby causing the suspension of all industries, but also it would leave the village in total darkness. It is essential that work shall be provided for soldiers who are returning and those unemployed, owing to the closing of munition factories.

It was decided to purchase a second hand chemical engine similar to the one already installed.

Messrs. McDonald and Young were appointed a committee to purchase ladders, etc., for the fire department.

The collector has been authorized to collect all unpaid taxes.

Valentine Tea.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's hurch held their annual Valentine tea in the school room on Tuesday afternoon. The room was suitably decorated with Valentine pictures and cut out hearts, arrows, etc. Miss F. Atwood received the guests, who came in a steady stream all afternoon. Mrs. Northcott and Mrs. Jackson were in charge of the home-made cooking stall. Mrs. Marling the aprons and recipes, and Mrs. Barker and Mrs. W. Watson the candy. Those who assisted in the tea room were Mrs. T. Waldon, Mrs. White, Mrs. Mahood, Mrs. A. Wannamaker and Mrs. Chads.

A special feature was a splendid collection of war curios, in charge of Messrs. Moon and Hampton. The curios attracted a great deal of interest and the table was surrounded all afternoon.

The receipts were far in advance of any previous year and amounted to more than $50

The Young People's Society of the Presbyterian Church gave a Valentine social on Tuesday evening in the School-room of their church. There was a good attendance, and a considerable sum was realized at the door. A long and interesting programme was rendered, after which refreshments were served.

The programme was as follows:
Solo—Miss Reba Preston.
Instrumental solo— Miss Lolon Waldon.
Reading—Miss Mildred Bailey.
Solo—Miss Effie Webster.
Trio (Piano, violin and mandolin) —Miss Hunter, Mrs. Eddie, and Mr. Riddle).
Instrumental solo—Miss Gwendoline Simpson.
Reading—Miss Thomson.
Solo—Mrs. Osborne.
Piano duet—Mrs. J. C. Smith and Miss Burgess.
Reading—Miss Duff.
Solo—Miss Blanche Moore.
Trio (Violin, mandolin and piano) —Mrs. Eddie, Miss Hunter and Mr. Riddle.
Solo—Miss Ethel Miller.
Reading—Mrs. J. H. Sherin.
Solo—Mrs. Osborne.
Solo—Dr. Smith.

Mrs. Quinlan, aged 85 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Redpath, on Tuesday night. Mrs. Quinlan has been an invalid for many years, and death came as a merciful release.

ADDITION TO HEINTZMAN HALL STAFF

Another new salesman has been added to the Heintzman Hall staff, in the person of Mr. Wilfred Lawson late of Toronto. The need of educated ed and resourceful piano salesmen has been most difficult to fill of late years, owing to the war; and Mr. Britton, manager of Heintzman Hall, has experienced difficulty in procuring competent men for the position. He has just secured the services of Mr. Wilfred Lawson, a young and energetic man, who has had several years' practical experience with "Ye Olde Firme" of Heintzman & Co., of Toronto and who also covered an important field for the same firm in Fort William, for over four years. Mr. Lawson will take up residence in Peterborough, as soon as he can procure suitable quarters for his family.

The games Friday night will be: George street vs. Knox, 8.30 o'clock; All Saints' vs. Murray and Park streets 8 o'clock, Trinity vs. St. Paul's 9.30 o'clock.

ARMISTICE TERMS TO BE RENEWED

Marshal Foch is Leaving for Treves to meet the German Delegates.

PARIS, Feb. 12. — Marshal Foch will leave for Treves to-night bearing certain new conditons for the continuation of the armistice. The German commission headed by Mathias Erzberger, is already at Treves.

The committee charged with formally drawing up the additional clauses completed its task last night and submitted its clauses to the Supreme War Council shortly before noon to-day.

Whether or not the German government insists on discussing the new terms, the signatures of the German commissioners will be required before Feb. 17th, when the armistice expires.

IN MEMORIAM

McNAUGHTON—In loving memory of our dear brother, George Wellington McNaughton, who was killed by a stray shell on February 12, 1917, formerly of 93rd Battalion.

Killed in action, our hearts are sore,
For King and Country, we miss him more
His cheerful smile, his loving face,
No one on earth can fill his place.
We loved him, yes no tongue can tell,
How much we loved him and how well,
God loved him too, and thought it best,
To take him to his home of rest.
The blow was bitter, the loss severe,
To part with one we loved so dear,
Our loss is great, we'll not complain,
But hope in Heaven to meet again.

His Sisters.

British Tasks in the Near East

German and Austrian Troops, as Well as Bolsheviki, Cause Trouble Beyond Caspian.

TURKS HARRY ARMENIANS

Natives in Mesopotamia Are Kept Quiet Only by the Presence of Troops.

LONDON.—The vastness of the task before the League of Nations in restoring order in Eastern Europe and Asia is illustrated by the amount of work which a correspondent learned from well-informed sources, the British Army still has to perform.

More than two months after the armistice there are in the region beyond the Caspian inhabitants who do not know yet that the war is over, and have recently been informed that German submarines have sunk 30,000 British troops in the Caspian. As a large number of German and Austrian troops are there as well as a force of Bolsheviki, the British have their hands full in protecting the peaceful tribesmen.

To maintain communication with this force and also to see that the armistice terms are carried out it is necessary to keep other British garrisons in the region north of the Caucasus, while in Cilicia there is still another force. They are needed there especially on account of the Armenians.

The Turks are showing the old truculent spirit toward that unfortunate race. They do not seem to realize that they have been defeated and it is only the convincing presence of the khaki detachments that prevents them from continuing the old system of oppression and extermination.

Further to the south-east in Mesopotamia a considerable part of the expeditionary force remains and will have to remain. Here, after the lapse of centuries, good government has been introduced as the result of war, and it is absolutely necessary, if order is to be maintained, that some civilized nation should hold the reins of power.

The natives are split into many mutually hostile tribes, and even such restraining influence as the Turks used to exercise has been withdrawn. Moreover, the British have in the last three years made great improvements. Basra has been made into a port with every modern facility. Navigation of the rivers has been improved. Hundreds of miles of railway have been constructed. Bagdad has been transformed into a prosperous city, and improvements in irrigation, in addition to the increase in security, have enormously increased agricultural production. If the British were to withdraw all these developments would fall into ruin.

Meanwhile in Eastern Europe the British forces are engaged in international police work and are occupying a number of points, the ultimate ownership of which will be decided by the Peace Conference, but will certainly not be awarded to England. A division of the Saloniki force is thus stationed near Constantinople, and another is garrisoning Dobrudja, in the zone between the Bulgarians and Roumanians. A battalion of the Essex Regiment has taken temporary charge of Scutari, in Northern Albania. A battalion of the Yorkshire and Lancaster Regiment is looking after Fiume, and another of the Honorable Artillery Company is in Northern Tyrol. In addition there are 20,000 British troops in Northern Russia.

British commitments in lesser theatres of the war are, therefore, by no means liquidated. The Government is anxious to reduce them, but it cannot do so until the Peace Conference has decided what is to be done with all these lands, where British detachments alone maintain order.

GRAIN MARKET

GOT RID OF BRONCHITIS.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Oxbow, Alta., writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl, seven years old, had bronchitis and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for her and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

Terms Enemy Hoped to Impose in Event of Victory Over the Allies and the United States

Annexation of Belgium and Northern France, Return of Colonies Restoration of Greek King, Gibraltar to Spain, Egypt to Turkey and Indemnity of $36,000,000,000.

Paris, Feb. 13.—In view of the statement of Friedrich Ebert, German Premier, at the opening of the National Assembly, that if the Entente peace conditions were too hard the German government would refuse to sign the peace treaty, it is interesting to note the conditions Germany would have imposed had she won the war.

I have just obtained a summary of these conditions from a man of integrity and who had documentary evidence of what Germany would have demanded had she been victorious. Here are the terms she would have imposed:—

1.—No truce, no armistice, no cessation of submarine warfare and refusal to listen to any proposal by the Entente as long as a British soldier remained in France or Belgium and until the Germans were actually in or just outside Paris.

2.—Annexation of Belgium and the Flemish coast as far as Calais, but with administrative autonomy to Belgian Flanders.

3.—Annexation of the Briey and Longwy basins and of the Toul and Verdun and the districts east thereof.

4.—The return to Germany of all her colonies, including the leasehold on Kiaochau.

5.—In order to insure "freedom of the seas," Great Britain to hand over to Germany all her naval bases and certain coaling stations.

6.—Great Britain to return Gibraltar to Spain.

7.—Great Britain to hand over her entire navy to Germany.

8.—Great Britain to return to Turkey Egypt, the Suez Canal and other territory.

9.—Greece to be re-established under the authority of King Constantine.

11.—Great Britain, France and the United States to pay all the war expenses of Germany, with a minimum amount of $180,000,000,000f. ($36,000,000,000), and immediately to supply Germany with the raw materials she might demand.

12.—France and Belgium to be occupied by German troops at the cost of these countries until all the conditions had been fulfilled.

ADOPT FRENCH VIEW.

PARIS, Feb. 12. — A semi-official statement says: "At the conference of the Commission of the Society of Nations, the American and British delegates decided to adopt the views of France regarding the creation of an international army and fleet."

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards—Receipts were 118 cars, with 2,634 cattle, 158 calves, 1,926 hogs, and 532 sheep and lambs.

A distinct falling off in the average quality of yesterday's offerings accounted for a much slower trade than on any day for two weeks past. There was a heavy run of cattle, which included a too large proportion of poor quality stuff. Choice quality steers and heifers were scarce, but those available sold at good prices, one small lot going at $15.50, and another at $15. But the high price animals were the exception instead of the rule yesterday. Choice export steers are still wanted.

Hogs firm to 25c. higher.

When the News of Victory Reached Old London

One of the first acts of a joyful populace was the removal of the blackening that for four long years had been painted on the street lamps.

London and all England — aye, and Paris, too—turned on the bright lights. The action is significant in two respects. Firstly, you can't be joyful in gloomy surroundings—and secondly, you can't have blackened bulbs and good light.

Have you bright lights in your home, or factory, or store? Are your lights dulled—not by a war regulation, but by an unseen painter: by the burning out of poor filaments in cheap lamps?

Don't buy poor lamps. Turn on the bright lights—avoid disappointments. Let quality lamps be your choice—let them be Hydro!

Ruth Asks Her Aunt to Visit Her.

CHAPTER CXVIII

Mrs. Clayborne answered Ruth's letter at once.

"I will arrange to spend some time with you. I know you are lonely, but do not allow yourself to give way to your disposition. Go out, see people. Brian will have as good a chance to return as any of the others. Do not get it into your head that anything will happen to him. That would be not only unwise but foolish. I shall start in about two weeks. Until then tell Rachel to take the best of care of you. I wish you would stop working until it is over—yet, perhaps you will feel happier in keeping busy. I enclose a check that you may feel that you can stop work at any time. There is more for you when that is gone."

As Ruth looked at the very sizable check, she knew it would not have been given her if Brian had been with her. She tried to feel grateful to her aunt, but only succeeded in wishing that she could share it with her soldier husband. But that was impossible and each Saturday, until her aunt arrived she had what she called a riot of spending for the coming child whose father was so far away.

She bought the dainty, delicate things her taste dictated, knowing it would be her aunt's wish. She and Rachel did many little things to make the apartment as attractively neat as possible before Mrs. Clayborne should arrive. Then Ruth was really very busy at the shop. She would leave them in another month at the latest, and she determined to put everything in order so that, should she not return, her successor would have no fault to find with unfinished work.

Twice Arthur Mandel gave her tickets to see some popular show, and she had taken friends. Then came a night when he asked her if he might go with her: "I have heard it is an excellent play, and as I have not seen it, it would be a great pleasure to go with you."

There was no real reason why she should refuse, yet Ruth had a distinct guilty feeling when she sat beside him in the theater. That is, she did until he said between the acts:

"I hear that many young women are being sent overseas. Nurses, canteen workers, etc. Haven't I heard you speak of Miss King?"

"Yes—I know a Miss King." I may have spoken of her," Ruth answered, trying vainly to think if she ever had mentioned Mollie's name to him.

"Her name was among those who had sailed as nurses." Then he turned again to the play as the curtain went up

Ruth clenched her hands in the satin of her lap, where they were hidden by the program. So Mollie had also sailed for "Somewhere in France." Would they meet—she and Brian, and would they spend their time together over there, as they had done over here?

Oh, how she wished she were able to find out—wished that she knew someone who would keep her informed.

After the show Mandel asked Ruth to have some supper, but she declined. He was never insistent, but he urged her a little, saying:

"You look tired. It would do you good." But she shook her head and he said no more.

His car was waiting and he took her home. She was thankful to lean back and let him do the talking, although try as she would, she could not concentrate upon what he was telling her.

"Thank you for the pleasant evening," she said when he accompanied her to the elevator.

"I hope I may give you many pleasant evenings," he returned, then lifted his hat and was gone.

Ruth thought fixedly of what he had said about Mollie King. Had she mentioned her before him? She recalled the day down in Washington Square when she and Mandel had been looking after the old house they were to decorate and they had seen Mollie and Brian take the bus. She was almost positive she had not mentioned Mollie's name but so much had happened she might have forgotten. It was the thought that Mollie was on her way to Brian that insisted. Would she be where she could care for him if he were hurt while she—Ruth—could do nothing? Would it have been better if she had given up her work and gone overseas, too?—but she couldn't go—they wouldn't let her. What would a woman who was about to become a mother, do to help wounded soldiers?

She tormented herself, for hours with such questions, finally falling to sleep from sheer exhaustion. In the morning she had another disappointment. Her aunt was slightly ill. It would necessitate putting off her visit for a week. She enclosed another check, and sent her love. She also asked for Mr. Mandel, and wanted to be remembered kindly to him.

Ruth, of course, had no way to know it but Mrs. Clayborne was again building air-castles for her niece—if Brian did not come back.

To-morrow—Brian Junior Appears On the Scene.

Eyes Tired?
If your eyes are tired and overworked; if they itch, ache, burn, or smart, go to any drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and use to bathe the eyes from two to four times a day. You will be surprised at the rest, relief and comfort Bon-Opto brings.
Note: Doctors say Bon-Opto strengthens eyesight 50% in a week's time in many instances.

MOTHER, DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is ofttimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups, plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

TIGHT SKIRTS HIT SCHEDULES.

Keep the Railway Trains Waiting Longer at Stations.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, with scientific accuracy, has found that since women have begun wearing tight skirts the average stopping time at a station is now 17 seconds longer than it was when the skirts were short and roomy around the bottom.

In reply to a complaint of the South Jersey Commuters' Association that the trains were not run on schedule time, the management gave this information and stated that unless the styles in skirts change very soon the running time of the local trains must be lengthened.

TOOK ALL ROUMANIA'S CROPS.

But Germans Left Restored Oil Wells in Good Shape.

NEW YORK.—Major Badu Rimescu of the Roumanian Flying Corps, who has been in service since the beginning of the war, arrived in New York on the French liner Chicago on a mission for his Government, and said that conditions in Roumania at the time he left in December were very bad, the Germans having taken all the crops.

"They destroyed all the railroad bridges and lines so that it was impossible for the Allies to bring in supplies from Constanzia, the port on the Black Sea which is used in normal times," Major Rimescu said. "They will build some wooden trestle bridges now until steel ones can be constructed.

"The oil wells were put in order by the Germans during the two years they occupied Roumania and were reported to be as productive as they ever were before our army destroyed them in the retreat of 1916.

"Roumania has suffered two great misfortunes in this war. First Russia took the grain and maize in 1916 under the promise to pay it back; but the revolution came and all was chaos. Then the Germans came and seized everything.

"There were four divisions of the French Army under the command of General Berthelot and one British division, also under him, when I left Bucharest with Prince Nicholas, the second son of the King, for Paris in December.

"We had to go by automobile to Giurgiu on the Danube, cross the river to Rustchuck, then by train to Constantinople, steamship to Taranto, Italy, and train via Rome to Paris. Prince Nicholas is going to Eton College, England, to be educated."

Simple Way To End Dandruff
There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Sacred Insect.

The Kaiser of the Huns has been compared to the Praying Mantis which "prays with an 'e' instead of an 'a'," and there has seldom been an apter comparison in the history of oratory.

Around this log-legged insect common in Africa, innumerable legends have gathered, and all because it walks along upon four of its six slender ambulatory legs, with its head unlifted and its two remaining forelegs outstretched.

From very ancient times it has been believed that these insects indicated, by the gestures of their forelimbs, the road that a lost wanderer in the desert ought to take. Hence they were called Mantes, or soothsayers. But a still commoner view is that there insects are very religiously inclined. Hence they are known as praying or preaching insects, and are supposed to be habitually engaged in praying to or in praising the Deity.

According to a very ancient legend, St. Francis Xavier, on seeing a Mantis moving slowing along with forelegs raised as if in devotion, desired it to sing the praises of God, which it immediately did in a beautiful canticle!

The ancient Greeks invested this insect with supernatural powers and the Turks and Arabs insist that it always prayers with its face towards Mecca, and so is a devout Mohammedan.

Among the Provencals of Southern France it is known as the Erie Dieu, and Hottentots regard its alighting on a person as a sure sign of saintliness. In other parts of the world it is variously known as the nun, the preacher and the saint, but these wonderful notions have no foundation in fact.

On the contrary, the Mantis is an exceedingly voracious creature. The fore limbs are merely extended in readiness to seize its prey. Once seized, the victim has no power of escape. What those long arms enclose they hold. Their power is great, and they are used not only for grasping prey but for fighting their own kind.

The Poor Mother-in-Law.

A translator of the Bible into the New Guinea tongue wanted a proper idiom for the phrase, "Far be it from me to do this thing." He consulted a learned native, who replied, "I understand. We have the precise idiom; we say: 'May I speak to my mother-in-law before I will do this thing.'" That sounded rather like a joke to the translator, but it wasn't, for in that land of strange taboos one of the unpardonable sins is for a man to open his lips to his wife's mother.

Largest Motor Vessel.

The British twin-screw Diesel-engined vessel Gemapp, which has just been built by a Glasgow shipyard, is, according to the local press, the largest and most powerful motor vessel in the world. It is of 10,000 tons deadweight and has two sets of engines, constructed by Messrs. Harland & Wolff at their Glasgow works. These give a total horse-power of 6,800, which figures represent a very marked progress in this type of vessel.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME
If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.
This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

NEW LAND POLICY.

Various Provinces Are Bound to Do Their Part.

The conddential memorandum relating to land settlement, submitted for consideration to the Inter-Provincial Conference held at Ottawa by the Dominion Government, has been made available for publication. The memorandum does not outline a definitely settled policy on the part of the Dominion Government, but covers proposals the adoption of which, either as a whole or in part, depends in a large measure upon the action of the various Provincial Legislatures. This is clearly indicated by the sub-division of the memorandum into parts such as "general observations," "object of proposed policy," "outline of suggested policy," "notes on some details of settlement plans," etc.

In that section of the memorandum devoted to general and introductory observations the necessity for the adoption of progressive measures looking towards a continued rapid increase in the population of Canada is noted with the remark that "the policies heretofore pursued in an endeavor to secure suitable immigration have become obsolete and largely ineffective."

After referring to the reservation of Crown lands for soldier settlement, the abandoned farms, the millions of acres of wild land the title for which has passed into the hands of the Government, and the past lack of co-operation between the Federal and Provincial Governments as important factors in the problem, the memorandum says:

"Any comprehensive policy adopted with a view to securing a rapid increase in population and the settlement of land, necessarily involves the expenditure of large sums of money and the use of state credit. If Canada is to succeed in competition with other countries in this field of work, the provinces as well as the Dominion must stand prepared to pledge their credit and meet whatever expenditures are required. Any cheese-paring policy will be doomed to failure."

The memorandum then outlines the objects of the proposed land settlement policy as follows:—

1. The development of a nation-wide sentiment in favor of increased agricultural settlement and production.

2. The encouragement of a movement from urban centres to rural centres.

3. The avoidance of overcrowding in our urban centres with a surplus of labor.

4. The securing of suitable settlers in large numbers for our vacant lands, including abandoned farms.

5. The creation of conditions whereby suitable settlers with small means (including tenants) may in the course of time become the owners of their farms.

The memorandum then outlines the suggested policy of land settlements, the main features of which were announced when the inter-provincial conference was in session. In this connection it is suggested that steps should be taken to ascertain the lands available for settlement, and that the provinces as far as possible should have uniform legislation for this purpose. To prevent owners from fixing an unreasonable or inflated selling price for their lands, each province should provide for a special provincial tax on wild lands, abandoned farms and leased farms. It is also suggested that each province should take powers to expropriate lands required for settlement purposes.

The memorandum recommends that the Federal Government should continue to be responsible for the admission of immigrants to Canada. "One of the gravest situations confronting Canada," says the memorandum, "is the necessity for making suitable provision for the flood of British immigration that will move our way as soon as shipping is available. Unless steps are taken to make certain that a large proportion of these immigrants go to the land they will crowd out our large urban centres and bring about conditions of unemployment and unrest that will be exceedingly detrimental to Canada as a whole."

The memorandum assumes "for the purpose of discussion only" that each province desiring to secure Federal co-operation must determine for itself a number of things including: The class of settlers to be assisted; the maximum assistance to be given; the terms upon which such assistance shall be given.

The memorandum assumed that the Federal Government should undertake the securing of settlers from Great Britain and from foreign countries (other than enemy), and that Provincial Governments should take charge of the prospective settler upon arrival in Canada. It is suggested that there should be created a Federal Land Settlement Board, comprising the Minister of Immigration and a representative from each of the provinces. The board should be consultative and advisory, and not administrative. It should meet at least once annually for the purpose of reviewing the working out of any policies that may be adopted for land settlement throughout Canada.

The final suggestion made by the memorandum is that there should be established in connection with the Department of Immigration and Colonization a Social Welfare Bureau to assist in the care of immigrants.

PROGRESSIVE NEW ZEALAND.

Educational Reforms Urged In Part of British Dominion.

For some time past, the New Zealand Educational Institute has been devoting itself with welcome energy, not only to the much-needed work of obtaining educational reforms, but to the still more needed work of preventing the importation of insidious changes into the present system. Foremost amongst reforms the institute places the question of teachers' salaries. At a recent meeting of the Auckland branch, it was urged that the first object aimed at should be "the raising of the status of the teaching profession to an equality in attractiveness with the other professions." The issue is, of course, one which is as old as the teaching profession itself, and almost as widely diffused. The policy of paying the teacher the absolute minimum; of strenuously opposing all attempts on his part to improve his position, and of nearly always preferring to lower the standard rather than increase the remuneration is a policy only too familiar to the student of the question in almost every country.

Such a statement, indeed, until quite recently at any rate, would have been true, almost everywhere, of the general attitude toward education as a whole. Thus, discussing the matter at Auckland, recently, Mr. J. L. Hanna, Minister of Education, declared that ministers for education, throughout the Empire, who asked for increased appropriations were always met with the argument that their department was not a revenue-producing one like the railways, post, telegraphs, and so on. Such an argument, of course, cannot be seriously maintained for a moment. As Mr. Hanna did not fail to point out, there is, on the contrary, no department in the public service, receiving financial assistance, which presents such a splendid investment to the state as that of education, for it is really the foundation of success in every trade and industry. The aim should be, indeed, to obtain the very best that can be procured in the way of teachers; to raise the standard far above its present level, and to offer such just inducements as will attract to this work, the importance of which cannot be overestimated, the best teaching abilities in the country. It is because the New Zealand Educational Institute recognizes these facts, and is striving to bring about their realization, that its efforts are so eminently deserving of all support.

Equally deserving of support are its efforts to prevent the importation into the present secular system of primary education any taint of denominationalism. There can be no doubt that a very strong effort is being made in certain quarters to bring about such a change, and the effort has already succeeded to the extent that the Government, some time ago, was induced to make grants for scholarships in denominational schools. Against this system the Educational Institute made vigorous protest, at the time pointing out the grave danger to the national system which such grants involved, and urging the Government to take immediate steps in the direction of making it illegal for any Government grants to be paid, directly or indirectly, to denominational schools. The protest was as timely as it was justified. Such a tendency should, of course, be checked at once. Nowhere, indeed, is the need for watchfulness against retrograde policies more urgent today than in the question of education, and the New Zealand Educational Institute is doing a great service by making insistence on true progression and watchfulness against retrogression the principal points in its policy.

The French Academy.

The French Academy is the oldest of five academies constituting the Institute of France, having been founded in 1635. It is composed of 40 members elected for life and known as the "Forty Immortals." They rank as the leading Frenchmen of their time in literature. Their judgment and decisions in all disputed literary matters are final.

Specks Floating Before His Eyes

When specks start to float before the eyes, when everything turns black for a few seconds and you feel as if you were going to faint, you may rest assured that your liver is not working properly.

The essential thing to do in all cases where the liver is slow, lazy or torpid, is to stir it up by the use of a medicine that will clear away all the waste and poisonous matter from the system, and prevent as well as cure all the troubles arising from this accumulated mass which has collected in the system.

Keep the bowels open by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no liver trouble of any kind. They will clear away all the waste and effete matter which has collected and make the liver active and working properly.

Mr. John R. Morrison, Grand River Falls, N.S., writes: "Several months ago I was troubled with a sour stomach, and had specks floating before my eyes. I took five vials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which cured and cleaned my blood before any length of time. I told my friends about it and they got some, and they, too, find themselves different since they took them. I recommend your pills very highly."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Few People Know How to Make Tea!

One is served "boiled" Tea, "second-hand" Tea, and flavoured water; rarely does one obtain that real Tea—tasty Tea," that has been called the "Nectar of the Gods."

The way to get it is to buy Lipton's Tea and follow these directions in making it:

1—Always use an earthenware or china teapot.
2—Thoroughly warm the teapot by rinsing with hot water.
3—Put enough tea into the pot to suit requirements. Two teaspoonfuls of Lipton's is ample for five cups.
4—Always use freshly-drawn water, and have it briskly boiling when poured on the tea.
5—Allow the tea to stand not longer than five minutes.
6—Add cream and sugar to suit taste.

But be sure to get Lipton's, because it is the only GUARANTEED QUALITY TEA. Grown, blended, packed, and sold by the same firm.

No other firm can give this guarantee.

FOR BABY'S TENDER SKIN...

A child's skin is tender as well as beautiful and eczema may be caused by chafing of clothing, the use of poor soap, exposure to cold or sudden change of temperature. Probably no treatment for eczema has ever proven so successful as Dr. Chase's Ointment, and this applies particularly to baby eczema. This ointment is delightfully soothing, stops the itching and consequently prevents scratching. Gradually the sores are healed up and the skin is left soft and velvety.

NATION-WIDE STRIKE CONSIDERED IN U.S. AGAINST PROHIBITION.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. — The Central Federated Union, representing three hundred thousand New York labor men, have decided unanimously to submit to the affiated unions the question whether or not they shall strike in opposition to nation-wide prohibition.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro phosphate, which is inexpensive and sold by McDermid & Jury in Peterboro and most all druggists under a guarantee of entire satisfaction or your money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION.—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh

To Keep Your Skin Free From Hairs

(Beauty Topics.)

If your are willing to spend a few minutes' time in your room using a delatone paste, you can easily banish any ugly, hairy growth without discomfort or injury. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is then spread over the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. You will not be disappointed with this treatment, providing you get real delatone.

Princess Pat Engaged.

The engagement was officially announced on Dec. 27th in the Court Circular of Princess Patricia of Connaught to Commander Hon. Alexander Ramsay. The event is of the deepest interest to the British nation, as the princess has been more prominently before the public than any other princess of the House of Windsor and is a great favorite wherever she goes.

In 1906 it was reported, without foundation, that she was engaged to Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch of Russia. Commander Ramsay is the son of the thirteenth Earl of Dalhousie, and is 37 years old. He has had a distinguished naval career and served in the Dardanelles in 1914, winning the Distinguished Service Order.

The engagement of Princess Patricia, known to her intimates as Princess "Pat," to Commander Ramsay is one of widespread interest. In Canada she endeared herself to the people while her father, the Duke of Connaught, was Governor-General, and the Canadian Light Infantry, which bore her name and carried her colors to the battlefields of France, won fame. She is honorary colonel in chief of the regiment.

Several times the princess has been reported betrothed, but on each occasion denials were forthcoming of the truth of the reports. The King of Spain, Lord Anglesey, the Count of Turin, and Grand Duke Michael of Russia were some of the men to whom the princess was said to be engaged.

She is now in her early thirties. She is a handsome young woman with great spirit and a keen sense of humor, and an ardent devotee of outdoor sports, too, she has had that little atmosphere of romance which rouses sentiment. England idolizes her, and some have called her "the Fairy Princess."

DO YOUR EARS RING? HAVE YOU CATARRH?

A buzzing noise in the head is the beginning of chronic Catarrh. If not checked the result is deafness. A simple remedy that many physicians advise is to slowly inhale Catarrhozone a few times each day. The soothing vapour of Catarrhozone cures the Catarrhal condition, and hearing improves at once. Head noises, buzzing ears are cured. For Catarrhal deafness, throat, nose and lung Catarrh, there is probably no remedy so efficient. The large one dollar outfit lasts two months and is guaranteed; small size 50c.; trial size, 25c. Sold everywhere by dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

So He Passed.

Among the wounded brought into the ward was a young Billjim whom we knew at once was soon going west. He was quite conscious, and an Australian sister set herself to make his last few hours on this planet as comfortable as possible. He wanted to be wrapped up with pillows, and to do this the nurse said: "Put your arms around my shoulders so that I can raise you gently." "You bet your life, sister," whispered the irrepressible lad with a smile; "it's a long, long time since I had my arms around a dinkum Aussie girl." And then he ended his great crusade.

FLED FROM ARMORED CARS

Bedouins in Wild Confusion When the British Forces Made Use of "Tanks" in Desert.

The appearance of armored cars in the desert struck terror in Senussi hearts, and the whole country was soon covered with men and camels trekking off to the southwest. On getting through the camp the cars went on independently, shooting all loaded camels and men within reach. Two of these camels carried mixed loads of petrol and high explosive shell. The perforated petrol cans caught fire, and the shells exploded, which made the camp followers fall on their knees, beat the ground with their foreheads, and call on Allah's aid.

"The Turkish gunners stuck to their guns like good men. When we passed them without killing them they turned round and continued firing at us, so that we had to go back and finish them," one of the officers told me. The cars collected three mountain guns and nine machine guns with a quarter million rounds of small-arm ammunition and several boxes of shell. Two of the cars stood by all night to protect the captures, and the remainder retraced their tracks to Sollum, to find our infantry in occupation. The Senussi did not venture on Axiss again. —From "The Desert Campaigns." by W. T. Massey.

STRATFORD, Feb. 11.—On information laid by License Inspector Elliott of this city, together with Inspector White, of Walkerton, Burkhardt Bender, a Perth County man, was fined $500 and $29.25 costs for having liquor in other than his private dwelling-house.

Bender was located at the home of his son, about six miles from Mildmay, with a barrel of whiskey loaded on a wagon, which, it is alleged, he intended to bring into Perth County. He pleaded not guilty at Walkerton, but was convicted.

DREADED NEURALGIA

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or the face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The cause being the same, the care to be effective must be the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but you can only cure the trouble by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose we know of no medicine that can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich blood and thus act as the most efficient of nerve tonics. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and see how speedily you will be restored to good health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A NEW FAD.

Big War Developed a Passion for Maps.

The war has fixed upon the inquisitive part of the Canadian public a strange interest in maps. Many of us may almost be said, indeed, to have acquired an obsession for maps. To display a map of Europe in a shop window is to block traffic, so far as that side of the street is concerned, while the embellishment of eastern France with rows of red and yellow pins is good for a medium-sized riot.

The most studded (as well, I might add, as studied) map in my town was on display in the windows of a drug company. The western front was resplendent with five rows of thumb tacks, each of different hue. A line of black ones showed where the German lines faced the fiery red line of French tacks. Other rows showed points that the Germans had reached on various drives toward Paris.

This map played a vital part in the sidewalk strategy of the town. Before it, separated by only the fragile glass of the window, I knew the village of Fereen-Tardenois to change hands nine different times in a single day. It was a fierce struggle, but when the lights were switched off and the last veteran went home to turn in for the night, the town remained in possession of the Allies. But for that unyielding wall of red tacks, the German army might to-day be clicking its heels in the Champs Elysees.

One morning on resuming their posts for the day the group of map strategists was thrown into consternation by the strange appearance of the French line. From the sea to Pont-a-Mousson the line showed red, but from this point on it was finished out with green tacks. Grave discussion arose over what had happened over night. The dean of the group, a veteran of Chickamauga, held that a new power had come to the aid of the Allies—probably the Barbary States, a portion of the world upon which his thoughts were greatly set just then, he confided to me, through having seen a travelogue film that depicted life in that highly picturesque region. Another ventured the suggestion that the French and American troops held that part of the line jointly. Other strange theories were advanced, but my own notion was that the drug company had run out of red tacks. I instituted a quiet investigation, and sure enough, I found that the code clerk,

Needles.

Needles go through many operations in the course of their manufacture. They are first cut in suitable lengths from coils of steel wire. After a batch of such bits of wire has been cut, they are placed in a furnace, then rolled until perfectly straight. Next, the needle-pointer takes up a dozen or so of the wires and rolls them between his thumb and finger, with their ends on a turning grindstone, first one and then the other being ground. The little steel bobbins are next fed into a machine, which flattens and gutters the heads, after which the eyes are punched. They are now complete needles, but rough and easily bent. Careful heating and sudden cooling give them the necessary temper, and nothing remains but to give them their final polish. On a coarse cloth needles are spread to the number of 40,000 or 50,000. Emery dust is spread over them, oil is sprinkled on, and soft soap daubed over the cloth, which rolled tightly, is thrown into a pot with others; where it rolls about for twelve hours or more. When taken from this friction bath the needles require only a rinsing in clean hot water, when they are ready to be sorted and packed.

Pale Cheeked Women Told About Restoring A Rosy Complexion

A few years ago the girl with pale, drawn cheeks scarcely knew what to do in order to restore her fading appearance. At that time there was no blood-food medium made that really would put colour and strength into systems that were more or less worn out.

To-day it's different. The blood can be quickly nourished, can be made rich, red, and healthy. All you have to do is take two Ferrozone Tablets with a sip or two of water after meals. The effect is almost magical.

Mothers, look at your children. Are they ruddy and strong—do they eat and sleep well, or are they pale, weak, and anaemic?

FERROZONE will rebuild them. Take your own case—is your blood strong and rich? Have you that old-time strength and vigor, or are you somewhat under the weather?

FERROZONE will supply the strengthening elements you require. It is a blood-forming, nourishing tonic that makes every ailing person well.

FERROZONE is a marvellous remedy, it contains in concentrated form certain rare qualities that especially fit it in cases of anaemia, poor colour, thin blood, tiredness, and loss of weight.

Every day you put off using FERROZONE you lose ground. Get it to-day, sold in 50 cent boxes by all dealers, or by mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

HASTENED JOB FOR MINISTER

Youth Couldn't See Any Four Years' Courting If He Had to Visit Girl on Horseback.

Cupid's wings were slightly scorched when the request went forth to leave our automobiles in our garages on Sunday and thus aid in saving fuel, says the Indianapolis News. But a youth in Sullivan county—quite loyal to his country and his sweetheart, too—remembered the days of his father and acted accordingly. When 7 o'clock came he went to the family barn, ignored the presence of his new roadster, took down his father's ancient saddle, put it on one of the plow horses and gallantly rode forth.

But not far did he ride. Either the horse unaccustomed to a rider or the youth to riding did something which irritated the other, for soon the youth was prone in the road and the horse was galloping toward home.

After a while the young man got up from his prostrate position. Dazedly he looked around him. Then he talked to himself: "My father," he said, "asserted that that saddle took him to court mother weekly for more than four years. Well, for myself, I'll say there was something radically wrong with father. If I had to ride on that saddle four years to see Nellie—well, never mind, I'll propose tonight."

He did and Cupid chalked up one against Mr. Garfield.

HER FIVE CHILDREN Had Whooping Cough At the Same Time

Whooping cough is one of the most dangerous diseases of children, especially to those under five years of age. It first starts with a fever and cough, sneezing, watering of the eyes and an irritation of the throat. Later the coughing increases, the child becomes livid in the face, the eyes appear as if they would burst from their sockets and suffocations seems imminent till relief is brought by the "whoop."

On the first sign of whooping cough we would advise the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. This famous remedy will clear the bronchial tubes of the collected mucous and phlegm, and in this way ease the racking cough and in a short time make it disappear entirely.

Mrs. Walter McGaughey, North Rattleford, Sask., writes:—"I have five children, the eldest thirteen and the baby two years old. They all had the whooping cough at the same time. I tried two or three cough remedies, but none gave the same satisfaction as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. A home where there are young children should never be without it. I will highly recommend it to those who want a quick cure."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so be sure you get the genuine by insisting that the package is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. and manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

RENEWING ARMISTICE

Special Commission Will Draft Conditions of An Armistice Which Will Last Until Peace Is Signed.

NEW TERMS

Canadian Press:

BERNE, Feb. 13.—Mathias Erzberger, a member of the German Armistice Commission, will demand that the Allies recognize the new Berlin Government when he meets the Entente chief to negotiate a renewal of the armistice.

The Supreme War Council has decided, says a Havres report, that the armistice with Germany will be renewed on February 17, for a very brief period, with the Allies reserving the rights to suspend it at any time in the event of Germany's failure to carry out the new clauses or those which have hitherto not been executed. It is said the terms will provide that the Germans must cease hostilities against the Poles and, maintain their forces within fixed limits. During the brief period of the renewed armistice, a special commission will definitely draft the conditions of an armistice which will last till the signature of the peace preliminaries. Terms, it is understood, will be communicated to Germany so that the National Assembly at Weimar will have time to deliberate upon them, until the provisional armistice expires.

TAKE UP ARMS AGAIN.

President Wilson, according to a report, is understood to have declared in conversation that a resumption of hostilities was a grave eventuality, to which he would agree only on the most absolutely essential considerations, and not for any secondary motive. The report states that, in Mr. Wilson's opinionfi non-execution of the terms of the armistice by Germany would be an incident of such nature as to justify the resumption of war, and it is said that he would not hesitate in that case to order the American army to take up arms again.

THE NEW TERMS.

United Press:

PARIS, Feb. 13.—The conditions for the renewal of the armistice, which were agreed upon by the Supreme War Council yesterday evening, were believed to-day to include the lessening of the economic pressure and the strengthening of the military pressure on Germany.

While further restrictive measures are expected to be imposed to ensure the Germans carrying out the provisions already enacted, which they are alleged to be evading, it is understood the enemy will be aided in stabelizing internal conditions through a modification of the blockade restriction. The new terms will not be made public, however, until they are presented to the Germans at Treves.

THE TIME TO BUY FURS IS RIGHT NOW

Superior Quality of Hudson Seal Coats Go On Sale To-morrow.

In order to turn over our stock of furs, which has been affected this winter by the unprecedented mild weather, which has continued all through the winter season, we are placing on sale during the next few days every Hudson Seal Coat in our store, at the remarkable price of only $215.00.

There are no new conditions arising that will tend to lower the prices of fur garments for sometime, and it is only the weather conditions of the present season, which are not likely to be duplicated again in a generation, that make it advisable to give these previously unthought-of values in Hudson Seals.

Establishment of Huge and International Military Naval Force Considered

British and American Delegates Are Opposed to French Proposal—Completion of Constitution May be Delayed—International Police Force.

(By Robert J. Bender—United Press).

PARIS, Feb. 13.—The question of the establishment of a huge international military and naval police force under the League of Nations was to be threshed out at to-day's meeting of the League Committee. The proposal is understood to have been submitted by the French. The American and British delegates are said to oppose it.

The belief was expressed that the discussion of this new article might prevent the acceptance of the constitution to-day and thus eliminate the possibility of preventing the draft to the General Peace Congress to-morrow. President Wilson's plan to leave Paris for home to-morrow, in this event would have to be changed. Not only has he been selected to read the constitution at the plenary session but he wishes to take a copy back to the United States with him. A special train had been ordered and every plan made for his departure.

INTERNATIONAL ARMY.

If the committee fails to reach an agreement to-day, however, his going will be postponed until Sunday night.

The proposal for a big international army and navy is said to have been included in one of the two new articles proposed by the French. It is understood they wished to be stationed in France, as a guarantee against future agression by any nation, in the belief that France constitutes the strategic centre of Europe. Previous to the introduction of this plan, a tentative agreement had been reached that no such force was to be formed, and that the League's decisions would be enforced by moral suasion and economic pressure.

MODIFIED PLAN.

There was the widest speculation to-day as to the basis of the report circulated in certain French circles late yesterday that the Americans and British had agreed to the plan for such an international police force. It can be stated on the highest authority that the report is unfounded. Another report said that France had modified its original plan in favour of a military board, which would direct any necessary material operations by the League. This board, which would replace the proposed international army and navy, would keep in touch with political developments and draw on the nearest available troops or fleet to throw a protection screen about a threatened nation.

WILSON PLANS TO RETURN TO FRANCE

(United Press Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 13.—President Wilson in his address to members of the French Association for a Society of Nations at the Murat Palace, indicated he was convinced that the work on the League of Nations will not be completed before his return to the United States.

"I am confident that after my return to France we will celebrate its completion, at least, in its advanced stage," he said.

MARSHAL FOCH WAS TO LEAVE FOR TREVES TO-DAY

Allies Will Not Hesitate to Attack Should Germany Fail to Fulfil Terms of the Armistice.

United Press:

PARIS, Feb. 13.—Marshal Foch was to leave for Treves to-day, carrying with him the new conditions on which the extension of the armistice will be based. It is understood they provide that Germany may obtain food from the Allies after the devastated countries are supplied.

The "Matin" forecast to-day that the armistice will be prolonged indefinitely, that hostilities will be commenced on short notice in the event of the enemy showing any bad faith in carrying out the conditions, and that a dead line will be drawn, beyond which German troops will be forbidden to move toward Poland.

NOW IS TIME TO ACT.

"These resolutions are the logical development of the principles President Wilson enunciated when he agreed to transmit the request for an armistice to the Allies," said the "Matin."

"The President recently stated that 'we will not re-open hostilities for any futile reason, but if we are shown that Germany has refused to conform with the clauses of a just peace, we will not hesitate to attack.' Wilson, like other Allied statesmen, realizes that refusal to execute the terms of the armistice now means the enemy will refuse to carry out the terms of the peace letter. Therefore now is the time to act."

The new terms, it is reported, embrace what will ultimately be an important part of the actual peace treaty.

Ontario Government Will Spend Twenty-five Million Dollars on Public Works

Premier Hearst Announces Huge Expenditure in This Province—One-Fifth for Highways—Over 2 1-2 Millions for North Ontario.

REPAIRS TO PETERBORO NORMAL SCHOOL.

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—Definite announcement was made by Sir William Hearst that the Ontario Government had decided to proceed this year with the expenditure of approximately $25,000,000 on buildings and various construction works. This is a considerable increase over the expenditure forecast by Hon. T. W. McGarry on his speech at St. Catharines on February 8, when the total given by him was 14 millions. The Government is getting these projects under way at once so as to provide employment for the large army of laborers now seeking work. In some cases, preliminary work is already under way and main construction will commence as soon as the weather opens up sufficiently. It is estimated that 39,447 men will be employed on the work during the summer months. This figure does not include the men to be employed by the T. & N. O. Commission and the Hydro-Electric Commission, and this number the Prime Minister said would run into the thousands.

New buildings and repairs to existing Provincial buildings in Toronto will cost $658,500. New buildings and repairs to existing buildings elsewhere in the Province will be: Brockville, $76,800; Hamilton, $70,620; Kingston, $110,000; London, $104,500; Mimico, $80,000; Orillia, $119,650; Penetang, $17,000; Whitby, $482,800; Woodstock, $128,500; Ottawa, $38,550; Normal schools at London Hamilton, North Bay, Peterboro' and Stratford, $20,200 Belleville, $50,000; Brantford, $7,750; Guelph, $12,100; other expenditures under this classification, $139,460. New construction and renairs in northern Ontario districts, it is estimated, will approximate $204,670.

Included in the approximate expenditure of $25,000,000 is $5,000,000 for highway construction, including work on the Provincial highway and on county systems added to by the Province; also $5,000,000 for estimated expenditure this season under the housing scheme for which $11,000,000 is available.

Approximate expenditure in northern Ontario this year totals $2,600,000. This is divided as follows: Roads, buildings and other construction under northern Ontario development branch, $1,250,000; surveys, $100,000; fire ranging, $450,000; construction of locks, dams, bridges, roads, etc., under Public Works Department, $300,000; colonization roads, $500,000.

The T. & N. O. Railway it is estimated, will spend during the season $1,000,000 on buildings, extensions and improvements to the system. The estimates of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario have not yet been definitely decided upon, but the minimum capital expenditure suggested is $9,000,000.

During the season work on the Queenston-Chippawa scheme will be carried out by the Hydro Commission, and it is anticipated that extension works will be carried on at Nipigon, High Falls an other points which will increase the force working under the Commission by a number exceeding 2,000. The T. & N. O. will increase its force by 611. In arriving as the total of 39,447 men for which work will be available, the Prime Minister includes 5,500 now on the permanent staff of the Hydro.

Promises Still More

"Important works in addition to these above outlined are under consideration, and these, if decided on, will entail considerable additional expenditure to that indicated." Sir William continued, "and it is not unlikely that a larger expenditure than above estimated will be made on some of the works already decided on. The Department of Lands, Forests and Mines will also employ a considerable number of men during the spring and summer in fire and forest ranging, surveying, timber cruising and in other work in the North."

"While a number of men are now engaged in highway construction this work will be extended to furnish the greatest amount of labor possible as soon as the weather and other conditions permit," said the Prime Minister. "Repair and renovation work has been started, and it is expected construction will be commenced upon one of the new university buildings within a fortnight. These buildings have been authorized at this time to help the labor situation, and work will be rushed with all possible speed with the object of giving the greatest relief possible. Tenders will be called immediately for certain work outside of Toronto and the whole program will be proceeded with as expeditiously as circumstances will permit."

"In addition to the work above idicated the Government is using every effort to assist and stimulate private industrial concerns," he said.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION

Doubt as to the Power of the Powers That Be at Ottawa.

IN QUEBEC

Special to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—While there are indications that prohibition in the Dominion will not be validated by Parliament without a fight, it is felt here that the cause of the "moderates" is being very seriously impaired by conditions in the only wet province of the Dominion, namely, Quebec. The fact that the military authorities have been forced to take steps to apprehend bootleggers who purvey to soldiers passing through the province, selling poisonous substitutes for liquor, has only served to emphasize the fact that there is still one wet in Canada and to show up by comparison conditions in other provinces which are dry.

Federal Measure.

In the minds of certain legal authorities there is some doubt as to the power of the government to enact complete prohibition in the Dominion. The British North American Act empowers the Federal government to legislate generally for the peace, order and good government of Canada as a whole. The Canada Temperance Act was a Federal measure, but was not completely prohibitory since it left discretion to the municipalities. The present restrictions to all intents and purposes are prohibtory, but were passed under the War Measures Act. If they are to be validated it must be established that they are for the peace, order and good government of Canada as a whole. The fact that trouble is being experienced in Quebec and not in the other dry provinces would appear to be the only justification which the Government requires for at least validating the present restrictions for one year while demobilization and reconstruction is in process. After that a vote will be taken, and with the women voting in all provinces, there would appear to be little doubt as to the result.

Should Be Completed.

There is not at the present time any evidence of strenuous opposition to the prohibitory basis at the coming session. It is rumoured that the official opposition will support whatever measures the Government brings down. In fact it is stated that both in the Commons and Senate there will be men who will go as far as to contend that if prohibition is necessary it should be complete even to the extent of confiscation of stocks existing both in private cellars and elsewhere when the blow falls.

Will Take a Strike Vote

Miners Not Satisfied With the Government Statement.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Miners' Federation of Great Britain, in conference at Southport to-day, decided to take a strike vote, returnable on February 22nd. The Federation yesterday voted to reject the proposals of the Government to meet the miners' demand for a six-hour day and a thirty per cent. increase in wages. The statement on the strike vote declares that "Should the ballot be for a strike, notices will terminate on March 15." The Executive Committee of the Miners' Federation decided by a unanimous vote that the Government reply did not answer any of the miners' demands, and in a statement strongly urged all miners to vote for the stoppage of work until the demands are conceded.

Bolshevik Legate Arrested in Berlin

Radek, a Noted Propagandist, is Arrested by Berlin Police—Is Accused of Starting Riots in Germany.

Canadian Press:

BASLE, Switzerland, Feb. 13.—Karl Radek, the Russian Bolshevik emissary, who has been accused by the German authorities of being an instigator of numerous radical outbreaks in German territory, has been discovered and arrested by the Berlin police, according to a Berlin despatch to-day. His whereabouts had been a mystery for some time.

Sad Awakening For German Officers

Thirty-five guests assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshal O'Heron, on Monday evening, to celebrate the home-coming of their son, Cadet Herb O'Heron, D.C.M., M.M. After a very enjoyable banquet speeches were made by Rev. Dean McColl, Father McGuire and Father Phelan, who congratulated Cadet O'Heron on his safe arrival home. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and euchre. Mr. Herbert O'Heron won the ladies' prize and Mr. William Leahy, the gentleman's.

Blames the Late King

Interview With the Former Crown Prince Now in Exile.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—In one of the most remarkable statements made from the German side since the close of the war, the former Crown Prince blames the late King Edward VII for provoking the conflict. John T. Parkerson, correspondent of the Daily Express, wires an interview with the younger Hohenzollern from his place of exile, Wieringen, Holland

In defending his part in the world's greatest drama, the Crown Prince said: "If you want to know who started the war I will tell you; it was Edward VII. I have talked with him for hours at a time, just as we are talking now. I know perfectly what was in his mind. He did not want to fight Germany; he wanted to squeeze her, but the creation of the Entente was the beginning of the world war. Neither my father nor I began it."

Lieut. Giroux Arrives Home

Well Known Peterboro Boy Pays Flying Visit to His Relatives—Won Commission on Field.

Lieut. Cyril Giroux, M.M., son of Mr. George H. Giroux, and one of the best known Peterboro boys who went overseas, arrived home last evening on a flying visit, although he expects to be home permanently after a few days. Lieut. Giroux came over on the Carmania, and had to go to Toronto on Conducting duty, in charge of a body of troops. He reached Peterboro last night, and has to report at Kingston.

Lieut. Giroux enlisted as a private early in 1915, with the 39th Battalion and after going overseas with that unit, was transferred to the Borden Motor Machine Battery, in which unit he saw long service in France, winning the military medal, and eventually won his commission in the field. He will return to Peterboro in a short time and is sure of a hearty welcome from the citizens generally.

FINAL ADJUSTMENT IS HOPED FOR TO-DAY

Thought That Constitution of League of Nations Will be Completed To-day.

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Feb. 13.—The Commission on Society of Nations resumed its sessions this morning with a full attendance of members. It was hoped to reach a final adjustment at to-day's sitting. It may be possible to submit a programme to the plenary session of the Peace Conference on Friday.

Poles Deny the Report

Berlin Claims That the Poles Have Started An Offensive.

(United Press Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 13.—German reports that the Poles have started an offensive along the eastern frontier were denied in both Polish and French quarters here to-day.

The "Tempa" declared the reports, which were contained in despatches from Berlin, said that skirmishes were under way all along the front and that Polish troops and artillery were concentrating near Bromberg, where they expected to break through into West Prussia and capture the Steinburg Bridgehead.

Other Berlin despatches said the German commander at Danzig had asked for reinforcements to guarantee the safe conduct of American foodstuffs into Poland.

Bolsheviki Are Retiring

Russian Red Were Afraid of Being Cut Off in the Rear.

(Canadian Press.)

ARCHANGEL, Feb. 13. — American reinforcements, marching over thirty miles of forest trails, reached the hard pressed British and Russians in the region of Sredmakrenga yesterday. The result was that Bolsheviki who had been launching strong attacks in this region, retired to the southward, apparently abandoning their offensive move. The Bolsheviki evidently feared that they would be cut off in the rear. Conditions on the other sections of the northern Russian front were unchanged today.

There is a Canadian artillery detachment with these forces.

The Bolshevik force fighting the Allies in Northern Russia comprises 23,000 men, with 151 machine guns, 66 field guns and nine six-inch guns, according to a statement from authoritative quarters here. An attempt is being made to standardize the organization and equipment of the Soviet armies, and schools for officers and aviators have been opened. General Vetritis, Lett, has been appointed commander-in-chief of all Soviet armies. The bread ration of Soviet troops has been reduced from two pounds to one pound daily, information shows, and there are other indications that the Bolshevik are suffering from a food shortage.

The Whatsoever Young Ladies' Bible Class of Trinity Church, will present a home talent play on Friday evening, March 28th. Remember the date and look for further particulars.

BOLSHEVISM HERE.

...quent speech last evening ...union of Peterborough's ...ns to commemorate the ...the 1st Canadian Division ...Secretary Whatley, of the ...branch of the G.W.V.A. ...clear, if any assurance were ...there is no fear of a ...Bolshevism among Can... men. The speaker not ...it plain that there were no ...among the Great War ...emphatically declared ...ada would not allow the Russian doctrine to take hold in Canada. At the same time he asked for the co-operation, not only of all returned soldiers, but of manufacturers and citizens generally, in dealing with the problems arising out of the restoration to civic life of Canada's fighting men, especially in regard to finding employment for the soldiers who have come or are coming back. His reference to the alien question left no doubt as to the feelings of the War Veterans on this subject, as his declaration that no employer should retain an alien on his pay-roll while there were returned soldiers unable to find employment was received with enthusiastic cheers. The whole tone of the address was excellent, and some of the citizens who were present at the re-union as guests of the Veterans went away with a clarified impression of the work that the association is endeavouring to carry out and of the calibre of the men that compose its membership.

AN IMPROVEMENT NEEDED.

The garbage collection system put into force in Peterborough a few years ago had as its object the making of a cleaner and healthier city, and there can be no doubt that admirable results along this line have been achieved. At the same time it cannot be said that the varied types of garbage receptacles that are to be seen on our streets add to the scenic beauty of the city's thoroughfares. Sanitary Inspector Stapleton's complaint in this regard to the Board of Health is well founded, and it is to be hoped that the by-law will be more strictly observed in the future. Although the regulations stipulate that a proper garbage receptacle shall be used, many citizens have persistently ignored this rule, and have utilized old boxes and barrels, many of which are not covered. The result is far from pleasing; and the spectacle of a street lined on both sides with boxes and baskets of garbage, often upset by prowling dogs and with the contents as often as strewn around the sidewalk and lawns, is one that the authorities should lose no time in abolishing as far as possible. The by-law provides for a proper receptacle, tightly covered, and should be enforced unless the people are satisfied with the slovenly appearance that many of the streets present on the days when garbage is collected.

THE CURLING FRATERNITY.

As Peterborough's record bonspiel is rapidly drawing to a close, The Examiner may be permitted to congratulate the local Curling Club on the success of the event, and to say to the visiting curlers from far and near that Peterborough was glad to have them here, is sorry that they cannot all take home prizes, and hopes to see them all again on a similar occasion.

Critics in a pessimistic frame of mind may talk about the energy that they claim is wasted on the curling rink, and complain as they will that the sweeping that has been expended in speeding the progress of the hundreds of curling stones that have glided down the ic here in the past three days would have swept clean all the houses in Peterborough, but these allegations are not allowed by the curling fraternity to interfere in the least with their enjoyment of the grand old game. And if there is wasted energy in the game—which no curler will admit—it is more than made up for by the vast supply of good nature and good fellowship that participation in the pastime places at the disposal of the players. There is no game which so exactingly insists upon a man being a good loser as curling so that is is an education in self-control. Its friendly rivalry, its test of skill and judgment give a new zest to life. The cares of business drop away and in the exciting competition of a bonspiel veterans become as school boys and all is merry—even for the losers.

It is to be hoped that our visitors from east and west, and from north and south, have enjoyed their visit to Peterborough. Some of them have been kept so busy with stone and broom that they have no opportunity to see what a happy and progressive community we have here, but after all they came to Peterborough to curl so that they will in all probability be satisfied if they are occupied at the rinks until it is time to go home. Peterborough has been glad to have them. They are good fellows, old and young, one and all, and they will always be welcome visitors when on curling bent, or simply to renew the acquaintances that have been made at the bonspiel.

ABOLISHING CONSCRIPTION.

"Why not invite Hon. C. J. Doherty to abolish conscription in France, Italy and other portions of Europe, as Mr. Doherty abolished conscription in Quebec?"—Toronto Telegram.

This statement appears in a newspaper which is the daily guide, counsellor and friend of the vast majority of the Conservative pibple of Toronto the Tory.

Many people will say the Telegram is an irresponsible newspaper which finds its inspiration and ideals in the prejudices that have expression in the Queen City. But it is read by some 250,000 to 300,000 people each day, and it speaks to these people, and to a large extent for them.

It accuses the present Union Government through its Minister of Justice, Hon. C. J. Doherty, of having "abolished" the Military Service Act in Quebec.

It charges at least by reasonable inference, that in so far as conscription was concerned Union Government permitted a Minister to stand in the way of the enlistment of Quebec by-law.

It damns the Military Service Act as a weapon of politics rather than of patriotism, and it shows up the whole nauseating burlesque of shouting for Quebec to do its share and then permitting Quebec to escape at the expense of Ontario and the other English-speaking provinces.

According to the Toronto Telegram, which supported conscription tooth and nail, and did so much more honestly than many other papers, the Military Service Act was operated in such a manner by the Minister of Justice as to permit Quebec to escape its bounden duty, while the other provinces faced a rigid enforcement of the Act, and poured out almost the last of their youthful blood for the cause.

Can the Telegram establish such a charge? It may have heard the final figures as to the results in men from the province of Quebec, or it may be reasonably certain that Quebec was not made to face the issue, and was permitted to dodge service.

Certainly a great many young men of Quebec are now coming out of the woods, paying a $5 fine and securing freedom. Ontario men are being sent to penitentiaries for ten years. Merely carrying out the contrast, no doubt.

Sir Robert Borden is about to go down among the gentle Bolsheviki; his Minister of Justice is handling the affairs of the world rather than of Canada. The figures as to Quebec's total enrollment have to await his return. Upon the showing Quebec may make as compared with the other provinces will depend a great deal.

If Quebec is shown to have escaped through the weak enforcement of the Act another great stain will be smeared over the record of the Government that called upon the country to vote conscription in the name of blood shed in France—and then, according to its own press, exempted a province from service because it lacked courage or could not enforce the Act said to be specially designed to secure the service of a reluctant manhood.

The Advertiser is no defender of the man who shirked his duty during the war. It has always felt that in view of the impossibility of a real union of interests, conscription could have been offered as a beneficial duty, and that the country could have been inspired into an acceptance of universal service. But the Act was regarded by many as a means of maintaining a weak and wicked administration in power—and to-day such papers as the Toronto Telegram are honest enough to tell the people what really happened.—London Advertiser.

LANSDOWNE IS THE HOME OF THE LATEST MONSTER HEN'S EGG.

LANSDOWNE, Feb. 13.—Miss Gertrude Moore, a poultry fancier of this place, has a hen of which she has latterly every reason to be proud. A few mornings ago she noticed an egg in the nest, much larger than those ordinarily laid and on applying the tape-line to it found that it measured 7¼ by 6 3-4 inches.

New York Negroes Home Again Lauded With War's Honours

New York, Feb. 13.—With the first pouring of negro troops from the steamship France of the French line, when the vessel reached here, interest for New York centred in the Third Battalion of the 369 infantry, which was formerly the old Fifteenth infantry, the only National Guard regiment from the United States that fought for a time under its old name on the western front.

There was a grand total of approximately 4,088 negro troops on board the France which made the voyage from Brest in ten days, besides some 300 casual officers, three detachments of Brest convalescents and 248 mental cases classed under the list of sick and wounded enlisted men. Of the negro troops thirty officers and 959 enlisted men were of the old Fifteenth infantry, and they were transferred to the Long Island Railroad at Long Island City for their temporary destination at Camp Upton.

It was a peculiar coincidence that the negro fighters of two of the largest cities in the country, New York and Chicago returned home on the same steamship, for the other negro soldiers were of the 370th infantry, which came home complete and which was formerly the Eighth regiment, Illinois National Guard. Both the 370th and the 369th covered themselves with glory and the story of their achievements will live long in the memories of the great war and the history of the negro race in America.

Praise Discipline of Negros

Of the 114 officers returning with the 370th but three are white. They are the commanding officer, Col. T. A. Roberts, of Springfield, Ill., and two lieutenants. Colonel Roberts took command of the regiment last July when it was serving with the Fifty-ninth French infantry on the Aisne front. The colonel said yesterday that the 370th led all troops into Belgium and the discipline among the men was splendid.

"I have received some wonderful commendations from the French about these fighters," said the Colonel. "They impressed the French generals as being the crack fighting unit on the western front."

Battlefronts In Austria Greater Than During War

VIENNA, Feb. 13.—Arriving from the Polish and Russian frontiers, having broken through various "battle fronts" which were established by the different peoples while the Peace Conference was gathering in Paris, the correspondent has found the entire one-time Austrian Empire in an extremely unsettled condition, except here and there at its old centre. There is even a certain amount of warfare being carried on between the Austrians and the Jugoslavs, but this is of a purely local nature in German villages in Southern Austria which are resisting occasional Jugoslav inroads.

The Roumanians are accused of being busy "correcting" what they define as their natural frontiers. The ambitions of several of the new nations are leading them to advance into the rich oil region south of Lemberg. It is in this direction that the forces of Petlura, leader of the Ukranian peasant army, are retreating; having been defeated by the local Bolsheviki.

The correspondent was among the first persons to travel by train over the battle front between the disputing parties. The trip was taken over the first thirty miles in company with a British naval officer, Captain Rawlings, who had obtained a special train.

When the Poles concluded their armistice with the Czechs it was stated in Warsaw that the Czechs were not keeping the compact, but were continuing to advance and to ill-treat the Polish population. As Captain Rawlings had official business in Vienna and the only practical route lay through the Czech line from Cracow, he announced he would test the honesty of the armistice by requesting a special train from the Poles. At Dziedice he found two special cars on which the Polish committee proposed to proceed to Paris, providing the Czechs would permit them to do so.

Captain Rawlings had notified the Czechs of his intention to proceed over the railway, which for a fortnight had been blocked. The original fight began by the Czechs taking possession of the line, thus cutting off the route of the Poles to Vienna. The Peace Committee consisted of twenty members and many stenographers. They were shivering at the little station when Captain Rawlings' special train arrived.

Finally came notice that the committee might proceed. It was assumed that this notice was due to the presence of Captain Rawlings. The committee tumbled into their two special cars and started, accompanied by Captain Rawlings and the correspondent.

Navy Officers See Great Future For Dirigible Balloon

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—A project for the construction of an experimental rigid dirigible balloon of the type familiarly known as the Zeppelin was included in the plans of the Navy Department when the pending Naval Appropriation Bill was submitted to Congress. It would have cost several million dollars, and a part of the scheme would have been the bringing to the United States of one of the most modern German air cruisers as a model.

The House eliminated this provision from the bill, but naval officers said they hoped the Senate would restore it. They believe future developments with lighter than air craft will be great, both for military and commercial purposes, and are anxious to keep ahead or at least abreast of what European countries may do in this regard.

The premature announcement of the Department's arrangements for a trans-Atlantic seaplane flight brought out the fact that the navy is looking forward to lighter than air development as well as extended usefulness for seaplanes. No additional details of the coming flight were available, but it was clear the Department's experts regard the attempt as practically certain of success.

Commander Tower, whose assignment to the trans-Atlantic flight project disclosed the story, has not made any announcement. Based on the use of existing equipment, the present intention is to stop at the Azores for refueling, but naval men said that important improvements now being worked out might make possible a crossing in one sustained flight of twenty hours or thereabouts.

Details of the experiments under way have not been disclosed, but they are known to include efforts to increase the power and fuel economy of the big triple motored planes, of which the navy already has several in actual use. Modifications of the Liberty motor to obtain this result are involved.

It was learned here that British plans for a trans-Atlantic flight with a Zeppelin had been indefinitely postponed. No reason was given, but it was regarded as probable that unforseen difficulties had arisen with the first of the score or more Zeppelins Great Britain ordered before the war ended.

Campbell-Best Rink Has Fighting Chance for Trophies In Both Major Competitions

Edware Men Have Not Lost One Game Up to This Afternoon in the Entire Bonspiel—Peterboro Cup Nearing Decision.

REVIEW OF THE GAMES

The attention of the gallery that followed the bonspiel, had become so fixed upon W. D. Campbell's unbroken string of victories in the Morrow and Matthews-Blackwell competitions, that they didn't realize until the winnowing process had reached the third round in each event, that the other local rinks had survived the battles in the earlier stages of the Morrow trophy series. It came somewhat as a surprise to find three Peterborough rinks lined up in the semi-finals of this competition, which will be completed this afternoon or tonight, as follows:

George Stevenson, Peterborough, vs. W. McDermid, Peterbozough:
W. D. Campbell, Peterborough, vs. D. McCullough, Port Hope.

The Matthews-Blackwell Close.

Only two Peterborough rinks attained the third round in the Matthews-Blackwell competition, W. H. Taylor and Campbell. The discovery was also made by the gallery that in the draw Millbrook's two rinks had come through and were drawn against each other in the semi-finals.

In explanation it might be observed that Campbell's rink was entered by Ray Best. In the earlier games they were alternating as skip and vice-skip, but Campbell has been directing nearly all the latter play. It might be more appropriately termed the Campbell-Best rink. At noon to-day they had bright prospects of winning the prizes and the silver trophies in both the major competitions, and thereby accomplishing the result that was pointed out as a possibility at the opening of the bonspiel.

Style of Play Changed.

Yesterday afternoon the ice became a trifle moist and sticky, requiring a change in tactics, to which some of the skips attributed their defeats in the second round. The draw game was unavailing, and the rinks had returned to the plugging method. Leads of several seconds failed to get their stones to the rings under the changed conditions. Some of them fell short of the "hog" line, and others were too strong. However, it was as fair to one rink as another, although "main strength" and elbow power became an asset that was not used on the former ice.

Delaney, of Cobourg, Harvey of Orillia, and Best of Peterborough, were the only rinks left in the second round of each series. At five o'clock yesterday the Cobourg skip was considered a contender for the finals in each, at one o'clock he was on his way home. Harvey defeated him in an extra end by 11-10 in the Morrow contest. The tenth end was declared a draw by Umpire McIntosh. Each skip had a stone edging the inner ring, and the measuring stick placed them at actual lengths for mthe button. Delaney's men went to pieces in the Matthews-Blackwell game and were beaten by 20-6, by Best. It might be more proper to say that they were outcurled.

Dr. Harvey Next Victim.

The Orillia doctor was the next victim. He and Best were the only rinks that stood out as survivors in both series. After putting the skids under Delany, he extinguished 'Pete' Lang's rink. Then in the third round, Edmunds of Millbrook defeated him by 16-10 in the Matthews-Blackwell last night, and this morning McDermid put him out of the Morrow series by 11-6.

The Campbell-Best alliance, therefore, remains the only rink that has fought through both competitions without a loss. Whether they capture both cups or not, they have distinguished themselves in this bonspiel. They are one of the Club's District Cup rinks, and their showing is an earnest of what they may do in the Governor-General's provincial competition, if the weather permits the play-off this year.

The Remaining Games.

For the Morrow Cup, the remaining games at one o'clock this afternoon were:

Best vs. McCullough.
Stevenson vs. McDermid.

The winners play off in the finals. For the Matthews-Blackwell Cup—
Best vs. Clifford of Oshawa.

The winner plays Steele, of Millbrook, who defeated his companion skip, R. H. Edmunds, also of Millbrook, this morning, in a semi-final by 15-6.

It is hardly likely that both competitions will be concluded before this evening.

Rivalry Between Peterboro Teams May Result in a Game

There are prospects that the Peterborough intermediate O.H.A. team and the Peterborough juniors may meet in a hockey game, and if they ever get together, the fur will fly. Ever since the Oshawa team came along and beat the local intermediates here there has been talk of what the juniors would do to the intermediates if they got a chance to meet them in a game. Naturally this comment has got under the skin of the intermediate crew and they would welcome an opportunity of taking a crack at the youngsters, who, although they have lost a lot of their pep as a result of the fiasco at Lindsay, still think that with Mickey Murray, last year's junior goalkeeper, in the nets for them, they can just about tuck away Grover Halpin, Ray Rose and company. The game would be a corker, if it ever gets beyond the talking stage, and many fans who have been arguing about the respective merits of the two teams and speculating as to whether the intermediate series is any faster than the junior or not, would welcome a chance to settle the question on the ice.

KEENE WINS THE PETERBORO CUP

THE PETERBORO CUP.

This competition was reserved for the rinks that failed to reach the "sixteens" round in both the major contests. It was a consolation series, and most of the games were played on the "swamp," as some of the curlers who had been confined to the Brock street ice, dubbed it. They had, however, become so accustomed to it that they preferred last night to finish out their games there than return to the Charlotte street ice. It is unnecessary to go over this aspect of the Bonspiel again, but the rinks that were stuck away up there at the opening of the Bonspiel hardly expected that they were to be forgotten, as the succeeding draws provided opportunity and desire for a change. Wray of Belleville, and Dr. Harvey, of Orillia, to mention two visiting rinks, spent Tuesday "plugging" on the Brock street rink. The locals may remain unmentioned. It is understood, of course, that it was the luck of the Bonspiel, and of the allotments in the draw, but one local rink lay claim to the distinction of having played all their games on the upper rink. The comments heard were not so much against the ice as they were an objection that pleasures were not more widely distributed.

A feature of the semi-finals for the Peterboro cup were the two Keene rinks drawn against each other. Gilbert Howson and Fred Eason played off last night, Howson winning by 11-10. The other semi-final game brought Tom Brightman out as a finalist after defeating Harry McCallum of Fenelon Falls by 10-7. Howson and Brigthman were playing off this afternoon.

Rickard Will Insure the Willard Fight For Seventy Thousand

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. — Tex Rickard intends to insure the Willard-Dempsey championship fight for seventy thousand dollars or more, it was learned here to-day. This is just in case that something happens to prevent the battle from coming off after a lot of money has been invested in the project.

Jim Corbett or Jim Jeffries will referee, it is believed. As for a site for the big event, the whole world is still in the bidding to-day. Rickard has nearly made up his mind as to the location. All kinds of offers are still coming in.

BONSPIEL NOTES

George Benor cut a wide swath even winning from Larry O'Connor's fine Lindsay rink. Then he fell before George Stevenson's unpretenti-

"If we win thore clocks," said one of Gilbert Howson's rink, "we can say that Peterboro gave us a good time."

Lindsay's last hope flickered out this morning when Best defeated J. D. Flavelle. The veterans got away to a good start and had a lead of seven at one stage of the game, but the hardware men were not to be denied.

If the Rev. T. B. McCullough, of Port Hope, is as good a preacher as a curler, his congregation are fortunate. He is a regular visitor to Peterboro's bonspiel and is a conspicuous figure in any gathering of men.

The Millbrook rinks have made a great showing. To defeat Dick Butler of Lindsay by 16-13, Steele laid four down on his last end. That is a sample of his style of curling.

Some of the scratch or green rinks surprised the talent. George Benor was the only skip on his rink, but he went a long way. It might as well be admitted that George Stevenson was not conceded more than a look-in, but he pushed along until he gained his place in the sun, up with the handful of survivors.

The Bonspiel was not without its little revenges. Wray of Belleville turned J. W. McDermid back in the preliminary of the Matthews-Blackwell games by 11 to 6, but in the second round of the Morrow series "Mac" overwhelmed him by 17-3.

The "dope" on the games was incompresensible. For example McDermid trimmed Edmunds of Millbrook in the Morrow, Wray eliminated McDermid in the Matthews-Blackwell, and Edmunds stopped Wray in the first round by 13-10. The Belleville man remarked that he didn't mind defeat by a big league rink, but to be beaten by a "bunch of farmers" was almost disgrace. And Edmunds sailed away to the eights.ous quartete.

Dick Nicholls was the life of the party. He got Stalter's goat in the second round, and with two on his last end pulled what looked like a hopeless situation into the win column. It was at 5:30 p.m. yesterday and his rink was all ready to hustle their stones to the G.T.R. station. They changed their minds with the win but were ousted in the third round of the Matthews-Blackwell.

McCULLOUGH IN FINAL.

In the semi-final for the Morrow Cup this afternoon Stevenson lost to McDermid by 11-4.

McCullough defeated Best by 13-8. The local rink was wearied by two days' continuous curling against some of the best rinks at the Bonspiel. They were tied on the eighth end, six all. McCullough scored 3 in each of the next two ends, and practically clinched the game there.

Doubts Story of Borden's Appointment

Washington Doubts Probability of Appointment of Sir Robert to British Embassy in United States.

Special to The Examiner:

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. — Doubt that the next British Ambassador to the United tSates would be any "Colonial" was expressed at the State Department to-day, answering reports that Canadian Premier Borden would be the man.

CHURCH LEAGUE HOCKEY GAMES.

Anyone who misses seeing the Church League game between Knox and George Street on Friday night at 6.30 is missing one of the treats of a life-time. The rivalry between these clubs is great, and both are very confident of victory. Neither team has been defeated this year, so on Friday night there must be a break. Both teams are fast and have developed some good combination in their previous contests, so the result is entirely in doubt. After this game All Saints' and Murray and Park Streets clash, and the last game is between St. Paul's and the game little Trinity bunch. Altogether it is sure to be a very exciting night at Brock Street Rink. Come early and see that first game.

Blind Score in the "B" League

The Blind Score contest of 120 will be played off on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Water Street Alleys.

The names of players in the contest follows:

Bannor, Pidgeon, Platt, Roberts, Read, Simmons, Rathenbery, Moore, Lafave, J. Gordon.

JOIN TWO HANGARS TO MAKE HOCKEY RINK FOR ROYAL MILITARY CADETS

KINGSTON, Ont. Feb 13—Two of the large airplane buildings at Camp Mohawk, Deseronto are to be moved by the Militia Department to the Royal Military College grounds here and erected as a rink.

The buildings are 60 by 120 feet, and will, therefore, cover a good-sized ice surface. The Military College cadets have long wanted a rink for hockey purposes and from now on the R.M.C. expects to loom large in intercollegiate hockey.

Veterans Celebrate Landing of the First Division in France

Enjoyable Re-union of Peterboro's Returned Soldiers Held in Victoria Hall Last Night—Speeches, Songs and Band Selections Made Programme An Attractive One.

The first annual re-union of the Peterborough branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, held in the Victoria Hall last night, in commemoration of the landing of the 1st Canadian Division in France four years ago, was a splendid success. Several hundred returned soldiers, a number of whom took part in the event that was being celebrated, were in attendance, the audience including many who have only just returned from overseas. The greater part were in uniform, and the badges of a very large number of Canadian battalions were to be seen. The invited guests, the majority of whom were present, included the veterans of 1866, the members of the City Council, G. N. Gordon, E. A. Peck, Rev. Father Phelan, Adjutant Buntin, G. A. Gillespie, M.P.P., R. R. Hall, E. G. Patterson, W. H. Denham, B. F. Ackerman, A. McNabb, R. J. Devey and J. H. Renwick.

Capt. A. S. Morrison, president of the Peterborough branch of the G. W. V.A., made an admirable chairman.

The programme consisted of a series of toasts, interspersed with songs and recitations, and with selections by the band of the Great War Veterans, under the direction of Bandmaster Walter Hughes. The playing of the band was one of the features of the evening. The organization is making rapid progress under Comrade Hughes' able leadership, and its numbers last evening were presented with a swing and snap that were most pleasing.

The first toast on the programme "The King," was honoured in the usual hearty style, the band leading in the singing of the National Anthem.

Mr. G. N. Gordon eloquently proposed the next toast that to "The British Empire." In so doing Mr. Gordon pointed out the soul-stirring spectacle at the beginning of the war of the sons of Britain rallying from every corner of the world in answer to the call. The tie that bound the whole Empire together, he said, was one of touching and eloquent tribute to the and for British institutions.

The toast was honoured by the playing of "Rule Britannia" by the band.

Mr. E. A. Peck and Mr. Jos. Wearing responded to the toast. The former aroused much enthusiasm by his reference to the necessity of Britain maintaining the control of the seas, and by his declaration that that control must never be given up.

Mr. Wearing, in an effective address, struck a responsive chord when he said that while willing to acknowledge the great service that the United States had performed for the cause of democracy, he thought it time to call a halt to the persistently re-iterative boast that the United States had won the war, and that President Wilson was the only man who could make possible a League of Nations.

Mr. Jack Primeau contributed a recitation that was greatly appreciated.

The City Council.

In proposing the health of the City Council, Ald. J. J. Turner paid a warm tribute to His Worship Mayor Duncan for his untiring efforts on behalf of the city's affairs. Ald. Turner dealt briefly with the work of the Council, pointing out that there were some very important problems to be considered this year.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie, M.P.P., replied to the toast and referred in eulogistic terms to the record made by Peterborough's soldiers overseas and to the war work done by those who remained at home. He expressed his pleasure at the action of the City Council in making a grant to the Veterans.

Mr. Herb Rush, himself a veteran of the 1st Division, sang "Dear Old Pal of Mine" most effectively, and in response to an enthusiastic encore gave an artistic rendition of "God Send You Back to Me."

The Boys of the Old Brigade.

To Col. J. Mills fell the honour of proposing the health of the Veterans of 1866. Before doing so, Col. Mills gave a very interesting account of the departure of the 1st Canadian Division from Salisbury Plains and its arrival in France. In calling upon the gathering to honour the men who had answered the call of duty fifty-three years ago, Col. Mills paid a tribute to the services these men had rendered, referring particularly to the president of the '66 Veterans, Col. Miller.

The toast was enthusiastically received by the gathering, who sang, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and gave three cheers and a tiger for the boys of the old brigade.

Col. Miller made a very effective reply, giving some incidents of early days in the militia and paying a warm tribute to the valour of Canada's soldiers in the world war.

Mr. Chas. Coleman caused much amusement by his singing of "The Man They Left Behind," and had to respond to an encore, rendering "I Love a Lassie" in effective style.

Messrs. Jack Primeau and Vernon Morphet contributed a most entertaining skit that was responsible for almost continuous laughter.

At this stage enjoyable refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake, ice cream and coffee were served.

When the programme was resumed, Mr. J. E. Firth delighted the audience with his singing of "True Till Death," and as an encore sang "The Veterans' Song."

The Unreturning Brave.

The toast to "Our Fallen Comrades" was observed in the manner adopted by the Veterans in all their meetings, the audience standing with bowed heads for a minute.

Rev. Father Phelan paid a most touchin gand eloquent tribute to the memory of the men from Peterborough who had made the supreme sacrifice. He asked the Veterans above all things not to forget the dead.

Col. T. J. Johnston proposed the last toast of the evening, "The G.W.V.A." In doing so he referred to the comradeship that existed in the Association and of the necessity of always conducting its affairs so that it enjoyed the confidence of the public.

Secretary Sidney Whatley replied in an eloquent speech, in which he dealt with the various objects of the Association. His references to the alien question were loudly cheered, as was his declaration that there is no Bolshevism among Canada's returned men.

Hearty votes of thanks were passed to the guests of the evening, to the artists who had contributed to the programme, to the G.W.V.A. band, to the Entertainment committee, and to President Morrison, after which the singing of the National Anthem brought the enjoyable affair to an end shortly after midnight.

The Entertainment committee which had the arrangements in charge, and are to be congratulated upon the success of the evening, consisted of Comrade A. Ringer, chairman, W. Dalliday, A. Miller, G. Findley, H. Colt, J. Coppock and O. White.

FISHERMEN COMPLAINING.

Complaints are being heard from teh fishermen that American fishermen are poaching in Canadian waters and are protesting vigorously against the practice. It is said that the invaders are using trout lines and gill nets, the use of the latter being prohibited by the Dominion Government. A few days ago a launch with a full equipment, was observed opposite the Weesbeach hotel fishing. The fishermen feel it is an injustice for these fellows to be allowed to fish in foreign waters, and are of the opinion that a government fishing boat should be stationed in the vicinity as a protection to their interests.

Letter From Private Wilshaw

Peterboro Soldier Expects to Return Home in March or April.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilshaw, Union street, have received the following letter from their son, Pte. Robert Wilshaw, who enlisted here with the 93rd Battalion and who is now in France with the 97th Battalion:

Dear Mother, Dad, Sisters and Brothers,—I suppose that I will be home about March or April. I received a very nice parcel lately from the Quaker Oats Company, and a letter saying they would be pleased to see us back again, and I thought a lot of it, as it makes one think that they are not forgotten, although we are all these hundreds of miles away.

Your loving son,
ROBERT.

Lenine Had a Narrow Escape

(United Press.)

LONDON, Feb. 13. — Refugees from Moscow report that a recent attempt to assassinate Premier Lenine was frustrated, according to a despatch received here from the Stockholm correspondent of the Morning Post to-day.

Lenine is said to have escaped without injury, but his chauffeur was seriously wounded. The assassins were caught, the correspondent said.

SIR ROBERT HOLT TELLS WHY THRIFT IS NECESSARY TO-DAY

Canada Must Supply Her Own Capital and War Savings Plan Will Help.

Sir Herbert Holt, president of the Royal Bank has heartily endorsed the War Savings Stamp campaign.

stating, in addition, the reasons why thrift was especially necessary at the present time, he said recently:—

"As all our trade enterprises both at home and abroad must be financed by Canadian capital, their success will be measured by the extent of our national capacity for self-denial. To encourage the habit of thrift among all classes, the Government has inaugurated a War Savings Stamp campaign similar to that which proved so popular in Great Britain and the United States. It is unnecessary to enlarge on the value of individual and national thrift. In England the War Savings Committee have recently announced that the organization built up by it throughout the country will be continued as a permanent part of the national machinery. The development of the habit of saving in England has met with marked results, the number of holders of Government securities increasing from 345,000 at the beginning of the war to over 17,000,000 today. The success of the movement in England would seem to justify its permanent retention in this country."

INDIA IN MARKET FOR 800,000 TONS OF RAILS.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13. — The Canadian Trade Commission in Ottawa, has received a telegram from the Canadian mission in London stating that India is in the market for 800,000 tons of rails, with angles, bolts, spikes, etc., for delivery in 1919, 1920, 1921.

Another Special For the Royal

Just as Wonderful a Picture as "Tarzan"—Here To-morrow and Saturday.

Our special feature for the week end will be another grand picture, entitled, "Eye for Eye," which played at the Regent Theatre, Toronto, to prices as high as 75c. for a full week. It is from the famous three-act drama, L'Occident, and we feel when you see it you will think it wonderful.

We would ask as many of our patrons as possible to attend Friday matinee or evening performance as Saturday the Royal is always filled to capacity.

LETTER ADDRESSED TO SERGEANT MACKNESS

While in the hospital, Sergeant J. Mackness received the following letter from the officer commanding his battalion which at that time was engaged in the task of driving the Hun back towards the Rhine. The letter speaks for itself.

223380 Sgt. J. Mackness,
85th Can. Inf. Bn.
Hospital.

My dear Mackness,—This is just a note to assure you that you are not forgotten by the Battalion.

I sincerely hope that you are as comfortable as a man can be under the circumstances and that your wound is not interfering with your rest.

You probably know already that the Battalion gained its objectives and more and that the boys held on to every inch they took and gave the proper jumping-off line to the people who came through, besides having it well cleared out in front. I know you will be pleased to hear this.

Your job for the present is to get well. It won't hurt you to forget the war for a bit.

I wish it were possible for me to write a different letter to each of our N.C.O.'s and men, giving them the particular news of their own company, but that is not feasible.

I have already told those who are here how proud I am of the magnificent work of the Battalion all through these "Shows." The first two were more brilliant and quickly carried out, and the last was a pretty severe test, not only of courage, but of endurance and discipline; you, who are wounded, have a big share in the glory of it. It looks now as if the three battles in which this Battalion has lately taken part were three of the most decisive and important battles of the war; their far reaching effect will hardly be fully appreciated until the history of the struggle is written in years to come. I trust you will feel it is something to have taken such a splendid part in them. To feel that you have done your best is the greatest satisfaction that can come to any man.

I sincerely hope for your speedy recovery and thank you, as I have tried to thank all who are with the Unit, for your very fine work and the honor you have brought to our battalion. The Corps Commander, the Divisional Commander and the Brigadier have all expressed themselves as more than satisfied with what we have accomplished and you have your full share in the credit for it.

I am enclosing a slip showing the names of two of our boys, of whom we cannot get any trace. Will you write telling us of any information you can as to when you last saw either of them and the circumstances?

With very best wishes in which, I know, all you comrades will join,

Sincerely yours,
Lt.-Colonel,
Commanding 85th Canadian Infanty Battalion, Nova Scotia Highlanders.

Wireless Talks To China Possible, Says Dr. De Forest

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Announcement was made here by Dr. Lee De Forest, of the De Forest laboratories at High Bridge, that through the inventive genius of Ernest F. W. Alexanderson, of the General Electric Company, a device has been perfected which soon will make possible conversation between points 12,000 miles apart, or approximately half way around the world. The advance in wireless transmission is made possible, according to Dr. De Forest, by the invention of a 200 kilowatt generator producing an alternating current of approximately 15,000 metres wave length.

The new device, it is stated, has been used for many months at the big navy control station at New Brunswick, N. J., and all previous records for distance have been doubled, the best mark attained up to the experiements with the new generator having been about 6,000 miles.

In discussing the sensational development in the wireless field Dr. De Forest said yesterday that a recent effort to install a large spark suitable for communication over great distance had failed entirely at the New Brunswick station and that Dr. Alexanderson, an American engineer, was then called upon by the British concern making the effort.

"Dr. Alexanderson," said Dr. De Forest, "can now put 450 amperes or 50 kilowatts high frequency energy into this huge antenna. All this energy is controlled by special magnetic control devices which he has invented, and this in turn can be controlled by a bank of high power amplifiers ranged in 'pyramid' connection.

"The possibilities of this radio advance can at once be readily imagined. It means in effect that, by telephone communication without wires, the human voice will be heard just as plainly, between New York and New Zealand as between New York and Brooklyn. It means that the music lovers of New Zealand or any other country equally distant, will in time be able to enjoy the pleasures of vocal or instrumental concerts given in New York or any part of the world. Certainly such achievement in the field of radio engineering, it seems to me, should receive the warmest commendation of all those who are interested in American, as well as in human, progress."

Most suit coats show the normal shoulder and armhole.

Blouses are rather elaborate and usually match the suit.

Shooting Accident Near Kingston

Man Killed by Accidental Discharge of Gun.

(United Press.)

KINGSTON, ONT., Feb. 13. — A tragic affair took place two miles from Parpam, when Frederick Hartwick, aged 23 years, and married, was killed by the accidental discharge of his rifle, while on a hunting trip with his father, James Hartwick.

He went out hunting on Tuesday, and while they were engaged in their hunt for game, the father and son became separated. The father was of the opinion that the son had returned to his home, while his wife thought that he had remained with his father over night, but on Wednesday morning when it was found he had not returned a searching party was formed and the young man's body was found in the bush. He was a former resident of Kingston, and beside his wife leaves two children.

Corp. Ross Kendry Arrived Home Last Evening

Peterboro Soldier Has Been Overseas Nearly Five Years—Wears Mons Ribbon.

Wearing the Mons ribbon indicating service in France in 1914-1915, and with two gold stripes for wounds received, Corporal Ross Kendry, one of the few Peterborough boys remaining from Company 1, which went over with Major Bennett, arrived in the city last evening after nearly five years' service overseas. He got into the city at 5:30, with Corporal Lovell, a Peterborough boy who went over with the artillery, and was given a warm reception by a large number of people assembled on the G.T.R. platform.

Late Major Bennett.

While Corporal Kendry gave the usual soldier's answer, "I'd rather not talk about it," to the Examiner, he told of the last evening before St. Julian which he spent with the late Major Bennett. "We were all in good spirits that night. I had just come up to the lines the day before. Major Bennett was a fine officer and looked up to by every man who knew him."

Saw V. C. Won.

Corporal Kendry numbers among his other interesting experiences seeing Leo Clark of Winnipeg, win his Victoria Cross. In doing this, killing the Germans and bayonetting two, and taking several prisoners, Clark saved the left flank of the 2nd Battalion.

Joined Bombers.

When the company with which Corporal Kendry enlisted became, through heavy casualties, practically a new "bunch," he with Billy Sheehan, another Peterborough boy, joined the bombers. While with this he had many close shaves. On one occasion he was sitting on a soap box at 1 o'clock in the morning when he suddenly ducked around the corner just in time to miss stopping a shell which blew the box he had just vacated to pieces. "But that's all in day's soldiering," he said, and I don't want to talk about it."

Twice Wounded.

The gold bars were earned by Corporal Kendry at Wolverghem and the Somme in October, 1916. After receiving the latter wounds he was sent to Blighty, where he remained until embarking two weeks ago for the Tunisian for home.

SIBERIAN RUMOURS ARE DECLARED UNTRUE

Canadian Press Makes Investigations—No Complaints from Bolshevism—Lack of Mail and News Has Been Corrected.

By W. E. Playfair—Canadian Press Correspondent).

VLADIVOSTOK, Feb. 13.—Reports published in America of alleged hardships enduring by the Allied troops in Siberia this winter are absolutely false, according to a thorough investigation conducted by the Canadian Press, Limited. Canadian troops stationed in Vladivostok pending the decision on the matter of the alleged hostility toward Russia, are well housed in comfortable barracks and the weather on the Siberian coast is milder than in Eastern Canada. The British troops at Omsk suffered from a severe cold, but the health of the Canadians is excellent. The chief complaint is the infrequency of the mail service and lack of home news. The Government has taken steps to overcome this complaint, and is now sending regularly summaries of Canadian news for distribution to the troops.

BASKET SOCIAL WAS A SUCCESS

Miss Graham, of Lakefield, Took First Prize.

The "basket social" given last night by L.O.L. No. 457, at the Nassau Orange Hall, proved a splendid success and a large sum was realized by the sale of baskets. A large number motored and drove out from Peterboro. A pleasing programme was given during the evening, consisting of the following numbers:

Chairman's address, (Bro. Spence, County Master.)
Piano solo, Mr. Treneer.
Recitations, Wilfred Johnston.
Vocal solo, Miss Beavis.
Solo, Mr. Petrie.
Piano solo, Miss Roame.
Sketch, Mr. Hughson Johnston and Master Wilfred Johnston.
Dialogue, The Silent Barber Shop.
Vocal solo, Miss M. Hall.
Piano and violin solo, Miss Rome, and Master Roy Rome.
Recitations, Master Norman Sarginson.
Piano solo, Mr. Treneer.
Vocal solo, Miss M. Hall.
Recitations, Master Hughson Johnston.
Solo; Mr. Petrie.
Solo, Miss Beavis.
Solo, Miss Bulmer.
Recitation, Miss Heard.
Vocal solo, Mr. Treneer.

Auctioned Baskets.

Mr. Fred Sanderson made an enterprising auctioneer and ran the prices of the tastefully decorated baskets from $1 to $7. Miss Graham of Lakefield, took the prize for the highest priced basket and Miss Bullock of Smith, the second.

DISORDERS PREVALENT IN RUMAN CAPITAL

Bolshevik Influences Rife in the Danubian Kingdom—Troops Remain Loyal to the the Monarchy—Bratiano Cabinet Will Likely Resign.

Special to The Examiner:

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 13.—A revolutionary demonstration was suppressed by the troops in Bucharest, it was reported in a Berlin despatch received by the "Tidende" to-day.

The despatch said that crowds attempted to storm King Ferdinand's motor car, shouting "Hurrah for the Republic and the revolutionary proletariat." Troops massed around the King and forced the people back.

Strikes are spreading throughout Roumania, according to the despatches and industries are [illegible] handicapped.

The "Vilag" of Budap[illegible] that the revolt is part of a Bolshevik propaganda. In a clash between the military and demonstrators at Bakarest, sixty persons were killed and 150 wounded. The discipline of the Roumanian army, a newspaper adds, is collapsing. The food and economic situation is rapidly growing worse and the country's finances are completely demoralized. The position of the Bratiano cabinet is declared to be untenable.

Want Republic.

A general insurrection is in progress throughout Roumania, according to a special despatch from Vienna. Working men blocked the roadway from the Royal Palace when the Royal family attempted to flee to Jassy, said King Ferdinand and his family were forced to return. King was wounded when the workers fired upon the Royal Palace. Rioters in the streets of Bucharest are openly demanding the overthrow of the dynasty, crying "Down with puppets, long live the Republic."

NEW SCHOOL FOR PETERBORO

Plans Will Be Prepared At Once—Site Selected.

The building comittee of the Board of Education: Messrs. E. G. Patterson, A. A. Fowler, Roland Denne, J. M. Greene and Dr. F. C. Neal returned today from Toronto after a satisfactory survey of modern school buildings in Toronto. Some valuable pointers and information was gained by the visit and the committee is prepared to plan a new school at once. While the site has not been definitely selected a lot has been practically decided upon. A member of the building committee said to-day that the contract will be given to local architects who have already demonstrated their ability in such undertakings. It has been definitely decided that the new school will be a two storey building modern and fireproof.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL DEMAND ENTIRE WAR COST AND DAMAGE BILL

Bonar Law Informs House of Commons That Germany Will Pay to the Hilt—Commission Now Sitting To Enforce Peace Demands.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The British delegates at the Peace Conference have been definitely instructed to claim an indemnity which will include the cost of the war as well as the damage actually caused, it was announced in the House of Commons to-day by Andrew Bonar Law, the Government leader. A commission is now considering the amount to be claimed, the method by which payment should be made, and the means of enforcing payment, Bonar Law added.

POTSDAM VS. WASHINGTON

(Potsdam, 1918)

His Majesty is pleased to understand
That, to the glory of the Fatherland,
Nine sons you sacrificed in her defence,
Much gratified, he sends in recompense
His photograph. Be pleased to note the frame,
And added lustre of his written name.

Dear Madam:—'Tis with deepest grief and pain
I note among the number of the slain
Your gallant sons. Five splendid boys you give
That liberty and unity may live!
My lips are mute before a loss so great;
Mere words to soothe your grief inadequate.
But if in your bereavement there be aught
Of solace or of comfort in the thought
That unto you a nation lifts its eyes
In gratitude at such a sacrifice,
That consolation, Madam, is your due.
Now may the Heavenly Father comfort you.
May He assuage your grief and help you bear
Your sacrifice, so costly and so dear.

Emily Township Farmer Arrested

Thomas J. Collins Was Located at An Auction Sale.

Thomas J. Collins, a twenty-two year old farmer of Reaboro P.O., Emily township, was arrested yesterday by the Dominion Police at an auction sale being held at Spence's farm near Omemee. The police allege that Collins was ordered to report on May 1, 1918, to the 1st Depot Battalion at Kingston, but never turned up. He was not brought to the city, but was allowed to go on $2,000 bail, one thousand dollars being supplied by himself, $500 by his father, Patrick Collins, and $500 by Mr. John Milloy.

Collins appeared in court this morning and Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the defendant, but the Crown asked for a week's adjournment.

Installing a Filtration Plant

Bonner-Worth Company is Spending $20,000 on Plant.

With a capacity for filtering 50,000 gallons of water a day, the Bonner-Worth Company are installing a filteration plant in the dyeing department of the factory at an expenditure of $20,000.

Up to the present the factory has used the city water for dyeing, and while it proved satisfactory to a certain degree, it varies. The dye stuffs have been far from perfect lately, and the Bonner-Worth is using every effort to bring them as near perfection as possible.

When the new plant is completed and the Permutit system is in working order, the factory will utilize only the water from the creek which runs past the building for all purposes outside of drinking. The water runs over lime beds near Lilly Lake, which makes it hard. Under the new system all vegetable matter will be taken out, and the water put through a water softener that brings it down to zero hardness. The Permutit system is the only system that brings water down to zero hardness.

MY LADY NICOTINE MAY SPLIT Y. W. C. A.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Young Women's Christian Association is threatened with a division into two societies, by reason of agitation over the fact that smoking is permitted by women in some branches, and forbidden in others. A number of members of the English branch, in buildings in which smoking is permitted, have withdrawn and joined the Irish Y.W.C.A., which prohibits smoking.

The Manchester Guardian quotes a Y.W.C.A. worker as saying that 60 per cent. of the women's auxiliary military organizations, and a large proportion of the women munition workers smoke.

The authorities of Newnham College, Cambridge, recently granted women students permission to smoke in the buildings of the institution. Some of the students had been agitating in favour of smoking for some time.

GERMANS MASSED AGAINST THE POLES

Special to the Examiner:

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The strength of the German volunteer army on the Eastern front, where it is concentrated against the Poles, has reached 90,000 men, it was reported in advice received here to-day. This force is expected soon to total 360,000. Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, it is understood, will arrive soon at Kelberg to direct the operations against the Poles.

COPY MUST BE IN EARLY

Examiner Continues to Go to Press at Noon on Saturday.

Attention is called to the fact that The Examiner goes to press at noon on Saturday. This means that all copy for insertion in Saturday's issue must be in not later than Friday night to insure insertion in Saturday's paper. For the past few weeks copy has been coming in later than usual with the result that it is sometimes left out. The same applies to advertising and other matter that can readily be turned in on Friday leaving Saturday morning clear for the handling of the despatch and regular local news services. 3d-t

The Value of Music Subject of An Address

Mr. B. H. Britton Addressed Gathering of Peterboro Music Dealers.

The following interesting paper was read at the regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Musical Protective Association. The members were all present.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, and the completion of regular business, Mr. B. H. Britton, manager of Heintzman Hall, Hunter street, who had been requested to prepare a paper on the power of music, was called on and delivered the following instructive address:

"You selected me to give a talk on the power and potency of music, as an appropriate subject to be read before this Association," said Mr. Britton.

While I was hesitating to undertake the task I became aware that the subject was so inexhaustible that I was perplexed to know what to take and what to leave of the many and varied testimonies that crowded in to demonstrate my theme.

First of all came the thought of the power of music in the home. The young mother, as well as her babe, learns the potency of music when her first lullaby is sung to her first born. Its soothing musical influence becomes a ready panacea day and night for infant troubles, and, in consequence, many a nursery rhyme has been standardized for generations past.

Music has its refining and inspiring influence in the home more generally than anywhere else. Where there is no music in the home one does not take long to perceive the lack of some indefinable something that is indispensable to the ideal home.

Music Will Help.

Music will help to make the home a place of happy moments and memories, to the deepening and broadening of the attractions of the home, and encourages the cultivation and study of one of the highest blessings conferred upon us mortals by "The Great Architect of the Universe."

Who has not witnessed the magic of music on the sick and sorrowful, the distressed and the discouraged? Who does not know how music cheers and sustains the men and women who work and wait, and save and serve? Someone has said that "the love of music is innate, but the taste for good music must be acquired like olives and persimmons." It comes from multiplied hearings of the best, and contrasting harmonies, and then mastering the language of tone.

Should Be Taught.

Music should be taught in every High school on exactly the same basis as in languages or science. If talented boys and girls wish to pursue their music and also the High school course, let the proper credits be given for supervised study of the piano, voice, or violin under competent outside teachers, until such time as the special teaching may be made part of the school curriculum. Teach the children to listen to music in a definite way, to listen purposefully, and so train the ear to acute harmony. There should not be one child in our Canada deprived of the joys and benefits that come with the study and use of music.

Music and singing fits into every phase of life. Back in 1914, when we were working peacefully along without thought of war we sang the ordinary ballads of life—romantic, sacred and humerous. Then the storm burst upon the world. Men were the first need. There came into existence several good recruiting songs that proved magical in securing voluntary enlistments. By the time the armies were in the field and settled down to the routine of trench warfare, people were singing patriotic songs and new songs of army life and of flying in the air. As battle followed battle there arose the need of keeping up the home morale lest the spirit behind the lines would waver and break. But again the songs of endurance, of sticking to it—like, "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall," had their magical influence on the nation, helping us to stick it out. During this period the National songs of our Allies, like "Rule-Brittania," "The Star Spangled Banner," "The Marsellaise' and others, cemented those ties in the minds of the masses that were so necessary.

The End Came.

The end came, and with it went the songs of home-coming and the songs of praise, yet the need for singing and the inclination to play music is greater than ever. Thus our whole attitude towards music is stimulated and Canada and the United States are on their way to become singing nations.

The magic of music is very useful also, in re-construction. The maintenance of discipline through the use of music has been found an important feature in the hospitals of the army and navy. While "in surgical cases it has been learned that men go under anaesthetics much easier while listening to music, so it is not an infrequent thing now to hear nurses singing the army songs for wounded while preparing them for the surgeon's ministrations."

Another Part.

Another part that music will play in the work of re-construction is "the scientific restoration of articulation for patients suffering from injuries to the mouth and throat." Some interesting experiments in this field are now being carried on by vocal teachers in the convalescent hospitals.

I should like warmly to commend the suggestion to our Municipal Aldermen not to overlook the desire of the public for more municipal music. We have a good Opera House in Peterborough for operatic performances and it is not beyond reason to hope that we may have some day an opera company of our own. But we should have more municipal music in our parks, where so many of our citizens could go and listen to our bands of musicians. The way the masses support these outdoor concerts should justify some larger expenditure to make them more general.

And now gentlemen it may have occurred to you, as it has to me, that if we are to be consistent in lending music for its great essentials—harmony and concord—there is a lesson for each of us, viz, that we, too, should cultivate a true spirit of harmony and concord among ourselves in business affairs. If our Association is to have a strong and uplifting influence on its members, we must rid ourselves of petty jealousies and business inharmonies and strive to emulate that excellent virtue we all profess so much to admire. I mean harmony.

THE Y.M.C.A.'S GENEROUS OFFER

It was a pleasant surprise to read in your paper the other night of the generous offer of the Y.M.C.A. to returned soldiers. Lots of the men overseas did not seem to have a good name for the Y.M.C.A., but I always found them very obliging. In France and Belgium I always got free tea and things I bought were always a reasonable price. I was on lots of night working parties and the Y.M.C.A. always had a good cup of tea ready for us after the job was done. Well now, about their generous offer. I have been in this city about ten years, and a fellow could only get a bath by being a member of the Y.M.C.A. Now, by their generosity a fellow can get a bath every night for six months if he wants it. I think a big "forward Canada" movement would be to build a "city baths." What chance has a man in boardings, where there is no conveniences, to get a bath. No one would mind twenty-five cents for a good bath and of course these baths could be kept open all the year around.

After a man has been overseas and seen the sanitation and conveniences in the smallest villages in England, and compares the same with some of the Canadian towns, including Peterborough, it seems disgraceful beyond comparison. For the rent of some of the houses in this city there should be nothing wanting. I am boarding at a house fairly central, and not a convenience to it. It is almost a route march to the lavatory (I'll call it a lavatory for want of a name), and after the landlady has been washing or using water in any way it (the water) has to be thrown outside on to the garden. How's that for sanitation? There is electric light next door, but landlord of this sanitary house is too poor to have it installed. The rent is high enough to have all these defaults remedied. But still, some day he may take a notion. If I had anything to do with "building permits" nobody would build a house without having all sanitary conveniences installed. Now you City Fathers, get together and see about these city baths.

SANITATION.

MONTAGU LOVE AT THE EMPIRE

Trousseau Silks Found in America for "Princess Pat"

Daughter of an English Duke to be Exquisitely Gowned in Products of Western Looms

New York, Feb. 13.—When "Princess Pat's" mind could be diverted long enough from war work and love interests to the consideration of a suitable trousseau for the daughter of one of England's greatest dukes, it suddenly encountered the dilemma that there were practically no materials from which to make a selection. Dressmaker and bride-elect turned critical and hopeful eyes toward this country, it became known here.

The result of that trousseau look started on its way back to "Princess Pat" Saturday when Wallace Revele, of Revelle & Rossitez, No. 15 Hanover Square, London, dressmakers to the Court of England, left on board the Adriatic with a collection of trunks filled with wonderful silks and other fabrics, the like of which could not be found in France. Mr. Revelle even went as far as the Pacific coast to collect all the exquisite materials from looms which already are making a name for this country in other fashion centres.

This is probably the first time that a royal trousseau has been turned out in American silk mills. The fact that the materials were taken, not merely because there was nothing lovelier at hand, but because they met with the genuine approval of the fashion artist marks a tremendous stride forward for American trade.

FATHER VENTS WRATH ON HIS CRYING CHILD.

ALBANY, Feb. 13.—Because his two-month-old baby cried he killed it and then went back to sleep, Edward B. Lawton, aged 25, told Judge Brady in criminal court.

The mother slept while the father wrung the child's neck, according to his testimony. Mrs. Lawton testified that her husband had previously threatened to kill the "brat" if it did not stop crying.

"I plead guilty, judge," said Lawton, when arraigned. "The baby was always crying and my wife would not stay at home long enough to take care of it and so I killed it."

Lawton is said to be rational.

TRAIN WENT INTO THE RIVER

Relief Train On Way to Scene of the Wreck.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Feb. 13.—The Pittsburg and Buffalo Express, north bound on the Allegheny Valley Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was wrecked at noon at St. George, twenty miles south of here. Early reports said the entire train went over the embankment in the Allegheny River, but the statement issued by the company declared only one car left the rails. A relief train carrying physicians left here.

Evening gowns will be cut very low, back and front.

that, because you have tried and found to be ineffective many kinds of remedies for Gastritis, Hyperacidity, or imperfect Digestion of Food accompanied by pain or gas after eating, that you cannot be relieved and be cured.

Moncur's Digestive Tonic

is slightly laxative and acts upon the liver as well. It is especially suited for those suffering from Bilious Indigestion. It corrects at once the formation of Gas. It assists in the assimilation of food and protects the Inflamed Lining of the stomach in Gastritis.

It strengthens and relieves the whole Digestive Tract. This preparation used in connection with proper diet and nerve sedatives, gives the most satisfying results in Nervous Dyspepsia and Hyperacidity.

Even the old chronic cases show a decided improvement under treatment with this remedy.

It is proving as successful in the treatment of the above weaknesses as MONCUR'S DOUBLE STRENGTH LUNG SYRUP has proven in the treatment of OBSTINATE AND RACKING COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHITIS.

WEBER CONVICTED ON SEDITION CHARGE

Remanded for Sentence and Ottawa will be Consulted.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Feb. 13. — After a trial lasting for two days, Reeve Weber of Neustadt, was yesterday afternoon pronounced guilty of using seditious language and sentence was reserved. He was allowed bail of $10,000, $5,000 personal security, and two sureties of $2,500 each, and is to appear again on February 20th. By an arrangement agreed to by the magistrate and counsel, the magistrate's decision will be forwarded to Ottawa, to the Department of Justice, through the prosecuting attorney, and it is expected that if the penalty Magistrate Creasor has in mind appeals to the department as being sufficiently severe the other four charges will be withdrawn. The sentence then imposed will cover all six charges. Weber was remanded for eight days.

Summons America To European Duties

London Observer Says She Must Choose Selfish Aloofness or Altruistic Service.

LONDON, Feb. 12. — Asserting that America is faced now with "the choice of Achilles," The Observer makes a strong appeal to her to take her full share in the work of the League of Nations, even if it involves intervention in European affairs. It says Germany is straining every nerve to prevent her complete co-operation with her European allies by trying to rouse her distrust of England.

"The German cry is still the same: 'England's selfishness, England's lust of domination.' Why? Because the Germans know that if they can once divide the English-speaking countries there is still hope that German ambitions, which have by no means died with the downfall of Kaiserism, may be realized.

"We have given such proofs as no other power has given of our sincerity and earnestness in forwarding the League of Nations idea. We have risked the discontent of Britons overseas. We have shown our willingness to pool what our arms have won in the interest of the world's peace and security. We don no halo of saintship on that account, but we appeal to all that is noble and worthy in the American character to stand by us to the uttermost in bringing to full effect the design which has chiefly emanated from the brain and conscience of the President of the United States."

The Observer goes on to say it knows that the brilliant prospect of material gain looms before the American people if they make the "great refusal."

"They are far less strained by the war than any of the other great nations of the world except Japan. They can apply their vast resources to building up a prosperity anad leadership in the world's commerce which has never been approached by any nation in history. They have an immense army trained, and, as regards a large part of it, inured to war. So far as shipbuilding and armaments go, they can create a fleet which even Britain could not match.

"To some Americans it may seem that the world lies at their feet if they refrain from involving themselves too deeply in international concerns, but the picture is a mirage. America is great by reason of her greatness of soul, by force of ideas, and not by reason of material wealth or power. If she loses her pride of place in the world of ideas she loses all that makes of her people a nation, and the time has come, in the overthrow of the political systems of two-thirds of the civilized world, when the value of ideas is to be found only in their application."

So The Observer hopes the President, on his return home, will make America see that the Monroe doctrine must be extended to embrace the whole world, and that she must do her full part to enforce it.

IN MEMORIAM.

McNAUGHTON—In loving memory of Pte. G. W. McNaughton, killed in action, February 12th 1917, 93rd Battalion.

He is gone but not forgotten.
The voice we loved is still,
His chair is ever vacant
And never can be filled.
We loved him, yes, we loved him,
But Jesus loved him more
And now he dwells with Him above
On that eternal shore.

—Wife and Family.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Thalma Percilline Beatty, age one year and ten months, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Beatty, of Bridgenorth, who died on Nov. 3rd, 1918:

Our darling little Thalma,
The idol of our home,
Has left her humble cradle
To rejoice on the Lord's great throne.

The tiny voice is silent
That we so loved to hear;
The little chair is vacant,
That she once loved so dear.

The patient little darling
Bore all her pains so brave,
And now she is so peaceful
In the cold and silent grave.

The little arms no longer will Embrace the loved ones here;
But cling to God above, until
He calls her parents dear.

The little head that weary was
Is resting on His breast,
Who always has His own good cause
To call us to peace and rest.

Never Die Elder Goes to Jail

Long Prison Sentence for Sect Leader for Many Burglaries.

Special to The New York Times:

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Feb. 14.—"Elder" Walter Robinson, head of the "Live and Never Die" sect, which has spiritual headquarters in North Indiana Avenue, this city, and branches in New York and Philadelphia, was sentenced to serve from four years and eight months to seven years in State prison and fined $2,000 by Judge Robert H. Ingersoll in the County Court at Mays Landing today.

Robinson was convicted on Jan. 30 of breaking and entering, and of larceny. He was accused of grooming two boys, Perry Jones, 9 years old, and Robert Washington, 10, to steal, and of being the leader in a regular "system." The boys robbed the summer cottage of Mrs. Grace Chappelle, a retired actress, of jewelry worth $6,000, which was recovered.

Robinson's counsel immediately presented a writ of error to have the case reviewed by the Supreme Court. He was released on $3,000 bail.

The "Elder," who is tall and thick set, with a heavy beard, appeared for sentence in flowing deep purple robes. He startled the court during his trial when he swore he was 96 years old. He did not look 50. He asserted that no one need die if he followed the mandates of the Bible as he interpreted them.

Several "brothers" accompanied Robinson, dressed in garments of lighter purple, which looked much like bath robes, and wore round velvet hats. Several "sisters" in his flock also were present. They wore Shaker bonnets and gowns. The "parishioners" motored to the Court House.

Thousands of dollars' worth of stolen property had been found in the homes of members of the sect, Prosecutor Edmund Gaskill told Judge Ingersoll in urging the maximum penalty. He asserted Robinson was the head of a nefarious system, and that an example should be made of him.

Carrie Wilson, alias Robinson—all members taking the cognomen of Robinson upon joining the sect—who said she was one of his "adopted daughters," was sentenced to serve three months in the county jail, and then sentence was suspended.

British Fleet Was Not Safe Until Year 1916

Germany Had Twice As Many Destroyers and Better Armour Equipment —Reserves Were Short.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Lord Jellicoe's book on the Grand Fleet, which was published here, dwells on the dangers to which the fleet was exposed when it was short of cruisers and destroyers and with bases defenceless owing to submarines, mines and torpedoes. He points out that the German high sea fleet possessed 88 destroyers compared with the Grand Fleet's 45. It is revealed that owing to the submarine menace the Grand Fleet moved to Lough Swilly and only returned to the North Sea when the Scapa Flow anchorage was rendered reasonably safe. Lord Jellico says that neither in 1914 or 1916 did the British margin of superiority justify him in disregarding the enemy's torpedo fire. The position gradually improved after 1916, especially as light cruiser and destroyer forces with the Grand Fleet increased steadily after the battle of Jutland, considerably reducing the danger of successful torpedo attacks, while the inclusion of the "K" class of submarine made it possible that the enemy suffered more severely from submarine attack than the British. Regarding 1918, Lord Jellico says:

"The position was assured and we could have afforded to take risks which in 1916 would have been most unwise. If the German fleet had come out to battle, a terrible punishment awaited it." One third of the book is devoted to the battle of Jutland, Summing up the lessons of this fight Lord Jellico dwells on: "The danger involved in leaving too much to chance in a fleet action because our fleet was the one and only factor vital to the existence of the Empire and indeed to the Allied cause."

Reserves Were Short

"We had not reserve outside our battle fleet which could in any way replace it in the event of disaster or even should its margin of superiority be eliminated." Moreover Admiral Jellico says he knew his ships were adequately protected with armor compared with the battle-cruiser type of ship while the German fleet at Jutland was far better off in destroyers in addition to their possession of the most efficient armor-piercing shell. When the battle fleets approached there was a difference in reckoning between the British battle fleet and the battle cruiser squadron due to the latter being engagd several hours on a repeatedly altering course. Hence instead of the enemy being encountered right ahead it appeared on the starboard bow. Instant action was necessary and Lord Jellico decided to deploy on the port wing, the division thus compelling the Germans to turn off to starboard to avoid being crossed. This masterly manoeuvre, as the interviewers describe it, threw the enemy into complete confusion. The German Admiralissimo realized that his only hope lay in escape, profiting by his superiority in torpedo craft, low visibility, the approach of darkness, and the proximity of his base and the mine fields. The enemy at this period fired hundreds of torpedoes, as German officers have since stated, and though the Germans were in the gravest peril the position of the Grand Fleet itself, menacedby determined torpedo attacks in thick weather was not enviable. But the British fleet by four times turning in battleline during the action, cleared the torpedoes, which were racing towards the British ships and defeated the tactics on which the enemy had based their hopes.

Still Of The Captains

Lord Jellico pays a tribute to the skill of his captains in handling their ships, thus avoiding torpedoes and collisions while keeping their stations. He explains why he did not seek a night action, and explains that the Germans had more powerful searchlights. The superiority in destroyers, and the greater number of torpedo tubes fitted to their ships, gave the Germans an opportunity of scoring heavily at the outset of the action in which the result must always be a matter of chance. The Admiral, after careful estimates as to the relative strengths of the two fleets early in the war, expresses surprise that the enemy was so cautious and says: "If this country in future decides to rely for safety against raids or invasion on its fleet alone, it is essential that we possess a considerable greater margin of superiority over any possible enemy in all classes of vessels than we did in August, 1914."

KIDNEY DISEASE OVERCOME.

Mr. James Proose, cattle dealer, Shaho, Sask., writes: "For about ten years I suffered from kidney disease; at times was bad with backache, and derangements of the digestive organs. During that time I was treated by four different doctors. One day I read in Dr. Chase's Almanac about the Kidney-Liver Pills and began to use them. Altogether I used six boxes. All I need say is that I feel well now and attribute this condition to the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

ONE-TIME CHANCELLOR IS WILLING TO FACE TRIBUNAL

Berlin, Feb. 13.—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg German Imperial Chancellor at the outbreak of the war, reiterates his willingness to go before an impartial tribunal for the purpose of accounting for his stewardship of Germany's foreign policy, in a communication to the Kreuz-Zeitung. The one-time Chancellor's letter, which repeats utterances made by him last winter, makes the condition that both parties submit complete records. He also takes it for granted that a neutral tribunal should hear his case and base its decision on his constitutional responsibility for the policy sets of the former Emperor.

GRAIN MARKET

The short interests in May corn got a proper squeezing yesterday, when that option along with the other months made a bound up to $1.33 3-8c., an advance of 8c. over the last previous close before Wednesday's holiday. Cash corn was reported 4c. higher at the western centres. Oats and barley followed corn, making strong advances in both the Chicago and Winnipeg markets.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 northern, $2.24 1-2; No. 2 northern, $2.20 1-2; No. 3 northern, $2.17; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

Manitoba oats—No. 2 C.W., 70 1-8c., in store, Fort William; No. 3, 63 1-8c.; extra No. 1 feed, 65 1-8c.; No. 1 feed, 61 5-8c.; No. 2 feed, 57 5-8c.

Manitoba barley, in store, Fort William; No. 3, C.W., 83 3-8c.; No. 4, C. W., 78 3-8c.; rejected, 71 1-8c.; feed, 71 1-8c.

Ontario wheat—No. 1 winter, $2.14 to $2.28; No. 2 winter, $2.11 to $2.19; No. 3 winter, $2.07 to $2.15; No. 1 spring, $2.00 to $2.17; No. 2 spring, $2.08 to $2.14; No. 3 spring, $2.02 to $2.10 f.o.b. shipping points, according to freight.

Ontario flour— War quality, $9.75, Toronto-Montreal, $9.75, new bags.

Hay— Baled, track, Toronto, car lots, No. 1, $23 to $28; No. 2 mixed, $20 to $21 per ton; straw, car lots, $10 to $11.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards —Receipts were 53 cars, with 803 cattle, 66 calves, 1,254 hogs, and 235 sheep and lambs.

Common and medium butcher steers and heifers are 50c. to 75c. lower than the beginning of the week, but quality considered the market is probably just as good and even strong as at any time in the past two weeks. The trouble is that too many common half-finished heifers and rough steers have been rushed to market the latter part of this week and not enough of the best quality and finished cattle, which are most in demand. The fact that four choice steers sold yesterday at $16.75 and that other choice lots sold from $14 up to $15.50 shows that the market is still all right, though the poorer stuff is selling at lower prices.

Calves strong.
Hogs steady.

MISS MACDOWELL TELLS OF ADVANCE FOR SERVANTS

Newport, Feb. 13.—An eight-hour day, sleeping at home in a club or hotel; paying for her own food, service stripes on her sleeve and having the prefix "Miss" or "Mrs." attached to her name are some of the advances seen in the near future of the domestic servant by Miss Mary E. McDowell, of Chicago. She has just returned from France, where she was sent by the War Work Council of the Y. W. C. A. to study conditions, and yesterday, at the Wolcott Hotel, she told of some of the results of her investigations there and in England.

Under the leadership of Lady Londonderry, the English domestic servants recently employed in munitions factories have been organized into a household section of her Woman's Legion, which provided ambulance drivers, cooks and various other helpers during the war.

"The new household section is bound to be the solution of the domestic servant problem in England, and it will soon be introduced over here," said Miss MacDowell.

Steel Mills Still Operating

Lower Prices in Prospect—Shops Well Supplied.

Although reports have it that the mills of the United States Steel Corporation are still operating at 85 or 90 per cent. of their war-time capacity, it is not to be taken that they are selling at that rate. As a matter of fact sales have dropped materially and the Corporation, which has an extensive system of storage, is making use of this section of its equipment. How long they can or will pursue this policy is problematical. It is interesting to note that the buyers seem willing to absorb high costs for automobiles, but when it comes to putting money into steel for industrial purposes they regard it as a very different matter, and fight shy of actual purchases.

Steel Plate

Steel plate has not moved yet below the six cent price in Canadian warehouses. Dealers claim that they are not able to secure deliveries which will enable them to pass on the reduced price at once to the users here. As a matter of fact about one cent a pound is being paid by way of premium for quick delivery. Canadian warehouses for the most part are pretty well cleared out of war price plate, and they should be able to quote prices based on the lower United States base price as soon as they can secure satisfactory deliveries.

On tubes, it may be said there are two prices now. If the buyer is urgent he is served from stock. If he can wait he places his order for delivery in about two weeks, and by the latter course he saves some ten per cent. on the transaction.

Well Supplied

Some of the machine shops in the district are being kept fairly well supplied for the present on the work of rebuilding and changing machinery that has been taken by some of the dealers from the shell shop equipment that passed out of us the day the armistice was signed, or shortly after. There is a tendency though on the part of the dealers, to let the stuff slide. They do not want it unless they take it in at their own figure, and even then it must be in exceptionally good shape.

Several firms are at the point where they will shortly make announcements regarding their plans for the future. They are not likely to make any such announcements before they are ready to go ahead, feeling that were they to do this it would simply be inviting competition from others, who might be figuring what to do with a very efficient plant and organization.—Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News.

ASSERTS ORPHAN GIRL WAS TRADED FOR $30 AND COW

Marietta, Ga. Feb. 13.—Investigation of charges that Mrs. Naomi V. Campbell, head of an orphan's home here, had traded a girl in her charge for $30 and a cow, was begun here by Solicitor General Dorsey. The charge developed after the arrest of the woman in connection with a general inquiry relating to the treatment of children in the institution.

Hazel Rankins, a little girl who had been placed in the home was missed when relatives went to take her away. An investigation, the family alleges, showed that the child had been given to a woman at Toccoa who wanted to adopt her, and who paid to Mrs. Campbell the money and a cow to bind the trade. Mrs. Campbell denied all charges regarding the position of the orphan and disposition of others under her care.

Brian Junior Appears on the Scene

CHAPTER CXIX

Twice again before Mrs. Clayborne came, Arthur Mandel took Ruth to the theater. Once she consented to have supper with him; but his pleasure was so patent, his love for her so obvious, it made her uncomfortable; while she was scarcely aware of the reason.

Ruth was singularly modest for one of her attainments and physical attractions. She hadn't a particle of egotism, save as regarded her knowledge of interiors. So what would have been perfectly plain to most women, simply made her uneasy. Yet, that night she refused to have supper with him and went immediately home.

She had heard once more from Brian. A glowing letter filled with the spirit of adventure and delight in being "Over there." He was full of enthusiasm and described minutely the welcome the "Yanks" received, and told little incidents which had happened on the trip over.

Ruth shuddered when he told of sighting a submarine.

"We showed her a clean pair of heels. Our boat was too swift for her. I'll bet there were a lot of disappointed Huns when we shook her off. He said it lightly, as was his way, but to Ruth it was a tragedy.

He told her how to reach him, and promised to write often. He had not yet heard from her, but was looking anxiously for a letter. He did not mention business or money.

"He takes it for granted that I can take care of myself," Ruth muttered bitterly. Then shut her lips tightly as she remembered that it was her own fault; that had she been contented to remain in the little apartments they had rented when they were first married, and had done her own work, Brian, although he would doubtless have been drafted later would never have enlisted. She would then have been dependent on him.

Ruth wondered idly if she wished she had acted differently. Then came to the same conclusion as always; that if Brian cared for her—her happiness—he would not object to what she did, as long as she hadn't allowed it to interfere with his comfort. She figured that he had been even more comfortable, forgetting that his principle objection had been to her frequent absences from home.

"No—it wouldn't have made any difference," she always ended by saying aloud.

One day she had a fainting spell in the office. Fortunately—so she thought—Mandel was away. She called a taxi and went home. Then she wrote her employer that she would not be able to keep her place as she was not able to work. Something she said in her short note had told Mandel the reason.

"Poor girl!" he said as he ordered some flowers sent her, and answered her note, telling her that when she was ready to come back, her position would be waiting. This in a way was a relief to Ruth. She was proud, and while she might accept checks as presents, from Mrs. Clayborne, she did not care to be dependent upon her. She had opposed her marrying Brian because he could not support her, and she would not belittle her husband by throwing her support upon her aunt even when he was away.

The day after she left the shop, her aunt came. Never was anyone more cordially welcomed. Ruth clung to be in the days that followed, and when, about six weeks later, her baby boy was born, she declared she would have died had she been alone.

"Shall you cable Brian?" her aunt asked.

"No—he doesn't know anything about it—I—guess I'll wait until he comes back—to—tell him."

"You mean that he went away not knowing you were to have a child?"

"Yes—I was afraid he would want me to give up my position so I did not tell until it was too late."

"Too late!—what do you mean?"

"Until he was going—I intended to tell him that night—but I— changed my mind." Her face flushed crimson as she thought of her reason—Mollie King (she was sure it had been her voice she had heard over the telephone.)

Mrs. Clayborne said no more; but her face wore a peculiar look, and her thoughts were all of Arthur Mandel. She felt sure that Brian and Ruth had parted for good. She would wait until Ruth was stronger, then question her.

Ruth insisted upon calling the baby "Brian," although she agreed with her aunt that he would probably be called "Junior" instead of his father's name. Old Rachel was in the seventh heaven of delight.

"I sholy never thot I'd see missy Ruth wif a baby of her own. She ain't no mo' dan a baby herself, she ain't."

"You'll have two to take care of now, Rachel, instead of one," Ruth answered as she hugged her baby close.

DR. GERVAIS MAKES VIRTUAL CONFESSION

PRINCE, ALBERT, Sask., Feb. 13.—At the coroner's inquest held here, Dr. Gervais virtually confessed that he shot Adolph Lajoie through the heart. The charred remains of Lajoie were found in the ruins of the shack, which had been set on fire after the murder was committed.

Gervais is visibly suffering under the mental strain. He was rebuked by the coroner several times because of the disconnected manner in which he gave his evidence. He thought that either he or Victor Caquel, who had accompanied him to Lajoie's shack, had killed Lajoie; but he believed that it was he (Gervais) who had fired the shot, as he was unable to pay a debt of $80 which he owed to the murdered man. The inquest continues.

CANADA'S FIRST NOVEL

IT WAS WRITTEN BY MRS. FRANCES BROOKE.

Story Was Entitled "The History of Emily Montagu" and the Writer Adopted the Form and Method of Richardson — Interesting Facts Regarding a Very Curious Literary Production.

IN literature, perhaps more than in any other art, originality has to do with substance and detail rather than with form or method. This we must remember in any study or estimate of Canadian fiction. Therefore, it is not well for us to lay any charge of unoriginality against Mrs. Brooke, who, writing in 1769, adopted the form and method of Richardson, the father of the English novel, and gave in a series of letters woven together by a story plot, a picture of the Canada of that day, its people and their life.

Mrs. Frances Brooke was the wife of a chaplain attached to the forces of Guy Carleton at Quebec, and her novel met with such success that a second edition was published in 1777. T. G. Marquis in his "English-Canadian Literature," remarks that the descriptions of wild nature are well done, and that the portrayals of the officers and "noblesse" of Quebec is a faithful reproduction, that the characters of the personages of the story are admirably revealed in their letters, and that this is a strong, clean, healthy romance.

But the first novel which Canada may claim as her own, written by a Canadian author, and printed in Canada, is "St. Ursula's Convent, or, The Nun of Canada," described on its title-page as "Containing Scenes from Real Life." This book was printed in two leather-bound (103 and 134 pages) volumes, in 1824, by Hugh C. Thomson at Kingston, Upper Canada. The success of its publication was ensured by advance subscription, and a list of names and addresses of over 150 subscribers is printed in the book. The majority of the subscribers were in Kingston, but Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and New York were well represented. Toronto (then York) which is now the publishing centre of the Dominion, seems not to have contained a single "literary" person sufficiently interested to procure a copy of this first Canadian novel. (A magazine article, referring to this point, says that one copy was taken in York, but I fail to find the name in the list).

Which though to us it seems perplexed,
Moves on
In higher order, ruled and impelled
By wisdom's finest hand, and issuing Universal good.—Thomson.

The dedication is: "To the Right Honourable, the Countess of Dalhousie these volumes are inscribed, with profound respect by her ladyship's most humble servant, the author."

From the preface we quote:—

"It is the natural course of all subluinary affairs to proceed from small beginnings, and to advance generally towards perfection. Such has been the slow progress of improvement in British America, where until lately genius has slept through a long night of ignorance and inaction, and scarcely a dawn of literary illumination is yet discerned. Our incipient attempts, then, can hardly hope to enter into competition with the finest prodoctions of the Old World."

We learn from this preface that this book is the first production of an author of seventeen. The writer, Julia Catharine Beckwith, was born at Fredericton, N.B., in 1796. In 1820 the family removed to Kingston, where she married in 1888, George Henry Hart, a bookbinder. In 1826 the Harts went to the United States, where, in 1831, Mrs. Hart published "Tonowante, or, The Adopted Son of America." She died at Fredericton, 1867. Her brother, the late Hon. John A. Beckwith, was Provincial Secretary of New Brunswick.

"St. Ursula's Convent" is, indeed, romantic enough in literary flavor. Incidents are narrated in rapid succession, and there is intrigue, adventure and shipwreck. The opening chapter gives us as a setting, the parish of St. A——, about fifteen leagues below Quebec, and in this one short chapter we find sketched the ancestry of Monsr Philip De St. Louis, his education, courtship, growth of his family, ending up with the settlement of Adelaide, in her twelfth year, at the Ursuline Convent, as a boarder in charge of Mother St. Catherine.

"Adelaide had now passed four years in the convent. Her brother Francis had been three years at college. They visited home every summer, but a year had elapsed since their last visit."

To give some idea of the style of the narrative we quote here a further passage from the second chapter. Certainly there are many crudities, but we must remember that it the writing of a girl of seventeen, and also that the novel was at this period as yet far from being developed to the stage of artistic finish at which it has now arrived:—

"After breakfast the following morning, Adelaide was informed that Francis was at the gate. She hastened down and gently chided him for not having called for several days; but he excused himself by saying that he had been much engaged with some difficult studies. Adelaide smiled at his excuse and enquired if he had heard from home. "I have," said Francis, "and melancholy is the intelligence that I have received." "What is it?" "Our dear grandpapa,

Candy not a Luxury

IT would be folly indeed if a belief detrimental to the public welfare—and proven false—was allowed to last any longer. That false belief is that candy is a luxury.

Candy contains large quantities of sugar, some fats such as butter; also nuts, fruits, corn syrup, chocolate and flavoring.

Combine these ingredients in proper proportions and you have a balanced ration—the high food value of which is recognized by all leading food and medical authorities.

Sugar supplies the bodily demand for fuel. Fruits and nuts produce essential nutriment; chocolate is a most nourishing fat food and delightful stimulant. The flavorings stimulate the digestive organs and increase the flow of saliva and gastric fluid.

Eat more candy!

Medical science has established its value as an energy-producing food.

TAKE NO ADVANTAGE OF FOE

Feudists in Italy and South America Display Sense of Chivalry That Is Remarkable.

Before one can truly realise the terrible depravity to which human nature can occasionally descend one has to obtain just an inkling into that horror of horrors known by the name "vendetta." The misery, the suffering, the fear sometimes engendered by these awful feuds it is impossible to paint in language too denunciatory, observes a writer in London Answers.

A gentleman not long returned from South America described the other day the end of a vendetta he once had the misfortune to witness in the Boca (lowest quarter) of Buenos Aires. The antagonists had their knives strapped to their hands so that the weapons could not possibly drop from their fingers, however badly injured they became. Before the police had separated them one of the luckless combatants had received no less than 17 wounds. On being examined it was discovered that this individual had a loaded revolver in his belt.

"Whyever did you not use your firearm?" asked the prefect of police.

"No; it was a fight with knives," explained the other, with a gasp, and the next moment he sank unconscious to the ground.

In Naples, where warning of a vendetta is almost invariably given in private, a member of the Camorra is sometimes called in to settle a dispute, and in this way occasionally what might otherwise have been a brutal feud ends in the chink of glasses at a sumptuous banquet. If a Camorrist meets his death at the hands of a foe it becomes the bounden duty of some other member of the Camorra to avenge it, notice being almost invariably given to the relatives of the deceased that it is absolutely unnecessary for them to take any steps in the matter whatever.

In Naples, curiously enough, the sympathy of the people is much more with the murderer in these cases than with the victim, judging that if he had had no grievance the former would never have bared his blade; and it is quite surprising how far people are prepared to go in order to protect him from the police.

It is an unwritten law among the hot-blooded races among whom the vendetta still exists that, in an open street fight, no adversary must be assailed with a knife until he has had time to unclasp his own.

Not the least extraordinary feature of several of the vendettas is the refusal on the part of its dying victims to disclose the name of those who have mortally wounded them.

Grow Rich In Canada.

In Wayakama, Japan, is a fishing village which has supplied nearly one thousand men and women for the fishing industry of Canada, according to an Osaka paper. Many of these emigrants have made money and some of them have become so comfortably circumstanced that they are able to take occasional holidays at home. This is chiefly in the winter, when many return to the village of Mio to choose a wife, leave a child at school, or simply to enjoy the old environment. When a steamer from Canada arrives, "it is a sight to see long lines of rickshas along the road to Mio with youthful passengers dressed in the latest Canadian style. At the entrance of the village they are met by crowds of relatives and acquaintances, and pretty girls dressed in their gayest kimono are not wanting."

London's metropolitan area contains a million houses.

A Useless Father.

He was the four-year-old offspring of the beloved minister of a well-known and popular church, a minister renowned for his eloquent appeal to the practical as well as the spiritual side of life. One day the young son and heir was having trouble with his go-cart when a neighbor passing by was appealed to for help. The neighbor felt incompetent to advise and asked: "Why don't you go to your father and find out what's the matter? He'll know." "No use," said the little chap in disgust. "He won't know. He don't know anything except about God!"

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

ead has it that Dr. Kramar was at Semil, the birthplace of Dr. r, the only representative of the Bohemian-Czech police. The legend is erroneous, for Dr. Kramar was born near Semil, for Dr. Kramar was born near Semil, at Vysoke-on-the-Jizers, in 1860. His father, a self-made man, a millionaire manufacturer, allowed him to devote his whole life to the service of his nation, unhindered by any anxiety about money. After studying at various universities, he wrote, first of all, works of political economy, then of pure politics, and finally became a deputy and political leader. He devoted his youthful works to the question of the state rights of the provinces of the crown of Bohemia. In one work he elaborated the point that, even after the defeat of the White Mountain, in 1621, the Czech State as being a state simply attached to the other dominions of the Hapsburgs by dynastic liens, had not ceased to exist. He showed also that it was not until 1749 that the Czech State was actually deprived of its sovereignty by an absolutist act of Maria Theresa. After the departure of the French troops of Gen. de Belle-Isle and Col. Chevert, that Hapsburg sovereign avenged herself thus upon the state, that is to say, upon the nobility, which held sway in Bohemia, and which, in 1940, had dethroned the Hapsburgs there and, with the aid of France, had chosen as their king Charles VII., Prince of Bavaria.

With Prof. Masaryk, the best known of the Czech leaders, and Prof. Kaizl, Dr. Kramar inaugurated, the "realist" movement, which, not only in questions of a political character, but in all questions, took its stand upon realities, to appraise the present situation of the Czech nation. Politically, this movement aimed to secure as much power as possible in Austria so as to compel the Hapsburgs to abandon the alliance with Germany, an alliance which, in a speech delivered to the delegations, Dr. Kramar called "a plane out of date."

It was in the Department of Foreign Affairs that the Czech leader took the chief interest. He was of the small number of those who followed the course of international events. When in 1903 the Pan-Germanist movement assumed an active form among the Germans in Austria, Dr. Kramar published two articles, one in the Revue de Paris, the other in the National Review of London. In these he laid bare before the European public the danger that Pan-Germanism was to the world. What he said in those articles as to the plans of Germany with regard to the economic conquest of Turkey and Asia Minor by the construction of the Bagdad Railway aroused deep interest among the British public. Until the outbreak of the war Dr. Kramar, like Mr. Masaryk, devoted all his political efforts to separating the Hapsburgs from the Hohenzollerns so as to weaken Germany and thus to turn aside the danger which threatened the peace of the world.

When the war broke out, Dr. Kramar immediately, and without hesitation, adopted the same point of view as the whole Czecho-Slovak nation. Accused of high treason, he was taken before the Council of War at Vienna. There his nobility of character shone forth with the utmost brilliancy. His tall, upright figure contrasted nobly with the vulgarity of his famous prosecutor. His glance gave frank expression to his contempt. With no gesture, with no entreaty, did he compromise his honor, his pride, or the honor and the pride of the nation whose leader he had been before the war. The prestige of his figure and his arguments impressed ever his judges, although they must have raged internally when he treated them as nullities, unworthy to understand him and still less to pass judgment on him. The drawings of the German and the Magyar artists made during the trial show how the haughty independence of the Czech leader and of his co-defendant, Dr. Rasin, stanch as a block of stone, impressed them.

Dr. Kramar was not executed. They were afraid that the archduke and the generals of the Hapsburgs might have to pay the penalty for his death. He was not executed because the Hapsburgs and their advisers reasoned thus: in case of a change in the military situation, they hoped by an amnesty to win over the condemned man to the future defence of the throne. But the Czech leader did not falter for an instant. Saved from the gallows, he at once inaugurated an anti-Austrian policy, at the risk of being tried anew and handed over to the executioner. Such is the man whom his people adore to-day; such is the man as the democrats of the Entente see him to-day. Of all his political work, this will be the most priceless inheritance of the nation.

In France at one time only those of noble birth were allowed to be glass-blowers.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Guaranteed to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigour and Nerve Force.

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symtoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

Weak, tired people regain strength and vigour; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks.

It is sold by McDermid & Jury in Peterborough and most all good druggists.

CAUTION:— Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Navy Will Bring Home Bodies Of Its Dead Heroes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. — Arrangements for bringing back to the United States the bodies of officers and men of the navy who were killed or died in foreign service are being made by the department. Undoubtedly a similar policy will be adopted by the army as soon as peace has been formally declared, but the graves of the men of either branch of the service who are buried where they fell, will be cared for by the government if it is the wish of their relatives that they be not disturbed.

These graves have invariably been semi-permanent in character, marked in such a manner as to guard against error, and have been carefully tended and preserved, while minute and accurate burial records have been kept in the Navy Department at Washington, at the naval headquarters in London, and in the files of the various stations.

The programme under consideration includes three lines of action, dependent upon the wish of the next of kin in each case.

(1) The bodies to be allowed to remain in the country where death occurred; (2) to be returned to the United States for reinterment at Arlington or any other designated national cemetery; or (3) to be sent to the next of kin in any part of the United States for private burial.

Although the Navy Department would prefer to return all of its dead to this country for burial beside those who have given their lives in other wars, yet the wishes of relatives who desire that the bodies be allowed to lie undisturbed will be granted, and it is probable that suitable cemeteries will be purchased in France, wherein all American dead left abroad may be assembled, and assured perpetual care and recognition.

When it is requested that a body be returned to the United States for burial in a national cemetery the department will try and arrange the funeral so that the relatives may attend. Where there are many interments to be made in a cemetery it is probable that a general service will be held with appropriate military honors.

Those who have left relatives of the navy or Marine Corps and have been informed of their burial abroad (particularly the relative who was designated by the deceased as his next of kin) are invited to communicate their wishes to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., (concerning dead of the Navy or Navy Reserve) or to the Major General Commandment, U. S. Marine Corps, Washington, D. C., (with respect to marines), so that the department may have full information upon which to base arrangements.

No date has been set for beginning this task, as many problems remain unsolved.

Nothing circulates so rapidly as a secret.

Suicide Adds To Mystery Of Fur Firm's Troubles

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Behind the apparently prosaic court procedure in appointing receivers for the M. Groh's Sons, Inc., owners of a cold storage warehouse for furs at Nos. 22 to 250 West Twenty-eighth street, there is a story of mystery and tragedy.

The facts so far as known are these. Last Friday Judge Knox, in the United State District Court, on application of the law firm of William Folsom & Strouse, representing creditors claiming $300,000, appointed George D. De Lacy and E. Bright Wilson receivers in equity. The application stated specifically that the firm was not insolvent, but that the action was brought to protect the interests of the persons interested.

That night, a few hours after the receivers were appointed, Rudolph H Schwarzer, secretary of the firm, committed suicide in his home, No. 17 Laurel Hi Boulevard, Winfield, L.I., by shooting himself in the head. By a strange coincidence he killed himself in the very room in which his brother had ended his life in the same manner five years ago. But Mr. Schwarzer left nothing to indicate what had caused him to take his life.

Owned Two Other Companies.

Another unusual phase of the case is that the firm of M. Groh's Sons, Inc., conducted two other businesses under subsidiary companies in the same building. One known as the Chelsea Ice Company, manufactured and sold ice, and the other, known as the Chelsea Brokerage Company, dealt in furs, while the main firm did business exclusively as a cold storage warehouse for furs.

According to Louis H. Strouse, of the law firm representing the creditors, whose names have not been disclosed, the building owned by M. Groh's Sons is worth about $700,000. He also said the firm was rated at $750,000 and was not insolvent. Asked as to the manner in which the firm's business has been conducted, Mr Strousse said:

"We are hoping for the best. Expert accountants are now going over the books, and until they make some kind of a report I would rather not express an opinion. The suicide of Mr. Schwarzer is a strange feature of the case, but I have little doubt that the firm's resources will more than take care of any claims against it."

To Preserve Assets.

"This is an application for a receivership in an equity suit brought for the purpose of preserving the assets of the corporation," said Mr. De Lacy. "The Groh corporation is the main corporation. It has what might be de[illegible] off-sheets. The Chelsea Brokerage Company is supposed to act as brokers in the sale of furs. It is an unprecedented thing for a storage corporation to have a connection with a subsidiary corporation conducting a merchandise business in the same commodities which the parent corporation stores exclusively."

The President and treasurer of M. Groh's Sons, Inc., is J. George Flammer, of No. 124 West Eighty-seventh street, when a reporter for the Herald went there last evening he was told that Mr. Flammer was not at home and it was not known when he would be home.

ACCUSED OFFICER IS ILL.

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 13.—Major Sharp, former casualty officer for this district, who disappeared from here last August, and who was apprehended recently in New York, has been removed from his room over the officers' mess at Tete du Pont Barracks to Queen's Military Hospital for treatment. Ever since his return to the city Major Sharp has been in failing health, and at last it became necessary to have him removed to the hospital, where he is receiving every care and attention.

When some men think they are thinking they are only losing time.

Huns Continue to Rob Peasants

WARSAW, Feb. 13.—Bolshevik leaders in Lithuania are attempting to make their men behave circumspectly, but, according to reports reaching here, they are not having an easy task.

A band of 500 Bolsheviki operating in Novgorod reported to the leaders that the inhabitants were hostile, and that difficulties were in sight. The leaders of the band in Novgorod have posted notices that there would be no pillaging if food was given to the Bolsheviki, though when they first arrived they stole money and other valuables from homes. The Bolsheviki went to the servants in the town and tried to persuade them to quit work. The servants are said to have replied that they had to work to eat, and, when the Bolsheviki laughed at them, said that it was stealing to get food as the Bolsheviki did.

In the art of stealing, the Bolsheviki are often outdone by the retiring German troops. Before they left Novgorod, they pretended that ten homes had been stolen from them by the townspeople, and that the town would be burned unless 40,000 rubles was paid for the horses. Officers dressed as Black Hussars with the letter W on their shoulder straps, gave the townspeople one hour to make the payment.

When the villagers protested that the demand was excessive and that they had no money, a Captain of the hussars lowered the ransom to 30,000 rubles and then to 20,000, after which he placed troops with machine guns about the town. Finally the Captain compromised on a payment of 8,000 rubles. After giving a receipt for the money, he jumped on a horse and rode away.

The Germans in a village near Bialystok threatened to burn the town unless a large ransom was paid to them. However, they accepted a few hundred rubles in default of the ability of the villagers to pay a larger sum.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antiacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and health fully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestents.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

SAYS CHINA OFFERS BIG TRADE OPENINGS

Boston, Mass., Feb. 13.—In pointing out the commercial possibilities that await the United States in the Orient, Ansel R. Clark of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Trade before the Foreign Trade Class at the Northeastern College, declared that China offers the best field. He said the Chinese as a nation are the most honest people in the world. Mr. Clarke declared that he cannot become so interested in the Russian market as some other people can. He is of the opinion that the trade runs naturally from Germany to that country. The speaker stated that there is no reason for the American to fear the Japanese.

Mr. Clark does not look for any labor thinks that possibly workers returned from war activities will not necessarily be put back at the same machine or the same desk as in pre-war times, but that men who want a day's work will not be able to dodge it.

The speaker declares that this country cannot get away from buying German goods and for the purpose of getting such goods into this and other countries numerous Swiss companies have been organized with German capital. He stated that neutral countries with immense riches made by staying out of the war seek to become big manufacturing countries, but the speaker predicts that they will be disappointed in that respect for the reason that raw materials upon which their success depends will be supplied first to the Allies by direction of the United States.

WAR WORKER KILLS HER HUSBAND AND HERSELF

New York, Feb. 13.— Mrs Alice Hopkins, thirty-five years old, was found dead, and her husband dying in their room at No. 33 Jones street, Jersey City. Both had been shot through the temple. The husband, John B. Hopkins, died after a few hours later in the City Hospital.

According to the police, Mrs. Hopkins did the shooting. Hopkins was found sitting in a chair, as if he had been reading. Mrs Hopkins was in bed to her night clothes dead, with a revolver clasped in her right hand.

The couple had been quarreling for several months, according to Mrs. Mary Judge, who owns the house, in which the two roomed. Mrs. Hopkins according to Mrs. Judge, left her husband several weeks ago, but returned Saturday night. Hopkins had been a four minute speaker during the Liberty Loan campaigns and his wife was a war worker.

Mrs. Hopkins left a note addressed to a Mrs. F. B. Ormsby, of No. 5 Midland avenue, Montclair, N. J., said by the police to be a cousin of Mrs. Hopkins' first husband.

CURED OF DYSPEPSIA BY USING BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

The symptoms of dyspepsia are so numerous and diversified in different individuals that probably no description could exactly represent them as they occur in any given case, but a few of the most prominent are a rising and souring of food, pain, flatulence and distention of the abdomen, a sensation of discomfort after every meal, which is sometimes followed by sickness and vomiting.

To get rid of dyspepsia a careful arrangement of the diet is necessary and due time must be given for the digestion of the meal.

You will find that Burdock Blood Bitters will help with this digestion. It does this by toning up the stomach in such a way that the dyspepsia soon disappears.

Mr. Robt Baldwin, Winnifred, Alta., writes:—"I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters for curing dyspepsia, of which I have been a sufferer for years. I have tried a good many doctors and proprietary medicines, so one day I thought I would try something different. I got a bottle of B. B. B. from our local store, as it was about the only remedy he kept, and I can certainly say that I was more than pleased with the results, as I got better right away. I will always recommend it to other sufferers."

SOUTH AMERICA RIDICULES SPANISH-GERMAN UNION

BUENOS AYRES, Argentina via Colon, Feb. 13.—Men high in the government here view with amusement rather than concern reports emanating from Paris of a possible future understanding between Spain and Germany to "counteract the American attitude of paternalism in South America." Said a prominent politician to-day:—

"If Germany desired to follow such a course she would be unable to do so because of her home situation. She is unable to extend any financial influences toward South America and requires at home everything she has.

"America with her increased maritime strength is more valuable as a friend than any other nation, with the possible exception of Great Britain."

He declared that the Monroe Doctrine is enthusiastically supported in Argentina and other South American republics.

France Training Mutilated Men

NEW YORK—How France, with the aid of benevolent Americans, is making it possible for men mutilated in the war to earn good livelihoods and be independent of charity, was told here by Bernard J. Shoninger, former president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Paris. He is in America for a brief stay.

Shoninger, as president of the Union of Foreign Colonies of France had much to do with starting the schools for mutilated soldiers. He says about 1,700,000 Frenchmen were severely crippled in the war.

"Schools were started throughout France for these cripples while the first of the men were waiting for their artificial limbs to be fitted," said Shoninger.

"We tried as far as possible to have the man returned to his former sphere of activities if his physical condition would permit. Often he felt that he could not return to his former occupation. One example of this is a tailor whose right arm was amputated. We talked him into trying to learn to sew with his left hand. After four weeks he could make a pair of trousers, in two months he made a suit of clothes, and in three months he returned to Algiers, to reopen his tailor shop that he had closed when the war started.

"We graduated from our schools alone, over 5,000, for all of whom were found situations. We obtained a generous amount of money from America in the very beginning. Most of it through the influence of Mrs. Edmund L. Bayliss, chairman of American Committee, and it was due to her efforts that several millions of francs were sent to France. It was Mrs. Bayliss who interested Mr. Edward T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, who founded one of our schools and has turned the money over annually to about $75,000 a year for the running of that school alone.

"These are not small schools, but regular institutions comprising several buildings, for example we teach all trades that would be used in any small country town or village, such as those of cobbler, carpenter, cabinet-maker, the work of the handy man about town, and repairer of locks. For those who are unable to learn these trades we have schools for teaching typewriting and stenography, English and French. Our teachers are persons who have been mutilated in the war.

"Then we have a wonderful farm school 15 miles outside of Paris, a model American farm of over 100 acres, where we teach farming of every kind, from planting and harvesting to catching rabbits and preparing the skins."

It spoils a favor if you are asked to return it.

Nothing boosts the value of a blessing like its removal.

DUMP WHISKEY IN SEA TO PREVENT SEIZURE

Aberdeen, Wash., Feb. 13.—Sacks of whiskey by the score and countless loose bottles were hurled from the decks of the schooner Daisy in the lower bay this morning when the vessel was halted by the torpedo boat Goldsborough with officers of the law on board.

The coaster appeared virtually a whiskey ship, according to the officers who because of inability to get aboard quickly enough, saw this immense shipment of liquor thrown into the bay. The value of the cargo, coming to Aberdeen and Honquiam, possibly was thousands of dollars.

On the war ship when the Daisy was met were Chief of Police Dean, officer McIntosh, of the federal government staff, and Deputy Sheriff Hamm. In a small motor boat near by was Sheriff Jeff Bartell. The purpose of the two craft was to make watching both sides of the Daisy at the same time possible.

When the commander of the war ship sang out to the skipper of the Daisy to stop a great commotion began on the ship. The air was immediately full of flying sacks of bottled liquor. From all parts of the ship the rattle of bottles was heard and the heavy sacks were seen to clear the gunwales and splash into the water. The Goldsborough lowered a cutter with its crew and the officers of the law.

There was never a time when the sacrifices and the help of women were more appreciated than at the present time. Women should learn war-nursing and nursing at home. There is no better way than to study the new edition of the "Common Sense Medical Adviser"—with chapters on First Aid, Bandaging, Anatomy, Hygiene, care of the Sick, Diseases of Women, Mother and Babe, Marriage—to be had at some drug-stores or send 50c. to Dr. Pierce, Courtwright St., Bridgeburg, Ontario.

If a woman suffers from weak back, nervousness or dizziness—if pains afflict her, the best tonic and corrective is one made up of native herbs, and made without alcohol, which makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is the prescription of Doctor Pierce, used by him in active practice many years and now sold by almost every druggist in the land, in liquid or in tablets. Send Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 10c. for trial pkg. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are also best for liver and bowel trouble.

Stafford, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was a great help to me. During an expectant period I became all run-down, weak and nervous and could not eat—was nauseated. I also suffered with backaches. I was a complete wreck and was down sick in bed when I began taking 'Favorite Prescription.' I soon commenced to feel stronger and it finally restored me to health and strength. I could do all my work and felt fine. I had practically no suffering and my baby was strong and healthy.—Mrs. Thomas Burleigh, 206 Pine St.

Bismarck Foresaw the Downfall

HOWEVER loyal a German Bismarck was he might be pardoned, if he were alive to-day, in deriving some satisfaction out of the ruin of the empire whose foundations he laid. He would at least be in a position to say to William Hohenzollern, "I told you so," although, as a matter of fact, it is doubtful if he did tell the Emperor what he told others, namely, that the German Empire could not endure under William II. He made this remark to the Princess Radziwill, secretary to the Empress Friedrich for several years. Bismarck said that he did not consider Germany prosperous at the time in which he was speaking, 1892. He did not believe that it had many years of existence before it. He knew very well that what he had done was destined to perish, not because his own work was faulty, but because of the character of the Kaiser. He said frankly that the Emperor lacked the brains necessary for the task of completing the consolidation of the empire. He was guided by impulse, not by reason.

The sovereign, he said, was essentially an adventurous character. His mind was incapable of settling on serious business, and was guided by sudden impulses. He was, said Bismarck, intolerant. No Chancellor could long remain in office who permitted himself to have opinions different to those of the All Highest, or who permitted the Emperor to become aware of the fact. Said Bismarck: "One cannot govern a country as one commands a regiment, and militarism cannot be applied to politics without producing chaos and trouble. Stability is required to lead men and rule nations, and a politician first of all must look toward the future and any complications the latter may bring. It is all very well to talk about what ought to be done, but in real life the only thing that has got to be considered is what can be done. This the young man who considers himself able to improve upon the work of his grandfather forgets entirely. It is all very well to make war, but war, like everything else, ought to have a purpose, and without one I would never have lent myself to an attack either on Austria or France."

Princess Radziwill says that the question upon which Bismarck and his master finally parted had to do with war upon Russia. William was of opinion that any war was good so long as it could be won. Victory justified it. The Chancellor, as one may gather from his sentiments quoted in the preceding paragraphs, insisted that war in itself was not good, and that even a victory over another powerful country might be meaningless. As regards Russia, he could not agree that Germany wanted or needed any territorial expansion at Russia's expense. In fact, he said that a Russian war, no matter how complete might be the victory, would only give Germany more questions to solve, and would particularly intensify the Polish problem. His own view was that Germany should cultivate Russian friendship and should aim at an alliance which he considered would be an insurance policy against a war with France. He believed that such a war would come some day, because he held that the annexation of Alsace and Lorraine by Germany was a blunder of the first magnitude, and destined to provoke France to a war of revenge.

How close Germany and Russia were to war at the time when the skipper dropped the pilot is not known, but the revelations of Dr. Dillon and others prove that William Hohenzollern eventually came to the conclusion that Germany ought to make friends with Russia, or rather that she ought to make the Russian Czar her dupe. According to the Hohenzollern, an emperor cannot have friends, "he must only apply himself to make dupes." This remark which he made to the princess was apropos of some disparaging observations he permitted himself concerning the Archduke Rudolph, then heir to the Austrian throne. The two men were supposedly warm friends, but William said that in his exalted position he could not afford the luxury of friends.

The princess adds her testimony to that of others who have said that from boyhood, almost from infancy, the ex-Kaiser was obsessed with dreams of military conquest. This grieved his father, who was, in her opinion, not only a clever man, but a good man, and also his mother, whom she considered one of the most remarkable women of her generation. He used to dream of Caesar and Napoleon, and his great ambition was to leave a mark on the pages of history that would associate his name with theirs. It was his war lust that made it impossible for Bismarck to serve him as chancellor, for Bismarck was opposed to war in general, while warmly approving of any war that might make money for Germany. The Kaiser, on the other hand, thought that all war was good so long as it was successful. On this account Bismarck predicted that the German empire would be ruined, and after the first smart of his mortification at being dismissed was forgotten, he expressed deep satisfaction that he at least would not be blamed for the destruction which he foresaw awaiting an empire ruled by a madman.

In Defense of Her Flag.

How the union jack was ably defended by an Irishwoman in the streets of Paris on July 4 is amusingly told: "Outside one of the biggest drapery shops of Paris two ladies handled a union jack which lay on a great pile of flags for sale and remarked in French on its cheapness. The salesman, unskilled in accents, was rash enough to explain the low price by saying that 'the union jack wasn't in season.' He received in reply the most eloquent discourse attainable by an indignant Irishwoman of unblemished loyalty; and an Irish brogue speaking French is an engine of war before which the most intrepid must quail. There is one Frenchman who will never again suggest that there is a close season in union jacks.

Willing to Be Taught.

"Diarist" of the Westminster Gazette says he had been hearing much lately of the Americans in France and the impression made by them upon the British there. "Without giving offense to anybody," he remarks, "I hope I may say that British admiration of them has gone far beyond the limits that were considered likely to be reached, and that they have become strong favorites. But there is one point in particular which seems to have impressed every officer who talks to me on the subject. They all quite expected to find the Americans fine men physically, with plenty of intelligence and their full share of courage and dash and endurance; but they agree that they have been surprised to note the eagerness of the new allies to seek advice. 'You have been at this game for years,' is, I am told, the usual formula; 'but we are fresh at it. Tell us what you know.' It is an admirable frame of mind," adds "Diarist," "and one that promises rapid progress on the part of the willing students."—Christian Science Monitor.

SHORT ON ROMANCE

Some Eminently Prosaic Proposals of Marriage.

Hardly as Picturesque as the Stilted Forms So Popular With Lovers in the Pages of Fiction, but Meant the Same Thing.

Perhaps the romantic proposals of fiction are more picturesque than the usual proposals of real life; the fact that lovers are reluctant witnesses make it hard to tell. But certainly the queer or comic proposals and attempted proposals of fiction cannot be any queerer than some of those recorded in actual chronicle of countryside tradition.

Mr. Howells in his reminiscences gives an amusing middle West example of a country bachelor who belatedly made up his mind to marry, and in his default of female acquaintance took his place on the top rail of a roadside fence and called to the first woman who passed: "Say! You a married woman?"

"And then at the frightened answer indignantly gasped out, 'Yes, sir!' he offered a mere 'Oh!' for an apology and explanation, and let himself vanish by falling into the cornfield behind him."

Almost equally contemptuous of finesse was a New England bachelor in middle life who had lived contentedly on his farm under the able administration of an aunt only a year or two older than himself. His next-door neighbor, and the owner of a small but cozy farmstead, was a competent and contented spinster, in whom Enos had displayed less than the ordinary neighborly interest. But one day he hailed her over the dividing fence: "Hi, Selina!"

Selina did not immediately understand that she was being addressed, and so Enos leaned across the fence and continued shouting "Hi! Hi! Hi!" until he attracted her attention.

"Well, Enos, what is it?" she inquired, turning.

Enos allowed her to walk close to the fence before he replied.

"Aunt Jane's going to get married, so I guess I better, too. What d'ye think about it, Selina?"

"I think ye better, Enos."

"Then ef ye'll have me, guess I better marry you, Selina."

"Ef I will, Enos, I guess ye better."

"Will ye, Selina?"

"I won't Enos."

"Shucks, Selina, ye better."

"That's your say-so, Enos. My idee is, I bettern't!"

Certainly, whether she would have bettered herself or otherwise, she did not marry Enos, and he remained a bachelor.

Even less of grace and glamor attended the courtship of a prosaic youth by the name of Joseph and his sweetheart—if that term is not too poetic—the excellent and practical Susannah. Coming up her father's farm lane, Joseph perceived her crossing it at the far end with a bucket of pig wash, and called to her to wait for him.

"Jest a minute, Sue! I got something to say to ye!" yelled Joe.

Joe broke into a run. As he approached her, where she had paused reluctantly to await him, he panted indignantly, "Ye got to let the darn critters wait for once, Sue! Hang it, I want to propose!"

"Come along and propose, then," responded Susannah with sweet encouragement. "Ye kin do it while we feed the pigs, can't ye, Joe?"

Joe could and did; Susannah accepted him; the pigs were fed. Whether or no the match was made in heaven, it proved as happy as if its atmosphere of early bliss on earth had not been mingled with the aroma of the pigpen.—Years of My Youth.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair, soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—it costs but a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will be gone in just a few moments, and your hair will be soft, glossy and wavy and the surprise awaits everyone.

His Only Wish.

"My only wish is that you may hate the Hun as much as I do," declared Capt. H. E. Smith, the repatriated prisoner of war, at the public reception given him on his arrival home in the town of Oshawa recently.

Capt. Smith went overseas with the 4th Battalion, C.M.R., 3rd Division, was captured at Zillebeke June 21, 1916, and went through all the horrors to which captured men were subjected. He was two years at different camps in Germany, including eight months at the notorious "strafe" camp at Strohen, Hanover. Capt. Smith was a prominent business man and a member of the Oshawa Town Council when he enlisted.

Katchutegua.

The lively controversy still rages in British Columbia as to whether Vancouver Island shall be renamed, and if so what the new name shall be. Inasmuch as the island was known to the Indians long before Captain George Vancouver sighted its mountain tops as Katchutgua, why not call it that? Kat-chu-teg-ua, by the way, may be freely translated as meaning "the plain," and is just about as applicable to Vancouver Island as Maple Creek or Mountain View, Manitoba.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in the ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Training Disabled Soldiers

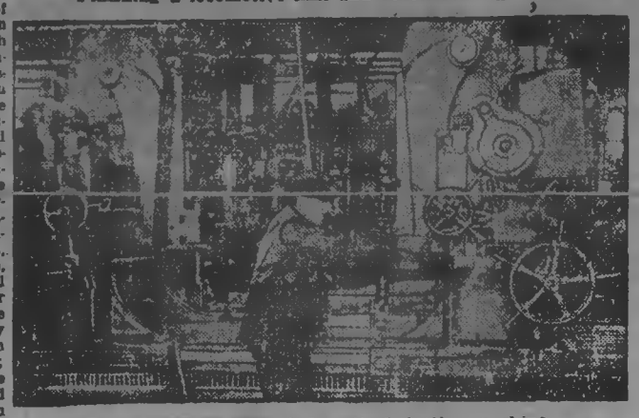
ABOUT 18 months ago it first became possible for a returned soldier, who had been so disabled by service that it was impossible for him to resume his former civil occupation, to take a course of training under government supervision and pay, which fitted him for some new occupation, the pursuit of which would not be prevented by his disability. In other words, his case was carefully considered, his disability taken into account, and his training arranged so that in his new occupation he could develop 100% efficiency. As an example take a machinist who had lost a leg; obviously his disability was such that he could not resume that occupation. He had a knowledge of blue prints and drawing and some latent ability in a drawing line. He was passed for a course as a mechanical draughtsman. At the termination of his course he was employed at a wage nearly equal to his wage as a machinist. The loss of a leg was no handicap as his new occupation did not call for any moving around. Thus this man seriously handicapped as a machinist, was enabled to overcome his handicap and compete successfully with any other draughtsman.

Owing to the increasing number of different trades and occupations in which it was necessary to train such men it became imperative that training places should be found. Obviously if a man was to be trained for a position in a machine shop, the place to train him was right in the particular machine shop in which he would eventually be employed. This resulted in the institution of industrial surveys. One of the first industries in Montreal to be surveyed was the Angus Shops (Canadian Pacific Railway). It can readily be understood that these shops, employing thousands of skilled men, in practically all kinds of mechanical work, offered great opportunities for the training of disabled men. The above mentioned industrial survey consisted of a detailed report on every position in the Angus Shops; it showed among other things the exact nature of the work done and what disabilities would hinder a man from doing the work. This survey was a guide to the District Vocational Officer, as a reference to it showed immediately what mechanical work a disabled man would be physically able to do without being troubled by his disability.

From the outset every official of the C. P. R. who was approached expressed great interest in the work, and by co-operation rendered most material assistance in the re-instating of disabled soldiers in civilian occupations.

The general scheme of training adopted by the Invalided Soldiers' Commission is to give any man taking a machine shop training about three-quarters of his course in the machine shop at McGill University, then place him out with an industry such as the Angus Shops to finish that course and gain the necessary practical experience. During the time that the man is taking this training, he is drawing full pay and allowances from the Invalided Soldiers' Commission so the firm with which he is working is not called on to pay him anything. In this way the man becomes accustomed to his work in a place where he will probably be employed at the termination of his course, and the employer, having had the man under him for some time, knows something about his work. This method generally results in disabled men being absorbed into the industries for which they have been trained with no gap between termination of course and employment and is thus satisfactory to all concerned.

Finishing a locomotive link and union bearing cap.



Operating a double headed vertical slotting machine.

It might appear from the foregoing that the employment offered by the C .P .R. to men being trained by the Invalided Soldiers' Commission is confined to positions in the Angus Shops. Such however is not the case. Every department has taken on men, clerks, draughtsmen, telegraphers.

In some industries there has been a tendency to fight shy of the returned men, the reason stated being his inability and apparent lack of power of concentration on his work. Not so with the C. P. R. Every consideration is shown the returned man and every possible allowance is made which will assist him in re-establishing himself in civil life. The attitude taken by the higher officials of the C. P. R. in regard to disabled soldier students is mirrored in the following letter of instructions issued to foremen:—

THE RETURNED SOLDIER AS AN EMPLOYEE.

How do you treat a returned soldier working under you? Do you consider him as an ordinary workman, let him shift for himself and look on his mistakes only as you would an ordinary employee? If so, you are assuming that he is in all respects just a normal man and should be able to do the same work as quickly and as well as the average employee. If you do, you are wrong.

Many returned soldiers' constitutions are broken down. They have been gassed, shell shocked and tortured by wounds, and consequently are highly strung and nervous and will be for some time to come. What they make of themselves depends on you. If one of these men make a mistake and is roughly reprimanded, he is likely to shake like a leaf, get excited, etc., and be very difficult to make anything of; this is wrong. The greatest tact, care and attention that you can give these men in helping them to become useful employees is what the Company expects, and, moreover, you owe it to them.

There are bound to be some exceptions and some men will fail to make good. The success or failure of the majority, however, depends on you, and it is your privilege to help your country in this national crisis by endeavoring to make useful citizens out of the nerve-shattered men that are commencing to come back to us from the front.

Now for results. Of the first hundred men to consider Industrial Reeducational Courses in this unit, ten were employed by the C. P. R. on the termination of their courses. Up to date, about two hundred men have completed courses and now many of these men are employed by the C. P. R., i. e.: These men have taken courses in no less than 12 different trades, so it is obvious that the C. P. R. is assisting splendidly.

PASTOR RAISED GOLD FISH.

Told Court He Had to to Increase Income.

NEW YORK.—The Rev. Eugene P. Hall, pastor of the Claremont Presbyterian church, the Bronx, testified before Justice Faber yesterday that he had tried to breed gold fish to increase his income. Mrs. Hall is suing the preacher for a separation. She alleges he was cruel; he retorts in kind. His present and former parishioners crowded the Queen's County Supreme Court when the case was called.

"I supplied the money and a Ridgewood man and I started to hatch gold fish," said Mr. Hall. "You get $20, $30, even $40 for a finely bred gold fish. Then one Sunday last autumn while I was in my church preaching this partner of mine ripped out an the trees and dismantled ped out all the tanks and dismantled the aquariums and broke up the business."

"You don't charge that as cruelty against your wife, do you?" asked Justice Faber.

"Yes, I do," replied Mr. Hall, "because she was looking out of the window and saw him do it."

He said the congregation he is serving pays him $50 a month, and the General Board of the Congregational church doubles that salary. Besides, three houses he inherited from an old friend bring him $149 a month in rents.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR HAIR BEAUTIFUL

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders, Stops Falling Hair and Dandruff and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy.

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple old-fashioned home recipe consisting of plain Bay Rum, Lavona (de Composee) and a little Menthol Crystals. These three, mixed at home in a few minutes, work wonders with any scalp. Try it just one night and see. Get from your druggist 2 oz. Lavona, 6 oz. Bay Rum and 1-2 drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in 8 oz. bottle. Then add the Lavona, shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on a soft cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair, taking just one small strand at a time. This cleanses the hair and scalp of dirt, dust and excessive oil and makes the hair delightfully soft, lustrous and wavy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again, rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. A few days' use and you will not find a single loose or straggling hair. They will be locked on your scalp as tight as a vise. Dandruff will disappear. You will find fine downy new hairs sprouting up all over your scalp and this new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.

Any druggist can sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and we know of nothing so effective and certain in its result.

Confession of an Aviator.

For myself, writes Charles B. Wordhoff in Atlantic, there is nowhere and nobody I would rather be at present than here and a pilot. No man in his senses could say he enjoyed the war; but as it must be fought out, I would rather be in aviation than in any other branch. A pleasant life, good food, good sleep, and two to four hours a day in the air. After four hours (in two spells) over the lines, constantly alert and craning to dodge scandalously accurate shells and suddenly appearing Boches, panting in the thin air at 20,000 feet, the boys are, I think, justified in calling it a day. I have noticed that the coolest men are a good bit let down after a dogged machine fight far up in the rarefied air. It may seem soft to an infantryman—20 hours of sleep, eating and loafing; but in reality the airman should be given an easy time outside of flying.

Prisoners of Duty.

The Turkish government is shortly to effect an exchange of 1,000 British prisoners, but there will be still many left over there, and naturally they will need doctors. Under the Berne agreement of December last it is arranged that one British doctor and five of the medical personnel of the ranks should be detained for every 1,000 prisoners. No inspection of prison camps under the Berne agreement has yet been made, but it is very probable that conditions there may necessitate more doctors being detained. There are some things in warfare which are harder than actual fighting, and to stay behind in a prison camp tending wounded and nostalgic men when others joyfully set sail for home or active service requires all the unselfish devotion to duty with which doctors are credited by the laity.

FINE SPOT FOR REST.

Village That Never Grows Has Its Appeal.

In the glorious summer time when vacationists from the cities scatter in a thousand and one directions to seek pure air, rest, recreation and inexpensive experience, some of them come across the village that never grows. It is found here and there, but not everywhere. Usually it consists of a postoffice, a schoolhouse of field stone or of the "little old red" variety, a church, a dozen or twenty dwelling houses and a population of less than a hundred.

It was founded a century or two ago, and it has changed some since then, but has not grown. There is but one place that shows increase, and that is the churchyard. Sometimes a railroad searches out the village and the bell and whistle of the locomotive disturb the long-established quiet of the place, but it refuses to grow, even when a station is added to the number of buildings. For the good but inert inhabitants simply tolerate the innovation and make use of the trains when need requires them to do so; but sooner or later an old shed is burned down and the normal number of buildings is thus happily restored.

Yet the village that never grows has its proper place in rural economy, and is not to be despised, as those well know who have found it for their summer vacation. All around it are farms and the village is the place where the farmers attend religious services, where the children go to school, where the "garden sass" is sold, and where much of the farm produce is sent to be forwarded to the Government storehouses or to the front. There is no reason why the village should grow. It fulfills its purpose perfectly as it is. It holds fast to the old-time religion, conserves old-time religious virtues, has no ambitions and does not envy other places that double their population every decade and their taxes and responsibilities in proportion.

And what a restful place is the village that never grows for the work-weary vacationist who has no taste for the ocean resort, no regard for the big mountain hotel and no pocketbook for either. It is the place of delicious quiet, of restful inactivity, of good victuals, clean water, pure air, homelike attention, courteous though unpolished companionship, the privilege to go when and where one pleases, to do anything or nothing as inclination suggests and to have as good a time as it is possible to enjoy. The village that never grows is like a diamond in the mine, a treasure for the one who finds it. And in spite of automobiles, trolleys, railroads, electric lights and modern improvements of all kinds, there are more of these quiet, restful, charming villages than many people sus-

FINANCE MINISTER SAYS GERMANY FACES BANKRUPTCY

Berlin, Feb. 13.—The Weimar correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger reports that the Prussian Minister of Finance, Herr Suedekum, in the course of a discussion with the financial Ministers of the federated states, said Germany would be obliged to have assistance. He is reported to have asserted a state of bankruptcy was imminent, and that affairs might reach the stage when each individual would be compelled to give up the major share of his income to the state, being permitted to retain only enough to cover most urgent needs.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural colour and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of his famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

When politeness, fine manners and kindly attentions are reserved for company or visits abroad.

BLACK SIBERIA.

Brief Sketches of Scene In an Asiatic Prison.

Poor lonely lives were lived within the walls of those camps. I know a major whose main occupation became to gather cigarbands; others gave all their attention to stamp collections. Petty things occupied a great place. Another major had his watch still Austrian time (he had been taken prisoner three years ago), and he told me with delight that he never had changed it. Everything is done with the utmost care, slowly, because there is so much time. Written letters look like printed ones. They are illuminated with red and black ink, with here and there an underlined word. Writing that letter was a relief, hence, it was necessary to spend as much time on it as possible.

Others spent half of the day with their dog, teaching it tricks, so that sometimes dogs became camp famous. And then big differences of opinion would arise because A's dog had had puppies and T had given them to friends, and they were now spoiling the little gardens of other comrades. Hence, the camp would be divided into dog owners and non-dog owners, and the matter would be taken very seriously. Some dogs would disappear mysteriously and the whole affair would be the main topic for months.

Another time it would be pigs instead of dogs which claimed the attention of all. A certain mess decided to raise pigs, which example was soon followed by other messes. Now the difficulties that those pigs brought into the camp were enormous. The camp was very small and one mess had used the space between two tennis-courts for a pen, and another a place near the hospital. At once the doctor and the president of the tennis club protested, so all the pigs were put together in one pen. All went well until the pigs had small ones, and then there came the problem how to divide the spoils between Austrian and Hungarian messes. One proposed in earnest to paint half of them yellow and black (Austrian colors), and the other half red, white, and green (Hungarian colors), so as to keep track of them. The end of it was that the Russian commander forbade pigs in camp, and during the next few weeks nothing but pork was eaten.—Scribner.

A Womanless Town.

Port Nelson, Manitoba, Canada, the new gateway to the Hinterland of the Northwest Territories, a this new outlet for Canadian wheat, and the end of the Hudson Bay Railway, is a womanless town, writes Eteiline Bennett in Outlook. It has a population of 500 men, a dazzle of electricity lighting its streets and buildings, and a long history, but not one woman has dared the canoe trip down the Nelson river, which is the only way of reaching this town until the railway is finished. Nelson is one of the oldest towns in Canada, and the only place on Hudson Bay that has kept its name and location unchanged from the beginning of its history. River and port were named Nelson for a seaman who was mate of a vessel that wintered there during the year 1612-13. It never had any prominence until within the last two or three years, when it began to grow toward a railway terminal and shipping point. It was overshadowed during the early days by York, which was a trading post, and Churchill, which was so strongly fortified that it was then the equal of Quebec as a stronghold.

There is a luxurious men's clubhouse at Nelson, but there are no homes. It probably is the only town of any importance on the western continent in which there is not one woman.

Careless Shampooing Spoils The Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Getting Too Fat? Try This--Reduce

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist (or if you prefer write to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.) for a large case of Marmola Prescription Tablets. 75c. is the price the world over. By doing this you will be safe from harmful drugs and be able to reduce two, three or four pounds a week without dieting or exercise.

Commends S. A. Officer.

Commending the work of Chaplain Capt. Steele of the Salvation Army, Lt.-Col. A. H. McGreer, Assistant Director of Chaplain Services, says: "Since coming to the corps in 1917 he has been closely associated with myself, and at all times has been keen, resourceful and courageous in carrying out his duties. During all the fighting he has followed closely behind the advancing troops, and at great personal risk carried on his beneficent work — namely, that of opening and operating coffee stalls along the roads leading to the front line, and it was due in large measure to his splendid efforts that we were able to supply the thousands of muddy, wounded and war-weary soldiers with comforts which did so much to help them withstand the hardships and the sufferings of the battle."

New German Cabinet Has Been Announced

Count Von Bernstorff Will Not Go to the Peace Conference as a German Delegate—Policy of New Government.

EBERT'S VIEW

(United Press.)

BASLE, Feb. 14.—Chancellor Scheidemann's Cabinet has been announced as follows, according to a despatch received from Weimar to-day:

Herr Sheiffer, Vice-President of the Cabinet and Finance Minister.

Count Brockdorff Rantzau, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Hugo Preus, Minister of the Interior.

Gustaf Bauer, Minister of Labour.

Herr Wissel, Minister of Public Economy.

Herr Robschmidt, Minister of Provisions.

Otto Landsberg, Minister of Justice.

Herr Noske, Minister of War and Colonies.

Herr Giebert, Minister of the Treasury.

Herr Koest, Minister of Demobilization.

Informal Talk.

(Canadian Press.)

WEIMAR, Feb. 14. — Count Von Bernstorff will not go to the Peace Conference as a German delegate. German plans, for the time being at least, a people's army, on the basis of general conscription. Germany will announce within a few days her intention to carry out complete disarmament and demobilization and commission made up of the Centre, Democratic and Socialist parties is now discussing details of the new governmental programme. These points were made by Friedrich Ebert, the new President of Germany, in an informal talk with foreign newspaper men to-day. They answered questions of American and English correspondents, asked after he had read a formal statement which virtually followed the lines of his address on Wednesday, in which he emphasised Germany's intention to rehabilitate herself. "Germany would be glad to pay, honourably and uprightly, as soon as possible," declared Ebert, "in connection with past debts and future obligations.

Harold J. Devey Was Entertained

Pte. James Coleman Was Also Present.

St. John's choir again had the pleasure of entertaining one of their number returned from the great world war in the person of Harold J. Devey, who landed in Canada last Saturday, on the "Carmania," arriving in Peterboro last Wednesday at 6.30 a.m. Enlisting in the 33rd Battery, Driver H. Devey was in England less than three weeks afterwards; after five months training at Witley he was drafted to France and took part in the famous Somme battle, Vimy Ridge, Pascendaele, Amiens, and was finally knocked over by gas at the Canal du Nord in September last.

Pte. James Coleman, a former member of St. Luke's choir was also invited to be present last night after nearly four years absence from the city, of which time two years and a half were spent in hard service in France.

Mr. R. J. Devey on behalf of the choir welcomed the soldiers back to civil life and hoped that all with whom they came in contact would do all in their power to help them forget the awful scenes of France and Flanders.

An hour then passed pleasantly in song, dance and refreshments. The health of the soldier guests of honour was musically honored and very short speeches of thanks were given by the guests.

The pleasant reunion dispersed about 11 p.m. following the Singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem.

THE HUN GREED FOR PLEASURE

United Press:

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—Members of the American Mission, talking with German officials to-day, said they could find no evidence of starvation or want in the cities, though the rural population in some districts doubtless was suffering. The Americans declared, however, that the "greed for pleasure" in the larger cities is enormous.

Trade In Siberia

Credits Will Be Provided by the Canadian Government.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 14. —Operations for Canadian trade with Siberia are to be afforded through the Siberian Trading Co., established by Great Britain, and on which Canada will have a representative, in the position of L. D. Wilgress, who is at present at Vladivistock. Orders received by the company, which may be filled in Canada, will be placed by the Canadian end of the Trade Commission, of which Sir Charles Gordon is the head, and credits will be provided by the government. It is anticipated that a good trade in Canadian agricultural implements can be established in Siberia.

A Resolution Of Condolence

The following resolution was passed by the Peterborough Law Association:

On motion of Mr. E. A. Peck, seconded by E. H. D. Hall, it was resolved that:

This Association learns with very deep degret of the death at Edmonton on the 7th inst., of Mr. Elihu Burritt Edwards, K.C. During Mr. Edwards' practice in Peterborough he attained high prominence at the Bar, was engaged in cases of great importance (on one occasion appearing before the Privy Council), and his experience and ability was recognised by his appointment of Queen's Counsel. He was one of the first to assist in the organization of our law library and held the position of secretary of the Association for some years, later being elected President.

Not only in his profession but in other spheres of activity Mr. Edwards was interested and endeavoured to do his duty as a true citizen. He was prominent in military matters and had held the position of Colonel of the 57th Peterborough Rangers and also did much to promote healthy outdoor amusements for the young people of the city.

To his widow and children the Association extends its heartfelt sympathy and instructs the Secretary to forward a copy of the resolution to them.

THE WONDERFUL "ORGANOLA"

The public are cordially invited to see and hear a demonstration of this wonderful phonograph. The only one in all the wide world with organ pipes installed inside of its case. A set of tone control pipes include every note in the scale, and vibrate in sympathy as their notes are given forth by the record playing.

The only authorized dealers for the "Phonola" and "Phonola" Records are the Royal Music Co., 439 Blaze in Water Street Building was House of Quality."

The Ukranians In the West

Will Be Permitted to Establish Financial Institution in West.

(Special to the Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—If the Ukrainians in the west decide to start their own financial institutions, there is nothing to hinder them which would not stand in the way of any other body of Canadian citizens with like intent. Should they desire to establish banks, Parliament must decide as to the advisability of doing so from the standpoint of capitalization, etc., and if a bank is established, it will be subject to the provision of the Canada Bank Act. In the establishment of trust companies, Provincial or Federal, a charter may be obtained.

WOUNDED MEN ARRIVE

Hospital Ship Docked at Portland With Over Seven Hundred Men on Board.

WELL CARED FOR

(Special to The Examiner.)

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 14.—The removal of 771 wounded Canadian soldiers from the hospital ship "Araguaya," which arrived here late yesterday, was progressing rapidly to-day, and the men, many of them helpless, were placed on board hospital trains, made up of specially built cars, equipped with cots, and in charge of nurses and doctors.

On the pier near the ship is a receiving station, the headquarters of the medical corps in charge of debarkation. Soldiers needing medical or surgical care before being placed on trains, are being attended in this station, and in addition refreshments were dispensed by an organization for that purpose.

Thousands lined the shore when the Araguaya steamed up the harbour, and as she came up to the pier the men on board broke into cheers. Others were singing. All were cheerful at the prospect of getting home.

One soldier who had lost a leg, and whose three brothers had been killed in battle, was informed of the death of his mother and father when he left the ship.

Civic Departments Show a Profit

Financial Statements of Waterworks and Utilities Commission.

The financial statement of the Waterworks department for the past year which was submitted to the Utilities Commission at a meeting held yesterday afternoon by Mr. S. R. Armstrong, secretary treasurer, shows a profit on the year's operations of $2,618.52. The report follows:

During the year $12240.65 was expended in laying mains and selling hydrants and $1269.24 in laying services, making a total of $13509.89 expended in construction.

The Auxiliary Pumping Plant was completed and accepted during the year and on this account there was paid $8360.34.

The net water rates, including special frontage rates, amounted to $63597.57. To this was added $2000.00 charged for the use of the dam for power purposes and $223.27 profit on material sold and used in consumer's construction, being the difference between the market value and the inventory price. These made a total revenue of $65820.84. The expense accounts, including interest and sinking funds and amount written off tools and plant for depreciation, amounted to $63,202.32 showing a profit on the years' operations of $2618.52.

Accountant's Report

The total earnings for the year amounted to $130,024.98 being an increase of $2976.06 over 1917. The divisions of the increase are as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Domestic Light Revenue Increase | $3005.58 |
| Power Revenue Increase | 1819.89 |
| Street Lighting Revenue Increase | 350.71 |
| | $5185.18 |
| Commercial Lighting Decrease | $1922.04 |
| Miscellaneous Decrease | 287.08 |
| | $2209.12 |
| Total Net Increase | $2976.06 |

The expense accounts including Sinking Fund and Interest on Debentures also allowance for compensation Reserve, Depreciation on Temporary Incandescent Street Light System, Depreciation on Trucks No. 1 and No. 2 and General Plant, amount to $123,668.97, showing a net profit on the year's operations of $6562.01.

QUESTION BEFORE PEACE CONFERENCE

United Press:

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—The Sinn Feiners, while quietly continuing the organization of the Irish Republic, are awaiting the results of their efforts to have President Wilson and the other peace delegates take up the Irish question before renewing open Republican agitation. They still believe their problems will be taken up by the Peace Conference. If this fails, however, they will feel their hands have been strengthened for whatever policy they pursue in the future.

SPARTACANS STILL ON THE WARPATH IN GERMANY

(United Press).

BERLIN, Feb. 14. — The Berlin "Freiheit" reproduces an order of mobilization issued on Feb. 3rd, calling upon thirteen classes in Guhrau (Silesia) district to "defend the frontier."

Spartacan demonstrations continue in Breslau, where ten persons were killed. In Duisberg (on the Rhine, 15 miles north of Dusseldorf), the Mayor was forced to march through the streets carrying a red flag. A strike of street car employees in Berlin is reported to be tieing up business.

RETURN CONFIDENT OF GOVERNMENT AID

The city's deputation returned yesterday afternoon from Ottawa, after laying its case for Federal aid in the construction of the Hunter Street bridge before the Cabinet. They were assured that after the petition had been deliberated, the decision, which it is expected will be favourable, would be forwarded either by wire or post at once, probably to-day. The deputation was composed of J. H. Burnham, M.P., Mayor Duncan, Aldermen Morrison, Gainey and McIntyre.

The representatives of the Council visited the Ottawa and Hull fire stations, and examined the electric generating plant and equipment that is used for the fire alarm and call systems. The Hull unit particularly impressed them. It is of the size and capacity required for Peterborough, and the committee was enabled to form a clear idea of the plant Chief Grange has applied for.

CHAUFFEURS MUST HAVE A LICENSE

Delinquents Will Be Prosecuted, Says Chief Thompson.

Chief of Police Thompson has received explicit instructions from Toronto to-day to prosecute every chauffeur, or one who employs a chauffeur who has not passed his (or her) examinations in the art of running a motor. Any private owner who runs his car for gain, or any owner who employs a person to run his car, must obtain a license. The law in this respect has been somewhat lax in Ontario, but the authorities alarmed by the large number of motor accidents through the inexperience of drivers have decided to take a tighter rein which has resulted in the above order. The chief intends to follow the order to the letter and anyone found driving a motor vehicle for money, whether owner or chauffeur, will be asked to attend one of the morning sessions of Magistrate Dumble's police court.

ANNOYING HEADACHES.

PROPOSAL WAS ADOPTED

Main Points in First Draft of Constitution for a League of Nations.

"GOLDEN DAY"

(By Frank S. Ferguson.)

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The first world constitution was made public this afternoon when President Wilson read the draft of the League of Nations' organization before the General Peace Congress.

While not containing provisions for any sort of international police force, the constitution includes stringent measures designed to prevent future wars. In case any nation makes war without first submitting the questions at issue to arbitration there are the following possible courses open to the League:

Economic blockade of the nation refusing arbitration.

Recommendation by the Executive Council for the use of force.

The use of force, however, will leave to each power freedom of action under its constitution to make the necessary declarations of war; the international peace force or general staff was urged by the French, and put to a vote yesterday afternoon after a stirring speech by Senator Bourgeoise was overwhelmingly defeated. Only the French and Czecho-Slovaks voted in favour of it.

Was Adopted.

With this feature eliminated the constitution was adopted unanimously.

The constitution includes a preamble and twenty-seven articles, having been increased from the original twenty-two articles during yesterday's session of the League Committee. The last articles are devoted to purely parliamentary matters, the others covering organization of the League.

Congratulations on securing the adoption of the League constitution poured into American headquarters at the Hotel Crillon before this afternoon's plenary session. Members of the League to Enforce Peace declared that this is "the golden day in the history of the world." They declared that despite rumours circulated in Paris, France is solidly behind the League plan.

First Meeting.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The Executive Council of the proposed League of Nations, as outlined in the covenant read by President Wilson to-day, will consist of representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, together with representatives of four other states to be selected by all other nations. The Council shall meet as often as is necessary, but at least once a year at whatever place may be designed. Any matter within the sphere of action of the League or affecting the peace of the world will be dealt with. The first meeting of the body of delegates and Executive Council shall be summoned by the President of the United States.

The covenant of the League of Nations says that any war or threat of war, whether immediately affecting any of the high contracting parties or not, is hereby declared a matter of concern to the League, and high contracting parties reserve the right to take any action that may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

Friendly Right.

"It is hereby also declared and agreed to be the friendly right of each of the high contracting parties to draw attention of the body of delegates or of the Executive Council to any circumstances affecting international intercourse which threatens to disturb the international peace or good understanding between nations upon which peace depends.

"The high contracting parties agree that should disputes arise between them which cannot be adjusted by ordinary processes of diplomacy, they will in no case resort to war without previously submitting ques-

THE WEATHER

The snowstorm which began last night, while not severe (at least in this section) is one of the most widespread that has passed over the continent for some time. Beginning as a small affair in Texas on Tuesday it has gradually widened in its progress north-east. At present its southern limits are south of Florida while it reaches in the north the newer section of Ontario. In the south it has brought rain, in the centre sleet and in the north a snowfall.—W.P.

Will Start a Campaign to Win World Wide Support Of the League of Nations

First Draft of Constitution Will Be Submitted to the General Peace Delegates This Afternoon—World Is to Have a Chance to See the New-Born Peace Baby.

(United Press.)

(By Robert J. Bender.)

PARIS, Feb. 14. — A campaign to win world-wide support of the League of Nations will be opened when President Wilson reads the constitution before the general peace delegates this afternoon.

The President, Premier Orlando, and other statesmen will speak briefly in behalf of the League, pointing out that it is now a practical and workable proposition, and deserving of unanimous support. Instead of seeking formal adoption of the constitution by the Peace Conference at this time, the conferees will ask that the draft be laid on the table to give the world an opportunity to study and comment on it.

President Wilson, Premier Lloyd George, Premier Clemenceau, Premier Orlando and others, will confer directly with their own people regarding the league.

Arriving in Washington the President will begin immediately a series of conferences with the leaders of all parties in congress, after which he is expected to make a strong appeal for endorsement of the League in an address before a joint session of the House and Senate.

Peterboro Utilities Commission Concludes Strenuous Year

Munition Work and Other War Industries Made Exacting Demands on the Power Resources of the City.

NEW CONSTRUCTION

In his annual report to the Utilities Commission, submitted yesterday afternoon, Mr. H. O. Fisk, manager of the Commission, has the following to say:

The victory crowned year of 1918 brings to a close one of the most strenuous years in the history of the light and power business of this city, rendered so by the exacting nature of munition work and other war industries. Also uncontrollable circumstances compelled the removal of the distributing centre from the Power House at the foot of London Street to the Peterborough sub-station at the foot of Simcoe Street. This involved the re-setting of seven switchboard panels and the changing and re-building of ten circuits, all of which was carried on without accident and with a minimum amount of annoyance to our consumers.

At the present time about half the power used by the city is generated locally at the Auburn Dam, the balance coming from Healey Falls and other plants on the Trent River. The energy coming from a distance is transmitted to the Auburn sub-station at 44,000 volts pressure, and is there stepped down to and synchronized with the Auburn output at 6,600 volts. It is then transmitted to the Peterborough sub-station on Simcoe Street, which is now our distributing centre, where further transformation takes place to 2,300 volts, the pressure feeding the service transformers throughout the city. It is at this point the power is measured, the Commission paying for the greatest 20-minute demand of each month.

With the cessation of munition work, as was expected, there has been a drop in the power demand of approximately 1,000 H.P. However, this is being rapidly absorbed by other interests, notably that of the milling industry, and it would appear that by spring we will be back to high-level operating conditions again.

Interruptions to service have been comparatively few. One circuit was shut down for a short time for each of the unfortunate fires that occurred early in the year. On June 7th a high wind caused some of our automatic switches to open, causing an interruption for a short time. On July 5th a severe lightning storm disabled one of the local generating stations, producing a temporary shortage of power, which was also remedied.

During the past year 288 new customers have been added to the system, bringing the total up to 5,327, 903 houses were disconnected on account of vacancy and 1,033 re-connected when re-occupied.

Meter Department.

384 meters have been installed and 514 have been re-verified after five years' service; 709 passed through our test department, 169 of which required repairs. On April 1st this department was equipped with an E. & M. Laughlin light delivery truck, which has done excellent service, covering about 5,000 miles, per year.

Construction Work.

194 poles have been set, at $470; 36 transformers with

Will Scrap Equipment

Canadian Military Equipment Will Be Disposed of in England.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—In military circles here it is not considered at all likely that artillery and cavalry horses or any considerable quantity of equipment used with the Canadian expeditionary forces in England and on the continent will be returned to Canada. As a matter of fact, pending complete demobilization of the forces themselves, the question of the disposal of horse equipment and various other materials is partially held in abeyance, though arrangements have already been made with the Imperial government for the sale of a quantity of various materials, and a quantity has already been sold.

Canada has no intention of maintaining a standing army of more than five thousand men after the war, so that to bring home the tremendous mass of materials which have been in use by the forces, would be a mere waste

CLEAN UP THE MYSTERY

There is still much in regard to the Quebec treatment of defaulters under the Military Service Act that needs to be cleaned up. In spite of the denial made by E. L. Newcombe-Deputy Minister, that no written instructions were given Judge Langelier in regard to the finding of absentees, the Quebec Judge maintains his ground and insists that the instructions which he has published were handed to him by the Inspector of [illegible] at Quebec, an employee of the Federal Department of Justice.

"I am justified," observes Judge Langelier, "in concluding that these instruction had been prepared by some one in the Federal Department of Justice. I am positive that these instructions were put up by some one in that department for they contained technicalities on the criminal code and instructions to constables which are only known to men who are versed in legal matters."

The matter should not be allowed to rest where it is. Judge Langelier apparently got written instructions from someone—ordering him to be lenient in his treatment of absentees. Coming as they did from the Inspector of Dominion Police and couched in legal language there was no doubt in his mind that they had been issued by the Department of Justice. The Deputy minister denies that they came from his department. Where did they originate? That is the question the public wants to know and should be given an opportunity to find out. Nothing short of a strict investigation into the whole matter will satisfy the people and it should be ordered at once.

NOT MUCH FOR PETERBORO

The announcement that the Ontario Government is to proceed with the expenditure of approximately $25,000,000 on buildings and various construction work in the province will be welcomed as a step that should provide employment for thousands of men. In so far as Peterboro is concerned, however, the plans announced by Premier Hearst do not seem to promise that any very large portion of the expenditure will be made in this district. There is an item of $20,000 to be spent on repairs to the Normal Schools at Peterboro, London, Hamilton, North Bay and Stratford, but beyond this sum there is apparently not much of the huge expenditure to be made that concerns the Peterboro district $5,000,000 of the total is for work on the provincial highway and county road systems which the province is aiding and as the Peterboro County Council has not seen fit to take advantage of the scheme none of the money for county roads will be utilized in Peterboro County.

HELP FROM OTTAWA.

The city's deputation, which has been waiting upon the Minster of Railways and aCnals at Ottawa, in regard to Government assistance in building the Hunter street bridge, returned last evening confident that the Government will make a grant towards the cost of the structure, implementing the promises that were made in this regard by the preceding Government at the time that the dredging of the river was carried out. The city's representatives succeeded in making a strong case and in impressing upon the Minister the justice of their claim, and their mission promises to be successful. The unemployment situation is growing steadily worse and an early commencement of the Hunter street contract would be of considerable assistance in providing work for many of Peterboro's unemployed.

A substantial grant from the Dominion Government by helping to solve the problem of financing the proposition that is now holding back the work might make it possible to get the construction work under way sooner than was anticipated.

NAVAL STRATEGY OF THE WAR

Divergencies of opinion over what is meant by supremacy at sea and as a corollary whether in the war the allied fleets have taken full advantage of the opportunities offered by their superior sea power still continue to separate French experts into schools of thought. One of these the more conservative, supports in essentials the British tradition that when an enemy cannot be brought to action to shut him tightly in his ports and to keep free and open the lines of communication at sea sums up the business of th superior fleet. "For war armies fight for the possession of important portions on land," asserts Admiral Daveluy, the head of this school, "the sea affers no stronghold nor strategic positions of vantage or barriers to be captured," and command of the sea means the enjoyment of safe communications, while depriving the enemy of the same advantage. This implies moreover the ability to go where one wills and the power of recuperating and fasting out while the enemy, isolated and shut out from the whole world's resources, is becoming exhausted and at last driven with with little or no loss of life or material, to the superior, into unconditional surrender.

The second French group, one largely made up of jeune ecole—forever young and always eager in its opposition to whatever is—contends that command of the sea cannot be fully realized without the destruction through decisive battle of the hostile fleet as at Trafalgar and Tsushima, Coupled with this, it holds, should be associated the employment to their fullest capacity of all the new weapons, ballistic and aerial, that modern, almost miraculous, development has put in the hands of energetic officers. To the activities of superior fleets these partisans assign five objects:—To force to sea the enemies' main battle fleets, to blockade effectually an enemy's coast and ports, even at all risks, so that the widest co-operation with the land parties, long range guns and bombarding sea planes. Read within the lines these demands imply that the allied fleets have not executed an offensive a outrenc and failed to grasp all the chances offered by the revolutionary developments of armaments.

These points of view have an interest to seagoing people for they bear the hall-marks of sincerity and, in the case of the doubters, of undoubted courage of opinion—when the final results are set opposite their theories. It is true that the British fleet in the North Sea declined to bite granite or scoff at mine fields and contented itself with giving the enemy every opportunity to come out and fight to a finish. It may be tha the value of sea power will in the future be increased by the possibilities of a superior side destroying an enemy's battle fleet in harbor and of effectively bombarding military centres and inland arsenals from water borne constructions. But so far as the present war is concerned British practice and traditions won the day. The duties forced upon this fleet were carried out with a watchfulness and skill that early in the conflict denied the use of the sea to any enemy surface craft, and later, with a marvellous saving of valuable life, secured what is the greatest victory recorded in naval annals. —New York Herald.

Dorothy La Verne, an Actress of Ability, in "The Other Man's Wife"

"'The Other Man's Wife' drew an exceptionally large audience at 'The Grand' last evening. Miss La Vern possesses an engaging personality and somewhat resembles Rea Martin seen there in 'The Brat.' The theme of the play is, 'Shall a man live two lives while a woman must stand or fall by one?' and in other hands than this capable cast, the plot might be sordid. It was one of the best acted and costumed plays seen here in many months."—Hamilton Times.

Voice of The People

HUNTER STREET BRIDGE.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—With other citizens I listened last evening to the very interesting address, illustrated as it was with many excellent slides and views, given by Mr. Frank Barber, the designing engineer, and consulting engineer of the proposed Hunter Street bridge.

Mr. Barber's address was descriptive of what had been done in the way of concrete construction during the last ten years, especially. But while he told the meeting many things about strains and compressions, of weights and pressures, of temperatures and finishes, he did not touch on the one vital condition that faces the city, the cost of the bridge that he has designed. He frankly said that his business was to design a bridge, the function of the City Council to find the money to pay for its construction. Candid, but depressing to a community that hopes to build at less than the tendered prices.

He did not take the meeting of citizens,—men who have to pay for the bridge,—into confidence and tell what might be done to lessen the cost. Did not suggest any modification of the contour, width, length or other dimensions such as would tend to modify the estimates. His view was that, purely, of the consulting engineer and nothing of the economist. He did not even foreshadow that he might be in consultation with the Council as to proposed changes, if any.

Coming from the meeting I found that others were much of the same mind, that there was an absence of confidence in the proposition, other than that we had before us plans for a handsome and important structure, and that it should be so built, that posterity should admire and commend. It would be regrettable, it is true, that if when finished we did not have something in which we could take civic pride.

The admission made by Mr. Barber, that if the sidewalks, one on each side of the bridge, were narrowed one foot each that a saving of $10,000.00 might result opens up the question as to what the ultimate saving might be if the plans were thoroughly scrutinized with a view of further elimination of things not exactly essential, leaving the practical to stand. The meeting rather expected to be given certain information which was not forthcoming and the meeting adjourned less than satisfied.

Respectfully,
F. H. DOBBIN.

Editor, Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I feel I cannot let that letter of your correspondent in Thursday night's Examiner pass without making some endorsement of his remarks as regards, especially, the high rent one has to pay without any convenience. I might state that I am paying $13 per month without the necessary conveniences, and in quite a thickly populated part of the city. I do think, Mr. Editor, where a landlord cannot afford to put the conveniences into a house the city should come along and do it and make the landlord pay the city back by instalments, the city to charge a small interest for undertaking the work. (I believe Alderman Elmar once suggested this to the City Fathers) I am sure, there are a number of house owners who would be only to pleased to have it connected up in their property, who are not able to pay the full amount down at the present time. It would also find work for some of our unemployed and do away with those wretched and disgraceful looking so-called lavatories (?) in our midst.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space, I remain,

Another For Sanitation.

One-Time Emperor Charles

Would Divorce Empress Zita, Staunch Friend of Allies

ZURICH.— The Prague Tageblatt is authority for the statement that one-time Emperor Charles of Austria Hungary intends to apply for a divorce.

Empress Zita is the woman against whom the Kaiser poured out his wrath and used all his weapons of slander and abuse to make impotent with his chief ally, Austria-Hungary her stand for the cause of the Entente Allies.

Consort of Charles Francis, head of the Dual Monarchy, she sent her two brothers, Prince Sixtus and Prince Xavier to fight for the Allies while two of her sisters, Princess Adelaide and Princess Frances Joseph, members of [illegible]ous society on the Isle of W[illegible]ed throughout the war as [illegible] the allied armies.

Empress Zita is descended from a long line of French and Italian kings and rulers. She is one of nineteen children of Duke Robert of Parma, heir to the throne of Tuscany and the last, nominally, of the rulers of that part of Italy as a separate principality. She was born in Italy and always has considered herself an Italian princess. She was nineteen years old when, in 1911, she was married to Archduke Charles Francis.

To the Kaiser her great offence was in that she stood steadfast for the cause of the Entente. He caused the vilest slander against her to be circulated throughout the territories of the Central Powers and endeavored in every way to bring a breach between her and Charles Francis. There previously have been reports to the effect that Emperor Charles would divorce her.

Her brothers have won the French British and Belgian honors in the war. It was to one of these brothers, Prince Sixtus that Emperor Charles addressed his famous letter advocating the return of Alsace-Loraine to France.

This New Cocktail May Save the Day

Bone Dry Detroit Has a Liquorless Drink With a Regular Kick.

NEW YORK.—With a kick, like the first row on an opening night, there comes, to cheer the hearts of those who are preparing the sackcloth and ashes for the night of June 30, the news of the "cocktail a la mode." The story of it comes from Detroit the town of Ford and flivvers, but, take it from those who have tried it, the cocktail a la mode is no flivver.

The story of it is told in detail by B. G. Koether, of the Hyatt Roller Bearing Company Detroit, now here. "The cocktail," said Mr. Koether, "is supposedly a temperance drink. It is served in a cocktail glass, the uninitiated think, simply to recall the memories of dear, dead days, and to make it look better. But in reality it is served in a cocktail glass because it is a cocktail. When it comes to you at a hotel table or soft drink bar, it is merely grape juice—purple, pure, and strictly temperance. But on the plate beside it there is a little tissue paper sanitary container, and in the little sanitary container, there is a little kick. This little kick is enclosed in a seemingly innocuous little pellet of yeast.

"The yeast is dropped into the grape juice and the mixture vigorously stirred. Fermentation starts in with about the same reluctance as trouble starts when somebody throws a lighted cigarette into the powder bin. The drink has an effect very much like that of the strongest Manhattan. After that everything is rosy, and all thoughts of the Sahara desert fade quickly from the mind's eye into a joy-tinted mist. You can get the cocktail a la made any place in Detroit."

The pretty purple cocktail is spreading like an epidemic in all temperanse states, it is said, and New York drink dispensers, since the news of it has trickled eastward, are looking up and smiling.

NO CHANCE FOR THE GERMS.

Disease germs cannot live in rich, red blood. It is people in low vitality that fall victims to germ diseases. By using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you enrich the blood, increase vitality and prevent disease germs from finding lodgment in your body. There's wisdom in prevention. It's easier to keep well than to get well.

LORD ROBERT CECIL IN DOUBT ABOUT WASHINGTON OFFER

Paris, Feb. 13.—Lord Robert Cecil, British representative on the League of Nations Commission, is still considering the question whether he will accept the appointment as British Ambassador to Washington, which has been offered to him.

It is understood that he is not inclined to take the post. Personal reasons, it is said, stand in the way of his absenting himself from England.

Sunday School Lesson Questions

February 1, 1919.

The Ten Commandments. Exodus 20:1-17.

Golden Text: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. Luke 10:27.

1. Verses 1-3. What proof is there that the Lord is one God?

2. Verse 4. What was the effect in that day, and what is the effect today, of idol worship?

3. Verses 5, 6. How can you justify God for visiting the iniquities of the fathers upon the children, or in rewarding children for the virtues of their parents?

4. Verse 7. What would you suggest to be done more than is being done to stop the prevalent habit of taking God's name in vain? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.)

5. Verse 8. What is the present day meaning of keeping the Sabbath holy?

6. Would you say or not and why that Sunday school or Bible class service is as profitable and as well pleasing to God on the Sababth as any other religious service?

7. Under modern conditions it is neither possible nor wise for all the people to rest from all work on the Sabbath. Where then would you draw the line?

8. Verse 9. Is the obligation to labor six days, as binding upon all men as the obligation to rest on the Sabbath Day? Why?

9. Verses 10, 11. Does this verse mean that, in that day, absolutely no wor kwas to be done on the Sabbath, such as feeding and watering the cattle, for instance?

10. What benefit is it to man and beast to rest one day a week from the usual labor?

11. Verse 12. What is implied in the commandment to honor our father and mother?

12. If children are taught to obey and reverence their parents, what will be the almost certain after career of such children?

13. What influence does obedience to law and to properly constituted authority have upon health, long life and prosperity?

14. Verse 13 What constitutes murder according to Christ?

15. Verse 14. Are persons who marry for money, for social position or any otehr reason than pure love, considered by God as living in continuous adultery? Why?

16. Why is adultery, sandwiched in the commandments between murder and theft?

17. Verse 15. What is the moral culpability or guilt of stealing?

18. Verse 16. Would you consider or not and why, that spreading an evil report against a neighbor, whether true or not, is breaking the spirit of the eighth commandment?

19. Verse 17. How would you define the sin of covetousness?

20. Why would you say or not that no person can be a reconciled child of God who plans to break any one of the ten commandments?

Lesson for Sunday, Feb. 23. Moses praying for Israel. (May be used with missionary application.) Exodus 32:1; 34:9.

Rich Oil Men Want Willard Fight in Texas

Offer Large Bonus to Rickard to Stage Bout There.

WICHITA FALLS, Texas.—Frank E. Force, with the backing of a syndicate of wealthy oil operators, has wired Tex Rickard, now in Chicago, an offer of a bonus of $100,000 if he will stage the coming championship battle between Jess Willard and a contender, to be named later, in Wichita Falls.

On learning that Willard had agreed to fight, Force, former manager of Fred Fulton, conferred with the oil operators and later wired the $100,000 offer to Rickard.

"The centre of the mid-continent oil field here in North Texas is undoubtedly the place for this contest," said Force. "We have a vast amphitheatre at Call Aviation Field, where seats can be easily arranged on sloping ground for 50,000 spectators. We can assure the promoters a record house at record prices. Money is no object here. We want the right here so we can see it without slowing up our development work."

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER

An appreciation of the local newspaper and of what its editor does for his community is well expressed in an article we have noticed in some of our exchanges, credited to ex-Governor Francis, of Missouri. Ex-Governor Francis, speaking of newspapers said: "Each year the local paper gives from $500 to $5,000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to means, does more for his home town than any other ten men, and in all fairness he ought to be supported, not because you like him or admire his writings, but because the local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be brilliantly edited or crowded with thought, but financially it is more of a benefit to the community than the preacher or teacher. Understand me, I am not speaking of moral or spiritual values, and yet on moral questions you will find most of the papers on the right side. Today the editor of a live local paper does the most for the least money of anyone on earth."

Men Did Not Want to Go to Siberia

"Guard of Honor," With Fixed Bayonets, Escorted Recalcitrant Soldiers to Troopship.

The departure of the Canadian Siberian Expeditionary Force was not conducted with the ease that the commanding officer could have wished, according to the following 'excerpt from a letter written on board ship by one of the officers and posted from Tokio on January 11th.

Great difficulty was experienced in getting the troops on board, this feat only being accomplished by using the drastic means described in the letter, which reads in part:

Yesterday morning (Saturday, December 21) we turned out at reveille, 5 a.m., and turned in all our camp equipment at quartermasters' stores. We breakfasted at 6 a.m., and marched out of camp at 7.30 a.m. for the wharf, a distance of 4½ miles. When we got half way the signal came from the rear to halt, so we stopped for about ten minutes. Then the commanding officer blew his whistle as a signal for everyone to resume his place in the column, and we jumped into our places, waiting for the further signal to advance, which was an unusually long time coming.

Wouldn't Fall In.

We could not see the rest of the column, as we had turned a corner of the road—and a few minutes later a shot rang out, but still we waited till eventually we received word to resume the march. In the meantime it appears that our gallan — — — or a large number of them, had absolutely refused to fall in again when the signal blew, or to go down to the boat at all. So then the colonel drew his revolver and fired a shot over their heads—in the main street of Victoria — when some more got into line, though there were still a large number who would not, so the other two companies from Ontario were ordered to take off their belts and whip the other devils into line, and they did it with a will, and we proceeded.

"Guard of Honor."

While all this was happening the general staff car was flying round with good effect, so that after marching another half mile we came to a "guard of honor" (50 men in close formation, with rifles and fixed bayonets on either side of the road) who presented arms in the approved fashion to us—scouts, bugle Band, and the Toronto company—but as soon as this other company was just nicely between them the order was given to the guard to "Outwards turn," with the result that this company continued the march virtually at the point of the bayonet, they being far more closely guarded than any body of German prisoners I ever saw, and they were held under armed guard till we actually pulled out to sea, and even now a dozen of the ringleaders are in the cells—the two worst handcuffed together—awaiting trial.

We arrived at the wharf at 9 a.m., but found, that the boat was not yet docked, so waited till she came in, exactly 18 hours later, and commenced to embark at 10.30 p.m. It was 3 a.m. before everything was on, and at about 5 a.m. we started off."

GERMAN FOREIGN MINISTER APOLOGIZES FOR RUDENESS

Paris, Feb. 13.—The Echo de Paris to-day prints an account of a recent incident in Berlin which might have resulted in the withdrawal of the British Prisoners' Mission had an apology not been offered by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the Foreign Minister.

According to the account, the chief of the British Mission for the Regulation of Prisoners found it necessary to have a conversation with the Foreign Minister. He proceeded to Wilhelmstrasse and sent up his card to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau. A secretary made his appearance and, after excusing the Foreign Minister, said:—"However, you can tell me the object of your visit and I shall refer the matter to the Secretary of State."

The British officer declined this invitation and brought the interview with the junior official to an end. Immediately afterward he informed General Dupont, the French commander, of what had happened. Later he drafted a telegram to Marshal Foch, requesting that the entire allied mission be recalled.

This despatch had hardly been handed in when Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau sent an urgent message to General Dupont saying the Foreign Minister was anxious to see the latter personally in order to apologize for what had occurred.

Word to Investors

The gold and silver mines of Ontario have paid to shareholders in dividends $91,000,000. The gold mines are just ten years old and have only begun their career as producers. The camps are within a day's journey of any Ontario point. Selected Ontario mining stocks are in a position to return larger profits than any other class of securities. There are a large number of people in Ontario who have limited means at their disposal, which they would like to invest safely. We are in a position to assist investors to select securities which are safe and which afford the greatest possibilities for profit-making... We have an elaborate information bureau which is entirely at your service free of charge. Write us concerning investment opportunities. We will be pleased to advise you promptly.

In connection with our intelligence service we have prepared a complete map of Porcupine in two colors, which we will be glad to mail the reader free of charge on application.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

Suggests That City Apply to Fire Underwriters' Association For a Reduction of Rates

Waterworks Department Has Improved the Local Situation From the Standpoint of Fire Protection—Annual Report of the Department—Cold Weather Troubles.

The appended report of Mr. R. S. Dobbin, superintendent of the Waterworks Department, was submitted to the Utilities Commission at a meeting held yesterday afternoon. The report in part follows:

The main item of construction for the year was the completion of the 8-in. main from Auburn dam to connect with the East Ward system. In order to get the full benefit from this work a 6-in. main was laid on Rogers street, from Dufferin to Stanley streets, connecting with the 6-in. main already laid on Rogers street. Together with the 6-in. main on Concession street the full capacity of the 8-in. main will be developed.

Two Mains.

The East Ward system is now fed by two 8-in. mains, the old one crossing the river at Hunter street, and the new one crossing at the Auburn dam. In case of damage to either one the other would keep that part of the city fully supplied.

Tests show that at the ordinary rates of flow, pressure in the East Ward and the centre of the city are much improved. On this account it was possible to lower the pressures at the pump house from 70 to 60 lbs. per sq. inch, at the same time giving much better service than before, and also reducing the wear on the pumps.

Fire Protection.

The situation of the city from a fire protection point of view has been much improved by this work, and an application should be made to the Fire Underwriters' Association for a reduction of rates.

The number of services laid during the year was 69, which is about the same as the two preceding years. Until building operations are back to normal times before the war we cannot hope for much improvement in this respect.

On account of the excessive cost of cast iron pipe a considerable amount of small galvanized iron mains were laid where only a few consumers were to be supplied and no fire service required.

Pumping Station and Dam.

The Turbine Equipment Company completed their contract for the steam auxiliary pumping unit and were paid the balance due them.

During January, February and March the unit was not used except for testing purposes, there being ample covering of ice on the forebay, and consequently no frazil.

This fall on account of the great flow of the river and the mild weather there has been no protection, and a full head of steam had to be kept up, and the unit ready for an instant use on cold windy nights. Several times the controlling gates to the water turbines have been frozen so that they could not be operated, and if a fire had occurred and extra pressure were needed it could not have been had except for the steam unit.

Only once, on December 10th, did the water wheels become so clogged as to necessitate the use of the steam unit for domestic supply.

Filtration Plant.

The Carnegie property on the west bank of the river above the pump house was acquired by the Commission as a site for a filtration plant, which will be needed in the near future.

Routine analyses have been made each day at the laboratory at the pump house, on samples of water taken at the intake and also at the city offices. In all 846 samples were tested, and the following table gives a summary of the results:

| Month | Samples | Showing Infection | Intake | City | Colour | Temperature |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| January | 36 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 21 | 33°F. |
| February | 27 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 26 | 33° |
| March | 45 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 21 | 33° |
| April | 75 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 26 to 38 | 33° to 48° |
| May | 88 | 21 | 0 | 0 | 38 | 48° to 65° |
| June | 93 | 21 | 0 | 0 | 38 | 65° to 72° |
| July | 104 | 32 | 11 | 0 | 39 | 72° to 84° |
| August | 81 | 30 | 5 | 0 | 39 | 84° to 76° |
| September | 83 | 34 | 2 | 0 | 39 to 34 | 76° to 56° |
| October | 76 | 12 | 0 | 0 | 34 | 58° to 56° |
| November | 73 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 34 | 56° to 36° |
| December | 67 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 34 | 36° |
| Totals | 846 | 150 | 18 | | | |

It was only during the summer months that infection occurred and then only 30 p.c. of the samples showed any infection, these being almost all confined to those taken from the intake. This was due to the use of the chlorinating apparatus which was operated constantly throughout the year. The dose of liquid chlorine used has varied from 3 to 5 lbs. per million gallons, according to the condition of the water as shown by the analyses. A total of 3,514 lbs. were used.

That a few of the samples taken at the city offices showed infection, draws attention to the fact that the sterilizing effect of liquid chlorine is greatest when working on clear water. During the summer months a considerable amount of vegetable slime is present in the river water, and the bacteria are able to find protection in it from the chlorine. Treatment in a filtration plant followed by chlorination would give an ideal water for Peterborough, safe from all pollution.

Pumpage.

The total pumpage for the year shows an increase of 160 millions over 1'17. Most of this occurred in the winter months, and was due to the running of taps to keep the services from freezing.

The maximum rate of demand occurred on January 29th, during the Neill fire on George street, when the meter showed a rate of 7 1-4 million gallons per day. The total amount of water pumped that day was 4,723,000 gallons, which is a record for the Department.

Cold Weather Troubles.

The winter of 1916-17 was considered a severe one, but that of 1917-18 eclipsed all records since 1872. Frost penetrated the ground to an unheard of extent, especially under roads and pavements and in gravelly ground. The following table gives the average temperatures as taken at the pump house for the last three winters:

| | Nov. | Dec. | Jan. | Feb. | Mch. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1916-16 | 43.4 | 26.1 | 29.5 | 21.5 | 27.4 |
| 1916-17 | 39.8 | 29.2 | 21.6 | 15.7 | 32.3 |
| 1917-18 | 29.2 | 13.7 | 10.0 | 17.6 | 29.0 |
| 1918 | 38.0 | 24.2 | | | |

PARIS, Feb. 12. — Sir Robert Borden, the Canadian premier, when asked to-day regarding the report from London connecting his name with the British ambassadorship to the United States, thought a moment and then replied with a smile: "I do not believe I have any observations to make regarding the report."

Peace Conference Concludes First Phase of Work

Subjects of Great Importance Are Still Pending — Adjournment Takes Place To-day.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The plenary session of the Peace Conference held in the famous Clock Room of the Foreign Office this afternoon marked the conclusion of the first, and possibly the most important phase of the work of the world's greatest international gathering. Subjects of great importance are still pending, but adjournment of to-day's session may reveal that the foundations for the settlement of all questions that will follow has been laid in the adoption of the Society of the League of Nations' programme.

Decorations For War Veterans

Records Being Prepared by the Records Office.

It is published for the information of all concerned that nominal rolls are being prepared by the Records Office, Overseas Military Forces of Canada, for all those that are eligible for the 1914-15 Star and Riband, and individual applications for these decorations are not required.

In view of the large number of decorations likely to be issued, some considerable time will elapse before these are available for distribution.

Officers, N.C.O.'s and men who are entitled to these decorations, should refrain from making individual applications for this reason.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Storm, accompanied by snow, wind and rain, which for twenty-four hours has demoralized wire communication and railrotd traffic in the territory between the Missouri River and the Rocky Mountains, and from the Canadian border to Oklahoma early today, was still in progress and is moving eastward though with decreasing severity. No locality has reported cold weather, the temperature being well above zero.

Child Delinquency Was Discussed

LINDSAY, Feb. 13.—At the meeting of the Brotherhood in the Cambridge Street Methodist Church a very interesting discussion took place on the question of "Child Delinquency." Several letters from the Chief of Police from Peterborough, Stratford, Hamilton and other places were read and the different speakers were quite emphatic in stating that lack of parental control, the downward tendency of certain amusements and the lax enforcement of the laws pertaining to children under 12 and 16 years of age, were to blame.

Our marriage laws were severely censured and it was moved and seconded that the members of the Brotherhood be a look-out committee to bring in any information that might be discussed, anything that effects the welfare of the community.

Frank Barber Addressed the Engineers' Club Last Evening

Barber Who Prepared the Plans for the Hunter Street Bridge Was the Speaker in Public Library Last Night—Explains the Strong Points and Utility of the New Structure.

Although technical to a degree the address of Mr. Frank Barber, the Toronto consulting engineer retained by the city in connection with the Hunter Street bridge, demonstrated clearly to the Engineers' Club last night the strong points both of beauty and of utility that will be incorporated in the structure to be erected over the Otonabee River at Hunter street.

The meeting, which was held in the Public Library Hall, was fairly crowded by members of the Engineering profession and at no point up to the end of the address at ten o'clock did the address lose its interest by the proneness of the speaker to interest some of his experiences in the building field in other cities and centres.

Mr. C. E. Canfield, the President of the Engineers' Club occupied the chair and introducing the speaker of the evening to the members stated that Mr. Barber had built some of the finest bridges in the Dominion of Canada, and that he was well fitted to construct the new bridge that is to be built over the Otonabee.

Concrete Bridges.

Mr. Barber took as his subject, "Concrete Bridges" and interspersed with his address were shown slides of some of the finest and most expensive bridges in the country. The strength and points of interest of these bridges were carefully explained by the speaker, who compared each of these structures with the new bridge that he has been employed to build in Peterborough. He dwelt especially on the spandral arch design that is now being used in bridges.

Mr. Barber discouraged the use of much ornamentation on bridges. The beauty of the new Hunter Street bridge will be in its very plainness and ruggedness. Because of this almost total lack of ornament in the proposed new structure nothing that has been provided for in the plans could be dispensed with, that is, with a real saving and without spoiling entirely the appearance of the structure. Mr. Barber reminded his audience that he was confined to narrow limits put in force by the Dominion Railway Board, under the chairmanship of Sir Henry Drayton. The regulations of the Board had to be observed to the letter, and therefore no economy could be gained by narrowing the platform of the bridge which had to be a certain width if the bridge is going to be double-tracked to meet the requirements of the Board. Some one had suggested to the speaker the use of cantilevering sidewalks but he viewed the idea with disfavour.

New Bridge.

The design of the new bridge was thrown on the screen, and its beauty and graceful lines elicitated much comment from the engineers.

Mr. Barber outlined the duties of a bridge engineer. His duty was to submit plans both with the economical and local conditions in view to the purchasing party or corporation. The architect could no nothing to materially alter the designs. He is limited practically to crusting the bridge with designs. The architect may improve the appearance of the bridge which is drawn to a mathematical accuracy by the engineer as long as he does not destroy the bridge from the standpoint of usefulness and strength.

He defended the Engineering profession against criticism regarding the matter of plans. It was said that information available by contracting firms was inadequate and not of as superior nature as that in the possession of most architects.

Speaking of the proposed new Hunter street structure he stated that [illegible] had been made at the points where the piers would have been sunk, and the contractors who had applied for it had been furnished with the most detailed information regarding this and other points compatible with the cost of the structure.

Sudden Death at Janetville

Mr. Sam. Arnott Was Engaged in Hauling Wood.

Mr. A. Sam. Arnott, of Janetville, met with a sudden and totally unexpected death on Tuesday afternoon as he was engaged in hauling wood from a swamp. It would appear that he had put on a small load and was about to get his coat when he dropped. No person was with him at the time, but Mr. J. Walker, who was some distance away, noticed that the team had been standing in one place for about an hour, and went to find out what was the matter. He found Mr. Arnott lying on the roadside with life extinct.

The late Mr. Arnott is survived by his wife and a family of two. He was well-known in the vicinity of Fleetwood, where he lived for a number of years, moving recently to the village of Janetville. He was about 50 years of age.

All the different classes of foodstuffs should be represented every day in the diet of aged people, but the quantities should be small.

Compulsory Education Would Save World From Anarchy

Large Audience Heard Lou Beauchamp, the Philosopher and Humanist—"God Ran the World With Ten Laws," Said the Speaker.

The first visit to the city of Lou J. Beauchamp, the original humorous philosopher, was greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience at the Conservatory of Music last evening. His lecture, the third attraction in the Redpath Lyceum course, on "Sociological Conditions in the United States," was listened to with intense interest by all who heard him.

The speaker dealt first with the slow movement of God's church in the United States, and of the failure to meet the calls of charity by the churches to-day. Some, he said, have contended that never has the Church moved so slowly as to-day. Statistics show that in 1917 there was an increase in membership in the churches of 2 per cent. In 1918, the year-book of one of the greatest denominations with a membership of four million, showed an increased membership of thirty thousand, twenty-nine thousand of whom joined in India, leaving an increased membership of 1,000 in the States in a church of four million. Of ten thousand Presbyterian churches, four failed to show a single religious convert.

Recently we saw the Armenians wiped off the earth by the unspeakable Turk. They were the first people to be converted to the Christian Church, cultured, intelligent, the heart brain and soul of the Orient. Without a protest from any church to any government, we saw them outraged and murdered, while most of us in our ignorance looked upon them as an uncivilised people.

Increase in Crime.

In speaking of the startling increase of crime in the United States, as well as in Canada, which is shown by the figures of the jail and farm elements which have increased 100 times in the past three years, Mr. Beauchamp urged education against the increase in crime and punishment adequate to the crime committed. In America there are sixteen times more murders than in England. "Even in Germany, though I hate to admit it," said Mr. Beauchamp, "there are eleven times fewer murders than in the States. In London, a city of eight million people, there were twenty-two murders in one year. Of the twenty-two murderers, fourteen were hanged and four committed suicide. In Chicago, of three hundred murderers, two hundred and four were captured and two hanged. They needed the rest at the spring election," said the speaker. The United States does not punish the criminal. If," said the speaker, "the people could know that adequate punishment followed the crime, seventy-five per cent. of the offences would be done away with. I make no plea for capital punishment, but I never saw a hanged man commit a second murder."

Laws a Joke.

Our criminal laws are a joke. Ex-President Taft, the highest legal authority in the States, has said that there is nothing so criminal as most of the procedure in the courts. Take, for example, the case of the man who recently admitted stealing $167,000 from the School Trust, which money he lost gambling. He was bound over for the next term. He never appeared as the Judge had found a technicality in the law. In Canada we find a similar condition when the man sentenced to one year in Kingston for desertion was discharged as the higher judge ruled that it is illegal to sentence a man for less than two years, and the lawyer contended that under British law a man cannot be tried twice on the same offence.

In five years in the United States 82,550 new laws were made. In England, with her colonies and vast possessions, 1,450 laws were made in fifteen years, and the Almighty ran the world with 10 laws. No wonder, he said, the hundreds of new laws have caused such developments in technicalities.

Compulsory Education.

If anything is going to save the country from anarchy and Bolshevikism, it is compulsory education. Statistics show that seventy-five per cent. of the murders are committed by boys between the ages of ten and twenty-two, who, had they been educated and their thoughts directed in right channels, could have made good citizens.

After this war there will be the greatest religious upheaval in the history of the world since Pentecost. There will be more religion and less theology. We won't care what church the other fellow belongs to as long as he is headed the right way. The very battlefield has bound us together. Over there priest and rabbi forgot their creeds and worked together.

United Classes.

The war had the effect of uniting classes. The millionaire's son has fought shoulder to shoulder with the labourer's son and has bled with him. Those boys are coming home no longer enemies but bound together in the brotherhood of man. Why in the past few years has God's Church not done all it might have done? he asked. Ask a man why he was not at church, and nine times out of ten he answers that he does not want to hear about the men who died three thousand years ago. The preacher had no message for him. He is interested in the sociological questions of to-day. The message is not the preacher's fault, it is the official board's fault. With the meagre salaries the preacher receives, he is too busy keeping the wolf from the door to keep in touch with the sociological problems of the day. The two people to whom the future is entrusted, the teacher and preacher, are the poorest paid men in the world.

To-day the originations are doing the work of the Church in visiting the sick and comforting the afflicted.

A Message.

In conclusion, the speaker gave some interesting facts about his own life. Although he said I am seventy-five years old, I am not willing to think my life-work is done, and I am the happiest man in the world. I have lived in the palaces of kings and in the poorest dwellings. I have given more than a quarter of a million to others. I have made money as any man can who is not hampered by drink or dishonesty may do, and I have found it is best invested when used to help other more in need than myself.

Selection By Orchestra.

In addition to the splendid lecture, the Conservatory Orchestra played the Overture from William Tell, which item was heartily appreciated.

Peterboro Utilities Commission Etc

city of 655 K.W., valued at $7,556.59, have been placed in position and connected; 45,000 feet of wire has been strung, valued at $3,809.89.

During the early part of the year the continued low temperature froze a great many water service pipes, and during January, February, March and April 305 thaws were made. One particularly hard one consisted of 500 feet of 4-inch main feeding the Queen Mary School, which was completely opened up in 50 minutes. 50 K.W. of transformer capacity with 4/0 cable was used to produce the above-noted results.

Street Lighting.

The street lighting has not undergone any change during the last year, except the addition from time to time of 13 incandescent lamps by order of the City Council.

Over 300 services were frozen, some of them at a depth of six feet, and much discomfort was caused thereby. Two electric thawing machines were in use and were kept busy. This method is expeditious and efficient, but while it thaws the pipe itself, it has no effect on the soil surrounding it which remains at a freezing temperature. If the water in the pipe is not kept running at full bore it will freeze again in a very short time. This results in a considerable waste of water, but it seems the only thing to do.

Fire Hydrants.

Considerable trouble was experienced in keeping the fire hydrants in operation, particularly in the centre of the city, where the streets are paved. The frost penetrated so deeply that the branch pipes leading to many of the hydrants froze, thus cutting off the supply of water. Constant care and attention were necessary, a large number having to be thawed daily, and some twice daily.

At first salt and hot water were tried and found efficient but finally a small steam boiler was used. This was found to be efficient also, but expensive and slow. The electric method was also tried, but was found to be even slower than the steam.

As the winter advanced and spring was in sight another trouble became frequent. The snow melting at the surface ran down between the frost jacket and the hydrant, and filled the latter through the drain hole. The ground around the base of the hydrant being frozen, the water could not soak away as usual, and formed ice in the hydrant, choking off the flow.

This trouble was cured to some extent by cutting drains around each hydrant to lead the water away from the surface, but every night it froze and the drains soon filled up and had to be dug out again.

Water Supply.

In some cities where the water supply is drawn from large bodies of water, such as lakes, etc., the temperature of the water never gets below 40 degrees F. Consequently by flushing the hydrants during the winter they may be warmed somewhat and will not freeze so readily.

In Peterboro the water in the mains during the winter months has a uniform temperature of 33 degrees F., and very little more cold is required to form ice, and the above method cannot be used.

The only sure remedy for frost trouble is to put the services and hydrants deeper in the ground. While this is not expensive in the case of new work, for those services already installed the cost would be considerable, and the Commission hesitated to spend the money.

But in the case of the hydrants it was decided to make some attempt to prevent them from freezing, and after investigation the following method was used:

Extra Precautions.

It was out of the question to lower the mains themselves but by means of bends the branch pipes leading to the hydrants were lowered so to give a minimum cover of seven feet at the hydrant. They were then back-filled with sod and sand well pounded.

As an extra precaution pieces of old 12 inch cast iron pipe about three feet long were sunk vertically in the soil directly below the hydrant, thus surrounding its base with warm air from a depth of ten feet. Sixteen were treated in this manner, and more will be done next season.

General Remarks.

Maintenance charges in 1918 were about $1700 more than in the previous year. Most of this was occasioned by increases in wages and prices of materials, and in extra work necessitated by the excessively cold winter.

The cost of construction work has increased very materially during the last few years, especially since 1915. Cast iron pipe in 1915, was $31.40 per ton, while in 1918 we paid $75, an increase of 138%. Wages for common labour in 1915 were 27½c per hour, and in 1918, 39c per hour, an increase of 42%. These two items enter very largely into our construction work.

Investigation by a committee of the American Waterworks Association of records received from fifty typical important waterworks, of the United States, indicate that operating and maintenance expenses have increased about one-third while revenues have increased only 1% since 1915.

In most of these cities the water supply is pumped by steam and the very large rise in the price of coal has no doubt been responsible for most of the increase.

Operating Pumps.

Peterboro is fortunate in having its pumps run by water power, most of the cost of supplying water being made up of fixed charges for interest and sinking fund. As a consequence the cost of operation and maintenance together with the fixed charges has increased only 21%, while the revenue has increased 15% since 1915.

The report concluded by saying:

We have thus been enabled to get along without raising our rates. Toronto found it necessary to make an increase of 10% in 1917, and an additional 20% in 1918. Montreal has also made a very substantial increase as have a number of Canadian cities.

If building operations are at all favorable during the coming season, the construction of the new workshop and offices for the Department should be proceeded with. The present premises are entirely unsuitable for the work carried out there.

The dwelling on the Carnegie property should be repaired for the use of one or two of the operators at the Pump House so that they might be within call in case of emergency.

Glass Sees Big Task In War Prohibition

Asks Congress Not to Put the Burden of It on Revenue Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Secretary Glass is strongly opposed to Congress placing responsibility for enforcement of National prohibition upon the Bureau of Internal Revenue. His views were set forth in a letter to Representative Carlin, Chairman of the House Judiciary Sub-Committee, which is considering legislation for enforcement for prohibition.

"This bureau," said the letter, "is now, as you know, burdened to the uttermost with the administration of a very comprehensive and technical tax law, which will engage its every facility to administer adequately and equitably. The enforcement of war prohibition has no relation whatever to the collection of the revenue, and a law which is exclusively of a police character would certainly complicate, if it would not endanger, the effective administration of the tax laws."

PORPOSAL WAS ADOPTED

tions and matters involved either to arbitration or to enquiry by the Executive Council, and until three months after the award by arbitrators or recommendation by the Executive Council, and that they will not even then resort to war as against a member of the League which complies with the award of the arbitrators or the recommendation of the Executive Council.

Permanent Court.

Other provisions of the League state—"The high contracting parties agree that whenever any dispute or difficulty shall arise between them which they recognize to be suitable for submission to arbitration and which cannot be satisfactorily settled by diplomacy, they will submit the whole matter to arbitration.

"The Executive Council shall formulate plans for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice, and this part shall when established, be competent.

"The contracting nations realize that the maintenance of peace will require the reduction of national armament to the lowest point consistent with national safety, and the enforcement by common action of international obligations.

Premier Borden Will Come Home For a Brief Spell

Ten Ministers Out of Twenty-three to Sit in the House—Even Interest of Russian Bolsheviks Will Have to be Put Aside.

OTTAWA, Feb. 14. — Sir Robert Borden, it is said, is coming back home. No particular reason is advanced for his coming, and it would appear that his presence at the Peace Conference is quite as necessary now as it was on any past occasion.

That he is coming, however, in response to S.O.S. calls which have been sizzling across the Atlantic ever since his colleagues, left behind in Ottawa, after holding off the session for eight solid months, were finally, in desperation, forced to announce the date for reopening at the twentieth of the present month — nine months after the last prorogation—is a matter of general knowledge at Ottawa. "Sister Anne, Sister Anne, do you see anybody coming?" would appear to have been the burden of the song of Sir Thomas White, acting Prime Minister, and his little handful of devoted colleagues, as they looked over towards the east, where far out of their sight the waves of the Atlantic broke and the big ships came in at Halifax.

News that Sir Robert had decided that the Bolsheviki in Russia were more worthy of his consideration than those in his own party and in Canada generally, and that he was to set sail for Prince's Islands in the Sea of Marmora, there to endeavour to bring harmony and union out of chaos in a country vaster by far than his own, brought despair to their hearts, since the mission might be calculated to delay his return for months.

However, for some reason Sir Robert has apparently decided that the affairs of the Bolsheviki must wait because of the importunities of the men he has left behind to run Canada. If his present reported intention to return does not slip up before the ship sails the Premier will be here to "counsel the shelving of controversial issues" for the coming session.

Gaps in Ministry.

In the meantime the question arises as to who of the Government of 23 will guide the ship or state through the second session of the thirteenth (unlucky?) Parliament of Canada. There are five Ministers overseas, including the Premier, and three are heads, respectively, of the important Departments of Justice, Customs and Trade and Commerce. Sir Edward Kemp is still Overseas Minister of Militia. Then Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, is still very ill in Montreal, and will not be here for the opening of the session. Hon. Frank Cochrane has been acting for some time, and in any case has no portfolio.

Apart from these partial or total absentees, three holders of important portfolios have no seat in the Commons and cannot be present there when their own estimates are up for consideration.

They are: Sir James Lougheed, Minister of Civil Re-establishment; Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labour, and Hon. P. E. Blondin, Postmaster-General, defeated at the last election in two different seats.

There are left, then, to look after the country's affairs in the House: Sir Thomas White, Hon. N. W. Rowell, Hon. Dr. Reid, Hon. F. B. Carvell, Hon. J. A. Calder, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Hon. C. S. Mewburn, Hon. Martin Burrell, Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. A. K. MacLean—10 in all out of 23.

Reorganizing the 57th Battalion

Lieut.-Col. J. Mills, officer commanding 57th Regiment, Peterboro Rangers, has received the following communication.

Ottawa, 7th February 1919

Demobilization is proceeding steadily and troops will be returned at the rate of thirty thousand per month during February, March and April, forty thousand in May; forty-five thousand per months thereafter. If this programme is carried out, practically the entire C. E. F. should be in Canada by the end of August. On or about the 1st March the first units of the Canadian Army Corps will leave Great Britain for Canada and the balance will follow rapidly.

In view of the foregoing I am daily more impressed with the opportunity which is presented to old regiments of Active Militia of Canada to offer to their returning comrades a suitable welcome and to play an important part in consolidating and perpetuating the military traditions of our country. The Active Militia had an honourable history previous to the great war. It bore its part in the defence of Canada in 1812 and 1866; in quelling rebellion in 1885 and in the South African War 1899-1902. Its members of all ranks who were physically fit went forward in the present war almost to a man. Many fighting battalions are closely affiliated with old regiments of the Militia and every Battalion contains officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who in days past gave of their time and effort without stint to prepare for the country's defence.

It is hoped that the returning soldier, whose record overseas will be a glorious heritage forever, will regard the Militia Regiments from which so many of them proceeded as in a real sense their military homes. It is most fitting that the members of these regiments, recognizing the honour which has been gained for them and for Canada by their comrades in arms, should prepare to receive them and incorporate them into the regimental life. Every Militia Regiment should aim to be a centre of interest to which soldiers from overseas will naturally turn for comradeship and if need be for assistance.

A committee, of which Major General Sir W. D. Otter K. C. B., C.V.O. is chairman, is giving special consideration to the problem of reorganization of the active militia, upon a plan which will at once preserve the history of the Militia Regiments and perpetuate the identity of overseas Battalions. In a recent letter Lieut.-General Currie, K.C.B., G.O. M. G., Commander of the Canadian Army Corps, says in part as follows: "I am all with you in your desire to link up the units constituting the overseas force with the old units of Canada. We must work together to see that this is done, for it would be to our lasting disgrace if we were to allow a system which would not perpetuate the traditions so hardly won in the field." Pending a settlement of this intricate question it is hoped that all returned soldiers, even though they do not wish at present to enroll in Militia Regiments, will associate themselves with them and give them the advantage of their active interest and prestige.

Meanwhile it is hoped that all ranks of the Militia will devote themselves to putting their regiments in order increasing their strength, perfecting their organization, and generally making ready for the important task which lies before them. This should be a labour of love and I have no doubt every officer, N.C.O., and man of all regiments will so regard it.

(Sgd) S. C. Mewburn
Major-General
Minister of Militia and Defence.

OCCURRED IN LONDON, BUT SOUNDS STRANGE.

Soldiers Declined the Invitation of Young Ladies to Attend a Banquet.

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 14. — Soldiers of London camp claim that they are tiring of being feted by church organizations and as a result it is claimed that the custom is soon to cease. The matter came to the attention through the experience of the young ladies of the First Presbyterian Church, who spread a banquet for 100 and provided a professional entertainers. The whole strength of a local unit had been invited but not a soldier appeared. Word was sent to the district headquarters and an offer was made to provide automobiles for all soldiers from the camp who would go down in the emergency, but none would go. Then an expedition was organized to impress soldiers from the highways and the byeways, but without avail. The soldiers simply explained that they had tired of the church entertainments.

PETERBORO RED CROSS SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Executive committee of the local Red Cross Society was held in the Public Library. Some letters were read from headquarters, Toronto, giving instructions as to the use of materials and cloth on hand. The policy recommended to the different branches is, in brief:

1. No further cash expenditures upon supplies and materials of any kind, unless needed by the Canadian returned soldiers in Military or I.S.C. Hospitals in Canada.

2. The collection by provincial and district branches of all supplies and materials in the hands of local branches and auxiliaries before March 15th.

3. The shipment of all such supplies to the warehouse between that date and March 31st, retaining only such material and made-up goods as are estimated to be necessary, in each province or district for the needs of hospitals within its own area of jurisdiction.

The Chief Commissioner overseas reports that the conditions in the allied countries are so distressing, partly owing to the terrible influenza epidemic, that good use can be made of any quantity of clothing which may be administered at the discretion of the commissioner and the advisory committee for the relief of the needs of the allies.

Cases Shipped.

51 day shirts, 86 pairs pyjamas, 289 pairs of socks, 18 sheets, 4 pillow cases, 111 towels, 1 quilt, 39 bed pads, 4 M. T. bandages, 21 stretcher caps, 13 pneumonia jackets, 66 bed sacks, 5 night shirts, 654 head bandages, 1,003 handkerchiefs, 58 chin bandages, 15 kit bags, 9 hot water bag covers, 20 personal property bags.

The following refugee garments were made:

30 chemises, 42 child's combinations, 23 petticoats, 43 Serbian girls' skirts, 27 women's drawers, 4 Serbian boys' coats, 15 child's overalls.

The Contributors.

Berean Bible, All Saints' Girls, St. Peter's Patriotic Club, Thursday Club, Lakehurst, St. John's Churchwomen, Central Smith, Ashburnham Patriotic League, South End, George street Auxiliary, St. Paul's, Murray street, Fairmount and Springville, Y. ### Greece Sea Loss Was $200,000,000

Athens, Feb. 13.—The maritime losses of Greece during the war aggregated $200,000,000 the Greek Foreign Ministry has computed. Information to this effect has been sent by the Foreign Minister to Premier Venizelos now attending the Paris Peace Conference, as a delegate.

YOUNG TURK LEADERS PLACED UNDER ARREST

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 10.—The Turkish Government has arrested about 40 members of the Union of Progress party, who are charged with profiteering and the massacre of Armenians, the deportation and spoliation of Greeks and the ill-treatment of allied prisoners of war. Those under arrest include Hussein Djahid Bey, former President of the Turkish Parliament; Hadja Adel Bey, Vali of Adrianople; Rahmi Bey, former Cali of Smyrna; Ismael Daamboiah, former Minister of the Interior; Kamal Bey, former Minister of Food and Supplies, and several former Deputies.

Peterborough's annual Bonspiel flickered out last night in the reflected brilliance of the curling in the earlier rounds when the players were fresh and eager and the games were fought to the last stone, and frequently into extra ends. J. W. McDermid, of the local club, and L. O. Clifford, of Oshawa, had comparatively easy victories in winning respectively the Morrow and Matthews-Blackwell trophies. The tension cracked in the semi-finals of both competitions, and the deciding games simply lagged along to official but rather disappointing finishes. Both McDermid and Clifford opened up wide scores and were never in danger. Half way through these games the gallery picked the winners, bu[illegible] lowed the play, expecting a b[illegible] a big end or two, and generally hoping that something would turn up. But the reaction that settled upon the concluding games, first noticed in a semi-final, was not to be shaken off. While the last games lacked the spirited and close play that prevailed throughout, this anti-climax in no way depreciated from the success of the Bonspiel. There had been so many spectacular features and big moments right down to the deciding games that to have sustained the enthusiasm the fans would have been forced to provide super-curling. And the last games were only ordinary. That was the end of the most successful Bonspiel the Peterborough Club has ever conducted. The visitors went away delighted with the kindly reception accorded them, the atmosphere of sportsmanship and friendliness, and, above all, with the games and the number of them they had shared.

To the victors the spoils and the honours, but a well-deserved tribute is due the Campbell-Best rink upon their conspicuous performance of reaching the semi-finals in both the primary contests. From their first games in the preliminary rounds they were pitted against some of the best skips at the Bonspiel. They had to work hard for practically every victory, only to falter in the semi-finals and fall within reach of the goal.

This was one of Peterborough's District Cup rinks. As such it was skipped by Ray Best. In the Bonspiel he skipped the games for the Morrow Cup, W. D. Campbell took the "tee" for the Matthews-Blackwell, and Alex. Archibald assumed control in the Waddell Cup preliminary. Their breakdown in the semi-finals is briefly told. McCullough defeated Best by 13-8 in the Morrow series, and Clifford shut them out of the Matthews-Blackwell by 15-11. It is no reflection upon the winners to suggest that the Best rink had shot its bolt in yesterday morning's game with Flavelle, of Lindsay. In that victory they spent their last reserve of strength, and sheer exhaustion was largely responsible for their dissolution. Up to the semi-finals they had played eight games to five each by Clifford and McCullough. The following summary of all their games indicates the hard road they travelled:

Morrow Competition.

Best, 9; Butler, Lindsay, 7.
Best, 8; McCallum, Fenelon Falls, 4.
Best, 17; Morrow, Peterborough, 9.
Best, 16; Flavelle, Lindsay, 7.
Best, 8; McCullough, Port Hope, 13.

Matthews-Blackwell.

Campbell, 10; Hare, Oshawa, 9.
Campbell, 12; O'Conner, Lindsay, 8.
Campbell, 20; Delany, Cobourg, 6.
Campbell, 14; McCrae, Gravenhurst, 12.
Campbell, 11; Clifford, Oshawa, 15.

The Morrow trophy and the accompanying prizes were presented to Mr. McDermid's rink and the second prizes to Rev. Mr. McCullough's rink at an impromptu assembly at eight o'clock. Mr. G. H. Giroux, vice-president of the club, made the presentations, warmly congratulating the winners, and also expressing the curlers' appreciation to Mr. W. G. Morrow for the splendid silver trophy he had donated for annual competition.

Mr. McDermid has the distinction of being the first holder of this trophy, and it is fitting and interesting to recall that he won the first honours at the last open Bonspiel two years ago, when the Peterborough Cup was the main prize.

The prizes that become the permanent property of the winners were four mahogany cabinets of silver, and to the McCullough rink four cut glass bowls.

In receiving the shower of silverware, Mr. McDermid congratulated the Bonspiel Committee upon the success of the event, and also spoke of the fine spirit that had been shown by all the rinks. He paid his respects to his rink, and also congratulated the runners-up.

Warm Praise.

Replying for the Port Hope rink, Rev. Mr. McCullough assured the Peterborough Club that the Bonspiel had been a thoroughly delightful experience. In the three days' curling he had met on the ice seven Peterborough rinks, and one of them twice. He had defeated Mr. McDermid in the Waddell trophy games, but lost to him in the Morrow final. He attributed his success to the steady support his rink had given him. Mr. McCullough said he wished to mention the courtesy and chivalry that had been expressed by the Peterborough curlers in their reception of the visiting rinks. The Bonspiel had been one of the best of many he had participated in, and he had particularly noted that in the three days of contact with so many of the curlers he had not heard one word that savored of vulgarity or profanity. Mr. McCullough stated that he was pleased to be able to pay this tribute to the men and to the Peterborough Club, and he would look forward to the pleasure of returning next winter.

At ten o'clock the Matthews-Blackwell trophy was presented to L. O. Clifford's rink of Oshawa, together with a cabinet of pearl-handled knives and forks; and to Mr. Steele's, Millbrook, four silver casseroles.

Mr. McDermid, president of the club, was chairman. He briefly thanked the outside clubs for sending their rinks to the Bonspiel. They had helped to make it a splendid success, and in return Peterborough would endeavour to send five rinks to Oshawa.

Mr. T. F. Matthews, one of Peterborough's curlers, and a staunch and generous supporter, emphasized the appreciation that was felt toward the visiting rinks. He had been unable to get into the game this winter, but he was fully aware of the good-fellowship that was promoted by the assembly of curlers at a bonspiel. Oshawa had always sent a large representation to Peterborough, and their support was fully recognized. On behalf of the Matthews-Blackwell Company and the curlers, Mr. Matthews presented to Skip Clifford the handsome trophy, to be retained for one year, and the Club's prizes.

Mr. Clifford stated that two years ago Oshawa had reached the fours, and were delighted now to have captured the new trophy. The last previous bonspiel he had thought was ideal, but had been surpassed by this year's. The Bailes brothers assured the club that their visit had been greatly enjoyed. They had come to know many of the Peterborough men, and it was always a pleasure to attend the Bonspiel. They invited as many rinks as possible to make the trip to Oshawa next week.

Mr. W. G. Morrow presented the second prizes to the Millbrook rink, remarking that they had been no "steal," but had been won by hard work. He endorsed the sentiments of the other speakers, and joined in the congratulations to the winners.

Mr. Steele replied for his rink, stating that the Bonspiel was the best he had ever played in. There was a standing invitation, he added, to Peterborough curlers to visit Millbrook.

The Bonspiel was closed with the National Anthem and cheers for the winning rinks, the visitors and, in return, the Peterborough Curling Club.

Presented Peterborough Cup.

Mr. Neill presented the Peterborough Cup and mahogany clocks to Gilbert Howson's Keene rink yesterday afternoon, and Mr. Hicks presented the silver pie plates to Mr. Brightman's rink, who were runners-up in this competition.

This is the second Keene rink to take home a trophy and first prizes from Peterborough this season. J. J. Moore won the Neill trophy in the local district bonspiel which was inaugurated this winter.

Mr. Howson offered his thanks and congratulations to the Club for their hospitality and successful bonspiel, and remarked that there was no skip he would prefer to win from than Tom Brightman.

Mr. Brightman reciprocated the felicities, and especially mentioned the work of his rink, singling out the steady curling that Gordon Matthews had put up throughout the games. This was the first year in the game for his young lead, and he had shown all the signs of a promising curler.

HOCKEY

LAKEFIELD WINNERS OVER T.C.S. JUNIORS.

Lakefield Preparatory School hockey team won from Trinity College School at Lakefield yesterday by the score of 7 to 5, after a very clean and hard game. Osler, Cameron and Johnson played well for T.C.S., while Hamilton and McDonald were best for Lakefield.

Printers Won Three Games

Last night in the Business Men's Ten-Pin League, the Printers took three straights from Matthews-Blackwell. Cairns for the Printers, was high with 548. Henderson and Kirn topped the 500 mark. Everett for the losers was high with 471. The scores:

Dempsey Anxious To Meet Willard

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. — Figuring that Jack Dempsey is going to knock Jess Willard for at least a three-bagger when the big scrap comes off on July 4th, Jack Kearns told the world that when Dempsey becomes champion nothing is going to be too good for the heavyweight clique of aspirants to the elephantine crown.

"Jack'll take 'em all on. They'll be none of this circusing and things when he becomes champion," said Kearns, announcing offhand that he expects Jack to be champion on July 4th, without even the usual run of trouble. "Course," he continued, "Jack intends to take a little run around the country and show the people what the new champion looks like, but there'll be no action for the fighters. Jack'll take 'em on an average of thirty days' apiece if there's enough of 'em to make it interesting proceeding."

Kearns is taking exactly the right course to make Jack Dempsey the most popular heavyweight champion for many a day. That he should deviate from this announced course of action is to be expected. But if he sends Dempsey into action once a year he will be doing a great deal more than is considered proper in the best of championship circles.

LLOYD GEORGE IS SUPPORTED BY COMMONS

Labour's Amendment to the Speech from the Throne Was Lost.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The Lloyd George Government was given a big majority vote in the first important division of the present session, when the Brace amendment to the Speech from the Throne was defeated by 311 to 59.

Inspecting the Fire Department

Underwriters' Inspector is in the City.

Mr. R. N. Wilson of the Canadian Underwriter's Association, arrived in the city last night unknown to everybody except Mayor Duncan to inspect the local fire department. This morning sharp at 10.41 he rang box 19 at the DeLaval and brought down the whole brigade. Good time was made by the brigade and everything so far is satisfactory. To-day a test of the hydrants is being made.

The hydrants on George street were tested this morning and this afternoon East City was canvassed.

Mr. Wilson has been in city several times before as Inspector of the Underwriter's Association and is well known here.

Ashes Set Fire to Wooden Box

Blaze in Water street Building was Extinguished in Time.

Last evening about 9.30, fire broke out in the rear of the flat immediately above the McLaughlin Garage of Mr. Andrew Brown on Water street.

The room in which the fire started was the premises of Mr. Lane, a picture framer, and the place had been locked for the night. Mr. Lane had put hot ashes into a wooden box and in his absence the box caught fire and rapidly spread along the floor.

The residents in the front of the flat detected smoke and the door was broken down after obtaining the assistance of a policeman. The place was found to be filled with smoke. An alarm was immediately rung in, and in a short time the brigade had extinguished the rapidly-spreading blaze by the means of chemicals.

Mr. Brown had just "imported" seven new McLaughlin cars ,and if the pungent odor of smoke had not been detected when it was the whole of that business section of the city might have suffered.

The brigade would have little chance to fight a fire here where the flats are residences and the whole block almost a solid mass of buildings.

Music & Drama

PICTURES AT THE GRAND.

At the Grand Opera House last night one of the best picture programmes of the season was given, and was attended by a splendid audience. The programme was run on the customary generous lines, and eleven films of thrilling and humourous pictures provided an evening of ideal enjoyment. Included in the attractive programme last night were: Grace Cunard in an exciting spy picture, "After the War"; Alice Howell in "The Cabbage Queen," and an O. Henry story, The British Gazette. The programme will be repeated this evening.

SPARTACAN REBELLION WAS PLANNED

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 14.—A general Spartacan uprising throughout out Germany was arranged and well prepared for, to take place in March, according to papers found on Paul Radek, the Russian Bolshevik, arrested in Berlin.

HUNS LOOKING FOR JUSTICE

(United Press Service.)

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—Germany surrendered in the belief that she would get "justice" through the pressure of the public opinion of the world, Chancellar Scheidemann declared in an interview at Weimar to-day.

Smith Township Council Appoints Officers For Year

Mr. J. N. Telford Will Be Sanitary Inspector and Relief Officer.

The members of the Municipal Council of the Township of Smith met in the County Council Chamber Peterboro, on Monday, February 10th at eleven o'clock. All the members were present with Reeve Nichols in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

The following officers were appointed:

Medical Health Officer—Dr. J. A. Morgan.

There being no application for the position of collector, the clerk was instructed to ask for tenders, applicants to furnish bonds for $12,000.

Mr. Thos. Tyers addressed the Council and stated that road known as the side line between the Seventh and Eighth Concessions was in a very bad state of repair and needed considerable money expended upon it next year. Reeve Nichols promised to go over the road during the annual inspection of roads next spring.

The Treasurer was instructed to pay the following accounts:

| | |
|---|---|
| Earnest Roseborough, timber | $41.00 |
| Mrs. Whitby, rebate dog tax | 2.00 |
| Chas. Forsyth, rebate statute labor | 1.10 |
| A. Sanderson, wire fence | 20.20 |
| J. G. Ayotte, work with engine | 1.50 |

The council then adjourned to meet again on Monday, March 10th at eleven o'clock.

WEDDING BELLS

FAGAN—KEADELL.

On January 13th, a quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized in Ealing, in the County of Middlesex, England, when Pte. John Fagan, of the 247 Battalian, and Miss Lillian Keadell, were united in marriage. On their return they will reside in Peterborough.

FLETT—GRAHAM. PARK—GRAHAM.

"Elmdale," Smith, the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Graham, was the scene of a pretty double wedding on Wednesday, February 12, at six o'clock, when Jessie Isobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Graham, was united in marriage to Thomas Flett, of Fenelon Falls, and Grace to James Park, of Bratton, Sask. The brides entered the drawing room on the arms of their father to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mary Graham, sister of the brides. The brides looked charming in gowns of sand Georgette, with rose and silver trimmings, and carried roses and sweet peas. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Galt, of Gilmour Memorial church. During the signing of the register, Miss Lillian Eastwood sang very charmingly, "O Fair O Sweet and Holy." The grooms gift to the pianist was a pearl and sapphire necklace and to the solist a pearl ring.

After signing the register the happy couples led the way to the dining room, which was prettily decorated with carnations and ferns, and partook of a hearty supper.

After an enjoyable evening, Mr. and Mrs. Flett left on the midnight train amidst a shower of confetti, for Ottawa and points east, Mrs. Flett travelling in a suit of navy poplin, taupe hat and mink furs. On their return they will reside at Hillcrest Farm Verulam. Mr. and Mrs. Park will leave for their home in the near future.

The numerous presents betokened the high esteem in which the young ladies were held by their friends.

OBITUARY

MISS TILBY DOLBY.

Miss Tilby Dolby, daughter of the late Henry Dolby, of Lindsay, died this morning in Toronto at the residence of her brother, Mr. Robert Dolby. Miss Dolby was a niece of Mr. Fred Drake and Mr. W. ## CATTLE MARKET

This week's cattle markets opened on Monday with a moderately heavy run of cattle, with a good percentage of fair to choice quality. The average quality in fact was rather better than usual in such a large offering. There was a good active demand for the best cattle, and the previous week's high level of prices was easily maintained. Besides a good local demand there was again a demand for choice heavy steers and for choice butcher steers and heifers for export to New York, Pennsylvania and other U. S. points, the firm of H. P. Kennedy securing quite a few loads at top prices for this trade. Towards the week end the market began to be cluttered up with the tail ends and leavings of common unfinished stock, added to by a larger quantity of similar stuff being shipped in for the Wednesday and Thursday's markets. The result was a sharp easing off in prices for everything except the few scattered small branches of well finished cattle, the decline on the medium and common stuff amounting in the two last market days to 50c to 75c.

Lambs eased off about 50c.

Hogs were strong at the close of the week at $17.50, fed and watered basis.

Cattle Receipts.

Union Stock Yards — Total receipts this week, 433 cars with 8018 cattle, 367 calves, 4906 hogs and 1872 sheep and lambs.

FUSES STOLEN FROM R.M.C.

KINGSTON, Fe. 13. — It has been discovered that sixty-six fuses were stolen from the storeroom at the Royal Military College, and a general warning has been issued to citizens to watch their steps around the street, and will prove very dangerous if driven over. The police have already recovered one of the fuses. Brig.-General Perreau stated that the fuses were extremely dangerous.

Trotsky Regime Installed With Funds From New York

Dr. G. A. Simon, Just Back From Petrograd, Bares Workings to Senate Committee—Clergyman Tells How Raymond Robins Embarrassed U. S. Embassy While on Red Cross Mission.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 15.—The Bolshevist movement which holds Russia at its mercy and raises its menacing head in every great country in the world originated in the east side of New York, Dr. G. A. Simon, a Methodist clergyman just back from Petrograd told the Senate propaganda committee here.

Dr. Simon was pastor of the American church in Petrograd until last October. He testified that 265 members of the North Petrograd commune came from the east side of New York, and declared that the Bolshevist movement could not have succeeded without the aid of the Yiddish element of the east side.

Dr. Simon gave the interesting testimony regarding the relations of Raymond Robins, of Chicago, formerly a member of the Red Cross mission in Russia, with the soviet government. He stated that Sergius Zorin Bolshevist Commissioner of Post and Telegraph, had praised Mr. Robins as "the greatest American in Russia" and expressed the hope Mr. Robins would be appointed Ambassador to the soviet government.

Mr. Robins, Dr. Simon testified, embarrassed the American embassy in many ways" in Petrograd. "We felt very bad about it because we thought it was a time for Americans to hold together and no a ime for anyone to make himself a candidate for ambassador to the soviet government.'

Dr. Simon said it was customary for the Bolsheviki to regard Mr. Robins as "a typical American" and to praise him as "a toiler" while they derided David R. Francis, the American ambassador as a "representative of the capitalist class."

Dr. Simon Closely Questioned

The committee manifested the greatest interest in Dr. Simon's statement that Bolshevism got its start in New York city, and asked the clergyman many questions on this point. Dr. Simon said that the majority of the persons associated with Lenine and Trotzky were Yiddish. He met many persons of the Nevsky Prospekt from the lower east side of New York he said and talked with them. They followed Trotzky to Petrograd, he explained. He expressed the opinion that Trotzky probably arranged for their going.

"It would be a very remarkable thing" said Senator Overman, chairman of the committee, "if it should be found that the Bolshevist movement had its origin in this country and was financed with German money."

Senator Wolcott, of Delaware, said he considered Dr. Simon's statement as having "deep significance."

Dr. Simon went on to testify that agitators had attempted to break up his meetings in New York city since his return from Russia.

"I have no doubt," he said, "that the predominative element in the Bolshevist movement is the Yiddish east side. These are not the real Jews. They are the apostates who have given up the religion of their fathers and have no creed but Bolshevism."

Dr. Simon said that the slogan of the Bolsheviki in Russia was "The Surety of the Proletariat Lies in Putting the gun in the Hands of the Workman." "This was the slogan," he added, "which made Bolshevism successful."

Americans Aid Soviet Rule

The committee called upon Dr. Simon to furnish the names of Americans who were actively participating in the soviet government in Russia. He asked leave to reserve his answer for a secret session through fear of doing unjust injury by giving publicity to the names of innocent persons.

Dr. Simon said he was told by persons who investigated that Albert Rys Williams was a "self-confessed representative of Lenine and Trotzky" in the United States.

"Didn't he come over here to organize a Bolshevist information bureau?" Dr. Simon was asked.

"I understand he had work of that nature to do," replied the witness.

Dr. Simon said there was a remarkable similarity between the Bolshevist literature and that of the I. W.W. in the United States. Some of this literature, he testified, was gotten out by Charles W. Kerr, of Chicago.

The clergyman described the Bolshevist government as "merely dictatorship under Lenine and Trotzky." Fewer than ten per cent of the Russian people are Bolsheviki, he said, and the territory controlled by the Soviets was less than one-fifth of the whole area of Russia.

Dr. Simon furnished the committee a copy of ordinance adopted by the Soviet government appropriating $2,000,000 to spread Bolshevism propaganda throughout the world. He stated that much propaganda was now being circulated and that John Reed and Albert Williams had prepared it.

The attitude of the Bolsheviki toward religion was described by Dr. Simon. He said that churches had been turned into dance halls and told of one instance where a Bolshevik entered a church during services and ejected the priest and made a comedy of the ritual.

Dr. Simon gave some of his testimony behind closed doors to avoid publicity which might damage the movement to stamp out Bolshevism. As far as possible, however, the committee will have the hearings in public.

WHOOPING COUGH.

Mr. Arthur Haines, Ashton Farm, Percy, Sask., writes: "Two years ago whooping cough was very bad in this part of the country; our eight months old boy caught it and had a very severe attack. A neighbor advised the use of Dr.Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and we gave it and nothing else with splendid results. When the elder brother took the whooping cough we used this medicine promptly and prevented serious trouble, as the cough passed off in two or three days".

FOUR-YEAR-OLD CLINGS TO YOUNG MOTHER.

Little Girl Prevents Her Mother Abandoning Her to Police.

MONTREAL, Feb. 14.—"I have just found this child on St. Catharine Street," said Ida Lauzier, 23 years of age, of 10 Parker Street, to Lieut. Patrick Dooner, at the central station here, placing on the counter a bright looking four-year-old girl.

"Mamma, mamma, I want to stay with you," said the child, shrinking away from the genial lieutenant.

"I am not your mamma," answered the woman.

The officer soon found that she was really the mother of the child, explaining that she could not keep the child and wanted to have it taken. She was arrested and will appear in court, charged with trying to dispose of her own child.

Says Britain Sees United States as a Sea Partner

Sir Ashley Sparks, of Cunard Line, Returns With Message of Amity—London is the Storm Centre—Will Be a Rapid Rebound.

New York, Feb. 15.—Sir Ashley Sparks, head of the Cunard Steamship Company in the United States and formerly director general of the British Ministry of Shipping in this country returned yesterday from a trip to England, where he had gone to use Sir Ashley's own words, to demobilize himself. He returned with his discharge from the service of his country and with K.B.E. attached to his name. King George recognized the Cunard official's work during the war by conferring upon him the Knighthood of the Order of the British Empire.

The closer understanding between Great Britain and the United States and the clear necessity of forming an Anglo-Saxon alliance was the burden of the message that Sir Ashley brought with him from England yesterday.

"My view of the future—and it is a view that is generally held by shipping men abroad—is that all transportation on the seas is now the joint affair of Great Britain and the United States," said Sir Ashley. "It should be worked out in that spirit. Great Britain recognizes the United States as the other person on the sea. That means an Anglo-Saxon alliance and the peace of the world. A great deal is being said about the repatriation of American troops and the manner of their transportation to America.

London The Storm Centre

"The policy of giving every possible berth to the American troops will be continued by the British government, but we must not lose sight of the fact that over here there is but one single problem of repatriation, which is the repatriation of United States troops. London is a storm centre of repatriation, and every colony and every ally looks to London to furnish it with troopships for this purpose.

Another thing that seemed to create the impression here that Great Britain was acting in an antagonistic manner toward the United States was the recent arbitrary reduction in freight rates. Some persons seemed to believe that it was done in order to secure an undue advantage over Great Britain's allies. As a matter of fact the whole thing was very simple and very equitable. Importers and shippers were faced with extraordinary freight charges which made it impossible for them to do any business with a reasonable margin of safety to depend upon. They did not know how soon or or how far a reduction in freight rates would be made. A difference of ten or twenty dollars would cause a loss of thousands of dollars over night should they occur peacemeal, and so the British government caused the reduction of the freight rates to be made at once to as low a level as it was deemed advisable, from the tremendously high rates that had prevailed up to the moment and which amounted in some cases to as much as $120 a ton or even higher. Now the shippers may feel sure that the most that can happen will be a further reduction of possibly a dollar or two in the near future, a difference that will not greatly affect their business and will cause them no very considerable loss. But there was absolutely not antagonism in Britain's act and no desire to take any undue advantage of her allies, least of all the United States.

"England is in a peculiar position to-day as regards commerce. You over here have all the securit and money. It takes goods or gold to pay for what England needs and she has not an over-abundance of either just now. It will take a little time for England to re-establish her industries but for the present the country is a debtor instead of a creditor nation, as she was before the war. There is evidence on every side in Great Britain that she threw her all into the war and spared neither life, effort nor materia, and the length to which her sacrifices have been carried can only be appreciated when one is cold because there is no fuel, hungry because food is short and learns to go without facilities of all kinds simply because they do not exist. Thank heavens, there is no prohibition madness over there, or we would have perished from the cold!

Will Be a Rapid Rebound

"However, the spirit of the people is wonderful and there will be a rapid rebound to that orderliness of life which we knew as England. The one dark cloud is the attitude of labor, which is rather disposed to make trouble and, in fact, to do anything but work; but this is a natural reaction from the strenuous times they have been through and the many strikes are said not to have the support of the labor leaders and to be the result of certain disaffected persons working in the interests of Bolshevism. The authorities seem to have decided not to interfere until it is seen what their leaders can do with the men.

"In British shipping there is a tremendous gap in tonnage to be filled up. Trade will resume its usual course slowly and shipowners must do their part by putting ocean transportation rates on a reasonable and stable basis. The recent perpendicular drop in rates all over the world is all in the interest of a normal resumption of international commerce. It now remains for the governments and the banking interests concerned to decide how the many intricate problems of finance and exchange are to be met, as these promise to present the most serious obstacles to the expansion of foreign trade.

"We shall have some new boats very soon. There is no doubt about the future now. The world is going up, not downward. A new era has dawned for the Anglo-Saxon race and there is no question in my mind, nor in that of any thinking Englishman, that the two great English-speaking nations must act as one for the future peace and welfare of the world."

EXPENSIVE CARDS.

Millbrook Man Who Failed to Affix War Stamp Paid Dearly.

Mr. F. Pendry of the firm of Kells and Pendry, Millbrook, appeared in court this morning on a charge of selling a package of playing cards and neglecting to affix a war stamp to the same. Mr Pendry said his firm had not been dealing in playing cards and never had any call for them. On November 28th, Mr. J. W. Bickle, of Cobourg, visited his store and asked for cards. Mr. Pendry found a package among the old stock purchased from the late J. C. Kells and sold these to Mr. Bickle, not knowing that it was necessary to attach a war stamp. A fine of fifty dollars and six dollars and eighty cents was imposed.

GRAIN MARKET

There was the usual reaction in the grain markets yesterday following a day of sensational movements. May corn was again the feature of the day's trading, going down at one time to 1.19, or 4 3-8 below Thursday's close. Just before the close a buying rally set the option up again to 120½, at which the market closed, 2 7-8 below Thursday's close. Oats followed corn, reacting to 1 3-4 below Thursday's close. The Winnipeg cash market also following suit.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 northern, $2.34 1-2; No. 2 northern, $2.20 1-2; No. 3 northern, $2.17; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

11 MISSING FROM BURNED VESSEL PICKED UP AT SEA

Washington, Feb. 13.—The rescue of the mate and ten men of the American steamship Flirt, which, with its cargo of coal, was destroyed recently by fire in southern waters, was announced in a wireless message received here yesterday from the steamship City of Savannah, which apparently found the eleven men afloat in a small boat.

A despatch received here last week from Turks Island, Bahamas, said the captain and seventeen men of the Flirt landed at Caicos on February 3, but that the others of the crew were missing. The Flirt left Newport News on January 24 for Puerto Rico.

C. P. R. EMBARGO UNLIKELY.

But G. N. R. Will Put it on Western Shipment of Grain.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9.—"There is no likelihood of the Canadian Pacific Railway putting an embargo on Western grain shipments," E. D. Cotterell, superintendent of car service, declared to-day. He said that an embargo is unnecessary on the C.P.R.

The Canadian National Railways will declare an immediate embargo on all Western shipments of grain, according to A. E. Warren, general manager. He says that he had learned there was room at the head of the lakes for only 200,000 bushels, and that the embargo will probably go into effect next Thursday.

ASTRONOMERS READY FOR SUN'S ECLIPSE

Many Will Go to Tropics to Make Observations.

LONDON, Feb. 14.— Astronomers are busy making preparations for their trip to the tropics to observe the total eclipse of the sun, which is scheduled to take place on May 29.

The eclipse will involve a big area of the earth's surface, partial eclipses of varying magnitude being visible throughout South America and Africa and a small part of Arabia. But the total phase, which is the main thing for professional astronomers, will be confined to a narrow zone across the centre of South America through the Atlantic and then across Africa below the equator to the Indian Ocean.

A number of stations along the part of this zone on land will be occupied by astronomers from various parts of the world. English expeditions having chosen the Island of Principe, near the coast of Africa, and an elevated station in Brazil, about fifty miles inland from the Atlantic. At both of these places the sun will be totally eclipsed for rather more than five minutes. At one part of the track, indeed, totality will last about seven minutes, but as this will be in mid-Atlantic it will not be possible to take advantage of it.

RANK CUT NO FIGURE WITH HARBOR POLICE

Sergt.-Major Caught With 14 Bottles of Whiskey—Lieutenant had one.

QUEBEC Feb. 13.—The Quebec harbor police, placed on guard to prevent the delivery of whiskey to the returned soldiers at the Quebec Clearing Depot, made an important seizure yesterday afternoon, when they stopped a Sergeant-Major who was carrying fourteen bottles of whiskey. The liquor was confiscated by the police. Rank did not cut any figure with the police. They halted everyone who came along, and in the course of their inspection found one bottle of whiskey on the person of a Lieutenant. The liquor in this instance was also confiscated.

Ruth Returns to the Shop.

CHAPTER CXX.

Mrs. Clayborne remained with Ruth until the baby was over a month old. The day she left, Ruth returned to the shop, although her aunt had told her it was unnecessary. Mrs. Clayborne would gladly have taken both Ruth and the baby home with her and cared for them. But Ruth, aside from her feeling of loyalty to Brian, also was uneasy. She loved her work, and found herself longing to get busy again.

Mr. Mandel had been most kind—so Mrs. Clayborne impressed upon Ruth. He had sent many flowers to both Ruth and her aunt, and when Ruth was able to go out, he had several times taken them to the opera.

"I did enjoy it so much," Ruth said to her aunt after one of these evenings at the opera, "but it seems dreadful to enjoy one's self when B—our boys are fighting and may be killed."

"Your moping at home won't help them. It is needful for everyone to have a certain amount of pleasure in their lives. Goodness knows you have had little enough since you married."

"I have been as gay as most in our circumstances."

"That's just it! You had no business to be in those circumstances. I am not saying a word against Brian as a man. But as a provider for a family, he is decidedly inadequate."

Ruth made no reply. What her aunt said was true. Brian, as a provider, was inadequate. He would have another to work for when he came back—if he DID come back. Someway, Ruth's thoughts of Brian were always tinged with fear. She knew he had a reckless, venturesome spirit. She feared it would lead him into needless danger. When she read that the Americans could hardly be controlled, so anxious were they to be in the fighting, she always visualized Brian as one of the foremost of the boys rushing into danger.

Ruth settled down into her old work at the shop. She first learned what had been done in her department during her absence, then, with renewed enthusiasm, gave the best of which she was capable to her employer.

She had nothing to worry her—if one excepted fear for Brian. Rachel was thoroughly competent to care for the baby, and also to do the simple housekeeping required, now that they were alone. Ruth hired a laundress, but aside from that Rachel would have no help.

"I sholy can tak' care o' you, miss Ruth, and yo' baby too," she had said when Ruth had expressed a fear that it would be too much for her to attempt. And as she saw no neglect anywhere—as the baby was well and wonderfully cared for, her own meals well-cooked and nourishing,—she gradually left all the details of the home to Rachel.

"Get what you like," was her answer whenever Rachel consulted her as to the marketing.

This freedom from all care at home, gave her more strength to use in business. More and more did Mandel come to depend upon her. Much of his time was given to war-work. He had always been a generous and philanthropic man. And now he gave of himself as well of his money, so making it necessary to lean more heavily upon his employees to run his business. La Monte had gone into a training camp, and his work, to a great extent, devolved upon Ruth. But she made no complaint. Sometimes when she was unusually tired, she would say to herself:

"I can only do my bit this way."

"You will have considerable more care, now that La Monte is gone," he had told her, "It is only fair that you have more money. Then, living expenses have advanced to a great extent.— Be careful, though, that I don't put too much work on you. You must not get sick."

"Work never makes me ill," she had responded, thereby telling him more than she meant to of the reason of her occasional illness before Brian left her. "It was worry because of him," Mandel said to himself after this conversation.

The thought made him feel that soon he might win Ruth for his own; as such thoughts always did. Mandel was not a bad man, he was really a good man. He thought Brian unfaithful, not worthy of Ruth. He had thought her unhappy with him, and although she now had a child he (Mandel) would gladly have taken baby and all at once. But as I have said before, "he was a patient man," so he bided his time, making Ruth as happy as was possible under the circumstances.

Then came a letter from Brian that turned Ruth's world upside down again.

BRITAIN NULLIFIES IMPORT AGREEMENT ON AMERICAN SHOES

25 of Number Admitted in 1913 Will be Allowed to Enter United Kingdom

London, Feb. 13.—The British Import Restriction Control Board has modified the proposed embargo on American products which will be reimposed on March 1, to allow the importation of American boots and shoes to the extent of twenty-five per cent of the number imported in 1913.

This announcement virtually nullies the efforts of the joint conference of importers and British manufacturers, which is attempting to agree upon some modified scheme of the import restrictions which would prove agreeable to both sides and which the British government would accept.

NO CONSTIPATION NO PILES

We think, without a doubt, that constipation is the most prevalent, and at the same time, one of the greatest troubles human nature is afflicted with, and causes more sickness than anything else.

Unless a free action of the bowels occurs at least once a day, constipation is sure to ensue, then comes the sore and uncomfortable piles, sick and bilious headaches, coated tongue, obnoxious breath, sour stomach, heartburn, water brash, and many other ailments.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus removing the constipation and its allied troubles.

Mr. Dan Doucette, Eel River Crossing, N.B., writes: — "Having been troubled for years with constipation and trying everything I know of, a friend advised me to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I used four vials and am completely cured. I can gladly recommend them to anyone who suffers from constipation."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have been on the market for the past 20 years, and have been used with the best results by thousands of people in that time, and we have yet to hear of a complaint as to their curative powers.

BREAKING THE LAW HELPED BAG U-BOATS

LONDON. — The following story is told of how a woman photographer broke the law and thus helped to bag a number of U-boats:

The Admiralty had been baffled in their efforts to locate the lair of a group of submarines which were operating off Land's End and in the British Channel.

While spending a holiday on the coast this woman was unwittingly induced to offend against Dora (the Defense of the Realm Act.) Attracted by a picturesque spot on the coast, with a beautiful stretch of sea, bounded on each side by a projection of rugged rocks, she determined take a photograph of the scene. The negative was left at a local chemist's shop for development. She was asked to return in a few days and when she again called the chemist had many enquiries to make from her about the locality of the photograph and her object in taking it. She was told to wait for a few days longer.

In the meantime a communication arrived from the Admiralty requesting her presence at Whitehall, and enclosing a railway pass. Surprised at the invitation she decided to break her holiday and proceed to London. She first called on the chemist and was then astonished to learn that her photographic plate had been sent to the Admiralty. Forebodings of impending trouble dawned upon her. At the Admiralty she was closely questioned and informed that she had committed a breach of the Defence of the Realm Act. She was however greatly relieved and astonished when the officer thanked her for having rendered a "great service" to the State.

"Do you see these spots in the photograph?" she was asked. "Perhaps you don't know what they are. Well, we don't mind telling you that they indicate German submarines lying at the bottom of the creek, and we have bagged the lot." What was the actual fate of the U-boats remains to be told in the official narrative, but it may be stated that the take was one of the best of the war.

It appears that the particular spot had been repeatedly photographed but the results were never satisfactory until the woman photographer aided by a favorable light, "snapshotted" the hidden enemies. She was rewarded in the sum of £50 which was promptly handed over to the Red Cross, and £20 was sent to the vigilant chemist.

WHEN BABY IS CROSS

Mothers, when your baby is cross—when he cries a great deal and no amount of attention or petting cheers him up—something is the matter. It is not the nature of the little ones to be cross and peevish—the well child is a happy child. Give him a dose of Baby's Own Tablets and he will soon be well again. They are a mild but thorough laxative; regulate the bowels and stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers; in fact they cure all the minor ailments of the little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Alphonse Lachance, St. Apolline, Que., writes: "My baby cried continually but Baby's Own Tablets soon set her right and now she is fat and happy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

SELF TAXATION.

People in general seem to enjoy growling about taxes. This subject makes a theme for conversation in the family. It inspires the loungers in the corner grocery, and it puts life into many a political campaign. Why, our forefathers actually plunged into rebellion, fought seven years, and finally won our national independence from Great Britain, on a question of taxes. If you want to see a "hot" town meeting in a back country township, just propose an extra tax for some new road and a brick.

And yet there is one sort of tax that is not grumbled at. That is to say, the taxpayers themselves rarely denounce it or dispute it. They keep on paying it serenely all their lives unless they happen to tumble into the poor house. Their friends and relatives often scold about it, but they, as a rule they feel its pressure, go right on paying out. Even the poor men keep these payments up when all others are cut off.

We refer to the tax which men pay to passion and appetite. The sums thus expended every years—say for tobacco and liquors only—are stupendous. This sort of tax paying begins early in life, when the youngster gets into the habit of treating himself to cider, beer, ale, porter, whiskey, a cigarette, or a cigar. After a bit he "can't get along without it," and so he binds himself to pay taxes to it all his life. He growls about his road tax when he grows up, his school tax, and his church tax, but his self-indulgence tax he passes out without a murmur even though it may have made him a poor man. Sometimes he is conscious of it, but he has become a slave to his habits and cannot free himself. The socialists do a great deal of growling about the burdens put by capital upon the poor. The worst burden poverty has to bear is the tax which it voluntary pays to appetite and passion.

WHEN MARRIAGE IS A FAILURE.

When there is too much latchkey.

When the watchword is: "Each for himself."

When neither husband nor wife take a vacation.

When "he" snores the loudest while "she" kindles the fire.

When a man attempts to tell his wife what kind of a bonnet she must wear.

When one of the parties engages in business that is not approved by the other.

When the money that should go for a book goes for what only one side of the house knows anything about.

When the lord of creation pays more for cigars than his better half does for hosiery, boots and bonnets.

When both parties persist in arguing over a subject in which they never have or never can think alike.

When "father" takes half of the pie and leaves the other half for the one that made it and her eight children.

IF YOU THINK IT, SAY IT.

If anything pleases your eye or palate, or adds to your enjoyment of life in any way, say so. It is not fair to expect anyone to work for your pleasure and then take it for granted that you are pleased, when, perhaps, neither words, looks nor actions express anything of the kind.

It is bad enough to expect grown people to understand your feelings, but in mercy to the children do give them the word of praise which their efforts to help or please you deserves.

It is not only right but good policy as well to know this. You have only to watch the face of a child when it has tried to help you; give it the word of praise or thanks which it deserves and watch the lighting up of the little face, then take note of its actions and very soon you will see that it is watching for an opportunity to do something else for you; and if you ask the favour how willingly the little feet and hands do the bidding. On the other hand take their efforts as a matter of course and see the face show how keenly the neglect is felt.

While human nature remains what it is, a word of appreciation will never be lost on old or young and is one of the best paying investments which can be made. Some say, "I don't care whether they like it or not," but that is all nonsense for man, woman or child; we every one of us feel our heart grow warm under merited praise, and if we get a little more of it than we deserve, which rarely happens in this world, we try to deserve more next time.

This foretold when the War would end. What does it say?

CAN you work this out? Do you want to know how it was decided long before peace came when the war would be over? The answer is contained within the 48 squares above. What is this answer? Solve it and valuable prizes await you.

HOW TO SOLVE IT — The above squares hold the answer. It is in one sentence of nine words, containing forty letters. Each letter is represented by a number, and that number is the position of the letters in the alphabet. For instance, A is represented by the figure 1, as it is first in the alphabet, and so on. Now, to help you get started, we will tell you that the first letter in the puzzle is "W," because W is the 23rd letter in the alphabet. Get to work and figure out the words in the sentence, and try to find the answer to the great question, "When will the war be over?" It is not easy, but it is worth while trying for.

Canada Uses Japanese Toys

JAPANESE toys now find their largest sale in Canada, Great Britain and the United States. No department of Japanese industry has made more progress since the outbreak of the great war than the toy trade. The Japan Magazine has an article on the subject that will interest every Canadian who buys tops for his own or other people's children. Its author, Mr. S. Kamiyama, is an authority on the subject and shows why the European upheaval has transferred the toy market of the world from Germany to Japan. He says: "Four years ago, the export of Japanese toys was limited to a few varieties, such as dolls, bamboo models and the like. A great change has taken place. Last year the total value of toys exported from Japan amounted to $4,200,000, and in 1918 will exceed $5,000,000! Thus the 'land of dolls and flowers,' as Japan has been so charmingly called, has been transformed into a country creating playthings of every description for the children of foreign lands, as well as for its own. One might have supposed that, owing to the cheapness of labor in Japan, it long ago would have become the largest source of supply for the toy trade: but until the shutting off of the German supply, the toy-makers of Nippon never attempted seriously to enter foreign markets. Present increase in exportation is due wholly to efforts of government authorities to find markets for Japanese toys in foreign markets, and only a beginning has been made!

"Officials in the department of foreign trade saw that great possibilities lay in the toy business and stimulated the manufacturers in every possible manner. They supplied samples from all parts of the toy-making world, most of which have been successfully imitated. In addition, the workmanship which is peculiar to Japan has been encouraged and improved. The largest export has been sent to America, amounting in value last year to $1,216,030. Great Britain comes next, taking a total value of $659,462 in 1917. The value of exports to British India and the Straits Settlements was $457,485, and to Australia, $447,664.

"Japanese toy-makers have risen to their opportunity with remarkable promptitude and efficiency. In another year they will meet the demands of western markets which they cannot [illegible] In 1907, extent of the exportation of toys from Japan was only $394,904; in 1917, as stated above, it exceeded $4,200,000—ten times what it was ten years ago!

"In addition to common toys made of earthenware, wood and cotton, the Japanese now fashion them from rubber, metal and celluloid. They are especially apt in mechanical toys. The story of imports of toys is in reverse order. From a value of $54,406 in 1906, imports decreased to $21,045 in 1916, and the figures for the year 1917, though not yet available, are much less. Japan may regard herself as one of the leading toy countries of the world, and it is a trade that may be expected to continue. In various other lines Japan has also gained a leading place during the war; but whether this prosperity will continue when competition revives after the war is another question. In toys, however, Japan is not likely to have any serious rivals. The toy trade has been created for Japan by the war, but it will not be destroyed by cessation of the war. The reason, as already suggested, is that material and labor are much cheaper in Japan than in any western country.

"Most wooden toys in Japan are manufactured by hand—in the mountain regions of the country, where wood is plentiful and cheap. Individuals or families make them in their houses for the dealers. The chief centres of toys made in factories are Tokio, Osaka, Kyoto, Nagoya and Kanagawa.

"Some complaints have been received as to the comparative frailty of Japanese-made toys. Every attention has been paid to remedying this defect, and in future no such complaints will be justified. Toys are now made in more durable manner and of better materials, with great improvements in designs and finishings. The value of exports in toys sent from the various ports is as follows: Yokohama, $2,397,595; Kobe, $1,349,586; Osaka, $264,514; Nagasaki, $1,171 and others, $250,392.

"Viewing the destination of exports of toys from Japan more in detail it may be said that the largest supplies have gone to the following countries: British India, Straits Settlements, China, Dutch East Indies, Great Britain, France, United States, Canada and the Argentine Republic. Australia, New Zealand and South Africa have also taken considerable quantities of Japanese toys. It is remarkable how the tastes of various countries differ as to the kinds of toys. Europeans like best such toys as bamboo flutes, dolls, earthenwares, fans, wooden toys, cotton birds and animals, while the Americans prefer Christmas toys, such as birds, baskets, celluloid and paper toy chairs, furniture suites and wooden dolls. Australia likes flutes, leaf work, glass toys, rubber dolls, toy mirrors, musical instruments. Dutch India imports chiefly such toys as metal leaf ornaments, paper and celluloid goods. India desires clay dolls, animal toys, and South America wants toy umbrellas, lanterns, bamboo models and dolls, while China prefers toy insects, rubber dolls, warships and electric cars."

He Has the Right Idea.

There is no newspaper at Stoney Creek, Ont., so the live-wire merchant there gets out one of his own, which he calls the "Store News." He cannot see the advantage of running a store unless a medium is found for proclaiming its bargains.

An Oily Fruit.

A new fruit containing a large percentage of oil has been discovered in the region of Torreon, Mexico, and is known by the name of chichopoxtle. Experiments show that 25 per cent. of its contents consist of oil of great value in industrial pursuits requiring a lubricant of high quality. It is proposed to introduce the cultivation of this fruit upon a large scale.

Eggs Spoiled.

Enough eggs are lost through spoilage and deterioration at the present rate of production in this country to supply two eggs a day to any army of approximately 5,000,000 soldiers. The value of these wasted eggs amounts to $122,735,500 a year.—Thrift Magazine.

Smuggling.

A curious method of preventing smuggling instituted by the Italian Government is the fixing of a metallic net along the length of the Swiss frontier. The net is of five-mesh steel wire about nine feet high, and there are gateways at different points.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eye two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by WARNE DRUG CO. & OTHERS.

GERMAN NEWSPAPERS.

First One Was Edited by Cornelius Montekoe, a Hollander.

The first Berlin newspaper was printed in 1661 in the reign of the Elector of Brandenburg. The paper was edited by Cornelius Bontekoe, a Hollander, physician to the Elector. Robert Voelker and Elias Lockey, booksellers, were privileged to sell the paper. It was a weekly and appeared Sunday morning; the clerks of the booksellers would sell the papers, in winter before, and in summer after church, which was held in the open from May to September. Those of the young men who could not get a seat were allowed to climb in the trees and listen to the sermon.

With his wife, Louise, and the children and the household, the Elector went regularly to church. He would, as a rule, remain standing while the Electress and children would occupy seats under the trees. After the closing prayer the newspaper sale commenced at the entrance gate. Rupert Voelker, the first bookseller of Berlin, was allowed to give the Elector a copy. After church the Electress and children would return to the palace, while the Elector would enter a palanquin and be carried to the Lustgarden. There he would read the paper, and then give audience to artists and other learned men.

One Sunday a man was introduced who entertained the Elector (who believed in the appearance of the devil in some form or another) with a story which had happened to a farmer at the Berlin gate.

"At the Berlin gate," he said, "the farmer's horses stopped suddenly. He left his wagon to coax them to go, but coaxing and cursing would not take them a step farther. The farmer turned his head and saw an ugly woman on his wagon, blaspheming God and promising the farmer wealth. Then the farmer said: 'All good spirits,' the woman did not move. The farmer got angry and said: 'Will you ride? Then ride in Jesus' name,' and the woman, the devil, vanished from the wagon."

The Elector was greatly interested in the story and ordered the physician-editor to have the story published in the next issue of the paper as a lesson to others, not to be tempted by riches. Current news was not allowed to be published, court functions and fables would find more favor with the Berliners. A bookseller from Leipzig came to Berlin to publish another paper, which was promptly forbidden by the Elector, who considered one newspaper sufficient for Berlin.

Revolution of 1848.

The French Revolution of 1848 is sometimes called the second revolution, the first having been that of 1789, resulting in the establishment of a republic, which was followed by the empire under Napoleon I. and this in turn by the restoration of the Bourbon dynasty. The revolution of 1848 resulted in the abdication and banishment of King Louis Philippe, the proclamation of a Republic, the election of Louis Napoleon as president, and later the establishment of the empire, with him as emperor under the title of Napoleon III. This revolution was not accompanied by extensive military operations, but there was heavy fighting in Paris, in which several thousand persons were killed.

Freedom of the Seas.

During the war between Spain and Holland, in the latter part of the sixteenth century and early in the seventeenth century, both these powers acted with so much rigor toward ships of every other nationality conveying goods to belligerents that England felt compelled to enter a strong protest. The resistance provoked by England led to the first use of the term "contraband of war" when the treaty of Southampton was drawn up between England and Spain in 1625.

A Message of Cheer.

Rev. Philip Cook, of Chicago, was one of the party of Y.M.C.A. workers recently torpedoed in mid-Atlantic. As soon as he could reach a cable office he sent this unique message to his wife: "Acts xxvii, 41-44." The brief reference is to the vivid account of the shipwreck suffered by the Apostle Paul, the conclusion of which is the sentence, "And so it came to pass, that they escaped all safe to land."

Had Hacking Cough
Couldn't Sleep Nights.

Hacking coughs are very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest, and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in an irritated and inflamed condition.

Don't neglect the hacking cough. You can get rid of it with a few doses of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the most prompt, pleasant and perfect cough remedy known.

Miss Catherine M. McLean, Craik, Sask., writes:—"Last winter I caught a heavy cold and was laid up for some time. I had such a hacking cough I couldn't sleep at night. I didn't think I would get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. The next day I sent for a bottle, and I soon got relief, and by the time I had taken two bottles, my cough was all gone, and now I am able to do my work again. I don't think there is anything to equal it."

There are plenty of "pine" preparations on the market trying to live on the reputation of "Dr. Wood's." The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, price 25c. and 50c. a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SPECIALIST SAID HE MUST OPERATE

She Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES" instead, And Is Now in Perfect Health.

MME. F. GAREAU

153 Papineau Ave., Montreal.

"For three years, I suffered great pain in the lower part of my body, with swelling or bloating. I saw a specialist, who carefully examined me and gave me several tonics to take, which did not help me. Then he told me I must undergo an operation. This, I refused to permit.

I heard about 'Fruit-a-tives' and the wonderful results it was giving because this medicine is made from fruit juices, so decided to try it.

The first box gave great relief; and I continued the treatment, taking six boxes more. Now, my health is excellent — I am free of pain and swelling—and I give 'Fruit-a-tives' my warmest thanks".

ALLIES MAY OCCUPY KRUPP WORKS.

LONDON, Feb. 14. — The Paris correspondent of the News says he was told that Germany has concentrated more than 18 divisions under Von Hindenburg on the Western front and that Germany is keeping her troops under arms on the pretext of economic necessity. Some of the military officials think that Germany has material to give necessary armament to 3,000,000 men.

It is said that Marshal Foch told the Supreme War Council that the Allies must occupy the Krupp works and see that the German army is reduced to 25 divisions.

Last Days of Kaiser At Headquarters

One of His Guards Tells of the Escape of ex-Ruler and General Staff From Spa.

QUIT A TRAIN FOR BERLIN

BERNE.—Some day the tragi-comedy of the ex-Kaiser's flight will assuredly be known in all its details and will prove one of the most humanly interesting, if not one of the most edifying episodes in history. In all probability, however, many of those who would find this narrative the most absorbing will no longer be there to read it when it appears. Any eye-witness's account, therefore, of Wilhelm's last hours as Kaiser cannot but arouse attention, especially if it bear every mark of veracity.

This particular eyewitness was a German acting Color Sergeant, who, with his company, was on guard outside the Belgian castle at Spa where William Hohenzollern had his quarters when the ultimatum concerning his abdication was delivered by Erzberger, Scheidemann, and the rest. The battalion to which this acting Color Sergeant belonged was looked upon as more than ordinarily trustworthy and loyal, and therefore on October 31 it was taken from the trenches and sent to Spa to act as bodyguard to the Kaiser and the Grand General Staff.

It was not long, however, before the troops realized that all was not going as it should be with the Germany Army. Nevertheless, it was with amazement and consternation that they read in the newspapers of the sailors' mutiny in Hamburg and Kiel, especially as they had always been of the opinion that it would be the German Army which would first collapse, and not the navy. In the meantime secret orders were given to the guards that no one was to be allowed to enter the Kaiser's castle unless provided with a special red pass. Even high officers who appeared in full uniform and wanted to enter were held up, either altogether or until one of the secret police also on guard passed them.

One day this eye-witness noticed the Kaiser walking with some one else in the grounds of his residence and overheard his Majesty's companion saying to him:

"Seems 1848 all over again, just the same political conjuncture! But that's not saying it'll end so tragically."

This conversation took place on the morning after the famous six motor cars with Erzberger, Scheidemann and company had returned from the French front at 11 p.m. bearing the armistice conditions, which apparently were not taken so very tragically for these gentry were heard laughing and cracking jokes about them with the Kaiser.

The interview of the Kaiser and with Scholemann, Erzberger and company will perhaps one day be made known, but one thing is certain. Even at that hour William Hohenzollern seemed to fail to realize the situation, and Erzberger and Scheidemann did not undeceive him. In other words, they treated him as a grown-up child.

On the day after the armistice terms were made known to the Kaiser, a Thursday, the atmosphere in Spa must have been exceedingly electric, for our eyewitness tells us that his regiment was fully armed and always on picket duty, and that it was only because they were well provided with hand grenades that any sort of order was preserved. That the Belgians realized how matters stood is evident from the fact that on the Thursday they hung out allied flags, under th every noses of the Kaiser and Hindenburg and the German General Headquarters. These flags, however, they were compelled to take in again.

Friday night was the last night that the Kaiser slept, or rather spent, at the white castle or country house in which he installed himself in Spa. In the town the excitement was at fever heat. The battalion to which our eyewitness belonged was paraded bayonets and hand grenade bags ing the streets, fully armed, with fixfull.

The next morning, Saturday, his company was ordered to be at the railway station, where they were told that a train was ready to take them to Berlin. At the station they found that the ex-Kaiser was already in one of the carriages, attended by a small suite. The train left as usual, but after two hours' run it suddenly stopped, right in the open country, and the ex-Kaiser and his suite got out, and entered some motor cars which were awaiting them. And away they went! To quote the color-sergeant's own words: "The troops accompanying him hung their amazed countenances out of the carriage windows, and spent the time on the return journey discussing what had happened."

They went back to Spa and it was then a case of every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost. Officers hastened to get hold of the first available motor car and secure as much benzine or petrol as possible, filling the cars with anything on which they could lay hands. Whether it belonged to them or not was quite a secondary consideration. And then off they went, too. The Grand General Staff began packing up, and that very morning Hindenburg thought it prudent to issue an order to form Soldiers' Councils. Soldiers who could not get hold of motor cars took to their heels by road or followed the railway line.

When they met a train with provisions going toward Spa or in the direction of the frontier they boarded it, and ordered the engine driver to take them to Germany, enforcing their commands at the point of the bayonet. If there were not enough coal in the engine they commandeered any wood and coal they could find in the neighborhood. The provisions which were being dispatched to the front they either sold to the local inhabitant or exchanged for something valuable and transported. Some of the trunks contained munitions and machine guns, and these they sold for a song to the civilian population.

Apparently the company to which this eye-witness belonged must still have been considered the most faithful of all, for he himself left with the same train that had Hindenburg on board and what was left of the General Staff. Hindenburg apparently kept his head, or rather tried to keep it, to the very end. If he had not issued orders for the formation of Soldiers' Councils, however, he would probably not have kept his head very long—in the literal sense of the phrase.

One thing is certain, judging from the statements of this eyewitness: it was Foch's, Haig's and Pershing's humanity and aversion to needless bloodshed which saved the whole German army from complete capitulation. If the allied generals had chosen to sacrifice another 40,000 or 50,000 British, French, American and Belgian lives, they would have made prisoner the entire German army and brought about a military catastrophe such as the world has never beheld.

PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

Man Who Plants a Tree Performs a Service of Great Importance.

Trees are and have been intimately associated with human life. Ruskin called them a link between earth and man, wonderful in their adaptation to his needs, desires and discipline. It was in "The Friendly Trees" that Dr. van Dyke wrote:

"He that planteth a tree is the servant of God,
He hath provided a kindness for many generations,
And faces that he hath never seen shall bless him."

Probably the most highly prized tree in the world is the avocado pear tree in California, which returns an annual income of $3,000, and was once insured for $30,000. As to trees in general, immediate money returns supersede, in most minds, sentiment or natural beauty. A "landscape robbery" which caused the "robbers" no compunctions was the cutting of a splendid yellow poplar which for several generations had been a landmark among the Cumberland hills. The forest monarch yielded over 7,000 feet of first-class lumber, valued at $11,000. There was no one to cry, "Woodman, spare that tree," whose protest counted against its destruction. The countryside has lost a natural beauty never to be restored; the owner has money in his pocket. As Joyce Kilmer wrote, "Only God can make a tree."

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

Give "California Syrup of Figs" If Cross, Bilious or Feverish.

If your little one is out of sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if the tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

MUCH WHISKEY ARRIVED, OVERTAKEN BY POLICE.

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 13.—Seventy-five dozen bottles of G. & W. whiskey arrived at the Old Brown Hotel at Homer.

County Inspector King soon got wind of it and affected the capture of the stuff, which had arrived in a motor truck.

Some startling developments are promised when the whole story is told.

The Strain of Overwork

Your work is heavy, and sore, tired muscles are a common occurrence. Each time your back aches you blame it on your work, and just there the danger lies—for that pain in the back may not be from strain, as you suppose, but the forerunner of Kidney or Bladder trouble.

For your own interest, it is best to be particular and sure, as Kidney troubles inevitably pull you down and destroy your earning power.

Take note of these symptoms. Do you get dizzy and have repeated headaches, painful urination, brick dust deposits, or feel droway and, generally, good for nothing? If so, it is your kidneys that are bothering you—not work—and Gin Pills are necessary.

No person can work properly when they feel sick, tired and dizzy all the time. The more they try, the more energy they use up; and this only tends to aggravate their condition, as the kidneys are already tired out with their endeavors to relieve their congested state and perform their function properly.

The kidneys are delicate and vital organs; once they become affected through any cause—you suffer until the congestion is relieved and the cause remedied.

Don't let your system become run down. A box or two of Gin Pills will relieve those kidney complaints and restore your old-time health and strength.

Your health is priceless. Don't risk losing it. Keep your kidneys in order always by taking Gin Pills.

Veeder Says Logan Was "Diamond T."

Witness Positive Tumulty Was Not the Mysterious Correspondent of the Packers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—"Diamond T," Washington representative of Swift and Co., who furnished confidential information forecasting Government activities in connection with the meat industry, was identified as Thomas F. Logan by Henry Veeder, counsel for Swift & Co., before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. Logan recently testified that he represented Swift & Co. and other corporations in Washington and conducted a news agency, but had retired from the Congressional press gallery after going into the service of the packers. "Diamond T" was so-called because his correspondence bore a "T" within a diamond at the top of the page.

Mr. Veeder testified Logan's employment by Swift & Co. was solely for the purpose of advising on matters of publicity. It was a fact, however, he said, that all of Logan's letters were on matters other than publicity and that he always sent gossip or information he thought might be useful. The witness did not know about a dinner Logan was said to have given Edward N. Hurley.

The witness, in response to a question, said he was sure "T" referred to Logan and not to Secretary Tumulty, and denied that he ever had had luncheon in Washington with Mr. Tumulty and Mr. Logan.

Francis J. Heney asked many questions about the "Diamond T" letters. Mr. Veeder said he did not know who the author was until Mr. Logan told him.

"Did you ever hear," asked Mr. Heney, "how Mr. Logan got C. W. Morse out of jail by a successful feat wherein he wrote how Morse was starving to death, whereupon President Taft let him out of jail?"

"No," replied the witness.

MURDER IN ROOMING HOUSE

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The police are searching for a man who killed Mrs. Anna Wagonhoeser, 45 years old, proprietor of a rooming house at 261 East 126th Street, and one of her lodgers, who was identified as Rosario Randazzo, a gardener employed in Alpine, N. J. Detectives are searching the neighborhood for the man who accompanied the murdered Italian to the house, inquiring for a place to spend the night.

Mrs. Wagonhoeser rented them a small room in the rear of the basement. In the night the men were heard quarrelling and Mrs. Wagonhoeser, who occupied a room with her daughter, Lillian, went downstairs to learn the cause of the trouble. The men assured her that they would make no more noise and she returned to her room. Again hearing sounds of a fight coming from the basement, she went to the room to order the men from the house. When she did not return her daughter became alarmed and awoke Frederick Ellis, another roomer, who went to the basement and found the dead man and woman.

COST TO ALLIES $37,050 FOR EACH SOLDIER SLAIN

LONDON, Feb. 13.—According to the published official figures, the loses in killed of England, France, Italy and America were 2,293,887. The assumed aggregate cost of the war in money of the same nations amounts to approximately $85,000,000,000.

It has, therefore, cost the nations the sum of $37,050 per soldier actually killed. The calculation takes account of wounded or prisoners.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes 16 ounces of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

The Industrial Situation Is Marking Time in Britain Pending Outcome of Meeting

"Triple Alliance" Represent Three Great Working Bodies—Troops Take Possession of Power Stations in Belfast.

RECONSTRUCTION

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The industrial situation is marking time, pending the meeting to be held on Tuesday of a consultative committee of the labourite "triple alliance," the Miners' Federation, the Railwaymen's Union and Transport Workers' Federation. At that meeting, it is understood, there will be a discussion of the question of common action. The Miners' Federation is thus far the only union that is committed to a definite course. Negotiations regarding the demands of the railwaymen and the transport workers being still in progress. Premier Lloyd George is anxiously interested in the situation, realizing that labour troubles may seriously retard national reconstruction and trade development. For this reason it is understood he will probably prolong his stay in England instead of returning almost immediately to Paris.

TROOPS OCCUPY POWER STATIONS

(United Press Service.)

BELFAST, Feb. 15.—Troops occupied the electric power station and gas works early to-day. The Lord Mayor issued a proclamation declaring that with military support now assured volunteers will be received to carry on municipal service. Business has been practically at a standstill since the general strike in sympathy with the striking shipyard workers.

Three Stricken With Influenza

Peterboro Relatives Hear of Triple Bereavement.

Word was received in the city of the death in Oakland, California, of Margaret Tripe, (nee Pope), after a brief illness. The deceased was born in Ennismore and was a daughter of the late Alexander Pope. In January Lewis Zavier, the twelve-year-old son of the deceased contracted influenza from which he died. During his illness the mother contracted the disease and died the day following the death of her son. Two days later, Anna Agnes Pope, wife of Mr. John E. Pope, civil engineer, who had been assisting the stricken family, also contracted the disease and died on the day of her nephew's funeral. The late Mrs. Tripe was a niece of Mr. William Pope, Rubidge street, and Mr. C. Young, 560 Charlotte street.

Mr. John E. Pope was the engineer in charge of the first railway constructed on the Hawaiian Islands. He was born in Ennismore. Many friends will regret to learn of the death of wife, sister and nephew in the course of such a short time.

Peterboro Boy Died in Montreal

Driver Gordon Brotherstone Succumbed to Pneumonia.

The following letter was received by Mrs. Brotherstone from the matron of the hospital after the death of her son, Dr. Gordon Brotherstone, who succumbed to pneumonia:

No. 25. B., Gen. Hospital
France, Jan. 13, 1919

Dear Mrs. Brotherstone:—

I feel I must write you a letter about your son, whom I had the honor to nurse during his illness. I promised I would write to you when he first came to us.

Driver Gordon Brotherstone

He was ill such a short time and only reported the pain in his side to us on the 3rd, and right from the first he was never left night or day. Capt. Small, his medical officer, seemed to take special interest in him.

He was a dear boy, always had a ready smile, ill as he was. His one thought was of his own folk and even in his delirium he wanted to get up and go home to you all. He passed away quite peacefully at 8 p.m., January 9th.

Please accept my deepest sympathy. I being a Colonial (Australian) know how doubly sad it is for you being so far away and especially after all fighting had ceased.

Again expressing my deepest sorrow for you,

Yours Faithfully,

THE PRESS COMMENT

New York Papers Divided Regarding League of Nations—"A Colossal Experiment."

FRENCH COMMENT

United Press:

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—New York papers were divided to-day regarding the League of Nations.

"Unconstitutional and unworkable," the "Sun" stated editorially, adding that the plan "involved the surrender of that which to the American heart is dearer and more desirable even than world peace, namely, our unimpaired national sovereignty, complete independence of super-government of any sort, freedom of initiative in all matters affecting national interests and our right to consider America first."

"The most profoundly serious political document of the century, marking a new stage in political and social progress of mankind," declared the "World."

"It is a colossal experiment, but one that is in harmony with the traditions of free government and with all the traditions of human liberty."

It must be reduced to statutory precision; it is too wordy and clumsily put together.

The Providence Journal: "There is one feature of the new plan that has been little discussed, if at all, in the advance despatches from Paris. This is the provision that no treaty between individual nations of the League shall be effective unless it has been registered with the League's permanent secretariat. This embodies the growing sentiment against secret diplomacy, and in principle at least, will be widely indorsed. Whether it will survive in final and accepted draft is a question, but it certainly marks an ethical advance on dangerous diplomatic intrigues of the past.

Cleveland Plain-Dealer: "There can be no doubt of the reception of the proposed constitution in America. It will receive vigorous approval from the people regardless of whatever political effort may be made to harass President Wilson or discount his work."

BRITISH PRESS.

LONDON. — (Canadian Press Via Reuter's).—Covenant of League of Nations of hailed by British papers as an historic document, drafted in an atmosphere of good faith, postulating and foreshadowing better and wiser governments throughout the world. Though the personal triumph of President Wilson is acknowledged, it is pointed out in modified form, that the covenant indicates that he has learned a great deal since he came to Europe, and pride is expressed that so much of the work of the Britisher is visible in the League. The mandatory principle is based on relations between Great Britain, India and the overseas dominion. The recognition of dominions as nations is welcomed as not the least significant feature of the covenant.

BOSTON PRESS.

United Press:

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 15.—Commenting on the League of Nations' coverant, the Boston "Globe" said to-day: "It is the long heralded 'parliament of man, the federation of the world.' Among nations it marks the beginning of the reign of law."

The "Post" said: "'Peace on earth' is not so much a vision as it once seemed, and 'goodwill' is less an international stranger to men. The President of the United States may justly feel deep happiness that he starts his homeward journey, bringing his sheaves with him."

The "Herald" declared: "The world has waited more than twenty centuries for something like this. It may be that these twenty-six articles will not provide mankind with a certain means of avoiding war, but their adoption will at any rate prefigure the longest step that the world has ever taken in this direction."

NOT FINAL.

United Press:

MANCHESTER, England, Feb. 15.—The League draft is not necessarily final, and we hope that in some respects it will be amended, the "Manchester Guardian" said to-day. "There is a good chance for the League to be ruined, not by peoples, but by officials. We trust this can be avoided."

The "Guardian" expressed regret that no provision was made for public education or for an international parliament, such as was contained in General Smuts' plan.

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Feb. 15.—The constitution of the Society of Nations arouses little enthusiasm in the French press.

New Brunswick Divorce Case Will Be Tried By a Jury on March Tenth

Member of One of the Wealthiest and Most Noted Families in Eastern Ontario Interested—Cigarette Butts, Empty Bottles and Corks Form Part of the Evidence.

(Special to The Examiner.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., Feb. 15. — For the first time in the history of New Brunswick it is to have a trial with a jury of a divorce case. Such was the result of the decision of the Court of Appeal yesterday, and March tenth is the date named for the hearing of the case.

Some months ago Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzrandolph, formerly Miss Betty O'Brien of Boston, and sister of Mrs. Whidden Graham, of New York, who was formerly Nora O'Brien, a well-known actress a few years ago, was made the defendant in a divorce case brought by her husband, Lieut. Charles Fitzrandolph, member of one of the wealthiest and most noted families in Eastern Canada, and who has just returned from overseas with the Military Cross from which he had been awarded.

Won His Suit.

Lieut. Fitzrandolph won his suit for divorce, but his wife appealed and asked for a trial before a jury. The appeal has successful and now there will be a retrial of the case next month, but this time before a jury.

In the previous trial one incident, a golf club house, where cigarette butts, empty bottles and corks, together with a portion of the former actress's clothing were found the morning after an impromptu visit by the defendant, and a Mr. Worrell, now manager of a branch of the Bank of Commerce in Ontario, held a prominent place. Since then a commission has been appointed to take the evidence in Ontario of Mr. Worrell, who is a son of a late Anglican bishop of Nova Scotia, and his testimony is expected to play an important part in the second trial. Lieut. Fitzrandolph was a student at the University of Toronto shortly before his marriage and it was while at Toronto that he first met his wife and married her. He is now overseas, having returned to England before Christmas, and it is said he intends to take a commission in the Imperial army. Mrs. Fitzrandolph is believed to be in New York with her sister, Mrs. Whidden Graham, wife of the propagandist and writer.

Peterborough Is Afflicted With An Epidemic of Dancing

Few Men Are Too Old or Too Fat to Indulge in the Pastime—Dignified Grandpas Are Learning All the Latest Steps—Dancing Academies Springing Up On All Sides.

An epidemic more contagious than the flu and more popular than appendicitis ever dreamed of being in its palmiest days has struck the city in the form of a dance craze. Everybody's doing it. Dignified grandpas, who long since laid by their dress clothes and retired from such youthful pursuits, to leave the field to their grandchildren, have recently revived their youth and spending their evenings in learning the newest steps.

New dancing clubs are springing up throughout the city and to admit that one does not belong to any of these is branding oneself as passe. Mothers, daughters and grandparents meet at the academies and together unravel the mysteries of the fox trot, one step and the new waltz together. "They're the only dances any one cares for new" admitted one teacher today and "the old people are getting them as quickly as the young."

Biggest Season

As a result of talks with some of the dancing teachers in the city, it was learned that Peterboro is enjoying one of the biggest dancing seasons in history. The people are giving vent to their enthusiasm through the channels of tripping the light fantastic. Most of them have been engaged for the past four years in strenuous war work and with the reaction brought about by peace, they've got to do something so they're dancing.

During the Christmas holidays and up till the present the musicians could hardly find enough nights to go around to fill all their patrons' demands and Easter promises even gayer times than we ever had. Every society and organization, practically, has booked one night for a hall and musician.

Exhibition of Paintings in the Public Library

Pictures Will Be on View Next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Peterborough Art lovers will have an opportunity to study a considerable collection of paintings by various well-known Canadian artists in an exhibition to be held in the Lecture Hall of the Public Library Building, under the auspices of the local branch of the Women's Art Association of Canada.

The pictures will be on view during the afternoons and evenings of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and members of the Association will act as hostesses at the tea hour. Admission 25 cents. The exhibition will also be open on Saturday afternoon, when students attending the various schools will be charged only 10 cents for admission.

Annexation Must Be Residents' Wish

Ald. Turner touched last night upon an old subject that invites action and accomplishment when he suggested that plans should be put under way for the annexation of a strip of North Monaghan on the west side of the city from the Queen Mary School south, including May's School. It was recalled, however, that this step must be taken by the residents of the district, who must present a petition for union with the city. Ald. Turner tentatively proposed that the newcomers might be given fixed assessment for five years as an inducement to "join up."

DISARMED SPARTACANS

Rioting Has Broken Out in Berlin —Forty Thousand Workers on Strike.

PLACE DELEGATES

(United Press.)

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 15.— German government troops have re-occupied Erfurt and disarmed the Spartacans there, according to advices received here to-day.

Spartacans are reported to have captured the prison in Wesel and to have liberated all the inmates.

Erfurt, situated west of Weimar, was recently seized by the Soldiers' Council, co-operating with the Spartacans, as one of the first steps in an attempt to overthrow the National Assembly and government at Weimar.

Rioting in Berlin.

Rioting has broken out in Berlin, where more than forty thousand warehouse workers have gone on strike, it was reported in a despatch received here to-day.

Other workers have walked out in sympathy.

Several business plants have been forced to close.

Peace Delegates.

BUDAPEST, Feb. 15. — President Ebert, in an interview with the Weimar correspondent of Azest, announced that the German peace delegates will include Count Brockdorff Rantzau, Foreign Minister, and Dr. Edward David, President of the National Assembly, and Minister without portfolio.

Peace With Germany

This Will be the Curse of Peace Conference From Now On.

(By Fred. S. Ferguson—United Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 15.—With the League of Nations temporarily disposed of, the peace delegates to-day directed their efforts toward effecting a definite preliminary peace with Germany, which will enable general demobilization and the resumption of normal industry and commerce throughout the world. Practically all the conferees have agreed that this is the most vital problem now before them.

The world is now in a state of stagnation. Industries everywhere are awaiting the actual signing of peace, and the growing unrest and uncertainty in many countries can be traced directly to economic conditions.

Semi-official reports from Germany indicate that the country has enough food to last until March. New crops will not be available before June. In the interim, conditions of actual starvation may prevail and bring about serious disturbances unless steps to meet this situation are taken speedily. A preliminary peace would correct these conditions and would be comparatively simple in accomplishment. The military status could be fixed by demanding immediate demobilization upon a peace basis. The Allies could agree what Germany should pay in the way of indemnities, and how she should pay it, and this could be apportioned among the interested nations. After this was disposed of, the economic status could be fixed by agreeing to what extent the economic blockade would be lifted.

NEW PROVISIONS.

That some such programme will be partially arranged under the new provisions for the extension of the armistice is hinted at in certain official quarters. These provisions will be presented to the Germans by Marshal Foch at Treves on Monday. Considerable additional work must be done to perfect the plan, however, and toward this end the newly created Supreme Economic Council will co-operate closely with the Supreme War Council, and it is expected that further requirements from Germany will develop as the armistice is renewed from time to time, resulting gradually in what will virtually amount to a preliminary peace. There is some disposition, though, to make this process a matter of immediate accomplishment, rather than extending it over an indefinite period.

The principal opposition to lessening the economic pressure against Germany comes from the French, who fear the advantages Germany might gain if she were permitted to obtain plenty of raw materials. They also dislike to take a chance Germany spending money that might otherwise [illegible] reparation claims.

GENERALLY APPROVED

Covenant of League of Nations Received With Approval Mixed With Warning Not to Expect Too Much.

VARIOUS FEATURES

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.— American press comment on the covenant of the League of Nations shows for the most part approval, mixed with warning not to expect too much from the League at the beginning, but expressing the hope that the League would ultimately develop into International force making for world peace.

The "Tribune" says: "There is no direct safeguarding of peace. To each nation is reserved liberty of action. There is no limit alone on armaments, no international police force under the control of the league. Every serious question is referrable to home governments for real decision.

"But indirectly there is gain. We have before us something in the nature of an Entente cordiale such as was established between Great Britain and France when they agreed not to act together, but to confer with a view to action when trouble threatened."

The "Times" says: "The decision to make the draft public, in order that it might have full consideration, was wisely taken. It is in accord with Mr. Wilson's principle of "covenants arrived at."

The draft must undergo severe revision.

Time Limit Removed

League of Nations Will Have Many Problems to Deal With.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—One of the most important articles of the League of Nations constitution was understood to-day to have been eliminated at the last moment before its presentation to the general peace congress. This provided that the life of the league, in its present form, should be ten years.

The reason for the reported withdrawal of this provision could not be ascertained. It was believed, however, that inasmuch as the present organization is only tentative and may be amended greatly even before it is formally adopted by the member nations, that there was not an essential reason for placing a time limit on continuation of the organization as now constituted.

The provision regarding admission of new members is so framed that Germany and Austria cannot be included in the league until they give absolute assurance that they will live up to the peace terms imposed upon them. The other great candidate for membership, Russia, must also furnish guarantees. This particular article is believed to have been aimed principally at these three nations, as all other countries of importance will be signatories at the outset.

Peace Work.

The belief prevailed in official circles to-day that the Hague Tribunal will continue as the League's Court of Arbitration or will be converted into such a court, although the former arrangement is said to be most likely. This will be aside from the permanent court to hear all judiciable cases.

General peace work will be greatly speeded up now that the League of Nations has been disposed of. It is also reported as possible that after President Wilson returns to Paris many questions will be turned over to the League which otherwise would be settled by the general conference.

AN INJUSTICE HERE.

A few days ago The Examiner pointed out the injustice of the course adopted by the Dominion Government in regard to providing free transportation for the wives and dependents of Canadian soldiers returning from England. It has been announced that all those returning now will be brought home free of charge, while those dependents who have come back since November 11th last and paid their own fares will have the money refunded them. The others who obeyed the request of the authorities and returned a year or so ago when food became scarce in the Old Country are not to receive any consideration there being no provision to reimburse them for the money they spent on transportation. Naturally there has been many complaints over this matter, and as the Kingston Whig remarks, "those who obeyed orders and returned before the armistice was signed ought not to be penalized." The Whig endorses The Examiner's contention, that this transportation allowance should be retroactive.

THE ALIEN QUESTION.

Throughout the Dominion there is a strong agitation against aliens and for some unaccountable reason or other many people who are leaders in forming the sentiment make no distinction in the classification of the aliens they are attacking. The man who came from Italy or France stands exactly the same footing as the German or Austrian, while the man from a neutral country ranks no higher nor lower than any of these.

This indiscriminate campaign against aliens leads to some regrettable results, and just now the City of Toronto has begun to realise that the recent regulation passed by the Board of Commissioners prohibiting the granting of business licenses to aliens, is working the same force to citizens of the United States as it does to those countries with which we are at war. The business men of Toronto say the United States and Canada are so closely interwoven and of so much importance that regulations such as that passed in Toronto should not be allowed to remain on the statute books. The Globe calls the application of the measure to United States citizens an unneighbourly act and calls for a repeal of the by-law. Its request will be endorsed by the majority of Canadians who would regret to see such a unfriendly legislation kept in force.

THE DOMINION LIFE.

The thirtieth annual general meeting of the shareholders and policyholders of the Dominion Life Assurance Company was held at its Head Office in Waterloo, Ontario, on Friday, the 14th of February. The outstanding merit of this soundly established Company was again attested by the splendid gains shown in every department of its business. The business in force increased by 19 p.c., and now stands at $28,543,570.00. The income increased by 25 p.c. to $1,946,529.57. Assets and reserves also registered good advances, 18 p.c. and 11 p.c. respectively. "The Dominion" has long held the reputation of being one of the strongest and best profit-paying companies in Canada, and its latest figures show every indication of its intention to maintain this reputation.

Mr. P. A. Ferguson is the well-known local agent of the Dominion Life.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

From many farmers' organizations the government at Ottawa has received protests against the re-enactment of the daylight-saving measure of last year. Although the opinion against the arrangement is not unanimous among the farmers, it is probable that the majority of them do not favour it. They have been accustomed to work by sun time, and they say that the hour's difference between sun time and the artificial time is a handicap to them in several ways, especially as regards their hired help.

But the daylight-saving experiment of last year was highly successful in the cities and towns of Canada. It was certainly an economic success, for it enabled the people to save on their gas and electric-light bills. Socially and from the standpoint of health also it was successful, affording as it did an additional hour for daylight recreation after the day's work was done.

The measure will probably be re-enacted at the coming session of parliament. Apart from its advantages its re-enactment is likely to be almost necessary, for the daylight-saving arrangement is sure to be enforced in the United States again this year; to avoid confusion the Canadian railways will have to conform their time schedule to that of the American railways, and it would be inconvenient to have railway time different from common time in this country. It must be confessed that in this matter of daylight-saving Canada is, in Mr. Taft's phrase, an "adjunct" of the United States.

Last year a good many farmers in this part of the country, after giving the daylight-saving arrangement a trial, ignored it and regulated their work by sun time as usual. There is no reason why they should not do so again this year if they want to. Observance of the artificial time is not compulsory in the cases of individual citizens.—Hamilton Herald.

A CELEBRATION FOR PETERBORO

The suggestion comes from a local citizen that Peterboro should celebrate the end of the war by a big demonstration the feature of which would be a monster parade of all Peterboro men, who have worn the uniform during the conflict May the 24th, is the date proposed by the originator of the plan, but the Examiner has a leave to amendment that such a celebration might more suitably held on Dominion Day. By that date it is hoped that nearly all of Peterboro's soldiers will have returned from the front and there would be a more representative gathering then than on Victoria Day. However, the suggestion of this public spirited citizen is an excellent one and the civic authorities might be well advised to consider this question with a view to planning a demonstration that will be worthy of the occasion. The plans would include decorated motor cars, floats of all kinds and a parade, which, in addition to the returned soldiers would include all the different societies and organizations in town. The ideal behind the suggestion is of arranging a celebration such as Peterboro has never seen before—a huge event in which every citizen could have a part not merly the ordinary programme, the details of which are usually planned only two or three weeks before the date selected.

If the people of Peterboro approve of the suggestion of holding such a demonstration, it is not too early to begin the organization of the event. The City Council could inaugurate the movement by calling a public meeting to discuss the scheme after which a citizen's committee could be launched with strong sub-committees to deal with the different features of the celebration. The Great War Veterans and other organizations would cheerfully co-operate in making the event a success.

If there is any move along the lines suggested, however, it should be entered into in a big spirit. After four and a half years of war, the shadow of the conflict always hanging over the country, Canadians have earned a chance to rejoice and any demonstration that may be undertaken should be based on the idea of royally celebrating and at the same time honouring the men who by their heroism have made such a celebration possible.

Milling Regulations Have Been Modified

Price Limitation For Bran and Shorts Removed—Standard Flour Yet

OTTAWA, Feb. 4.—It was decided at a conference here between the Wheat Export Company (which is buyer in Canada for the allied Governments), Canadian millers and the Canada Food Board that the regulations of the milling industry in the Dominion should be modified.

This has been done in order to ameliorate the situation and to try to get Canadian mills operating again. In view of the fact that the Wheat Export Company was willing to place orders at prices on a competitive basis with other countries, there has been no purchase for export since December 17th, and there remains at Canadian seaboard points some 72,000 tons of flour. Transportation difficulties are among the chief obstacles, but in view of an improvement in the shipping situation the Wheat Export Company is willing to meet conditions and to place moderate orders, for which it is endeavoring to make shipping arrangements.

As the United States in December removed the price limitation for bran and shorts, it has become necessary to do the same thing in Canada in order that Canadian flour may compete with the United States products in the various markets.

As the Wheat Export Company has decided, in order to meet its requirements to purchase only a standard flour that may, with safety be shipped to any part of the world by the allied Governments, it will maintain the present milling standard, and in order to stabilize the industry it is not the present intention to change the milling standard for domestic flour until the end of the crop year. This arrangement should bring immediate relief in the matter of unemployment in the milling industry.

There will be an immediate average reduction of a twenty cents per barrel, owing to a drop in the price of shorts.

SOLDIER FELL INTO TRENCH, FOUND HIS HOME NEWSPAPER

Paris, Feb. 13.—In a letter received by relatives, Lieutenant Garvin P. Taylor of Montclair, N.J., one of the millions of interesting coincidents of the war is related. The officer calls his experience a "vision of home."

In the final days of the fighting the company to which the lieutenant was attached took part in a great drive, during which it occupied a trench just vacated by another American regiment. As he scrambled into trench he slid and fell to his hands and knees and, being covered with mud, he looked about for something to wipe his hands on.

He saw a scrap of paper near by and was about to smear the mud onto it when he saw that it was a copy of the Montclair Times, and that on the front page of it was an article regarding his father's business success accompanied by a picture of his home and of his father. In the scrap of paper there were only four articles remaining unborn and the article with pictures was almost a cut out from the whole paper.

DIRECTOR OF REPATRIATION.

Former Secretary of the War Cabinet Committee at Ottawa Given More Responsible Duties.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—H. J. Daly, Director of Repatriation, has resigned because of pressure of private business, and Lieut.-Col. Vincent Massey will succeed him.

Mr. Daly, who is interested in a large department store, and in other business ventures, and whose home is in Toronto, accepted the post of Director only a few weeks ago.

Lieut.-Col. Vincent Massey was in command of the School of Musketry in Toronto military district when, in January, 1918, he was appointed secretary to the war committee of the Cabinet at Ottawa. In November he became secretary of the Repatriation Committee and assistant to Mr. Daly.

TELLS NEED OF ENLARGED HOSPITALS FOR INSANE

Albany, New York, Feb. 13.—Enlargement of the State Hospitals for the insane and construction of a new psychopathic hospital in New York city are recommended in the annual report of the State Hospital Commission to be submitted to the Legislature. The report shows that the hospitals have 6,465 patients beyond their certified capacity.

The expenditure of the department during the year totalled $10,494,206.98, for the maintenance of 37,352 patients, and for the construction of additional accommodations The per capita cost of maintenance of patients was $262.32, or $43.16 more than during the previous year.

During the year 45,136 patients were under treatment in the thirteen civil hospitals under the jurisdiction of the commission.

The Artistry of Being Well Dressed

The American Woman Appreciates That Smartness Is Not Overdressing.

To look really smart is a huge problem that the average woman is just beginning to solve. The Parisian, by a natural instinct, chooses her clothes correctly and wisely, and always looks chic. But the American woman in the past has been inclined to lavish upon herself finery that was neither well chosen nor becoming. To attain that height of charm that the Parisian possessed was not a matter for a few moments' thought and then dismissal. It required a study of one's own personality, attractions, and detractions, and then the search for the exact lines in dress that accentuated the attractions and artfully hid the defects.

Having found the suitable lines, the harmony of the costume must be considered—harmony, for instance, between hat and suit, and shoes and suit; and then, of course, harmony in the color scheme. Some women carelessly wear the hat that they wear at the matinee, when they go for a walk in the morning. The time and place must be given consideration, for how absurd to wear a dressy hat with a mannish walking costume If the hat is dressy the suit or coat must be dressy and the shoes must be of a rather dainty last. If one does not properly complement the other, the entire costume is a failure, even though each part in itself is pleasing. The discordant combination has a distasteful effect.

Sophistication in Simple Lines

Quantity Small, But Quality Excellent

Perhaps the biggest factor in the development of a perfect costume is the material. The material must be good, for though the lines be perfect and the fit above the slightest criticism, if the material is of inferior quality the time and labor have been spent in vain. An expensive material will outlast the cheaper material and always is a mark of good taste. The present modes require very little material and for that very reason everyone ought to exert extensive efforts to buy the best material.

Affairs are gradually becoming normal and very soon the market will lower the prices of woolen goods—not as low as the pre-war prices, however, for market conditions are never the same after a war as before. And with the material cheaper, no one will have the slightest excuse for not being a smart and well-dressed person.

The Consideration of Shoes

Thanks to the sensible buyers and, I must say, sensible women, the demand for novelty shoes has decreased and they are now passee. So few havefeet that can wear these oddly cut boots and shoes; and still just those who can not will attempt it if it has been approved as the prevailing mode in footwear. If one has those dainty little feet that look well only in short vamp shoes, one should stick to short vamp shoes whether la mode censors them or not. Loud, extreme colors should be avoided, and if one wants a spot of light color next the skirt, there are many subdued shades of spats that one may get at a reasonable price.

Girls Intend to Keep on Working

Members of Peter Robinson Chapter May Assist Health Association.

Frequently during the past four years the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E. has demonstrated what organization can do in helping out in a national crisis. Since the beginning of the war, the members, by different means, have raised enough to keep several prisoners of war, added to which they figured in helping in relief work where a munition maker's family was in need. With teas, amateur plays and sale of service flags, the girls kept well above water, until early in the fall they launched a new project in taking over the ushering at the Grand Theatre, by which they earned a considerable sum and so thoroughly attended to their duties that the management of the theatre has frequently expressed his complete satisfaction of the service provided. The Chapter will continue to usher till the end of the season as their contract holds good until then.

Continue Work

Now that the war is over the Chapter, with several hundred dollars to their credit has no intention to give up the work they have started and expect to carry on as much in patriotic work as possible. They have recently received a request from Dr. G. S. Cameron to assist the Health Association, and will consider this at the annual meeting. Only recently the Chapter gave $450 to patriotic purposes.

Y.W.C.A. Workers Teach Children in Russia How To Play

Instructors Find That Sorrow Stricken Refugees Have Forgotten They Are Youthful

"The children of the Russian refugees are hungry for play," writes Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, Y.W.C.A. secretary who has been directing playground work in various Russian cities. "Their play seems to be without energy and joy—not because they have lost the play instinct but because of a lack of play leaders to teach them how to get fun out of their play."

When the Y.W.C.A. first sent word through the little villages along the Volga that there would be games for the children on the village squares, whole towns turned out to play or to look on in wonder. Most of the children were barefooted. They were timid at first and many of them did not understand the purpose of the secretaries.

"Have you brought us bread?" they would ask when the games started. However, they lost their timidity and shouted or laughed in the excitement of winning. In one town where there was a monastry for girls from fourteen to twenty years the secretaries persuaded the sisters to send the girls to play. Sixty came, but at first they were afraid to laugh or bend for fear they would soil their dresses. Before long, however, they were romping with an abandon which they had probably never known.

"These refugee children have seen so much of sorrow that they have forgotten they are children," Miss Dickerson writes, and it is only through intelligent play leadership that we can bring back that spirit of joy that should be theirs."

The Y.W.C.A. will open kindergartens for small children and establish centres for competition and for organizing play among older children.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE WOULD RID MARKET ENTRANCE OF VENDORS

Also Recommend That the Standard of Butter Fat in Milk be Raised to 3.25 Per Cent.

INCINERATOR ASHES BRING $221

Plumbing Inspector Thompson's report to the Property committee of recent inspections reminded Ald. Edgar last night of certain complaints that had been made to him by a plumber alleging that the work by some members of this trade was not above suspicion. He declined, however, to pursue an intimation that reached the committee in this relayed manner. One allegation was that apprentices were given important work that should be done by qualified men.

"They are getting 90 cents an hour now, and should guarantee the best work for that price," commented one member.

Highway robbers," was another epithet used in the short discussion of the need of thorough inspection and close attention to the plumbers' work. No action was taken last night, but it was mooted that the last word has not yet been heard in this matter.

Ald. Hamilton presided. Dealing with the question of the sign board on the island north of the C.P.R. bridge, Mayor Duncan stated that merchants objected to J. J. Turner & Sons occupying this property without paying a rental or tax. Ald. Edgar moved, seconded by Ald. Garside, that they be charged $50 ground rent for three years, and that the Manufacturers' committee be recommended to use the sign board for three years at a proffered cost of $200. If they decide against this form of advertising, only local businesses may be accepted by J. J. Turner & Sons.

Butter Fat Higher.

On a motion by Mayor Duncan, seconded by Ald. Edgar, a recommendation from the Board of Health that the percentage of butter fat be increased to 3.25 was approved. The present standard in this city is three.

Clearing Market Entrance.

The committee passed a resolution that no vendors be permitted to obstruct the entrance and approach to the market hall. This will force the fish dealers outdoors. The fruit men have their stalls upstairs.

It was also decided that the sidewalk along the west side of the market square must be kept clear of obstacles for pedestrian traffic.

Object to a Tent.

Ald. Edgar moved, seconded by Ald. Garside, that the usual privileges be granted Mr. J. W. Mulligan for open air religious services in Central Park this year. The committee refused permission for the erection of a tent on the park for a month's services. It was felt that a large tent would be unsightly in the Central park at the height of the holiday and tourist season.

Inspect Incinerator.

Mayor Duncan, Aldermen Hamilton, Phelan and Garside and Engineer Parsons were appointed to inspect the incinerator and report upon its condition and needed repairs. It was also proposed that some means be considered for the disposal of the tin cans that are accumulating in a large pile that has already become a problem. Ald. Hamilton said that an electric furnace company might buy this material if the city secured a compressing machine to prepare it for shipment.

Buys Incinerator Ashes.

Arthur Stinson's tender of $221 for the ashes from the incinerator was accepted. Tenders were also received from Geo. Stevens and J. T. O'Connel. Mr. Stinson is a market gardener.

On Ald. Phelan's suggestion the committee endorsed Sanitary Inspector Stapleton's request for an increase in salary, which has been referred to the Finance committee.

Ald. Hamilton was instructed to interview the City Trust Commission in regard to alterations and renovations needed in several offices at the City Hall.

The Board of Health's proposal that a road be built leading from the Protestant Home to the Queen Mary Hospital was transferred to the Board of Works.

Lakefield Soldier Returns Home

Capt. C. S. Carter Was Principal of Lakefield School When He Enlisted.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 15.—Capt. C. S. Carter has returned from overseas after an absence of more than 2 years Capt. Carter resigned his position as principal of the Lakefield continuation school in June 1915 and joined the 59th battalion but transferred to the 134th Battalion later going overseas with the latter unit.

Annual Meeting

VALENTINE PARTIES IN PETERBORO

Social Gatherings Were Numerous in All Parts of the City Last Evening—A Few of the Events Recorded.

St. Valentine's day was marked by an unusual burst of gaiety amongst the societies of the city. Practically every organization in the city had some entertainment carried out in Valentine fashion. One of the best was the Cafeteria tea given by the ladies of Trinity Church, and as usual with any undertaking of the Trinity ladies the affair was a complete success.

Tea in Cafeteria fashion was served in the basement of the church, which room had been gaily decorated in hundreds of red hearts, and wreaths of evergreen. The serving was done exclusively by the men of the congregation, who were complimented on the splendid service they gave.

Veterans' Table.

A feature of the evening was the Veterans' Table. Here at a table reserved for Trinity's heroes, and gaily decorated with smilax, with a centre decoration consisting of a high fern basket out of which a cluster of ags waved, the following guests of honor had tea: S. Preston, O. Jinks, F. Chapman, H. Daniels, W. Derry, C. Derry, Major Harstone, W. Neill, W. Farr, Carson, Lieut. B. Clegg, L. Norney, W. Stanley, N. Saxby, J. McMaud, J. Heffernan, W. Saxby, W. Wallace, Captain Bradburn, W. Jefferson, E. Hopkins, Capt. W. Huycke, A. Torrance, E. Tate and Major Frost.

Splendid Programme.

A splendid programme was given after supper to which the following items were contributed.

Chairman's address—Mr. W. D. Campbell.

Solo, Mrs. George King.

Piano solo, Miss L. Ridyard.

The evening was closed with the National Anthem, all who attended voting the entertainment one of the best ever held in Trinity Church.

Last evening about thirty members of the E. M. W's. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs H. Ephgrave, 503 Albert street, for a valentine social. Several of the old members are back again from overseas. Charming duets and solos were rendered, and a very enjoyable time was spent in music, games and dancing. After joining hands and singing--"For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," the party broke up in the wee sma' hours.

In Brownton.

Last evening about fifty young people gathered at the home of Miss Florence Saunders, Brownton, when the King's Own Bible Class of St. James' Sunday school held a Valentine party.

The evening was spent in games and contests until about ten-thirty, when refreshments were served in a dining room gaily decorated with the Valentine colours. Among those present were Miss Florence Saunders, A. McDonald, Viola Hotston, B. Meredith, Geraldine McIlwain, M. McIntosh, J. McIlwain, R. Cunningham, Audrey Meredith, and Messrs. C. Hagerman, W. Lumley, R. Cameron, H. Duggan, W. Gilchrist, W. Calvert, E. Hotston, K. Tewsley.

Knox Church

Knox Church Valentine tea was a great success and attended by a very large number of the young people of the congregation. The lecture hall in which the affair was held was most tastefully decorated in Valentine fashion with scores of hearts and cupids everywhere.

A feature of the evening was the excellent programme to which the following numbers were contributed:

Duet—Mr. Kenyon and Miss Kenyon.

Solos—Miss Penrose.

Vocal and Piano Solo—The Misses Donnelly.

Scotch Solos—Mr. Thompson.

Solos—Mr. John Smith.

Reading—Reverend Mr. MacKenzie.

In addition to the above programme Sergt. Sherman Preston who lately returned from the front gave some Victrola selections of a Victrola he brought home from France.

Masquerade Party

About one hundred and twenty five couples attended the dance last night given by the Ladies Orange Benefit Society. The affair was a complete success and the masquerade costumes which represented every period in history and practically every nationality were much admired. The ladies in charge spared no pains to make the affair a most enjoyable occasion and were well repaid for their trouble by witnessing the success the dance proved to be. Splendid music was provided by Tuckers orchestra.

Huge Cheese Company Formed

Peterboro Cheese Board Will Be a Thing of the Past If Scheme Goes Through

A cheese company for Central Ontario, of which Peterborough County will form a part, with a capital of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000, is being created by a provincial committee with Mr. H. B. Cowan of the Farm and Dairy as chairman. The company will be a farmer's stock company largely based on the organization of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries, which owns and operates twenty creameries, two-thirds of the creameries of the province. The net profits last year were over $75,000.

The new company will take over and operate a large number of creameries in Central Ontario, which is the best dairying section of the province. There are at present 145 cheese factories run by farmers in the new territory to be embraced by the new company, and as many factories as wish will surrender their stock and take stock in the new company. Under this plan local cheese boards will be abolished and all products will be sent to Montreal, where they will be graded and inspecaed. Meetings of farmers in the Peterborough district have unanimously endorsed the idea, and meetings at Belleville and Picton were of the same mind. In Picton and Belleville cheese buyers attempted to ridicule the idea, but the farmers saw the wisdom of the new plan and refused to be duped. Besides the provinciol committee, local committees have been appointed, and Mr. Wallace Anderson of Warsaw, Mr. Alexander McGregor of Peterborough, and Mr. H. B. Cowan of this city, are the committee in charge in the County of Peterborough to gather information and receive the "kicks" of the middleman with a gentle bump.

Not only is the proposed Central Ontario Cheese Company endorsed by the two cheese associations of the province and the central committee of the United Farmers of Ontario, but also the approbation of the leading dairy experts of both the Dominion and Ontario governments.

THE PRESS COMMENT

At the best it is "damned by faint praise."

The Socialist newspaper "Humanite" is even less pleased than "Bourgeoise papers." Deputy Marcel Cachon writes in this publication: "It is impossible to conceal the impression of disillusionment that the first examination of a long convention makes on us. It is clear to the dullest that we are far from President Wilson's first proposals. We find in the document neither the general spirit of President Wilson's message nor the necessary clear information as to the composition of the Society and role it is to play. The project cannot in any way command the support of democrats and the people's parties, which placed such hopes in the idea of which Mr. Wilson constituted himself an eloquent defender."

Constipation Cured in His 78th Year Without Drugs

Did you ever know any person who was permanently cured of Constipation by taking drugs of any kind? Drugs seem to assist Nature at the time but as time goes on larger doses are necessary until the trouble becomes chronic.

Internal Bathing is the only real cure for Constipation. It keeps the Colon or Lower Intestine free from all accumulation. Soon the system performs its regular functions unaided and there is no further trouble.

Mr. A. McLean of Conger Lumber Co., Parry Sound, writes: "I have been troubled with Constipation for the last 35 or 40 years, and could not pass one day without taking medicine. I have used the 'J.B.L. Cascade' since getting it 21 days ago, with wonderful results. Will recommend any person to use it."

Dr. Charles A. Tyrrell of New York, invented and perfected the "J. B. L. Cascade" for Internal Bathing, which is to-day the only efficient means of accomplishing the desired results. Dr. Tyrrell has published an interesting book on "Internal Bathing, called "Why Man of To-day is Only 50 per cent. Efficient," which can be had for the asking at the Warne Drug Co's drug store. They will also be pleased to show and explain the "J.B.L. Cascade" to you.

Cost of Domestic Building in Peterboro is Almost Prohibitive, Says Contractor

Difference of Opinion Among Local Contractors Concerning the Alleged Housing Problem—Smaller Houses and More Standardization Offered as a Partial Solution.

"The cost of domestic building is so high as to be almost prohibitive." That summarizes the opinion of Peterboro contractors concerning the housing situation in this city. A week ago the Examiner presented an article representing the views of a number of realty operators in the city. The majority of the real estate men lean to the view that the city would be ill-advised to enter upon any scheme of domestic building claiming that medium-priced houses are more or less plentiful in the city, excepting in the central part of the city, where houses are scarce and rentals high.

The contractors of the city who, by reason of their occupation, are in a position to get a close-up view of the situation, are, as a body, inclined to the opinion that there is a real scarcity of houses in the city and the main problem is to find a way of meeting this condition and at the same time keep the rental or buying value of houses within reasonable bounds.

A Few Increases

Mr. T. C. Ephgrave, who resides at 250 McDonnel Street, needs no introduction to the public as a contractor. Mr. Ephgrave is a member of the firm of Ephgrave and Barrett and has been in touch with local building conditions for years and is in touch with outside contracting firms and is also personally acquainted with many of the prominent architects of Toronto, and other parts of Ontario. These associations have given Mr. Ephgrave an opportunity of ascertaining conditions in other parts of Ontario as well as in Peterboro, and consequently increases the scope of vision when it comes to a question of considering the housing problem. It is Mr. Ephgrave who stated that "The cost of domestic building is so high as to be almost prohibitive."

In support of this contention, Mr. Ephgrave says the general cost of building for the past four years has increased from seventy-five to one hundred per cent.

Labour, alone, is so approximately one hundred per cent. Glass is up over four hundred per cent., and all other building materials are proportionately high.

Houses Scarce

"Is there a scarcity of houses in the city?" Mr. Ephgrave was asked. "If we have any more industrial expansion, we will require more houses," he replied.

"In a year or two, the cost of building may come down ten or fifteen per cent., but not any more," said Mr. Ephgrave. To offset this abnormal condition, Mr. Ephgrave said it would be necessary to get down to standardization and building smaller houses with, say, five rooms. This would include three bedrooms and a dining room and sitting room combined. Semi-detached houses can be built [illegible] per cent. less than the ordinary type of house.

The houses built fifteen or twenty years ago are a much better proposition from a revenue producing standpoint than houses erected during the past ten years. In estimating the cost of owning a house, some owners and the great majority of tenants fail to take into consideration that at least six per cent. must be added to the first cost of the structure. Then there is depreciation which runs from one and a quarter to three and a half per cent. up each year. The money that will build a house can be invested at six per cent. with far less worry to the owner.

Apartment Houses

Mr. Ephgrave is of the opinion that apartment houses are easily the best paying proposition in the city, and he would like to see more good ones erected. They would fill a long-felt want and would produce good returns to the owner. The firm of Ephgrave & Barrett constructed the Crown apartments and the Goodwill apartments on Water Street, in addition to a number of others.

"The cost of domestic building will never go back to pre-war basis," said Mr. Ephgrave.

Supports Realty Men

Ex-Alderman R. N. Jones thought that, perhaps, the real estate men's view of the housing situation in this city was correct. Mr. Jones is a contractor and said that usually at this time of the year there are bids out for the construction of a new house, but this year there were none.

"The contractors have never been so slack in ten years as at present," said Mr. Jones.

He thought that the great reason for the slump was the high cost of material. There are 6,000,000 feet of Canadian lumber ready to go to England at the present time and this, of course, affects the local Canadian market considerably. The Peterboro Lumber Co. have men in the woods at the present time, but they cannot bring the felled trees to the streams unless by sheer strength. There is no ice on which to haul them. As a result of this, the lumber companies refuse to quote you prices for lumber and things look a little gloomy at present. There seems to be plenty of houses around the city and I do not see why real estate agents should not be correct in their view.

Ald. A. A. McIntyre

"I don't know where the houses are," said Ald. A. A. McIntyre, when asked what he thought of the stand taken by the real estate men of the city on the housing situation.

"Everything is as good as it usually is at this time of the year in the contracting line. Things are a little slack now, but they usually are at this time of the year; but I have work to go ahead with in the spring and I do not anticipate any slump in the building trade."

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, then Back hurts and Bladder bothers you.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

For frocks, printed chiffons are still in vogue.

Collars come in both roll and muffler style.

For coats most chic is the three-quarter length.

A novel note in French garments is cotton ribbon.

Pink continues to be the favourite colour for corsets.

HAD NO BOOTS TO GO TO SCHOOL THE CAUSE OF ABSENCE

Truant Officer Miller Reports a Number of Cases in Which Parents Gave This Unhappy Excuse.

PROVISIONS OF THE ACT

Since assuming his duties as Truancy Officer a few days ago, Mr. E. W. Miller has investigated the causes of the absence of children who were reported to him from two of the schools. Most of the reasons were acceptable. Children were sick or there was illness in their homes. In a number of cases parents stated that their children were without boots, that they had no money to buy new ones, and consequently they had to keep the little ones at home. The Truancy Act makes no provision for this excuse unless it is comprehended as a "unavoidable cause." Some of these children had been absent since January 1st, or had attended for only a few days.

As a warning to parents who may have been remiss in the duty of sending their children to school a summary of the Act is quoted as a warning and a guide to them:

Every child between eight and fourteen years of age shall attend school for the full term during which the school in the section in which he resides is open each year. This applies both to parents and guardians.

Exception is made if the child is under efficient instruction at home or elsewhere, or on account of sickness or other unavoidable cause; or because of the distance of the nearest school, or lack of school accommodation; or if the child has passed the entrance examination, or completed the course prescribed for the fourth form of the public schools.

Must Not Be Employed.

No child under fourteen shall be employed during school hours, and any person who employs a child in contravention of this section shall incur a penalty not exceeding $20.00 for each offence.

If a child is required at home for husbandry or urgent household duties, consent must be obtained from the principal of the school or a Justice of the Peace.

The Truant Officer is vested with the powers of a peace officer for the purposes of the Act, and has authority to enter shops, factories, and other places where children may be employed, and shall perform such services as may be necessary for the enforcement of the Act.

The Truant Officer shall report monthly to the body appointing him and annually to the Minister of Education.

The Truant Officer shall institute proceedings against any parent or guardian or against any other person violating any provisions of the Truancy Act.

Principals of schools are required to report monthly to the Truant Officer the children who have not been attending. Cases of expulsion must also be reported to him.

For failing to perform his duties the Truant Officer shall incur a penalty not exceeding $10.00 for each offence.

WILL PAINT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

Regarding the announcement that $20,000 will be expended on repairs to several of the Normal Schools, including Peterboro, Mr. Duncan Walker, principal of the Peterboro Normal School stated today that the only repairs the government contemplated, to his knowledge, is painting the exterior of the building. There has been some talk of adding greenhouses to the school, he said, but no definite steps have been taken in this matter.

LINGERING WEAKNESS FOLLOWING DISEASE

In almost every case the victims of la grippe, influenza, fevers or contagious troubles, are left weak, ailing and despondent after the disease itself has disappeared. They do not pick up strength as they ought, and remain tired, listless and discouraged. The one and only reason for this is that the blood has been impoverished by the ravage of the disease through which the victim has passed. Strength and full activity will not return until the blood has been restored to its normal condition. The blood can be enriched and purified by no other medicine as quickly and as surely as by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves is the whole mission of these pills, and thousands have found them beneficial in bringing strength and energy aftere disease had left them weak and run down. Miss Beatrice Cassidy, Vroomanton, Ont., says:—"From my own experience I can speak in the highest terms of praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I passed through a severe attack of scarlet fever, from which I did not regain my strength after the fever itself had passed. I was left very weak, pale and frail looking, and although I was continuing to take medicine, I did not improve. At this time a friend advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and following the advise, I soon felt the pills were helping me, and after taking them for about a month I found myself fully restored to by old time health and strength. I therefore strongly advise anyone who feels weak or run down to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and I feel sure they will not regret it."

Rich red blood is the whole secret of good health, and from the first to the last dose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich and purify the blood. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Women As Brave As the Men

THEIR STRUGGLE SHOWS A REMARKABLE SPIRIT.

Talk of the bravery of men, but where can you find a finer spirit than among the half-sick women who are fighting and struggling to do their duty against the terrible odds of ill-health, and who will not give up.

One woman in every three is struggling against weakness. Most of them are not exactly sick, but, oh, how miserable!

The burden and misery of it all has its foundation in the blood which is thin and watery. The red cells are too few. The very stream of life is reduced in vitality. Weakness and inevitable ill-health are the certain result.

Every ailing or weak woman can quickly regain her health in this very simple way. By filling the system with the nutrition that comes from rich red blood, a quick change for the better will result. To accomplish this take two chocolate-coated Ferrosone Tablets after each meal. You'll feel better immediately for the simple reason that Ferrosone renews the blood. It gives you vim, vigour, endurance, restores a tired, worn-out system very quickly.

You'll feel like new all over once you get Ferrosone working through your blood. It puts colour into faded cheeks, brightens the eye, quickens the step, brings back that wonderful feeling of youth.

One of the finest things Ferrosone does is to make you eat lots and digest it as well. With keen appetite, sound sleep, strong nerves and lots of nourishing blood you're bound to regain robust health. Any sickly girl or ailing woman that Ferrosone won't make well must be incurable. There is a secret power in Ferrosone and it is worth a trial at all events. Fifty cents per box, six for $2.50. At all dealers in medicine, or by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

VIENNA BANKERS AGHAST AT FLOOD OF UNSTAMPED BILLS

Vienna, Feb. 15.—Bankers here fear a financial panic because of the recent efforts of the new republic to discard the old paper kronen of the Empire by restamping them so that in effect they become new money. At the present time there are about 36,000,000,000 kronen of this old paper money in circulation, while the new Austrian state has only about 10,000,000,000 kronen in circulation.

The question has an international phase, as much of the old money is held in the Ukraine, the Russian provinces, Galicia, Poland and in French, English and Swiss banks. If the money held abroad is not stamped it has no circulating value in any of the new republics.

A Wonderful Discovery Cures Catarrh Permanently

Formerly doctors prescribed stomach treatment for Catarrh and Bronchitis. They seldom cured and Catarrh has become a national disease. To-day the advanced physician fights Catarrh by medicated air. He fills the lungs, nose and throat with the antiseptic vapour of Catarrhozone. It is easily then for Catarrhozone to cure. It contains the essences of pure pine balsams, reaches all the germs and destroys the disease. Every case of Catarrh, Bronchitis and Sore Throat can be cured by Catarrhozone. The dollar outfit lasts two months and is guaranteed to cure; small size 50c.; trial size 25c., all dealers or Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

The New Duffus Garage

(FIREPROOF)

Cor. CHARLOTTE and WATER STREETS

WE hope to be able shortly to announce the date of the First Formal Public Opening of our New Home, preparations for which are now under way.

This Opening Event will embrace one whole week of Expert Motor Car Demonstations, and interesting and instructive object lessons on the Evolution of the Modern Automobile. Motion Picture Films will be shown daily, replete with fascinating views of the construction and witchery of the Modern Motor Car. Besides, opportunity will be afforded visitors for inspecting the up-to-date equipment and Car Service included in the 25,000 sq. ft. of floor space of our new Premises.

The New 1919 Ford

Is still the Universal Car

And the Price has not been advanced.

It still occupies a special field of its own, and there is still no danger of a usurper.

Ford Endurance, Ford Dependability, and Ford Service, have made the Ford Car universally popular, so much so that it is still true that "every third Car in Canada to-day is a Ford Car."

If you contemplate the purchase or a car let it be a FORD—and, by all means, BUY IT NOW. The sooner you buy the less it will cost.

This does not mean that the price will be raised, but it does mean that the production of cars will be entirely inadequate.

Spring is only a few weeks off. No Ford Dealer has enough cars to meet the requirements when Spring buying gets under way.

Men are beginning to realize the situation. THEY ARE BUYING THEIR CARS NOW. They take no chance on deliveries in the face of known limited stocks. We cannot even accept premiums for prompt preferred deliveries. Production is limited and sales at this season equal the present output. THAT'S THE SITUATION.

Two Wills Involved in Cases For Spring Assizes Next Week

OUTRAM VS. GUERIN AGAIN

Four non-jury cases comprise the docket for the Spring Assizes which open at the Court House on Tuesday afternoon, next. It is expected that Chief Justice Sir Glenholme Falconbridge will preside. On the list is Meharry vs. the Auburn Woollen Mills Company, which was transferred from the fall sessions. The plaintiff, W. John Meharry asks that an agreement be entered into with the defendants for the purchase of a certain property in Auburn be specifically performed, and as an alternative in the event of this being refused that he be repaid $700 which he advanced under the agreement, together with costs. He also asks that he be paid $2,800 damages for 11,200 cubic yards of gravel wrongfully removed from the property by the defendants, and an injunction to restrain them from continuing to remove gravel.

The agreement executed on Sept. 8th 1914, and the statement of the defense sets out that on Oct. 20th 1915 the plaintiff refused to pay $500 that was due, thereby forfeiting all rights to the property, also he refused to pay the taxes on the property, and abandoned it. The defendants state that the property becoming valuable for gravel required by the Leonard Construction Company in the erection of the Quaker Oats Company's buildings, the plaintiff tendered $4,452.56.

O'Connor vs. Fitzgerald

In this case, Mrs. Celia Ann O'Connor, widow of Stephen Henry O'Connor makes application for dower. The defendants are J. E. A. Fitzgerald, J. F. O'Connor and Mrs. Celia Ann O'Connor, the executors of the last will and testament of Stephen Henry O'Connor. The properties from which the plaintiff applies for dower are in Ennismore and North Monaghan. The defense declares that certain benefits bequeathed to the plaintiff under the will were in lieu of dower, and if she demands dower that she forego these benefits. O'Connell and Corkery for the defendants and Gordon and O'Brien for the plaintiff.

Outram vs. Guerin

W. J. Outram names as executor in the last will and testament of W. J. Gaddye, deceased, seeks formal proof of the will and asks for the declaration of the Court that the same is the last will and testament of the deceased. The defendant Ethel May Guerin disputes the validity of the will, claiming that the testator was not of sound mind when the will was executed, and also claiming that it was executed through undue influence.

The defendant alleges that she is the granddaughter of the late W. J. Gaddye, and if the will is set aside that she is the sole heir. The plaintiff and other defendants uphold the will and allege that the defendant, Ethel May Guerin, is no relative or heir of the deceased. It is understood that the estate is valued at $20,000. The deceased W. John Gladdye resided for years in Otonabee and latterly on George street, north. Peck, Kerr and McElderry for the plaintiff, Outram, Gordon and O'Brien for the defendant Ethel May Guerin, F. W. Harcourt for the infant defendants and M. H. Roach of Beaverton for other defendants.

Kearns vs. Hall

W. J. Kearns, prospector, claims $25,000 from R. R. Hall, for the breach of an alleged agreement respecting the working of a mine in Galway township. The defendant denies that he made any contract with the plaintiff.

Population of France Cut 750,000 in 4 Years

This Diminution, Which is Outside of War Losses, Is Chiefly Due to Low Birth Rate.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The civilian population of France in four years has been decreased by considerably over three-quarters of a million, without including the deaths in occupied Northern France or the losses due directly to the war.

Official statistics show that in 1913 the births outnumbering the deaths by 17,000. But this slight excess disappeared in the following year, since which time the deaths have outnumbered the births—in 1914 by more than 50,000, ann in 1915, 1916, and 1917 by nearly 300,000 in each year. The total excess of deaths over births for these four years is given as 883,760.

Births, which numbered approximately 600,000 in 1913, dropped to 315,000 in 1916, and 343,000 in 1917, while the deaths increased, but not in comparable proportions, so that the total decrease in population was due [illegible] diminution in births, and not to any great increase in deaths.

The statistics cover seventy-seven departments, including the eleven invaded departments and not including 1,400,000 persons killed in the war.

Flying Six Miles High With Temperature 38 Degrees Below

Thrilling Experience of Two Aviators Who Made a World's Record.

Flying six miles high in a temperature of 38 degrees below zero was the experience of Lieut. A. W. Blowes, of the R.A.F.

Along with Capt. Lang, an Australian, he set out to make a new world's record for high flying in a two-seater machine. Their feat was a marvelous one. They reached a height of 20,500 feet.

It might be mentioned that Lieut. Blowes was unconscious during the flight above 20,000 feet and only regained consciousness on their return to that altitude. The record-breaking attempt was stained in a 35-miles gale and in the trip up their machine was blown 25 miles out to sea. On the downward journey a hurricane wind of 160 to 170 miles an hour was encountered.

Badly Frost-Bitten.

Both the pilot and observer suffered severely from frost-bites. A correspondent at Ipswich, England, sends the following interview with Capt. Lang:

A visit to Martlesham Aeroplane Experimental Station on Friday for a chat with the two colonials who hopped off Ireland agog by their great world's record flight was profitable in more details than one. To begin, I had the privilege of a very entertaining interview with two modest colonials—men, to use words not unconnected with the recent Ipswich election, who "dare and do." One of them, Capt. Andrew Lang, the pilot of this memorable flight of six miles above the earth, is a man of determination, whose heart is in flying, and who is bent on experimental work. He has been flying since 1915; his observer, a youngster of 19 years, who has seven Huns to his credit, has only been in the force for one and a half years, but he is one of the most expert flyers at Martlesham. Capt. Lang, who hails from Sydney, Australia, and Lieut. A. W. Blowes, who comes from Mitchell, Ontario, had not on Friday by any means recovered from the effects of their unique six-mile climb into the air.

Trip Lasted 66 Minutes.

One listened with absorbing interest to the wonderful description of all that happened in the 66 minutes 15 seconds which the great flight occupied. And one marvels how it was possible. Without depreciating the trying time his observer experienced, Capt. Lang said: "I have more instruments to look after than the observer. I have to make careful and minute observations at every thousand feet, and these I record on a board strapped to my right leg. I have to note down how the temperature changes, the speed at which the machine is climbing, the revolutions, the water temperature in the engine, the oil temperature, the petrol pressure, the gallons of petrol consumed per hour, and occasionally I have to look over the side to note our bearings."

During the first 8,000 feet the machine "tested about like a leaf," as Capt. Lang graphically put it, "but afterwards we settled down to more comfortable flying. Generally," he said, "we climb by taking big sweeping circles, but on this flight out of our course, and when we were six miles up we were 25 miles out at sea off Yarmouth.

Invited to detail what were the conditions at that height, Capt. Lang said: "The sun was shining brightly, and although it was a little hazy I could see ships far away out at sea, and occasionally I had a glimpse of the Thames."

Going back in the narrative to recount all that occurred in his record flight, Capt Lang, who had a small glass shield on the machine for the right eye, said: "At 20,000 feet I had oxygen frosting on the glass. Thereupon my left eye watered and froze, and was soon as big as a plumb. So for the netx 10,000 feet I was flying with only one eye."

Are Coming to Peterboro to Live

Smith Township Residents Presented With Two Chairs

Two handsome chairs were presented to Mr. and Mrs. George Walton of Smith Township, on the eve of their departure for Peterboro where they will reside in the future. The adress which accompanied that chairs follows:

Dear Friends,—Hearing of your intended departure from our neighbourhood in the near future. We have assembled here this evening to express our regret that we are losing you from our midst and to wish you both, health, wealth, happiness and contentment in your new home. We ask you on behalf of your neighbours and friends to accept these two chairs as a small token of our esteem and goodwill with the assurance that we will greatly miss you in both a social and neighbourly way from the second line where you have resided so many years amongst us.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours of Lilly Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. F. McIvor

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Middleton,

Mr. and Mrs. F. Cann.

Mrs. J. A. Middleton read the address while Mr. T. McIvor and Mr. F. Cann made the presentation. Mr. Walton made a suitable reply. The rest of the evening being spent in [illegible]

Women Can Fortify Their Health

With constantly aching backs weary, dragging-down pains, dizzy and nervous headaches, women have a hard burden to carry. It is wise for every woman to fortify herself against those derangements which are present when extra demands are made upon the system by Nature's laws. # THE WORLD OF SPORT

Peterboro Intermediates and Juniors to Play

As a result of the bickering that has been going on for some time as to the respective merits of the two teams, the Peterborough Intermediates and Juniors have at last hooked up and will settle the argument on the ice, meeting at Brock Street Rink on Thursday night next. It will be a real battle. The Juniors will be strengthened by the presence of Murray in the nets, but otherwise will play their regular O.H.A. line-up, while the Intermediates will have the same team that made such a good showing in Oshawa. There is hot rivalry between the two clubs, and the fans can count on this city championship game turning out an exciting exhibition.

Eddie Plank Refuses Berth With Yankees

Although Miller Huggins bid high for his services, Eddie Plank, veteran pitcher of the Athletics, and one of the greatest southpaws the sport has ever known, will not play with the Yankees or any other major league club next season, no matter what the inducements.

Plank returned a contract which had been sent to him by the Yankees yesterday with a letter in which he informed officials of the New York club that he had played his last game of professional baseball, and would devote the remainder of his days to the work of developing his automobile business in Gettysburg, Pa., where he has made his home a number of years.

Gossip and conjecture ran wild in local baseball circles last night following a conference at the Giants' offices among McGraw, Heinie Zimmerman, Walter Holke and Bert Niehoff. It is no secret that none of the athletes has signed a contract for next season, for which reason it is regarded as very likely McGraw may be preparing to swing a trade involving at least two of them.

Despite the rigid censorship enforced at the Giants' headquarters, it may be announced that Walter Holke will be turned over to the Dodgers in a short time, although McGraw may not complete the deal until he obtains a clear title to Hal Chase, for whom he is dickering with the Cincinnati club.

It is unknown just what McGraw has in mind for Niehoff, but the latter is supposed to be slated for a minor league managerial berth. Niehoff, it will be recalled, fractured his leg last year, and while the injury has healed he doubtless has slowed down too much for major league playing.

Reports were abroad last night that Zemmerman may figure in a trade for Heinie Groh, of the Cincinnati Reds, although confirmation was lacking. McGraw thinks highly of the little Redland infielder, inasmuch as it was the Giant chief who developed him, and McGraw would like very much to have him back on the New York Club.

The spring training pilgrimmage to points below the Mason-Dixon line began unofficially for the Yankees yesterday when Phil Schenck, the Yankee ground-keeper, embarked for Jacksonville, Fla., where he will take care of Southside Park, whereon the Yanks will do their spring training. Schenck intends to stop at Macon, Ga., on the way, to procure some paraphernalia left at the Yankee's camp last spring.

Lieutenant Colonel Tillinghast l'Hommedieu Huston, called just plain "Cap" by his host of civilian intimates, will leave in a few days for Dover Hall, a rendezvous of base ball men in the woods of Southern Georgia. The vice president of the Yankees usually makes a trip to Georgia to hunt and fish and rest every winter. From there he intends to go to Jacksonville, Fla., next month, to join the Yanks at their training quarters.

George St. Team Well in Front in Church League

The George Street team practically cinched the championship of the Church Hockey League last night when they defeated the Knox Church outfit by 12 goals to 1. The Methodists played sterling hockey and easily earned the verdict. They combined splendidly passing unselfishly and this team work gave them a big edge on the Knox team. Dugan and Graham were the pick of the George street team while Wright and the Jackson brothers did the best work for the losers. George street led 3 to 1 at the end of the first period and 6 to 1 at the close of the second. Roy Cherrett referred the game.

PRICE CHANGES UNEVEN

Not All Alterations in Hardware Lines Recently Have Been One Way

New list prices, says hardware and Metal, have been named on metal shingles, sidings, ceilings and corrugated sheets this week which provide for a substantial decline from figures previously prevailing. A new feature adopted by the manufacturers is the fact that the present prices are worked out on a delivered basis for most points in Ontario, and equalized for delivery to far eastern or western towns.

Copper rivets are down a further 10 per cent. this week, and a 10 per cent. decline in copper burrs has also been made. Coppered split rivets are much higher, according to advices from some markets this week.

Auger bits have moved to higher levels this week along with car bits, machine bits and expansive bits. Wood faucets, splint clothes baskets, post-holes diggers, post-holes augers and chain blocks, are other lines which are under revision upward this week.

Wash boards are higher this week, and express wagons, whip lashes, resin and coal tar are other lines to advance. Cow chains have declined, along with wheelbarrows, copper wire, brass butts and friction tape. Busines generally seems to be opening up fairly well and dealers are satisfied with the prospects.

Mr. J. W. Widdifield Defines Policy to United Farmers' Association

Farmers Can Get Protection and Representation Through the Medium of the Ballot Box.

THE BYE-ELECTION

(Special to The Examiner.)

GLASGOW, Ont., Feb. 15. — A meeting in the interests of Mr. J. W. Widdifield, candidate for the vacancy in the Provincial House, who is opposed by Major Cameron, was held here last night at which Mr. Widdifield, assisted by R. H. Halbert, president of the United Farmers of Ontario, and Mr. A. S. Sangster, defined his party platform to a hundred odd farmers, most of whom were members of the association.

"I want you to know just how we stand and what we stand for," said Mr. Widdifield. "This organization was formed for the purpose of helping each other. One way of asserting our rights is to make our demands known. It was organized for the purpose of getting away from politics, and I feel that its members endorse me when I say that we do not want class legislation. We have been accused of being disloyal. People have said this regarding our views of the Military Service Act and other things. This is not correct, we want to help our community at large.

Alien Enemies.

"I am prepared," he continued, "no matter what you may do in the next election, to stand behind this organization if you elect me to the seat. Those who are opposing us have been misrepresenting us. We are not going to advocate the handing back of the vote to alien enemies as some of our opponents have intimated. I claim that this intimation of our disloyalty on the grounds that we want the repeal of the War-times Election Act is wholly deplorable and contemptible. Everything that Major Cameron has said with regard to myself and our organization, well, there is nothing in it. We feel that the other party has used nothing but a lot of camouflage in their campaign and we feel that we have a right to explain our position. It has also been stated that we do not oppose or criticize the Heart Government. We feel that the Department of Agriculture has not been living up to its duties. Premier Hearst experimented with the agricultural portfolio himself for a couple of years, and finally had to hand it over to the Hon. Geo. E. Henry.

Farmers' Representation.

"I think the farmers' representation in the Provincial House should be half the total number of the members. I am not a temperance man," said Mr. Widdifield, "but if there is any move made by the Government towards the betterment of society morally or in any other way, I shall stand for temperance."

Mr. Frank Sangster, speaking on class legislation, said that all the legislation in the country was nothing but class legislation. He continued: "If you had a government that is of any use on this earth it would protect you and not plunder you. Seventy-five per cent. of all the representatives who went to Toronto and Ottawa were what we called good bar-room mixers."

Mr. R. H. Halbert, president of the U.F.O., said that the farmers of this constituency had been hood-winked for years, and that partyism had been an agricultural curse not politics.

"We will never have a true democracy," he said, "unless we develop into one united brotherhood, and it will take a highty long time, according to the actions of those who are opposing us."

He said that if he had represented 150,000 farmers when he went before the Privy Council at Ottawa to fight the railway rate increase that there wasn't a government that ever sat on Parliament Hill which would have turned him down.

No Protection.

"You farmers have no protection. You have only got the ballot and it is the only way you can speak. We have used it on the altar of party patriotism long enough."

In conclusion Mr. Halbert said that the greatest asset the Empire had to-day was its agricultural home. When questioned Mr. Widdifield said that the result of the election would not see a great majority on either side, but of the nine thousand electors in the constituency approximately 2,100 are members of the Association, and the general opinion is that the candidates will each have a hard fight.

There were several other meetings held last night, one in Rathbun, at which Mr. Burnaby was on the platform on behalf of Mr. Widdifield.

"It Will Be a Knock-out and a Fast One," Says K

Dempsey Declares He Will Do the Fighting When the Time Comes —Doesn't Make Any Difference Whether the Bout is Short or Long.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—"It will be a knock-out and a fast one." This is the opinion of Jack Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey, who signed articles for a bout with Jess Willard, to be held "somewhere in the United States," some time in July, probably July the fourth.

"Dempsey will not need much training," said Kearns. "He's young, only 23, and takes good care of himself all the time. When he's on the road in vaudeville, he goes right to his hotel, and from there climbs into bed. In the morning, if he feels like it, he goes out on a long hike. He loves to work, and knows what he needs to keep himself in the pink of condition.

"After he finishes this theatrical engagement, he will go out to the mountains to play around a while, and then go into extensive training for about two weeks before the bout."

Doesn't Drink.

Dempsey doesn't smoke, and all he drank yesterday before and after the articles were signed was a tall glass of lemonade. "I won't need more than eight or nine weeks training before meeting Willard," he said. "It doesn't make any difference to me whether the fight is a long or a short one, but I think the championship fight should be long. However, the longer it is, the better I'll like it."

Dempsey, in discussing the projected bout, talked and laughed about his plans and hopes with the enthusiasm and candor of a big kid.

"I didn't know they needed my signature on the articles," he said. "Kearns is my manager, and whatever he says or does goes with me. As for all that other talk about Jack Curley and that crowd, there's nothing to it. Kearns is my manager, and nobody else has any strings on me. I'll do the fighting, and he'll do the managing."

Death of George Strath Removes Old Pro Golfer

Scotchman Had Unique Career Abroad and in America.

Developed Many Champions in His Day Who Are Still Prominent.

Peer of all professional golfers who have ever come to this country since the ancient and royal game of golf was introduced into the United States was the late George Strath, who was the professional of the Crescent Athletic club of New York for the last sixteen years and was still holding that position when he passed away recently of heart trouble.

George Strath, who was born in St. Andrews, Fifeshire, Scotland, October 1, 1843, was widely known and highly respected in the old country as well as in this country. He came of a grand old golfing family. His two elder brothers were both in the championship class. Andrew won the famous challenge belt in 1865, with the lowest score that was ever made in competition for that much coveted prize, while David Strath was the winner of the Glasgow Golf club tournament, open to the world, March 19, 1878. David played two matches with young Tom Morris for £100, one being won by each.

In St. Andrews, where David commenced his golfing career and where he was the victor of many hard-fought contests, he was very highly respected. He was in charge of the North Berwick links when he died, January 9, 1889, in his 29th year, while Andrew, who died some years before, was 32 years of age.

Made Reputation Early.

George Strath, although always an excellent golfer, never aspired for championship honours. He was really a business man, devoting his energies to greens keeping and instructing, having no superiors in either of these fields. Consequently he lived in independent life.

Strath made his reputation many years ago as the professional of the Glasgow Golf club, where he received great praise for the magnificent condition in which he kept his greens. He also gained a great reputation as an able instructor, and when he came over to this country was in great demand.

In fact, the only reason Strath came to America was the ill health of his wife, for whom a change of climate was advised. Strath was a natural course architect and had laid out many courses on the other side. When he arrived in this country in 1893, after spending a few weeks with H. B. Hollins at Westbrook, he was engaged to lay out the Dyker Meadow Golf club course. He then laid out the Marine and Field club course in the early spring of 1896, and in June of that year laid out the Crescent Athletic club course.

THE WEATHER

There has been a uniformity of temperature during the last 48 hours, which, while it may not have been noticed by the reader, is a rare occurrence—in fact it has not occurred before during the past 25 years. The average daily rise or fall in temperature is about 15 degrees, but since Thursday evening until this morning at 7 o'clock (perhaps later) there had been but a difference of three degrees, the temperature ranging between 28 and 31 degrees. The remarkable long period of mild weather still continues. Up to the present time there have been 9 days below zero this winter. Last winter up to the present date there had been 47!

REV. CAPT. H. B. HYDE IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The services to-morrow in St. Paul's will be taken by Rev. Capt. H. B. Hyde, secretary of the Toronto Bible Training College. Mr. Hyde is a preacher of great power. He was at one time minister of the famous Moody church, Chicago. He will take as his subject in the morning, "Neither shall they learn war any more," and in the evening, "Where there is no vision the people perish."

GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

The pastor, the Rev. Mr. Thomas, will preach at both services. His topic in the morning will be, "The Healing Wings." There will also be a short prelude on the "Peace Conference."

The evening theme will be "A Man, A Lion, A Pit, and a Snowy Day."

Sunday is the "National Day of Prayer" set aside by the Government. This will be recognized at both services. The people are urged as a recognition of the call of their King and Government to assemble in the House of God.

WILSON WILL SAIL FOR HOME.

Sails To-Day on "George Washington."

Special to the Examiner:

BREST, France, Feb. 15.—President Wilson sails for the United States aboard the liner "George Washington," at 11.15 a.m. to-day.

Eggs Lower This Morning

Eggs dropped still lower in price this morning at the market, and sold at from 42 to 40 cents a dozen.

Butter, which was very scarce, sold at 57 and 58 cents a pound.

Chicken sold at 35 cents a pound.

Potatoes at $1.35 a bag.

THE HOUSE TEAM WON THE PENNANT IN Y.W.C.A. CAMPAIGN

The Membership Campaign at the Young Women's Christian Association closed on Wednesday evening, and the results are most gratifying. Before the campaign the membership was four hundred and five. The totala number of members now enrolled is seven hundred and fifty-one. The three hundred and forty-six new or renewed members brought in through the efforts of those taking part in the campaign are classified as follows:

Active, 111.
Associate, 111.
Club, 53.
Juniors, 40.
Sustaining, 31.

The amount of money realized is $4,80.

The teams which worked in the campaign, with the number of members brought in, are as follows:

House Girls, 75; "Y" Club, 67; staff team, 56; Ladies' Class, 48; Board Team, 35; "Athena" Club, 18; Girls' Auxiliary 15; Monday Business Girls, 10; Tuesday Juniors, 8; Thursday Business Girls 6; Senior School Girls, 4; Silver Link Club, 2; Wednesday Juniors, 2.

Wins Pennant.

The House team wins the pennant to be awarded to the team bringing in the greatest number of members. The three girls who win season tickets are: Miss Leta Brownscombe, 31; Miss Margaret Macdonald, 26; Mrs. H. Rogers, 21.

The captains winning pins are: Miss Kennedy of the House Team, Miss Macdonald of the "Y" Club, Miss Littlefield of the Ladies' Class, Edna Sharpe of the "Athena" Club.

The result of the competition by sides is that the "Yellow" side brought in one hundred and ninety-one, and the "Red" side one hundred and fifty-five.

Those who planned the campaign and carried it through are very much pleased with the result, which raises the total membership to over three hundred more than any former high water mark.

CODE BOOK PLANTED TO FOOL GERMANS

"Naval Secrets" Fall Into the Hands of Enemy

London, Feb. 15.—Another good spy story has just been revealed on Admiral Sir Reginald Hall, chief of the British naval spy system, whose recent resignation was announced. It is the story of the "code book bluff" and is even better than ather anecdotes concering him.

It was before the Zeebrugge operations began that Admiral Hall gave instructions for the printing of a new and elaborate code book. The book was duly compiled. It was neatly bound and so that it should not look too new was carefully thumbed in many pages. Of course, all codes in the book were wrong and very misleading to any German who might get hold of it. But that is what the admiral wanted.

When the Zeebrugge raid was settled upon and the Vindictive went over with the blockships, this "valuable" code book was carefully placed in one of the blockships where it was likely to be quickly discovered.

The day after the raid the book was found by the Huns. No doubt they were delighted with such an important find and thought that our men had had no time to remove it before the ship's bottom was blown out.

A few days later, having given the Germans time to digest the code, a carefully compiled message was flashed across the Channel and duly picked up by the enemy. But it is feared that it must have badlyy misled them as to the intentions of the British.

NEW PETROL TANK SAFE FROM FIRE.

British had Perfected Superior Fuel Storage for Airplanes.

LONDON, Feb. 14. — A new petrol tank, which will neither leak nor catch fire when perforated by incendiary bullets, the Daily Mail says, has been added to the list of wonderful war inventions.

These tanks were being built and fitted in British airplanes as fast as possible when the armistice was signed. Had the fighting continued British pilots would have been immune from one of the greatest causes of casualties. This invention is to be applied to commercial airplanes.

ROUMANIA IS LIKELY QUIET

Report of Revolution in Ferdinand's Kingdom Emanated from German and Austrian Press—No Confirmation of the Report.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, Feb. 14. — There has been no confirmation of German and Austrian reports that a revolution was in progress in Roumania, although it is known that the Bolshevists were very active there.

It is said of a Kansas temperance advocate that he refused to have his portrait painted unless it was done in water colours.

How the News Was Received in the House of Representatives

No Comment Was Made on the Disarmament and Arbitration Sections —Reports Do Not Confirm Stories of Trouble in Roumania.

Washington, Feb. 15.—France has offered to present to the United States, the site for a monument on French soil to Americans who died "on the field of honor."

When U.S. House Heard It

Washington, Feb. 15.—Scattering applause but no comment followed the reading in the House of the disarmament and arbitration sections of the constitution of the League of Nations, by Rep. Harrison, of Mississippi, member of the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Situation in Roumania

Paris, Feb. 15.—In discussing rumors of a revolt in Roumania, the Petite Parisien, in an editorial, says that the reports should be received with caution.

It says that official circles have no knowledge of an insurrection. A Bucharest despatch, dated Tuesday, has been received by the Roumanian Legation here. It made no mention of any trouble in Roumania.

British Back to U.S.

Washington, Feb. 15.—It was announced at the Senate Department that the British government has agreed to the release of British subjects who went from the United States to Great Britain to work in munitions plants, so that they might return to this country with their wives and families. Many of these men were attracted to England before the United States entered the war, by patriotism and the high wages offered in the munitions plants.

TWO U.S. SHIPS IN ALLEGED PLOT TO FEED ALLIES' FOES

London, Feb. 13.—What the British Attorney General describes as "the most expensive, sustained and and carefully organized effort to supply the Central Empires with food stuffs yet exposed," came up in the Prize Court. The foodstuffs are valued at $1,415,000, and were contained in shipments covering a period of eighteen months.

Fourteen ships were engaged in the attempt. Two of these vessels were of American register, four Norwegian, four Swedish and four Danish.

The Crown Attorney suggested that, although the names of different persons appear as shippers, all the consignments were, in face, made by K. & E. Neumond of New York, and Frankfort, acting for the German Government. He charged that the cargoes shipped on the steamships Dorigo and Henrik were intended for capture by the Germans, while the cargoes on the other boats were to be forwarded to Germany through Denmark.

CARRY "STILL" IN COAT.

THE "STILL" BEING A BOTTLE OF "SCOTCH."

English Chemists Expect to Produce Pellets and Pills of Concentrated Whiskey or Beer.

LONDON, Feb. 14. — Pellets and pills of concentrated whiskey or beer may yet defeat the prohibitionist if the dreams of certain English chemists are realized. During the war much progress was made in condensing food into tabloid form and, it is thought, alcoholic beverages will lend themselves to similar methods of concentration. In that event any man could carry his "still" in his waistcoat instead of under his waistcoat—the still being a bottle of beer or whiskey pellets. Such a pellet dropped in a glass of "near beer" or any such salubrious concoction, would add a decided "kick" to it. That there has been no need of such pills has delayed ingenuity in this direction, but it is expected prohibition will inspire and accelerate palliative invention.

ATHENS UNIVERSITY BESTOWS DEGREE UPON MR. WILSON

Paris, Feb. 13.—The delegation from the University of Athens which called upon President Wilson and delivered on behalf of the University a diploma bestowing upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws was headed by Professor Andreadis, of the faculty of the University and a member of the American Academy of Political Science.

"May it be allowed us members of the profession from whose ranks you were called to your high office," said Professor Andreadis in presenting the diploma, "to add this wish:—

"The box, which contains the diploma came from one of those antique olive trees of which Sophocles sang. The olive tree has always been a symbol of peace. In the olden days its branches were prizes for the peaceful victors of the Olympic Games. May a similar wreath of olives, Mr. President, crown the work you have undertaken in the interest of humanity."

Tells How Norway Settled "Bone-Dry" Question Lately

Passenger Aboard the Stavengerfjord Says Revolution Was Averted by Electing a "Wet" Storthing

NEW YORK—How the people of Norway settled the "bone dry" question after two years of prohibition by electing a set of delegates to the Storthing, or Congress, pledged to resume the liquor traffic was explained by Frederic Lindzig, a passenger aboard the Norwegian - American Line steamship Stavengerfjord, which arrived here and docked at Thirtieth street, Brooklyn.

Mr. Lindzig, who had been in Norway for more than six months, said the food scarcity in that country was causing great suffering. No person over ten years of age is allowed to drink milk, he said, and during last winter no fuel of any kind was available. The shortage of gasoline is so great that automobiles are compelled to use carbide gas.

"Norway went bone dry in 1915," Mr. Lindzig declared, "and in 1917, after almost a state of revolution caused by the scarcity of red liquor, the people threw out the Storthing and elected only delegates pledged to rid the country of prohibition."

Mr. Lindzig's wife, Mme. Borghild Lindzig, known on the operatic stage as Borghild Langaard, was another passenger aboard the steamship. Mme. Lindzig made her debut at Covent Garden, London, ten years ago and has been singing for relief and benefit organizations since the outbreak of the war. She expects an engagement from a prominent operatic company.

There were 110 passengers in all oboard the Stavengerfjord, which left Christiania on January 11. Jacob Lipschitz, of Stockholm, who had spent several weeks in Petrograd, predicted that Russia would be a republic within six months. He said that three meals in Petrograd cost him $25, and that the prices of clothing were exhorbitant.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Was Stricken With Paralysis and His Life is Fast Ebbing Away

The Distinguished Statesman is Unconscious and is Sinking Slowly—"Case is Hopeless," the Doctors Declare—Foch Refuses Extension of Time for the Germans and They Sign New Armistice Conditions Under Protest.

Monday Morning Bulletin:

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. — At six-thirty this morning Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was stricken with paralysis yesterday, was speechless and his life was fast ebbing away, according to a report from his residence.

At 7.10 he was still growing weaker, and it was stated that it is hardly possible that life could be much further prolonged. Earlier in the morning, Dr. R. E. Chevrier, after a consultation with Dr. Valin, issued a statement that the case seemed hopeless. The patient was unconscious and is sinking slowly.

WAGE ADVANCE IN FACTORIES

Labour Department Reports 81 Per Cent. Rise in Four Years.

NEW YORK—A report just issued by the State Department of Labour says that for the period of from June, 1914, to October, 1918, the average wages of office employees in factories increased from $19.18 per week to $24.11, or an increase of 26 per cent. During the same period the average wages paid to all employees in factories, shop and office combined, increased 81 per cent., as against a 73 per cent. increase in the retail price of food. The report adds:

"Considering the percentages of increase in office salaries for the above period by industries, it is seen that in the stone, clay, and glass industry the rise was 35 per cent.; in clothing, 34 per cent.; in wood manufacture, 33 per cent.; in furs, leather, and rubber goods, 31 per cent.; in textiles, 29 per cent.; in metals and machinery, 28 per cent.; in chemicals, 26 per cent.! in light and power, 23 per cent., and in foods, liquors, and tobacco, 19 per cent.

Huns Appear to Be Resigned to Loss of Alsace-Lorraine

The German Foreign Secretary Swallows Pill However Bitter Its Flavour—Alleges Violence, Dislikes It Now.

BASLE, Feb. 17.—Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the new Foreign Secretary, acknowledged that the stand taken by Germany at the conferences at The Hague regarding two fundamental questions had constituted a grievous mistake which the entire German nation would have to expiate today. He added that this admission in no way implied an avowal that Germany had caused the world-war. He urged in strong terms that no war indemnity should be paid and that no territory should be ceded to the victors. He continued:

"If we rebuild what has been destroyed by us in territories we occupied we will do so by our free labour. We protest against the slavery now being imposed upon German prisoners of war.

"Our adversaries owe their victory in large measure to a war, not military, but economic. It follows, therefore, that the final peace must not only be a political peace, but to a large measure an economic peace. We hope, therefore, that the decisions of the Paris economic conference will be abandoned. Any differential treatment, even of a temporary nature, of Germany in the domain of commerce and transport would not be acceptable to us."

The Foreign Minister said that the Germans needed to revive their notions regarding German commercial policy, which, he declared, had been associated with narrow and bureaucratic views in the Foreign Ministry. He said it was his intention to introduce experienced business men into the Ministry. Freedom of trade, the Minister added, had freedom of the seas as its essential condition, and, as far as Germany was concerned, this point in the programme of President Wilson was of the highest importance.

"Moreover," the Foreign Minister continued, "Germany cannot enter a League of Nations without colonies. We approve the plan of international control over tropical colonies on the condition that all the colonial powers also submit to this proposal, and that Germany receive her approximate portion of colonial products.

"On the other hand, we must expect to lose some valuable portions of our national territory. I refer to Alsace-Lorraine. Violence is now being done to the rights of the present population of Alsace-Lorraine, where the French troops of occupation regard the country as definitely conquered, and are driving out or arresting all those elements in whom they see an obstacle to their imperialistic designs. They are also suppressing the rights of the people to use their own language by forcing them to adopt the French tongue."

Annual Meeting of the Peterboro Poultry Association

Dates Selected For Next Year's Show—Officers Elected For the Year.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Poultry Association was held in the Trades and Labour Hall, with President Geo. Paxman in the chair. The attendance was not as large as usual, but those present had the pleasure of hearing the first report in four years, which showed a balance on the right side of the ledger. This showing was due largely to the increase in membership in cash donations and to the support received from the merchants who donated many liberal special prizes, which attracted larger entries. The dates selected for the next show were Jan. 7, 8, 9 and 10, 1920, subject to the approval of the Confederation of Poultry Associations.

Fire Destroyed Lakefield House

Mr. A. Hendren and Family Rendered Homeless.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 17.—About 1:30 o'clock fire was discovered in an upstairs room of the residence of Mr. Abel Hendren, an alarm was immediately sent in but the fire had made a great deal of headway and though the fire engine was quickly on the scene, the entire building was consumed. The new chemical engine received its first test at this fire and did good service by keeping the fire in check till most of the furniture had been removed and by preventing the spreading of the flames to the adjoining dwellings. A bucket brigade did good and very useful in checking the flames. Most of the contents of the house were saved, the house was insured for $600 and the furniture for $400.

The origin of the fire is not definitely known but it is believed to have been caused by a defective chimney.

Mr. Hendren stated that he and his family were at dinner when his wife thought she detected smoke and he rushed upstairs and found their clothes closet in flames. He and his family lost the most of their clothing and a quantity of quilts and bedding.

The house of Private Hope adjoining was packed up ready to everything was packed up ready to move out, but fortunately the wind shifted and the danger was over.

The firemen and others including the ladies, did splendid work in striving to save the building, furniture, etc., from destruction. One or two buildings in the neighbourhood caught fire from the sparks but were extinguished.

Soldiers Swell Growing Army of Unemployed

Labour Officials Alarmed at Situation—Urge Manufacturers to Extend Activities.

NEW YORK—The alarming increase in the army of the unemployed in this city, as well as throughout the State, is stirring all the government and civic agencies, which are seeking to find work for the demobilized soldiers and sailors to their utmost efforts. Another appeal was sent by the Community Labour Board of this city, of the United States Employment Service, of the Department of Labour, to the War Department to reconsider its present method of demobilization, which the Board contends is throwing idle men by the thousands into New York and other large cities in the State, for whom there is no present employment.

The local Federal Employment Service officials repeated, this time in the sence of a warning, their former suggestion to the government that the men in the service be demobilized through their local draft boards, and not be discharged from the service until they had returned to the community where they were drafted.

Dr. George W. Kirchway, director of the United States Employment Service for this State, declared that the situation was becoming more serious every day in this city and State and promised to become alarming in the near future. Dr. Kirchway said there was no one comprehensive remedy for the present situation, but what was needed more than anything else was a renewal of the confidence on the part of manufacturers and other employers of labour, who now hesitated to resume business under former normal conditions of full employment or to venture on new enterprises.

OREGON GROWERS TO GET $160 PER TON FOR PRUNES

Salem, Ore.—Between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 pounds of fruit a month, or about ten carloads a week, in an evaporated condition, are moving out of the Salem Fruit Union, which expects to get its immense orders cleaned up by February 1 at the latest, according to an announcement made by Manager Robert Paulus, of the union.

Cheques have been coming into the union at the rate of $10,000 daily, and with $130,00 in notes just paid off another distribution of $500,000 will be made by the union to the farmers before Jan 15.

Government orders for prunes have just been cleaned up, and the union is now working on a 1,000,000 pound order for the British government. It is expected the season pack will be more than 8,000,000 pounds. Growers will receive as high as $160 per ton for their prunes this year.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Upwards of 150 were in attendance at a tractor course at Regina.

A highly improved farm in the Moose Jaw district was recently sold at $100 an acre.

Practically 90 per cent. of the soldiers who are returning to Military District No. 12 (Saskatchewan) from the front belong to the agricultural class.

L. A. Gibson, Provincial Dairy Commissioner for Manitoba asserts that in a few years this province will become one of the great butter-producing districts of the world.

Manitoba Agricultural College reports show that 198 students were enrolled during 1918, as against 267 in 1917. In the short courses for 1918, 533 students were enrolled.

NAVAL NOTEPAPER.

Ship's Crest Usually Printed in Nautical Blue.

Every British man-o'-war has its crest, just the same as every regiment in the army, writes Mr. G. G. Sharp in the Dundee Advertiser. Notepaper used by officers is embossed with the crest of the ship to which they belong.

For the most part the paper used is white and the crest is printed in nautical blue. One exception is the black printing of the crown and anchor on the Admiralty Office paper.

The notepaper of H.M.S. St. Vincent recalls the naval victory of 1797. H.M.S. Tiger has almost naturally a tiger in its crest. The body of the animal is rather long—possibly with the idea of conveying "frightfulness." H.M.S. Revenge has the Drake touch, and carries the motto of "Loyal Devoir." The little torpedo-boat destroyer Archer has both motto and design. The former is "Arcu contento parato," and the latter is a winged arrow in the bent bow beneath a crown.

Ships named after cities and towns usually have the crest of their namesplace. H.M.S. Southampton is no exception to the rule. The crest of our great Channel shipping port is very involved, including, amongst other emblems, a knight's helmet and breast-plate, and two ships dating back some 400 years.

SILVER DOLLARS SHOVELLED IN FIRE AT MINT LIKE COAL

Philadelphia, Pa.—Perspiring men shovelling silver dollars into a fire with the same kind of a shovel ordinarily used to put coal into a furnace and piles of gold and silver coin and bullion amounting to more than $400,000,000 were some of the unusual things seen at the Philadelphia Mint by the government Assay Commission, which began to test the coins made at the several mints last year.

The silver dollars are being reduced to bullion. The commission is testing specimens of 538,160,846 coins made in 1918.

Brian's Letter Disturbs Ruth.

CHAPTER CXXI.

"Dear Ruth:" Brian had written, "I was delighted to receive your letter. Keep your aunt with you. She will be company for you, and keep you from getting lonely. It's great to be over here, Ruth—great to be able to fight for the country you love. And the women are wonderfull. I realize it more every day. Mollie King is here, doing nursing. I see her often. It helps to keep me out of mischief. One has much idle time, just now, but later when I get into the fighting line, I shan't find time dragging. I can scarcely wait. It is too bad you couldn't have come over with me. But of course that would have meant giving up your position, even if wives were allowed —which they are not."

There was much more, but Ruth scarcely knew what she was reading. "Mollie King is here, doing nursing. I see her often. It helps to keep me out of mischief." Those short sentences which told so little, yet, to Ruth, implied so much, she read over and over.

"He sees her often. She keeps him out of mischief." Ruther muttered aloud. Then: "What mischief could he get into half as bad as being with her?"

Really Ruth was enormously miserable over that letter. She had skipped all that about Mollie when she read it to her aunt; yet that astute old lady had realized that, for some reason, Ruth was worried over the letter.

"I could almost wish he wouldn't come back," she murmured, then immediately felt conscience stricken for the thought. Yet she could not understand Ruth. She insisted that she loved Brian, was constantly telling Mrs. Claybogne of this and that lovable thing he had said or done, yet she had not told him of the baby—the child she so passionately loved, and had named for him.

Of course Mrs. Clayborne had no way of knowing that Ruth had decided — before that letter came — to write Brian about his boy. That she was planning to have a picture taken to send him. But so it was. Ruth had written Brian a long letter, telling of the baby, telling him that she wouldn't worry him before he left which she knew was not her true reason, but the only one she could think of which would look at all feasible, and which would not hurt him. She could not tell him that, because she knew he spent that last hour with Mollie King, she had kept silence. She would not mention Mollie.

This letter, a long one, had been a hard one to write, and had taken her entire evening. She read it over after receiving the one from Brian; then deliberately tore it into tiny bits.

"He is having such a good time with Mollie King, he won't care about anything that concerns me — or baby," she added, her lip quivering. Little Brian was growing so fast, was such a healthy, happy sort of a child, that she longed inexpressibly to share him with Brian, even if only to write of him. She had grieved more than her aunt knew or imagined because she had not told Brian of her condition. Often had she lain awake at night because of her guilty feeling. Now a dull sullen, hatred of Mollie took possession of her, which, added to the jealousy she had so long felt, warped her sense of proportion.

"I'll never telel him now! He can have his good times with her!" ("her" being Mollie). "I will have good times too. I'm through staying at home and moping because I am married. Precious little moping he is doing."

For the time being even the danger to which Brian might any minute be exposed, failed to soften her feelings toward him. That he at almost any minute might be ordered into the trenches, passed completely from her mind, overshadowed by the thought that he was often with Mollie King.

She wished he hadn't told her. Her active imagination had pictured them as together, but there was always a doubt. Now even the comfort of the doubt was taken from her. Hadn't Brian written:

"I see her aftene. She helps to keep me out of mischief?"

That thought she carried with her constantly. Mandel noticed her abstraction and wondered, but with his usual tactfulness he said nothing, did nothing, save to make everything as easy and pleasant for her as possible.

Ruth had told him that her aunt wanted her to give up her position and remain at home. She had told it laughingly, as something she would not even consider. Yet it had made Mandel fearful that something might happen to change her mind. He knew that Mrs. Clayborne's wealth made it unnecessary for Ruth to work if her aunt decided to look after her.

He also knew that Mrs. Clayborne thought little of Brian. He knew it instinctively. Neither she nor Ruth had ever hinted that such was the case. Now Brian was away—might never return. What more natural than that she should devote her wealth to those nearest to her?

To-morrow: Ruth Puts Upon the Intimacy of Brian and Mollie.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time.

[illegible], N.Y.—"Three years ago I suffered from pains in my right side, so severe that I could not raise my feet from the floor. Pains would shoot down my limbs and through my back, and the doctor said I had an abscess. I was in bed two weeks with an icebag on my side and expected any day that I might have to go to a hospital for an operation. A friend came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine — Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it, and after taking six bottles I feel well and strong, do my own work and do dressmaking for others. I cannot speak too highly of your medicine and recommend it to others who suffer with female trouble. It is a Godsend to ailing women, and you may use my name at any time."—Mrs. PERMILLA HULSIZER, 218 E. Fall St., Ithaca, N.Y.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BAD WEAK and FAINTING SPELLS

These feelings of faintness, those "weak, "all gone" sinking sensations, which come over most people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded.

They mean an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered nervous system.

When the system is in this condition there is no time for delay. One fainting spell may be recovered from—will the next? One dizzy spell may pass off, but the next may be more serious.

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, before their case becomes deep rooted and perhaps hopeless.

They will act directly on the disordered heart and weakened nervous system and restore them to full strength and vigor.

Miss Mary McCoy, Algoma Mills, Ont., writes:—"I was awfully troubled with fainting and weak spells, and I could never get any doctor's medicines to help me. One day a friend of mine was at the house when I took one of those spells, and she got me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. That was six years ago, and from that day to this I have never had any of those spells. I would not be without your pills for any money and can highly recommend them to any one."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

$50,000 FARE FOR AIR TRIP.

Business Man Said to Have Offered It for First Ocean Flight.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. — "Fifty thousand dollars has been offered by a prominent business man for the privilege of being carried as mechanic in the first trans-Atlantic flight made in an airplane," said Henry Woodhouse, a member of the Board of Governors of the Aero Club of America, in an address before the American Geographical Society.

"I am not at liberty to make his name public," he added, "but I might say that he is a progressive business man, experienced in the manipulation of gas engines, who is so enthusiastic over the proposed flight that he deems this sum reasonable for the distinction of being permitted to attend to the motors odn this historic occasion."

The subject of Mr. Woodhouse's address was "The Trail of the Airplane," in which he reviewed the development of aircraft from the time of the first experiments by the Romans and Chinese up until the present day.

He lauded the plans made for Captain Bartlett's Arctic expedition where airplanes will be employed in exploration of the unknown Arctic regions. He also told about the large dirigibles being developed by the British that are capable of carrying 100 tons of useful cargo and which, it is hoped, will be able to travel 10,000 miles without descending.

VICE ADMIRAL WILSON IS VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Washington D. C., Feb. 13.—Vice-Admiral Henry B. Wilson, commanding American naval forces at Brest France, has pneumonia. Admiral Sims notified the Navy Department that Admiral Wilson was stricken about February 1, and was seriously ill, but that his condition showed slight improvement and it was hoped he would be able to return home on the flagship New Mexico assigned as one of the vessels to escort the transport on which President Wilson will return.

Admiral Wilson has been detailed to command battleship force No. 2, the modern dreadnought division of the Atlantic Fleet, now in Cuban waters.

NO STRONGER BEER FOR ONTARIO

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—Premier Hearst yesterday disposed of a report from Kitchener that brewery workers there were informed that legislation would be introduced at the next session of the Legislature licensing the sale of strong beer after May 1, by saying that there was nothing in it so far as this province was concerned. There may be some confusion with the report that Quebec province would adopt such legislation.

'Twill be a Strange Day in 1919

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—'Twill be a strange day in 1919 when Mr. Average Citizen doesn't pay a Federal tax of some sort.

If you are not hit daily by an income tax, then you may contribute to tobacco revenue. Or perhaps a dish of ice cream. If you use neither —then there is the movie assessment.

Or you may take a little train trip and donate to the treasury both on ticket and Pullman. And if you change your mind and telephone long distance to say you won't be there — there's the tax on the telephone call. And if you pay your insurance premium—more taxes.

Perhaps your thirst calls for near beer—more tax; even real liquor can get in on this thirst tax yet a while.

And there's your club dues tax. Elimination of the 19th hole, however, may equalize that item for you.

But cheer up; the symphony orchestra can still "symph" untaxed.

And there's the excise taxes —on everything you can think of. Take a joyride in a taxed taxi— step off a little rag accompanied by the taxed piano, your lady chewing taxed gum, wearing taxed clothing. Then cool off by taxed electric fan. And take a little drink out of a taxed thermos bottle.

GERMAN SHIPS NOW READY FOR USE BY THE ALLIES

Hamburg, Feb. 13.—The Frankfort Gazette announces that the German vessels which are to be turned over to the Entente for the purpose of transporting food supplies will be composed of nine steamships of the Hamburg-American lines and two ships each from the Oriental lines, the Cosmos line, the German-Australian Navigation Society and the Hamburg and South American line. The newspaper adds that the sailings of the vessels have been delayed by the high wage demands of the seamen but that this question will be settled at a new conference with the allied representatives at Spa.

Crooked Wheels and Loaded Dice

Luxurious Gambling Resort in New York Raided by Police.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Two alleged gamblers, who maintained luxurious quarters on the upper west side and who were said to have required their "Guests" to wear evening dress, and whose records, according to the police, showed evenings winnings as high as $15,000 and maximum losses of $200 were arraigned in the Police Court here by detectives who seized their apparatus, including roulette wheels and loaded dice, and a set of gilt-edged books listing socially prominent persons in various sections of the country and their occasional movements toward New York.

The prisoners, who said they were Frank Jones and Grant Fisher, apparently are of middle age. They were held as keepers of a gambling house after Magistrate Corrigan had inspected their gaming apparatus and equipment of tools and materials which the police declared were used for loading and falsely marking dice.

In the house, the detectives told the court, were costly furniture and paintings ranging in value from $1,000 to $10,000, and a buffet well stocked with liquors and choice cuts of cold fowl and other delicacies. A notice in a bedroom, it was stated, requested guests to appear in evening clothes, and to wear rubber heals. In this chamber, the police asserted were 40 dress suits, and patrons who came in business clothes were fitted out from this stock.

PRISONER GIVES CLUE TO SPIES

OSSINING, Feb. 14. — William Meyer, a Sing Sing prisoner, it was learned from the prison, has revealed to the police the names of alleged German spies, who were reporting the departure of transports with American troops and other vessels before the armistice was signed. The information he gave was immediately placed in the hands of Federal investigators. Meyer is of German extraction.

PIGEONS AS BEER HUNTERS

How Thirsty Englishmen Locate Oasis in the Neighborhood

LONDON, Feb. 13.—At Brampton, near Chesterfield, homing pigeons are extensively used in the detection of that rare beverage which one time was known under the name of beer. The thirsty souls have formed a committee, who send out to the neigh boring villages a scout to find out which saloon has beer on sale.

He reports by homing pigeons, and the arrival of the birds sees an exodus in the direction of the fortunate hostel.

TRY A BLOND EGG NEXT TIME; BRUNETTE ONES HAVE A PAST

Chicago, Ill.—The Council Subcommittee on Health has reached the important conclusion that the difference between fresh eggs and eggs is one of complexion. Blond eggs are new. Brunettes have a past. The Aldermen examined and tasted both kinds. Dr. John Dill Robertson, Commissioner of Health, assisted the deliberations with an electric stove, a cook and several dozen eggs—some fresh from the farm, but most of them fresh from the icehouse.

"This is a December egg," he said as he placed a sputtering yellow and white morsel before each Alderman.

The commmittee salted, peppered and tasted. It was good.

And Now the Brunettes

"These were laid last April," the Commissioner said, serving eggs of slightly darker hue.

The committee again found the food good.

"Might it be," inquired a member, "that a white Leghorn laid the December egg and a Plymouth rock its senior?"

"It might," the doctor said, "I didn't inquire."

Dr. Robertson asserted that eggs laid in March, April or May are superior for storage to those produced in the summer. Late autumn and winter eggs are not numerous enough to supply the current demand; so they rarely go into storage.

"We bought in April for the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium," he said, "at 37 cents a dozen. We still have a hundred cases of them in storage."

Potatoes on Track for Weeks

The commissioner submitted reports he had received on the number of cars of foodstuffs held in Chicago railroad yards without being unloaded. Three hundred and twenty-three cars were thus held, he said. Of these a hundred and ten were loaded with potatoes and four had been held more than a week, while fifty-five had been in the yards three days. There were forty-six cars of cabbage which had been standing on the tracks three days. Other cars contained apples, beets, turnips, cranberries, fish, prunes rabbits and fruits of various kinds.

The egg census completed showed 198,000 cases in storage, against 345,000 cases in May 1st, and 217,000 cases a year ago.

The sub-committee met to consider a resolution introduced recently by Alderman Coughlin asking the passage of an ordinance to prevent the storing of foodstuffs for more than three months. No action was taken on the resolution.

Says the Kaiser Overestimated Himself

Hohenzollern a Bumblepuppy in Comparison With Napoleon.

War is the gambling of Kings. Caesar, Hannibal, Alexander, Frederick the Great, Napoleon were archgamblers. William Hohenzollern was a gambler, but he was not an archgambler. He thought he was, and therein was the seed of his undoing. Like Napoleon, he thought he could deal a hand with every monarch in Europe and win out, inasmuch as the cards he played were marked. But even the arch-gambler Napoleon lost when he dealt his cards to his cool, long-waiting British adversary. The Hohenzollern lost when he invited John Bull and Uncle Sam into the game. But the Hohenzollern was a bumblepuppy player compared with Napoleon. Only in one respect does the defeated Kaiser resemble the Corsican conqueror; Napoleon the Great was a consummate liar.

But even the great Corsican made mistakes. His most egregious mistake, the mistake that eventually brought about his ruin, was the invasion of Russia. This was a mistake in psychology. He was a man of the Latin race, and the Latin race has never understood the Slav. Will it ever understand the Slav? Napoleon thought that the Russians would act as his enemies of the Latin race had acted. "They are savages," he said. "It is a barbaric and stupid instinct that makes them destroy their own property for the sake of hampering us. As we approach Moscow we shall find that the more civilized inhabitants of the village, infected by an easy life, rendered selfish by possession of wealth, will not abandon their property, but will barter and sell to us, and find themselves the victims of our might. And the army believed him. The soldiers of the Grand Army had superb faith in their leader and his star, such a faith as is supposed to move mountains.

But Napoleon found that the further he advanced into Russia the more willingly the Russians destroyed their crops and their property. And when he arrived at Moscow the city was in flames. The people had put the torch to their own city. He did not know that the Russians, for all their lack of self-confidence, for all their dreaminess and indecisiveness, are idealists and fatalists. He did not know that they would perform prodigious acts of self-sacrifice in order to drive the invader from their marshes. If Napoleon had been a better psychologist he would never have invaded Russia.

And if the Kaiser had been a better psychologist he would never have taken the absence of America's entering the war. But he told his army that America could never transport an army overseas, that the 3,000,000 Germans in the United States would never permit this country to go to war with Germany. And when the United States did put an army of 1,500,000 men on French soil, the Kaiser told his own soldiers that the American force was "a scarecrow army." And his army believed him, as the French Army, more than 100 years before, had believed Napoleon. The army had always believed the Kaiser until that day last summer when two regiments of American Marines broke through an overwhelming force of Germans on the Marne and took the town of Chateau-Thierry. That was the beginning of the end of Kaiserdom.—J. N. H., in Rochester Post-Express.

I AM STRONG AND HEALTHY

Whenever mother sees that I have a white tongue or a bad breath she gives me a Cascaret so the poisons in my stomach, liver and bowels don't make me sick. Does your mother give you nice candy Cascarets or nasty castor oil, pills, salts or calomel?

Mothers! Each 10 cent box of Cascarets candy cathartic, has directions for children's dosage at all ages. All little folks love Cascarets and mothers can always depend upon them to move the bile, sour fermentation and poisons from the child's tender stomach, liver and bowels without injury, or griping.

GIFTS TO THE SPEAKER

Many Perquisites in Addition to a Fixed Salary.

Some quaint privileges pertain to the office of the Speaker of the House of Commons. One of these is the gift every year from the Master of the Buckhounds of a buck and a doe killed in the Royal preserves. The buck duly arrives in September, the doe coyly following a couple of months later. The custom goes back as far as records remain, and with it is established a fixed fee by way of honorarium to the official who forwards the beast.

Later in the year, somewhere about Christmas time, the Speaker receives another tribute, the donors on this occasion being the Clothworkers' Company of London, who sent a present of a generous width of the best broadcloth.

Further, the Speaker is entitled to £1,000 of equipment money and 2,000 ounces of plate immediately on his election, two hogshead of claret and £100 a year for stationery.

In former times the income of the Speaker was £5 a day, in addition to fees on private bills. His salary has now been fixed by an Act of Parliament at £5,000 a year.

An irreverent writer says that Satan's fall was probably due to his having slipped on a peal of thunder.

THE BEST HAM YOU EVER ATE

A little old worn notebook was a precious possession. Its pages were filled with recipes given the owner by her friends during a period of more than fifteen years. Here is one for what she calls the best ham you ever ate:

Parboil a piece of smoked ham, cut about two inches thick, in sweet milk for twenty minutes. Put in a baker and cover with a paste made of one half cup brown sugar, a large spoon of flour and a teaspoon of mustard, using some of the milk the ham was cooked in to hold the paste together. Use half the paste to cover the one side of the ham, bake half an hour, then turn, spread remaining paste on the other side; return to the oven and cook an hour longer, having a slow oven. Pour the remaining milk around the meat before baking through.

Reduce Your Fat Without Dieting

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." Today it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell friends—doctors tell their patients, until thousands know and use this convenient, harmless method. They eat what they like, live as they like, and still lose their two, three or four pounds of fat a week. Simple, effective, harmless Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists—a large case for 75c. ## BURNS WHITE DOG AT DAWN: A PAGAN LONGHOUSE RITE.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 14.—The winter Longhouse celebration of the pagan members of the Six Nations Indian Reserve is now on, with feasting and merrymaking in the pagan Longhouse. Night after night feasting and dancing are kept up, and finally, once in the month, a white dog is burned just at dawn. Delegates from other reserves are visitors on the local reservation for this great event.

THE SPRING SWEATER

In spite of the great vogue of sweaters it is not every figure which can wear a sweater well, as it seems to cut one off so. If one is inclined to be round, not to say fat, the sweater and its charms are not for one; however, it can be helped along a little by adding a belt of some sort and adjusting the lines a little. A good way to do this with a coat model is to leave the front entirely open and falling rather loosely from the shoulders and tieing the sash twice agound the waist with the ends in the back.

Picking Out the Sick Ones

How Pigs Are Kept Healthy, and Humans Might Be

It has been estimated that if humans were as carefully inspected for diseases and the same precautions taken to prevent the spread of human ailments as are taken with livestock, ten years might be added to the average life of civilized man.

To be sure it probably never can be for, although the social value of the man to the nation is as well established as is the value of the pig, the man can run away from the inspector just as the pig would if he could. Some idea of what might be accomplished if nature humans could be tied up and gone over by competent medical examiners and compelled to undergo the treatment these examiners would recomend may be gained from the results achieved through the activities of medical, dental and hygienic experts among infants and school children, who like the pig, cannot escape their observations. Influenza epidemics would be nipped in the bud, tuberculosis would cease to be a white plague, typhoid would be eradicated, and arteries would no longer harden before age itself had brought on senility.

Represents Dollars.

Suppose that inspectors were stationed in the subways to seize and isolate every passenger who gave evidence of ill health to his practiced eye? Suppose every anaemic shopgirl, every tubercular workman, every fat and flushed business man, every one with a cold, were compelled to go to a hospital or camp till he should be pronounced well and no longer a menace to his fellows? The first guess would be that few would be left to carry on the world's affairs, but the doctors and social statisticians seem to agree that, with all the sick and half-sick, and mentally and physically unfit eliminated, some permanently and others till restored, the total of the world's productivity would be enormously increased, to say nothing of the great gain in bodily comfort, happiness, and longevity Even if there were no statistics of human experimentation to prove it, we have the pig for evidence. The pig represents dollars to an individual owner, and millions of pigs represent millions of dollars to millions of owners, so the millions of owners, wanting their millions of dollars conserved speak as with one voce, and the Government hears and acts to save the pigs and even to compel the careless or ignorant pig owner whose sick pigs might endanger his neighbor's normal pigs, to do his part toward speading his blessings of hog health But nobody owns the workers of the merchant or the clerk or even the Congressman or the public official, speaking literally, and few even realize that every one has a dollar interest a financial return interest; in every one else, so all these folk, even the inspectors who control the pigs and the high authorities to set them to watching for sick pigs, go on their own sweet moribund way, giving half service or less, till they are cut off in what ought to be their prime, just when what experience and preparation for life have taught them would be of the greatest value to society.

Live Stock

But live stock conservation is no joke, even if the lack or human value saving is a tragic folly. Last year inspecors of the Bureau of Animal Industry made 38,700,364 inspections for contagious or communicable diseases and supervised 703,431 dippings of cattle and sheep at market centres The vaccination of 254,731 hogs against hog cholera and the dipping of these hogs were also supervised in order that they might be shipped to country points for feeding without danger of spreading the disease. In addition, great numbers of horses were inspected for influenza in the effort to control that disease and reduce losses from it.

Approximately 700 employees of the bureau, engaged in the work, are stationed at the principal livestock markets of the country.

All receipts of cattle, sheep, and swine unloaded in daylight are inspected at the time of unloading, while all those yarded at night are inspected early in the morning, before any trading takes place. Outgoing shipments are reinspected in the yards each day until disposed of.

The principal diseases for which inspection are made are foot and mouth diseases, anthrax, scabies of cattle and sheep, cattle fever, and hog cholera. If any symptoms or these or other communicable diseases are detected, all affected or exposed animals are segreated and treated, or otherwise handled in accordance with department regulations.

Officials of the State in which the shipments originated are immediately notified, as well as Department field forces in that territory, and every effort is made to trace the origin of the infecion. In this way centers of infection are located in most cases, and the spread of the disease to other premises and herds is usually prevented by the prompt application of appropriate sanitary measures.

OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS.

Mrs. J. A. Ballantyne, Stanstead, Que., writes: "My husband was treated for appendicitis and the doctors ordered an operation. But he would not consent to an operation and began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, since doing so he has had no need of an operation or even of a doctor as the trouble has completely left him. I cannot find words to speak our gratitude for his cure."

BITS OF THRIFT WITH THE NEEDLE

Darning Savers

Toe-caps and heel caps are two mending savers to be bought in the stocking of shoe department of some shops; and both are easily made at home. Knitted in fine cotton the toe is naturally just like the toe of a stocking. Or, the leg of a cotton stocking cuts up well to make these proectors. Cut each toe-cap in two pieces, an upper and an under. Thus the seam is round the edge, and causes no discomfort. For the heel protector a bit of velvet is shaped with side seams to fit the heel, and a narrow elastic holds it in place across the instep. These are both darning savers.

A Neat Darn

If there is a tear in a garment that ravels easily, to mend it turn it wrongside out place the torn edges in position and tack them together lightly. Then turn the garment back and darn in the usual way. This helps to keep the raw edges on the inside.

Ready-Made Button-Holes

The "notions" counter in most shops has readymade button-holes to offer. They are sold in strips, and are great time and labor savers But for pick-up work there is nothing like having a strip of button-holes of your own making on hand.

Lengthen Children's Skirts

When the little girls' dresses of embroidered flouncing are too short lengthen them without taking off the band, in this way: stitch to the under side of the scallops a double fold of lawn or batiste about three inches wide. This gives the appearance of a hem.

For Corset Mending

Save an old white kid or chamois glove if your corset steels and bones Have a habit of wearing through. A mend with a bit of this will last a long time.

FORD'S ADVICE TO BOYS

Doesn't Believe in Bank Accounts—Tells How to Spend Change.

Here is some advice from Henry Ford to the youth of this country, in the February number of The American Boy.

"Frankly, I do not believe in bank accounts for boys because they so often give boys a wrong idea as to how to get ahead. It is all very nice to save up for a rainy day when you grow up, but there is no reason why boys should wrap their foundation around their bank accounts. The point I want to make is here:

"Invest your spare change in bits of mechanism—if you are a boy who has an inclination for mechanical things.

"Invest your spare change in good reading matter—if you are inclined to be studious.

"I do not mean, by this, to buy old bits of junk, take them apart, and then throw them aside. I do not mean for you to buy books, read them, and put them on the shelf without a thought of future reference.

"I mean to invest money wisely, and to get the maximum amount of good out of it.

"If you buy an old engine, study it. Get down to the base of things. Teach yourself the things that will come in handy later on. Learn why certain wheels that are put together in a certain way co-ordinate and work. Learn the principle of the thing—learn everything there is to learn about it. In other words, get more than your money's worth in knowledge—in practical knowledge—and you will gain a foundation in mechanics. You will have something to hand beside you later on, for the things you learn through your own efforts are the things you learn well. They are the things that stay with you.

"If you read, read what is good and get all the good there is in it. Read to get your own conception of the author's meaning, and do some thinking on your own account; then you will find thoughts back of certain paragraphs which the author didn't express, which he couldn't express, because you will reason from facts you know and fit things into your own desires and ambitions The art of digesting facts, and retaining them, in youth, will remain.

"Get ideas.

"The men who command the largest salaries in the industrial life of the world today are the men who have ideas and who work them out to success."

TWO AMBULANCE MEN HELD FOR DEATH OF LITTLE GIRL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. — John M. Mieters, driver of the private ambulance which ran over and killed Adele Biumi, five years old, in East Thirty-first street, and his assistant, Jack Driscoll, of No. 129 West Eighty first street, were held without bail for further examination yesterday by Magistrate Frothingham, in the Yorkville Court, on homicide charges.

Detective John Gunita, of the East Thirty-fifth street station, who made the affidavit on which the men were held, declared Mieters made a statement after he was arrested in which he implicated Driscoll. The detective then arrested Driscoll.

Pimples Broke Out All Over Face, Arms and Neck

Pimples are sure sign that the blood is not in its proper shape.

While the skin is the seat of the irritating, unsightly pimples, the real disease is in the blood.

Medicated lotions and powders may allay the itching and the irritation, but never cure, no matter how long and faithfully continued, and the condition is often aggravated, and the skin permanently injured by their use. The disease is more than skin deep; the entire circulation is poisoned.

Burdock Blood Bitters quickly and effectually cures blood and skin troubles because it goes direct to the root of the disease and stimulates and restores normal, healthy action to the different organs, cleanses and enriches the blood, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous secretions.

B. B. B. cures permanently because it leaves none of the original poison to ferment in the blood and cause a fresh attack.

Miss E. M. Darrah, Daysland, Alta., writes: "Last summer I was greatly troubled with pimples breaking out all over my face and neck. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters and after using two bottles the pimples had all disappeared. I shall always recommend it to others suffering with skin trouble."

Third Division Will Sail Home About March First

The Seventh Brigade is the Latest Addition at Bramshott Camp—Officers' Attitude Blame For Trouble.

LONDON, Feb. 17. — The recent trouble at Witley and Godalming Camps, was occasioned chiefly by artillery men of the 1st and 2nd Divisions on this side awaiting the arrival of their units. The attitude of the "Red Caps" was resented. Four policemen were injured in the riot and one dangerously. Th rioters then released the prisoners awaiting trial at Witley and broke several camp shops and looted the sergeants mess.

Col. Simpson (Guelph, Ont.) met the men to discuss their grievances. These principally were a too limited leave and what the men consider excessive punishment for absence. It is understood the authorities initiated changes which have the effect of increasing the men's liberty, by which action camp institutions are opened to a later hour and the facilities of leave have been extended. This should be appreciated.

Officers Have a Hard Task.

The officers have a difficult task to perform at present as the men's natural impatience to return home tends to seriously undermine regimental discipline. He is little less than a genius who is able to determine where the line should be drawn and the exact amount of latitude to be accorded.

A visit to Bramshott Camp on February 13th yielded information to date of the 3rd Division headquarters. Four infantry battalions, comprising the 7th Brigade, under Gen. Clark, of Vancouver, have arrived. They include the 42nd and 49th Battalions, Princess Pats and the Royal Canadian Regiment. The divisional staff is extremely reticent regarding any future plans. One officer complained that the English newspapers prematurely disclosed arrangements that were still in the air, the nonfulfilment of which had caused unrest among the men who had accepted the news as reliable.

Division will Sail March 1.

This officer made no secret, however, that the Third Division hopes to sail the first week in March. The Eighth Brigade will begin to arrive at Bramshott immediately.

This camp is under snow, and the men have the opinion that the damp English climate was more difficult to withstand than the Canadian one. One man who claimed acquaintance with 50 below, said that he had never felt so cold as during the last week.

Very Few Men in Camp.

Very few men are at the camp, it being considered a wise policy to send on leave all who desire to go. Brigade headquarters told me that 600 were going on leave daily.

The journey from the neighborhood of Lille, which was undertaken in German box wagons, acquired under the armistice, occupied three days and nights and the men have many sarcastic things to say of the continental railways. A hearty welcome awaited them at Weymouth, which the men greatly appreciated. They are interested to discover in each battalion several survivors of the original formations who have come through without a scratch. It appears to be the unanimous opinion that no fighting throughout the War was so severe as Passchendaele in 1917.

Family Income Directly Affects Infant Mortality

WASHINGTON, D.C.—In order to illustrate the close relation existing between infant mortality and the family income, as shown by intensive studies made by the Children's Bureau in eight different cities, a novel chart, drawn in the form of a thermometer, has been utilized by the bureau in its recently issued annual report.

This chart sums up the results of six years of study of infant welfare in its relation to the earnings of fathers. Extensive field investigations, based upon interviews with the mothers of nearly 23,000 babies, are embodied in the results.

The lowest point touched by the mercury in the thermometer is at earnings less than $550; the highest at $1,250 and over. In the lowest group earnings less than $550, the death rate of babies is given as 162.5, or one in every six. In the highest group (earning $1,250) it is given as 62.5, or one in every sixteen. The decrease in infant mortality in proportion as the family income is increased toward a decent living wage, is thus made clear.

Group earning less than $550 includes 25.8 per cent. of babies investigated.

Group earning from $500 to $849 includes 37.2 per cent. of babies investigated.

Group earning from $850 to $1,049 includes 15.3 per cent. of babies investigated.

Group earning $1,050 and over includes 19.2 per cent. of babies investigated.

Group earning from $1,050 and over includes 19.2 per cent. of babies investigated.

Group earning $1,250 or more includes 13.1 per cent. of babies investigated.

The earnings of all these separate groups of workers have probably increased during the last two years. But figures recently published by the Bureau of Labour Statistics, showing a general increase in the cost of living, gives no indication, according to the Children's Bureau report, that the advantage to infant life can be at this time in proportion to the presumable increase in father's cash wages.

"The conclusion is unavoidable," says the report, "that while poverty exists infant life will be needlessly wasted."

BANFF IN CARNIVAL TIME

BANFF will again be en fete for its Third Winter Carnival, from February 7th to the 15th. Those who were fortunate enough to visit it during the Carnival last year, found a Banff they had never dreamed of; how could they know of the beauty of this mountain resort in winter? Ask any resident of Banff which season he prefers, and his answer will invariably be "Winter."

It will only be a case of a very few years till tourists arrange their trips to take in the Carnival at Banff; as thousands visit New Orleans in March for the Mardi Gras, Pasadena for the Rose Tournament, or Continental cities and towns when they are en fete. Banff, the National Resort, will soon be the centre of winter sports in Canada, as Kristinia in Norway, and Stockholm, Sweden. Why? It is a perfect winter playground, apart from the wonderful scenery, and many will want to see the "Top of the World" in winter.

The preparations for the Carnival this year are on a larger scale than previous years. The aim is to make Banff a winter as well as a summer playground. In one aspect the visitor will find the amusement of both combined in the hot sulphur springs, which gives one the privilege of swimming out in the open with the thermometer above, or twenty below zero, in not tepid, but warm water.

The spirit of the Carnival will again have full sway throughout the town, and those who arrive at night will feel the pages of many books have at last become a part of their lives; for they are in a veritable tiny miniature fairyland. Colored lights are to be strung across the streets, down the toboggan slide, and on the rinks in thousands, giving the gala affect so desired.

The ice palace will as usual be the centre of attraction. The style is one which will be admired by all who see it. Hundreds of lights shining through the blue green of enormous blocks of ice, produce an effect that can readily be imagined to be very lovely; and most harmonious with the dark pines around, the clear blue sky and the mountains in the background.

Those only in town a few moments will suddenly be attracted by bells, shouting, singing, etc. When their eyes follow the sound, another spot of this Fairyland will be revealed. Two rows of many colored lights and flaming torches mark the route of the tobaggan slide.

The list of amusements is a long one. There are the hockey and curling matches, toboggan races, snow shoe, and ski races. The ski jumping this year promises to be one of the big events, for a new jump costing five hundred dollars is being built. Some of the best skiers in Canada taking part in the competitions. The Pony Ski races are, of course, on the programme, and will no doubt create the usual excitement. Snow shoe tramps equally as interesting as last year have been planned where lunch will be served at Game Warden's Cabin. These tramps are conducted by men who know every inch of the country. Masquerade balls bring the items on the programme to a close.

Those who imagine the world in the mountains to be a dead one in winter, will have a pleasant surprise. Rivers, brooks, cataracts and falls are all pursuing their merry course, as in summer, except in perhaps very occasional spots. The animals are not huddled up inside their burrows or seeking shelter away from the world to escape "this awful winter," but roam around as in summer (except the bears) deer, goats, Rocky Mountain sheep, and coyotes are to be seen, also winter birds of several varieties.

Banff dead in winter? No, indeed, and very soon it will be more alive than ever, for instead of hundreds there will be thousands come to see the "Top of the World" in winter. Let those who come this winter enjoy Nature in all the beauty of her winter garb—or enter into any of the competitions for the many lovely prizes the residents of Banff are giving, for the true sport and joy of amusement; and those same people will again be claimed as guests at other Carnivals.—E. C. McD.

THE KITCHEN.

Fish Loaf.

½ to ¾ cup of bread crumbs.
1 egg.
1 tablespoonful lemon juice.
Salt, pepper and parsley.
¼ cup milk.

Pick the fish over very carefully and break into small pieces. Add other ingredients and pack in a greased mould or in individual moulds. Steam or bake in a pan of water, as you would a custard, for about 25 minutes. Serve with any desired sauce.

Vegetable Cutlets.

2 cups cooked beans.
1 cup mashed potatoes.
1 teaspoon oil of savory fat.
2 tablespoons onion.
2 tablespoons tomato ch.
1-3 cup tomato.
½ teaspoon salt.

Put the cooked beans through the meat chopper and mix with the potato thoroughly. Cook the onion in the fat, stir in the cornstarch and the tomato and salt. Combine the two mixtures, shape into cutlets and bake for ½ hour in a quick oven, basting twice with fat or oil.

Bacon too Salt.

To improve the bacon that is too salt soak in cold water a short time before they are used. To soak the whole piece would not be satisfactory.

A pinch of salt added to fruit when cooking greatly improves the flavor.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Pleasant Evening Reveries—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide

HERE'S A DADDY'S SONG.

"Must all thy songs be mother songs,
My bonny Baby boy?
Do poets write no other songs,
That father's name employ?
Then I'll right the monstrous wrong;
Come, boy, and hear thy daddy's song.

But first a toss high in the air,
To hear his merry shout,
And then a tickle here and there,
To bring the dimples out,
And then a romp upon the bed,
Oh, precious little tousle head!
Now, then, wee barefoot boy, take care!
Run swiftly o'er the floor,
And father'll be a bruin bear,
And growl and bite and paw!
Why, bless us boy, what flimsy stuff!
Dad's song is rag time, sure enough.
There, now of play we've had our fill,
'Tis cuddle time, I know.
(How very bright his eyes are still!)
"Hush, baby mine, by-low."
Come, come, you little rascal you,
Dad's had enough of peek-a-boo!
Hush, hush, my boy, to sleep with thee!
(I wish his mamma'd come!)
Thy father'll turn into a bee
If longer he must hum.
Ah, well, to lull a child to rest,
A mother song, perchance, is best.

There should live in the depths of every human heart one warm and sunny spot where nestle the images of earthly love and the sweet remembrances of childhood home. The memory of those first impressions made upon the baby's mind and heart will live forever. Oh, how fleeting are days of childhood. Dear mothers, shall you permit yourselves to be so "cumbered about much serving" that the rich garden of your child's soul will lie neglected with foul weeds choking out all worthy and beautiful growth?

DEFINITIONS OF HOME.

Home—A world of strife shut out and a world of love shut in.

Home—A place where the small are great and the great are small.

Home—The father's kingdom, the mother's world and the child's paradise.

Home—The place where we grumble the most and are treated the best.

Home—The centre of our affections around which our heart's best wishes twine.

Home—The place where the stomach gets three meals a day and our hearts a thousand.

Home—The only place on earth where the faults and failings of humanity are hidden under the sweet mantle of charity.

One has only to use his brains a little to discover the various machines which might be installed in the farm home at a comparatively small expense, and which would go a long way toward making life on the farm lighter for the women and more attractive for the children. It is a fact that farms run on a modern basis pay larger dividends. Farms so run not only keep the children at home, but keep them interested in their home, in the farm and the farm work.

Farmers who feel that there is something wrong with their farm and who begin to see their children become restless — a sort of constant yearning to get away—will find a solution to the whole problem of keeping the family together, in brightening up the home and giving it an air of modernity.

Not only is this applicable to the farmer, but to the resident of the small town as well. The rising generation are not wont to be so contented with life as were their fathers and mothers. They must have certain things which, though easily within the reach of their parents, are oftentimes overlooked, only to be discovered after it is too late. The country home may be made as attractive as any other, more attractive, comfortable and healthful in fact. To make it so is to solve the problem of keeping the boys and girls on the farm and in the home town.

MODERNITY ON THE FARM.

To a certain extent the cities are absolved from blame for luring the boy from the farm and the more or less stable existence of the tiller of the soil to the uncertain lot of the city labourer or clerk. According to arguments advanced by those who have made a study of the small town and country development, the blame for the desertion of the land by the young must rest largely with the parents—with the farmers themselves.

The average farmer has until recently been interested in his crops, cattle, and a bank account more than he was in the comfort of his wife and children. With the city man it has been the reverse. The wife of the city mechanic, whose income was far smaller and immeasurably less secure than the income of the farmer, has for years been having hot and cold water in her kitchen, a bath tub in the house, and gas and electricity with which to cook, wash and iron. Her household work has been cut to a minimum. The wife of the farmer, in most cases, is still drudging away unnecessarily. Because of this drudgery, and the want of a comfortable and consequently interesting, attractive home, the migration to the city has been unprecedented in recent years.

How much happier we would all be if we would attempt to build instead of tearing down; how much sweeter our lives would be, if we would encourage, by kind words, those of our fellowmen and fellowwomen who have fallen by the wayside; extend a helping hand, whisper words of encouragement in their ear, and lo! how much brighter our lives and theirs would be. Give no heed to the tattler and gossiper, turn a deaf ear, and tell them that you are otherwise engaged, when you find them inclined to talk and very soon the tattlers will find their profession gone.

NERVES ARE EXHAUSTED

When you have frequent headaches, feel discouraged and down-hearted, cannot rest and sleep well, and find appetite fickle and digestion bad, you may know that the nerves are in bad condition. Don't wait for these symptoms to become chronic but start in early with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and head off disaster.

GHOSTS OUT OF A JOB

Is the Potsdam White Lady In Holland?

There is one point about this wholesale abdication of crowned heads, which seems to have escaped popular notice. What is going to become of their attendant ghosts?

There is no self-respecting Royal family on the Continent which has ever had not its ghosts or ghost. The question is, do these apparitions go away with their families, or do they stay on as caretakers of the royal palaces?

The White Lady of Potsdam, for instance, the apparition who appears to foretell death or disaster to the Hohenzollerns. There is quite good testimony to the fact that she appeared before the death of the present Kaiser's father, and rumor has it that William himself saw her on that fatal day in July, 1914, when he declared war on France.

This White Lady carires a bunch of keys at her side, and is supposed to be the ghost of Bertha von Rosenberg, wh came to a violent end in the sixteenth century.

"I wait fr judgment," she said on one of he only two occasions on which she has been known to speak, and now indeed she has got it.

The Russian Court was haunted by many a ghost of which the most famous is the wraith of the great Empress Catherine herself. The story, is that this wraith began its haunting before the death of Catherine herself.

The Austrian Royal ghost is a Green Lady. If she has had to appear before every tragedy in the Austrian family during the past half century she must have been sadly over-worked.

The last actual record of her having been seen was after the death of the unfortunate Prince Rudolf, who committed suicide in company with the Baroness Marie Vetsera.

DENMARK NOT TO CEDE GREENLAND.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The Danish Legation denied here that Denmark was ready to cede Greenland to Canada. The statement issued by the legation says that the Danes, on the contrary, are extending their "dominion" in Greenland, and asserts that when the Danish West Indies, now the Virgin Islands, were ceded to the United States, Secretary Lansing went on record as not objecting to the extension of the political and economic interests of Denmark to the whole of Greenland.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Died at Two-Thirty This Afternoon After a Few Hour's Illness

The Old Chieftain Failed to Rally From Paralytic Stroke—Lady Laurier is in a Condition of Collapse and is Very Helpless—The Late Statesman Was Out on Saturday and Attended a Meeting of the Canadian Club.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS IN PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier died at two-thirty this afternoon.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, February 17.—In the course of the night the last rites of the church were administered to Sir Wilfrid Laurier by Father Lejeune, of the Sacred Heart Church, and thereafter the aged statesman lingered between consciousness and unconsciousness. At eight this morning his physicians had practically given up hope of his recovery. Dr. Valin declared that he had been stricken by a hemorrhage of the brain caused by overstrain and intimated that the end was not for off.

In fact, there is little hope that he will survive much beyond to-day, though he has shown wonderful vitality and at times has conversed with those around him. Drs. Chevrier and Valin are present at the bedside. Lady Laurier, for fifty years his helpmate, has been with him through the long hours of the night watch. Lucien Giguere, his secretary, and Miss Contu, private secretary to Lady Laurier, have also been present, and visitors have been calling at the residence during the night and morning.

HAD A FAINTING SPELL ON SATURDAY.

On Saturday the old chieftain had a fainting spell from which, however, he recovered. On Sunday, when dressing for church, he had another and lay down. Reluctant to admit to himself the seriousness of his condition he strove to rise when the dinner gong rang. It was apparently at that moment that the effusion of blood flooded the brain and paralysis struck him. He lost consciousness and it was realized that his case was critical. However, he recovered again and toward midnight was conscious and apparently improved. A second stroke and a more serious one came about 12 o'clock, and hope of his recovery was then abandoned.

Occasional flashes of consciousness marked his condition thereafter, in the course of which he conversed fitfully with those around him.

Sir Wilfrid has, for some time past, complained of feeling faint in the mornings, though otherwise he has appeared hale and hearty and in good spirits. He has been making his plans for the session and held frequent small caucuses of his followers. It was very seldom that he did not spend the afternoon at his office in the museum, attending to his correspondence... In fact he has seldom had a better winter than this, and his sudden illness has come with great surprise.

QUESTION OF SUCCESSOR IS PROBLEMATICAL.

The question of his successor had been but tentatively discussed. It had been fairly generally realized that before another election came there should be a new leader, but on no one has the mantle been actually placed. In the event of his recovery it is quite improbable that he will this session again lead the Opposition, and some one else will have to perform the duties. Who that will be is problematical and depends on the will of caucus, after the session meets. The name of Hon. W. S. Fielding, former Finance Minister in Sir Wilfrid's Cabinet, has been mentioned as has also that of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, and of Hon. William Martin, Premier of Saskatchewan. For either of the two latter, a seat would have to be found. For Mr. King, one of the Ontario vacant seats might be thrown open. Foro Mr. Martin, the constituency of Assiniboia might be found.

The retirement of Sir Wilfrid has in any case long been predicted. It was almost a foregone conclusion. Just prior to the formation of the Union Government at the conclusion of a conference at which there were present Hon. C. B. Carvell, E. M. MacDonald, F. F. Pardee, Hon.. J. A. Calder and others, it was announced that his retirement had been decided upon, and that Mr. Carvell would take over the leadership. The change, however, did not materialize. Sir Wilfrid remained leader and Mr. Carvell went into the Union Government.

PREMIER MARTIN IS ON HIS WAY EAST.

It is stated that Premier Martin is even now on his way to the east, and there are indications that the question of new leadership was to be one of the first topics of the Opposition caucus discussion at the coming session.

Hon. Mr. Fielding, while giving certain support to the Union Government last session, was not really elected on the Union ticket, and several times voted against the government, last session. He is over seventy years of age.

Hon. MacKenzie King is a young man with his future ahead of him. He was a straight Laurier candidate at the last election, but was defeated. There has been talk of running him in Glengarry, or North Toronto, in the event of a bye-election being decided upon.

OLD COLLEAGUES VISIT THE BEDSIDE.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—All morning visitors came and went at the big old residence on Laurier avenue, where upstairs Sir Wilfrid was making his last fight. Old colleagues, including Hon. Charles Murphy, Hon. Senator Belcour, Mr. Justice Brodeur, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux were present. Robert Laurier, nephew of Sir Wilfrid, was at the bedside. Men and women friends of the family who had partaken of the warm hospitality of that house in the better days, came and went with tear-dimmed eyes.

It is a year ago since Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier celebrated their golden wedding. To-day, while the old chief is sinking, Lady Laurier is in a condition of practical collapse, and very helpless indeed.

LADY LAURIER IS BADLY BROKEN UP.

She is terribly depressed and the shock has been tremendous. For several years, Lady Laurier has suffered from impaired eyesight, and it was Sir Wilfrid who escorted her to her seat at table. Now the strong old heart is beating out and Lady Laurier is herself badly broken by the blow

"There is no hope," was the word at 11:30. The heart action, it was stated, was remarkably vigorous and even, but the patient was growing weaker every hour and had not spoken since three o'clock.

Countless telegrams have been arriving all morning, some addressed personally to Sir Wilfrid, some to Lady Laurier, all expressing hope of his recovery, but there is no hope. The flags in the city will fly at half mast before the day is much further spent.

DEATH OF SIR JOHN MACDONALD RECALLED.

It was on June 6, 1891, that another Canadian statesman, Sir John A. MacDonald, passed away as a result of a stroke, very similar to that with which Sir Wilfrid has been stricken down, though Sir John lingered several days after the stroke occurred. It was Sir Wilfrid who, in the House on the occasion (for Parliament was in session at the time) delivered the funeral oration, perhaps one of the most brilliant of all his speeches. Parliament is called for Thursday next, but Sir Wilfrid will not be in his place. For forty-five years in Parliament during fifteen which he was Prime Minister of Canada, another will have to rise to take his place. Who that other will be, no one knows, and what profound effect his passing will have on Canadian politics is something upon which there is wide scope for conjecture.

HOW NEWS WAS RECEIVED IN MONTREAL.

(Special to The Examiner.)

MONTREAL, Feb. 17.—News of Laurier's illness was received in Montreal on Sunday afternoon at the Reform Club, where a party of Ontario and Western journalists, including Lindsay Crawford, of the Statesman, were being entertained by the City of Montreal, preparatory to leaving for Halifax to witness the arrival of a large contingent of returning troops. The members, who included Mayor Martin, several prominent local Liberals, were thunderstruck when they heard the serious news. They could scarcely credit it, so many had seen the aged chieftain apparently in the pink of condition, full of life and energy, a few days before. The tendency was to hope and even to believe the news exaggerated, and telegrams expressing the hope that he would speedily recover were despatched.

Eliminate the Balkans

Balkans Have Been the Pawns of the European Powers," Says Envoy.

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. — "The League of Nations must take the Balkans out of European politics," declared Stephen Panaretoff, Bulgarian minister, in discussing the League's constitution with the United Press today.

"The Balkans have been the pawns of the European powers. They have been willing tools. The League of Nations must make them really independent. This will remove the direct cause of the great war and the source of the world's ills for nearly a century past."

Bulgaria eagerly awaits an admission to the League after her liability as associate of the Central Powers in the war has been justly weighed, the envoy stated.

Farmers Should Be Content With $1.25 for Wheat, Says Carvell

KINGSTON, Feb. 16. — In an address to the Trades and Labour Council on Saturday afternoon, Hon. F. B. Carvell, the Minister of Public Works, touched upon the problem of the high cost of living, which he said would not decrease materially until wheat became cheaper. He declared that the government should discontinue the fixation of price, and that wheat should be thrown into the open market. The farmers, who he said, had made tremendous profits during the war, should be satisfied with $1.25 or $1.50 for their wheat, instead of the present fixed price of $2.25.

THE RUSSIAN SITUATION

Supreme War Council Will Deal With This Problem at Once—Favours "Hands Off" Policy.

THE BOLSHEVIKS

(United Press Service.)
(By Bret S. Ferguson.)

PARIS, Feb. 17.—The Russian situation was again the foremost question before the Peace Conference today. The tentative date for the joint meeting at Prinkipo expired Saturday without anything definite having been accomplished. The Supreme War Council had the matter up and was expected to give it full consideration at this afternoon's session.

Winston Churchill, who holds the war portfolio in the new British Ministry, has come forward with a new plan for solving the Russian problem. Nothing had been given out officially regarding this plan, but it is understood to include a "hands-off" policy toward the Bolsheviki, while giving every economic assistance to other Russian governments.

Delegates Dissatisfied.

It is known that no agreement was reached on Churchill's scheme of the sitting Saturday, and it is expected that Russia will occupy the greater part of the Supreme War Council's time for several days. While the Ukrainians, Lithuanians, Esthonians and Letts have accepted the proposal for a joint conference, as well as the Bolsheviki, it is understood that a large number of peace delegates are dissatisfied with the tone of the Bolsheviki's reply, and that they are disposed to discuss the situation further before going through with the conference.

The Committee on Reparation was also to continue its hearings to-day. Considerable progress is said to have been made toward the solution of the indemnities question. The principal point of difference in the commission views seems to be that some contend that Germany should pay the cost of the war of the little nations, while others hold to the American idea that the Associated Powers should not go beyond the fourteen points, with the amendment contained in the original armistice terms.

Labour and Women.

Two other subjects, heretofore unrepresented in international affairs, are assuming an increasingly important place in the peace work. These are labour and women.

Inter-Allied equal suffrage advocates, having gained President Wilson's approval of a plan for commissions dealing with matters affecting women to confer with women advisers, are now endeavouring to put the leaders of other countries similarly on record. They already have won the backing of President Poincare, Jules Cambon and of Paul Hymans, of Belgium.

Cambon pointed out that a women's commission would be particularly valuable in presenting the conference with details regarding deportation of women from France, Belgium, Serbia, Greece, Poland and Armenia. He said that reports of Serbian women being sold at public auction in Constantinople, and Greek girls being advertised at "reasonable prices" in Asia Minor, called for investigation and prompt steps to rescue them.

President Wilson's statement that the conference represents two hundred million people, and his emphasis that the lowest workers in the isolated sections of the world have figuratively been brought to the peace table, has established labour as one of the strongest elements to be considered in the peace settlement. The work of the special commission on labour legislation has been held in abeyance until Samuel Gompers and other members return from Belgium.

Haase Openly Accused the Present National Assembly of Murdering Spartacan Leaders

Radical Leader Caused an Uproar When He Outlined Policy of Workmen and Soldiers' Councils.

MONEY FROM RUSSIA

By Frank J. Taylor.
(United Press.)

WEIMAR, Feb. 17.— Hugo Haase, the radical leader, threw the National Assembly into an uproar when he declared that the Workmen's and Soldiers' Council would continue in existence until the Socialist-Democrat-Centrist coalition demonstrated its intention to socialize the new republic. He said he doubted that the coalition would carry out this programme and threatened a new outbreak unless socialization is accomplished.

Scores of delegates leaped to their feet and clamoured for recognition. Others joined in a chorus of denunciation of Haase's statement without the formality of obtaining recognition from Chairman Fehrenbach. Order was finally restored, but other outbursts occured as Haase continued his speech.

Accused of Murder.

When Haase openly accused the Ebert-Scheidemann government of murdering Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, a riot almost ensued. Practically every delegate except the radicals threatened to oust Haase and his followers from the Assembly. Haase waited calmly until the members quieted down again, then resumed his attack on the government as a whole, and everyone connected with it, individually. Referring again to the Spartacans, he admitted they had received money from Russia. But, he said, this money was used for buying food for their wives and children and not for fighting. Disappointment was expressed regarding Haase's speech, as he was expected to introduce a programme for constructive legislation.

An Investigation.

Finance Minister Schiffer, who preceded Haase, said that "property conception in Germany must change completely," and that "perfect industrials regard themselves not as owners, but merely as administrators," which resulted in the misuse of tremendous funds. He proposed an official investigation of past expenditures and a survey of future needs. The 1918 taxes, he said, must total 19,000,000,000 marks ($4,750,000,000) compared with 5,000,000,000 ($1,250,000,000) just before the war.

Open debates are expected to end next week, when the government plans to announce its appointments to the various commissions that will handle details of legislative and administrative problems.

The National Assembly probably will be adjourned Thursday until the commissions complete their work.

"Germany's financial situation is desperate, and our mastery of it will depend entirely upon the condition in which the Entente leaves us," said Schiffer.

Must Wait.

"We must wait coolly until they decide. Germany's war credits and loans total 160,000,000,000 marks ($40,000,000,000)."

Schiffer charged "crookedness" in the conduct of the war, especially by profiteers.

"The present economic situation also is desperate," he said. "The various strikes are unjustified. One great trouble is that country workers crowd into the cities, whereas they are badly needed in the country."

He said the Empire faced exhaustion in October, 1918, but was tided over through the issuing of 15,000,000,000 marks ($3,750,000,000) in unsecured note. The last Reichstag, he said, had not paid more than 18,000,000,000 marks ($4,500,000,000) of the old debts.

Premier Martin of Saskatchewan to Succeed Sir Wilfrid Laurier

(Special to The Examiner.)

FREDERICTON, N.B., February 17.—The Gleaner to-day says: Premier Martin of Saskatchewan, is to succeed Sir Wilfrid Laurier as the leader of the Liberal party in Canada. This statement may be denied but it nevertheless is the programme at the present time, and will be carried out unless a cog slips in the machine somewhere. As a matter of fact Premier Martin is now en route to Ottawa, if he has not already arrived there. The business of his trip is ostensibly to take up with the Federal Government the claims in respect to Saskatchewan's natural resources, but, as a matter of fact the resources of the Liberal party in Canada will be given a good deal more of his attention than anything else, while he is in the Federal capital. Assent to the selection of Premier Martin as successor to Sir Wilfrid Laurier has already been given by the Liberal organization in seven of the provinces of the Dominion, while the leaders of the Liberal party and others in Quebec have accepted the proposal heartily. There is now a vacancy in the Saskatchewan representation in the House of Commons, and is is believed that another month will see the present Premier of Saskatchewan taking up his duties as the leader of the Liberal party and with a seat in Parliament.

Eleven Peterboro Soldiers Arrived in Halifax To-day

The Troopship "Princess Juliana" Docked This Morning—Names of Local Men on Board.

HALIFAX, Feb. 17.—Prominent among those returning on the troopship, "Princess Juliana," which arrived at Halifax to-day, was Lieut. W. A. Fitzgerald, who played on the wing for the Peterborough rugby team when they won the Dominion championship in 1907. He went overseas as a corporal in the nineteenth battalion and won his commission on the field. Lieut. Fitzgerald was wounded in the leg by German machine gun bullets at Cambrai on Oct. 10. He distinguished himself at Vimy in 1916 by delivering ammunition under extreme difficulties, and for his gallantry on this occasion was awarded the military medal.

Spartacans Stage Another Outbreak

Shots were Fired into the Crowd, which took matters into its Own Hands.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 17. — Telephone, telegraph and newspaper offices at Nuremburg, Bavaria, have been occupied by the Spartacans, according to reports.

The outbreak in Nuremberg, followed an attempt by the government forces to disperse a procession of Spartacans, who were protesting against the reorganization of the Bavarian army. Shots were said to have been fired from the barracks into the crowd, which took matters into its own hands and stormed the army headquarters and seized telephone, telegraph and newspaper offices.

WILL DEAL WITH RUSSIAN SITUATION

Invitation to Russian Factions for Conference in the Black Sea has Expired—Churchill Makes a New Suggestion.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 17. — The attention of the delegates to the Peace Conference will focus on Russia to-day, the Supreme Council having decided that as the time allowed for acceptance of the invitation to be held at Prinkipo conference has expired, something else must be done.

Winston Churchill of Great Britain has proposed that the invitation be renewed and that some of the conditions that made the first invitation unacceptable to most of the different Russian factors be omitted.

If the Supreme Council accepts this proposition, as seems possible, it probably will not insist that the conference be held at Prinkipo Island.

Alcohol Seized At Lakefield

Supply Was Sufficient to Make Sixty Gallons of Whiskey.

License Inspector Joseph Stewart seized two cases of pure alcohol containing together twelve gallons of the liquid at the Lakefield platform on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. Stewart was making his customary rounds of the hotels in the village to take applications for next year's licenses which must be in before March and taking a walk around the station, became suspicious of the contents of two large packing cases which were too firmly packed and strung to be innocent. He also observed the name of the man to whom they were addressed and found that he had been in the village a very short time ago. Calling an employee of the Grand Trunk they balanced a box and listened to find out whether the contents were liquid and found they unmistakably were. Mr. Stewart opened one of the cases immediately and rooting around in the shavings pulled out a 10 gallon can which investigation showed to contain alcohol. Together the two cases which contained the purest grade of alcohol would have made approximately 60 gallons of whiskey. The man to whom the whiskey was addressed is a resident of Toronto and will appear before the County Magistrate on Friday.

EXHIBITION OF PAINTING.

Do not fail to visit the exhibition of painting in the Library Building Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The regular meeting of the Peterborough branch of the G.W.V.A. will be held to-night at 8 o'clock. Important business. A full attendance of members is requested.

Fresh Outbreaks Against German Government

Spartacans Start Demonstrations in Rhine Valley—Are Active in Saxony.

Special to The Examiner:

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 17. — New Spartacan outbreaks have occurred in several German towns and cities, according to despatches received here to-day. At Dresden the rioters disturbed church services. Government troops have occupied Duisburg, in the Rhine district, where the Spartacans had started demonstrations.

Better soda biscuits are made by mixing separately the dry and liquid ingredients, stirring together at the end.

A SUCCESSFUL MISSION.

The city's deputation which waited upon Hon. Dr. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals, seeking Government aid towards the construction of the new Hunter Street Bridge, are to be congratulated upon the success of their mission. As the letter from Hon. Dr. Reid, published elsewhere to-day shows, the Government has placed a grant of $50,000 in the estimates, and in consideration of the payment of this sum will be relieved of all other responsibility in connection with the bridge or its maintenance. Parliament, of course, must approve of the recommendation, but there need be little apprehension on that score. So that the visit to Ottawa have resulted in a considerable reduction in the cost to the city of the bridge. It is expected that the bridge question will be taken up immediately by the Council in view of the securing of Government assistance for the project.

ON THE RUN.

That the Hearst government is fast losing, if indeed it has not already lost, the confidence of the people of Ontario, is the only conclusion that can be formed from the figures of the by-election in St. Catharines. No other explanation is possible. In a riding which in the last provincial election was won by the government by 1,200 majority, an unknown workman, whose name was not heard of outside his limited circle of acquaintances until the present campaign began, nearly triumphed over the government candidate. The advantages, as far as the standard-bearers were concerned, was all on the side of the government. While Hopkins, the Labour candidate, was a man of no quality, Parnell, who was the Hearst candidate, was well and favourably known throughout the riding. And yet the majority in St. Catharines was reduced to little more than 400.

This defeat will be a blow to the government's confidence, and the returns of the by-election in North Ontario on Tuesday will be awaited with fear and trembling by the Ontario rulers. That their anxiety over this contest is not ill-founded, is evident from the reports from North Ontario of the ever-growing popularity of Widdifield's campaign and the constantly increasing opposition that is developing, in spite of the efforts of the Cabinet Ministers to turn the tide.

The Hearst crowd are apparently on the run. They can read their chances of success in a general election by the results of the recent by-elections, and must be thanking their stars that under the agreement entered into with the Opposition they have prolonged the fateful day as long as possible.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER

Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific has been shocked by the intelligence of the sudden seizure of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and political differences have disappeared in the universal sorrow at the news. The leader of the Liberal party has not only been one of the most outstanding figures of Canadian public life in regards to ability and statesmanship but has long been regarded as the most attractive political personality in the Dominion. His has been the happy faculty of winning and holding the affection of all who came in contact with him. Those who differed from him politically could not resist his infectious smile, his sunny nature, his refinement and amiability and the whole Dominio will share in the grief and shock of the sudden announcement from Ottawa.

Since 1871 Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been actively before the public. That date marked his entrance into the Quebec Assembly on his election in the riding of Drummond and Athabaska. His first appearance in public life revealed the qualities that were to make him famous "His debut in the Legislature," says the Toronto Globe, "is said by those whose memories go back to that time to have produced a sensation, not more by the finished grace of his oratorical abilities than by the boldness and authority with which he handled the deepest political problems." The effect of his "fluent, cultivated and charming discourse" is described by Prechette, thepoet as magical. "On the following day" he writes, "the name of Laurier was on every lip and all who then heard it will remember how those two syllables rang out true and clear, their tone that of a coin of gold, pure from all alloy and bearing the impress of sterling worth."

Sir Wilfrid entered the House of Commons in 1874 and his first speech there, confirmed the impression that he had made in the Legislature and marked him as ripe for an appointment to the Cabinet. In 1887 he became leader of the Liberal party a position that he has with consumate skill and ability filled ever since. "He had" in well known Canada writer has said, "great differences to reconcile and he had more especially, to meet and overcome the presumptions whichwould naturally bar the way to leadership and popularity, in the case of a public man whose native tongue is French, but who aspires to rule a community predominantly English in blood and speech." How well Sir Wilfrid succeeded is known to everyone. His public life has been marked by progressiveness, persistence and sturdy independence. Becoming premier of Canada in 1896, the story of the next few years is the story of unsurpassed progress for Canada and of personal triumphs for Sir Wilfrid Laurier. His visit to the Queen's Jubilee in 1897, was greeted with a reception that was almost regal. He was made a member of the Privy Council appointed a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George and received in audience by the King. The universities of Oxford and Cambridge conferred honorary degrees upon him and the Cobden Club admitted him to honorary membership and awarded him its gold medal in recognition of his exceptional and distinguished services to the cause of international and free exchange." The new departure in Imperial policy which Sir Wilfrid was able to arrange during this visit caused the London Times to say, "Laurier's name must live in the annals of the British Empire."

That it will live is not to be doubted. He has been one of the noblest of Canadians, an orator of the finest order, a statesman of the most superior type, a gentleman in all that the name implies. He is a man whose services and talents Canada can ill afford to lose in the critical problems of the reconstruction period and that his familiar figure will be missing frim the House, when the session opens this week will be a matter of the keenest regret to Canadians of all political opinions.

Since the above lines were written the wires have brought the sad intelligence that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is dead. The great heart that through all these years has beat for Canada, has stopped; the keen brain which has so faithfully planned for the welfare of the Dominion he loved so well has suspended its activity; the voice that has so eloquently and persistently spoken for freedom and justice, will be heard no more. There will be genuine mourning in all parts of the Dominion. The old Chief was a leader well beloved, even by his political enemies. In every district in Canada his passing will be regarded as a national loss, and the sympathy of the whole country will go out to Lady Laurier in her bereavement.

TIME TO WAKE UP.

Repatriation is a word that is constantly before readers of the newspapers these days. It means in the sense in which it is being used at the present time not only the return of our soldiers to the homeland, but also their restoration to civil life. It is, therefore, a word that should involve a good many things. But does it mean anything to Peterborough?

Are we in this city making any effort to meet the problems of the hour? There are scores of soldiers coming home every month; their numbers are constantly growing. Unemployment is on the increase. The surplus labour supply caused by the suspending of war industries, and increased by the effect of the British embargo upon other local concerns, is being augmented by the steadily growing number of our fighting men who are coming back to us. And what is Peterborough to do about it?

So far there has been nothing done, no local effort to meet the situation, which is becoming daily more critical! It is time that Peterborough as a city, that we as individuals, awakened to an appreciation of the serious nature of the problem. Can nothing be done locally to grapple with the situation?

There are two bodies, at least to whom the citizens have a right to look to for leadership in this matter—the City Council and the Board of Trade. Neither has so far made any effort to discharge its responsibility. Some one has said that that city will be counted the best in the days to come that will have handled its repatriation problems most perfectly. If that be the test of future greatness, Peterborough's place on the list will be, it is feared, a very humble one. The men of this city who rushed into khaki when the call came, placed Peterborough very high in the honour roll of the best recruiting communities of the Dominion. Are we now to pull our city down from its lofty position by indifference and inaction in meeting the test that repatriation brings us?

What is being done in Winnipeg in getting the employers of labour to take back into the old positions returning soldiers; what Toronto is doing in organizing a new Repatriation League of consist of fifty thousand members who will divide the city into sections and look after each individual returned man in the spirit of a common brotherhood; what other cities are doing enthusiastically and unselfishly may be done by Peterborough. But it cannot be done if things are allowed to drift as they have been drifting in this city. There must be an organization of the community for systematic action, and it would seem that the City Council and the Board of Trade might co-operate in this matter and see that there is some plan formulated by which a systematic and united effort can be launched to grapple with the general problems of repatriation as they affect Peterborough.

Finding fault with either the Dominion or Provincial governments will not meet the needs of the hour. What ever may be our opinion of whether or not our governments were prepared for the problems that follow the war, it must be recognized that the employment question is a task that falls upon the municipality, and it rests with the people of Peterborough to find a remedy for the situation.

BY RIOT OR REASON?

The work of reconstruction calls for scientific exactness in building up from war conditions to a peace basis. Also, at a time of grave shortages and much disorganization, wastefulness, of any kind works the maximum of injury.

Reconstruction by riot is bad business. It means the hurried adoption of measures designed primarily to meet temporary needs, with a tendency to ignore permanent requirements.

Sympathetic leadership is necessary after the trials and torments of the war years. Support cannot be expected for any other. But to make constituted authority the plaything of mob forces is to throw away all opportunities for real betterment and to risk disaster.

Reconstruction is inevitable, and it may be orderly or violent. The people of every nation are faced with the choice of method.

It is useless and unfair to scold European populations, threatened as they are with famine, for strange political conduct. The people are deserving only of pity. Fairly entitled to condemnation and scorn, however, are the demagogues who, at a critical phase in history, preach unrest.

Never was it easier than to-day to stir up passions by visiting upon individuals or classes the blame for unfortunate conditions, such as high food prices. Never was it easier to work upon the feelings of the crowd by attributing some freak of war's vast overturning to enmity or greed.

And this at a time that calls for moderation and order—for the public good! This at a time when the cost of impatience and thoughtlessness must be paid in human lives!

The symbol of the present phase of political history is the bread-basket. The root cause of unrest is the food situation.

The demand of the moment is for the satisfaction of man's appetites, yet the lesson of the ages is that man does not live by bread alone. Reconstruction based simply upon man's craving for the creature necessities and comforts is not competent to endure.

Centuries crashed in the giant tragery of the great war, and our task now is to lay the foundation for the centuries to come. Crude and sordid measures, lacking as they must the characteristics of permanence, will set our course towards another bloody disillusionment.

The present generation's alarms are fleeting. To satisfy its needs without prejudice to the common rights of the generations to follow is the duty of statesmanship. This duty can be fulfilled only by reconstructive measures vigorously taken up by leaders granted the help of a sober and reasonable public opinion.—Montreal Star.

7,000 Officers Were Murdered

An Example of Bolshevist Method Told by Traveler.

PARIS.—I talked with a man who is well known to many people in Chicago and who would be identified by many others if I were permitted to give his name. He has just returned from a trip of many months covering little known parts of Europe and Asia. He travelled in a semi-official capacity and had the best facilities for observation and for collecting information.

He brought back with him sensational stories of operations of the Bolsheviki in Russia which I have never seen in print. Here is a sample describing the capture of the city of Kazan, which lies sixty miles to the east of Moscow.

"The Republicans, anti-Bolsheviki, were in control of Kazan, one of the considerable but not well-known cities of Russia. Kazan is so close to Moscow that the Bolsheviki hated to see it in the hands of their enemies. They were reinforced by a large band of mutinous sailors from the Russian fleet. These men brought with them a number of machine guns and quantities of ammunition. Meanwhile the Moscow Bolsheviki sent emissaries into Kazan to spread their doctrine. They told the ignorant workmen of the city that once the Bolsheviki got power no workmen would have to labour more than four or five hours a day, while wages would be at least ten times what they were getting.

"Finally the Moscow Bolsheviks organized the rabble into an army several hundred strong. This band wailed out of the city in the direction of Kazan. At every village they reached all the male inhabitants were forced to join the marching columns. Immediately behind the so-called army came the sailors armed with their machine guns, and whenever the army showed signs of weariness or signs of discontent the machine guns were used to force them to advance.

"When word came of the Bolsheviki advance the republicans in Kazan got ready to meet it. They got together a considerable force, largely made up of former officers in the Russian Army, and marched out of Kazan to face the coming enemy. At the same time the Bolshevik in Kazan redoubled their efforts. They used large bribes, promises and threats to induce the workmen to join them in organizing a detachment to attack the republicans in their rear.

"When the Bolsheviki from Moscow attacked in front, the newly gathered mob from Kazan unexpectedly closed in from the other direction and the Republicans were surrounded and forced to surrender. More than 7,000 former officers of the Russian Army were captured. Of these no fewer than 3,000 were taken, at one time, into an open field and sailors turned machine guns on them. All but two were killed. I talked at length with one of the two who escaped. Later the other 4,000 were also massacred.

"That, I think, is a fair sample of the way in which the Bolsheviki operate."

When the office seeks the man he has a strangle hold on it.

The deserving poor are often those who don't deserve to be poor.

Word to Investors

The gold and silver mines of Ontario have paid to shareholders in dividends $91,000,000. The gold mines are just ten years old and have only begun their career as producers. The camps are within a day's journey of any Ontario point. Selected Ontario mining stocks are in a position to return larger profits than any other class of securities. There are a large number of people in Ontario who have limited means at their disposal, which they would like to invest safely. We are in a position to assist investors to select securities which are safe and which afford the greatest possibilities for profit-making. We have an elaborate information bureau which is entirely at your service free of charge. Write us concerning investment opportunities. We will be pleased to advise you promptly.

Knotty Lee Succeeds In His Attempt To Start New League

Flint, Bay, Saginaw and Lansing Will Enter—Organization Meeting to Be Held on February 22

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 12. — The Ontario-Michigan Baseball league will be organized at a meeting to be held at the Bancroft hotel in Saginaw, Mich., on Saturday, February 22. This statement was made by "Knotty" Lee of Toronto, one of Canada's best known baseball league organizers, upon his return from a tour of various vities in Michigan. Lee spent Sunday in this city and met J. W. Keenan and several business men who are behind the local club in the new circuit.

Flint, Saginaw, Bay City and Lansing are the four Michigan cities to be linked with London, Brantford, Hamilton and Kitchener in the formation of the league, and, taking the population of the eight cities combined, will be enabled to play to over half a million people. This is more than is required for class B ball by the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues and assures the success of the venture, with every city mentioned a live one.

Influential Backers Interested.

The backers of the new organization in Michigan are representative men, and the game will be in better hands than in the past. Judge Clemens is at the head of affairs at Saginaw, while T. H. Halligan will be the man behind the gun. Eugene Fifield of the Michigan Sugar company, T. H. Burton and Owen E. McCabe are the men behind the stock company formed at Bay City to place a club in the league, while C. L. Carey will have control of the club at Lansing, where "Slad" Warner, former manager of the Brantford club in the old Canadian league, is likely to take charge of the club, as Lansing is his home.

The longest railway jump in the proposed circuit is 215 miles, between Hamilton and Lansing, as compared with over 400 miles from London to Ottawa in the old Canadian league. The London club is in favour of the circuit after reconsidering the proposition, although being opposed to it in the beginning.

Why Kitchener Is Favoured.

Kitchener is favoured as the fourth Canadian city because of the fact that it is so situated within easy distance by radial railways of four smaller towns and draws from a population of nearly fifty thousand. It is also in one of the best industrial districts in Western Ontario.

A table showing populations of the cities to form the league as compiled by Lee is as follows: Saginaw 70,000, Flint 80,000, Lansing 55,372, Bay City 47,047, total 252,419; London 61,031, Hamilton 116,400, Brantford 36,601, Kitchener 24,380, total 230,412.

Michigan Hungry For It.

Organizer Lee did not encounter much difficulty in whiping things into condition in Michigan, and much to his surprise found business men in all the cities ready to take up the question of re-establishing the game. The fact that American and Canadian holidays come on at different times, in addition to legalized Sunday baseball in Michigan makes the league one of the most attractive in organized baseball. Canadian fans will in all probability get more Saturday games, while every city on the Michigan end can look forward to Sunday ball every week end.

Manager J. W. Keenan of the London club is already signing up players for his team and is arranging to alter the grounds at Tecumseh Park and the stands.

Big Shake-up Among the First Sackers of Old League

Many Deer-Tenders Are Expected to Change Berths—A Few of the Changes Proposed.

By the time the opening of the baseball season rolls around a general shake-up in the ranks of the National league first basemen will have been effected. The transfer of Jake Daubert from Brooklyn to Cincinnati is only the first of a series of expected moves which will affect a number of famous first sackers in the parent major league.

Just who will replace Daubert at the initial corner for the Robins is not quite clear. Clarence Mitchell, now in Germany with the army of occupation, is a remarkable fielder around first base and a sharp and dependable hitter, so that Mitchell may be the first choice of Uncle Wilbert Robinson if through the fortunes of war he is permitted to return to this country in time for the opening of the season. Daubert will, of course, guard the first turn for the Reds, replacing Hal Chase.

Mention of Chase leads to further speculation concerning the immediate future of that brilliant and highly interesting young man. It is expected tha he will go to the Giants. Recent utterances of John McGraw make it appear that Holke is regarded by him in a more favourable light than he was a few months ago, and if Chase should be rendered ineligible the Giants leader probably will fall back on Walter for the first base job. However, if Chase be obtained, it stands to reason that Holke will be sold or traded to another club, and there is at least one, and possibly two, outfits which are likely to bid for his services.

One of these is Philadelphia, the other is Boston. In Philadelphia doubt is being cast by a number of critics on the ability of Fred Luderus to hold down his old berth in real major league style in future. Fred, though always a valuable man, has never been very fast afoot and he has slowed down to an appreciable extent in the last year or two. It is is reported in the Quaker City that Jack Coombs is on the lookout for a younger and spryer man to replace Fred, and Jack may make an effort to engnare Holke, who, under favourable conditions, is more than just passing fair as a first baseman.

Ed. Konetchy is no longer the first sacker that he was in days gone by, and it may be that George Stallings, who must reconstruct his team along broad lines in order to put the Braves back on a solid basis with Boston fandom, will make an offer for Holke if McGraw decides to put Walter on the market.

Fred Merkle, who, like Luderus and Koney, also is slowing up, had a good year in 1918 and is still well thought of in Chicago, so that Fred Mitchell is anxious to have him at his usual post for the coming season, and Gene Paulette is quite certain to play first base again for the Cardinals, but the only "doortender" in the league who has a copper riveted hold on his job is Fred Mollwitz of the Pirates.

Mollwitz, after trials in Cincinnati and Chicago, followed by a term in the minors, has made good with a vengeance in Pittsburg, and the Smoky City fans are strong for him. There is little to wonder at in Mollwitz's popularity in that city, as he is the first good man to fill the position for the Corsairs since Kitty Bransfield's day.

MUCH INTEREST IN CITY CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

The announcement that the Peterborough intermediates and juniors are to clash at Brock street rink on Thursday night has been received joyfully by the fans, who are anxious to see how the two teams compare in a real game. It is expected that Capt. M. H. Park will handle the bell. The old Peterborough centre player would be acceptable to both teams, and it is hoped that he will consent to act. It will be a real battle all the way between two good teams and already there are many arguments as to the outcome. Both teams have their supporters and this city championship affair promises to be as exciting as any O.H.A. fixture that has been seen here this season. The juniors may be without the services of Park, their regular right wing player, who has not entirely recovered from the result of the injury he received at Lindsay, but otherwise the teams will be at full strength.

Pirates Lost in Crooksville Because Hyatt Made a Homer

(By Max Carey, Star Outfielder of the Pirates.)

A few years ago, when barnstormers were still in vogue, a little band of twelve Pirates hove into the burg of Crooksville, somewhere in the wilds of Ohio, ready to play an exhibition game with the village "champs."

The natives were out in force to see the "big liggers" scramble off the mixed accommodation train, and a committee of one escorted the team to a boarding house, where an unused room served as headquarters. After diligent inquiry it was discovered that the only bathtub in town was being used, and that the players would have to take their showers after the game in a washtub in the back yard.

Everything went lovely until the fifth inning, when a dark, threatening cloud appeared overhead. The score was 10 to 1 in favour of the Pirates, two out and big Ham Hyatt next at bat. Twice before old "Ham" had lost a precious ball by knocking it downtown, a kid having caught one on the second hop as it was coming down the main thoroughfare. One more ball in the grip, one more out to get the $150 guarantee, and Ham feeling like one more homer.

"Should I go for another, boys?" Silence on the bench.

"Well, what do you say?"

Chorus—"Sure, go ahead and make it three; it won't rain."

Bang! Another one per cent. of the $150 was on its way downtown. Ham leisurely made the circuit and never missed a base as the natives applauded with one hand while the other was opening the trusty umbrella. Still one out to go to call it a ball game.

"What's that? No more balls? Who said there was one more?" A deluge, a scampering for shelter, and the 150 bones rolled back into the pockets of the natives of Crooksville on the crest of a mighty flood.

Grocers Win From the High Rollers

Last Friday night the Grocers and High Rollers battled in a ten-pin league fixtures at the Water street alleys. The games were closely contested, the Grocers winning out by one pin in the third game.

Dawson, for the Grocers, had high count with 562, Weber 547, Ross 552. For the High Rollers Solomon and Thompson were 500 markers, with 547 and 522. Thompson had high single of 221. The scores:

| High Rollers— | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Hayes | 172 | 127 | 166 | 465 |
| Mitses | 126 | 166 | 150 | 442 |
| Heaslip | 170 | 143 | 120 | 433 |
| Thompson | 141 | 160 | 221 | 522 |
| Solomon | 187 | 171 | 189 | 547 |
| | 796 | 767 | 846 | 2409 |
| Grocers— | | | | |
| Weber | 184 | 149 | 214 | 547 |
| Ross | 172 | 208 | 178 | 552 |
| Routley | 173 | 121 | 135 | 429 |
| Gillespie | 163 | 120 | 126 | 409 |
| Dawson | 178 | 190 | 194 | 562 |

PLEASED WITH PETERBOROUGH 'SPIEL

The veteran curler J. D. Flavelle, has returned from Peterborough 'spiel, where he was playing night and day, and immediateley resumed his local schedule of games, winning out from Skip Anderson in a close game by 9 to 6.

Speaking of the Peterborough bonspiel Mr. Flavelle states that it was a good one in every respect. Ice conditions were excellent, there being a large attendance, many good games, everything above board, and the Peterborough curlers used the visitors "white" in very respect. The veteran stated he always enjoyed curling at Peterborough, and all being well would be on hand next season.—Lindsay Warder.

BOWLING NEWS

Prize winners last week at the George street alleys were: W. Downer first in ten pins, A. Peters first in five pins; C. Bishea first in B class. Good prizes will be given this week.

League game Tuesday night, Barries vs. Matthews-Blackwell.

COL. BENSON'S ESTATE.

Divided in Equal Parts Among His Four Nieces and Nephew.

COBOURG, Feb. 17. — The late Lieut.-Col. F. G. Benson, of Port Hope, left an estate of about $30,000. Among legacies are $200 to the Church of St. John, Port Hope, and $200 to the Port Hope Hospital. The residue of the estate is divided equally among his four nieces: Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Jaffray, Miss Clara Benson, and a nephew, G. Bengley Benson.

THIS WEEK AT WATER ST. ALLEYS

Following are the games scheduled for this week in the Business Men's Ten Pin League:

Monday—Grocers vs. Printers.

Tuesday—Can. Gen. Elec. vs. High Rollers.

Wednesday—De Laval vs. Matthews-Blackwell.

On Thursday night the Maple Leafs and High Rollers battle for second place in the 5-pin league. The game promises to be a fast one, as both teams are out to win.

The blind score in connection with the 'B' five-pi league was won by Mr. Pidgeon, who made the perfect score of 120.

J. Marsden won last week's prize for 3 high games in 5-pins with 738. The runners up were: Schleffel 728, Jory 717.

HOCKEY

Sporting Editor:

Will you please settle this argument. A bets Cherrett scored the most goals of any Peterborough junior this season, while B bets that Frost was the high scorer. Which wins?

Hockey Lover.

Neither is correct. Park was the scoring ace for the juniors his season, getting 10 goals in the five O.H.A. games played. Cherrett was second with 8 to his credit, while Frost scored 6. Park was the only player to find the nets in every game played, and the only Peterborough player to score in the last game in Lindsay.—Sporting Editor.

There will be a hockey practice at Brock street rink to-night in preparation for Thursday's game. All players are requested to be out.

Twenty Years Ago Princess Victoria Had the Combings of Her Pet Spaniel Spun Into Yarn

To most persons the spinning and knitting of dog's wool seemed to be an outgrowth of the necessities of this war. But it appears that twenty years ago Princess Victoria had the combings of her pet brown spaniel spun into yarn by the Sandringham Village Industry and the Princess herself knitted the wool into a brown shawl for herself. It was at Sandringham also that the first Borzoi wool was spun. King Edward made the suggestion, and clipped the first sample from his famous Borzoi Alex for the test.

Twenty years before that the hair of St. Bernard's was knitted into mittens and mufflers and ten years earlier poodles' wool was spun and woven into cloth that is to-day as good as when first made up, although the cap has been worn ever since. A waistcoat knitted from the wool of skye terriers has been worn constantly for two winters and shows no sign of its service. Even the hair of Persian cats has been spun into the loveliest wool by the British Dogs' Wool Association. The wire-haired dogs have proven themselves real war workers, also ,for their combings make ideal filling for pillows for wounded limbs.

There is every prospect that the spinning of dogs' wool can and will be developed as a national handicraft since much of the spinning can be done in country homes and no doubt in these same places there will develop some interesting work in weaving and knitting. One very important consideration is the fact that the yarn is practically indestructible and of delightful texture, thus giving every encouragement to careful designing of patterns in weaving.

PUT STRIKE IN WAR BOARD'S HANDS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The National War Labour Board will intervene to settle the textile strike at Paterson, N.J., under an agreement reached here by representatives of both sides in conference with officials of the Department of Labour. The board will proceed immediately with its investigation, and both employes and employers will abide by its decision. The strikers also will be expected to return to work pending a decision.

TENTH OF OUR POPULATION TO-DAY IS COMPOSED OF UNNATURALIZED ALIENS

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 15.—Approximately one-tenth of the population of the United States is composed of unnaturalized aliens, accordinp to Raymond F. Crist, Deputy Commissioner of Naturalization, who declared that such a condition would not be permitted by any other country, and appealed to American citizens to help in making citizens of alien residents. He said there were 10,500,000 persons in this country who still retain their allegiance to the land of their birth.

"There are now 17,500,000 aliens in this country, yet barely 6,000,000 have become citizens," Mr. Crist said.

"The war revealed that while the great majority of Germans in this country were loyal, there were nevertheless far too many German aliens who felt only hatred for the country that has so generously received them. It is time now to act to prevent any recurrence of this experience."

SNAKE-CHARMERS' FAKES

Ignorant People in India Easily Duped.

One of the many ways in which snake charmers dupe innocent people in India is thus described:—

One of them puts a harmless snake in a stupefied condition,into a house and his companion then tells the women of the house that he has noticed a poisonous snake there. The people are alarmed and offer a reward to the snake charmer to remove the reptile. He declares it to be a deadly poisonous one and asks a good sum of money for the exploit, which, he says, may cost him his life. The reward is fixed and the money paid.

The snake charmer commences to play on his bagpipe. The snake, previously rendered harmless, crawls into the middle of the room, and the snake charmer, in catching it, says that he has been bitten and falls senseless. His companion comes forward and puts a snake stone on an incision previously made for the purpose on the man's finger. The snake charmer at once recovers and gets up. His audience are much astonished and give a bi gpresent to the cured snake charmer, who departs with the snake and the profit he has made.

The New Duffus Garage

(FIREPROOF)

Cor. CHARLOTTE and WATER STREETS

WE hope to be able shortly to announce the date of the First Formal Public Opening of our New Home, preparations for which are now under way.

This Opening Event will embrace one whole week of Expert Motor Car Demonstations, and interesting and instructive object lessons on the Evolution of the Modern Automobile. Motion Picture Films will be shown daily, replete with fascinating views of the construction and witchery of the Modern Motor Car. Besides, opportunity will be afforded visitors for inspecting the up-to-date equipment and Car Service included in the 25,000 sq. ft. of floor space of our new Premises.

The New 1919 Ford

Is still the Universal Car

And the Price has not been advanced.

It still occupies a special field of its own, and there is still no danger of a usurper.

Ford Endurance, Ford Dependability, and Ford Service, have made the Ford Car universally popular, so much so that it is still true that "every third Car in Canada to-day is a Ford Car."

If you contemplate the purchase or a car let it be a FORD—and, by all means, BUY IT NOW. The sooner you buy the less it will cost.

This does not mean that the price will be raised, but if does mean that the production of cars will be entirely inadequate.

Spring is only a few weeks off. No Ford Dealer has enough cars to meet the requirements when Spring buying gets under way.

Men are beginning to realize the situation. THEY ARE BUYING THEIR CARS NOW. They take no chance on deliveries in the face of known limited stocks. We cannot even accept premiums for prompt preferred deliveries. Production is limited and sales at this season equal the present output. THAT'S THE SITUATION.

Sudden Death of Mr. W. H. Walkey

Was a Veteran Member of Public School Teaching Staff.

William Henry Walkey, 47 Benson avenue, died at his residence suddenly on Sunday morning at 2:30. He had suffered from heart trouble for the past few years but his death was quite unexpected. On Saturday he had made his usual visit down town. In the evening at eleven o'clock he finished his work on some church books and complained of feeling cold before retiring. He passed away through the night.

Deceased was born in Whitby, 62 years ago. Here he taught for a short time later removing to Ottawa to complete his education and take a position on the Public School staff. Before coming to the city twenty two years ago he taught in the Bailieboro school. In 1897 he became Principal of the North Ward school which position he held until the Queen Alexandra School replaced the North Ward School when he was appointed Vice Principal. He retired from the latter position two years ago on account of his health.

For thirty two years he has been a prominent member of the Masonic Fraternity and was Past Master o. Peterborough Lodge No 155, Past First Principal of Corinthian Chapter No. 36, First Preceptor of Moore Preceptory No. 13 and Past Deputy District Grand Master of this district.

Mr. Walkey's death will be deeply mourned by all the congregation of St. John's Church in which he took an unfailing interest. For many years he was Vestry Clerk and for about 26 years Superintendent of St. John's Sunday School.

He was married in Ottawa and is survived by his wife, one son Horace of the Bank of Montreal staff and one daughter, Lillian, at home, also two brothers and one sister, namely John, Titus and Mrs. Urquhart all of Toronto.

The funeral under Masonic auspices will be announced later.

W. E. Carey Charged With Desertion

Was Working on a Farm in Otonabee When Ordered to Report.

William Everett Carey, a young man 23 years of age was arrested on Friday, February 7th, at the farm of Mr. John Heffernan, R. R. No. 8, Otonabee Township by the Dominion Police on the charge of being an absentee from the 1st Depot Battalion. The Military Police allege that he received a notice to report for military duty from Major H. P. Cook the registrar at Kingston on August 1st 1917 but that he never showed up. In this morning's police court Mr. E. A. Peck, the counsel for the defence referred to exceptional circumstances and a plea of not guilty was entered by the prisoner. He also declined to elect whether for summary trial or trial by jury.

Mr. Peck showed a letter written by the legal firm of Peck, Kerr and McElderry to the Military Registrar at Kingston asking that Carey be not ordered to report for military duty on account of work on the farm but that if he were ordered to report that the notice be sent to him (Mr. Peck). This letter, to the knowledge of Mr. Peck, was never received by him yet Carey is arrested by the Dominion Police as an absentee. Crown Attorney Hatton contends that Carey comes within the class that were called out and could not claim exemption.

"It was a mere formality when the farmers' sons reported at Kingston," said Mr. Peck, addressing the Magistrate. "They reported and were sent home again.

"All election talk," said Magistrate Dumble. "They were told that they would be exempted before the election but they weren't. Parties will stoop to anything at election time."

ANNUAL MEETING 57TH BATT. BAND

A Record Attendance — Officers Elected for the Year.

The annual meeting of the 57th Regt. Band, held in the Sergeants' Mess at the Armouries, was noted for a record attendance and marked enthusiasm. The treasurer's report, which showed a balance on hand of $188.00, was particularly gratifying, especially when the abnormal conditions due to the war are taken into consideration. It must be remembered that this organization has carried on throughout the entire war without regimental or government assistance, and one year without a civic grant. In addition thirty-three of their members enlisted and went overseas, but notwithstanding all these discouraging circumstances the band executive managed to keep up sufficient organization to fill scores of gratis engagements in connection with home guards and soldiers leaving and returning from the front. The re-organization of the regiment, which is now under way, will give the band a chance to expand and eventually reach its pre-war time efficiency. The membership, which now totals thirty-three, will be greatly increased by a vigorous campaign for new and capable men, as well as by ex-members from overseas who have promised to take their place in the ranks on their return. The latest overseas men to fall in line are ex-members Bandsmen Gibson and McCabe, both of whom saw service in France [illegible] tions.

The Officers.

Hondrary President—R. M. Beach.
President—Chas. Westbrook.
Vice-Pres.—T. McBrien.
Manager and Secretary—J. A. Harper.
Treasurer—G. H. Benson.
Sergeant—F. Hully.
Corporal—E. Darrington.
Librarian—J. Minnicola.
Executive committee— W. Corbett (chairman) and W. Chambers, W. Townsend, H. Lancashire, G. Clarke, O. Turner, O. Crowe, D. Memo, F. C. Miller, T. A. Poole and M. Cacavella.

A rehearsal is called for this evening at 8 p.m., and a meeting of the Executive for Wednesday evening, when action will be taken towards securing new men for several desirable positions which are being held open to the order of the 57th.

Music & Drama

THE OTHER MAN'S WIFE

Based on the ever-present argument of the double standard "The Other Man's Wife", at the Grand on Saturday proved a powerful cleverly written drama that held its audience from first to last curtain by the effectiveness of its situations and the strength of its lines. The play is written around the career of Nellie Ramsgate, who some time before the action of the drama has been betrayed by a scoundrel. Later she marries a lawyer in whose office she had been employed as stenographer and who knows nothing of her past. The opening of the play finds her happily married but with a haunting fear that the sordid episode in her life will yet rise up to condemn her. Her husband's half-brother is expected as a visitor and when he arrives turns out to be the man who had betrayed. The remainder of the play is the story of the wife's suffering under the strain of the terrible situation in which she is assisted by Vera Hampton a former cabaret girl whose heart is as big as language is unusual.

Miss Dorothy La Vern scored heavily in this part which is rich in comedy and affords an opportunity for brilliant work of which Miss La Vern took every advantage. Miss Dorothy Russell was excellent as the wife. Eugene Weber starred as the lawyer husband and Howard Walsh was sufficiently villainous as the wicked brother. The comedy was small but excellently balanced and the production was in every way most pleasing.

FROM SCUGOGVILLE.

Saturday—Peterborough city had a representative in town this week enquiring into the matter of co-operative delivery for retail merchants. He called on Kennedy Bros., and was given all information necessary, but was informed that the co-operative system is working out well in Lindsay for all parties.

Mr. Sexsmith, a brother of the member for Peterborough, was in town regarding the question—Lindsay Warder.

PETERBORO BOYS ARE NOW ROTARIANS

A. P. McLean and Melvin Hutchinson in the Wild and Woolly West.

A. P. McLean, a former Peterborough resident, and an employee of Matthews-Blackwell Co. in Winnipeg, is described in Winnipeg at the Nineteenth Annual Conference of the Rotary Clubs as the most popular man around the cafeteria (he supplies the eats). Another former Peterborough boy at the conference is M. J. Hutchinson, of whom the Manitoba Free Press has the following to say:

"Dear Sir Editor,—I take my pen in hand to let you know that news is still scarce around Newcastle.—Yours truly, Melvin." This is the way that M. J. Hutchinson set a match to the newspaper world when, at the ambitious age of 15 years, he became rural correspondent of the Bowmanville, (Ont.) Statesman. Naturally the unexpected "Sir" made a hit with the editor and Newcastle items were emblazoned on the Statesman's front page. Melvin J. and Sir Sam Hughes were both born in Durham County, but there the resemblance seems to have ceased, the former having dropped the "Sirring" of editors and General Samuel taking up the habit as a personal acquirement. M. J. soon developed a roving spirit and left home, finally dropping anchor in Sault Ste. Marie to engage in the manufacture of liquid air for [illegible] H. Clergus, the "Wizard of the Soo" so-called. Hot air seems to have been more of a compelling force than liquid, however, and he soon harkened again to the call of the newspaper office, going this time to the Peterborough Examiner as city editor of the Examiner, then owned by the late Hon. J. R. Stratton. Four years later, as the story writers say, Mr. Hutchinson boarded the train for Toronto, to become editor and finally manager of the Dry Goods Review, in the offices of the MacLean Publishing Co. After the lapse of another four years, in 1912 to be exact, he came west to fill the advertising manager's job on the Regina Leader. On May 1st, 1915, he took over his present position as managing director of the Bulletin Company. Naturally he is a 33rd degree Rotarian, a charter member in fact, and is, strangely enough for a newspaperman, a real member of the Automobile Club. He was married to Miss Agnes Beath, of North Bay, Ontario.

In addition to holding the office of District Governor for District 19, "Hutch" is also chairman of the Newspaper Section of International Rotary. This section comprises 600 newspaper publishers and editors. He was one of the 17 charter members of the Edmonton Rotary Club, which was formed in March, 1916, and was chairman of the committee in charge of the annual district conference which was held in Edmonton in February of last year.

Germans Will Seize Fortunes of Wealthy

Drastic Steps Will Be Taken to Secure Costs of War.

WEIMAR, Friday, Feb. 17.—There will be a sharp seizure of the fortunes of the wealthy, according to a prediction made before the German National Assembly by Dr. Heim, a Socialist, in discussing the Socialists' programme. He did not believe, however, that the Government would be able to get the great sums needed by seizing fortunes, and he thought that the balance necessary must be taken from the war profits.

The wealthy, Dr. Heim added, will be hit "at their most sensitive point—the pocketbook." Luxuries will not be permitted, and inheritances will be taxed so that all over a certain moderate sum will be taken by the Government. Dr. Heim said he feared that hundreds of millions of marks already had been squandered by the Finance Ministers of Saxony and Bavaria.

Wilson Reviews the Comment

Woodrow is on His Way Home—Will Inform American People.

By Robert J. Bender.
(United Press.)

ABOARD U.S.N. GEORGE WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—President Wilson displayed the deepest interest to-day in American comment on the League of Nations, received by wireless. He devoted considerable time to studying the varying degrees of approbation and disapproval, especially that emanating from Washington.

The American people will be made acquainted by the President with all matters in connection with the League, it can be stated on the highest authority. He is prepared to clear up all doubt regarding application of the League principles to the Monroe Doctrine.

Pleads For Forces To Fight Bolshies

Grandmother of Russian Revolution Makes Plea to U. S. Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Catharine Breshkovsky, "Grandmother of the Russian Revolution," stood before the Senate propaganda inquiry committee and pleaded earnestly that America send machinery and other materials to Russia to aid in an industrial reconstruction which she said would result in ridding the nation of the Bolshevik burden. Allied troops, she said, would be effective against the "brigand Bolsheviki," only if augmented and sent on the offensive.

"Would allied troops be welcomed by all Russians, except the Bolsheviki?" she was asked. "Certainly, certainly," replied the aged woman earnestly. "Our people there are so tired of the Bolsheviki, so tired. They have asked aid from you for a year, come and beat the Bolsheviki. The Russian people will be glad, very glad."

Throughout most of her testimony Madame Breshkovsky spurned the witness chair, despite her 75 years, and stood stolidly before the Senators.

The story of Russia's revolt against Czardom, of the turmoil which came out of revolution of the Bolsheviki and of present poverty, was told fervently in broken English by the woman, who was imprisoned and exiled in Siberia for 32 years for preaching revolution to Russian peasants, and who recently hid herself for months in Moscow and Petrograd to evade death from the Bolsheviki, by whom she was regarded as too conservative.

It was only when questioned that Madame Breshkovsky spoke of the intervention af allied troops.

"They aid us only if they get results against the Bolsheviki," she explained.

"When they stand still, they do no good. No less than 50,000, well armed, would do good, I am sure, I am sure."

Originally, she added, it was the presence of French and British troops at Omsy which precipitated the Bolshevik dictatorship, but now all Russians but the Bolsheviki pray for deliverance by the Czecho-Slovaks, or any other forces.

"We are on the verge of a chasm," she declared. "It is not too late for you to save Russia."

"If the Bolsheviki go on, will it mean dimination of Russia by Germany?" inquired a Senator.

"Certainly," she replied. "Germany and Japan, these two rivals will divide Russia between them."

Work Starts on the Trent Canal

It is good news to hear from Washago that already operations on the Trent Canal have begun, and that about fifty men are engaged at that point on preparatory work, which will clear the way for a large force as the season advances. It is also significant that foreigners are not being employed on the job, and that in engaging men the contractors are giving the preference to returned soldiers.

A. P. Macauley, of Toronto, Fails to Collect Damages in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 17.—Federal Judge Pollock has sustained action for the dismissal of the $250,000 damage suit of Anexander P. Macauley of Toronto, Canada, against the Stix Baer, and Fuller Drygoods Company, and overruled motions for dismissal in his suit against the Famous Barr Company for $500,000. Macauley is suing on charges of false arrest, elleging employees of the companies identified him as a check forger in 1917, after several of the famous "Christmas Keogh's" forgeries had been passed on the establishments. Macauley later was exonerated.

ALLIES DEMAND LONG-RANGE GUN

COBLENZ, Feb. 17.—The allies have taken steps to gain possession of one of the long-range guns which the Germans used to fire upon Paris. The inter-allied commission at Spa has made demands upon the German delivering commission that a long-range gun be included in the war material which the Germans are turning over to the allies.

"A Man, a Lion, a Pit and a Snowy Day," By Rev. A. J. Thomas

Subject of Interesting Address in George Street Methodist Church —Still Many Opportunities.

The Rev. A. J. Thomas delivered an intensely interesting and instructive address at George street Methodist church Sunday evening. His topic was "A Man, a Lion, a Pit and a Snowy Day."

He told the story of the brave and courageous Benaiah who slew a lion. Near the village where Benaiah lived it was learned that a vicious and hungry lion was wandering about. One snowy morning Benaiah saw the footsteps of the lion in the snow. He determined to seek and kill it, as everybody was afraid of it. The snow made it very difficult for Benaiah in his pursuit. Nevertheless he continued, and at last came to a pit, a kind of dry cistern, into which the lion had gone. With his small, crude knife, he jumped therein, determined to carry out his objective, even though it was hard to accomplish. The result was that the lion was killed and Benaiah was a hero. He had performed his deed at the risk of his own life in order to make safe the lives of his neighbours.

Spirit of Courage.

The same spirit of courage is needed every day. The call was made for such courageous men as Benaiah in the last four years and was splendidly answered. Many showed the same indifference to his or her own life as Benaiah had shown with the lion in the pit on a snowy day. Still more, a large number paid the supreme sacrifice, and their heroic acts stand as an example to us.

Mr. Thomas stated that it is well for us to be brave as there are more lions to be overthrown and this cannot be done easily. In order to be useful to our generation and civilization we shall have to overcome many difficulties and obstacles. All great characters such as Demosthenes, Franklin, Wyatt, Lloyd George and every other man who has accomplished great deeds in this world have to strive hard and fight many battles in their rise. Everyone should become a useful servant of God and triumph over difficulties— using them as stepping stones to higher positions.

There are many opportunities for high achievements. If we use our talents, and do not shrink from our tasks we shall be able to accomplish great things. We should follow our pathway in the face of obstacles and our success is largely in ourselves. "Alexander" of days gone by said, "Nothing is impossible to man if he will try."

Striving For Success.

While striving for success man should be willing to pay the price for the betterment of civilization, be ready to denounce wrong even though it is practised by so-called respectable citizens and be ready to face an enemy. At the same time we should be indifferent to censure and criticism. He is a hero who stands firm in the face of obstacles and remains true to God and humanity.

The speaker closed with an appeal to be courageous in the fulfillment of our obligations toward Jesus Christ.

COMPARISON OF COAL.

Anthracite has Nearly 20 Per Cent. More Heat than Soft.

Anthracite is more valuable for heating purposes than any other coal. It contains as much as ninety-eight parts in a hundred of pure carbon, while bituminous coal averages only about eighty parts of carbon in a hundred.

Mme. Lebaudy Gives Lodge to Gardener, And Seeks Retreat

Widow of "Sahara Emperor" Will Probably Return to France.

WESTBURY, L.I. — When Madame Marie Augustine Lebaudy went into seclusion with her daughter, Jacqueline, "somewhere on Long Island," Jules Lascombe, the Peruvian who has acted as gardener and handyman about the place, became not only custodian but sole owner of The Lodge.

He so informed reporters who visited the estate, only to find that the slayer of Jacques Lebaudy, who had been exonerated by the Nassau County grand jury of a charge of killing her husband, had sought quiet and comfort at some place on the island known only to her counsel, Harry K. Moore, Dr. Joseph A. Kerrigan, and the faithful trained nurse, Mrs. Minnie Wiedmer, who had been in constant attendance upon her since she was stricken with a bronchial attack several days before the shooting.

Faithful servant that he is, or rather was, Jules couldn't hide the happiness he felt when he confided to the reporters that Mme. Labaudy had made him owner of the estate. True, he was immensely pleased that his mistress had been exonerated and set free, he fairly chuckled when he made it known that before Mme. Lebaudy, accompanied by Jacqueline and Mrs. Wiedmer, had departed she had informed him that henceforth he was to be sole owner of The Lodge to do with as he wished.

The legal formalities attending the transfer of the property are not yet arranged. He couldn't conceive of any legal technicalities arising which would prevent his becoming the sole possession of The Lodge, where he so long laboured for the woman and child, whose appreciation of his devotion has now been shown in such a substantial manner.

All the miney Jules had to his name —and he displayed it to the reporters was twenty seven cents. However, he explained, he intends to raise a sufficient sum to send for his wife, who is living in Peru, and have her hurry on her to share The Lodge with him.

"What it is they say—land poor," asked Jules. "Yes, that is what I am. I love the place and will remain here, perhaps until I die."

Even Mme. Lebaudy's spiritual adviser, Rev. Dr. William F. McGinnis, pastor of St. Bridget's Church at Westbury, had not been informed where they had gone. It was learned, however, that it is unlikely that Mme. Labaudy will ever return to The Lodge, and in all probability will make arrangements to go back to France and have Jacqueline educated here.

THE EARLY MIRRORS.

Became Articles of Household Furniture in Sixteenth Century.

In the early part of the sixteenth century mirrors first became articles of household furniture and decoration. Previous to that time—from the twelfth to the end of the fifteenth century — pocket mirrors or small hand mirrors, carried at the girdle, were adjuncts to ladies' toilets. The pocket mirrors consisted of small circular plaques of polished metal fixed in a shallow circular box covered with a lid.

He Went Into Army on One Leg, Comes Out with Two Legs

Frank J. McGuire of Syracuse, Was Persistent and Succeeded in Doing His Part

Many men lost one or both legs while serving with the colors, but Frank J. McGuire, of Syracuse, N.Y., believes himself to be the only man having one leg who succeeded in being accepted for service and emerged from it with two legs. McGuire's right leg was cut off below the knee in a railroad accident in 1915 and when he reported to the limited service camp at Syracuse he was walking on crutches. Last week when he received an honorable discharge at Hoboken, N. J., he had two legs and was walking without crutches.

"There's another impossible in the world," McGuire said yesterday as he sat in the offices of the American Soldiers' and Sailors' Protective Association, at No. 1,440 Broadway, and told the methods he used to be accepted in the army. This is his story:

"When the United States entered the war, I wanted to be like other boys and fight for my country. But I had lost my right limb and when I applied to the army and navy recruiting stations in Syracuse I was rejected. I tried to enlist in other cities, but always the same result—rejected.

"When I saw troop train after troop train en route to the port of embarkation for service overseas I became one of the saddest boys in the State Registration day came. I asked no exemption and passed a perfect physical examination, excepting that I was minus a leg, or rather half a leg. They wanted to put me in class 5, but I begged to be placed in class 1-A, and the physician who examined me and the board were so impressed with my pleas that somehow I was placed in this class.

"When we lined up for examination Mass. I received a wire, that I was inducted into service and to appear at the Springfield board for final examination. I hobbled into the examining officer and told him who I was. Then I showed him my induction papers. But when he saw I had but one leg he said, 'Class 5 for you.' I gave that physician a rapid fire talk. Before he had a chance to get a word in I had him signing the papers and was on my way to catch the train for Camp Syracuse.

"When we lined up for examination each man received a casual glance by the physician. When he came along, instead of looking at me his head raised slowly from the desk and the first thing he discovered was the fact that I had only one leg. 'Discharged!' was his sharp retort. Then I did some more talking, but to no avail. I met Lieutenant Charels D. Lilly and told him my story and he took an interest in me. That night the boys of my company took up a collection and bought a cork leg for me. This I put on next morning and walked almost as good as if it were my good one. Since that time I have been cooking for the boys at Hoboken. Last week I received my discharge and am happy that I succeeded in doing my bit."

URGE CONSTRUCTION OF ROADS

United States Labour Bureau would in this Way Relieve the Unemployment situation.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. — The immediate construction of hard-surfaced roads throughout the country was urged by the Labour Department to-day as a means of relieving the unemployment situation.

Sir Wilfrid Died at Two-Thirty To-day After Few Hour's Illness

The same tendency prevailed this morning, despite the gravity of the bulletin appearing in the morning papers. Everyone felt the death of Sir Wilfrid would be too big a blow to come at this stage in the party's fortunes. "You'll see the grand old man will pull through" was the remark often uttered with the deepest hope and confidence behind it.

RESTING PLACE OF SIR WILFRID'S PARENTS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's father and mother are buried in the old parish church yard of St. Lin, in the County of Lassomption, where Sir Wilfrid was born. He visited the little town early in the war and delivered a recruiting speech to several thousand people. Later he visited the church yard in company with the pariah priest and stood with bared head for a few minutes by the grave.

PRESENT AT CANADIAN CLUB BANQUET.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—On Saturday last Sir Wilfrid Laurier was present at the Canadiana Club luncheon at the Chateau Laurier. At five o'clock he was driven in an automobile to his office in the Museum and came back on the street car. To those who saw him he appeared to be in remarkably good health and spirits. In fact he has probably never in the past few years appeared so well and generally fit as he has during the past few months. The sudden news of his illness which quickly spread throughout the city last night, was therefore received with a sense of profound shock. To-day the city is rift with rumour, and there is intense public interest and very general regret everywhere. For many years the aged statesman has been a very real part of Ottawa institutions, and his tall erect figure )becoming somewhat bowed in later years) has been familiar to all. His home on Laurier avenue, a big, somewhat rambling house full of beautiful antique furniture and fine old china, was a salon to which lovers of music and singing were always welcomed with a warmth of hospitality which none ever forgot. His dinners were noted for their excellence of taste and appointment, and the reminiscences of the host were always highly interesting.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL VISITS BEDSIDE.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—His Excellency the Governor General visited Sir Wilfrid Laurier's home this morning but did not go to the bed chamber. At noon Sir Thomas White, Acting Premier, also paid a brief visit. At 12:40 Sid Wilfrid was unconscious and his pulse and heart action were markedly weaker. The physicians held out no hope whatever for his recovery. Life is fast ebbing from the frail body, and the once strong brain has no longer cognizance of any earthly thing.

The Returns Are Still in Doubt

Final Result is Conceded to Government Candidate.

Special to The Examiner:

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 17.—Those not satisfied with the unofficial but complete returns of Saturday's bye-election returns, giving the seat to [illegible] R. Parnell by 168 majority, will have to wait until the official summing up of the vote before the deputy returning officer on Saturday next.

The returning officer has become wearied of inquiries made on Saturday and Sunday and of statements attributed to him regarding figures which he says he did not utter.

As a result he has closed his lips, and this morning declared his unalterable position to say nothing until the ballot boxes are opened on Saturday with the representatives of both sides present.

Unofficial Returns.

Canadian Press:

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 17.— Complete unofficial returns still place the majority for F. Parnell, Conservative government candidate at 168 over the Labour candidate W. E. Longden. Official results not out yet.

Pulmotor Has Been Repaired

Inspector Has Completed Work in Peterboro.

Mr. R. N. Wilson, Inspector of the Canadian Fire Underwriters, who was in the city on Saturday found everything in first class condition as regards the local fire hall. He pulled box 19 at the De Laval and in 3 3-4 minutes the brigade were on the scene and had 250 feet of hose laid and the water running. Later 12 lines of hose were laid on George street and the hydrants in all parts of the city were found in first class condition.

Mr. Wilson will return to the city tomorrow night to attend the special meeting of the city council which has been called by the mayor to discuss the two-platoon system which has been recommended to the city council by the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The city pulmotor after being away from the city for eight weeks for repairs arrived in the city today and is again in commission today. During the time that the pulmotor was away from the city the fireman had no occasion to use it.

FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER EXPLAINS THE FRENCH VIEW

M. Pichon Agrees Only in Part With Canadian Prime Minister— Many Obstacles in Way of Signing an Early Peace.

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Feb. 17.—Stephen Pichon, in discussing obstacles to an immediate peace during a talk with newspapermen to-day, said that there many reasons why the treaty could not be signed at once, even though the League of Nations project was out of the way. Many issues that will form a basis of peace, he said, were being carefully studied. Among them is the disposition of many of the fragments into which the former Austrian empire has been divided, and another is the treatment to be accorded Bulgaria.

The French people, he added, want peace, but they realize at the same time the danger of precipitate and unsatisfactory solutions. He agreed with Premier Borden that there should be no unnecessary delay, but did not share his opinion that time had been wasted at the conference.

Spartacans Plunder a Rich German Town

Converge on City and Break in Houses—Treasury and Banks Remove Cash in Time.

Canadian Press:

BERLIN, Feb. 17.— The Spartacan troops from nearby towns marched into Gelsenkirchen in Westphalia early Sunday and overpowered the local military and police forces, a portion of which went over to the Spartacans. The plundering of the city followed. The doors of houses were blown in with hand grenades and much booty secured by the Spartacans. Gelsenkirchen banks and the city treasury had been warned in time and saved their funds. The raiding Spartacans came from Rattungenand, Wattenscheid.

DE VALERA IS IN UNITED STATES

Irish Sinn Fein President said to Travelling in Disguise in United States—Will Interview President Wilson.

(Special to The Examiner.)

DUBLIN, Feb. 17. — Prof. Edward De Valera, the Sinn Fein leader, who escaped recently from an English prison, was reported to-day to be in the United States. He is said by Sinn Feiners here to have boarded a British liner at an English port. He was in disguise, it was said, and intends to preserve his incognito until he can see President Wilson.

A previous despatch said that De Valera had gone to Paris to present the claims of the Irish republic to the peace conference.

May Allison Wins New Triumph in Comedy

May Allison, beautiful and talented Metro star, noted for her rapid and successful rise in the dramatic world has achieved another distinct triumph in "A Successful Adventurer," which will be seen at the Grand Opera House to-night, also Tuesday and Wednesday, with usual matinees daily. This is her third production with Metro since she became a star in her own right, the other two being "Social Hypocrites," taken from the popular play "Bridge," by Alicia Ramsay, the noted playwright, and "The Winning of Beatrice," which brought her increased fame. Miss Allison's new play is by June Mathis and Harry Franklin directed it.

Before becoming a Metro star, May Allison was co-starred with Harold Lockwood in many productions for the same company, some of the most noted being, "The River of Romance," "The Masked Rider," "The Comeback," and "Big Tremaine." This clever actress made her screen debut with William H. Crane in "David Harum," and later appeared with Edith Wynne Mathison in "The Governor's Lady." With the American-Mutual she was starred in "The House of a Thousand Scandals."

Before adopting the screen as her career Miss Allison had gained noted success on the dramatic stage. Her first part was that of "Vanity," in "Everywoman," the spectacular morality play produced by Henry Savage. Her work proved so good that she was soon promoted to that of "Beauty," after this her rise was rapid. In "The Quaker Girl," she alternated with Ina Claire in the title role, and the following season appeared in "Caprice" with De Wolf Hopper. Soon after this she was starred in "Apartment 12 K," at the Maxine Elliott Theatre.

Miss Allison is a Southern girl, born on a plantation in Georgia. She was educated in Cleveland and Philadelphia and at an early age developed a desire for a dramatic career. She also possesses a fine soprano voice of unusual brilliance and clarity of tone. Her success has been so great on the screen however, that she expects to continue in this line of work indefinitely.

Germans Defeated But Not Crushed

Says Foreign Secretary—Germany Must Get Into the League of Nations.

By Frank J. Taylor.

WEIMAR, Feb. 17.—"We are defeated, but not crushed; the will to work is still within," declared Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantzau, in addressing the national assembly. He made the following points, indicative of Germany's foreign policies:

Germany must be admitted to the league of nations.

A plebiscite must be held in Alsace Lorraine.

German colonies must be returned, though she is willing to bargain regarding their exchange.

Germany, while refusing to pay the costs of the war for her enemies, is willing to repair civilian losses "due to the blunders of the bureaucratic system."

Germany will welcome a union with Austria.

Boundaries must be settled impartially.

W. E. CAREY WAS SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Alleged Deserter is Allowed Out on $1,000 Bail.

William Everest Carey was sent up for trial at the preliminary hearing before Magistrate Dumble this morning. The evidence that he was an absentee under the Military Service Act was found to be sufficiently strong and Carey was allowed out on bail of two sureties of $500 each, one supplied by the prisoner and the other by Mr. John Heffernan, on whose farm in Otonabee Carey was arrested.

$50,000 in Government Estimates Toward Construction of Bridge

A letter to Mayor Duncan from Hon. Dr. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals, gives the following assurance of Government assistance in the construction of the new Hunter street bridge:

"I wish to inform you that I submitted an Order-in-Council for consideration, recommending that if the City proceed with the construction of a bridge costing three hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($350,000,000) as stated to me a few days ago, the Government instead of constructing a swing bridge, would pay fifty thousand dollars ($50,000,000) towards the construction and be relieved of any responsibility in connection with the construction of the new bridge or any future maintenance.

"The amount will be placed in the Estimates during the coming session, and if Parliament approves of the recommendation then of course we will be prepared to enter into an agreement on that position."

OBITUARY

MRS. JOSEPH BARKEY

Mrs. Joseph Barkey passed away at the age of 84 years. Three daughters survive, namely Mrs. T. Reesor, Mrs. N. Burkholder and Mrs. J. Hoover all of Markham. Mrs. James Lewis of this city is a grand-daughter.

CAMPAIGN OF THE ANGLICAN CHURCHES

Special Meetings Were Held Yesterday—Meetings To-night.

In connection with the present campaign of the Anglican churches of the city, strong addresses were delivered at both services of St. John's Anglican church yesterday, Mr. R. W. Allin spoke in the morning and Mr. J. Y. Ormsby in the evening. Mr. Allin's address was listened to by a large and interested congregation.

At the evening service the resolution put forward by the Ministerial Association regarding the Peace Conference was put before the congregation, and was unanimously adopted, the whole congregation reverently rising to represent its participation in the act.

Rev. Canon Davidson made sympathetic references to the death of Miss Bessie Coulter, a member of the Girls' Auxiliary; also Mrs. J. Billington and Mr. W. H. Walkey, a former superintendent of the Sunday School, and who has been vestry clerk of the church for some years.

Meetings To-night.

In connection with the Layman's campaign being held in St. John's church, a special meeting will be held this evening at eight o'clock in which all the Anglican churches of the city will participate. The meeting will be addressed by the Rev. Dr. C. A. Seager of Toronto, who is a very widely known clergyman of the Anglican Church.

CAPTAIN HYDE AT ST. PAUL'S

Rev. Captain H. B. Hyde, secretary aunt, Mrs. Johnston, 264 Hunter lege, occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's Church yesterday. At the morning service the speaker gave an interesting five-minute talk to the children in which he urged them to be good soldiers of the Lord. To do this successfully they would have to enlist, then put on the uniform or the whole armour of God, and last but not least, endure hardness.

GERMANS AGREE TO EXTENSION OF ARMISTICE

All Parties Attend the Meeting.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 17.— German government on Sunday night accepted the Allied terms for the extension of the armistice, according to a despatch from Weimar. A meeting, at which acceptance was decided upon, the "Politiken's" correspondent says, was attended by leaders of various parties.

LEAGUE WILL BRING ITALIAN AMNESTY.

King to Grant Decree on Proclamation.

ROME, Feb. 17. — On the occasion of the proclamation of the constitution of the Society of Nations, King Victor Emmanuel will sign a liberal decree of military and political amnesty, it is announced here.

CARPENTIER AND WELLS SIGN UP.

PARIS, Feb. 17.—While on leave at his home near Nevers, Sergt. Georges Carpentier signed on Thursday to meet Bombardier Wells in the Olympia, London, in August or September. Carpentier declares that it is his intention to visit America next year to meet Levinsky. He intimates that he would also like a try with Willard.

GERMANY'S FOREIGN SECRETARY.

Foreign Secretary Declares he Will Continue to Resist the Allied Demands.

BASLE, Feb. 17. — Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the German Foreign Secretary, in discussing Germany's foreign policy in the new National Assembly at Weimar, declared that he had resisted and would continue to resist allied attempts to have Germany make a dissolution of her military forces.

"Unfortunately," he continued, "Germany's voluntary disarmament has not softened our enemies, who recently attempted to settle on the basis of disarmament questions undoubtedly appertaining to the Peace Conference. I have repulsed and will continue to repulse the attempts looking to the dissolution of all our old military forces and the substitution of new republican troops for the old peace army which could not be used in the east.

"Germany has shouldered the consequences of defeat and is determined to observe the conditions agreed upon with her adversaries. These conditions imply the complete renunciation of the political aims of old Germany. We are ready to accept restrictions upon our sovereignty, the compulsory submission of our differences with other States to an international court of arbitration, and the renunciation of our armament, if our old adversaries and future neighbors submit to the same restrictions."

Charge Against Jones Dismissed

Defendant Was Accused of Selling Talcum Powder Without a Stamp.

His Worship Magistrate Langley dismissed the charge against John Jones, of Hall's Bridge, for failure to put a revenue stamp upon a box of talcum powder, which was alleged to have been sold in Mr. Jones' store on the 13th of December last. Mr. Langley's reasons for dismissing the charge against Mr. Jones were that the prosecution did not prove that the talcum was sold in Mr. Jones' store, or that any person there was in Mr. Jones' employ, and also that the charge was not laid in the name of the Minister of Inland Revenue, but was laid in the name of the Revenue Officer, which was contrary to the provisions of the Inland Revenue Act.

Mr. Goodwill acted for the Inland Revenue Officer Bickell, of Cobourg, who prosecuted, and Mr. G. N. Gordon acted for Mr. Jones.

SIR ROBERT'S SPEECH CREATES IMPRESSION

Asks for an Early Peace to Allow Troops to Go Home—British Labour Supports his Views.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 17. — Premier Borden's speech here last night in which he criticized the delay in consummating peace, while the troops are anxious to return to their homes, has made an undoubted impression here. The same view is said to have been taken by some Americans, while the British are not indifferent to the demands of their territorial contingents which are supported by the labor element of England.

SERGT. WALLACE IS IN GERMANY

Corporal J. A. Wallace, 717 Harvey street, has received word from his brother, Sergt. Peter G. Wallace that he is in Germany and that he expects to return to Canada in May or April. He has been on active service since 1915 and at time of writing was in splendid health. Corporal Wallace is himself at present in Lindsay on sick leave. He has been on the staff of the Ontario Military Hospital since Christmas and is waiting for his discharge after four years and one months service at the front during which time he was wounded twice and underwent five operations. He enlisted with B squadron of the 8th Mounted Rifles under Major Medd. Sergt. Peter Wallace at the time of writing was in Seigburg waiting to move back into Belgium.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

Regarding the Extension of the Armistice.

(Special to Examiner.)

BASLE, Feb. 17. — Conflicting reports were received from Treves today regarding the status of the armistice. One despatch said that the armistice had been prolonged indefinitely, while another said that Marshal Foch had allowed the Germans three days grace in which to accept the new terms.

The armistice was to have expired to-day.

Hot water is best for the first rinsing after washing clothes with soap and warm water.

Elections Yesterday In German-Austria

(Special to The Examiner.)

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 17. — Advices received here from Vienna regarding elections held yesterday in German-Austria, state that one hundred members were elected to the National Assembly by the Socialists, eighty by Christian Socialists and seventy by Liberals.

ADDRESSED LIFE PROBLEM CLUB

Mr. Joseph Wearing, B.A., addressed the Life Problem Club of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. He took as his subject, "The Three Laws, Civil, Physical and Spiritual." The Club intend to hold a skating party on Wednesday night, February 19th at the Brock street rink after which will refreshments will be served at the Y.M.C.A.

Special Show at Royal To-night

"The Forbidden Path" is the name of the big production to be shown at the Royal Theatre to-night. In this production Miss Bara forsakes the costumed productions which she has been appearing in and returns to a story of contemporary life and conditions.

Another feature of to-night's performance is the Lee Children, presented by William Fox. This is a five reel production with a peppery plot and full of playful pranks.

In addition to this there will be a good Sunshine comedy in two parts by William Fox, "A Neighbour's Keyhole." This is a laugh from start to finish. A Mutt and Jeff comedy is also included in one of the best programmes ever presented at the Royal Theatre. Do not fail to see it to-night.

The above pictures were shown at the Regent Theatre, Toronto, last week, for 25c., 35c. and 50c. You can see this at the Royal to-night for 15c. to all.

HOW MUCH IS ENOUGH TO EAT?

Science is speaking up for the twelve-year-old who is always hungry. "Age, size and activity" have all to do with the matter. A boy may need more to eat than a girl because he exercises more, rather than because he is larger. A small bookish father tied to a desk may need much less to eat than his romping, growing twelve-year-old progeny. It is safe to say that a growing child needs all the bread and butter and milk and fruit that it will eat; when the appetite must be coaxed with sweets it is not to be trusted.

If you have stopped running and growing, don't gauge Bobbie's needs by your relative sizes. Growing is strenuous business. Be sure that the children have both building material for this important occupation and energy fuel for their ceaseless activity. Watching the child's weight will give you a key to the situation.

THERE IS NO REASON TO THINK

that, because you have tried and found to be ineffective many kinds of remedies for Gastritis, Hyperacidity, or imperfect Digestion of Food accompanied by pain or gas after eating, that you cannot be relieved and be cured.

Moncur's Digestive Tonic

is slightly laxative and acts upon the liver as well. It is especially suited for those suffering from Bilious Indigestion. It corrects at once the formation of Gas. It assists in the assimilation of food and protects the Inflamed Lining of the stomach in Gastritis.

It strengthens and relieves the whole Digestive Tract. This preparation used in connection with proper diet and nerve sedatives, gives the most satisfying results in Nervous Dyspepsia and Hyperacidity.

Even the old chronic cases show a decided improvement under treatment with this remedy.

It is proving as successful in the treatmen of the above weaknesses as MONCUR'S DOUBLE STRENGTH LUNG SYRUP has proven in the treatment of OBSTINATE AND RACKING COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHITIS.

Bolshevism and Russian Industry

Steel Works, Banks an Commercial Plants; Demoralized.

The demoralizing effect of Bolshevism on industry in Russia is described in the National Civic Federation Review. How the great industrial plants of Petrograd and Moscow have been virtually destroyed is told in detail by Lieutenant Boris Brasol.

The Oboukhovsky Steel Works near Petrograd employed 15,000 men in 1916 making guns, armour and munitions for the Russian Government. The average mechanic's wages were 700 to 800 rubles ($350 to $400 a month). When the Bolsheviki began to apply their theories they introduced shop committees, which, in fact, were not composed of workmen but of outside agitators. Not a single instruction could be given by the technical staff, but what shop meetings would at once be called during hours of work to discuss them and decide upon them. Every day, long and noisy meetings were held, for which time the workmen insisted upon being paid. Often they would refuse to follow instructions because they held the technical staff were their "enemies." The men didn't actually work more than a few hours a day, and if there was a procession, which was frequent, they wouldn't work at all; but they would rush to take part in it. Yet within four months they had received from the Navy Department an increase in their pay of 90,000,000 rubles, notwithstanding their efficiency was lowered at least 80 per cent. Finally, so demoralized had personnel and machinery become that the factory had to shut down altogether. But although the workmen did no work the Bolshevik Government kept on paying their wages and supplying them with foodstuffs.

Plants Closed Down.

"It has been," said Lieutenant Brasol, "not merely usual but an everyday incident for workmen to carry away products, tools or parts of machinery and sell them for their own profit. Still other causes of the shut down have been lack of fuel and raw material. Miners wouldn't work and railroads have hardly operated at all. The conditions and fate of many other plants have been the same as those of the Oboukhovsky Steel Works. The Bolshevik Government controls the food supply and has been systematically starving such of the 'bourgeoisie' as it hasn't slaughtered."

How banks have been run is described, among other experiences, by Frederick M. Corse, general manager in Russia of the New York Life Insurance Co. Mr. Corse recently returned to New York after seventeen years' residence in Russia

Yardman to Run Bank.

"The Volga Kama Bank," he said, "was one of the biggest and richest in Petrograd. It was like the National City Bank here. I had the largest account in it. The Bolsheviki early in 1918 deposed its president and board of directors and put a man who had been the bank's rear yardman in charge of the bank. I had to deal with him and he was still there when I left.

"All private banks had this same experience. Multiply the Vilga Wama Bank's experience by a thousand and you have the situation. To draw 150 rubles took three days, with all sorts of preliminaries such as getting permits and vises in different parts of the city. But if you paid a certain lesser Bolshevik functionaries 25 per cent. of the amount that you drew, you could draw a million rubles.

"When I left Russia, the efficiency of industries had been reduced 70 per cent., and the results of the committee system were the gradual closing of factories and shops everywhere. There is a lack of skilled men. Cost of production is too high. The labour committees are utterly ignorant of administration, and make no provision for depreciation. Much machinery has been wantonly destroyed by rowdyism, spite and grudge."

"We had labour committees in our plant," said W. F. Dixon, director of the Russian Singer Co., which before the war employed 6,000 men in its plants at Moscow. "In our case the head men or leaders of the shop committees were outsiders, but they ran matters. Some of these outsiders were the dregs of the legal profession. Others were dilettante university students, and still others were shoddy intellectuals. They reduced the work-day to eight hours, but the men worked only six. They increased wages 500 to 600 per cent. The chaos of conditions in Bolshevik Russia is such that we haven't been able to get any advices from our Russian representatives since February, 1918. What has become of the Russian Singer Co.'s plant since then we don't know."

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug-store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

Our Dress World.

If one could only know the origin of all the many words we use in our daily talk one would know much of the history of dress. Many of our most recently adopted clothes words come from France, but five hundred years ago dress terms more usually came from Italy, then the mecca of fashion. Hence velvet comes from "velluto," the Italian word to indicate shaggy. And "camisole" which has recently been revived from an earlier English usage, came from the Italian diminutive of chemise.

Handy Bag.

Bags made from mosquito net are a time saver if you use them in trunk or cupboard to hold small articles that must be kept together. The bag shows its contents at a glance.

DON'T LEAVE THE DOOR OPEN

When the door of Food Folly is left open Disease stalks in. Many disease epidemics that sweep over the country are caused by poor food and under-nourishment.

Shredded Wheat

supplies all the body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain prepared in a digestible form. It contains more real nutriment than meat or eggs. Two of these crisp brown little loaves of baked whole wheat with milk or cream make a complete, nourishing meal.

GRAIN MARKET

Local cash grain markets are higher on oats and barley. Buckwheat is easier. In the mill feeds, bran is quoted at an advance of $3 per ton. Shorts are unchanged. In fodder, baled hay is $1 per ton lower.

In the option markets after sharp advances in corn, oats following, the speculators began taking profits, and the market reacted towards the close, all but the February option going down below the previous close. The recent action of the market is said to have eliminated the short interests considerably.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 northern, $2.34 1-2; No. 2 northern, $2.30 1-2; No. 3 northern, $2.17; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards—Receipts were 220 cars, with 4315 cattle, 207 calves, 1456 hogs and 738 sheep and lambs.

There was a halt in the cattle trading yesterday morning and for the first half of the day there were very few transactions. That the market would be lower everyone was ready to admit but just how much it would be the guesses ranged anywhere from 50c to $1.00. Cows and bulls were apparently an exception as good prices were going for everything in that class.

Sheep and lambs steady.

Calves steady.

Hogs higher and strong at $18, fed and watered.

BEETS FOR INFLUENZA.

An Austrian doctor having discovered that beets were a preventive of and remedy for influenza, gave his patients a plateful of beet salad as soon as the fever set in, and within eight hours after they had eaten the beets the fever would leave them—so he asserted. According to a report from The Hague, this alleged cure on becoming known in Holland led to such a demand for beets that the price advanced to 40 cents each, whereas before the war they had cost about two cents.

Durham Liberal Association Held Meeting at Orono

Large and Enthusiastic Gathering—Officers Were Elected for the Year.

Port Hope, Feb. 18.—The meeting at Orono to resuscitate The Durham Liberal Association, called by Mr. J. H. Rosevear, Port Hope, President and Mr. W. L. Smith, Orono Secretary, was one of the most successful gatherings held since the union of the two Ridings for Parliamentary purposes. The meeting was opened promptly on time and during the discussion of preliminary routine it was discovered all parts of the Riding were represented, except the northeast municipality, the unfavorable weather probably interfering with travelling from the distance. Newcastle and vicinity sent its first women voters to the Association. In addition to well known Liberals, former Liberal supporters of the Union Government and two or three prominent Conservatives announced they were present to signify their support to the Liberal party. Announcements of this character at the beginning of the meeting gave an atmosphere of "pep" to subsequent proceedings. Amid hearty enthusiasm the following officers were elected:—

President—Mr. W. T. R. Preston, Port Hope.

Vice Presidents—Mr. Thos Baker, Hampton; and Mr. Shuter Haskill, Hope.

Secretary—Mrs. Barron, Newcastle.

Treasurer—Wm. Jones, Clarke.

In returning from the chair Mr. Rosevear introduced Mr. Preston. He would assume his duties by making an inaugural speech, an announcement which was heartily applauded.

Mr. Preston, in his opening remarks said that it would be extraordinary if he failed to appreciate this singular and unexpected token of confidence after an absence of so many years from his old fellow-county friends. To be placed in such a position of responsibility, was proof that a man is not always without honor in his own country, after so many years of stormy political life, was ample compensation for the fighting which he had been engaged in, not with mild mannered beasts at Ephesus, but with the janus-faced political monsters at Ottawa and their official representatives of the military class in England. For more than a year he had been spending his utmost energy and ingenuity in endeavoring to unearth appalling frauds connected with the Wartime Election Act in so far as it as operated among the soldiers. The revelations which will soon be made and upon which an official enquiry will be demanded will reveal the most bare-faced rascality ever attempted in the history of the world, and will establish the fact that the entire plot to defraud the electors of this country of their rights was hatched in the Privy Council Chamber at Ottawa by and with the approval of the Prime Minister. It was intended, and so far as the votes that were polled and distributed among various constituencies it was successful, that not an English speaking Laurier Liberal should be elected. But the persistent fight that war put up by the Laurier scrutineers against the open and palpable fraud brought about the holding over of between thirty-five and forty thousand fraudulent votes prevented the wholesale elimination of Laurier's English speaking supporters.

This diabolical scheme which necessitated wholesale perjury, forgery, personation and ballot stuffing and every kind of fraud, was under the personal supervision and direction of Hon. Dr. Reid at Ottawa, who, by cables and letters gave Mr. Hector McInnes, K. C. of Halifax, an intimate associate of the Prime Minister, instructions as to the number of votes to be transferred to the respective constituencies to ensure the election of Government supporters, and Hector McInnes from his London office conveyed these instructions in writing to Lt. Col Frank A. Reid. This work was further supplimented by Sir George Perley, High Commissioner for Canada, giving instructions to several officers, the copy of the cable sent to him from Ottawa on Nov. 12, 1917, which Mr. Preston became possessed of, and which he read to the meeting, giving further details of the nefarious work which was to be done in France and England. Major Hepburn, M.P., was one of the officers so instructed and so satisfactorily did he do his work for these political scoundrels, Mr. Preston said, that he was recommended for honors at the hand of His Majesty, and actually received from the King on the recommendation of the Prime Minister the order C. M. G.

The Demands

In view of the action of the King in cancelling the D. S. O. which had been awarded to Lt. Col. Gingras of the 22nd Batt., on account of fraudulently using army funds for personal purposes, Mr. Preston wondered what action will now be taken by the Governor-General to resent the insult to the crown in awarding honors to Major Hepburn, M. P., when he has been guilty of conduct which, if prosecuted, would sentence him to incarceration in the Kingston Penitentiary for an extended term.

Mr. Preston went on to say that the Perley-Reid-McGinnes conspirators found themselves in serious trouble with those who had done their dirty work later on when Lt. Col. Frank Reid, of London, demanded a reward for his part of the job. The particulars of these demands and the part played in presenting Lt. Col. Reid's claim upon the Government by Mr. Hume Cronyon, M. P., of London, Mr. Preston said, is yet to be presented, and promised substantial revelations at a later date of a most extraordinary character. After a lenghtly speech at which Mr. Preston expressed his fears of testing the patience of his audience but amid cries of "go on! go on" he said that he had far from exhausted the list of atrocities committed by these and other persons, whom he might name. In comparing these offences with frauds committed by Boss Tweed in the balmy days of Tammanay, which consigned him to Sing Sing Prison for ten years, proves that while the political desperades at Ottawa and Halifax are unprosecuted, Boss Tweed was most unjustly punished. In conclusion Mr. Preston predicted that by proper organization of Durham the President of the Privy Council will never be elected here again.

Mr. Lovekin moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Preston coupled with the hope that he would consent to speak in other parts of the Riding and said that the enthusiasm and temper of the meeting reminded him of the campaigns when Edward Blake was their representative. The motion was carried with hearty applause.

Question Of Money Keeping Men From Service At Church

LONDON. — The difficulty in securing an adequate number of recruits for the ministry, according to Rev. J. R. Laverie, of Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church, this city, and D. Campbell, of Glencoe, resolves itself largely into an economic problem. This view was advanced by them in the course of addresses delivered at the first session of a London Presbyterian conference, in session here in the First Presbyterian Church, in connection with opening a discussion on the subject "Recruits for the Ministry and Adequate Ministerial Support."

The conference has been called for the purpose of promotion of the forward movement of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, launched at the last meeting of the General Assembly held in this city in June, 1918.

Associated with a general advance in all departments of the church's activities, it was proposed at the assembly that the retiring allowances for ministers should be advanced from $400 per annum to $1,000. In the meantime, it is stated, headquarters regards $1,000 as too advanced an objective, and is proposing to make it $600 instead.

Adhere to Original Proposal.

The following resolution at Tuesday's conference will be forwarded to the forward movement committee of fifty of the general assembly appointed to carry out the forward movement plans:

(a) That the forward movement committee be urged to adhere to the proposals of the London assembly respecting ministers' pension funds and to appoint a competent man to promote the sceheme in the church.

(b) That the forward movement committee be asked to prepare and present for the consideration of the assembly, a more satisfactory scheme for the calling and settlement of ministers.

Declaring that it was not a lack of desire for service on the part of young men which kept them out of the ministry, Rev. J. R. Laverie said: "We will get efficient leaders if we assure them an adequate salary or pension worth while."

A number of figures were quoted to illustrate the inadequacy of stipends paid to the majority of ministers, compared to the great advance in the cost of living.

Expenses have joined the flying corps. The problem of heating, he stated, is in itself a great one, let alone that of buying new books, wherewith to keep pace with the times, and laying by something for old age. It is difficult, he contended, for a man to give his best and most efficient service to the ministry when continually harassed by financial worries.

Support of Layman.

In this position Mr. Laverie was strongly supported by D. McDonald, a layman, from Glencoe.

Mr. McDonald called upon the church to awaken to its responsibility in the matter, particularly in view of the influx of people from other lands anticipated now that the war is over, and the increased need of manning pulpits and mission fields with the best leaders obtainable.

"Presbyterians subscribed 35 per cent of the $650,000,000 raised for the Victory Loan. There is more money in the banks than ever before. Surely wealthy Presbyterianism can afford to adequately provide for its aged and infirm ministers and for the widows and orphans of ministers," declared Mr. McDonald.

Mr. Nieve of Glencoe was of the opinion the speakers who opened the discussion was too pessimistic; that Presbyterianism in the Dominion would adequately support the ministers if they faithfully preached the word of God.

USED FOR SHAVING.

Many men are troubled, more particularly in the cold weather, with a heart of roughness of the skin or eczema caused by shaving. The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment after the shave soon cures the trouble and by using it after each shave you keep the skin soft and prevent irritation and soreness. Because of its antiseptic qualities this ointment prevents and cures Barber's Itch.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Nitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigour and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are constantly being advertised for the purpose of building thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and removing ugly hollows and angles by the acquirement of lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their shortcomings.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and sold by McDermid & Jury in Peterboro and most all druggists under a guarantee of entire satisfaction or your money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, Nitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance, the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION.—Although Nitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Slipper buckles are yet very much worn.

Ruth Dwells Upon the Intimacy of Brian and Mollie.

CHAPTER CXXII

Arthur Mandel was sure that Ruth would not allow him to visit her home with any degree of intimacy. In the shop this intimacy was to an extent unavoidable. He consequently relieved her of some of her duties, so shortening her hours.

"It will give you more time with your aunt," he had explained when she thanked him.

The day after Ruth had received Brian's letter had been a busy one for Mandel. Press of detail as well as extra war work, had claimed his attention. Yet he had not failed to notice, with keen distress, Ruth's evident unhappiness.

He wanted desperately to do something to help her; yet feared even to mention to her that he knew she was unhappy. He was positive it had something to do with Brian. He knew the foreign mail had arrived. He himself had received several letters.

She doesn't act as if she were worrying because of danger to him," he muttered as he watched her. "It is more as if she were angered over something." Puzzle as he would, he could not understand; nor decide whether it boded good or ill for him.

He was more than half persuaded to speak to her about himself, his love, yet he hesitated. If, by his trying to hurry her, he should lose what he had gained by his patient waiting, he never would forgive himself. Surely if she should decide to divorce Brian he would know; or if Brian and Molly King made it impossible for her to longer ignore their intimacy then he would speak. It would give him more freedom.

Conceptions of fidelity differ. Mandel felt that Ruth had given to Brian all and more than he deserved. He, like Mrs. Clayborne, had looked upon Brian Hackett as the sort of man who lacked ambition, and so never would amount to much. Neither of them had the slightest conception of the bitterness Ruth's action had engendered in him. Even Ruth herself really knew nothing of the strength of his feeling and the havoc it had wrought in his mind and character. So to them Brian was a laggard, almost a ne'er do well, and so worthy of scant consideration.

Ruth was obviously disturbed for many days. She talked very little, save as her work made it necessary, when at the shop. And at home she spent most of her time with her baby. Finally Mrs. Clayborne said:

"Something is worrying you, Ruth. Please let me help you if I can."

"No one can help me," Ruth had answered so sadly that her aunt had turned away to hide her tears, and had said no more. But she set about cheering Ruth by pretending she herself wanted a little gayety.

"Suppose we ask Mr. and Mrs. Roberts in to play bridge tonight?" she remarked at breakfast.

"If you like," Ruth had replied listlessly.

"I'll wait a little, then go in," Mrs. Clayborne returned.

"I am so sorry Mr. Roberts won't be home until late tonight," Mrs. Roberts had told her.

"You come in anyway. Have dinner with us, and —" a thought caused Mrs. Clayborne to hesitate. "I'll find some one to make a fourth. If not we'll play with a dummy. Ruth seems rather depressed, as is only natural, and I want to cheer her up."

"I know! it must be dreadful for her, having Mr. Hackett overseas. The uncertainty and the fear of what may happen." Then she added: "Yet my husband's heart is nearly broken because of his inability to go. His lameness prevents, you know."

Mrs. Clayborne went to the telephone as soon as she returned to her own apartment. She called Ruth:

"I have invited them, but Mr. Roberts won't be at home. Mrs. Roberts is coming to dinner. Why not ask Mr. Mandel to come and make a fourth? That is, if he hasn't something better to do."

"He is right here with me, Aunt Louisa. He can speak for himself. I will give him the message."

Mrs. Clayborne waited a moment then Mr. Mandel's voice came over the wire:

"Thank you very much, Mrs. Clayborne. I shall be delighted to come, although I play an indifferent game."

"So do we all," she replied, pleased that her little ruse had succeeded, that her little ruse to throw Ruth and Mandel together had succeeded.

MORE RADIUM NEEDED

WORLD'S SUPPLY DEPLETED BY GREAT WAR.

Valuable Substance Greatly in Demand Although It Was Not Used to Aid the World—Mesothorium Is Another Element That Is Very Similar to Radium and It Will Become Well Known.

WAR has resulted in a serious depletion of our supply of one of the most valuable substances on earth—radium. Radium has been used extensively as a material of war, not as might be supposed in treating sick and wounded soldiers, but in the form of luminous paint on gun sights, aviators' instruments, and the obliquitous officer's wrist watch.

The greater part of the radium now being extracted is used in making luminous dials for watches, says the Geological Survey. The amount of radium that adorns the face of one of these watches is inconceivably small. Radium costs about $100 a milligram, and a watch dial carries 10 cents worth. But 20,000 luminous-faced watches are manufactured yearly by one firm alone. Add to this thousands of luminous watches placed on the market by many other instruments which must be visible in pitch darkness, and which draw heavily on the radium supply, and a large proportion of the three-and three-quarters ounces of radium in existence is accounted for.

As a result of this reckless use of radium there is little available for surgery, which is generally acknowledged as the field in which radium can render its greatest service. This situation will in a short time be changed. The cessation of fighting has lessened the speed of airplane construction, with its attending demands on luminous paint.

Also mesothorium, an element similar to radium, has been called into use. Unlike radium, which is the product of ores, mesothorium is extracted from a kind of sand.

The man who discovered the existence of mesothorium in sand in Brazil wished to keep his discovery secret in order to monopolize the profits. His scheme was to ship the sand to German buyers, sending it as common ballast. On one trip the ship became damaged and was in danger of sinking. When the captain ordered the ballast thrown out the cargo owner, who was aboard, objected, urging that some other weight be sacrificed. His attitude aroused suspicion. The ship and ballast were saved, but unfortunately for the owner of the precious sand his ballast was examined and his secret spread broadcast, with the result that the Brazilian Government took a hand in exploiting its newly-found resource.

Mesothorium is extremely like radium in character and effect. It differs mainly in its life. Radium reaches its full power in 30 days and in 2,000 years that power would diminish only one-half. Mesothorium, on the other hand, takes a year to gain its full strength, at which time it is as powerful as radium, but in five and one-half years its strength is almost gone. As the life of the average luminous-dial watch is less than five and one-half years, mesothorium is a satisfactory substitute for radium for this purpose.

It is an interesting fact that the radium on a dial would really last for nearly 2,000 years. It would not be recognizable, however, after a few years, as the zinc sulphid which is mixed with the radium to enable it to give forth its light would gradually disappear. The radium deposits on worn-out watches and instruments could be used again if there were any way of collecting a sufficient number of the articles to warrant the trouble and expense of separating it.

Detecting the presence of radium is comparatively simple. It is done by a small but complicated instrument which indicates the proportion of radium in a piece of ore. Not all ore containing radium is worth the trouble of extracting the element. Radium is present in all carnotite ores, but the amount geologists are fond of explaining, is often as slight as the amount of gold in the water of the ocean. Both radium and gold are there, but to extract them at a profit is impossible.

Even when ore rich enough in radium to warrant excavation is located, the cost of separating the radium is great. For one part of radium in this ore there are 3,000,000 parts of other substances, and it takes eight carloads of chemicals to treat one ton of ore. The ore is treated with acid to dissolve the uranium and vanadium present. From the acid solution the radium is precipitated and then collected in much smaller bulk, dissolved and precipitated again several times until it is reduced to a form of salts. It is usually kept and used in this form, stored in a casing of lead to protect articles in the vicinity from the effects of the rays.

The chief medical uses of radium so far tested have been in treating cancer, tumors and birthmarks. Some cures have been effected, some cases have been helped only. Even if radium only alleviates the pain of cancer it is, in the opinion of many doctors, a blessing. A plausible explanation of the apparent failure of radium to have any notable effect on some cancer cases is that radium was tried as a last resort when the disease was so far advanced that nothing could cure it, and when the general physical condition of the patient was so weakened that it could not respond to the treatment.

One drawback in the exploitation of radium as a cancer cure is the fact that ordinarily cancer is a poor man's disease, caused by undernourishment, overwork, or some other abuse of the body. But radium has never been a poor man's remedy.

Shanghai Harbor.

A body appointed to make an exhaustive study of the best means of enlarging the harbor facilities of Shanghai, China, has recently reported, recommending that $40,000,000 to $45,000,000 be spent in making the Whangpoo river into a lake, the shores of which will be one continuous line of docks. Emphasis is laid on the fact that China is destined to share increasingly in international commerce after the war. To meet the new demands there must be harbor facilities sufficient to accommodate the largest boats that will come through the Panama Canal. It is pointed out that if some one port in China does not make adequate provision for the great ships from America and Europe a lucrative part will undoubtedly be made the terminal for the bulk of the trans-Pacific traffic, and only second-rate vessels would come to China.

In urging the making of the artificial lake and other improvements involved in the change, including the building of quays along some 38 miles of shore, attention is called to Hamburg, Germany, and the expenditures made there to provide a world harbor. It is said that a whole district of the German town, with 1,000 houses inhabited by 24,000 persons, was sacrificed in order that the harbor improvements might be made. It is maintained that Shanghai's advantageous position as compared with other Chinese harbors, and its location at the mouth of the great Yangtse river, make it the logical port for the vast improvements described.—Popular Merchanics.

CIVILIANS HATE HUNS.

But Belgians Soldiers Display Little Bitterness.

The civil population of Belgium is much more bitter toward the Germans than the soldiers who have fought them to a standstill during four years, crushed them, battered them about and wrecked the empire during the past four months. Terms of bitter execration, hate and revenge come from the civilians alone.

A kind little old woman, the owner of a cigar store, after selling the Associated Press correspondent a villainous cheroot, an "erstas" cigar relic of the German occupation, launched forth into a violent denunciation of the uninvited guests who made Bruges their home for four years. "This war must not end like this," she said with a vehemence which contrasted greatly with her gentle appearance. "We must go into Germany, they must suffer, expiate." On the day of their departure the Germans robbed her store of 5500 worth of her best cigars and cigarettes.

On the Grande Place in the shadow of the famous belfry, an irate gentleman was discoursing loudly, gesticulating wildly. "The pigs, the infamous swine," he was saying. "Shall it come to pass that they will escape punishment? Is it possible that the German population will not suffer any of the hardships that their soldiers and officers have inflicted upon us? Shall they not salute our officers, descend into the gutters as our soldiers promenade on their sidewalks? Is it conceivable that their women will be spared the humiliation of humbly begging of our officers a passport to travel between Aix-la-Chapelle and Cologne as our wives and daughter had to do to go from Bruges to Ostend? If we end it now they are beaten militarily but they are not vanquished in their pride, in their hearts?"

Of all the Allied soldiers, the Belgian was the one who appeared to have the greatest desire to enter Germany. His country is strewn with the wreckage of former happy homes, perhaps the very one in which the soldier dwelt is now a heap of ruins. But these soldier boys display no hatred. They have not been robbed of their cigars or their wine. They have merely risked their lives in rain-filled trenches and bullet-swept fields for the past four years.

A Finger-Print Camera

Of considerable importance in criminal detection is a new finger-print camera that is coming into use. The instrument is of compact size and of such simple operation that its successful use does not depend upon expert knowledge of photography. It accommodates either plates or films, and makes full-sized reproductions of details, including an area 2½ by 3½ in. The instrument is equipped with four small incandescent lamps operated by batteries contained in the camera housing. They are mounted in an accessible position back of the front aperture and are automatically switched on, supplying brilliant illumination, as the shutter is actuated. No thought has to be given to focusing, for all pictures are taken from the front opening of the camera pressed firmly against the surface on which the finger print, or other subject, is located. Incidentally the instrument is also adapted for making photographic reproductions of signatures and certain other things.—Popular Mechanics.

MILLBURNS'
LAXA-LIVER PILLS.

Act as a stimulant to the sluggish liver, clean the furred tongue, sweeten the foul, obnoxious breath, and clear away all the poisonous accumulations from the system by causing the bowels to move regularly and naturally every day, thus preventing as well as curing constipation, sick headaches, bilious headaches, water brash, heartburn, and all diseases arising from a lazy, slow or torpid liver.

They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, and there is nothing of the griping, weakening and sickening effects of the old-fashioned purgatives.

Mrs. John Kadey, Chipman, N.B., writes: "I have been using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for some time and can recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried other remedies, but they only relieved me for a short time. I always recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to all sufferers, as I think they are a valuable remedy."

When you go to your dealer and ask for Laxa-Liver Pills, see that you get the genuine "Milburn's." Price 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Next a Race War.

Belief that the next war will be the outcome of race prejudices is expressed by Yukio Ozaki, formerly Minister of Justice, and a leading member of the Constitutional party. Mr. Ozaki said that in his opinion, the colored races which steadily were developing their civilization would demand finally the same treatment as the white races, and that the result would be an armed collision.

Mr. Ozaki recommended that at the Peace Conference, Japan, acting on behalf of all the Asiatic races, should introduce the racial and population questions for consideration, and if possible secure a solution.

In a country like Japan, where the population is increasing with alarming rapidity, he said, it was but natural that the surplus population should try to obtain an outlet, even by resorting to arms.

History Made in Little Village

AMONGST the many, otherwise, insignificant places in the world which have had greatness thrust upon them Varennes, the little French town just captured by the Allies on the Aire some 45 miles east of Rheims, is certainly one of the most notable. True it has many "ifs" in its greatness, but the simple fact that it was at Varennes that Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette were arrested on their memorable flight from Paris in the night of June 21, 1791, makes it memorable enough.

It is to Carlyle, of course, that Varennes to a great extent owes its place in history, for the probabilities are that if Carlyle had never written his famous account of the French Revolution people would have known as little about Varennes as they knew about the "traditional Christmas" before Dickens created it. The arrest of Louis at Varennes did, of course, mark a notable epoch in the story of the Revolution, even if it did not, as Carlyle insists it did, change the whole course of French history. If Louis could have been prevailed upon to make his journey with less circumstance; if he could have steeled his heart to forego the "new Berline," and take the road in some commonplace travelling carriage like "monsieur," speeding northwards, or his Princess, by another route, bound, too, for Flanders; if the arrangements all along the way, the posses of hussars and dragoons at every village, the postmasters all warned and the post horses all ready for the passage of a mysterious "treasure" could have been done away with; if Old-Dragoon Drouet in his "loose-flowing nightgown" had not had his suspicions aroused, as the Berline, with its three yellow pilot-boats of mounted bodyguard couriers lumbered past his door, the last door of the village of Sainte-Menehould; if many other things had not happened, on the bridge at Varennes where Louis instead of making the great stand which Carlyle invokes as the only royal attitude, descended from the Berline and gave himself up to Le Procureur Sausse, then might the whole of French history have been different. They did happen or did not happen, however, as the case requires, and so Varennes won its place in history.

As Carlyle tells the story, it stands out with a vividness than only Carlyle can command. The tremendous expectancy all along the way, the growing suspicion, the atmosphere of a race against time, is all there, as is also that quick flashing from one scene in the great drama to another so necessary to fill in the whole wonderful canvas. Now it is Old-Dragoon Drouet and Clerk Guillaume, good patriots, fully awake, speeding through the darkness to overtake the royal fugitives; now it is Capt. Dandoins "sauntering with a face of indifference, a heart eaten of black care" waiting for the treasure that will not come, and now, in a moment, it is the new Berline again, swaying along the road with all its trappings at three miles the hour. "And thus the new Berline rolls; and Drouet and Guillaume gallop after it, and Dandoins' troops or trooper gallops after them; and Sainte-Menehould with some leagues of the King's highway, is in explosion."

So, at last, the new Berline reaches the "little paltry village of Varennes," about 11 o'clock, six hours late. Everything here has gone wrong. "Young Boullie, silly stripling, thinking the matter over for this night, has retired to bed." The postilions refuse to go on without fresh horses and for "five-and-thirty minutes" by the King's watch the Berline is "at a dead stand." And now with all the stage set, as Old-Dragoon Drouet and Clerk Guillaume ride "hurly burly" into the village, let Carlyle take up the story: "The Village of Varennes lies dark and slumberous; a most unlevel village, of inverse saddle shape, as men write. It sleeps; the rushing of the River Aire singing lullaby to it. Nevertheless from the Golden Arm, Bras d'Or Tavern, across the sloping market place, there still comes shine of social light; comes voice of rude drivers, or the like, who have not yet taken the stirrup cup; Boniface Le Blanc, in white apron, serving them: cheerful to behold. To this Bras d'Or Drouet enters, alacrity looking through his eyes; he nudges Boniface, in all privacy, "Camarade, es-tu bon Patriote," Art thou a good patriot?—"Si je suis!" answers Boniface. "In that case," eagerly whispers Drouet—what whisper is needful, heard of Boniface alone.

And now see Boniface Le Blanc bustling. See Drouet and Guillaume, dexterous old dragoon, instantly down blocking the bridge, with a "furniture wagon they find there," with whatever waggons, tumbrils, barrows their hands can lay hold of—till no carriage can pass. Then swiftly see them take station hard by, under Varennes archway, joined by Le Blanc, Le Blanc's brother, and one or two alert capital patriots he had aroused. Some half dozen in all, with national muskets, they stand close, waiting under the archway, till that same Korff Berline rumble up.

"It rumbles up: Alte la lanterns flash out from under coat-skirts, bridles chuck in strong flats, two national muskets level themselves fore and aft through the two coach-doors: "Mesdames, your passports."—Alas, alas! Sieur Sausse, procureur of the township, tallow chandler, also grocer, is there, with official grocer politeness; Drouet with fierce logic and ready wit: The respected travelling party, be it Baroness de Korff's, or persons of still higher consequence, will perhaps please to rest itself in M. Sausse's till the dawn strike up!"

A Tribute to the Hardest Worked Merchants in Our Country

HAVE you ever considered the important part played by the grocer in our daily life?

From early morn and often until late at night the grocer keeps open for our convenience.

Whether we want a 5-cent bar of soap, a package of tea or a sack of potatoes he is there to serve us—and with a cheerful "thank you".

You trade with him almost every day. You look upon him as a friend. He treats your children kindly when you send them to the store.

When sickness, accident or unemployment occurs it is the big-hearted grocer who supplies the home with the necessities of life and often waits a long time for his money.

He has had many trials during the past four years. Government regulations have hampered his business. Goods have been difficult to procure. Help scarce. Profits small. He sells on a closer margin of profit than probably any other line of retail trade.

For nearly twenty-five years, the T. H. Estabrooks Company has been distributing millions of pounds of Red Rose Tea through the grocers of Canada. Our relations with them have been very intimate and very friendly. We, therefore, know something of their difficulties and something of the services they are rendering, which we think deserve recognition, and appreciation.

PAYING FOR NEGLECT.

Some Things That Should Not Have Been Allowed to Grow.

A generation ago an English resident of Australia became homesick. He thought that his nostalgia might be mitigated were he to sit in the shade of his own rooftree and watch a few English rabbits gambol in his yard. He imported a pair. Soil and climate proved congenial. After the manner of their kind, they multiplied with enormous rapidity. Result—The Australian Government had a standing offer of £25,000 for any one who would devise some practical method of exterminating the pest. No pied Piper ever appeared to claim the money. The only way the Australian people could get the better of the invaders was by banding together and waging continual and relentless warfare against the animals. Had they combined against the pest in the beginning, they would have exterminated it without much trouble.

Another settler, this time a New Zealander of Caledonian birth, recalling to mind the rugged beauty of the Scottish thistle, imported a few plants and planted them at his doorway. The resultant developed was analogous to the rabbit experiment in Australia. There are hundreds of square miles of Scottish thistles in New Zealand to-day. If you can devise a practical and reasonably quick method of killing off these plants, you can write your own figure on a cheque and the Government of New Zealand will affix its signature to the same.

A few years ago a scientist imported for experimental purposes the gypsy moth and caged it in his back yard in one of the suburbs of Boston. A storm of wind and rain wrecked the cage and the moth escaped. Result—Massachusetts has spent over $3,000,000 in an effort to exterminate this pest.

More than forty years ago Prussia prepared her plan to extend her dominion over the peoples of the earth. At home she began the hoarding of war treasure and the training of men in the military service. Abroad she carried the gospel of Teuton kultur by means of insidious propaganda. This propaganda work was insinuated into our political and social life. Even our school text books were inoculated with this Teutonic virus. Every effort was made to keep German-Americans faithful to the ideals of Prussianism. The events of the last three years revealed how insidious, how dangerous, that propaganda became. Or if the German Imperial Government relied to keep the United States out of the world war.

The analogy between the rabbits in Australia, the thistle in New Zealand, the gypsy moth in Massachusetts, and the Prussian pest in America is complete. The rabbits could have been exterminated without a great deal of expense had the Australians had forethought and foresight. The New Zealanders could have extirpated the thistle had they taken the matter in hand in time. Massachusetts could have got the better of the gypsy moth had the authorities acted vigorously in the beginning. Two decades ago the Governments of the world were awakened to the menace of the Prussian pest. But they did not take the warnings seriously. It has cost these same civilized nations an enormous sum in treasure and human lives to crush out Prussian militarism. But it had to be done, in order to make the world a sane, safe, and decent place to live in. And now that the job is done we must admit that it was worth all that it cost.

A Mystery.

Though a strange, unbelievable peace settled over the Argonne following the armistice, life changed little for the road menders. One pensive negro was gravely lading the soupy mud out of the centre of the highway when his roving eye was caught by the gleam of two service stripes on the sleeve of a soldier who was walking laughing by. The road worker paused in his labors and gazed incredulous. "My Gawd," he murmured, "dat white man has been a whole yeah in dis country an he kin still laff."

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it—if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger-tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single slice and scale of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will cease and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

NEW CURTAIN STUFF.

A new material which drapes softly for side curtains and is of good appearance is printed in all the fashionable tapestry patterns; the fabric itself is like Turkish towelling. It sells at about $1.50 to $2.00 a yard.

Soft printed Japanese cotton crepes are used as side curtains with the regular white or ivory window curtains. These crepes have the favourite large bird and flower designs, but have a peculiarity of color combination which is distinctly Japanese.

A very pretty way of curtaining the window is by using the double cash curtains. Dutch curtains they are called. Make the two pairs of crisp muslin or soft voile or cheesecloth, as preferred, and sew down the sides and across the bottom a band of plain colour to match the colour scheme. These bands may be from two to four inches wide. The bottom curtains may be kept closed, while the upper ones are open to allow sunlight and air to come in, and the bit of colour at the edges seems to be just what so many rooms need to brighten them up.

EAT ONE TABLET END! ALL STOMACH ACHE

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN AT ONCE STOPS ACIDITY, GAS, DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION

Undigested food! Lumps of pain; belching gas, acids and sourness. When your stomach is all upset, here is instant relief—No waiting!

The moment you eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin all the indigestion pain and dyspepsia distress stop. Your disordered stomach will feel fine at once.

These pleasant, harmless tablets of Pape's Diapepsin never fail and cost very little at drug stores.

FOR THE INVALID.

Many invalids find the weight of the bedclothes almost unbearable. An easy rest for them can be made from barrel hoops. Take two, cut off about a third of the circumference and fasten them together at the middle of the top by means of one of the staves. This frame should be wrapped with old muslin to prevent any splinters from annoying the patient. It then may be placed over the sufferer and the clothes drawn up over it.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right off. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful!

BUY YOUR SEED RIGHT

Be Sure the Clover and Grass Seed is Pure.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

SUCCESS or failure depends to a large extent upon the quality of the seed sown. No man can afford to use low-grade clover or grass seed. The risk of seeding down the farm with noxious weed seeds is too great. High-grade clover and grass seed is freer from weed seeds and produces more healthy, vigorous plants per pound than does low-grade seed. Impure seed is dear at any price. Pure seed is the purchaser's right and he should insist on having it.

In the purchase of clover and grass seed the following qualities should be looked for:—

1. Freedom from weed seeds, especially those weed seeds covered by the Seed Control Act. The weed seeds can be properly seen only by spreading out the sample of clover or grass seed on a clean white sheet of paper and looking carefully over it with the aid of a tripod magnifier or hand lens. No farmer should be without a lens of some kind. Everyone who has to purchase seed should endeavor to become familiar with the common weed seeds and know the standards of purity required by the Seed Control Act for the various grades of clover and grass seed.

2. Freedom from dirt, grit, broken straw and other inert matter. A great many samples of clover and grass seed contain far too large a percentage of such inert matter. Those buying such seed are paying a high price per pound for dirt.

3. Good size and color. A good sample of seed of any kind should be large, plump, bright, and have the characteristic color well developed. Plumpness, brightness and good color are usually indicative of high germinative capacity.

4. High germinative capacity. Good clover or grass seed of any kind should have a high germinative capacity. This cannot be accurately judged by an examination of the seed and can be ascertained only by a germination test. Purchasers of seed can have such tests made for them by sending their seed to the office of the Seed Commissioner, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Farmers are reminded that the Department of Botany of the Ontario Agricultural College is at their service at all times for the testing of seed as to purity. In submitting samples for purity test send at least one pound of the coarser grains, one ounce of alfalfa or red clover, and half an ounce of alsike or timothy. A full report on samples will be furnished. Samples of seed should be carefully packed and addressed with postage prepaid to the Botanical Department, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.—Prof. J. E. Howitt, O. A. College, Guelph.

Every Farmer Should Have Spray Calendar.

Before giving the reasons why every farmer should have a spray calendar let us state what a spray calendar is. It is the gathering together into a small space—usually just one sheet or page—of all the necessary knowledge for the control of the various insects and diseases that attack our fruit trees and bush fruits; so that instead of having to search half a dozen bulletins the farmer can obtain the required information almost at a glance. A spray calendar is therefore a handy reference sheet for the control of insect pests and plant diseases.

Every farmer should have a spray calendar for the following reasons:—

1. Because it will save him time in finding the necessary information on the control of insects and plant diseases.

2. Because the information given in the spray calendar is more reliable than he can obtain from his neighbors or any other source. It is the best information that can be obtained anywhere.

3. Because the spray calendar will prevent costly mistakes due to slips of memory.

4. Because the spray calendar states definitely when to treat the different pests. A week too early or a week too late would in the case of some of our worst insects and diseases mean utter failure. There is a good reason for each date of treatment given in the calendar. It is not guesswork.

5. Because the spray calendar states definitely the mixture or mixtures to use in each case and gives the proper strength. Too strong a mixture would mean loss of money and sometimes burning of the foliage or fruit; too weak a mixture failure to control the pest.

6. Because several spray mixtures, e.g., Bordeaux mixture, can be made at home. The spray calendar tells how to make these.

7. Because by following the directions given in the spray calendar, almost perfectly clean fruit and much more of it can be obtained.

Always ask for the latest spray calendar, since they are revised from time to time, and new and better methods added in place of the old as soon as they have been sufficiently tested.

How can spray calendars be obtained? Send a postcard to the Department of Agriculture, with a request for one. Write your name and address clearly.—L. Caeser, B.S.A., O. A. College, Guelph.

Eating Moss.

In Sweden, where a shortage of foodstuffs has been very seriously felt during the war, a flour substitute recently has been developed. On rocks, in pine forests especially, a moss grows, known as Iceland moss, which has, after considerable experimenting, proved to be an excellent and nutritious food substitute.

IRRITABLE NERVES RESTORED AND HEALTH REGAINED IN A SIMPLE WAY

The man or woman who is run-down, not feeling up to the mark, perhaps irritable, nervous or sleepless can well afford to learn about the wonderful results the newly discovered blood-food is giving to folks that use it.

There is wonderful power in this new blood-food, and every weak, pallid person can be quickly nourished back to health that uses it as directed.

After each meal, with a sip or two of water, you simply take two little chocolate-coated tablets, sold in all drug stores under the name of "FERROZONE."

The effect is noticeable at once. You feel happier, brighter, more contented. That old-time feeling of weariness departs — you forget your "nerves" and no longer get irritable or cross over trifling annoyances.

There is a reason for this change and that reason consists of the fact that Ferrozone contains blood-making materials you can get in no other way.

Ferrozone makes the blood tingle and sing with new vitality. This ensures lots of nourishment and strength being supplied to every part of the body.

No wonder the eyes brighten and the cheeks radiate colour and happiness. With abundance of strength, a keen appetite, good digestion and plenty of sound sleep —all the result of Ferrozone—you quickly feel as if life held new charms and pleasures.

MUCH INSURANCE SOLD.

Agents Say That Influenza Epidemic Scared the People.

The fact that so many people died through influenza, is attributed by local insurance agents to the record-breaking number of policies which are being sold now. People who did not realize the value of financial protection were awakened by the scare and the agents are, according to reports, doing a bigger business than for a corresponding period of any year.

Took Severe Cold ON HIS LUNGS

COUGHED PHLEGM and BLOOD.

On the first appearance of a cough or cold, do not neglect it, but get rid of it at once before it has a chance to grow worse, and gets settled on the lungs, causing bronchitis, pneumonia and other serious lung troubles.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will cure the cough or cold on its first inception and perhaps save you years of suffering.

Mr. G. L. Stratychuk, Camora, Sask., writes: "Last winter I took a most severe cold on my lungs and was coughing up phlegm and blood most of the time. I had the cough for over two months, and took a great deal of different medicines, but found no relief from them. At last a friend advised me to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which I did, and it gave me great relief in a very short time, and to-day I am enjoying good health again."

The marvellous results that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has achieved in its cures of coughs and colds has caused many so-called "pine" preparations to be put on the market, which do not contain any pine whatever. See that you get the genuine when you ask for it.

Put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

To Quickly Remove Ugly Hairs From Face

(Beauty Notes.)

Beauty-destroying hairs are soon banished from the skin with the aid of a delatone paste, made by mixing some water with a little plain powdered delatone. This is spread upon the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed to remove the remaining delatone. This simple treatment banishes every trace of hair and leaves the skin without a blemish. Caution should be used to be certain that it is delatone you buy.

Verse By an Airman.

To the list of Canada's war poets must be added the name of Lieut. Hartley Munro Thomas, R.A.F., whose verse has just been collected in a volume entitled, "Songs of an Airman." Lieut. Thomas is in every sense a war poet, as he has come to manhood during the period of war time and his verse is the product of his experiences of the past four years. He was 18 years of age when the war broke out, so that all his poetry has been written to the accompaniment of guns. He was formerly a western newspaperman, and he went overseas with a British Columbia battalion. After Vimy Ridge, he entered the Royal Air Force, and a number of his poems celebrate the doings of the flying men. Although a good deal of his verse is youthful in quality, it displays a good spirit and some of it has a pleasant musical swing. "The Hindenburg Line" may be taken as a fairly characteristic example of the poetry of Lieut. Thomas:

There is mud, red mud, and a sea of holes,
Where the dead are deep,
And the thousands sleep,
While the howitzer chorus rolls;
And the waste is far
Where the Very light shines
Like a drunken star
On the long lone path,
And its trail of wrath,
To the filth of the Hindenburg lines.

There is pain, grim pain, and a pool of blood,
Where the raid passed by
Under the cloudy sky,
While the howitzer roared in mud,
Here the guns repeat,
And the thundering mines,
Making death more sweet
Than the long, lone fight,
In the Winter night,
For the slime of the Hindenburg
lines.

There are dreams, soft dreams, and a nation's prayer,
As the shells go by
In the flashing sky,
While the howitzers rend the air,
And the thoughts that stray
When the khaki man pines
For the better day
Makes a holy land,
Where the Teutons planned,
But the might of the Hindenburg
lines.

Clogged Nostrils Open, Breathing Made Easy, Catarrh Cured!

New Method Very Successful

It is a new method of treatment, that of medicated air, and cannot fail to be beneficial. It goes wherever air can go, thus reaching all the affected parts. It purifies as by fire, simply burning up the disease germs.

Catarrhozone is a non-poisonous and healing agent; it therefore acts upon the mucous tissues of the throat, nasal passages, and bronchial tubes, destroying all microbe life, and at the same time heals up all the inflamed parts.

As a cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, La Grippe; as a strengthener for the throat, Catarrhozone cannot be equalled.

Sufficient Catarrhozone for two months' use, price $1.00; smaller size 50c.; at all dealers.

GOOD AMBULANCE WORK.

War Correspondent Tells of Courageous Efforts of Salvation Army.

"While I was in Boulogne examining the work of the ambulance service," says F. A. McKenzie, the noted war correspondent, "I had a long talk with Major Paget, head of the British Red Cross there. Major Paget spoke to me emphatically and in the strongest possible language in praise of the work the Salvation Army ambulance men were doing. There could not have been eulogy more emphatic and more complete. They spent a year under the shadow of death in the firing line, first with the 7th and 8th Divisions, and then with Kitchener's Army, the Indians, and the Canadians, commencing with the winter of 1914. After this they came down very reluctantly — for every man worth his salt likes to be working under fire — to the Boulogne base. Here, however, there is important and strenuous work to do in the handling of the large numbers of wounded for the hospital ships for England. By the autumn of 1917 it was estimated they had carried close on eighty thousand wounded men."

Toronto's War Record.

Given 55,000 men for overseas service.

Given over 5,000 of her sons in battle.

Given $3,500,000 in insurance on slain soldiers.

Suffered casualties totaling over 25,000.

Paid death claims of $1,000 on 3,537 soldiers' lives.

Given for all war purposes total of about $30,000,000.

Incurred civic war debt of nearly $12,000,000.

Made munitions for allies of about $200,000,000 value.

HUN SHIP IN ONTARIO.

Canada May Get a Surrendered Cruiser on Thunder Bay.

That a surrendered German cruiser may be established on Thunder Bay this spring for the purpose of training boys for the Canadian navy is the statement made by Rev. S. Boal, chaplain of the British Navy league, who arrived here from Toronto, to make final arrangements with the city councils and boards of trade of Fort William and Port Arthur for the establishing of a training ship at the head of the lakes, says a Fort William despatch.

Mr. Boal will be in this district for some time. Commodore Sir Aemilius Jarvis, of Toronto, will be here on January 27, and with him will be Peter Wright, of the British Seamen's union, who will address meetings here.

"I have every hope of getting a German cruiser for Thunder Bay," said Mr. Boal. It is understood that distinctions will be greater than would be possible on a ship such as the Wave Crest, which is now engaged in similar service on the eastern lakes.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross; irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

A SUCCESSFUL AVIATOR.

Something About the Temperament of a Flier.

What type of men does "the air" produce? The London Lancet has made some inquiries in this direction, and published a paper by "a pilot of 600 hours' experience" and a medical officer at a flying field. Their conclusions are as follows:

"'The mark of the successful aviator' is 'the possession of a suitable temperament.' He has, as a rule, 'a fund of animal spirits' and is athletic. 'He possesses resolution, initiative, presence of mind, sense of humor, judgment; is alert, cheerful, optimistic, happy-go-lucky, generally a good fellow, and frequently lacking in imagination.' His amusements when off duty are 'theatres, music (chiefly ragtime), cards and dancing, and it appears necessary for the well-being of the average pilot that he should indulge in a really riotous evening at least once or twice a month.' As for the 'fighting scout' as distinct from the ordinary aviator, he may be described as the same, only more so.' He is full of the joy of life, has 'little or no imagination, no sense of responsibility,' and 'very seldom takes his work seriously, but looks upon "Hun-staffing" as a great game.' Oddly enough, it is—so these critics affirm—better than he should 'know little or nothing of the details of his machine or engine.' No exhaustive knowledge of mechanics seems to be desirable. Is this perhaps because it is necessary that his flying apparatus should become part of himself? He is constantly obliged to give his attention to something other than the conduct of his airplane, which becomes subconscious. A fit man upon a fit machine should apparently not be preoccupied with the state of his body or its mechanical adjuncts.

"Being absorbed in the interest of their subject, and anxious to compare their observation with that of others in a good position to judge, the airman and the doctor issued a questionnaire to fully qualified pilots and found their own conclusions marvellously confirmed, many of their points being very strongly emphasized. For instance, a very large number of those who replied to their questions as to the mental make-up of the successful airman do are lack of imagination to be essential. In slightly different words, one airman after another enumerates this negative requirement. 'Very little imagination'—again and again we read the same thing all down the list. One witness is very concise, and declares the two essential characteristics to be simply '(1) lack of imagination, and (2) endurance.' It is not easy to be quite sure what they all mean by lack of imagination, but other phrases of a similar kind may throw light upon the matter. An airman should show, we read, 'abandonment of care' and the words 'happy-go-lucky' and suggestions of irresponsibility are constantly repeated. Does 'imagination' militate against a light heart? We suppose that it does.

"The aviators who fail—i.e., who begin well and do not finally make good—are those who cannot stand loneliness. They have pluck enough, they can stand any danger in company with an instructor, but 'solo' flying is too much for them. As soon as they begin to fly alone they are constantly faced with a terrible choice. They must fly too low for safety or go up and chance getting 'lost' behind a cloud. This getting 'lost' seems to be of frequent occurrence and no especially grave danger, but one can well understand that a man of 'imagination' could hardly bear it in solitude."

King Salmon Ran Late.

Big king salmon, which run in millions up the Yukon river every summer, were about four weeks late in making their appearance this year. As a result white residents and natives along the river who depend on the run for their winter food talked of salmon famine and the horrors of a fishless winter.

Delayed winter ice in the Bering sea at the mouth of the Yukon, it is believed here, made it impossible for the fish to enter the stream. Bering sea ice, this year, according to reports, moved later than at any time in the last decade. The fish are taken from the river in nets and wheel traps and are cured in camps along the shores.

Stands to Reason.

"More money? Do you think I'm made of money?"

"No," replied his wife quietly. "If you were made of money you'd be apt to shed a little now and then."

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water set on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water set on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

A SOLEMN OPENING

Coming Session of Parliament Will Be Devoid of Customary Ceremony—The Funeral of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

STATE FUNERAL

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.—The second session of the Thirteenth Parliament of Canada will convene in an atmosphere of extreme solemnity. The war has already shorn parliamentary openings of most of the pomp and ceremony which formerly characterized them. The coming session will not only be devoid of the customary ceremony, but will be marked by an air of gloom owing to the death of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who for over forty-five years, has been present at all openings to right or left of Mr. Speaker.

Formal Opening.

The opening of Parliament will be exceedingly formal. The Speech from the Throne will be delivered by His Excellency the Governor-General. In the Commons brief reference will be made to the death of the veteran statesman by Sir Thomas White, Acting Prime Minister, but no orations will be delivered until Monday when the orders of the day are called. Immediately after the House adjourns on Thursday the casket bearing all that is mortal of Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be borne into the chamber, there to be laid in state, and there to remain until Saturday morning, when it will be conveyed to the Sacred Heart Church. Solemn requiem mass will be held.

The Funeral.

Archbishop Mathieu, of Regina, it is stated, will pronounce the funeral oration, and interment will take place in Notre Dame cemetery.

The remains of the old chief will be buried on Ontario soil. He left no intimation to the contrary though the dust of his father and mother lies in the old parish church yard of St. Lin in the County of L'Assomption, Quebec. The home of Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier has been Ottawa for many years past, and it is believed to have been his wish that he should lie here, when death came.

Message of Condolence.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.—Countless messages of condolence to Lady Laurier have been pouring in since yesterday. From all parts of Canada and the United States they are coming, bearing testimony to the great and general nature of the feeling caused by the death of the veteran statesman. One of the first heard from was His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, formerly Governor-General of the Dominion, whose relations with Sir Wilfrid were ever the most cordial.

Lady Laurier is this morning suffering severely from the shock of her bereavement, though her health is generally good.

This afternoon the casket will be brought down to the big drawing room, where it will remain until Thursday afternoon.

Last Cabinet Council.

There hangs on the study wall of Hon. Charles Murphy a framed memo containing the signatures of those who attended the last Cabinet Council called by Sir Wilfrid Laurier on Oct. 6, 1911.

The signatures are as follows: Wilfrid Laurier, R. J. Cartwright, W. Templeman, Wm. Paterson, W. S. Fielding, Sidney Fisher, Geo. P. Graham, W. L. MacKenzie King, William Pugsley, Frank Oliver, Rodolphe Lemieux, Henri Beland, Charles Murphy and A. B. Aylesworth.

The first four are dead. Of the others only Messrs. Murphy and Lemieux were lieutenants of Sir Wilfrid at the last session.

Feeling of Awe.

(Special to The Examiner.)

QUEBEC, Feb. 18.— It was not in political or higher circles so much as among the masses of the people of the city of Quebec that the deepest feelings of regret were expressed, when it was learned that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was dead. Quebec is much more old-fashioned than Montreal, and it was not until yesterday afternoon that in the lower town was it generally known that the man whom they had revered for so many years was dying, and then later that he was dead. In a section of Quebec, the parishes of St. Roch and St. Sauveur, which the old leader had represented at Ottawa for so many years, there was a feeling as of religious awe when the news circulated from mouth to mouth. His electors of decades had known that some time or other in the near future he was to die, for immortality was the only achievement with which he was not credited in his own division, but the actual realization of his death stunned those who worshipped at his shrine.

Here and there in St. Roch, where the people love or hate in no half-hearted way, little knots gathered to talk of the event. It was the passing of his personality, not that of a political leader, that concerned these people more. They forgot to talk of the political developments that might arise.

Germans Are Being Forced to Surrender Industrial Machinery Stolen From France and Belgium

France is Insisting Upon Compliance With the Armistice Demands—This May Delay the Signing of the Peace Treaty—Unrest is Evident Among the Allied Nations.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Some of the Entente Powers are planning as soon as the Russian problem now before the Supreme War Council of the Peace Conference is disposed of, and a few more hearings are accorded representatives of small nations, to take up the larger problems of the treaty of peace. The state of public sentiment in America, England, Australia and Canada, has impressed their representatives here of the necessity of taking steps to return soldiers home, which cannot be accomplished entirely in advance of the conclusion of the peace treaty. The French Government is fully aware of the feeling and expresses its sympathy with the motives that underlie it, but there are fears of dangerous complications and failure to realize the necessary fruits of victory if there is undue haste in the conclusion of the treaty of peace. France is insisting upon compliance with the armistice demands for the return of much property taken by the Germans, principally industrial machinery. This will take a long time, and some of the Entente countries believe it should not be permitted to delay the signing of the peace treaty.

Industrial Conference

Large and Representative Meeting Called for Next Week.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The Ministry of Labour announced that the National Industrial Conference planned last week will be convened on February 27 at Westminster, and that it is decided that the conference be as fully representative of British labour as possible. According to unofficial statement, five hundred invitations have been issued, and Sir Robert S. Horn, Labour Minister, will preside. The conference is expected to make its report by the end of March. At an emergency meeting of the Consultative Committee of Labour's Triple Alliance, it has been agreed that in view the the Government's action in calling the conference, "nothing should be done precipitately to bring the trades union movement into disrepute."

CAN TRIM $50,000 FROM BRIDGE COST

Engineer Barber Has Revised Plans Which Will be Submitted to Board of Works.

Changes in the details of the Hunter street bridge that will provide for a reduction of more than $50,000 in its estimated cost were outlined to Ald. Phelan, chairman of the bridge committee, yesterday, by Mr. Frank Barber of Toronto, the designing engineer. Ald. Phelan stated that the proposed alterations would not affect the general plans and strength of the bridge, according to Mr. Barber's assurance. It is likely that a meeting of the Board of Works will be held in the near future at which the proposed revised plans will be presented for discussion. Mr. Barber will attend this meeting, explain the details, and may even be asked if it is not possible to increase the estimated cost without depreciating the strength or appearance of the bridge.

COMMENCEMENT AT COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Feature of This Year's Exercises Will be Tribute to the Heroes of the School.

The annual commencement exercises will be held at the Collegiate Institute on Friday evening, February 21st. There will be the usual presentation of prizes and scholarships, together with an interesting programme of music and fancy drills. Mr. H. B. H. Kenner will deliver an in memoriam address on "Our Unreturning Brave." This address will doubtless be the feature of the first Commencement since the termination of the war, in which many of the former students of the Collegiate gave their lives in the cause of humanity and democracy. The honour roll is as complete as the principal could make it, and his address will be illustrated by slides of the fifty-one former students and graduates whose pictures adorn the walls of the Collegiate's corridors. This tribute to the boys who have upheld the honours of the old school should bring out all the old students to join with the present under-graduate body in their respects to the memory and deeds of the unreturning, and those who have won military distinctions. It is expected therefore, that this year's Commencement will be largely attended, and the citizens are generally invited to assist in these exercises.

Troops Being Withdrawn

Associated Powers at Sea Regarding the Russian Policy.

By Fred Ferguson.
(United Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 18. — The Associated Powers to-day were apparently completely at sea regarding a Russian policy. Although the Supreme War Council has re-opened the question, it is understood that no progress has been made toward a definite solution.

The one thing that was certain was that British and American troops will be withdrawn from Northern Russia as soon as practicable. While it is possible that this may not be accomplished before the ice breaks up in the spring, it is said that steps are already being taken to facilitate evacuation. This policy apparently will be adhered to in the face of renewed efforts by the French to obtain armed intervention on a large scale.

It was still doubtful to-day whether the proposed joint conference originally scheduled to open last Saturday at Prinkipo, will go through. A decision on this is expected within a few days.

A proposal by Winston Churchill, British War Minister, that was said to include provision for a declaration of a state of war if necessary, is understood to have been tabled by the Supreme War Council, the majority of the members disapproving. Churchill has returned to England.

STEPS TO RESTORE COMPLETE SERVICE FOR G.T.R. PATRONS

Plans for the restoration of the efficiency of service that was disrupted by commercial exigencies caused by the war were discussed yesterday at a conference of G.T.R. station agents and conductors in Belleville. Mr. A. Nacnab, the local agent, attended, and Mr. J. D. McMillan, superintendnet of the local division presided. The discussion covered the details of putting the various branches of the railway back on the basis of peace conditions. Particularly considering the passenger and express services the meeting dealt with such questions as reconstruction as it applied to the railway, safety and comfort of travel, courtesy to passengers, and kindred subjects. The G.T.R., it was stated, hopes to resume its normal service as quickly as possible, and aims to reach out from the former normal service, extending and improving it for the benefit of both the travelling public and the company's business.

Visited Peterborough To-day.

W. R. Davidson, general superintendent of the G.T.R., Montreal, and Mr. McMillan, visited Peterborough this morning, and at noon inspected the Lakefield branch. They returned to Belleville this afternoon.

Wheat Moving Again.

Evidence of the revival of export is found in the report that grain shipments from Midland decommenced yesterday. It is expected that seventy-five cars a day will be transported to the coast. This will mean a renewal of activity for the train crews who have had something of a rest during the past month.

A TRIBUTE TO THE GROCERY TRADE.

It is a very unusual thing for a newspaper to comment on an announcement to be foud in its advertising columns but in this issue today there is a very unusual advertisement—unusual because the advertiser uses most of this space to do a good turn for the "other fellow."

The advertiser—The T. H. Estabrooke Company, the proprietors of Red Rose Tea—have used a large space to pay a tribute to the grocery trade. This indicates a generous, broad minded spirit and shows that there is a great deal more sentiment in business than one would generally think. It shows that advertising is progressing and that it can be used to do other things than to sell goods.

MUST BE CASH BEFORE DELIVERY

Canadian Press.

TORONTO, Feb. 18.— Canadian Railway War Board desires to emphasize the fact that "cash before delivery" system for payment of freight charges, will be positively effective in all parts of Canada on March 1st. After that date goods will be accepted by carrier companies only on charges prepaid basis, with the exception of certain cases where surety bonds may be issued.

GERMANS MUST ABANDON ALL HOSTILE MEASURES

Old Terms of Armistice Must be Observed—New Conditions Signed by Germans.

PARIS, Feb. 17.—Marshal Foch this afternoon informed the Supreme Council of the acceptance by the Germans of the conditions for a renewal of the armistice.

The renewal of the armistice was signed at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening in Marshal Foch's private car, according to a despatch received here from Treves.

This averts what promised to be a rather critical situation as it had been reported that the Germans might persist in carrying out their intimations of a refusal to sign.

More important results will take form shortly when Marshal Foch returns to Treves for submission of the details of the disarmament and demobilization of the German forces which are being formulated by the military, naval and economic advisors of Marshal Foch. These are of a nature amounting in fact to a preliminary peace agreement.

Disarmament is understood to include both the naval and military branches, and the naval authorities expect the ultimate naval terms will provide for the dismantling of the fortifications of Heligoland and the Kiel Canal, the canal being opened for commercial navigation.

While the blockade is not raised by the present terms yet, it is expected that the disarmament under later and more complete terms will obviate the necessity of a further blockade and permit such economic and food relief as is determined upon.

Two notes were handed to Marshal Foch by Mathias Erzberger when the renewal was taken up at Treves. One note concerned the employment of the German mercantile marine for various purposes, while the other was longer and contained several requests, including the release of German prisoners and the maintenance of economic intercourse between Germany and occupied German territories.

The New Terms.

Under the new terms, as presented by Marshal Foch, Germany must abandon all offensive movements against the Poles and also must prohibit her troops from crossing the Russian frontier at a certain line.

The line of demarkation between Germany and Poland is outlined as follows: East of Grosser Neudorf (southeast of Bromberg) south of Labischin (south of Schodziesen) north of Exin (southwest of Bromberg), south of Sann, north of Czarnikau (east or Kreuz) west of birnbaum and Bentschen, (west of Posen) Wollstein, Lissa and north of Wiernszow and thence along the frontier between Silesia and Poland (this line of demarkation gives to Poland a considerable part of the German Government of Posen).

It was provided by the allied terms that the armistice must be renewed for an indeterminate period with a fixed delay of three days for the denunciation of it. The old terms of the armistice are to be carried out completely by Germany.

A CALL TO VISION

Dr. C. A. Seager, M.A., of Toronto, gave in St. John's Church last night, a powerful and inspiring address to the Anglican laymen of the city engaged in the campaign now on. The speaker's object was to suggest a spiritual point of view for after-the-war church endeavour. Dr. Seager has recently returned from Vancouver, where he occupied an influential position as principal of St. Mark's Hall, and his utterances were marked by the western breeziness and breadth of vision. "The peoples of the world," he said, "are in these days seeing visions. The Church must not sleep, but interpret for the present age the Bible visions, which set forth for all time mankind's true objective."

Commenting upon the picture of the Heavenly Jerusalem in Revelation xxi, he pointed out that it was by, no means "visionary," or exclusively future in its reference. The key-word of the passage was "city," that is, social order. The social order of the world was intended and destined to become purified and worthy to be the "Lamb's bride."

No Illusion.

The Bible was under no illusion as to the world's corrupt condition apart from God. But humanity was nevertheless redeemed and in the throes of new birth. Since the thirteenth century mankind had been struggling and hoping. The Great War had deepened a determination on the part of the masses that there should be no more war—and had developed a new power to bring this about. The Church must shake loose from her narrow and somewhat selfish outlook of the nineteenth century and resume her vocation as link between Bible visions and human activities, between God's truth and the longing hearts of men.

Dr. Seager held that by God's providence the British Empire, of which Canada was to become an ever more important part, held a strategic position in the fight to make actual the visions of Democracy. The Empire had demonstrated the possibility of an international unity bound together by moral and spiritual ties. He instanced the loyalty of India, Arabia and South Africa, under the strain of war. A Boer statesman speaking in his hearing at Vancouver, and explaining why South Africa had remained steadfast, had said in his broken English, "Mein Gott, our souls were lifted up"—by Britain's grant of complete liberty after the Boer war.

World's Visions.

The world's visions were peculiarly a challenge to England's Church. Let us answer the challenge by a new conservation to the service of humanity. Let the drudgery which was involved in church work be shot through with the light of a new vision of the supreme worth of the task to which we are called in the community at large and in each congregation.

Dr. W. E. Taylor, of Toronto, is to preach in Peterborough on Sunday at St. Luke's in the morning and at All Saints' in the evening. Mr. R. W. Allin will also deliver further messages. Dr. Taylor will be the speaker at the combined men's supper next Monday evening.

Huns Will Pay Creditors

All Obligations Can Be Worked Off in the Course of Years.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—A despatch to the Daily News from Weimar tells of a talk its correspondent had with Finance Minister Schiffer, of the new German Government. He does not regard lightly his terribly difficult task, and is determined to act fairly toward everybody. "We are," he said, "in an extremely difficult situation, but we will deal fairly with all creditors, neutral and enemies alike. For that we must be allowed time. We possess $500,000,000. We also have some materials, mainly machinery on hand. These are our assets.

"You know our liabilities, our terrible burden of debt, the amount of our uncovered paper currency, and our obligations in the way of indemnities to the allies. But we have our industry. We shall work off our obligations, but then, of course, we must be allowed to work. We must have materials and food for our workmen."

Grocery Store Swept By Fire

Overheated Stovepipes Given as the Cause—Inspector Present.

A fire broke out in the grocery store of Mr. H. M. Dobbin, King and Bethune streets, last night at a quarter to ten. The blaze started in the store as a result of overheated pipes. The stove pipes run from a coal stove in the back shop to the front, and passing through a doorway came in contact with a chinese curtains which are used to drape the doorway in lieu of a door. The flames quickly spread from the curtains to the groceries on the shelves, but by this time an alarm had been rung in at the G.T.R. station and the brigade was soon on the scene. The fire was soon extinguished by means of chemicals.

The Chief is of the opinion that if the fire had spread, the whole place would have been burned to the ground and perhaps lives lost as the apartments above the store are occupied. The fire loss will be somewhat heavy, but the amount of damage has not yet been established.

Mr. E. N. Wilson, Inspector of the Canadian Fire Underwriters, was present and was delighted with the work and speed of the brigade.

Memorial Tablets And Honour Rolls

The Canadian firm of Wm. A. Rogers Limited of Toronto, have appointed Mr. Frank Clarke, Jeweller, Charlotte street, their Peterborough representative for their Memorial Tablets, etc. A special department and bronze foundry has been organized by the above firm for the designing and execution of these memorials and Honor Rolls either in bronze, brass or silver, suited for church, school, lodge and business institutions. Suggestions and estimates will be furnished by Mr. Clarke on application. The demand for suitable recognition of our national heroes has called forth this work. Those who may have lost a relative at the front and who might desire to place an individual tablet in a church or elsewhere, will get full particulars by applying to Mr. Clarke. jd

Funeral of Late W. H. Walkey

Three Masonic Lodges Represented at the Funeral.

The remains of the late W. H. Walkey, who died suddenly at his home, 47 Benson avenue on Sunday morning, were laid at rest this afternoon in the Little Lake Cemetery. The funeral, which was under Masonic auspices, was very large and the three lodges Peterboro 155, Corinthian 523 and Royal Arthur of which Mr. Walkey was a member, were represented.

A family service was held at the home of the deceased after which service conducted by Reverend Canon Davidson was held in St. John's church. At the latter Canon Davidson spoke of the loss the city in general has suffered in the death of Mr. Walkey and referred to his long connection with the church as Vestry clerk and Sunday School Superintendent, also to his value in connection with the fraternal societies to which he belonged.

The pall bearers were Right Worshipful Brothers, H. Rush, Alex. Gibson, Duncan Walker, H. C. Winch Worshipful Brothers A. Mowat, and Wm. Hill.

Admitted Making Squirrel Whiskey

Four Gallons of Mash Seized in Smith Township.

Mr. Joseph Stewart, License Inspector, High Constable Moore and Mr. W. Butler paid a surprise visit to a farm at the first line of Smith yesterday afternoon and seized about four gallons of mash which was prepared for the unlawful manufacture of whiskey. While the man and his wife admitted the making of whiskey for their own use, Mr. Stewart had not sufficient evidence to arrest the farmer, as they were unable to locate the "worm."

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

Wilson is Characterized as An International Umpire—Will Wait Until He Returns.

DAMAGE CLAIMS

(United Press.)
(By Ed. L. Keen.)

PARIS, Feb. 18. — The Peace Conference is expected figuratively to mark time until President Wilson returns from his brief furlough in the United States.

While the foundation for the peace settlement has been firmly laid, the conferees realize that the structure cannot be completed without the guidance of the spokesman of a people totally disinterested in European affairs. Work on the details of the various problems will continue during the president's absence but it is understood that no momentous decisions will be made until he again takes his seat at the peace table, probably the middle of next month.

Opened a Month Ago.

The peace conference formally opened just a month ago to-day. In that month things moved faster even than the most sanguine delegate believed possible. Yet there are countless problems, large and small, of which the conference has scarcely scratched the surface. In the solution of these the conference will be confronted by constantly overlapping and conflicting claims, necessitating the presence of an international umpire, for which office, President Wilson, is admitted by the conference delegates themselves, and European peoples as well, to have qualified.

The Ground Work.

The constitution of a league of nations, recognized as the work of the entire peace session, has been completed, but the draft is at the best a tentative affair. When it comes up for debate in the general peace congress it is believed practically certain that some amendments will be made. Meanwhile the league is before a court of public opinion, and is sure to be discussed by parliaments of the various signatory nations.

Inasmuch as these parliaments will be required to ratify the treaty of which the league of nations constitutes a part, they are expected to attempt some modification or extension of the text before according it their approval.

Parliamentary ratification of treaties in some countries is not mandatory of course, but in case of pending peace settlement all precedents will be waived in favor of this democratic custom.

Militarism Removed.

The menace of militarism apparently has been removed so far as the enemy countries are concerned. The new armistice terms accepted on Sunday by Germany, are understood to render her absolutely im-

"Peterborough Prospects Possibilities Unsurpassed."

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18TH, 1919.

WHY GO TO SWEDEN?

It is intimated on the authority of a reliable Canadian engineering journal that the Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario is investigating the possibility of buying a large quantity of electrical machinery necessary for the development of the Commission's undertakings in Ontario, in Sweden. If this statement is correct, and there has been so far no official denial of it, it would seem that there should be an immediate and vigorous protest from the people of this province. Surely in a period of industrial depression such as Canada is suffering at the present moment, with a surplus of labour that is daily growing greater, with big plants capable of turning out the machinery that is needed, waiting for orders, there is no occasion for a commission that is supposed to be operating for the people of this province and spending the money of the same people, to go outside of Canada for such equipment.

The Great War Veterans' Association of Peterborough have done well to consider this matter, because it affects them as it affects all citizens. In passing a strong resolution and in asking other provincial branches to [illegible] with them, and in pressing the [illegible] of an influential deputation to the Ontario government to protest against the proposed purchase of [illegible] machinery, the Veterans have taken a stand that should be backed by other bodies who have the interests of Ontario at heart.

LABOUR'S REQUEST.

The Trade Unionists of Toronto are asking for a national campaign for a forty-hour week and a minimum wage of $6.00 a day. The proposal is a startling one, but is it practicable? Labour men throughout the country would consider that aspect of the question before committing themselves. Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labour, and himself a labour man, told the Toronto deputation that the time was not opportune. His reasons for [illegible] are that the present industrial situation is abnormal, and that the demands for higher wages and shorter hours of labour are not justified by the present industrial conditions. He says that the country cannot afford to meet these demands with a surplus of labour and falling markets may produce a result opposite to that anticipated," should not be ignored. How, in view of the present industrial situation, can demands such as these be justified economically, is a mystery to the average citizen. There are very few people who would not appreciate a five-day working week, with wages such as are recommended by the Toronto committee, but the majority have some difficulty in understanding how the industries of the country could get along under such conditions. Some of the weaker concerns would undoubtedly go to the wall and there would be, instead of more opportunities for employment, a lessening demand for labour in the country. The desire of labour to improve working and wage conditions is natural and commendable, and will be supported, but in the particular demands fathered by the Toronto committee there are evidences of a lack of understanding of economic conditions that will cause the proposition to be regarded as impossible. Do the sponsors of the movement believe that there would be any chance of a decrease in the cost of living if their plans were successfully carried out? A delegate from the Street Railwaymen's Union evidently recognized this fact for he significantly asked his comrades if they would be willing to pay 10 cent fares? Hours and wages such as proposed would certainly increase the cost of everything that is manufactured. And who would pay the increase? The answer would seem to be obvious.

A PEN PICTURE.

The current issue of the Canadian Courier contains a striking pen picture of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, written in connection with the opening of the new session of parliament—an opening that the revered Liberal leader was not destined to see. The editor of the Courier had no premonition when he was penning his article that by the time his publication was issued the nation would be mourning the loss of its great statesman. Yet it is the irony of fate that the publication of the reference to Sir Wilfrid came almost simultaneously with the announcement that the Liberal chief was no more.

Here is the picture of Sir Wilfrid in the House as given by the Courier:

There is an old man opposite; a strange old man of 76. With a nervous, almost sprightly, step and a courtly mediaeval bow to the Speaker he glides like a grey ghost into his place, fumbles his papers a moment and settles himself like an aged youth into his perfect clothes, locks his thin long fingers and listens with stoical gravity to the acting Premier. Nearly fifty years ago this man learned how to concentrate upon hon. gentlemen opposite. Almost fifty years without a break in one Parliament. There is no leader in any parliament under the British crown with such a record. You wonder that instead of sitting opposite the Premier he is not writing his reminiscences as John Morley did, for his public career goes back to within four years of Confederation.

Great epochs have a habit of pivoting around great leaders—or used to. Heaven knows what or how it will be in future; but 1867, as everybody knows, belonged to Macdonald and Cartier. 1873 pivoted round John A. Macdonald. 1896 belongs to Laurier.

Seven years after Confederation Laurier entered the House of Commons. Seven years after he entered the Quebec Legislature the National Policy swept the country and John A. Macdonald became the great Canadian leader—not merely of Tories, but of Canadians, as even Grits in those days and long afterwards used to admit.

Exactly twenty years after Confederation and nine years after the National Policy was born, Laurier became Liberal leader. That was the year the Wiman-Butterworth crowd in the United States brought commercial union to a climax, forcing Edward Blake in the year 1891 to prefer Ireland to annexation. When Laurier, the "free-trader," came on the stage, he was famous as a maker of the greatest number of high-average speeches ever made in our parliament; speeches that people read aloud in the Globe; speeches such as we never hear again in Parliament. He was the kind of man that even a Tory would point out on the street. Nobody else looked like him. Nobody else, not even Macdonald, was like him. He was an orator, an actor, a political leader, a student of history, a good deal of a scholar, and a figure that looked as fine as his greatest speech ever sounded—and in the House whether he rose to say much, something or nothing in particular, everybody listened when the Tory benches were full, and the gallery if it was a great debate was sure to be crowded. Quite apart from his politics Wilfrid Laurier had the power—as Macdonald had—to sway the emotions and arouse the imagination of a habitant, a Maritimer, or a Rocky mountaineer, a Grit or a Tory, an Englishman in London or an Imperialist anywhere.

A REPATRIATION COMMITEE.

The first step in the formation of a local organization to grapple with the problems of repatriation, more particularly in regard to the unemployment question, has been taken by the War Veterans. Following the plea made by the Examiner that some effort should be made here to meet the situation, the organized body of Peterborough's returned soldiers expressed their approval through a resolution unanimously passed at their regular meeting last night, of a co-operative committee, consisting of a representative from the Board of Trade, the Trades and Labour Council and the Great War Veterans, together with Mayor Duncan, to study the situation and to take such action as is possible to find employment for the men who have fought overseas. The other organizations named will undoubtedly be glad to co-operate with the War Veterans in this important matter and a committee such as been suggested, if it takes hold of the problem in the proper spirit, should be able to accomplish good results. It at least will get the movement under way and that in itself will be a considerable improvement over the inaction that has so far distinguished Peterborough's attitude towards repatriation. A small committee, however representative it is, and however energetic and enthusiastic its members may be, cannot however accomplish what is necessary to be done without the co-operation and support of the citizens generally. It is necessary that the whole community, if possible, should be organized, and the forming of this special committee may lead to an awakening on the part of Peterborough to the critical nature of the present situation and to the necessity for action. All who have viewed with considerable anxiety the tendency to let the important problems of repatriation take care of themselves will be glad to learn that there is at last some evidence of an awakening.

THE KAISER'S GUILT

If he comes to trial it is going to be a difficult matter for William Hohenzollern to establish his innocence. There is little doubt but that he touched the button which loosened the convulsion. The world has pretty well accepted the fact of his guilt, but now comes detailed evidence of his criminality in a compilation of facts from many sources which the British government has made public. This narrows the responsibility for the war until it rests on the ex-kaiser's shoulders. Telegrams, private correspondence, reported conversations, official documents, furnish damning revelations to show that the all-highest deliberately precipitated the conflict. Since his downfall he has endeavoured to shift the responsibility to his ministers. He has declared that at the conference which decided upon war he was opposed to a struggle, but was overruled. Now we learn that at the meeting, held at Potsdam, July 5, 1914, the only persons present were the emperor and the highest members of the general staff, and that the meeting was called not for the purpose of discussing the advisability of going to war, but to select the right moment to strike. Nobody representative of the German people had a word in the final decision.

Half a dozen men at most, all of them for years keen for a display of Germany's military might, brushed aside honour and decency and for the glory and ambition of their imperial master brought on the great catastrophe. They made as an excuse for their crime the developments from the Sarajevo assassination, but it is clear enough that war was to be made anyway.

This exposure by the British Government is timely. A foolish, sloppy sentiment, the kind that sobs over condemned gunmen and sends flowers to imprisoned pervarts, in favour of leniency towards this monster criminal has been growing in some quarters of late. He has been punished enough say his friends in Germany, and this cry is being taken up elsewhere by silly pacifists, "humanitarians," and that element which shudders at the thought of royalty being made to pay for its sins. Recently an African native king was executed for wholesale massacre of weaker tribes. He decreed the butchery of several thousands and for that he paid the penalty. The Potsday criminal decreed the slaughter of millions and hasn't the excuse of ignorance. As the hour of his trial approaches it is well the world should be reminded and convinced of his infamy. That will help prevent what would be monumental miscarriage of justice, should he escape punishment through a misguided clemency.—London Advertiser.

Orono Burglary Still a Mystery

Press Criticize the Government—Sent a Detective Down for One Hour.

(Orono News.)

Some few months ago C. G. Armstrong had his store burglarized, and up to this date no conviction. The government have all kinds of spotters hired to convict people who happen to have a bottle of whiskey stored in their hip pocket or in a grip and soak him up anywhere from two to five hundred dollars. They also have spotters going through the country buying cans of health salts and cans of talcum powder, and woe betide the poor devil that should happen to hand out a can of the above minus a 1c. stamp. Some four or five of our country merchants in Darlington and Clarke, some of them poor women seeking to make a living for themselves and families, have been fined from $50 to $60 for selling talcum powder without a stamp. We will venture to assert that not half the merchants in this country know what goods have to be stamped. Why don't our government mail to every merchant a bill of some kind to be nailed up in a conspicuous place with a full list of articles that have to be stamped or else compel the man that makes the stuff stamp them before they leave his fatcory, instead of giving jobs to a lot of fellows to go through the country robbing poor merchants out of their daily bread. We know a merchant out north that paid a fine of nearly $80 for selling a can of talcum powder to one of these government blood suckers. Why, if that country merchant sold talcum powder for the next seventy-five years in the place he is doing business he would not make enough profit to pay the fine. What we are getting at is that Armstrong had his store robbed of some $2,500 worth of goods and the government had a detective spend an hour or so here looking wise, but C. G. is still looking for his stock and our merchants are still paying fines.

Girl's Council Held Meeting

The Girls' Council held a business meeting on Saturday evening at 7.30 in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A.

It was decided that the Council should continue their meetings using the same plan of programme which they have been using.

Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. Wright, Miss Hall, Miss Woods, Miss Parker and Miss Thompson were appointed for a programme committee.

Miss A. Perrin was appointed for a publicity secretary.

It was decided that the Council would hold meetings in the various churches, if the churches agree to this plan.

The following ladies were appointed for a committee to arrange for the next meeting in one of the churches:—

Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, Miss Parker, Mrs. Beatty.

The meeting was adjourned.

The Women Workers of City Attended Meeting Last Night

Addresses Were Given by Ald. R. Morrison and Others—Women Electric Workers Will Assist.

The neucleus for organized labour amongst the female workers of the city was formed last night in the Labour Hall at a fairly attended meeting of female representatives of the different branches of industry in the city. At the meeting it was decided that the Electric Workers which appeared to be the only working union in the city would assist the female workers in all classes of work to form an organization. The female workers were promised the help, advice and backing of the labour men in their efforts for organized labour.

Three Speakers.

At the meeting of which Ald. R. Morrison was chairman, three speakers explained the labour situation of to-day. Mr. T. Tooma, the first speaker, said that the object of the meeting was to organize if possible the female element of labour in order that, organization being the basic principle of reforms, they might bring about the reforms in daily work which are necessary. For equal work every girl should geh equal pay with the male element of industry. A six-hour day is long enough for any female worker he said. He concluded by advising the female workers to get together in an organization and go to the big manufacturers and ask for such reforms as are necessary, and said that he was positive of their receiving a sympathetic hearing. "The firms are only waiting for such demands," he said.

Home Conditions.

Mr. Joseph Begley, the next speaker, showed plainly how organized female labour could better home conditions, pointing out that with labour conditions as they are soon the bent father who has spent his life in making the big interests rich, would be unable to carry on, and the responsibility of supporting the home would fall on the shoulders of the daughter, who is working for less wages than her father received. Equal work should be met with equal wages, and organized labour will bring about wage reform.

"There is," he said, "nothing to fear in organization, we are only trying to benefit the home."

Mixed Organization.

Mr. McArthur said that a mixed organization was never a success. He advised the female workers to organibe and said he felt sure that with a charter they could get a great organization. In politics the women now stand equal with the men, and should have an interest in political matters to-day. Changes in labour conditions could be brought about by legislature, therefore the women of to-day should understand politics for their own benefit.

Formed a Committee.

At the close of the meeting the representatives present formed a committee of the whole which will go amongst the female workers of the city and endeavour to interest the workers in the interest of organization.

BE READY FOR EMERGENCIES.

The best way is to always keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, ready for emergencies. Then when, croup or colds come suddenly they can be promptly cured before they have time to reach an acute and dangerous stage. To meet this requirement we have put the syrup up in family size bottles which contain nearly three times as much as the 25-cent bottle and sell at 50 cents.

CONDEMNS HARSHNESS OF U. S. COURT-MARTIAL

Outdone Only by Prussia, Russia, and Spain, Says Judge.

WASHINGTON, — Court-martial sentences in the American army are outdone in harshness only by those of Prussia, Russia and Spain, according to General Ansel acting Judge-Advocate-General. To back up the bill to equalize court-martial sentences, Ansel presented this group of "horrible examples":

Soldier went home without leave to see dying father, sentenced to death.

Forty years imposed on soldiers who refused to give up cigarettes when found violating K. P. smoking rule.

Death sentence given soldier who refused to drill, because too ill.

Fifteen years for man who went home to see ill wife and baby.

It matters not how graceful a girl may be, she simply can't enact the part while trying to climb out of a hammock.

It is the things that are made to look at that cost the most.

Scene from "The Man Who Came Back," Wm. A. Brady's genuine New York Company which comes to The Grand next Saturday for matinee and night. This Company is en route to Indianapolis, Ind., direct from New York, and is playing only six cities in Canada.

William A. Brady's tremendous success, "The Man Who Came Back," which finished its record-breaking run of fifty-seven weeks in New York, only to run eight months in Boston, will be seen in Peterborough at "The Grand" for two performances on Saturday next, February 22. The story of the young man who, after reaching the lowest depths, finds in an opium den in China, the girl who is to lead him back home, has made such an impression on the theatre-going public that it will stand as one of the biggest appeals on the American stage. Otherwise, it could not have outlasted all of its contemporaries in New York and shattered previous long-run records as it did.

"The Fall of Lucifer" Subject of Address by Dr. T. T. Shields

Large Audience Heard Interesting Lecture in Murray Street Baptist Church—A Trip to the Front.

Last evening in the Murray street Baptist church a large audience was held under the spell of the eloquence of Dr. T. T. Shields, of Toronto, who took as his subject, "The Fall of Lucifer." He took his audience from the day that the war opened till the armistice was signed, from the war devastated areas of France to the busy munition and shipbuilding centres of England, from the excited mein of Reni Vivaini, Premier of France, at the opening of the war, and "Tiger" Clemenceau, the present leader of the French government, and from the furrowed brow of Sir Edward Carson to the cool and calculating mind of the Chief Technical Advisor of the British Ministry of Munitions, Sir George West. He then took his large audience from the Place de la Concorde, that Mecca of captured German guns in Paris, and where the statue of Strassburg was recently unveiled to the British steamship, Mauretania, a nine deck wonder, which was the first ship to reach New York with American soldiers aboard after the Germans had signed the armistice.

A Cook's Tour.

A took his audience on a Cook's tour up and down the front line trenches, showing them here and there the wonderful fighting material which beat to the knees the wonderful military machine which the Kaiser and his legions of chemists and generals had carefully trained and petted for over forty years. He showed the British tanks and took them in a ride in one of them over the Hindenburg trenches in one of the latest models which carries its own bridge with it and lays it in front of it whenever a formidable obstruction like a canal or river is encountered. He carried us across the Straits of Dover to the large munition centres of Great Britain, a factory which stretches nearly eight miles in one direction, and in which before the war 15,000 men were employed, but now over 90,000 men were engaged in making munitions, a force larger than the army under the command of the Duke of Wellington at the Battle of Waterloo. He took them to Belfast where the huge linen factories are engaged in making linen for aeroplane wings not only for the British Empire but for all of the Allied nations. He introduced his audience to British officers, who falling into the hands of the Hun, had suffered and seen fiendishness and cruelties which made mere courtesies of the most excruciating and diabolical tortures ever inflicted by the savages of the Black Ages. Wounds of British prisoners were not only infected by German nurses but broken limbs were unattended to until the limb rotted off.

Judge Huycke Presided.

His Honour Judge Huycke was the chairman and associated with him on the platform was Dr. W. D. Scott. His Honour mentioned the heart-felt grief that had spread over the whole Dominion since it was learned that the old Liberal Chieftain, Sir Wilfrid Laurier had passed away. Dr. Shields also tendered his respects to Sir Wilfrid.

"The Fall of Lucifer" is a very ancient book telling of the fall of world tyrants, who are, in their misery, forgotten by even those who are co-residents of them in Hades. Every age had its Lucifer. There was Philip the Second of Spain, who conceived and built the Spanish Armada; there was Napoleon, and there still is William Hohenzollern, although now bereft of his power. Dr. Shields traced the career of this modern Lucifer through all the different stages, and also described through what instrumentality he was brought low. It was an impressionistic sketch and in his first guise the Kaiser does not appear as a vulture but as a superman who has proclaimed his own superiority over all others.

The speaker said that the Anglo-Saxon race and every other race before the war had vied with each other in giving pre-eminence to Germany in everything. In religion, political science and everything else. The Germans at the said time said that the whole world would have his coat cut according to the German measure. As an easy get-away makes a thief bolder so did the successful Franco-Prussian war of 1870 embolden the Germans and they developed that spirit which resulted in the present war. After describing some of the tortures of the Hun, the speaker said that he had come to the conclusion that to this monster nothing on earth was sacred. Everything was done to appease the hunger of this Molloch.

The Contribution of Russia.

A chaotic race of children did more to win this war than they are credited to have done—Russia. We should maintain an attitude of sympathy towards poor Russia. If on March 2, 1918, when the hoards of the enemy released by the defection of Russia from the eastern front, and the western front had to hold back such a number of Germans that it seemed nigh impossible that the line would hold, what would have happened if these masses of Germans had been thrown on the western front before the British were there in their full strength? What would have happened if Russia had taken two and a half years to make up her mind? Civilization is incomparably more indebted to Russia than to the United States. We owe it to Russia to rescue her from the situation that she now finds herself in. No forces should be withdrawn from Siberia until Russia is saved. No wonder that the plague of Bolshevism has spread over Russia—a nation of illiterates.

Dr. Shields paid a glowing tribute to Clemenceau, the premier of France, who saved France when she was about (through the defeatist programme of traitors) to collapse.

The speaker allowed his auditors to inspect Britain's ledger books in order to see how Great Britain financed this war, and what price she paid in gold. Great Britain's vitality was as much sapped through her indirect effort as through the sending of men to the front, her direct effort, continued the speaker. She welcomed American troops in England, she supplied Italy and France with coal, and all the allies were hanging on to John Bull's coat tails. Even the great American army said, "I'm coming, John.....if you'll fetch me."

The American Navy.

The speaker said the American navy was as fine a navy as there was afloat. "They have a wonderful navy but why do they want a bigger one? They have got a large enough one now. If Great Britain before the war had a navy of 2,500,000 tons and during the war in spite of the menace of the German navy she increased it to a tonnage of [illegible] does the American [illegible] larger navy, for [illegible] German navy now. # SOLDIERS HAVE TO WAIT FOR LAND

Veterans at Calgary Expose Government's Favours to Friends While Only Promises Come to Soldiers.

CALGARY, Alta., Feb. 18.—In a large attended meeting of the Great War Veterans on Sunday afternoon the indignation of the soldiers broke loose against the Ottawa Government for what they termed the Government's failure to place the returned men on the land, while at the same time tolerating the holding of leases to thousands of fine farming lands in the west, secured illegally by political favorites.

Action Threatened.

Resolutions were adopted that if these illegally held leases are not forthwith cancelled, the soldiers will take legal action to have them cancelled. Other drastic measures were hinted at by different speakers in order to force the Government to realize the immediate need of the soldiers for land, and the imperative necessity of getting them located on the promised farms in time to get a crop in this spring. This outburst followed disclosures made in the local Legislature on Friday by the Deputy Speaker of the House, Martin Woolf, in which he mentioned the names of many prominent politicians of Southern Alberta, who have secured thousands of acres of fine land on lease from the Government, when the soldiers were unable to get land enough for a farm.

Gives Names.

Woolf gave the names of the men who received the leases. Among these were W. H. Smith, his apponent in the last election, who got six sections; W. H. Stead, a merchant in Cardston, who had no cattle who got four sections; Chis. Jensen his Conservative opponent in 1913, who got six sections; Ephraim Hart, the president of the Cardston Conservative Association who got five sections; Mardsen Bros., who got four sections; Knight and Watson received blanket grazing leases of immense value, though they were not citizens of the country, John Farish, his opponent in 1912, was another man who received favors from the Government, and in spite of this the soldiers can't get land.

Time Something Was Done.

The meeting was presided over by President Arthur Haselden. In opening the meeting he said, "Owing to the dilatory attitude of the Government toward the land settlement it has been found necessary to call a meeting to discuss the matter fully. They have shuffled around this subject for the last two years, and it is time something was done if a man is to get on the land this year and poduce a crop. We are presenting some resolutions to you this afternoon and unless you have some better alternative to offer I must ask you to refrain from criticism."

Tired of Pleading

All references to the abuse of the leasing system of lands as exposed in the Legislature were greeted with jeers and cries of "Shame." The president said the veterans have had some investigations going on for some time and were prepared to show some very peculiar conduct on the part of Government agents in protecting their rich friends and rewarding their political helpers with leases on lands worth millions, while it was impossible for soldiers to get lands on any terms. For his part he was tired with pleading for action to Ottawa.

Legal action to cancel these leases seemed to him to be the only recourse and the resolution to that effect was unanimously adopted.

Valentine Party Was a Success

Prizes Awarded to Y. W. C. A. Workers.

About one hundred and thirty young people attended the Valentine party last evening in the Y.W.C.A. and the entertainment was a great success. A feature of the evening was the presentation, by Miss Winnifred Parker, of the prizes won in the recent membership campaign.

Miss E. Kennedy, captain of the house team, won the pennant for bringing in the largest number of members. Miss Leta Bronscombe, Miss Margaret MacDonald and Mrs. H. Roger won season tickets for the swimming pool for bringing in the greatest number of members individually, and the captains of teams bringing in the greatest number of members were present with Y.W.C.A. pins as follows: Miss E. Kennedy, captain of the house team; Miss Margaret MacDonald, captain of the Y. Club; Miss Littlefield, captain of the Ladies' Club, and Miss Edna Sharpe, captain of the Athena Club. Mrs. Morrison was also presented with a Y pin in recognition of her work during the campaign.

Veterans Object to Importation of Swedish Electrical Machinery

Peterboro Branch to Protest Against Reported Intention of Hydro-Electric Commission to Let Contracts in Sweden—Co-operative Committee to Deal With Repatriation Problem to be Formed.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING

At the regular meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, held last night in the club rooms, George street, with President A. S. Morrison in the chair, it was unanimously decided to protest against the reported intention of the Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario to purchase electrical machinery in Sweden. It was felt that such a policy was a discrimination against Ontario plants that could not be endured under the present industrial conditions. The fatcories in this province that could produce the machinery needed, in the opinion of the meeting, should be given the contracts, and it was decided to send a protest to the Provincial Cabinet and to ask other branches to take similar action, and if necessary to arrange a deputation to wait upon the Ontario Cabinet.

A Co-operative Committee.

A resolution was unanimously passed suggesting the formation of a co-operative committee to be composed of a representative from the G.W.V.A., the Board of Trade and the Trades and Labour Council, with Mayor Duncan, to assist the returned soldier to find employment. Secretary Whatley was named by the President as the G.W.V.A. representative on the committee.

Reports were presented by the Entertainment committee and by the Ladies' Auxiliary in regard to relief work. Both committees were given a vote of thanks for their services.

The Building committee reported through Chairman Layfield and gave particulars of a number of places that had been inspected with a view to their being secured for the Veterans' new headquarters. There was an interesting discussion on the matter, which was finally left over until a special meeting to be held on Thursday of this week, when a definite course of action will be decided upon. It is hoped that there will be a record attendance of members, as this is the biggest proposition that the Veterans have so far had to deal with.

Among the communications was a letter from Comrade A. W. Phipps, a former member of the Peterborough branch who is now living in the United States, enclosing $3 for the McIntosh Fund.

A large number of new members were admitted into the Association, the membership of which is rapidly increasing with the constant arrival home of men from overseas.

Comrade L. Lebar was appointed as representative of the Association on the Children's Aid Society.

"The Man Who Came Back"

Absolutely Guaranteed New York Cast and Production.

Next Saturday's attraction at the Grand Opera House will be Wm. A. Brady's biggest dramatic success, "The Man Who Came Back," a play made from John Fleming Wilson's short story and written by Jules Eckert Goodman. It comes to the Grand with a record of 72 weeks in New York City, having just finished its stay in the metropolis three weeks ago. It is an unusual record for any dramatic offering when it is taken into consideration that crowded houses greeted every performance. The story told has an appeal that is as old as the world. It is the regeneration of a young man who has fallen by the wayside but recovers his station in life with the help of a woman's love. What else is more human than a man's strength to fight his way to higher realms; and what appeals more to the human race than a woman's love? Both these great attributes are the dominating features in "The Man Who Came Back." The play is presented in five episodes which have a thrill in every one. It has enough true situations offset by those of lighter vein to please the most cynical of humans.

The cast includes James Dyrenforth, Katherine Cornell, James Seeley, Jane Carleton, Richard Clarke, Esther Howard, Thomas Magrane, Sophie Allen and Frank Howson.

The refinement of the hostess is measured by the simplicity, method and daintiness of her entertainment.

Whereas such a highway would greatly increase the tourist traffic within the Province of Ontario, as there would be no scenic highway within the Dominion of Canada to equal same. As it would skirt along the shores of lakes and rivers almost for the continuous distance and for the building of the same at the present time would help to relieve the unemployment existing in such territory and would consequently assist in stabilizing conditions therein.

Therefore be it resolved that the municipal co-operation of Fenelon Falls do respectfully urge upon the Ontario Government the necessity for building of such highway and request that immediate steps be taken for a survey of the same.

Peterboro Man on Prohibition

The following is from the Toronto "Saturday Night":

Peterborough, Ont., Feb., 1919.
Editor, Saturday Night.

Dear Sir—Will you kindly lend me space in "The Paper Worth While," which I have read religiously for at least 15 years, to comment upon the letter of Mr. Wm. J. Henderson, in your issue of this week on "Wet or Dry." And let me say just here Mr. Editor, that in my humble opinion Saturday Night is with one exception the most up-to-date, and also the most entertaining, and educative paper turned out by any press in the North American continent. The one exception, in which you are not up-to-date, is your stand in defence of a lost cause—the whiskey traffic. And incidentally this same exception stands in the way of the doubling of the circulation of Saturday Night.

In his article, Mr. Henderson gives voice to his admiration for Professor Leacock as an advocate of "more rum." He considers the professor's letter on "Wet or Dry" is a classic. To my mind, there is one paragraph in the letter written by Professor Leacock, which will condemn him in the opinion of all who believe in "the brotherhood of man." The paragraph reads: "It is no use to say that tobacco shortens his life. Let it. It needs shortening. It is no use to say that beer sogs his oesophagus, and weakens his motor muscles. Let it do so. He is better off with loose motor muscles, and a soggy oesophagus, and a mug of ale beside him, than in the cheerless discontent of activity that knows only the work of life, and none of its comforts."

It is not a hog, nor a mule that the professor refers to in these terms. It is his fellowman. Of course it is just an ordinary workingman. Do you see the fine distinction? A professor is of course a higher order of creation. To him, the ordinary toiler is a necessary atom—he provides him with a situation, he manufactures his clothes, his boots, his beer, his tobacco. He produces his food, digs in the mine for the coal which warms him. He is in fact quite indispensable to the comfort of the professor. And in the past this handy workingman has been the mainstay of the whiskey trade. He gave freely of his hard earned wage to keep the booze barons in a lucrative business. It is a most natural thing therefore that we should find these two,—the professor and the beer barons lined up on the same platform. But the professor is the type of citizen who sent the wild-eyed bolshevik on the rampage in Russia, and the booze baron is the men who made him a fiend. I would like to ask Mr. Henderson if he considers a man who holds the views voiced by Stephen Leacock, as a proper person to hold a professorship in any of our colleges. I can assure him that this utterance of Professor Leacock has lowered him appreciably, in the estimation of fair minded men.

So much for Professor Leacock. We will now quote from Mr. Henderson. Speaking of the "dry" legislation in the United States, he says, "I might say that scores of members of legislatures, and senates, have told me frankly that while they voted for the amendment, they were personally opposed to it. Asked to give a reason for it, they all confessed they were afraid to go on record as opposed to it. In other words, they sold their opinion, and sacrificed their better judgment, for fear of losing political backing in the future."

And why should they not vote as they knew the majority of the voters in their various constituencies would expect them to vote? The member of a legislature, or of a senate is not the whole constituency, but he is supposed to be the representative, and mouthpiece of the constituency which elected him. Mr. Henderson will surely not argue that he is there to express his own views only. Mr. Henderson's statement shows quite clearly that the people were behind the movement in the United States, otherwise these representatives would have cast their votes against dry legislation.

We will quote again—"I have met many of the brainiest men of both sides of the Atlantic, and I do not recall any of them, so pronounced a prohibitionis that he would deny to his fellowmen the privilege of a glass of wine or beer, if it was desired." Certainly not, Mr. Henderson. If they were content to stop at one glass, we would all throw up our hands for it. But that would be a doleful outlook for the booze barons.

The whole trouble with one glass of booze is (how many will say amen to this) that it tastes like one more. And the ethics of the bar demand that if six men line up at the bar for one drink, it means one drink on each man. That's six drinks, and six drinks means six drunks. Then six drunks means six homes invaded later in the night by one of those things mentioned by Professor Leacock with "sogged oesophagus, and loosened motor muscles." Since the liquor traffc was abolished in this province, we have missed this creature on the streets in our holiday celebrations, on the street cars, and on trains, hundreds of them, have had a chance to get properly sobered up. I believe if it comes to a vote on the question of "wet or dry" they will vote to stay sober, just as the workmen of the United States will do. I am no fanatic on the temperance issue, but I cannot conceive of any level headed man voting for a return of conditions under licensed booze, except of course those who expect to profit from the traffic.

A. MacNab.

Editor's Note: Saturday Night is not defending a lost cause, as Mr. Macnab states. Saturday Night is merely, if I may use the expression, fighting for the "freedom of the seas." In other words the freedom of the electorate to pass individually on this question. To have them say with their ballots what they will or will not have and not have it said for them by a lot of cowardly politicians as has happened in the United States. Nor is Saturday Night fighting for the return of the bar. Nor is Professor Leacock—or Mr. Henderson. Far from it. The bar was ever a curse, owing to various causes, lack of supervision on the part of Government for one thing We have laws against adulteration, and in the face of it half the bars in the country sold poison in place of honest liquor, and there was no one to stay the barkeep's hand. Another reason was the class of men who gravitated to the trade. The less said about them perhaps the better. No, we want no more bars, but we do want laws pertaining to the liquor traffic that the majority of the people are inclined to obey, so that our laws will not be made a laughing stock and a jest, as has been the case in British Columbia.

Golden Wedding Held in Lindsay

LINDSAY, Feb. 17.—A very pleasant and happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robt. Skitch, 67 William street, on Saturday evening, it being the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day, which was largely attended by the immediate relatives and friends.

This marriage was celebrated at Dunsford, Ont., February 15th, 1869, when Miss Elizabeth Thurston, of Dunsford, was married to Wm. Robt. Skitch, of Lindsay, the Rev. Wm. Sheridan, now of Victoria, B.C., officiating.

The home was tastefully decorated with plants, and white and gold trimmings, presenting a very pleasing appearance for the interesting event.

The marriage was blest with five children: Mrs. H. J. Henley, Winnipeg, Man.; W. F. Skitch, Peterborough, Ont.; Albert and Percy, of Trenton, and Herbert, residing in Lindsay. Other immediate relatives present were Alfred Skitch, Welland, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Skitch, Campbellford; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Skitch, Mr. and Mrs. John Skitch, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thurston, Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thurston, Dunsford; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Selby, Lindsay.

M. E. Aylmer,
Treasurer

The third annaul report of the Peter Robinson Chapter of the I.O.D.E. follows:—

The officers for the year were:
Regent—Miss Bessie Reid.
1st Vice—Miss Margaret Eastwood
2nd Vice—Miss Helen Stapleton.
Secretary—Miss Robena Cumming.
Treasurer—Miss Esmee Aylmer.
Standard Bearer—Mrs. LeMay.
Ten Councillors.

During the year twelve meetings and five executive meetings were held Our active membership totalbs sixty-eight.

The Donations.

Aside from our regular cheque of ninety dollars per month for the Prisoners of War Fund, we have made the following donations:—

| | |
|---|---|
| To the Navy League | $50.00 |
| Children's Shelter | 25.00 |
| Burial of the late Mrs. Wood | 25.00 |
| War Veterans' Christmas treat | 25.00 |
| McIntosh Fund | 100.00 |
| Salvation Army Fund | 150.00 |
| War Veterans' Relief | 100.00 |
| Gravenhurst Sanitarium | 100.00 |

During the winter fort nightly teas were held at the Empress, and occasionally a dansant, and we are ever indebted to Mr. Graham for the use of the Grill Room.

A Rummage Sale was held in March. Quite a large sum was realized in this way.

In April the Chapter took charge of the flower booth at theannual Motor Show and at the same time planned and carried out a Parade of Fashions.

Our certificate of resignation under the War Charities Act was received in May, and the subsequent half-yearly reports have been made.

A Garden party and sale of lingerie were held at Miss Reid's in June and the first of the Service Flags made by the Chapter were sold, and the following week an entertainment was given for the Great War Veterans in their new rooms. Weekly dances were held at Chemong during July and August.

With the beginning of the theatrical season the Chapter accepted Mr. Turner's offer of the contract to supply ushers for the entire season, and the grateful appreciation of the Chapter goes to Miss Estelle Knox for her splendid organization and management of this work.

At the September meeting delegates were chosen to attend the Convention of the Daughters of the Empire for this district, which was held in Norwood. The reports on the Convention ware most interesting.

Regent Resigned.

Our Regent resigned in November, and since that time Mrs. Campazzie has most capably filled the office.

A Victory tea was held at the Empress in December, and in January the Chapter gave their first large dance. As it proved most successful they intend making it an annual affair

The musical comedy "In Sunny France" was presented under our auspices on the 27th and 28th of January. Artistically, financially, and in every respect it was a most decided success.

The old executive is deeply grateful to all the members of the Chapter for their wholehearted support in all undertakings, and though the Chapter was organized to do war work, now that the Great War is so happily over, let us continue our efforts with the same enthusiasm for there is much to be done at home and abroad.

May we ask for the new Executive, the help and encouragement of all members who have worked so faithfully in the past to make the Peter Robinson Chapter the successful organization that it is today.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Barbara Gordon Cumming,
Secretary.

Noske Addresses National Assembly

Grateful to Monarchy Which United Germant State.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

WEIMAR, Feb. 18. — Gustav Noske, the German Minister of Defense, in addressing the German National Assembly to-day on the unrest in the various districts, declared that he desired to put an end to discontent by negotiations. The Minister added that he would accept no responsibility if he was obliged to resort to force.

Herr Riesar, of the German Peoples' Party, said he was in favour of a republican form of government, but would always be grateful to the monarchy which had united the German state and made it powreful.

The man who aims to be good in this world may miss fire in the-time.

Held Annual Birthday Party

Woman's Missionary Society of Mark Street Church.

The Woman's Missionary Society of Mark street held their annual birthday party at the home of Mrs. J. Sowter, 709 Hunter street east, on Thursday, Feb. 13th. Mrs. W. K. Payne, the president, presided.

The meeting proved to be of unusual interest and a great success in every way. The attendance was 40. Before the roll call 4 new members were added to our numbers.

After conducting the usual business, the following programme was carried out:

Solo—Mrs. E. Wand.
Reading—Mrs. Knight.
Solo—Miss Dawson.
Reading—Mrs. R. J. Weir.
Solo—Miss Kemp.
Recitation—Lillian Hamblin.

The collection was over $16.00, giving evidence to the fact that the ladies of Mark street still acknowledge having a birthday.

This most successful meeting was brought to a close by our pastor, Rev. R. A. Wheatam, leading in prayer, after which refreshments were served and a social hour spent.

Mrs. R. Weir, Sec'y.

Don't put in too much time standing on dignity or riding a hobby.

Bolshevism Worse Than Autocracy

New Slavery Has Been Brought About by the Germans.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Russia is more down-trodden under the Bolsheviki than she ever was under the Czar, the Senate Propaganda Investigating Committee was told to-day by Herman Bernstein, an American writer, who has spent some time in Russia. He said this new slavery actually was brought about by the Germans. Bernstein said it was not true as some witnesses had intimated, that the Bolsheviki were led by Jews. Bolshevism, he declared, had no connection with any religion and confessed no creed.

BROKE THROUGH ICE.

KINGSTON, Feb. 18. — Borden Friend, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Feland of Wolfe Island, was drowned while crossing the ice on his way to school. He was missed at two o'clock in the afternoon and the body was recoved at nine last evening.

BOLSHEVISTS DEFEATED.

ODESSA, Feb. 18. — The anti-Bolshevik army of General Denikine has reached the Caspian Sea, having advanced 350 versts and captured thirty-one thousand prisoners, thirty-one guns and eight armoured trains.

RETAINS PORTFOLIO.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 18. — Count Von Brockdorff Rantzau, who resigned recently, has decided to retain his portfolio as Secretary for foreign affairs because the government and other parties have expressed confidence in him.

PETERBORO COUPLE CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

"Groom" Wore a Vest Over a Hundred Years Old.

Yesterday afternoon at their home, surrounded by many friends and relations, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maybee, 278 McDonnel street, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding.

A sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at a table tastefully decorated in red carnations and smilax, after which the guests enjoyed a delightful evening spent in singing and music. During the evening the "bride and groom" were presented with a purse of gold, the gift of the guests present, namely:

Mr. and Mrs. Maybee's four children—Mr. E. W. Maybee, Fergus, Ont.; Mr. Enos Maybee, Mrs. J. M. Fanning, and Mrs. A. C. Leslie, of Peterborough—and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hall, and Mrs. W. G. Gist, of Canton; Mrs. T. M. Little, Garden Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mills, Mr. Fred Mills and Mr. John McElroy, Port Hope; Mr. Stanley Maybee, Cobourg; Mrs. B. Maybee, Hamilton; Mr. James Brown, Mr. Fred E. Jones, Mrs. J. Sharpe, Mrs. E. Maybee, Mr. Henry McKeown, Mr. A. C. Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham, of Peterboro, and the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Maybee.

Mr. Maybee, the groom, wore an historic vest, one worn by his father at his wedding 111 years ago.

HOW CAPT MARLING WON MILITARY CROSS

Word has been received in the city of how Captain T. B. Marling, who went overseas with the 93rd Battalion, received his Military Cross, recently announced in the papers. The message states that it was won for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his company through intense machine gun fire and assaulted a wood with great determination. Though severely wounded he carried on until he had handed over to another officer.

Bread Prices Are Unchanged

Talk of Grocers Organizing to Protect Their Interests.

TORONTO, Feb. 18.—The bread war still continues, and with it comes more and more talk of grocers organizing to protect their interests. The farther the price of bread drops, the grocers declare, the better they will be pleased. They are making the same commission per loaf as they used to when the price of bread was 5 cents.

Mr. R. Dowson, chairman of the grocers' section of the Retail Merchants' Association, declared that the 11-cent price charged for bread made with war time substitutes for wheat was "shameful" and "outrageous." The maximum price for such a product should be 9 cents, he said.

Mr. Dowson characterized the statements made by an unnamed baker, that 60,000 loaves of bread would be baked daily by the retail grocers of Toronto, as premature.

Prices yesterday remained unchanged, the minimum figure being 8 cents, fourteen tickets for a dollar, set by George Lawrence. A number of other firms are charging 8 cents, and selling 13 tickets for one dollar. Some firms have given up selling tickets altogether.

JUNIOR HOCKEY PRACTICE

The Junior Hockey team will meet this evening for practice between the hours of seven and eight o'clock.

CAPTAIN HYDE AT ST. PAUL'S

Rev. Captain H. B. Hyde, of Toronto, occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's church on Sunday. At the morning service, the speaker gave an interesting five-minute talk to the children in which he urged them to be good soldiers of the Lord. To do this successfully they would have to enlist, then put on the uniform or the whole armour of God, and last but not least, endure hardness.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

potent in a military way, while her allies have been helpless since they first signed their respective armistice.

Militarism, as applied to the associated powers, is still practically an unsolved problem. The league of nations draft provides for limitation of armaments "to the lowest point consistent with national safety," but leaves the interpretation of this largely in the hands of the executive council of the league. This particular point is sure to be debated at great length, particularly by the French, who are desirous of obtaining military security against the repetiton of the German coup of 1914.

Freedom of the Seas.

"Freedom of the seas," which was one of President Wilson's fourteen points, and which for a time seemed to conflict with British ideas, was disposed of in the league of nations draft. The principle was originally designed for protection of neutral rights in war time. The league organization is such that in case of war neutrality will be practically impossible.

Material Damages.

In the matter of indemnities, an agreement has virtually been reached that Germany shall not be compelled to pay the war costs of the associated powers but that she shall make full reparation for material damages.

A special committee is now working on the problem of how much Germany should pay, how much she can pay, and how she shall pay it. The closely allied question of responsibility for the war and punishment for violation of international rules of warfare, also is being handled by a special committee. This body has determined to investigate the personal culpability of individuals, "no matter how highly placed." Two sub-committees are examining the laws involved and another is inquiring into evidences of violation.

Slow Process.

Re-making the map of the world is a slow and tedious process with the ever present danger of arousing permanent enmities, for violating the principles of the league of nations. The Supreme War Council is supervising this work with the aid of several advisory committees.

The biggest stride in reaching an agreement on this problem has been the abrogation of the secret treaties entered into by the allies regarding certain territorial acquisitions.

It has been decided that all the German colonies will be placed under protectorates, responsible to the league of nations, and that other former enemy territories shall be permitted to decide on similar protectorates on the basis of self determination. Matters which still remain to be definitely settled include France's claim to the Saar valley, Italy and the Jugo-Slavs dispute over Dalmatia, and conflicting territorial claims of the Germans, Poles, Czecho-Slavaks, Austrians, Hungarians, Russians, Greeks and Arabs.

Labour Problems.

Labour problems are on the road to solution through the projected establishment of an international labour bureau, in connection with the league of nations. The special rights of women and children also will be protected by a similar bureau, it is believed.

The Russian situation to-day is apparently as big a question as at any time since its inception. Both the Supreme war council and the Supreme economic council are striving to obtain some means of eliminating the menace provided by this situation.

The only certain element seems to be that British and American troops will be withdrawn from Northern Russia.

The former Central Powers are working out their own salvation with fair success. Republics have been established in Germany, Austria, Czecho-Slavakia and Jugo-Slavia. Restoration of normal conditions is proceeding as rapidly as the situation will permit.

OBITUARY

INFANT DAUGHTER

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Menzies, 520 Sherbrooke street passed away yesterday.

IRENE TOBICO.

Miss Irene Tobico passed away at the Indian Village last week, following an attack of influenza. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. John Tobico.

MATILDA DOLBY.

The death occurred in Toronto on Friday last of Miss Matilda Dolby. The deceased, a daughter of the late Harry Dolby, was born in Lindsay, where her school days were spent. Her father died in 1910, and her mother 11 months later. For some time she lived with her aunt in Millbrook, where she was popular with a large circle of friends. During part of her stay there she acted as bookkeeper for Mr. Geo. Burnham. Later she secured a position in Cressman's store, Peterborough, and while there suffered much from rheumatism, which eventually confined her to bed for some time. While convalescing at her brother's home in Toronto she succumbed to an attack of influenza, passing away on the morning of Feb. 14th. A very popular, with her sunny disposition, her death is deeply mourned by her numerous friends. The remains were taken to Lindsay and interred in Riverside cemetery on Monday, Feb. 17th.

The pallbearers were: Mr. Will Cameron and Mr. Earle Sootherland, Toronto; Mr. Goe. Burnham, Millbrook; Mr. Tully and Mr. F. Franks, Peterborough; Mr. J. Wettlaufer, Lindsay.

JAMES SCOTT.

The death occurred on Tuesday, February 11 of Mr. James Scott, a well known and highly respected citizen of the township of Chandos.

The deceased, who was seventy-four years of age, had been leading an unusually active life up until the summer of 1918, when he was seized by a pain around the heart, which rendered him unable to take any more active interest in the affairs of the farm. The doctors claimed his case hopeless from the first, but the kind attention and loving care bestowed upon him by his loving wife and family lengthened his life and kept him in their midst for nearly four years more.

On Thursday, February 8th a decided change in his condition was noticed. He became speechless and was unable to eat. On Monday, February 10th he was prepared for death by Rev. Father Meagher, of Lakefield, and before another day had fully elapsed the late Mr. Scott had gone to receive the reward which he had merited.

Besides a sorrowing wife, he leaves to mourn his loss, two sons, Michael and James at home, five daughters, Mrs. Michael Cleary and Mrs. D. Mahoney of Chandos, Mrs. J. Burke and Mrs. B. Fleming, of Peterborough, and Mrs. F. Whitby, Edmonton; also one brother, Mr. William Scott, of Chandos.

MARGARET CAREW O'MARA

Margaret Haffey died this morning at her residence 537 Waterford street after an illness of about five months, aged 87 years. She was born in Newry, County Armagh, Ireland, on November 27th, 1832, and came to Peterborough in 1845 since when she has been practically a constant resident of the city. In July 1853 she was married to Jeremiah Carew and of this marriage two children survive namely Robert of Salamanca, N.Y., and Emily of this city. She later married the late Patrick O'Mara, who predeceased her 18 years ago. The deceased was well known and highly respected and her death will be regretted by a wide circle of friends.

The funeral announcement will be made later.

ADDRESS MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

Major A. S. Hamilton, special representative of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Department, addressed a meeting of representative citizens in the City Council Chamber this afternoon. He outlined the work of his department and gave in brief some of the difficulties that had to be contended with.

How is Your Watch Running?

Is it running fast or slow? Never quite on time?

Well, perhaps your watch is capable of very accurate running; but it is not in perfect order. You know the tiny mechanism of a watch demands that each of the dozen of little parts be just right, or good time is out of the question.

Watch Repairing is a specialty of ours.

57TH BENEFIT CONCERT FOR PTE. McINTOSH

The 57th Regiment Band decided at a rehearsal held last night at the Armouries, to tender Pte. McIntosh a benefit concert early in April. It will be remembered that Pte. McIntosh had the misfortune of losing all his worldly possessions by fire a few weeks ago, and in addition is almost totally blind from the effect of wounds received in the great war. A committee have the matter in hand and will announce details later.

DIED.

O'MARA. — At 537 Waterford street, on February 18, 1919, Mrs. Margaret Haffey Carew, relict of late Patrick O'Mara, aged 86 years. Funeral notice later. Kindly omit flowers.

The Winter Sessions of the Supreme Court Opened To-day

Mr. Justice Rose Is Presiding—Four Non-Jury Cases on the Docket.

The winter sessions of the Supreme Court opened at the Court House this afternoon with Mr. Justice Rose presiding. There were no jury cases before the court and both the grand and petit juries were at once dismissed with the usual instructions that they would be paid by the County Clerk for their attendance.

The docket of four non-jury cases stood without motion or other alteration. At the top of the list was Meharry vs. the Auburn Woollen Company, which was immediately proceeded with. Mr. R. R. Hall and his partner, Mr. J. F. Hynie, appeared for the plaintiff, W. John Meharry, who seeks the specific fulfillment of an agreement under which he bought from the defendants a gravel lot in the north end of the city.

Mr. Strachan Johnston, of Toronto, and Mr. Fordyce Strickland, are the defendant's solicitors.

Mr. Hall's Summary.

Before hearing Mr. Hall's summary of the action, Justice Rose caught sight of the Persian lamb hats worn by Police Sergeant Deannard and P. C. Lawrence. "I will permit you to remove your hats," said his Lordship, and I hope that at some time in the future some attention will be paid to the temperature of this room. It is about 100 degrees at the present time."

Mr. John Meharry, the plaintiff, was the first witness. He had approached the late James Kendry with an offer to buy a quantity of gravel. Mr. Kendry replied that he preferred to sell outright the land, east of the Woollen Mills.

The Agreement.

The agreement was entered into on Sept. 8th, 1915. Meharry paid $200 down and $500 on Sept. 25th. The next payment of $500 fell due on October 20th.

"I didn't have the money," the plaintiff stated, "so I went up to the mills about Oct. 18th and told Mr. Kendry I wouldn't have the $500 on Oct. 20th and asked him if he would wait. He said he would. I went back in a week and said I was disappointed in getting the money and I asked him if he would wait a little longer. He said he wouldn't wait. Later I saw him at his house and told him that I had put through a note to raise $500 and would have the money in a few weeks. Mr. Kendry said he was satisfied. I had a good thing, he said, and he didn't want to see me lose it."

Mr. Meharry told of having received on Dec. 1st, 1915, a notice that the agreement was cancelled, that he had forfeited his rights to the property and was dispossessed. Previous to that notification he went to the mill and saw Mr. Bentley, the vice-president.

The Money.

"He told me to bring the money as soon as I got it. On December 1st, I met Mr. Bentley in front of the Examiner office a few hours after I got the notice. I said—"You told me it would be all right to bring the money as soon as I got it."

"I told him I expected to have it in two weeks, and he told me to bring it to the office and it would be all right. No demands had been made on me by the company."

Borrowed $500.

Continuing, the plaintiff said he borrowed $500 on a note on Dec. 13th and the next day tendered it to Mr. Kendry at his house. He said the account had been closed out and he would have to see Miss Miller, the secretary, and have a new account opened. He intended, he said, to meet a Toronto director of the company.

"I saw Mr. Kendry the next week at his office. He wanted to reserve 20 feet from a roadway to prevent it from caving in. I laid the cheque on his desk. He said he couldn't take it, that he had to see Mr. Hayes in Toronto, and when he did he would write to me."

Early in January, 1916, Mr. Meharry again visited Mr. Kendry, but no progress was made. Mr. Kendry had not met the other directors. Shortly afterward he went south for the winter. In the spring, Meharry offered to pay cash and close out the transaction. Mr. Kendry replied that he would take up the matter and let him know the decision. Several times the plaintiff called at the mill, but failed to meet Mr. Kendry. In October the cash offer was again made, but without result beyond a promise to consult the directors.

Next Interview.

The next interview was in May, 1917. Then on June 1st Mr. Meharry and his solicitor, Mr. R. R. Hall, met Mr. Kendry in his office and [illegible] a conference to be held in Mr. Hall's office. Mr. Herb Kendry was also present at the subsequent meeting. It was brought out that Mr. Meharry's balance was $4,500, of which $500 represented taxes and interest. Mr. Herb Kendry suggested that Meharry put his proposition in writing, and he and his father would go over it.

"We suggested that the money would be paid in 15 days," plaintiff added.

On June 8th, Mr. Hall wrote Mr. Kendry offering to cancel the old agreement and make a new one to buy a section of the property. The letter was unanswered. Mr. Meharry then heard that the Auburn Woollen Mills had on June 28th agreed to sell to the Leonard Construction Co. a minimum of 5,000 and maximum of 10,000 cubic yds. of gravel at 20 cents a cu. yd. from the pit which he had opened up. On July 19th he instructed Mr. Hall to issue a writ against the Auburn Co. demanding the specific performance of the agreement given in 1916.

In July I saw Mr. Kendry and told him I didn't want a law suit, and again offered the whole amount in cash. Mr. Kendry said he would take it up with his directors and recommend that the agreement be carried out."

Mr. Meharry stated that the Auburn Woollen Co. had sold gravel to the Leonard Construction Co., the City of Peterborough, the township of Douro and to several others.

PETERBORO SOLDIERS AT ST. JOHN'S

(Special to The Examiner.)

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 18.—There were just two Peterborough soldiers on the "C.P.O.S." liner "Metagama," which arrived here yesterday after a nine-days' trip from Liverpool. The steamer brought over 1,500 passengers, including fifty-five officers and over 400 men of other ranks. The rest were soldier dependents and private civilian passengers.

The newspaper delegates from various papers of Upper and Western Canada were here and witnessed the transfer of the passengers from the boat to the trains. They were much impressed with the despatch with which the men were handled. The Peterborough men were Sergeants Bertram J. Pelly and Private William Thompson. Both soldiers were travelling with their brides.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards—Receipts were 44 cars, with 759 cattle, 42 calves, 581 hogs, and 189 sheep and lambs.

The market settled down yesterday at the declines reached Monday afternoon. These were about a dollar off from a week ago Monday on rough unfinished heavy steers about 1,150 to 1,200 lbs. The choice, well-finished steers held about steady with the best of last week, three extra and very choice steers weighing over 1,500 lbs. going to H. P. Kennedy at $17.50. But raw heavy steers around 1,200 lbs. certainly had to take the decline.

The general run of good to choice butcher steers and heifers are selling 25c. to 50c. lower than a week ago. Fat cows and bulls firm at last week's prices. The market yesterday was fairly active, cleaning up all offerings.

Lambs good and firm.

Calves firm.

GRAIN MARKET

Manitoba cash oats worked a little lower yesterday, being quoted 5-8c. less than Monday, Fort William basis. Manitoba barley, on the contrary, makes a sharp advance of 1 1-2c. over Monday's cash quotation. Some enquiry for barley for exports accounts for the present strength of that market. The wheat flour situation remains practically unchanged, as the Wheat Export Company has not yet commenced their expected purchase of accumulated stocks. In the option market, corn slid back at the close after some slight gains in the earlier trading. Speculation as to fixed prices for hogs is again interesting the corn market.

H. C. Hoover Finds Germans Still Unrepentant For World Cataclysm They Have Caused

Food Director Declares Teutonic Mind Has Undergone No Regeneration —Tells of Difficulties Encountered in Work of Relief.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Reviewing the relief and food conditions in Northern France and Belgium in an address before the Circle Volney, Herbert Hoover, United States Food Administrator and director general of the Inter-Allied Relief Organization, said:—

"I have been asked to say a few words on the revictualling now carried on for nearly four years, of the occupied areas of Belgium and Northern France. It was the first food administration in Europe, for it was in Belgium and Northern France that Europe first felt the impact of the war on food supplies. These were the first people to realize the shortage through hunger.

"It was about a year after the foundation of the Commission for Relief in Belgium that any other systematic attempt was made at food administration in the world. It also represents the first inter-allied operation, which embraced the United States for its financial support and administration of the joint effort of America, France, England and Belgium. Its enterprise is of considerable volume, as its transactions now exceed 5,000,000,00 francs. It has been carried on without profit, with a large measure of idealism and self denial and with the aims of the Allies in the amelioration of the injuries brought about by Germany.

Allied Supplies Endangered

"Subsequently the spread of the food shortage in the world endangered the supply of even the Allied governments themselves, and again three was Allied action in its solution The whole situation of the Allied world has now passed, but the armistice finds us confronted with enormous food problems of 20,000,000 people now dominated in Germany, and again the solid point of action by the associated governments becomes necessary in the work of mercy and stability of government.

"I have recently revisited the devasted regions of Northern France and Belgium. There is no man, even without personal experience of two and one-half years of German rule, who could pay a mere casual visit to Northern France and Belgium without experiencing renewed fire of indigation at the men and forces which brought about this appalling situation.

"It is now four years and three months since I first came into contact with the people of the invaded regions. At that time my American and Belgian colleagues had established the relief of Belgium, but there came on every wind stories of the pitiable situation of the French population under German control. The Germans, in defiance of every canon of international law and morality, even human decency, had taken from the French population their harvests and cattle and the French women and children were combing over the refuse heaps in the German camps. The work of myself and my American colleagues was supported by public charity and we quickly spread that charity to the people of the north of France.

Ministration Under Difficulties

"With the backing of the American government, agreements were perfected with the German General Staff at Charleville by which it was undertaken that there shoulud be no interference with the distribution of fodstuffs, that there should be no protection of the product of the population—agreements which read well to the world, agreements which were often carried out in the letter, but never, except under pressure, carried out in the spirit, which involved years of constant complaint, bickering, pressure and intervention by neutral governments.

"Despite the depth of feeling I have in these matters, I am not prepared to say that the German race is beyond redemption; that it is not our duty to endeavor to build up that people to the decency of membership in the League of Nations. There is, perhaps, one step outstanding to-day in their progress in that direction more lacking than any other, and than is total abstinence from any expression of regret. If the seventy millions of Germans were to shed the tears of Niobe for the next thousand years they could not wash away the human misery for which they have been responsible in Belgium and Northern France alone.

"One of the features of the relationship of our Americans with the Germans was that they had to endure every hour of the day, whether awake or asleep, the personal and definite attachment of a German officer. Of the men who took part in this work I believe the one who endured the longer the strain of this offensive association, sleeping and waking, was not able to continue for more than nine months.

All Conversation Censured

"One of the worst features of this association was that there could be no conversation between the Americans and the civil population except in the presence of an officer, and such conversations were required to be confined to the mere routine of the revictualling. Some of our men were escorted out of the country on a German order for an expression of the merest human kindliness. For this reason there was often a curous ignorance among the hundreds of thousands of people in the occupied territory as to what were the real occupational function of the Americans who lived with them during the invasion, many thinking that they were merchants engaged in the sale of food.

"When the United States came into the war it was necessary for the Relief Commission to retreat out of the North of France and secure the assistance of neutrals. By that time the organization had been built up until it required no intervention in its administrative features, but merely guardianship.

"I am happy to say that there never has been a case or even a suggestion of dishonest dealing. Beyond this from the point of view of the administrator, there has been that fidelity to duty, that carefulness as to detail and conciseness of thought and action which should stand out as a monument to the abilities of the French people for all time.

WOULDN'T TAKE A FORTUNE FOR IT

Tanlac Proves of Untold Value to This Man—Gains Twenty-one Pounds.

"I wouldn't take a fortune for the good Tanlac has done me, for it has not only restored my health but has added twenty-one pounds to my weight, and I feel like a different man in every way," said Peter Riedweg, a valued employee of the Pacific Car Foundry Co., and whose residence is 555 Clay street, Portland, Oregon.

"About eight months ago," he continued, "I had a bad spell of the grippe, and it left me in a very badly run-down condition, and until I began taking Tanlac, I was not able to find a thing that would get me started up hill again. My appetite was very poor, and my stomach was in such bad condition that the little I did eat would give me indigestion. Sometimes for three or four hours after my meals I would be all bloated up with gas and suffer something awful with shortness of breath. I was badly constipated most of the time, and occasionally suffered from headaches. My kidneys gave me lots of trouble also, and I had a dull, heavy pain across the small of my back all the time. All my strength and energy seemed to gradually leave me, and I lost a lot in weight, and finally got so weak and worn-out that I had to give up my work and for three months I was not able to do a hands turn.

"I heard so many folks around Portland talking about the good this Tanlac was doing that I decided to buy a few bottles and see if it would help me. Well, sir, I don't believe it is possible for anybody to improve faster than I did after I began taking that medicine. My appetite improved from the very first bottle, the condition of my stomach soon improved so much that I could eat anything I wanted and I would not have indigestion afterwards. I kept on taking Tanlac and the more I took the better I felt, and after taking six bottles all my troubles disappeared. I am never bothered with that pain in my back, and my kidneys seem to be in good condition. I am rid of constipation, and I never have a headache at all. I have gained a lot in weight, in fact I weight more to-day than I ever weighed in my life, and thanks to Tanlac, I am well and strong every way as I ever was, and am glad to recommend it to eevrybody."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Danike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Veterans Favour Home Industry

Object to Hydro Officials Going Abroad for Supplies.

The Peterborough Branch of the Great War Veterans Association, at a meeting held last evening endorsed the following resolution.— It is hereby resolved that the attention of the Provincial Government be drawn to an article in the Canadian Engineer of February 16th, 1919 as follows: "HYDRO SENDS REPRESENTATIVES TO ENGLAND

E. T. Brandon and E. V. Buchanan Will Also Visit Sweden and Other Countries, To Investigate British and European Methods.

Next week, E. T. Brandon, electrical engineer of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, accompanied by E. V. Buchanan, local manager of the system at London, Ont., will leave for England to interview British manufacturers, to study their methods, to let them know just what class of electrical material is required in Ontario, and to find out to what extent the British manufacturers are prepared to compete in that province.

Mr. Buchanan will represent the municipalities in a business way, while Mr. Brandon will be his technical adviser, handling all engineering matters.

While on the other side of the Atlantic they will also visit certain European countries to investigate the latest practice in hydro-electric work and to review manufacturing conditions in those countries. Among other countries that will be visited will be Sweden and Holland.

It has been rumored that one of the principal objects of the trip is to induce the Swedish General Electric Co., to bid on any additional generators that may be required for the Queenston plant besides the two for which contract was let last Saturday but this is denied by the officials of the commission, who state that no undue importance is to be attached to the trip to Sweden, and that the principal object of the trip is entirely in relation to conferences with British manufacturers and in connection with the supply of small machinery and apparatus of every description as well as of larger equipment.

German Made Goods.

Inasmuch as the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario has in the past purchased a large amount of German made meters, electric lamps and other electric supplies and have also purchased from the Swedish General Electric Company, large generators, one of which, for the Healey Falls, is supposed to lie at the bottom of the Atlantic, that we request the assurance from the Provincial Government that under no conditions whatever will any material be purchased outside of Canada by the Hydro Electric Power Commission or any other government controlled depaartments or public works, unless the time may arrive that all factories in Canada are fully employed and cannot produce such materials. The employees of these electric works a large number of whom arereturned soldiers and also there are alarge number of returned soldiers who should be employees of these works, but on account of the prevailing slackness cannot be placed; claims that inasmuch as they subscribed to the Victory Loan that none of its money should be diverted for the purchase of materials outside of Canada when they can be manufactured here. It is further requested that the Provincial and Dominion Governments will receive a deputation from the Great War Veterans Association to protest it. It is further resolved that this resolution be forwarded to the branches in Toronto, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Windsor and Montreal, and that the comrades in these branches take immediate action with their provincial executive.

S. WHATLEY,
Secretary.

Presentation in Smith Township

Miss Alice Stephens of Smith was honored by an address and presentation on the eve of her departure to reside in Peterboro. The address was read by Miss Jean Bullock, the presentation made by Miss Beattie Deck

Fairview Church,
Smith, Feb. 16., '19.

To Miss Alice Stephens,

Dear Alice:—It is with deep regret that we learn of your intention to depart from our midst. We who have been associated with you in church work have realized your many good qualities, both as a friend and a coworker in the Sabbath School, the Epworth League, the Choir; so we ask you to accept this Bible and hymn book as a small token of our esteem and good wishes. The wish we would send with you is that God may abide with you, giving you wisdom to grace the sphere of life into which he may place you in the future. Signed by Fred F. Bell, S. S. Supt., Braden Bell, Pres. of E. League, Jean Bullock, Organist.

Miss Stephens, though taken by surprise, made a short reply, thanking her friends for the gift.

Fat That Shows Soon Disappears

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden; a hindrance to activity, a curb upon pleasure You can take off the fat where it shows by taking after each meal and at bedtime, one Marmola Prescription Tablet. These little tablets are as effective and harmless as the famous prescription from which they take their name. Buy and try a case today. Your druggist sells them at 75 cents or if you prefer you may write direct to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. You can thus say good-bye to dieting, exercise and fat.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Colour and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of his old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Fifty Stockers Maintain Dodge Service Standards

A Dodge Agency has a substantial value. Consequently we expect Dodge stockers to maintain the standards of service we insist upon at our factory and branches.

When buyers want Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys, Hangers, Clutches, Couplings or Shafting, they usually want them in a hurry.

And if it is STOCK equipment they expect to get it within 24 hours.

We see that they do get it.

Our men call regularly upon stockers to see that they have a good range of sizes in Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys, Cast Iron Pulleys, Universal Hangers, Split Friction Clutches, Couplings, Shafting and Sprocket Chain.

If a stocker cannot fill your order immediately his standing instruction is to telephone or wire Toronto or Montreal at our expense.

If necessary, don't hesitate to say to a Dodge stocker, "Phone or wire my order." We like customers to test the speed and quality of our service.

YOUTH HIT BY PEACE WAGES.

LONDON.— Lads as well as girls who have been working on munitions at abnormal rates of pay ever since they left school are up in arms against the lower paid classes of peace and employment offered them on demobilization. The manager of one firm gives the following two instances:

"The woman order clerk offered a boy who said he was 16 a position at $2.50 a week. The lad's reply was: "Good gracious, miss, what do you think the wife will say when I get home to-night."

"A slightly older youth, earning $11 a week before the armistice, had submitted to him a job at $6, and his reply was: "My dear girl, that would not keep me in cigarettes."

Frills and flounces are dominant on the frocks for the younger set.

Mr. Mandel Praises Kenyon Roberts.

CHAPTER CXXIII

When Mr. Mandel came, he brought with him flowers for both Ruth and her aunt. His thoughtfulness always appealed to Ruth. And that night, as always, it soothed her wounded feelings to a degree.

Ruth really felt chagrined as well as hurt that Brian had—as she thought—consoled himself with Mollie King when she had been obliged to be away on business; and now she was doubly hurt and chagrined that she was with him overseas. She knew that she was Mollie's superior in brain and appearance. Yet Brian seemed to prefer Mollie, her company. She had yet to learn that it is the woman, not what she is, that attracts most men.

So, smarting under her feeling of neglect, Mandel's delicate attentions were most acceptable; and helped her to put aside the feeling inspired by Brian's letter—the feeling of chagrin that he could find enjoyment with someone she knew to be her inferior in may ways. Not that Ruth belittled Mollie's attractions, even to herself. That was never her way. But it seemed to show weakness on Brian's part to care for such attractions as Mollie possessed.

Ruth knew that she (Mollie) was unpractical. That she called herself "A Bohemian" could not disguise the fact that she was content to live in a manner that no well-brought-up girl could endure. How Brian could find entertainment with such people, amid their more than unattractive surroundings, when he had an artistic home to enjoy, was beyond Ruth's understanding.

"She's doing something now—nursing soldiers. That would appeal to him", she had said aloud while she dressed herself for the evening. She had acted upon her aunt's suggestion and worn a semi-evening dress of blue, a most becoming affair, in which she looked very girlish and lovely. Mrs. Clayborne had not failed to notice that Mandel could scarcely take his eyes from Ruth, and that once or twice when Mrs. Roberts had spoken, he had failed to hear.

They had a delightful game, then, about eleven o'clock, Rachel called them into the dining room where she had prepared a dainty supper, by Mrs. Clayborne's orders. They grew quite gay, especially after Mr. Roberts came in and joined them. He had come home, found his wife gone, and called to see if she were with them, and Ruth had insisted that he have supper with them.

He and Mandel got on famously. They talked business a little, apologizing to the ladies; they discussed the war, and other things, as men will who see in each other something congenial.

It was long after midnight when the party broke up. And Ruth willingly acknowledged that she had enjoyed herself immensely.

"We must have company often," Mrs. Clayborne had said. "We will grow stale and uninteresting here by ourselves if we don't," to which Ruth had agreed.

The next morning after again telling her how he had enjoyed her party, Mandel said to Ruth:

"I liked that man, Roberts, so much. He is a clever, ambitious sort of a chap. He'll make good some day or I'll miss my guess."

"He is a very hard worker." Ruth returned, thinking of the difference between Kenyon Roberts and Brian. Both in the same profession, one so anxious to succeed——the other so careless of his future.

"A man has to be now-a-days, if he is to amount to anything," Mandel returned. He had no faintest idea that he was hurting Ruth, or that his praise of her guest of the night before was painful on account of her feeling that Brian had not accomplished what he might, simply because he lacked application.

Mandel wondered at Ruth's lack of interest in what he said about Roberts, as she had seemed so friendly the night before. He would have liked to talk longer with her—really what he had already said had been in part designed to give him an excuse to stay near her as long as possible.

She was to go out of town for a couple of days and they had been discussing the details. She was glad for the change in her routine work, and of something to do which would occupy her whole attention, so giving her no time to think of Brian and—Mollie King.

On her way home that night she met Mrs. Curtiss.

"I hear that Mollie King has gone overseas as a nurse. I suppose Brian sees her?" she asked Ruth

"Yes. He [illegible] saw he often," Ruth returned.

Perhaps Mollie had written Mrs. Curtiss. She would not pretend she knew nothing of her renewed intimacy with Brian.

To-morrow—Mrs. Curtiss Expounds Her Views.

Many of the brave women who attend our wounded heroes in this war are women who have used Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, or who recommend it. The hospital, with its work and long hours, imposes extreme hardship on a woman's strength. Every woman should make herself fit for war's call at home or abroad. She should obtain a book called the "Medical Adviser," either at her nearest drug store or by sending 50 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce, Courtwright St., Bridgeburg, Ont., for this book which tells about Nursing, Bandaging, Anatomy, Physiology, Marriage.

Thousands of women in Canada have overcome their sufferings, and have been cured of woman's ills, by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Sold by druggists in liquid or tablets. Send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 10c for trial pkg.

Chatham, Ont. — "I am very glad indeed to add my recommendation to the many others that have found relief in 'Favorite Prescription.' After motherhood I could not properly regain my strength. I was very weak and nervous, also had a terrible cough. I was very miserable when I began taking the 'Prescription.' I noticed a marked improvement before I had finished one bottle. I kept up its use and was completely cured of my cough and it built me up in a good healthy state. Favorite Prescription is one of the best tonics for women."—Mrs. Geo. Hill, 210 Wellington St. E.

GALLANTRY RECALLED

Story of Mounted Police Retold For English Readers.

The Geographical Journal, of London, England, contains an interesting account of a three-thousand-mile trip, occupying two years, taken across the Arctic regions of Northern Canada to Coronation Bay by a patrol of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. The object was to capture the Eskimo murderers of two Roman Catholic priests. The story is told by Inspector C. D. LeNauze, who with two constables made the journey and successfully brought back the guilty men. It was in May, 1915, that word filtered down from the fur-trading posts on the Mackenzie river that two priests, Rev. Fathers Rouvier and Le Roux, were reported missing in the neighborhood of Great Bear Lake. The priests had gone north to work among the primitive Eskimo of Coronation Gulf who made summer hunting trips into the Great Bear Lake country.

On this meagre information, solely, Inspector Le Nauze was sent north on a long and dangerous trip. His party left Fort Norman on July 16 and did not reach Dease Bay on Great Bear Lake, where the missing priests had made a base, until Sept. 13. It was decided to spend the winter at this point. The inspector reports that the cold was not too severe, it was "only sixty below zero." He says he had experienced much colder weather along the Mackenzie river. By the end of March it was deemed safe to start north and a month was spent going overland to Coronation Bay, stormy weather being met all the way. At the mouth of the Coppermine river fresh sled tracks were seen and traces of a white man's camp. The tracks were followed for thirty-five miles and on May 2 the police fell in with a traveling party of the southern branch of the Canadian Arctic Expedition under the charge of Mr. K. G. Chipman, of the Canadian Geological Survey.

Systematically the inspector and his men visited all the Eskimo camps and finally they discovered that the priests had been murdered on the Coppermine river by two natives named Sinnisiak and Uluksak. The murder had been committed while the priests were on their way back to Great Bear Lake in the spring of 1913. The principal murderer, Sinnisiak, was apprehended at a large Eskimo encampment on Victoria Island on May 15, while a week later on an island opposite the mouth of the Coppermine the second man, Uluksak was found.

It was on Coronation Bay that Stefansson discovered his so-called "Blonde" Eskimo. Inspector Le Nauze says these Eskimo should be more properly called Copper Eskimo and he calls all the Eskimo in the vicinity of Coronation Gulf, Victoria Island and Bathurst Inlet by this name. Speaking of these tribes he says that they have no chiefs or system of leadership, each man doing exactly as he likes. They have few customs which conflict with Canadian laws. Murder is rare. There are few thefts, a thief being looked down upon, but not punished. Polygamy is uncommon, as only the rich can afford it. He adds: "The Copper Eskimo are, in fact, a race of ideal communalists, for all food seems common property; the sick are looked after by the strong, and they seldom quarrel among themselves. They still retain their inherited dread of the Indians, always expecting treachery, which feeling is reciprocated by the Indians we met on Great Bear Lake." He describes the Copper Eskimo as "a hardy, cheerful, honest, and hospitable race of people, who were kind to their children, respectful towards the aged and good to their dogs." While he gives no reasons the inspector regrets that "to a certain extent civilization is now imminent in that country." The Hudson Bay Co. has already opened up a trading post at Bathurst Cape and white trappers and traders from Alaska are pushing along the coast.

The return trip to Herschel Island was made on the steamer Alaska of the Arctic Expedition. Here the fall and winter were spent and in the spring of 1917 the patrol started up the Mackenzie river with their prisoners for Calgary where the murder trial took place. Two full years had been spent in the chase. The accused were found guilty and sentenced to death. The sentence was commuted to life imprisonment and in the following September prisoners, interpreters and escorts started again for Herschel Island where the prisoners were condemned to spend their terms, an object lesson to every Eskimo and Indian in the wilds of the Far North.

Drydock to Cost Millions.

It is expected that application will shortly be made by a strong company to the Minister of Public Works, under the provisions of the Drydock Subsidy Act for leave to construct a large drydock at Vancouver at a cost of several million dollars. Port conditions have recently been investigated by Mr. A. D. Swan, the harbor expert, who has had placed before him a report of the Harbor Development Committee, recommending the construction of a modern drydock in order to increase the facilities and reduce the cost of handling cargoes. The policy of the Government is to authorize the guarantee of bonds called for by the act, provided it is satisfied as to the bona fides of the scheme and its promoters.

A Canadianizing Policy.

The Prime Minister of Saskatchewan has decided to eliminate from the elementary schools of the province the teaching of foreign languages, or the use of any foreign language as a medium of instruction. French, as the tongue of the oldest Canadians, is not classified as foreign, and will be specially privileged. English has been the only language used in 4,000 of the 4,200 elementary schools of Saskatchewan, and the change will affect chiefly the old-colony Mennonite settlements, where education consists largely of religious instruction, given in a German dialect.

GIRLS! HAVE A MASS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR, SOFT, GLOSSY, WAVY

A SMALL BOTTLE DESTROYS DANDRUFF AND DOUBLES BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or, falling hair and your scalp will not itch but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and ahve an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

Kissing the Baby.

Should babies be kissed? Certainly not! That seems to be the unanimous opinion, not only among medical men, but also among women hygienic leaders who have the welfare of the children of the country at heart.

As one doctor put it to the writer: "I can conceive of no surer way of conveying disease — consumption, influenza, skin and mouth diseases —than by allowing babies to be kissed promiscuously by fluttering friends and relatives. The mother who does not guard her baby against such peril is risking its future health and happiness, and perhaps its life."

America long ago recognized the peril which lurked in the baby kiss, and carried on a campaign against kissing. Artistic signs bearing the words "Don't kiss me," were hung about babies' necks. A state government lecturer was appointed, whose principal work was to lecture on the evils of kissing. He held meetings all over the States, and in a very short time was able to announce that he had secured the assistance of 2,000 mothers, who had become anti-kissers so far as their babies were concerned.

At one time it was proposed to make baby-kissing a criminal offence.—Tit-Bits.

This is Better Than Laxatives

One NR Tablet Each Night For A Week Will Correct Your Constipation and Make Constant Dosing Unnecessary, Try It.

Poor digestion and assimilation mean a poorly nourished body and low vitality. Poor elimination means clogged bowels, fermentation, putrifaction and the formation of poisonous gases which are absorbed by the blood and carried through the body.

The result is weakness, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, inactive liver, bilious attacks, loss of energy, nervousness, poor appetite, impoverished blood, sallow complexion, pimples, skin diseases and often times serious illness.

Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics—salts, oils, calomel and the like—give relief in a few hours, but real, lasting benefit can only come through the medicine that tones up and strengthens the digestive as well as the eliminative organs.

One 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one tablet each night for a week. Relief will follow the very first dose, but a few days will show better results and make the most marked benefit. When you get constipated out and feel just right don't feel that you need not take medicine every day—just occasional NR Tablet will then keep your system in good condition and you will always feel your best. Remember, keeping well is easier and cheaper than getting well.

A Great Cataract.

What is set down as the greatest cataract in the world is on the Iguazu river, which partly separates Brazil and Argentina. The precipice over which the river plunges is 210 feet high, that of Niagara being 167 feet. The cataract is 13,123 feet wide, or about two and a half times as wide as Niagara. It is estimated that 100,000,000 tons of water passes over Niagara in an hour. A like estimate gives the falls of Iguazu 140,000,000 tons.

Slavery.

There is no legal and formal slavery now in any Christian country. It survives in a mild form in most Mohammedan countries. The peonage system of Latin American countries is not much different from slavery, but rests upon a different theory. The peon is not supposed to be owned as property; he is supposed to be working to pay a debt which he owes the master.

Maxim for Kings.

Fewer crowns would be tumbling if more monarchs had known and followed the maxims of Marie Leszczynska, daughter of the King of Poland and wife of Louis XV of France. "Good kings," said she, "are slaves, and their people are free." Or again, "If there were no little people in the world we should not be great; and we ought not to be great except for their sakes."

The King of Spain possesses an odd collection of relics connected with attempts on his life. A reminder of the very first attempt on his life is the teat of a feeding bottle, with which an attempt was made to poison him when he was only eight months old.

In Pompeii.

A soap boiler's shop was among the things discovered in the excavation at Pompeii several years ago. The city was buried beneath volcano ashes A. D. 79. It is said that the soap found in the shop had not lost all efficacy, although it had lain under the ashes more than 1800 years. Soap making was quite a business in a number of the Roman cities at the time that Pompeii was destroyed.

A Valuable Tree.

A wonderful tree, known as the shea, is beginning to attract commercial attention in Western Africa. It supplies the natives not only with nuts, which they highly prize, but with a butter that may become an article of commercial importance. It is already exported to Europe, where makers of artificial butter find use for it.

SOME FAMOUS PUNSTERS.

Symposium Shows It Is Done By the Best Authors.

"The seeds of punning are in the minds of all men," remarked Joseph Addison in No. 61 of his famous Spectator. His coadjutor, Richard Steele, had two years previously in the Tatler announced that he had "several arguments ready to prove that he cannot be a man of honor who is guilty of this abuse of human society." John Dennis, their cotemporary and Addison's savage critic, is said to have been the real author of the dictum often saddled on Dr. Johnson that a man who would make a bad pun would pick a pocket. If Dennis was right, many of the greatest writers were potential rogues. Shakespeare would be indicted on a hundred counts. Did he not make John o' Gaunt exclaim from his dying bed, just after his magnificent patriotic outburst over the "sceptred isle" in which he dwelt:

Old, Gaunt, indeed, and gaunt is being old.
Within me grief hath kept a tedious fast,
And who abstains from meat that is not gaunt?
* * *
Gaunt am I for the grave, gaunt as a grave,
Whose hollow womb inherits nought but bones.

In England the written pun reached its apogee in the early and middle years of the last century, when flourished Hamb and Merie and Hook and Jerrold and the king of punsters —"by merit raised to that bad eminence"—Thomas Hood. Even the erudite Coleridge was drawn into the fact. De Quincey repeats a sickly pun [illegible] record, while Coleridge himself, in his "Biographia Literaria," relates a preposterous story of his hot and suspect youth which some of his biographers have gravely treated as a fact — the absurd point being that the radical young philosopher and a friend while learnedly discoursing of Spinoza were understood by an eavesdropper listening for treason to talk of one "Spy Nozy."

Coleridge, of course, was a rank amateur of punning. From Hood, the professional, we get the ripened fruit. Let "Faithless Nelly Gray" and "Faithless Sally Brown" alike bear witness:

Ben Battle was a soldier bold,
And used to war's alarms;
But a cannon ball took off his legs,
So he laid down his arms. * * *

But when he called on Nelly Gray
She made him quite a scoff,
And when she saw his wooden legs
Began to take them off! * * *

"Oh, Nelly Gray! Oh, Nelly Gray!
For all your jeering speeches,
At duty's call I left my legs
In Badajos' breaches."

"Why, then," said she, "you've lost the 'pot
Of legs in war's alarms,
And now you cannot wear your shoes
Upon your feets of arms!"

Poor Ben, the soldier, hanged himself, and "though distress had cut him up, it could not cut him down." Ben, the sailor, Sally's jilted one, had a still sadder fate:

"Oh, Sally Brown! Oh, Sally Brown!
How could you serve me so?
I've met with many a breeze before,
But never such a blow."

Then, reading on his 'bacco box,
He heaved a bitter sigh,
And then began to eye his pipe,
And then to pipe his eye.

Everyone is familiar with Hood's famous pun put into the mouth of a barrister,—"The case is I've no case at all, and is brief I've ne'er had a brief." He sees a deep hole in the ground, and sighs: "It is well!"

To curb his emotions he sat
On the curbstone the space of a minute.
Then cried, "Here's an opening at last!"
And in less than a jiffy was in it."

Next morning twelve citizens came
('Twas the coroner bade them attend),
To the end that it might be determined
How the man had determined his end. * * *

The jury decided at length,
After solemnly weighing the matter,
That the lawyer was drowned because
He could not keep his head above water.

The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table condemns punning with his tongue in his cheek and two and a half pages of horrible examples on his tongue. And was it not he who wrote:

Her waist is smaller than her life,
For life is but a span,

and who told us

How Shem's proud children reared the Assyrian piles,
While Ham's were scattered through the Sandwich Isles!

"These to the printer!" he exclaimed, and in his humorous way he added, as a trifling jest. "There'll be the devil to pay." Equally careless of debts to the devil were Praed with his:

Where are my friends? I am alone;
No playmate shares my breaker—
Some lie beneath the churchyard stone,
And some before the Speaker.

and his

And mendicants will sup like kings,
And lords will swear like lackeys,
And black eyes oft will lead to rings,
And rings will lead to black eyes.

and Horace Smith, with his

So from the stands the empty carts are dragged,
The horses homeward to their stables go,
And mine, with hauling heavy hogsheads fagged,
Prepare to taste the luxury of—whoa!

and Bret Harte, with his

And we found on his nails, which were taper,
What is frequent in tapers—that's wax,

and even Thackeray, with his

"Mrs. Roney, oh, Mrs. Roney, oh, do let me go!
I acted most ungrateful I own and I know,

But the marriage bell is a-ringing, and the ring you may see!
And this young man is a-waitin'," says Mary, says she.

or—but they all did it. Requiescant in pace. Their gibes and their gambols still sometimes set the table on a roar; if in their ashes lived their wonted fires, the earth would lie more lightly on them because of the description of their last resting place penned by a brother punster, James Russell Lowell:

There lie levelers leveled, duns done up themselves,
There are booksellers finally laid on their shelves,
Horizontally there lie upright politicians,
Dose-a-dose with their patients sleep faultless physicians,
There are slave-drivers quietly whipped underground.
There bookbinders, done up in boards, are fast bound,
There card players wait till the last trump be played,
There all the choice spirits get finally laid.
There the babe that's unborn is supplied with a berth,
There men without legs get their six feet of earth,
There lawyers repose, each wrapped up in his case,
There seekers of office are sure of a place,
There defendant and plaintiff get equally cast,
There shoemakers quietly stick to the last,
There brokers at length become silent as stocks,
There stagedrivers sleep without quitting their box,
And so forth, and so forth, and so forth, and so on—
With this kind of stuff one might endlessly go on.

Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies
Every true mother realizes the fact that her baby's health depends upon her own, that the very vitality of her child is influenced by her own physical condition. How important it is, therefore, to guard against any derangement of the female organs, which induce general weakness, nervousness, constant fatigue and utter inability to properly care for her child. Please remember, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and strength to thousands of such mothers.
Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, some days I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when 7 months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. Pearl Montman, Mitchell, Ind.
Good health during and after maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

LAST CARD OF JUNKERS.

Wanted Entire German Navy to Commit Suicide.

The attempt of officers of the German high seas fleet to make a suicidal sortie against the British grand fleet before the armistice was signed is characterized by the Berlin Vorwaerts as "the last devilish crime against the German people that sealed the doom of the Pan-Germans." Refusal of the sailors to go out and fight is regarded as the first step toward the German revolution. This mutiny is described by the Vorwaerts as "an act of self-defence by 80,000 men against the villainous Pan-German plan."

"To understand the position," continues the newspaper, "it is necessary to go back to the feverish propaganda by the Pan-Germans at the end of October for a so-called national fight of despair. To save their necks they conceived the idea of baiting the people into a forlorn hope which could only end in complete extermination. The death of the doomed 80,000 did not concern these maniacs in whose reckonings human blood never counted. Their notion of military honor was that the whole people should suffer themselves to be butchered rather than undergo the shame of defeat.

"With their minds steeped in the worship of might they had no inkling of the revolutionary currents among the men. They still imagined that iron discipline was paramount. Their fiendish plan was to send out the ships to be sacrificed to the last ship. The news spread like wildfire.

"'At the last stage of the war are we all to be killed?' they asked.

"The officers harrangued, cajoled, in vain. Three times the order was given. It was a difficult position for men with no backing but their feeling of solidarity. A thousand were imprisoned at Wilhelmshaven. The choice between freedom and imprisonment was not difficult. It was revolution. It was the irony of fate that the Pan-Germans, with what was to be their last desperate blow, should themselves have started the conflagration. It was this last, devilish crime against the German people that sealed their doom."

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAYBE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises, or are growing hard of hearing, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

A Surprise.

A group of old ladies were talking and knitting on a veranda. The conversation got around to how much each weighed at birth. One old lady said, "Well, I weighed just three pounds and a half." The others gasped, and one of them asked, "And did you live?" "They say I did," answered the other woman, "and done well."

CANADIAN WAR VERSES.

"The Fighting Men of Canada" Deals Largely With War Pictures.

The chief characteristic of the poems of Douglas Leader Durkin are vigor and virility. "The Fighting Men of Canada," as the title indicates, deals largely with war pictures, and the first poem, which gives the book its title, sets the keynote of the majority of those that follow. Mr. Durkin can write fine swinging verse, and he gives about as spirited a rendering of patriotic sentiment as we have seen. It is very probable that Canadian elocutionists will go to Mr. Durkin's book for wartime verse. Indeed, Mr. D. G. French has included one of the poems in this book in the "Standard Canadian Reciter." But though this poet writes stirring war verse, his work is by no means limited to one type of subject. Some of his shorter poems contain genuine dignity of thought, with an appropriate medium of expression. For example, take the following:—

Long, long ago, dear Christ, when
Thou did'st lie,
And smiling upward in Thy mother's face,
Pressed closer to her breast to feel the warmth
Of motherhood, I wonder if the grace
That heaven gave Thee hid from her the glow
That every tender mother yearns to know.

I wonder if upon Thine infant brow
The dignity of heav'n so strangely lay,
That to her eager heart there came no joy
At seeing, as she watched Thee day by day,
The sweet dependence of the child she bore
That makes the tender mother cherish more.

Oh, Christ, unknown to Thee while Thou did'st sleep,
She bowed and with finger touched Thy head,
And from her soft eyes as she kissed Thee, fell
The burning tears that only mothers shed.
And Thou, Christ, equally with us art blest,
That, next to God, Thy mother loved Thee best.

City of Gotham.

"City of Gotham" is a nickname of foreign origin with no particular applicability. Gotham is the name of an ancient village in England, whose inhabitants, according to tradition, once escaped a burdensome duty about to be put upon them by feigning stupidity. This smart trick in pretending to be fools gave rise to the expression "the wise men of Gotham" and the story of the three wise men of Gotham who went to sea in a bowl." The name was first applied to New York city in a humorous magazine called "Salmagundi," started in 1807 by Washington Irving and two or three others, in which they made fun of the pretentions of some of the "wise men of Gotham," meaning the New York of that day. The magazine was read, the fun-making approved, and the nickname became permanent.

Liked the Sword Swallowers.

A Canadian officer who was in charge of about a thousand Chinese coolies in France tells the following story:—

"Some Canadian troops offered to bring their band, one of the best in France, to entertain our coolies. As soon as the band began to play the heathen Chinee, however, began to laugh uproariously. When asked what was amusing them their interpreter said: 'Why we are laughing at the juggler.'

"'Juggler? Why there is no juggler in that bunch.'

"'Oh, yes, there he is. See that man swallowing the steel rod and then pulling it out again.' He was referring to the trombone player."

Why Can't I to Sleep?

Thousands of people all over the country ask this question but still continue to toss night after night on a sleepless bed and it is impossible for them to get a full night's refreshing sleep.

Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quietened except by the pernicious use of opiates or narcotics. Or again, you have heart palpitation, and sensation of sinking, a feeling you are going to die, or perhaps you wake up in your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and the only way that you can get relief is to sit up in bed.

To all who suffer in this way, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer an inestimable boon. They bring back the much needed night's rest by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthen the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony—then you sleep as peaceful as a child.

Mrs. James Latimer, 39 Leinster St., St. John, N. B., writes: "At night I could not sleep. I had to sit up in bed, my heart beat so fast and when I walked up stairs I would get all out of breath. A friend recommended Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using two boxes I can sleep all night, and am not out of breath after walking."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FILM PLAYERS STOP ACTING TO FIGHT FIRE IN STUDIO

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Fire in the laboratory of the Universal Film Company's plant at Fort Lee, N.J., destroyed several thousand dollars' worth of films and caused about $5,000 damage to the building. Fifty girls in the laboratory walked out in safety, but 400 others employed in various parts of the plant continued at work while the firemen from Edgewater and Cliffside fought the flames.

The fire started while a film play was being protographed in the studio. Actors and actresses formed a bucket brigade and fought the flames until the firemen arrived. One protographer took pictures of the fire and the actoros and actresses at their fire fighting stunts.

"We are Ready for Duty on the Play Line, Mother"

TO MOTHERS! Keep your little pets physically fit, smiling, feeling their best always, by giving Cascarets, the candy cathartic, occasionally.

Children love to take Cascarets. They are sweet candy-like tablets, but just wonderful to correct the little white tongue, feverish breath, sour stomach and colds. Cascarets gently "work" the bile, sour fermentations and poisons from a child's tender stomach, liver and bowels without griping or injury. Mothers who depend upon Cascarets as the children's laxative save trouble, worry and cost. Each 10 cent box of Cascarets contains directions and dose for kiddies aged one year old and upwards.

Gleaners Were Rewarded.

Four pretty Saskatchewan girls have taught the farmers of the great wheat belt of Western Canada a lesson in thrift. They have shown what a vast amount of grain is lost by modern harvesting methods and how it can be saved by a little extra labor. From stubble fields abandoned by their owners and awaiting the plough, these girls gleaned with rakes enough wheat to sell for $646.50.

Gleaning has never been customary in Canada. The farmers who, in this land, sometimes clear enough on one wheat crop to pay for their farms, have been content with the twenty and thirty bushels to the acre obtained by harvesting machinery.

Two girls living at Stony Beach asked a farmer for permission to go over his stubble field with rakes. "Certainly," said the farmer, "and all they gleaned they could have." The girls set to work next day at sunup and kept at it until twilight. The farmer was mildly interested as he watched them; they made a pretty picture, recalling Ruth of old gleaning in the fields of Boaz. He was surprised when at the end of four days he saw a big wheat stack standing in his stubble field. When the girls threshed their gleaning they sold the wheat for $315.

Two other girls of Bonesty heard of the success of the maidens of Stony Beach and tried a similar experiment. They gleaned 150 bushels of wheat from 160 acres of abandoned stubble fields and sold the grain for $831.50.

Undiscovered Canada.

It is believed that nearly 30 per cent. of Canada is still unexplored, and if Indian reports are to be believed there is in the basin of the Mackenzie river one of the largest areas of possible oil-bearing country on the face of the earth. The Indians report the existence of lakes 100 miles and over long in Yukon that no white man has ever seen, while even the Indians apparently know nothing of the as yet untrodden Mackenzie mountains.

Laconic.

There were all gradations of thoroughness in the varying manners which different outfits showed when they turned over their sector to their relief. Some turned over every stick and stone, every fact and every suspicion. The record instance for despatch is told of a French captain who needed only six words and three gestures to turn over his sector to the incoming captain relieving him. The words were: "Nous ici. Boches là. Au revoir."

Public Is Warned Against Taking Substitutes For Nuxated Iron

Physicians Below Say That Ordinary Metallic Iron Preparations Cannot Possibly Give The Same STRENGTH, POWER AND ENDURANCE

As Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron

United States Judge Atkinson Gives Opinion

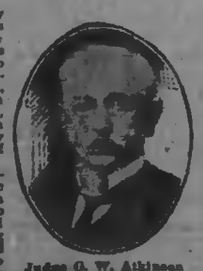
Careful investigation by physicians among druggists and patients has revealed the fact that there are thousands of people taking iron who do not distinguish between organic iron and metallic iron, and that such persons often fail to obtain the vital energy, strength and endurance which they seek, simply because they have taken the wrong form of iron.

Therefore, physicians mentioned below, advise those who feel the need of a strength and blood builder to go to their family doctors and obtain a prescription calling for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and present this to their druggist so that there may be no question about obtaining the proper article. But if they do not wish to go to the trouble of getting a prescription for Nuxated Iron then be sure to look on the label and see that the words NUXATED IRON are printed thereon—not Nux and Iron nor any other form of Iron, but Nuxated Iron.



Judge C. W. Atkinson

The remarkable results produced by Nuxated Iron and its widespread sale (it being estimated that over three million people annually are to-day using it), has led to the offering of numerous substitutes, and these physicians say that health officials and doctors everywhere should caution the public against accepting substitutes in medicines and they especially warn against accepting substitutes for Nuxated Iron, which, instead of being organic iron may be nothing more than a metallic iron compound which may in some cases produce more harm than good. The widespread publication of the above information, has been suggested by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital; Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author and others, so that the public may be informed on this subject and protected from the use of metallic iron under the delusion that it is Nuxated Iron or at least something as good as Nuxated Iron.

It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and see how much you have gained.

United States Judge C. W. Atkinson, of the Court of Claims, Washington, D. C., says: "It is with genuine gratification that I recommend Nuxated Iron to persons who in the stress of physical or mental labors have permitted the system to become debilitated, the body exhausted or the nerves run down. It has restored my appetite and my vitality. I feel that I have dropped off the burden of months of toil in the few weeks that I have been following the very simple directions for the use of Nuxated Iron."

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians, is not a patent remedy but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the older, inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

A POLISH LEADER.

Josef Pilsudski Has Been Appointed Provisional President.

Josef Pilsudski, lately appointed Provisional President of Poland by the Regency Council, figure of mystery in many Polish revolutionary attempts and hero of the people, has lived a Graustarkian life, overfilled with bewildering political adventure from early boyhood until his choice to lead Poland the new.

Pilsudski was born in Lithuanian Poland in 1867. His father had suffered bitter persecution for his part in the revolution of 1863. The son thus inherits the mantle of revolutionary leadership. He has never shirked the responsibilities of this leadership, whether against Russian or German oppressors.

Josef Pilsudski studied at the gymnasium in Vilna and the University of Petrograd. He was implicated in the attempt made on the life of Czar Alexander III. on March 2, 1888, because of his acquaintance with Dembo, Preker and others, who had planned it. Although he was opposed to terrorism, and was only called as a witness, he was exiled to Siberia for five years. He was sent to Tunka, where he fell ill. It was there he came to know the Russian spirit thoroughly.

In 1892 he returned to Vilna. On his way to Siberia the soldiers insulted one of the women political prisoners and the politicals started trouble. In the riot between them and the soldiers the politicals were badly beaten. Pilsudski always referred to this experience as the most horrible in his life.

On his return he characterized the Russians as "anarchists in spirit and incapable of republicanism."

He got in touch with Polish leaders, among them Roman Dmowski, then a National Democrat, and with the Socialist Poles. These he called "romanticists in their plans, but positivists in action."

Pilsudski lived openly in Poland until July, 1894, when he decided to take up definitely political work. He started Robotnik, a secret organ of the Polish Socialist party. The printing press was hidden in Vilna.

The small press was bought in London by Debski, now editor of the New York Polish Daily Telegram. Its parts were sent through to Poland as agricultural machinery. This was alone made possible because the Russian customs official on the frontier worked with the Polish revolutionists. The press was put together in a small house in Vilna. Only four people knew the place, Sulkewics, Pilsudski, Wojciechowski and Debski. Outsiders knew only that Pilsudski would arrive without warning, bringing stacks of literature, and then disappear with as little warning. He was a man of mystery. The press was not discovered for ten years, despite great police endeavors.

Pilsudski meanwhile traveled over Poland and, Russia, organizing circles for the education of workmen and of the intellectuals. His pseudonym was Victor. In these travels he scattered his newspaper.

At the time of the Japanese War the press was moved to Cracow.

In 1896 the printing press was moved to Lodz, Poland. More people were introduced into the organization. One man was shadowed, and the press was finally discovered. Pilsudski was arrested.

Friends determined to bring about his escape. Escape from the citadel of Warsaw was impossible. Pilsudski suggested that he simulate insanity and so obtain transfer to the insane asylum at Tworki. Books on the subject were smuggled in to enable him to practice the symptoms. He played the part for a long time, and was on the verge of giving it up when the transfer was announced. But the police were afraid to send him to any Polish hospital.

He was sent to the Asylum of Nicholas the Miracle Maker, in Petrograd. Here a young doctor, Windislaw Mazurkewicz, immediately made application for entrance. He was accepted, and on May 13, 1901, he simply walked out with Pilsudski. Pilsudski then fled to London, his wife accompanying him.

In the spring of 1903 Pilsudski returned to Cracow. With the outbreak of the Japanese War he planned a revolution in Poland. He went to Japan to negotiate for help from Japan, passing through New York. Debski was already here. Roman Dmowski also made the trip to Japan, for the Japanese wanted to have more than one opinion on the question. Dmowski was opposed to such appeal.

Until Jan. 15, 1915, Pilsudski had refused to take money from the Austrian authorities. He, officers and soldiers subsisted on money collected by the revolutionary organization. Small sums were raised by various means—part of his plan to show Austria that he did not need her help. But complications forced him to accept the aid.

When his beloved Poland was finally cleared of the last Russian soldier, Pilsudski turned his attention toward the still more difficult task of forcing out the Germans and the Austrians, with whom hitherto he had made common cause. This conflict brought him into a German prison fortress, from which he has only recently been freed.

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy

You can save about $2, and have a better remedy than the ready-made kind. Easily done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made, and saves easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy, lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Safety Elevators.

In every large city the toll of death from elevator accidents is much greater than most citizens imagine.

Persons walk into shafts when the elevator gates stand open. They are usually killed. Others stumble out of the car because the operator does not make a level landing.

"Step up," or "step down, please," are familiar words to us all since young women are running many of our elevators. This is no indictment of the ability of the weaker sex who do a man's work, but simply that they are new to the business and have not had the experience common to men.

Elevators can be made so safe that accidents similar to those which have already happened cannot take place. The invention of an automatic and purely mechanical safety lock does this very thing.

The mechanism locks the power and the gate automatically. It locks the power while the gate is open to receive and discharge passengers, and the power remains locked until the gate is securely closed when the power is ready for the operator.

This device also locks the gate automatically before the power can be used to start the car. It can control the landing of passengers, and does so without the necessity of having a device which must be attached to the motive power. Before the gate can be opened, the operating lever must be brought to a neutral point, that is to a point where there is no power.—Illustrated World.

STRANGE PROPHECY RECALLED.

"Brother Johannes" Foretold the Great War.

Soon after the great war began, the press published a cable from Paris, carrying extracts from an article in the Paris Figaro upon a series of prophecies alleged to have been written by a monk three centuries before the outbreak of the war. These alleged prophecies foresaw many of the events and conditions of the war, and are reprinted, so that a comparison of the text with recent events may be made. The special cable sent out Sept. 10th, 1914, said:

The Figaro, which is now issuing a small edition in Bordeaux, besides its usual four pages in Paris, on its first page publishes an extraordinary translation of a Latin prophecy alleged to have been written by a monk, Brother Johannes, in the year 1600, describing the destructions of Antichrist in a great war. Following are some significant passages:

"The real Antichrist will be one of the monarchs of his time. A son of Luther will invoke God, proclaiming himself his envoy. He will have only one arm. His armies, which will appear innumerable, will take for their device the words, 'God with us,' (the motto actually stamped on the Prussians' belts). He will long act by ruse and treachery, and his spies will overrun the earth, but a war will furnish the occasion for his throwing off the mask—not that war waged against the French monarchy, but another easily recognized, because in two weeks it will become universal, bringing into battle the most distant peoples. Armies will form at the four corners of the earth. Antichrist will massacre priests, women, children, and the aged. He will show no mercy, holding the torch like the barbarians, but invoking Christ. There will be an eagle in his arms, also in those of his acolyte, the other bad monarch, who, a Christian, will die through the curse of Pope Benedictus.

"To conquer Antichrist, more men must be killed than Rome held. It will require the efforts of all the kingdoms. This will happen twenty centuries after the incarnation of God's Word."

The prophecy is contributed by a writer signing himself "Peladan," who, after showing its application to the present war, says that it is only the first part, and that he will give the rest later. The Figaro makes no comment.

The Petit Journal prints another prediction, said to have appeared early this year in an almanac, published in the Indian native state of Jodpore, and to have been brought to the editor's notice by a Hindu, named Varma, living in Paris, whose two sons have just joined the Foreign Legion.

"In the month of July," says the prediction, "all Europe will be upset by a war, setting in conflict the greatest powers, accompanied by enormous disaster. In November, a great Emperor will lose his crown and the war will end."

Many persons, remembering the prophecy, which seemed a bit extravagant, in 1914, have called attention to its accuracy.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatism twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

THE BALKAN QUESTION

Demand Permanent Representation on the Executive Council of the League of Nations.

DEFENSIVE ALLIANCE

(United Press.)
(By Henry Wood.)

PARIS, Feb. 19. — The Balkan confederation will demand permanent representation on the executive council of the League of Nations, along with the five great powers, it was learned to-day from an authoritative source.

This group, comprising Greece, Serbia, Rumania and Czecho-Slovakia, was organized by Premier Venizelos for defensive purposes, a common Balkan policy, and especially enforcement of peace in south-eastern Europe.

It is now known that Venizelos, during the discussions of the League of Nations, urged the adoption of a clause permitting defensive alliances. Although the commission refused to insert such a clause in the draft, it did not prohibit such alliances — merely providing in Article 23 for the registration of such treaties.

The confederation, as a result, is planning on being the first group to submit its defensive alliance treaty to the League for registration, and at the same time demanding that one of four places on the executive council which remain unfilled, be assigned to a delegate representing all the Balkans.

Quebec Wants the Remains of Late Sir Wilfrid

House Will Move Resolution Concerning State Funeral.

Special to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.— Quebec wants the remains of her most illustrious son. Strong representations are being made to have Sir Wilfrid Laurier interred in St. Charles cemetery, in the centre of the constituency of Quebec East, which he had represented for over forty years in the Canadian parliament. Tentatively it had been decided that he should rest in the Notre Dame cemetery here in the capital city of the Dominion, but to-day there are decidedly divided opinions, and Lady Laurier herself is sorely undecided in her mind.

"When I die," Sir Wilfrid is reported to have said, on several occasions, "my body belongs to my friends to do with as they see fit."

Claim Remains.

Now his friends and compatriots from Quebec are claiming his mortal remains. It is represented that should he be buried in his own county, the resting place would for years to come be a shrine to which his people would come. The cemetery of St. Charles lies by the national highway and the monument would be visible from there.

A large proportion of Sir Wilfrid's former colleagues strongly favour his enterment there and are urging it. Among them are Hon. Jacques Bureau and Earnest Lapointe. On the other hand, Lady Laurier intends to end her days in Ottawa and would wish to have him near.

The question is still undecided.

A Resolution.

Special to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Feb. 19. — Before the House adjourns on Thursday, Sir Thomas White will move the following resolution:

"That is is resolved that in the opinion of this House the mortal remains of the Righ Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier, G.C.M.G., should be publicly interred and that the House will concur to giving to the ceremony a fitting decree of solemnity and importance."

Delegates Discuss Plans For Preliminary Peace At the Peace Session

FRANCE SERIOUSLY OPPOSED TO SCRAPPING ENEMY WARSHIPS

PARIS, Feb. 19.—In connection with the statement of the London Daily Mail that Germany's surrendered ships eventually would be destroyed, the Temps remarks to-day that there is no apparent difficulty in distributing the German, Austro-Hungarian, Turkish and Bulgarian craft among the Entente nations. The newspaper adds that the destruction of these units had not yet been considered by the Peace Conference and that there is very serious objection to such an act.

The Peace Treaty May be Ready by the Middle of April—Responsibility for the War.

ITALY OBJECTS

By Fred S. Ferguson.
(United Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 19.— British, French, American and Italian delegates discussed the programme for a preliminary peace to-day with the intention of having the outline completed soon after President Wilson's return to Paris. Belief was expressed that the pact might be ready for final discussion by the middle of April.

The terms would include delineation of German boundaries, definite establishment of her military, naval and economic status, and fixation of the amount of reparation and method of payment. One plan has been suggested and is said to be meeting with favour, for abolition of conscription in Germany for a period of ten years, with simultaneous reduction of her fleet. This not only would be expected to have a good effect in Germany wherever energy could be bent on rehabilitation and peaceful pursuits, but other nations might find that conscription is necessary and would lose the "war habit."

Fixing a Basis.

Further steps toward fixing a basis for a preliminary peace will be taken in the new armistice conditions which may be presented to Germany within a week. These are expected to include the reduction of her army to 25 divisions, the possible dismantling of the Rhine forts, prohibition of mobilization on the west front, further reduction of her navy and the surrendering of all submarines.

More than a score of U-boats, which have been partially built since the armistice was signed, will have to be turned over to the Allies. These craft are said to have been constructed solely through fear of the government of discharging the employees of the submarine works and adding to the discontent attending unemployment. There is a growing sentiment for complete abolition of the submarine as a weapon of warfare, the Americans taking the view that it is a force that cannot be controlled and if used is bound to be piratical.

The length to which the sessions will continue after the Germans are called in is problematical, though the delegates are hopeful of affecting a general peace settlement by June, allowing for delays that possibly may be necessitated by the Germans desiring to refer certain questions to their government. In the meantime, discussion of boundaries, in which Allied powers are concerned, will continue, but it is not necessary that an agreement will have to be reached before preliminary peace is presented.

The committee on responsibility for the war was reported to-day to be encountering difficulties in considering the case of the former Kaiser, as there is no precedent on which to proceed. The question of possible extradition, for instance, necessitates closest examination. There is no desire to take action that might possibly result in Wilhelm being cast in the role of a martyr.

Objection Ignored.

The old strategic boundary idea has again bobbed up through the presentation of Serbia's claims. The Serbs wants a stretch of territory fifteen to thirty kilometres (nine to eighteen miles) wide along the Bulgarian frontier, claiming it is necessary for protection of an important railway line.

Italy's refusal to arbitrate her dispute with the Jugo-Slavs over Dalmatia has not created a ripple, as it is based on the grounds that all territorial claims will be examined by the conference and that there is no reason why a special rule shall be made in this specification.

Sir Wilfrid's Successor

Hon. W. S. Fielding May be Selected for the Position—A Liberal Caucus.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—Legislators are gathering at Ottawa for the opening of the session and for the accompanying ceremony consequent upon the sudden death of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Probably no session has ever opened in such an atmosphere of uncertainty. Calculations have been shattered by the passing of the leader of the Opposition, and the flock to the left of the Speaker finds itself without a shepherd. The Government has decided under the circumstances to adjourn the House over till Tuesday so that the Opposition may have an opportunity to get together and formulate their plans, and a Liberal caucus, at which will be present both commoners and senators, has been called for Monday morning at 10:30. At this caucus a temporary leader will likely be nominated. Pending the later holding of a general convention it is not expected that a permanent leader will be named.

Part of Overflow.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, member for Queens-Shelburne, is being strongly mooted for the temporary position. He is in a somewhat peculiar position. Though nominated by a straight Liberal convention, he was accorded an acclamation at the instigation of Sir Robert Borden. He did not sit with his former leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the House, neither it may be said did he sit with the Government. He sat instead where the two sides of the House overflowed into each other at the back of the chamber, and on three separate occasions during the last session he voted against the Government.

Mr. Fielding was questioned this morning regarding the rumours of his leadership. "I know nothing," he said, "save what I have seen in the papers. I have not been approached on the matter."

"Were the position offered you would you accept it?" he was asked.

"I don't care to discuss the subject at all," he replied.

There is talk of the return of the Hon. Geo. H. Graham, but to bring back Mr. Graham, a bye-election is necessary. Should the caucus decide to call for him, representations would be made to the Government to throw open the vacant county of Stormont and Glengarry, and it is not certain that the Government would consent, though the seat has been vacant almost since the election. Should Mr. Fielding be offered and accept the leadership for the present, it is hard to say how far it would go toward bringing about reconciliation between the Union and Opposition Liberals. He is one of the oldest parliamentarians now in the House.

MIDWEEK SERVICES AT MURRAY STREET

The mid-week service at Murray street Baptist church will be in charge of the Ladies' Missionary Circle. This does not mean that the men are not expected. It means the very opposite, that the ladies will scarcely understand it in cases where the men are absent, because this is the one occasion when they have an invitation to a ladies' meeting.

This series of department prayer meetings is proving a great blessing to the people of Murray street church. All are invited.

The man who knows nothing and wants to find out everything is almost as great a bore as the man who thinks he knows everything and insits upon telling it.

"IRON COMPULSION"

Canadian Press:

WEIMAR, Feb. 19.—Mathias Erseberger, of the German Armistice Commission, again held the centre of the stage at this afternoon's session of the National Assembly, outlining the entire history of the armistice negotiations from the time they were begun last fall. Herr Erseberger told the House many things about the armistice which were either unknown to or had only been suspected by his hearers. One of those was his unqualified statement that it was Prince Maximilian of Baden, who had approached the Entente because of the "iron compulsion" of the high military command for peace. It was Field Marshal Von Hindenburg who demanded and authorized the signing of the first terms, Herr Erseberger said. Herr Erseberger, who seemingly has been very unpopular because of his work in the armistice negotiations, re-established himself by his speech. The House cheered Herr Erseberger, breaking House rules, and applauded as well as cheered for several minutes until it was called to order by President Fehrenbach.

Telegrams of protest against the signing of the new armistice are pouring into the National Assembly, and one from Berlin demands that a period of national mourning be ordered.

Senator Attacked League of Nations

"A Frightful Compact," Declared Senator Poindexter,

(United Press.)
(L. C. Martin.)

WASHINGTON, Feb .19. — Senator Poindexter, Washington, to-day attacked the League of Nations constitution.

"A frightful compact, a fatal covenant," which will steal away American national sovereignty and make this nation part of a great international soviet, was the description of the document given the Senant by Poindexter.

Opening the discussion of the League, Poindexter said it marks the end of our traditional policy of "mind your own business," which we have applied to ourselves and to other nations alike.

World Government.

Analyzing the constitution artcle by article, he declared, "That the constitution as drafted proposes a world government modelled along the lines of Russian Soviet government.

"That it is part of the same internationalism which the I.W.W. and Bolshevist is striving for.

"That instead of bringing perpetual peace it will sow dragon's teeth from which armed men will spring.

"That unless it is submitted to the American people in a political campaign for their approval or disapproval, popular government in the United States will disappear."

PUMP USED WITH GOOD EFFECT

Percy Holland and Gordon Holland appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning on the charge of being drunk. P. C. Deannard gave evidence, saying that the two brothers were roaming up and down Charlotte street and did not appear to be in the "pink." Taken to the station by the constable, Gordon became so sick that a doctor was called and the thirsty one was introduced to the stomach pump. The result was magical. It cost Percy $10 and costs, which amounted to $14.10, and Gordon was asked for $16.10, two dollars of which goes to the doctor. They paid their fines.

Revolution Threatens to Envelope Germany at Any Moment Declare Delegates

Thirty Thousand Armed Workmen Organized—All Means of Communication Can Be Tied Up in Germany Inside of a Day.

BLAME ARMISTICE

By Frank J. Taylor.
(Copyright 1919, by the United Press.)

WEIMAR, Feb. 19.—The real revolution threatens to break out in Germany at any hour. This imminent upheaval is not political, but economic, and it is being organized by the workmen themselves.

For the past three days, delegates from the Workers' Council of the Essen region have been serving ultimatums on the new German Cabinet, insisting upon socialization of industries, minimum wages higher than the present maximum, recognition of all Workmen's Councils and abolition of Capitalism. The workers' programme borders on communism, but they have declared against violent methods, "unless absolutely necessary."

A Compromise.

More than half the Cabinet members are devoting their entire time to dealing with workmen's representatives, who are headed by Theodore Will, of Essen. Chancellor Scheidemann is attempting to compromise, promising socialization "as soon as possible." This does not satisfy the workmen, who are utilizing every hour of delay to extend their organization, increase the supplies and infect government troops with the spirit of non resistance against the workers when the break comes.

The correspondent interviewed Will, who is a clear minded, practical labour leader about forty years of age.

"We do not want violence, we simply demand fulfilment of the revolution, which so far has not been a revolution, merely a change in government," said Will.

The Upper Classes.

"The same upper classes who ruled before are grabbing control of the republic. If the Cabinet refuses our demands I have authority to start a general strike in Krupps and other factories, and seize mines and railways within twenty-four hours. Thirty thousand armed workmen are organised under my command in central Germany alone. The Berlin and Hamburg regions are equally organised and armed. Dusseldorf, Essen, Leipsig and other cities are under the control of Workmen's Councils, whose administration is entirely orderly.

"We are not Spartacans or communists. We are simply workmen demanding a genuine revolution. I have talked with most of the Cabinet members. They are simply trying to put us off. I told Noske (military governor) what would happen if they ordered troops but against us. He stormed and tore his hair. He knows we have the majority of his troops with us. Inside of a day we can tie up all means of communication in Germany."

Blames Armistice.

Scheidemann blames the new armistice terms for the present situation.

"Suppression of Bolshevism depends on whether we are able to provide the country with sufficient food," said the Chancellor.

"Only after this is done can the new Cabinet take up its duties of rebuilding the nation's economic life. Socialization can be applied to only such industries as mines and electrical systems. We cannot socialize where productivity will be decreased and industrial initiative lessened.

"Everything depends on our connections with the world's market, enabling the lowering of both food prices and abnormal wages."

THE WEATHER

The remarkably fine winter weather of the past five weeks still continues, and as the season is getting on there is little likelihood of much more severe weather. The last severe cold of last winter was shortly after this date. On Feb. 20th, it was 5 below; on the 21st, 16 below; 22nd, 10 below, and on the 23rd, 13 degrees below. There was only one more zero day after that, namely on March 11th. The coldest day this winter, and the last zero day, was Jan. 12th, with 19 below. Little snow has yet fallen, but as our heaviest snowfalls are during the first ten days in March, we may yet obtain our average amount—and more. — W. P.

Attack On Clemenceau

Premier Was Wounded by a Revolver Shot—Assailant Arrested.

PARIS, Feb. 19. — Premier Clemenceau was slightly wounded by a revolver shot fired at him as he emerged from his home this morning. His assailant has been arrested. The attack occurred at 8.30.

As Clemenceau left his residence in the Rue Franklin and stepped into his waiting motor car, his assailant fired four or five shots at him from a revolver. One bullet penetrated the tonneau of the automobile and struck the Premier in the shoulder. He walked into the house, however, without assistance.

Very Slight.

Col. House received a telephone call from Clemenceau's residence, stating that it was impossible for the Premier to keep an engagement with him, set for 10 o'clock. It was stated that the wound was "very slight."

News of the attack on Clemenceau spread rapidly throughout the city. There were excited comments on the boulevards, in the cafes ,and in public buildings. All the foreign peace delegates hastened to inquire regarding the Premier's condition.

The first reports circulated here were that the assailant was a Russian.

PARIS, Feb. 19. — Georges Clemenceau, Premier of France, was shot, and slightly wounded by a boy named Cottin, as he entered a motor car in front of his residence this morning. His assailant was arrested.

"It's nothing," was the "Tiger's" only comment after he had walked back into the house unassisted.

The assailant, who refused to make any statement regarding his motive, is about 18 years old. He is a French civilian, and is said to live in Compiegne.

Fired Eight Shots.

As Clemenceau was seating himself in his limousine, Cottin suddenly sprang forward and fired eight shots from a pistol. Six of these hit the front of the car. Two bullets penetrated the glass door, one striking the premier on the inner side of the right arm, near the shoulder, inflicting a flesh wound. A policeman grabbed Cottin. Another man whose identity is not yet known, rushed to Cottin's assistance. A crowd quickly gathered and attacked the two men, who were battling with the policeman. Cottin was badly mauled and the policeman was slightly wounded. Clemenceau refusing offers of assistance, walked back into his home. A few minutes later a telephone call was sent to Col. House announcing that the premier's wound would prevent him from keeping an engagement which he had at the Crillon Hotel with House and Foreign Secretary Balfour.

Hubert Clemenceau, the Premier's brother and secretary, told the United Press, that the wound was not serious at present and that the only danger would be from possible infection.

The first foreign officials to call at the Premier's residence to inquire about his condition, were Premier Veniezlos of Greece and Ambassador DeLeon of Spain.

Strenuous Career.

Clemenceau was credited at first with being opposed to the plan for the League of Nations in its broader phases, expressing preference for a balance of power secured by France, Great Britain, the United States and Italy. His representatives, however, have joined freely in the work of framing the covenant of the league, and with some references express approval of it as it was laid before the peace conference.

In spite of his advanced years (he is 76 years of age) Clemenceau has continued in recent months to justify the sobriquet of "The Tiger," which long has been applied to him going through the trying work of the peace conference, with its many long consultations, without often showing any signs of fatigue.

Policeman Wounded.

Policeman Goursat, who was wounded in the eye, although not seriously by one of the would-be assassin's shots said that Premier Clemenceau rushed up to the assassin and grappled with him. The Premier's wound is not regarded as dangerous in itself but it is felt that it might have serious consequences. At about 11 o'clock this morning, however, it was officially announced that Clemenceau was not seriously wounded.

An enormous crowd which observ-

TRIBUTES NUMEROUS

Remains of Sir Wilfrid Laurier Surrounded by Masses of Flowers—Tribute From Montreal.

THE FUNERAL

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—The mortal remains of Sir Wilfrid Laurier now lie surrounded by a perfect mass of flowers, in the drawing-room where he and Lady Laurier were wont to entertain their guests. There is no end to flowers which are coming to the capital. They are arriving in carloads at the station and being conveyed in the form of wreaths, cushions, crosses and shields, to the home on Laurier avenue.

Sir Wilfrid is dressed in his Windsor uniform which he had not worn for many a day. His order and ribbons are on his breast, and the impassive face is very peaceful.

Visitors come and mutely gaze upon it and pass out again. Until late last night they came and went—men and women in all walks of life, and to-day they are coming and going.

Mark on Forehead.

There is a small mark on the left forehead. It is now learned that on Saturday afternoon when in the House of Commons death first tapped at the door. Dizziness struck him as he was about to leave his office and he fell, injuring his forehead and causing a slight abrasion. However, he recovered and took a street car home. Later his physician noticing the bruise asked "What is this?" Sir Wilfrid made light of it. His left leg was not so strong as his right, he said, and he had had a foolish fall; but there is little doubt that in his own mind the fall was a premonition of the end.

At times he and Lady Laurier were accustomed to speculate on the future state. But recently she opened the subject. Sir Wilfrid passed it off. "Death," he said, "why speak of it. If there was life before there will be life after."

Lady Laurier is bearing up well. She rose and dressed last evening and came down and sat with a few intimate friends in the room adjoining that in which her husband lay.

Montreal Tribute.

(Special to The Examiner.)

MONTREAL, Feb. 19.—An elaborate floral emblem will be sent by the corporation of Montreal to the bier of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The design will be that of the civic coat of arms which will give ample opportunity for display of the florists art. The emblem will be heroic in size, being seven feet high and five feet broad. A steel wire frame will support the mass of blooms and greenery required to make up the big shield which will be composed of flowers forming a blue and white field. The crown surmounting the coat of arms will be made of golden yellow flowers, and flowers of the same colour will be used for rose, the thistle and the shamrock. The city's motto, "Concordia salus" will also be outlined in the design as "in union there is strength."

WORK FOR SOLDIERS.

Peterborough has now been provided with the machinery for furnishing employment for returned soldiers, but the system cannot be effective unless there is the heartiest co-operation on the part of the citizens generally, and the employers of labour in particular. The Ontario Government Labour Bureau has been opened, with Mr. Hugh Robertson, a returned soldier, and a well known labour man, in charge, while the interests of returned men will be looked after by the appointment of Capt. A. S. Morrison, president of the Peterborough branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, as representative of the Soldiers' Re-establishment Department of the Dominion. Capt. Morrison and Mr. Robertson will co-operate in the work of providing employment. Both enjoy the confidence of Peterborough's returned soldiers to a marked degree, and they may be depended upon to do their utmost to see that those who are at present out of employment are placed in positions. A bureau of this kind, however, no matter how conscientious and energetic its officials may be, cannot secure results on its own efforts. If there are no positions available it is useless to expect employment officials to accomplish a great deal. And, therefore, employers of labour will have a great deal to do with the success or failure of the movement. It is to be hoped that the officials in charge of the Peterborough bureau will be given every assistance in their important work.

DOING GOOD WORK

An organization that is quietly and effectively doing a splendid work in Peterboro is the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Great War Veterans' Association, a body of patriotic women who banded themselves together to assist Peterboro's returned soldiers and who while doing so admirably have found time to be of the greatest service to the families of many Peterboro men who are still with the colours. Naturally much of the work that the Auxiliary has been doing is unknown to the general public—only those who have come into contact with the efforts of the ladies are aware of the extent to which their mission has been developed. It remains for Dr. E. H. Wood, who, as a physician has had opportunities to judge at first hand of the service rendered by the Auxiliary to give some outline of what has been accomplished. Speaking to the members of the War Veterans the other night, Dr. Wood paid a most hearty tribute to the members of the Auxiliary. He told of case after case in which families in a pitiable plight, either through illness or lack of funds or both, were rescued from their difficulties by the prompt and never-failing aid of the Ladies Auxiliary, who responded with a hearty readiness to every call upon their services. Dr. Wood's testimony is valuable because he was speaking of conditions with which he was thoroughly familiar. Peterboro, with its many organizations of loyal women is indeed fortunate and the Ladies Auxiliary of the War Veterans is not the least of these bodies, nor is it doing the least important work.

NORTH ONTARIO

The result of the bye-election in North Ontario yesterday shows that the new force that has entered the political field will have to be reckoned with in all future elections. The triumph of Mr. J. W. Widdifield candidate of the United Farmers of Ontario over Major Cameron, standard bearer of the Conservative Government will occasion, no surprise to those who have been following the progress of the farmers' organization. It was felt that if the vote was solidified and the electors of the rural districts remained true to their own organization that Widdifield would win the day and the figures from North Ontario show unmistakably that the farmers did vote practically in a body, despite the efforts of the Government to induce the Conservative farmers of the riding to rally around the party standard.

In recent years the farmers whose united production each year make them the greatest wealth producers in the Dominion have felt that they have not received the consideration from provincial or Dominion Governments that they considered they were entitled to and this dissatisfaction has grown until the farmers have united in an effort to secure direct representation and to make sure of the election of candidates who will have the interest of the agricultural community at heart.

A member of Parliament is supposed to represent the different elements that compose his riding. The United Farmers of Ontario in announcing their policy have given the assurance that their candidates will always have that ideal before them and although elected in the interests of the farming community will not lose sight of the fact that their parliamentary action must also be governed by consideration of other interests. The present Legislature is looked upon by many farmers as being composed of men who are legislating in favour of classes. There would seem to be an even greater danger of this condition if the farmers' representatives do not remain true to their promises of governing in the interests of the whole province and not merely on behalf of the farmers whose votes elected them to power.

It is evident from the results in North Ontario and in Manitoulin that the farmers are united as never before and are abandoning party ties to work and vote for the candidates chosen by themselves. Hitherto, the agricultural vote has always split on the rock of party politics but from now on it must be understood that the old ties are being discarded and that the farmers are in the political field to stay. In the defeat of Major Cameron yesterday the United Farmers triumphed over a very strong candidate, a well known and popular resident of the riding whose prestige was enhanced by the fact that he had served with distinction in France. His campaign was assisted by half a doezn cabinet ministers who faithfully stumped the riding on his behalf and sounded the old party slogan in every school house and hall in North Ontario. In spite of the personality of the candidate and the vigour of his campaign, the United Farmers have won a clean-cut triumph.

The development of the Farmers' organization will be watched with interest. Manitoulin and North Ontario have shown the growing effectiveness of the machine that is being constructed and from now on elections will have a new aspect and will have to be viewed from a different angle.

The two most popular trimmings now are buttons and fancy stitchings.

LAND SETTLEMENT

Returned soldiers, not only in the Western provinces, but in the East as well, are an unit in condemning the clause in the Government's Land Settlement Act, which requires a soldier taking a loan to first put up ten per cent of the money as a guarantee of good citizenship. In a message received by the Peterboro Veterans from Col. Purney, the Dominion President of the G.W.V.A., the undesirability of this particular portion of the act is pointed out and immediate protest from all branches is urged.

The Government's policy toward the Land Settlement problem has not met with general favor. There has been too much dilly-dallying with the question and even at this late date there seems little chance of getting many men on the land this year in time to produce a crop. As the president of the Calgary War Veterans puts it: "They have shuffled around this subject for the last two years and it is time something was done."

It is claimed by Western Veterans that many of the grazing leases in the Prairie Provinces are being fraudulently held by friends of the Government and that it is impossible for returned soldiers to get land at any terms. This complaint is borne out by the charges made by Martin Woolf, Deputy Speaker of the Alberta Legislature, that prominent politicians in Southern Alberta have secured thousands of acres of land on lease from the Government when on the other hand soldiers were unable to secure enough land for a farm.

Woolf gave the names of the men who, he claims, received the leases. Among these were W. H. Smith, his opponent in the last election, who got six sections, W. H. Stead, a merchant in Cardston who had no cattle, who got four sections; Chris Jensen, his conservative opponent in 1913, who got six sections; Ephraim Hart, the President of the Cardston Conservative Association, who got five sections; Marsdon Bros., who got four sections; Knight and Watson received blanket grazing leases of immense value, though they were not citizens of the country. John Parirsh, his opponent in 1912, was another man who received favors from the Government and in spite of this the soldiers can't get land.

THE RETURNED SOLDIER

He is bigger than the togs he wore in 1915. The togs we sell him for his clothing allowance of $35 will fit him, but they won't fill the bill. His first lumped-up expenditure will be his togs. A man can eat by instalments, but he can't dress that way. He can ration his fags, his amusements, his books—his rum is already prohibited in eight provinces out of nine—but he can't ration his clothes. And wool has gone up since 1915. For years he has bought not a stitch. Now he buys everything.

We dont understand this man. Not yet. We fit him as badly as his clothes he left behind. We know nothing about the "big shows." He knows all. We have been fed on censured generalities. He knows the facts. We must excuse him if he seems to live in a different world from ours. He has been under the governance of a machine as rigid as the laws of gravitation. His whole life, down to the smallest details has been ordered. There is no room for argument. Implicit obedience under penalty was required. His compliance with the terms was supposed to produce results. Nine times out of ten he never saw the results. All he knew was that he had done as ordered. And for all he knew his individual contribution to any "show" big or little, any manoeuvre, retirement or gradual advance, was about as relatively important as a mosquito in an earthquake. Only now and then, hand-bombing, trench-raidig, scouting, despatch-riding, machine-gunning, flying, digging in—did he feel conscious of any individual share in the great super-business of war operated by higher and higher commands, up to the supreme command vested in the generalissimo. Never in any factory, railway, store or any other organized business of civilization did a Canadian man ever feel how small is his own individual part. He has been an infinitesimal part of a vast impersonal machine. And the machine won—when from March 21, 1918, up till a few months before the signing of th earmistice the average soldier on the Canadian or British front did not know but that the Germans were winning. The first retirement after the March offensive was a circus. Men welcomed it as a relief from the trenches. They believed, first, that it was part of a general retreat, that the Germans were winning. Afterwards they were convinced that it was a strategic retirement. But not for months did they know that they were on the edge of victory.

So little was the individual in all this; so much the machine, the turn of fate, the relentless operation of a great organization in which men were marionettes. Now they are flung into a machine called civilization, to which for years they have been strangers. They find themselves in a country which has prospered in the war. Money has been plentiful; wages high, luxuries everywhere. Never were so many pianos and music machines sold to the average man. Never were theatres so jammed. Never so many automobiles. Never did women dress so well—those who worked for munitions wages. Never was the standard of general living so high. Since the soldier went away prices have doubled. But he sees no evidence of poverty or of struggle. Men want high wages and short hours. The soldier has been used to $1.10 a day at all hours. He has had all there was of discipline, fatigue, lack of sleep, hard bunk, hard tack, hard work—sometimes the other thing. In taking which as a minimum he gave all he had as a maximum.

Now he is back. And the difference. He is at sea. He knows that food and clothes for the first time in three years cost him anything—and the price is high. He has had a job. Now he is sure of none. He has been efficient to the war machine. He is not so sure of 100 per cent. to the machinery of peace. He sees foreigners, aliens, understrappers, in the jobs his comrades had. He wonders why. The machine was in a hurry to get him back. He wanted to come. He thought the country would be glad to have him. He expected—

But what did he expect? Mainly one thing, that his country should make it as serious a business to get him back into citizenship as it once did to get him out of citizenship into the life of a soldier; that a business will carry a returned man as an asset instead as a liability; that the people generally will treat the returned soldier as a man and quit regarding him as a phenomenon. He is willing to have us cut out the glorification, the bands, the triumphal arches, the speeches. What he wants is a return to citizenship. He wants to be able to wear the togs of civilization. He has adapted himself to the war even to the effacement of his own individuality. He did it for the sake of the cause and the country—this country. What less could he expect than that the country should adapt itself as far as possible to him?

He is an invasion. But he belongs here. We used to spend millions to get unwashed immigrants who would become producers and electors. We considered it good policy to immigrate to Canada to the tune of 400,000 a year. We could find room for the foreigners. Now we are taking back our army at the rate of about 10,000 a week, or at about 500,00 a year, into a country which for nearly five years has had scarcely any immigration. Are we going to have trouble finding room for the Canadians who have been "over there"?—Rex Crossdell.—The Canadian Courier.

CONTRACT ORDERED TO BE PERFORMED, DAMAGES ALLOWED

Judgment Given in Favour of John Meharry in Action Against Auburn Woollen Mills at the Assizes Yesterday.

Chief Justice Falconbridge gave judgment at noon to-day in Meharry vs. the Auburn Woollen Company, in favour of the plaintiff, ordering the specific performance of the agreement under which the gravel lots were purchased by Meharry, and also allowing him damages for the gravel removed or sold by the defendants. Mr. R. R. Hall was solicitor for Mr. Meharry. He was assisted by Mr. J. T. Birnie, his partner.

Judgment was reserved by Chief Justice Sir Glenholm Falconbridge yesterday afternoon in the case of Meharry vs. the Auburn Woollen Company, in which the plaintiff sought specific performance of an agreement under which he purchased a gravel lot from the defendant in 1915. As an alternative he asked for the return of $700 and interest on this sum which he had advanced.

Mr. R. R. Hall and Mr. Strachan Johnston of Toronto, solicitors for the respective parties, conducted their examinations expeditiously, without sacrificing carefulness and concluded the case within a few hours. Mr. Meharry was the chief witness, and Mr. Herb Kendry and Mr. E. A. Peck were called for the defence.

Among the points emphasized by Mr. Hall, in his argument was that the defendant's letter to Mr. Meharry on December 1st, 1915, notifying him that the agreement was cancelled, was not preceded by the notice to which he was entitled. Mr. Hall contended that time was of the essence of this contract. Meharry tendered on December 14th the money that was due.

Mr. Johnston denied this point, involving a clause in the agreement to the effect that in default in payment of any monies, taxes or interest for a period of one month the agreement was deemed to be at an end. There was no doubt, he said, that the money had been refused on Dec. 14th. Mr. Kendry declined to accept it then and always after that occasion. There was also no doubt that the purchaser had removed his plant, abandoned possession and ceased to operate because Mr Kendry had forbidden him on Dec 14th to remove any more gravel. Because of the depletion of the value of the property, Mr. Johnston held that Mr. Meharry was not entitled to the return of the money he had paid.

Mr. Johnston remarked that he had no doubt of the kindly wishes of Mr Kendry toward the plaintiff, but there had been no new agreement between Mr. Meharry and defendant company. Referring to the negotiations carried on they had simply been for a new agreement which the plaintiff had tried to make.

Hon. Dr. Reid Now Father of House

Has Sat Longest Continuously of Any Member; Foster Oldest Member.

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—With the death of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir George Foster is now the oldest member of the House. Sir Wilfrid was the only member who entered the House in the seventies. Sir George Foster was first elected to the Commons in 1882. The only other member of the House who was elected in the eighties is W. H. Smith, South Ontario, who was first returned in 1887.

According to the custom of the British Commons the member who is recognized as "the father of the House" is the one who has sat longest continuously. Hon. Dr. Reid can claim the honour. Sir George Foster was out of the Commons from 1900 to 1904 while Mr. Smith was out of Parliament from 1896 to 1911. Hon Dr. Reid was first elected in 1891 and has been in the House since without a break. There are only two other members who were first elected before 1896. General Sir Sam Hughes and W. F. Maclean, both of whom were returned at bye-elections in 1892.

STRIKE LEADER TO ACCUSE POLICE BEFORE ALDERMAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Charges against the police on account of alleged ill treatment of girl pickets in the garment makers' strike will be made before the Board of Alderman next Tuesday by Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the International Ladies' Garment Makers' Union; according to a statement made by Mr. Schlesinger.

"Never before in any strike have the workers been so brutally handle de by the police," said Mr. Shlesinger. "Girls come to my office with black and blue marks on their arms and hands and scratches on their faces from the treatment they have received.

"We have done everything we possibly could to gain protection for these girls. We have appealed to the Mayor and have laid our case before the Commissioner of Police. As these abuses continue, the only source left to us is the Board of Aldermen."

The Window Cleaners' Union, members of which are on strike, asked Dr. Henry Moskowitz to serve as arbitrator with their employers. Dr. Moskowitz will meet a committee from the union this evening at the Hotel Continental.

Meetings were held last night throughout the city by unions representing the workers on white goods It is expected that perhaps fifteen thousand of these workers will go on strike next week.

ALMOST BLIND FROM HEADACHES.

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. Headache seems habitual with many people; indeed, some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

The reason Burdock Blood Bitters makes permanent cures of all cases of headache, is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely, and the poisons and impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and instead of pains and aches there is revived mentality and bodily vigor.

Mrs. Geo. Monck, Arden, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled a great deal with sick headaches, and at times would almost go blind, and have to go to bed. I tried different kinds of medicine without any benefit until I was advised to use Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking it, I have not been troubled since."

B. B. B. is a purley vegetable remedy, and has been manufactured for the last forty years by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Select a New Liberal Leader

Sir Wilfrid's Death Will Have Undoubted Effect on Parliament.

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—It will seem like an unfamiliar parliament when it meets Thursday with Sir Wilfrid Laurier gone, and Sir Robert Borden absent at the Peace Conference. For eighteen years they have faced each other from the front benches. There will be two leaders untried in guiding parliament, unaccustomed to the rules and usages of the commons.

What effect this will have on the session it is difficult to predict. Sir Wilfrid's death will cast a gloom over the session and may take some of the fight out of the opposition. Sir Wilfrid was almost the whole Opposition, and there is no other member to the left of the Speaker with the knowledge or experience, or the extraordinary ability to pick out the weak spots in legislation. His death may tend to shorten the session.

Restraining Influence.

On the other hand, Sir Wilfrid exercised a restraining influence on his followers and kept in check the hot young bloods from Quebec, like Lucien Cannon and Thomas Viens, who were always anxious to attack Ontario. It is possible the death of Sir Wilfrid may lead to a much more disorderly House.

The passing of the veteran statesman combined with the absence of Sir Robert and the possibility of his going to Washington, makes a muddled political situation still more muddled. It is utterly impossible to predict what will happen or what effect the sudden and dramatic death of Sir Wilfrid will have upon the future of Union Government or the Opposition.

A caucus of the Opposition has been called by James Robb, Chief Whip, for next week, when the situation will be discussed and a leader for the session selected. It is stated that it is possible no leader will be selected, but a committee appointed to take charge, with a chairman, possibly Mr. Robb himself. There is a suggestion that Hon. W. S. Fielding will be the choice, but as he was elected as a Liberal-Unionist and did not attend any Opposition caucuses last year it is said that the Quebec members, who form three-fourths of the Opposition, will object.

Liberal Convention.

The question of a permanent Opposition leader may not be decided for some time and will probably be left until the national convention of the party, which Sir Wilfrid had proposed to call this summer, is held. This convention will still be summoned, according to Liberal leaders.

Hon. William Martin, Premier of Saskatchewan, seems to be the favourable choice, although Ottawa politicians who sat in the House with him, while admitting his attractive personality and his political sagacity, refuse to admit that he has the ability or the qualities to make a leader of a national party.

DECLARES ILLITERACY IS ROOT OF LABOR TROUBLES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Illiteracy was held up as the root of American Industrial labor troubles by Secretary Lane in appealing to the House Education Committee for immediate action on a pending bill to provide $12,500,000 federal aid annually to States spending like sums for the education and development of illiterates. Passage of the measure at this session was urged by the Secretary as one of the most important duties of Congress.

He said destuctive agitation could be coped with and American ideals understood only when foreign born workers understood the American language. The recent strike in the copper mines in Montana, the committee was told, resulted from interference of "foreign speaking I.W. W.'s with native miners". More than half the men in some of the largest industries are foreign born. Mr. Lane said, estimating that by increasing their value fifty cents a day through education the country would realize $2,000,000,000 a year.

Wealthy Woman's Death in Hotel Puzzles Police

The Deceased Owned Several Yachts—Blood on the Face.

New York, Feb. 19.—In her apartment on the ninth floor of the Hotel Albermarle, No 293 West Fifty-fourth street, the body of Mrs. Natalie Fellowes, thirty-nine years old was found in the bathroom by Maude McQuarey, a maid, who notified the manager, Charles Zazzali. He called Dr. D. Robertson, the house physician, who pronounced the woman dead.

There was blood on the woman's face, and it appeared that she had bled from the mouth, but an investigation by Dr. Benjamin Schwartz, Deputy Medical Examiner, failed to prove the cause of death.

There was no evidence of foul play and suicide is not suspected. The body was removed to the Morgue, where an autopsy will be held. Mr. Zazzali notified the Medical Examiner's office of the finding of the body, although there was a policeman on duty at the hotel. The Medical Examiner informed Police Headquarters of the case, and Detectives Thomas Brady and Clarence Daly, were sent to the hotel to investigate They found money and jewelry in therom intact and were puzzled regarding how the woman died.

According to the detectives, they learned that Mrs. Fellowes was wealthy and had a summer home at Patchogue, L. I., and maintained several yachts there. Her husbands whereabouts are unknown by friends of the dead woman.

Among papers in the apartment the name and address of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Noble, of No. 414 West 120th street were found and they were notified by telephone. They went to the hotel and identified the body as that of their friend. They said Mrs. Fellowes had a son in the American army in France and a daughter living in this city, but they did not know her address.

Mrs. Fellowes wore a silk nightgown and a bathrobe. There was a broken water pitcher on the floor and half a glass of water on the wash basin. The contents of the glass were taken by Dr. Schwartz to be analyzed. Mrs. Fellowes was last seen Sunday night, and employes of the hotel say that she seeemd to be in the best of health and spirits.

KENTUCKY SEEKS $5 MILLIONS FROM HARKNESS ESTATE

Wants Share of Property Left by Walnut Hall Stock Farm Owner.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 18.—Action was brought here this afternoon against Mrs. Florence Harkness, of New York, widow of Harry S. Harkness, and John W. McMiller, of New York, executor of Mr. Harkness' estate, for more than $5,000,000. This sum is said to be due as back taxes on the estate, which is estimated here at about $40,000,000. It is charged that taxes were not paid in 1916, 1917 and 1918.

The action was filed the State revenue agent, Mr. Bya., of Louisville, representing Kentucky, and by Hogan Yancey, County Attorney here.

They charge that Harry S. Harkness, through part ownership in Walnu Hall stock farm here, founded by his father, L. V. Harkness, was a legal resident of this county. This contention is held to be strengthened by the fact that Harry S. Harkness aid, Mrs. Lola B. Edwards, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. A. K. Macomber, of California, his sisters, acknowledged that their father was a legal resident here, and on this ground paid Kentucky $988,000 in inheritance taxes, three years ago.

The action filed here this afternoon was ordered by the State Tax Commission.

Personal property listed in the claim covers stocks and bonds in nearly especially of oil and refining properties, as it was in such stocks that most of the Harkness fortune has been invested for many years. Walnut Hall Farm is the largest stock farm in America devoted to the light harness horse, comprising more than seven thousand acres.

When Mrs. L. V. Harkness died her husband dismantled his Fifth Avenue home, it is said, and moved to this county, where afterwards he spent much of his time. Harry S. Harkness, however, had been here very little.

Kentucky is trying to collect $5,000,000 in taxes from the estate of Mrs. Mary Flagler Bingham, formerly widow of Henry M Flagler, of New York, who was Mrs. Robert W. Bingham, of Kentucky, when she died in this State.

Address to the Local Knights

Rev. Father Burke Spoke on the "Poets of the War."

At the regular meeting of the Knights of Columbus held last evening in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Reverend Father Burke of Newman Hall, Toronto, gave an inspiring address on the "Poets of the War." Father Burke, who belongs to the Paulist Order is in charge of Newman Hall in Toronto, which is a society or club in connection with Osgoode Hall and the University of Toronto. These clubs are spread throughout the United States, Canada and the British Isles and are for the benefit of the students of the great colleges. In Toronto the club is open only to the students of Osgoode Hall the University and affiliated colleges. Father Burke is also official rector for the students attending these institutions in Toronto.

Influence of War.

In his address Father Burke contrasted the work of the poets who have developed during the war with the poetry of those recognized previous to the war. Those, he said who wrote before the war were to a great extent actuated by selfish motives such as preserving their names or for a monetary consideration while those developed during the war were men actuated by truly natural devotion. He pointed out the influence they hard facts of life had upon the minds of men as compared with the influence that prevailed upon men in the luxurious times of peace preceding the outbreak of war. The poets of the war were nearly all men who had, as soldiers, come face to face with death seen human suffering, and could more truly picture human feeling than the men who had written in artificial surroundings with artificial stimulants.

Two Recitations.

At conclusion of Father Burke's address two little girls, Ruth Treacy and Josie Lynch gave pleasing recitations.

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.—A recent order published in militia general orders reads:

"In view of demobilization all correspondence addressed to troops overseas should be endorsed on the outer cover with the name and address of the sender, in order that the communication may be returned in the event of its being undelivered."

DIRECT STATE TAX MAY REACH $26,000,000

Albany, N. Y.—Instead of a direct tax of $13,000,000, it may become necessary to raise double that sum by direct levy, Senator Henry M. Sage, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said.

"Unless we have more income we will have to cut off activities or double our direct tax," the Senator said. "Instead of collecting $13,000,000 we will have to collect $26,000,000.

The average pay of State employee, including the Governor and Public Service Commissioners, is $1,000 a year, Senate Sage said in answer to charges that the State government is extravagant.

The Man or Woman Who Can Eat Heartily and Not Fade Away Is the Welcome Guest Anywhere.

Many people just hate to eat in company. They perfer to crawl into some by-place for a dyspeptic's plate of molly coddle. Business men often resort to this form of weakness under the belief they can work better. But it isn't what you eat but what you digest that counts. Some stomachs can't digest even a glass of milk. So they simply keep on feeding dyspepsia and get gas, water brash, sour risings and so on that the better informed and hearty eaters entirely avoid. This they do by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many physicians prescribe them for indigestion, dyspepsia and other digestive disorders. They are sold at every drug store, everywhere, price 50 cents a box.

The Peterboro Motor Show Will Be the Greatest On Record

The Advisory Committee of the Red Cross Association to Have Charge of the Affair—Proceeds for the Peterboro Health Association.

COMMITTEES FORMED LAST NIGHT

A meeting of the Advisory Board of the Red Cross Association was held last evening at the invitation of the Peterborough Health Association to organize itself into a committee to conduct the coming motor show, which is to be held early in April in the Armouries, if permission can be secured from the Government for their use for the purpose. Every member of the Committee was enthusiastic in his desire to help the Health Association and it was felt that the public would stand loyally behind the project for such a worthy purpose.

Previous motor shows have been held under rather restrained conditions owing to the war but it is expected that new features will be interjected into the show this year that will make it a worth while affair from every standpoint. The show of cars, parts, accessories, etc., is assured in greater quantities and numbers than ever and the amusement and entertainment committees have made the boast that this year's show from their standpoint will open the eyes of the public as to their ability to provide entertainment for a Peterborough crowd that will only be compared with the efforts put forth and the work done in this line by the Amusement Committee of the Peterborough Agricultural Society.

To this end the following committees were appointed; Tickets, Messrs. J. W. Fraser, and E. J. H. Vanstone; Sale of booths, R. H. Turner; Advertising, Messrs. R. M. Glover, W. R. Breyfogle, G. O. Cameron and J. W. Worth; Attractions, Messrs. G. O. Cameron A. L. Killaly, G. R. Munro, R. Cotton, and J. W. Worth.

Of all these committees Reverend C. J. Phelan and Dr. Cameron, members of the Health Association are honorary members.

Mr. G. H. Thompson, Secretary of the Advisory Committee of the Red Cross, acted as Secretary of the meet- and Mr. Roland Denne, Chairman.

Rich Lead Vein In Galway Only "Shower of Meteorites"

Mining Venture in North of County Ends in Lawsuit Before Chief Justice Falconbridge — W. J. Kearns Had High Hopes, But Mr. R. R. Hall Was Doubtful.

BREACH OF CONTRACT ALLEGED

William John Kearns, a miner and prospector, was the plaintiff in an action before Chief Justice Sir Glenholm Falconbridge at the Court House this morning, in which he sought $25,000 damages from R. R. Hall for an alleged breach of contract in a mining venture in Galway township. Mr. Guise-Bagley was the plaintiff's solicitor, and Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for Mr. Hall.

The evidence unfolded a story of more or less great expectations that petered out with the mine, which according to Mr. Kearns' representations to Mr. Hall and Mr. A. E. Dixan, assayed 85 per cent. lead. On the strength of this rosy estimate, Mr. Hall advanced $500 toward the operations, Mr. Dixon acted in a secretarial capacity, incidentally providing $100, and Mr. Kearns contributed his labour and experience.

When the operations failed to produce the rosy results of Mr. Kearns' vision, and the flowing vein proved to be a "myth" as Mr. Hall termed it, the latter decided that he was satisfied that it was useless to proceed further. Accordingly he announced his withdrawal from the company which had been formed, and the option on the property subsequently lapsed. In that act, the plaintiff claims that Mr. Hall broke an agreement and as a result the option passed out of Mr. Kearns' hands to the owner, Mr. Flaherty. Mr. Hall denied that he had undertaken to finance unlimited operations, to spend his own or any other person's money on fruitless work, and contended that he had simply paid the installment on the option which was assumed by the company in which Mr. Kearns, Mr. Dixon and himself, each held one-third shares.

Assay was Attractive.

Mr. Kearns called first, said he was a miner and prospector. He had become interested in a property in Galway township, secured samples of minerals, which assayed so high that he immediately became interested in this prospect "The owner, Mr. Flaherty, and I had certain arrangements, but we did not agree. It ended in a lawsuit. Then Mr. Hall came on the scene."

The plaintiff stated that galena lead was one of the minerals that he found.

"I showed Mr. Hall some of it and I told him I claimed two-thirds of the property, and had a lawsuit to compel Flaherty to carry out his agreement. I said I wanted someone to finance the work of getting out the mineral in case we settled the action. The writ against Flaherty was issued by Mr. A. E. Dixon, my solicitor. I was to do the work, Mr. Dixon look after the office details, and Mr. Hall was to finance it. Mr. Hall was to be paid back his money from the output of the product, and then get one-third, Mr. Dixon one-third, and I was to get the remaining one-third, and my wages.

"In November, 1916, the lawsuit with Mr. Flaherty was settled."

He agreed to give an option to purchase the property upon the terms set out.

Mr. Bagley produced the written option which plaintiff said he didn't remember having seen. By its provisions, Flaherty agreed to sell 25 acres for $2,000 to the Milburn Cobalt Silver Mines Ltd.

Mr. Kearns stated that Mr. Hall had told him that he practically owned this company, which had been dormant for some time. Kearns finally agreed to this offer and Mr. Hall paid the first $250 to Flaherty.

Plaintiff then proceeded to Galway and began work on a vein of galena and barite. It was 22 inches wide, and was uncovered for a distance of 100 feet.

"Mr. Hall came up in December 15 The men were working down in the vein at the time. He said that the work was going too slow, and that he would go to Toronto and get an air compressor and pump from the A. R. Williams Co.

"At Christmas time we couldn't do any blasting because the dynamite was no good. It would not go off."

Mr. Kearns stated that Mr. Hall had urged a "cross-cutting" of the vein for discovery purposes, and this work had proved slow. He himself had objected, contending that the vein in sight should be followed as long as it was producing.

Mr. Bagley—Did you go on with any more mining?

Mr. Kearns—Nothing more. Mr. Hall shut it down. The option died when it was not renewed.

Talked of Selling.

"Was there any talk of selling?"

"Yes. When I was in Peterboro on December 9, 1916, I told Mr. Hall and Mr. Dixon that I had a party who was anxious to buy this mine. We valued it at $100,000, which we were to divide equally between the three of us."

Plaintiff told of the arrival in Peterboro of the prospective buyers from Buffalo. It was on February 3rd, 1917, and a heavy snow storm fell. The 44-mile trip to Galway was out of the question and the buyers went home with expectations of coming back in the spring.

"Who was to pay for the option?"

"Mr. Hall. If I had had the money I wouldn't have gone to him."

Mr. Kearns enumerated the mining tools which he had owned and taken up to work at the mine, incidentally avoiding the expense of buying new equipment. He estimated their value at $115.

Mr. Bagley—"What became of them?"

Mr. Kearns—"They were sold or given away by Mr. Hall's orders."

"How do you know that?"

"I went up there for a load and when I got there, there wasn't a spool of thread. They sold even the bed I slept on. There was nothing left but the box of bad dynamite."

Mr. A. E. Dixon.

Mr. Dixon related this morning some of his experiences in promoting the Galway mine. Mr. Hall had said that he was willing to gamble $500 on it.

Mr. Gordon—It was considered a gamble, then?

Mr. Dixon—It was a prospect. It's nothing more than that now.

Mr. Dixon stated that Mr. Kearns was present when the draft option was drawn up. In the first bright outlook it was expected that the mine would soon be producing enough lead for a shipment. Mr. Hall agreed to pay for the option and the costs of the settlement of Kearns' case with Flaherty. Under the working arrangements Mr. Hall was to provide the money, Mr. Kearns the labour, and Mr. Dixon was to perform the office work. He also advanced Kearns $100. When the mining company was formed, Mr. Kearns was present and heard the dictation of the allotment of the stock. Five thousand shares were designated to each of the three members.

Mr. Dixon said that the operation of the mine was assumed by the company in which all three men were interested alike. After Christmts Mr. Hall announced that he was through with the whole affair and would advance no more money. The work had gone altogether too slowly.

Was Highly Recommended.

Mr. R. R. Hall said that he first heard of the mine in Oct., 1916. "Mr. Kearns told me he had discovered a very valuable vein assaying 85 per cent. lead. He induced me to go to Galway. I saw a hole there, and evidences of lead, and under Mr. Kearns' assurances I thought it was worth while looking into. I was willing to spend $500 in examining the property to find out whether there was a mine there or not."

Mr. Dixon was solicitor for Mr. Kearns. In the first negotiations they suggested that Flaherty's option be taken in Mr. Kearns name. Mr. Hall objected, and they then suggested his name. Mr. Hall preferred to have the option taken in the name of the Milburn Cobalt Silver Mines Ltd., because he had the charter and it would obviate the securing of a new one.

"At different times" Mr. Hall said, "Mr. Kearns met me and told of iron and other mines that he had as prospects."

Mr. Gordon—He was a mine hunter.

Mr. Hall, continuing—I was impressed by his statement that the Galway vein assayed 85 per cent. I relied on what he told me. Both Mr. Dixon and Mr. Kearns were very optimistic. They talked of getting out ore and shipping it to Kingston for $2,000 a car. That was their idea. That was not my opinion. I didn't think it was possible. That was the reason why I said I was willing to gamble $500 to investigate the value of the property.

"I had no agreement with Mr. Kearns to finance the company. All I did was to advance money to it, but I never had any intention of financing the scheme."

Cost Him $1,000.

Mr. Hall remarked that Kearns had incurred debts without apprising him.

"I was so ashamed of the way things were going that I paid all these expenses. It cost me about $1,000. When I went up in December I looked for the 22-inch vein. It was a myth. I don't say that Mr. Kearns falsely reported the value of the property, but it certainly was misrepresented. I asked him to show me where the vein was, but he could not. It wasn't there and never was there."

Mr. Hall explained that there were streaks in the rock that indicated that there might be a vein nearby. The cross-cutting of the trench was undertaken as an effort to discover such a vein. Mr. Edward Wade, who had been the foreman of the work had said that the findings of lead were more like a shower of meteorites than anything he could think of.

"There are indications of lead all through the township. I believe there are two or three mines, but none has ever been a successful venture. There may be lead there."

On December 23rd, Mr. Hall informed Mr. Kearns in Peterborough, that he would not advance another dollar. He paid Wade and other workmen, and gave Kearns five dollars on his allusion to the near approach of Christmas finding him short of money.

"Mr. Kearns never made a demand on me for money," Mr. Hall pointed out. "And no arrangements had been made for other instalments."

Equipment Sold.

The equipment and goods at the camp had been sold to William Dennis, one of the employees. They were not worth hauling to Peterborough, and were sold on the authority of both Mr. Hall and Mr. Kearns. They brought $65. Before the work was begun Mr. Kearns bought goods from T. Kinnear Co., the Wm. Hamilton Co. and other firms.

"I had supposed that it would not cost me more than $200 or $300 to investigate this prospect, and I had expected that some judgement would be used in the expenditure of money. I came to the conclusion that there was no vein there at all, that it was simply a pocket or two. I should have been only too glad to have spent more money if there had been anything to warrant it. If the lead had been there the "mine" would have been all right. From Mr. Kearns and Mr. Wade I learned exactly what the property was like, and it was so discouraging that I told Mr. Kearns I would not put another dollar into it."

Spring Suits That Foreshadow the Coming Modes

Simple of Line, But With Certain Gay and Charming Innovations that Make Them Extremely Captivating

They are tailored—but with a difference—tailored after the men's styles that prevailed more than a hundred years ago, these suits of the new silhouette. Plain little coats in box style, rippling or belted, often as not with vests and skirts that are plainer even than the coats. Long tapering collars, vests, cut away fronts, tight sleeves, immense pocket flaps, or little slash pockets inserted in seams or panels, all help to give this air of manishness, which is so chic and picturesque. We invite your inspection of the Spring Garments. See the special window display.

Very typical is a model of navy serge, made with deep roll collar, white corded silk vest and trims of black silk braid to form narrow panels down back and sides. The skirt is plain, tailored perfectly and has slashed pockets. The price—

Victory Tea at George Street Methodist Church Was a Success

Ministers of the City Provided An Excellent Programme—The Soldiers Associated With George Street.

Last night at the George street Methodist church a record gathering patronized the "Victory Tea," given in honour of the returned soldiers of the church. The crowd that awaited its turn to sit at a table in the Sunday school room filled both stairways, the hall near the front door, and part of the church. The tables seated 225 persons, and there were three full sittings, and part of another. It was a big task for the ladies, but everything passed off successfully. About 800 persons were served with supper. About 100 of these were the returned soldiers and their friends. In every way the "Victory Tea" was a great success. The ladies of the city are taking the leading part in trying to render the returned soldiers the respect and tribute they deserve, and which they are not always getting in the way they should from those who remained at home.

About $225 was realized from the "Tea" and "Preacher's Concert."

The concert was one of the best that the citizens of Peterboro have had the opportunity of hearing for some time.

If any one that attended the concert had the idea that the preachers of this city and the surrounding district, were a group of long-faced and solemn men ,they certainly had their minds changed last night. Nearly every number was encored, although some of the preachers were a little bashful in rendering an encore. They always said that a better number was coming—and it always came, or at least there was no end to the amusing readings and to the solos, quartettes and choruses.

Special mention might be made of the Rev. Mr. Galt of Gilmour, who delivered an amusing address . Mr. Galt has the happy faculty of keeping an audience smiling.

The chairman of the evening was the Rev. Mr. Greatrix. He always had a joke ready for the audience between numbers but somehow he had the denominations of the ministers a little mixed.

After the progarmme was finished Mr. Ingall, of the Normal School staff, moved a vote of thanks to the ladies who furnished the "Tea," and to the preachers who rendered such a good programme, and to those who patronized the Tea and Concert. All clapped very enthusiastically to show their appreciation.

LARGE RELIEF EXPEDITION OFF FOR NEAR EAST

New York, Feb 19.—When the giant Leviathan left her slip at the army piers in Hoboken here, Tuesday, she had among her passengers for Brest the fifth relief expedition for Armenia and Syria that has left New York within the last month.

The expedition when it reaches Brest will be transferred to another vessel, probably a British transport, to reach Constantinople March 15. The relief contingent that left yesterday was the largest that ever has gone from these shores on a similar mission.

There were 252 members of the expedition on board the Leviathan, among whom were twenty-eight physicians, surgeons and specialists, and 55 nurses and reconstruction aids.

School teachers, lecturers, farming experts, stenographers and even truck drivers were others listed by the committee. The total membership of yesterday's expedition was made up of sixty-seven men and one hundred and eighty women.

As the Leviathan was about to leave a cable message was received from President Wilson that he had authorized the use of an army transport. It was decided, however, as a change in arrangements would entail much loss of valuable time, to have the expedition leave on the Leviathan as scheduled.

Abram I. Elkus, formerly United States Ambassador to Turkey, delivered an aduress in the saloon of the Leviathan before she left in which he laid stress on the building up of the morale in Armenia and Syria lest they should fall victims to dangerous social doctrines.

Mr. George E. White, formerly president of the Moravian College, Armenia, also made an address. He told of young women in the college being made prisoners in harems and urged that an effort be made to rescue them.

He told how the Turks and Kurds before he left Marsovan, dug a long, deep trench on the outskirts of the city to which they drove 1,200 Armenian men and women to the slaughter like cattle. All the victims, he said, were forced to the edge of the pit and thrown into it after being clubbed or shot to death. Repetition of such crimes, he believed, was now impossible. Dr. White heads the present expedition.

CROPS WORTH $38,085 SAVED FROM PRAIRIE DOGS

Denver, Col.—More than 50,000 acres of farm land badly infested by prairie dogs was a condition that the Huerfano County Farm Bureau started out to change. With the co-operation of all agencies it is estimated that crops worth $38,085 were saved during the 1918 season. From 85 to 97 per cent of the pests were killed on the areas treated. Poisoned grain was placed on 50,780 privately owned acres by 300 co-operators at a cost of $854.20, and 11,130 acres of public lands were treated with poisoned grain by individuals who killed 90 per cent. of the dogs and saved crop and range pasturage valued at $2,782. A co-operative field party treated 27,225 acres of public lands, using 9,040 quarts of poisoned grain, killing 95 per cent. of the dogs and saving crop and range valued at $6,806.

Story of a Canadian's Experiences at Cologne

Officer Has Distressing Stories to Tell of Huns' Cruel Nature—Belgians Were Kind.

"The Germans are a cringing, cowardly set, like all bullies," writes a Montreal officer from Cologne, where he is stationed with the British staff. "They cannot do enough to be friendly towards us, but it is all a bluff so far as I can see here. They are afraid of the peace terms and are willing to swallow temporarily huge gulps of democracy, in order to make us think they have changed. But it is all humbug. The place is covered with pictures and statues of the Kaiser and his miserable kids; and the people are not taking down any of the emblems of royalty with which the whole place is plastered, but are buying plentifully of picture postcards of the ex-royal family.

"We had a great time on the way here through Belgium—twenty miles march a day for three days, then a day's march! That's jolly stiff going." We were marching with a heavy artillery brigade, and they are all on lorries, so our poor foot-sloggers had a hard time keeping up. Imagine an apparently never-ending column of infantry, artillery, heavy guns drawn by lorries and caterpillars, engineers, etc., all streaming slowly eastwards like some huge serpent. And such a turn out!

Triumphal March.

"The men knew they were on a triumphal march, and acted accordingly, for every buckle was shining, every man clean, erect and healthy, the carts newly painted, and the bands at the head playing all the time. For a hundred miles every road was full, and so huge was our army that it took two weeks to pass a given point. The Belgian people spent the two weeks lining the roads. You should have heard them compare our army with the horde of broken Boche soldiers that had swept past in headlong retreat, abandoning guns and waggons, pushing along carts loaded with food and loot like a horde of gypsies.

"Everywhere the Hun requisitioned wine and copper, and the people went to extraordinary lengths to try to prevent his getting them. The favourite thing was to brick up the end of a room, making a false wall, hide their treasures behind it and fill the hole with sand so that it would not sound hollow. All gardens were searched by means of lances which the Germans poked down into the earth. The day the armistice was declared everybody opened his cachette, and put the copper in the windows for the Hun to see as he went by.

Welcomed The King.

"While I was in Namur, the Belgian King came to town, and he was given an enthusiastic reception, as you may imagine. The people look upon him as a sort of demi-god. They try to touch him as he passes. I went to the cathedral and saw him very close for about ten to fifteen minutes. He is very tall, in fact, was the tallest man there, being half a head taller than the crowd.

"Nothing could exceed the kindness of the Belgian people to us on our way through. They have suffered terribly under Hun rule, but they had tremendous faith in the British all the time. 'You Belgians are very foolish,' the Huns used to tell them. 'You should not continue to resist us in every way, but should make friends with us, for we intend to keep Belgium forever. It is impossible for the Allies to take Belgium.' To which the Belgians invariably replied, 'We intend to resist you until we are dead, and as for winning the war we are quite confident. The British never lose.' A Belgian girl told me that if she had been seen bowing to a German officer on the street, all her friends would have cut her.

Everyone In Prison.

"Everyone in Belgium has been in jail at one time or another. A lady I met told me of how she was sentenced to 200 francs or four days' imprisonment, because she had not registered her dog. She said she would go to prison. Whereupon the Hun replied, 'No, madam, the prison is full, so you will pay the fine or we shall seize your furniture.'

"The Count de Beaufort was fined 25,000 marks because a tree on his estate was blown down in a storm and fell on a Hun telegraph route, cutting the wires. Little boys were sent to the penitentiary for calling a Hun a Boche. All civilians were forbidden to eat butter, as all butter had to be reserved for the army. The people used therefore to go out into the country and buy butter and conceal it on their persons. To stop this the Boche had police on the cars. If they suspected someone they would take her into the nearest police station and strip her. The stripping was done by Landsturm soldiers, not by women, and ladies of the best families had to submit to this treatment. Before butter was forbidden, it was very scarce, but the Belgians had a brilliant idea to make it go farther. They used to blow water into it until it was almost an elumsion. A pound of butter thus became two or three pounds! The bread was pretty bad, and bacon and cheese were unknown.

Digging Graves.

"Of course I heard a great deal about the atrocities at the beginning of the war. What annoyed the people was that they were not allowed to mark the graves of the victims in any way. No crosses nor tombstones were permitted. In one town the Hun made a manure dump of a place were 60 people were buried. When we passed through they were just erecting crosses and getting the place cleaned up after four years.

"I must say that what impressed me most was the wonderful endurance and faith in final victory that the people kept up for so long. They resisted the Hun to the utmost. Take the example of a prominent man of Namur, who owned some fine race horses. When the Boche arrived he put a guard on them. Then the colonel said to him, 'I will give you 5,000 marks for that horse. If you don't take it I shall requisition him, and you will get nothing.' The Belgian asked me what I should have done, anad I rashly declared that I should have made the best of a bad job and sold the horse. The Belgian, however, refused to sell, and the horse was requisitioned. His reasons were, first, that if he sold him he would have had to hand over the pedigree, which he had concealed. Second, to sell is to enter into an agreement, and he would not come to any agreement with a Hun."

Letter From a Peterboro Soldier Now in Siberia

Armament Frank Nelson describes his trip to Siberia in an interesting letter to his sister, Miss Almina Nelson, 364 Smith street. Armament Nelson went to Russia with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, leaving Canada the day after Christmas, on the S. S. "Protesitaus." A letter written on the 12th of January, still finds him at sea. He refers to the death of Rifleman Butler, who was killed during a storm, of which there were many during the long voyage. In one of these storms the ship suffered considerable damage, including the loss of a propellor. The food was not up to the standard but improved during the latter stage of the journey. Only fourteen wash basins were provided for the use of over two thousand men.

Armament Nelson has crossed the ocean three times. He went over to France in 1915 with the 2nd Pioneers, and was wounded in 1916. He returned to Canada last Thanksgiving and volunteered for service in Siberia.

Re-establishment In Peterboro

Local Situation Formed Subject of Conference Held Yesterday Afternoon.

Major A. S. Hamilton, Special Representative of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishemnt Department, talked to some of the business men of the city at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the City Council Chamber. Mayor Duncan was chairman and in the audience were Adjutant A. Buntin of the Salvation Army, Ald. Garside, Ald. Gainey, Ald. Turner, Ald. Edgar, Secretary Whatley of the G.W.V.A., Mr. J. W. Fraser of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Mr. C. A. Gillespie, M.P.P., Mr. R. Turner, Pres. Morrison of the G.W.V.A., Ex-Ald. F. H. Dobbin and Mr. A. H Stratton

Major Hamilton gave some figures which illustrated the work his department has already accomplished. He said that 11,187 returned soldiers had already been employed by the T. Eaton Company and that if men who were accustomed to lead an out-door life would work in a city like Toronto, they would work almost any place. He advocated placing returned soldiers in the places of aliens who had held safe jobs while the war was in progress.

Definite Plan

He showed that there was danger in doing this without some definite plan. He illustrated his point by telling how, in Niagara Falls, a run was made on the bank when they heard that they were going to be discriminated against. One foreigner drew $10,000 from the bank but nothing could be done, the money was this, although it was well known that the money was going to be taken out of the country. Thousands upon thousands of dollars were taken out of that bank that day. The least amount that a foreigner drew was $1,500. They are able to save this money because of their frugal living conditions.

Although the manufacturing firms promised the old jobs to the soldiers when they came back, they didn't do it," said the speaker.

"Why didn't they get them?" asked a member of the Trades and Labor Council.

"Because there is no work for them to do. We are all slack," promptly returned a prominent manufacturer.

"Put them on a six hour day," said Major Hamilton, which seemed to meet with the approbation of most of those present. Putting men on the farms instead of crowding them in the cities was referred to by the speaker. Although some of the returned men were ready to go on the land the life on the land did not appeal to most of them. Getting up in the morning when most of the city people were going to bed did not suit them especially after soldiering. Then the wages were small and some farmers even refused to pay $40 a month which is the very least that a man can expect these days.

Soldier Testifies for O'Leary as His Defence Is Begun

Sergeant O'Neill Admits That He, Too, Disliked the "British Red Coats."

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. — Jeremiah A. O'Leary began his defence at his trial in the Federal Court on an indictment charging violating of the espionage law through articles published in his magazzine, Bull. The session was devoted to the opening address of Thomas B. Felder, his counsel. Mr. Felder declared Mme. Maria K. D. Victorica, alleged head of a German spy system in the United States during hostilities, and who was called as a government witness, was a "dope fiend," and entirely undependable.

"Did you notice her Parisian gown?" inquired Mr. Felder of the jury. "She, a self-confessed German spy, was kept by government to testify against an innocent American. Why, Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like she was the other day."

Mr. Felder denounced as false the testimony of Mrs. Manuel Gonzales, wife of a one-time consul general to this city from Costa-Rica, who swore she attended a secret meeting of Sinn Fein sympathizers, at No. 715 Lexington avenue, in July, 1917, at which O'Leary, she said, advocated resistance of the draft.

The actual presentation of testimony to offset the government's case began at the afternoon session. Mrs. Frances Brannigan, mother of a soldier in the "old Sixty-ninth," was one of the first of that unit killed in action in France, was first called. She said she attended the meeting at No. 715 Lexington avenue; that there was no guard of men at the door, and there was no secrecy. The door leading to the meeting hall was open, she declared.

She did not remember having heard anything at the meeting about opposition to the draft, nor could she recall a statement attributed to Jeremiah O'Leary by Mrs. Gonzales, in which he was alleged to have declared that the United States government was subservient to the King of England.

George Francis O'Neill, sergeant of a machine gun detachment in the army, testified he attended many of the meetings at which O'Leary spoke before and after the United States entered the war. He was questioned by the defendant, and declared he never heard O'Leary make a remark that would have caused a feeling of mutiny among soldiers.

The witness said that the speeches at all the meetings he attended were to help the cause of Irish freedom and denunciation of England.

James W. Osborne 2d, Assistant United States Attorney, read an article published by O'Leary in Bull, in which he declared that rather than fight side by side with British "Red Coats" he would walk into a volley of Germany bullets, and asked the witness if he felt the same way about the matter.

"If I had been placed in such a position, Mr. Osborne, that's about the way I would have felt," replied the soldier.

The trial was adjourned until Monday morning.

Pittsburg Banker Is Arrested for $250,000 Shortage

J. F. SWARTZ TRIES TO END LIFE IN HOME—PARK BANK IS CLOSED

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 19.—With the arrest of J. F. Swartz, cashier, charged with embezzling $250,000 of its funds, the Park Bank, one of the leading financial institutions of the east end has been closed. It was announced that D. G. Camerson, State Bank Examiner, had been appointed receiver. The bank's statement on Jan 1, showed deposits of $2,235,859.

According to the police, Swartz attempted to commit suicide soon before officers arrived at his home in a fashionable residence section of the city. The officers were kept waiting several hours until he regained consciousness before the warrant, charging defalcation, was served. He was reported in a serious condition in his home under police guard.

The bank, which was regarded as one of the strongest in the city, was closed by order of the State Banking Department. A statement issued by E. C. Chalfant, president, said the amount missing comprised between $70,000 and $80,000 in cash and $170,000 in authorized notes. He said there would be little loss to depositors.

Mr. Camerson issued a statement declaring that investigation so far had revealed no wrongdoing by the bank's directors.

TIRED AND DISCOURAGED

Mrs. Warren Handlen, Hothesay, Kings County, N.B., "I have three small children and had to stay in the house all winter. So when spring came I was all run down doing all my work and looking after the children. I felt all tired out, and looked on the gloomy side all the time. I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and the results were most noticeable. I took one now, and am recommending Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to others."

Russian Troubles Due to Casualties Suffered in Army

Prof. Pares, Official Eye-Witness, Tells How Terribly Troops Were Decimated Owing to Lack of Munitions—Spies Caused Tanneberg Disaster

All the troubles in Russia are, without question, due to the war casualties, said Prof. Bernard Pares, official eye-witness on the western front for the British War Office to a representative of The Star, recently. "In order to give a complete understanding of what I mean, I will cite a few details.

"After ten months of fighting, I received from the Russian War Office official figures of casualties which included 3,800,000. Now that is a stupendous figure. I am sure that this is an under statement, because I went through the Galician rout, and the average companies of the different units which I visited, which had been 250 at full strength, were reduced to 40 men each or a loss of five-sixths of their total number. Therefore, I have reason to believe that the casualties were a great deal heavier than announced.

"It was from the figures sent in from the Galician rout that the casualties were compiled. Regarding the division with which I was in May, 1915, the division that was the first to be smashed, I will give you four figures with regard to four regiments. A regiment in Russia is composed of four battalians, each of 4,000 men. In eight days' fighting, the four battalions were reduced from 4,000 men each to 140, 142, 124 and 72. The third Caucasian division came to our help 40,000 strong and I visited them in the front line.

Fearfully Decimated.

"Their orders were to go straight in beyond and capture the German guns without any artillery support. The Germans opposite had 400 guns, 240 heavies and 160 light, we had 46 light guns. The Caucasians in the course of eight days' fighting were reduced from 40,000 strong to 8,000. Then they covered the retreat over the River San and were reduced to 6,000. They then turned about and attacked and captured 7,000 persons without the assistance of artillery. They were turned on both flanks because these other divisions had been annihilated.

"The general in command, General Remonov, said to me, 'The proper reply for me is to counter-attack, but I have no cartridges.' I say him turn round and pick up a few scattered cartridges on the ground nearby and reprimand the soldiers for not being more careful of them. He threatened to punish any soldier who wasted cartridges.

"A little later in the same retreat, some of the corps were entirely without cartridges. One night a Russian division went across without cartridges, and with fixed bayonets and captured two Austrian divisions at their points. I have seen soldiers on many occasions come up without rifles, and they would only get rifles when their comrades were killed or wounded. When they did get the rifles, they very often did not know how to use them nor how to take cover. A peasant describing the death of his brother to me said, "Oh, they just sent him up like a sheep to be killed."

Losses Bravely Met.

"These losses were met with the very greatest bravery on the part of the men. No Man's Land was always in the possession of the Russians, by that I mean that the Germans never ventured into it. The Germans never did anything without artillery. When the sun went down at night I have often heard a Russian officer shouting across to the enemy, It is getting dark brother, meaning 'Our time has come.' The soldiers at this time did not complain and they should have. Had they complained, perhaps there would not now be the chaotic condition in Russia which at present exists. Their letters were, however, full of the word 'vexation,' particularly, because, they felt that they were being beaten by inferior men simply by weight of metal.

"One soldier said to me, 'To tell the truth sir, we have only one weapon to fight with, and that is the soldier's breast.' Another officer apologized to me for the small number of men left in his unit saying, 'After a fight sir, there are not a great many of us left.'

A National Army.

"The soldiers at this time should have turned about and demanded better conditions. The officers and men shared alike in the front line and the army lost more and more its official character and became more and more national in its character. Discipline did not break down, because it was too strict, but because it was too weak. This was inevitable, as the officers suffered in about double the proportion to the men. I can vouch for all these statements, for I have been there for months and know conditions.

"After the Japanese war and after the first Russian revolution, 1905-07, the Duma under the leadership of Mr. Guchkov considered it a patriotic duty to restore the army, which could only be done by making it national. The war ministry at that time was under General Sukhomlinov. The attitude of the Duma was, If you support us, we will double your credits, if you do not we will refuse them.' Guchkov was himself chairman of the Duma's committee of Imperial Defence and he had the confidence of all the best officers of the army.

"Then he suddenly discovered that a certain Colonel Myasoyd Myasoyedov, who was practically the head of the Russian Intelligence Department, was a German spy. Myasoyedov as a spy and Myasoyedov went when he was head of the customs at Weirballen, and he was also strong in court with the Empress. The Novoe Vremya denounced Myasoyekov then wrote a letter to the same and complained to the editor and was promptly kicked down stairs. Guchkov then wrote a letter to the same paper denouncing this man as a spy. In turn Myasoyedov challenged Guchkov to a duel. Guchkov allowed the German spy to fire and on missing, he then fired his pistol in the air and walked off without shaking hands. German activities were therefore well known and recognized in Russia before the war began.

Distaste For War.

"At the beginning of the war the Duma, which was entirely against Germany, worked for the re-organization of the army and many of its best men went to the front. The ministry of war was still under General Suqhomlinov and he and several others made little secret of their distaste for the war. Half of the ministry, like nearly all of the nation, was strongly in favour of the Allies. Very often the regiments were sent into battle under fires from both machine gun and artillery without rifles, and the artillery of the Russian forces was ordered not to fire more than two rounds a day. Guchkov returned from the front and attempted to make Sukhomlinov take some steps to bring about better conditions at the front. He attempted to stir up the other ministers in the matter. Nothing was done. It was then that he publicly denounced Sukhomlinov, which brought about his dismissal.

"Before this, the Russians had entered East Prussia under the leadership of Gen. Samsanov, a most able and distinguished general. He was badly let down by his colleagues, with the result that at Tanneberg the Russians last about 250,000 men, in fact a whole army, and lost so much artillery that for the time all batteries in the army were reduced from six to four guns. It was then found that the plans at Tenneberg had been handed over to the Germans by Myasoyedov. This man was tried and hanged. Before his execution he defended himself by saying that he was quite right in divulging these plans in order to save the Russian autocracy, and to do it by means of the Germans was the only hope.

Costly In Men.

An earnest effort was undertaken by the Allies to secure munitions for the Russian soldiers. Lloyd George took a most energetic part in this work, and also Lord Kitchener, who was on his way to Russia to help in this matter when he was drowned.

"The result of the situation then was that Russia was paying for every success in men for all that she lacked in munitions. It may be described in the way of a sum: Which would happen first—would the Germans succeed in destroying the Russian army wholesale before the Allies and the real patriots of the country could succeed in getting munitions to them?

"In the spring of 1916 I was at an offensive. We had now no munitions to attack with, so the attack was all converged at a given point and the other portions of the army was starved for the time being. We had carried on the operation for a month, and had suffered very heavily in men and had won a depth of one mile and a half. The operation was then closed, and all our heavy artillery and aeroplanes were removed at once. In the operations we had lost about 50 per cent. On the day that the operation closed the Germans fell upon us with infinitely superior equipment and in one day we lost 75 per cent., the regiments in the meantime having been brought up to full strength.

"I will give you in detail this day's fighting as I checked it by the statement I took from every colonel of every regiment in the offensive. I do this because it will show how the Germans had reducde to a science the pounding of human flesh (Russian), without any loss to themselves.

Terrible Slaughter.

"Knowing we had nothing (for they knew everything), they brought their heavy artillery up to within a mile and one-half and their field artillery they put in their trenches. They then bombarded our weak entrenchments at a range of 400 yards. They were also well supplied with machine guns, bomb throwers, etc. They opened fire at 4:30 a.m. (Easter week). After one hour by the clock they stopped for five minutes. A few of them showed themselves and at the first rifle shot from our trenches they took to cover. Then they gave us another hour. This was done five times, and ultimately they had nothing left against them. Every battalion in our front line, each with a strength of 1,000 men, was reduced to 90 men.

"They then came up to our trenches with their rifles slung on their backs, for they knew there was not one left to make a resistance. They advanced two and one-half miles and were then met by two new Russian regiments. They did not attempt to attack these regiments, but retired until they had them well within the range of their artillery and outflanked by their machine guns, and then proceeded to mow them down. Thus the process was repeated.

"I examined a German prisoner taken at that time and I asked him: 'Of what are you afraid?' and he replied: 'Only artillery.' I asked him: 'Where?' and he replied: 'Only on the western front.' I asked him: 'Why?' and he replied. 'Because there it is two-sided.'

Four Days' Action.

"In the autumn of the same year I was present in an action lasting four days. We surprised the Germans, broke their line, and had the best of the engagement, but we lost 75 per cent. The Russian Red Cross, to which I was attached, was short of material, of transport and hospital equipment. When the war started, there was hardly any iodine in the country. The patients, on account of rather primitive methods went through a great deal of suffering in spite of the skill of Russian surgeons. I have seen a friend of mine, a South African surgeon, daily attending to 600 cases for four days; he had no dresser and no stretchers, and only half of his patients could be cared for and the rest were lying out on the sodden ground. Many of these died in the night because of lack of attention. The transport conditions were impossible.

"As a result of these conditions, there were innumerable cases of gangrene. At one point at the front we were 25 mils from the nearest railhead, and that of the most elementary kind. Thus innumerable cases, before reaching the railhead, were so bad that they could not be saved. It is estimated that the Russian Red Cross patched up for further service 40 per cent. less than did the Germans. I say this on the evidence of all that I saw, and all this suffering was gone through under intoderable conditions through patriotism to the Allies.

"Shortly before the revolution came, the average unit that I visited (and I always asked this question) had been entirely renewed from eight to ten times since going into the field. It was thus that the 9th and 10th Russian armies were incapable of doing any fighting, because they were defeated in the rear, before they met the foe in the front, by the German intrigues."

WOMEN'S 37,000 HUTS.

Splendid Work of British Girl Carpenters in France.

LONDON, Feb. 19. — No fewer than 37,000 huts—divided into 22,000 of the Nessin pattern and 15,000 of the Tarrant portable type—were made by the women carpenters who have just arrived home after working for two years in France, says W. G. Tarrant of Byfleet, head of the firm of government contractors which was responsible for the women taking up the work.

The 37,000 huts, if placed end to end, would reach over 300 miles. In one week the women used 30,000 lbs. weight of nails, though the average weight was about 23,000 lbs. The women had certainly "done their bit."

As the result of collections at church services on Sundays the girls sent $500 to St. Dunstan's hostel.

Man Rescued From 100 Enraged Women Is Sent to Jail

Attacks Boys in his Apartment Carries One Down Fire Ladder In Trying to Escape.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Harry V. King, twenty-four years old, of No. 101 West Ninety-seventh street, was sentenced to six months in jail on a charge of disorderly conduct after he had been rescued by the police from a crowd of enraged women armed with hat pins. The women were bet on inflicting series of punishment on the man for his attack on two small boys in his apartment

The boys were Robert O'Connor, four and a half years old, of No. 764 Columbus avenue, and John Doran, six years old, of the same address. According to the testimony of witnesses in the West Side Court, the boys were lured into King's apartment on the fourth floor, by promises of candy and a present of ten cents each.

The O'Connor boy said that after they entered the apartment Doran was locked in a room to himself. Then he (O'Connor) was attacked and beaten by the man.

Voice of The People

Editor, Examiner:

Sir,— There is quite a controversy going on in the papers about the daylight savings bill. A good many of the papers outside of the agricultural papers, favour the bill, on the ground that it gives the city people more time for recreation, or time to work in their gardens (take notice, work in their gardens.) Now, outside of a few labouring men, who may have done some hoeing, the great majority were playing golf, boating or joy-riding with their car. Now, this is the whole excuse in a nut shell. Now, how about the farmers' side of the question? Anybody who has ever worked on a farm knows that in the harvest time it is always near the middle of the forenoon before the dew is off so the machines will work, and they also know that from 5 o'clock until sundown is the most pleasant time of the day to work. A man will do as much work in one hour as he would in two in the heat of the day. Of course, the man who has no help to hire need not care so much. It is the man who has to hire his help that has the trouble. I know farmers who tried it for a short time only and went back to the old time. Imagine farmers having to get up at break of day in summer time to milk cows, after being kept awake all night with noise of auto cars and howling crowds on the roads. The majority of these people do not have to get out of their beds until 7 or 8 o'clock. It appears that when some men get to be members of parliament they always want to be doing something big. They even think that anything God has made they have a right to pull to pieces and try to improve on it. We have too many old dotes in parliament at present holding office who are totally unfit for the job. We even have them in this city, hanging on to their job like a pup to a root, or as long as they are allowed to stay on top of the earth.

Mr. Farmer, hire your help on the understanding to go by the old time set your clocks by Eaton's time and let old George Foster and his crazy notions go to the devil. Get together, farmers, pick out your men for next election. Let them see we will stand for our rights; let them see we are alive; cut out politics.

R. N. SCOTT.

SHORTAGE OF NEEDLES.

Scarcity Has Caused Price to Jump From 85c. to $4 Per 1,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—There is a scarcity of needles in the world, and the price of certain kinds of them, from the manufacturer to the jobbers, has jumped from 85 cents to $4 a thousand, according to N. W. Maisig, who celebrated his eighty-first birthday the other day in San Francisco, and who has been a salesman for sixty-one years in the United States for an English needle manufacturing corporation.

"I have sold, since I first entered the needle selling trade, sixty-nine years ago, not less than 4,500,000,000 needles," said Maisig.

"In 1917 and 1918 the number I sold dropped to below 4,000,000,000 a year. Lack of steel and war work caused the falling off. A revival of the trade is soon coming, however."

The veteran needle man says the Japanese have entered the market with needles at $2 a thousand. He classes them as inferior in make and says they are a cheap article, as was the German needle before the war.

How to Kill Dandruff So It Won't Return

By a Specialist

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many other disease as well, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which a famous scalp specialist states he has found after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germs in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair-growth after years of partial baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you: 6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger tips. While this preparation is not a dye it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original colour.

City Championship Games Will Be Real Battle

The prospects of keen ice for to-morrow night's game between the Peterborough intermediates and juniors for the city championship are pleasing to the fans, who appreciate the fact that both teams are at their best when the ice conditions are fast. The juniors had a lively practice last night, and believe that with Murray in the nets for them, they can just about tuck the intermediates away. The latter have a different opinion about that, however, and will undertake to show the youngsters that they still have a lot to learn about the game. The fans are about equally divided as to the probable winner of the battle, and there is considerable interest in the game, which will start sharp at 8.15 o'clock. The teams will be as follows:

Intermediates — Legros, Schultz, Lowes, Rose, Halpin, Evans, Jackson, Kenneally.

$16,000 ELOPERS BACK IN BROOKLYN YOUTHS LOCKED UP

New York, Feb. 19.—Glad to get back to Brooklyn and unabashed by of the $16,000 taken from the office of o fthe $16,000 taken from the office of A. M. Endner, wealthy spar maker, of No. 347 Fourteenth street, Brooklyn, Miss Bessie Endner, his sixteen-year-old daughter, William Johnson, her sweetheart, seventeen, of No. 427 Seventh avenue, Brooklyn, and William Sutton, their friend, also seventeen, of No. 441 Thirteenth street, Brooklyn, were returned to that borough from Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

They were arraigned before Magistrate O'Neil, in the Fifth Avenue Court, waived examination and were held for the Grand Jury. The charge against the girl was burglary. Bail was fixed at $3,500, which her father furnished. The two boys were accused of burglary and abduction. Each was held in $5,000 bail on the burglary charge and in $1,000 bail on the abduction charge. A more serious complaint was made against Johnson, on which he was held in $1,000 additional bail.

The three youngsters were in expensive clothes and the girl wore a sealskin coat valued at $300. Part of the money they took had been spent for fine clothes, they admitted.

End of Two Weeks' Excursion

The legal proceedings and the incarceration of the two boys in Raymond street jail ended what had been a glorious time for them since the night of February 4. On that night, the girl told Detective Frank Carberry, of the Hamilton avenue station, who, with Detective Croak, brought them back from Poughkeepsie, the three met and went to her father's spar yard at the foot of Board street, Brooklyn.

Sutton climbed the fence and cut a hole admitting the others, she said. In the affidavit which Detective Croak submitted in court the girl continued her story in this way:

"We then broke a window and climbed into the office. I opened a small safe, of which I had the combination, and took from it the keys to the big safe wherethe money was kept. When we opened the big safe we could not get into the money compartment because the key stuck, so one of the boys took an axe and broke it open. We took out the money and left the office the same way we entered."

Miss Endner said she took the money home with her, according to the detectives, and slipped out of the house about half-past three the next morning, meeting the boys. The three went to the Grand Central Terminal and took a train for Albany they said the girl told them. From Albany they returned to New York, and to Philadelphia, where the outfitting was done. Next day they went to Wilmington, Del., for a day, it was said, and from there back to Albany. From the capital they went to Oneonta, N.Y., for a few days, then back again to Albany in an automobile, they bought, and south to Poughkeepsie, where they were arrested on Saturday.

Still Loves William

"I'm glad I was caught. I wanted to go home, but I still love William," the girl told the detectives on the way here.

William Johnson, grandfather of the girl' sweetheart, said last night that she had been infatuated with the boy for a year, and that he advised her to keep away from him about four months ago. His wife also communicated with Mrs. Endner, he said, after which the girl was kept in the house for a month.

Supporting his assertions, Mr. Endner showed five letters which he said he found in his grandson's room after the youth had disappeared. They were signed "Your little wife, Bessie," and were addressed to "Dear Hubby." They had been sent from the Endner summer bungalow at No. 15 Scoville's Walk, Coney Island.

One written August 17, 1918, said: "I just received your welcome letter and was surprised to hear from you. What did you do with the quarter? Did you go to the show? I just wrote a letter to your mother and when she answers I will let you know. * * * I am going to ask you two favors, Dearie, for your mother's sake and mine. Stay away from saloons and—this is for my sake only—stay away from girls."

A letter on May 26 said:—"I am glad you are saving money for our secret, but don't work too hard."

Inspector Tunney Tells of Plot to Kill the Rockefellers

Three Anarchists Perished in Explosion of Bomb They Were Preparing.

WASHINGTON, D.C.,—A plot on the lives of John D. Rockefeller and his son, John D. Rockerfeller, Jr., made by anarchists, in New York, in 1914, soon after the beginning of the European war, was described to the Senate Propaganda Investigating Committee by Thomas L. Tunney, police inspector of New York. He said the plotters were known as Carson, Berg and Hanson, and that all were killed by the explosion of the bomb they had made to kill the Rockefellers.

The police investigation which followed, the inspector said, disclosed that the scheme of the anarchists included the killing of other wealthy persons, and that instructions were to kill all members of the families, including the children.

Inspector Tunney, who was in charge of the bomb and neutrality squad before the United States entered the war, testified that there was vidence of renewed activity of anarchists in the United States. Since the signing of the armistice, he said, evidence had been found that anarchists intended to organize and disseminate propaganda.

Inspector Tunney said that in March 1917 after the United States broke diplomatic relations with Germany Leon Trotzky the Russian Bolshevik leader at a meeting of Russian and German anarchists in New York, urged them to "overthrow this capitalistic government."

15,000 Radicals in New York

Replying to questions from the committee, he said there were 12,000 to 15,000 persons in New York who were classed as radical and a great many others who sympathize with radical ideas. This number includes Russians Spaniards Italians and some Germans, with a few Americans, he said.

The witness told the committee of various bomb plots for which German agents have been convicted including schemes for blowing up ships at sea with cargoes consigned to the allied governments.

Bombs for blowing up munition plants were manufactured on the German ship Frederick der Grosse, according to evidence which Tunney said had been given during the investigation of bomb plots.

Archibald Stevenson, of the military intelligence, told of propandist activities in New York before the United States entered the war. An attempt was made in May, 1915, to establish a daily newspaper in New York in the interests of German propaganda he said, and for that purpose the Printers' and Publishers' Association, Inc., was formed, with Dr. Hugo Sweitzer as president Emil Kipper as vice president, Henry Weisman as secretary and Max W. Stichcr as treasurer. In addition the concern published a long list of prominent men who were classed as "honorary vice presidents and members of the advisory board", whose names were used because of their prominence.

McIntyre Letter Read

At the request of J. J. Dickinson, who testified last week concerning his employment by George Sylvester Viereck in 1916 as Washington representative of the Fatherland, a letter written by Major General Frank McIntyre has been read into the record of the committee. The letter dated June 24, 1918, and addressed to Dickinson, who then was in the army and stationed at San Antonio, Texas, said:—

"I wanted to call your attention to a little matter which has come up here and which I hope that I have put to sleep. You spoke to me before leaving here of the fact that you were being investigated by the Secret Service. It seems that they made a report to the Military Intelligence branch, having discovered that you had been employed to write a weekly letter to Viereck.

"They secured copies of those letters, most of which were signed 'Wingate' or 'Josiah Wingate,' and established very clearly, by testimony of Viereck himself, and I think, of his lawyer, the fact of such employment and the identification of these letters as yours. The papers were turned over to me with the suggestion that I take the necessary action I filed papers saying broadly that no action was necessary; that you were writing letters to Fatherland as a man of your profession would write them to a newspaper editor. My successor may take a different view of this matter. I hope not. At least I think there is nothing that you can do at this time."

MR. BAKER PROMISES A REPORT ON BREST CAMP

WASHINGTON, — Conditions at the Brest embarkation camp, the care of wounded soldiers on trains after their arrival in this country, and other army questions, were discussed at an executive session of the Senate Military Executive Committee by Secretary Baker, General March, Chief of Staff; Surgeon General Ireland and Major General Gorgas.

A recently prepared report on the Brest camp was promised by Secretary Baker. He said that careful investigation would be made of complaints that detachments of wounded soldiers had been transferred without adequate accommodation and nurses, and at times without a commanding officer.

Attack on Clemenceau

ed respectful quiet, gathered near Clemenceau's residence after the occurrence. Within half an hour President Pointcaire arrived. He was quickly followed by various members of the Cabinet, high officials of the government and representatives of the army and navy as well as of the diplomatic corps.

It was learned at the city hall that the assassin of Premier Clemenceau was a man named Emile Cottin, 25 years old, and born at Creil. The man said that his home was in the Montrous quarter of Paris, but the police believe that he is Russian.

Clemenceau, as permanent chairman of the peace congress, is the biggest figure in Europe at present. He became premier Nov. 16, 1917, and despite his seventy-seven years, has survived several bitter political battles since that time. By many critics he is given equal credit with Marshal Foch for the allied victory. He is popularly known as "The Tiger," and has lived up to that name during the peace conference.

PARIS, Feb. 19. — The bullet which entered Clemenceau's left shoulder, has been found near the right shoulder, but has not yet been extracted. The patient coughs considerably but no complications are expected. The Premier's chauffeur, Brabant, was slightly wounded.

WILL DELAY PLANS.

PARIS, Feb. 19. — The delegates to the peace conference, when they learned of the attempt upon the life of Premier Clemenceau to-day, began to consider the effect of the event upon their own plans in connection with the conference. The belief was expressed that there would not be any great delay in the executing of the comprehensive plans laid out for the proceedings of the peace conference during the absence of Premier Lloyd George and President Wilson.

Premier Clemenceau when he was shot was on his way to a conference with Arthur J. Balfour, British Foreign Secretary, concerning a more rapid procedure before the Supreme Council. Owing to the fact that Clemenceau had in hand personally certain subjects now under negotiation it follows that so far as these are concerned, there must be a suspension of activity for the time being as they refer to the consummation of an early treaty of peace.

A Presentation to Bible Class Officers

Social Evening at the House of Mrs. W. Patten, 208 Reid street.

To say farewell to the Vice President Mrs. Trussler the Treasurer Mrs. W. Lyburn, and the Secretary Mrs. Angus Smith of the Berean Bible Class of Knox Church the members of the class met last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Patten, 208 Reid street. During the evening each of the retiring members who are leaving shortly for their new homes were presented with books. The presentation was made by Mrs. Patten while the following address was read by Mrs. Foster:

To the retiring Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer of the Berean Bible Class.

Dear Friends,—It is with sincere regret, that we meet this evening, to bid farewell to three members of our class, who are leaving the city. The removal of three such willing, and efficient workers, leaves a blank that will be hard to fill.

Mrs. Trussler, you, who have been associated with Knox Church for so many years and have worked so enthusiastically and cheerfully; always willing to do your share, has made you a source of great strength to our class.

Madames Lyburn and Smith, you have been with us for some years, and proved yourselves among the most energetic and faithful members. During the absence of Messrs. Lyburn and Smith on active service, your interest never seemed to fag, notwithstanding the anxiety you must often have experienced.

Your Christian service, rendered under such circumstances, has been a testimony that carried with it an especially strong appeal to those with whom you have been associated.

We are glad that though leaving us, you are looking forward to greater happiness, and a wider field of usefulness. We feel satisfied that wherever you may make your homes, there you will find congenial work to do for our Lord and Master.

Wishing you every success in your new homes and following you with our prayers. We have much pleasure in presenting you with a little book as a slight token of our love and esteem.

Signed on behalf of the Class,
President Mrs. Foster
Secretary Mrs. Crowe,
Treasurer Mrs. Wilson,
Teacher Mrs. Roger,

LABOUR BUREAU OPENED TO-DAY

Fiftsen Returned Soldiers Make Applications for Positions

The Ontario Labour and Repatriation Bureau opened its doors this morning in the basement of the Charlebond Building on Charlotte street. Twenty-five applications for positions have already been received and filed. Of these fifteen applications are those of returned soldiers. Mr. H. Robertson, returned soldier is local superintendent, and Captain Morrison, President of the Peterborough Branch of the G. W. V. A., is the soldiers' representative on the bureau. Mr. Morrison canvassed the factories of the city to-day looking for jobs to fill the applications. Although none of the manufacturers have places at present for men, they have all promised to keep jobs open for men who have applied at the Labour Bureau.

Daily Report.

Mr. Robertson makes a daily report to Dr. Ridell, Superintendent of Employment Bureaus, who compares the reports from other centres, and where there are more jobs than men he sends men from centres that are exactly the reverse. By this system it is hoped that the labour situation will soon return to normal.

When a man makes an application for a job at the desk he is handed a yellow card containing a list of questions which he must answer. The questions include what work is desirable, what kind of work would be taken if his particular trade was not available, the wages expected and whether a union man or not. These applications are filed away and are filled in the order that they are received when the manufacturers report vacancies on their staffs. The successful applicant after being informed that a job has been found for him is given a card of introduction to his new employer and the connection between the Bureau and the out-of-work is severed. When an office clerk or a skilled man makes an application for employment his application is, if he wishes, sent to Dr. Ridell, who recommends the man to the Provincial Civil Service Commissioner for a position on the civil service.

Blue cards for women have also been provided and filled in the same way.

Captain Morrison looks after the interests of the returned soldier who will in all cases, if suited for a position, be given the preference.

RELIEF OFFICE WORKING OVERTIME

Out-of-Works Refuse to Go on Farms—Munition Workers Suffer

City Relief Officer F. Miller states that calls for relief are coming in thick and fast at present. Three applications for relief were received by Mr. Miller this morning and he says that for the last two or three weeks the call has been heavy. Mr. Miller states that farmers from all parts of the county have asked for help, but none is forthcoming. The out-of-works of the city refuse point blank to go on the farm, although some of them complain that the cupboard is empty and the rent is due.

Conditions were not so bad a month ago, but now the situation seems acute "Those men who were making the large salaries when the munition factories were going full blast are now the worst off," stated Mr. [illegible]r. "They say they cannot buy a job."

Appeals for fuel in the form of shell boxes are coming in sheaves to Mr. Miller's office and already 6,000 have been distributed.

"The supply of boxes will be gone some time," said Mr. Miller, as he filled in a blank for a hundred boxes.

ART EXHIBIT OPENED TO-DAY

Splendid Collection of Pictures by Canadian Artists

Under the auspices of the Woman's Art Association an exhibition of Canadian art and things artistic which is a credit to Peterborough, opened this afternoon in the Public Library. The exhibition, had up to the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, been an annual affair, but was suspended during the war, and it is with great satisfaction that art lovers of the city welcome it back again. With the idea of arousing interest in art, especially that of the Canadian artists, the Association has secured samples of the best work of the foremost artists and the collection is well worth seeing.

Some Exhibitors.

An idea of the splendid exhibition may be had by a knowledge of some of the principal exhibitors, who are: Miss Edith Fisher, Miss Margery Fitzgibbon, Mrs. J. C. Hele, Mrs. M. E. Dignam, Mrs. Percy Duble and Miss L. O. Adams of Toronto, Mrs. Spurr Cutts, A.R.C.A., Port Perry, and one artist from the city, Miss F. Hatton, of Peterborough, who has some pretty views of Tower Farm, Rice Lake.

Arts and Crafts.

Added to the beautiful pictures some splendid specimens of hand painting, hand wrought jewellery miniatures, Chinese embroidery, homespun cloth, mandarines coats in gorgeous gold embroidery, book bindings and portiers make the exhibition one which holds interest for every one.

Serve Tea.

Throughout the exhibition, tea will be served in the afternoon. To-day Mrs. Vincent Eastwood, President of the Association, was in charge, to-morrow Mrs. Harry Rush will be, on Friday Mrs. F. C. Neal, and on Saturday Mrs. Fessenden. On Saturday there will be a special exhibition in the morning for the children, to whom to promote an interest in art, the Association annually gives a silver medal for the best sample of art in each grade of the different schools after their annual exhibition.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOSEPH NORTHEY.

A very sad death occurred on Thursday, Feb. 13th, which has cast a gloom over the whole community, when Cora R. Etta Dack, wife of Joseph Northey, Mt. Julian, passed away in her 40th year. About two weeks ago she fell a victim of influenza, which was followed by pneumonia. She was a daughter of Mr. Dack, Tory Hill, and was married in 1904, when she came to reside in Burleigh. Her kind, cheerful disposition soon won her a host of friends. She was an amiable wife, fond mother and a devout Christian. She was by faith a Laterday Saint, but during her life in Burleigh was a faithful church and Sunday school worker of Eden Methodist church. She was an active member of the Women's Institute ever since the local branch was organised.

She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her heartbroken husband and three small children, her father, three sisters and three brothers. The bereaved relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

The funeral, which took place on Saturday from her late residence to Lakefield cemetery, was largely attended, Rev. Mr. Beck officiating.

MRS. MARTHA BIRD.

A well known resident of Peterborough passed away last evening in the person of Martha Bird, widow of the late John Bird. The deceased was in her 89th year. Her husband predeceased her twenty-nine years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss one sister, Mrs. Margaret Latimer of this city, and one step-daughter, Mrs. Margaret Duprau. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at two-thirty o'clock from the family residence, 179 London street, to Little Lake cemetery. Service at the house at two o'clock. Rev. A. J. Thomas will officiate.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. John Garrett, formerly of Peterboro, who passed away at her home in Clydesdale, Feb. 19, 1918:

She is gone, but not forgotten,
The voice we love is still,
Her chair is ever vacant,
And never can be filled.
We loved her, yes, we loved her,
But Jesus loved her more,
And she dwells with Him above,
On that eternal shore.

—Sister Margaret Trotter and Brothers.

We loved her, yes, no tongue can tell,
How much we loved her, and how well;
God loved her, too, and thought it best,
To take her to her home of rest.
The blow was bitter, the loss severe,
To part with one we loved so dear.
Our loss is great, we'll not complain,
But hope in heaven to meet again.
—Her Mother, Mrs. Ellen Trotter.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

To-morrow, at the exhibition of paintings being held in the Public Library Building, Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Macdonald, Mrs. Fessenden and Mrs. Stevenson will be hostesses.

Cadet Wm. H. Adamson upon getting his discharge from the Canadian Engineers after the signing of the armistice, has been engaged on the staff of the Calgary Collegiate Institute as Mathematical teacher. He is an honor graduate and specialist in Mathematics of Queen's University, Kingston. He left here on the Monday afternoon C.P.R. express for his destination via Chicago, to commence his duties on the first day of March He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Adamson of North Monaghan.

Pte. Robert Gullivar, who was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Palin, Chemong Road, returned to Whitby on Monday.

Rev. J. R. Webb, who has been confined to the house for the last five days with a slight attack of influenza, is doing splendidly and will be about his duties in a few days.

Miss C. Graham, East City, is visiting with Rev. J. H. and Mrs. Edmison, Toronto.

Among the delightful social functions of the past week none was prettier than the post nuptial reception held by Mrs. W. H. Somerville (nee Elizabeth Irwin, of Peterboro) on Thursday afternoon, from 4 to 6 p.m., at her residence, King street, which was very largely attended. The drawing room was redolent with decorations of lovely fragarant roses, fresias and violets, which with the cheery grate fire, proved a most attractive setting to the many pretty gowns worn by the ladies. Mrs. Somerville wore a very handsome and most becoming gown of champagne ninon over black satin, with corsage bouquet of violets and orchids, and welcomed all the visitors with a charming cordiality. Mrs. E. Froude Seagram ably assisted Mrs. Somerville in the drawing room, while Mrs. Clark of Guelph, presided over the handsomely appointed tea table, which was ornamented with a lovely centre piece with decorations of roses. Mrs. E. Haberer conducted the visitors to the dining room, other assistant being Mrs. Hamilton of Peterboro, sister of the bride, Mrs. Edmonds and Miss L. Breithaupt,—Kitchener Telegraph.

The patronesses for the "Victory At Home" to be held in the St. Alphonsus Lyceum, on Monday evening next, are as follows: Mrs. P. Lane, Mrs. J. White, Mrs. G. Giroux, Mrs. F. A. Shannon, Mrs. M. C. Toolet and Mrs. J. Coughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Turner, 491 Water street, entertained at a small dinner party last night in honor of Mr. Turner's birthday.

Mr. Gordon Graham, left for New York, this afternoon where his mother lies dangerously ill.—Lindsay Warder.

A report from Toronto announces the appointment of Nursing Sister Bertha Mowry, who lately returned from overseas, to a position with the Board of Health in Toronto.

Mr. Ernest Mairs, New York, was in town to-day the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins.

Mrs. J. Carnegie has returned to the city from Simcoe, Ont., and is at Mrs. Grady's, 583 Weller street.

LAST OF WAR TIME COAL RULES SOON TO BE LIFTED

Washington, D. C.—The last of the war time coal regulations of the Fuel Administration will be suspended on March 1 if the mild weather continues, said an announcement by Fuel Administrator Garfield. These regulations prohibit the shipment of coal for reconsignment and require all shippers of coal moving to tidewater at New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Hampton Roads to consign such shipments to the Tidewater Coal Exchange.

It also was announced that the Fuel Administration would retain a skeleton organization "ready for expansion for an emergency."

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigour and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro phosphate, which is inexpensive and sold by McDermid & Jury in Peterboro and most all druggists under a guarantee of entire satisfaction or your money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the ealth. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:— Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh

Excessive Losses in Argonne Laid to Gross Inefficiency

Kansas Governor Asserts General March's Report on Casualties to Be Untrue—Claims American Soldiers Walked Into Their Own Barrage and Were Mowed Down Like Wheat.

Washington, D. C. Feb.20.—That the report by General Peyton C. March, Chief of Staff, on the casualties in the American forces at the battle of the Argonne Forest was tended to deceive, was charge made tended to deceive wa charges made to the House of Committee on Rules, by Governor J. Allen, of Kansas. The official report showed casualties of 56,000, while the actual casualties were 200,000, according to Governor Allen's statement.

The excessive casualties were due, Governor Allen said, to an inexcusable lack of artillery, of airplanes, and of other war supplies, and he urged an inquiry into the causes of the failure of the comanding officers to direct properly the offensive in the Argonne. He charged that American soldiers were killed by the fire from American artillery because they went into their own barrage; that they were "mowed down like wheat" from machine gun fire from low flying German airplanes; that no American airplanes were there, either to protect them against enemy airplanes or to receive signals; that for a division of 30,000 men there were only 75 stretchers and that wounded men lay for thirty hours in the mud and rain because of lack of proper hospital equipment.

Submits Scores of Letters

Governor Allen's charges were made at a hearing upon a resolution by Representative Campbell, republican, of Kansas, providing for a Congressional investigation of the Argonne battle. He submitted scores of letters from survivors of the Argonne battle, most of whom were in the Thirty-fifth division, made up largely from Kansas troops.

Additional evidence furnished by Government Allen was taken from the report of Captain Harry R. Hoffman of the Medical Service, showing that there came under his observation a total of 6,301 casualties in the 35th division, while the report of General March showed only 1,733 casualties. Governor Allen explained that the discrepancy was due to the fact that the report of General March gave only major casualties, that is, killed, and missing, and took no account of wounded.

"The report of the Chief of Staff was a pettyfogging document," said Governor Allen, "calculating to deceive in order to make a showing that the casualties were not so bad as was claimed."

Succeeded Only in Man Power

"Everything we touched over there fell down," said Governor Allen, "except the one big thing of man power. The aircraft did not arrive, and we used French airplanes for the most part and French artillery. We used French horses that they had condemned as useless, paying $400 apiece for them when often they lasted only a few hours. The advance of the American forces could be traced by the dead horses on their trail."

Asked if the Americans were good fighters, Governor Allen said they were great fighters, and quoted a French general who said:—

"I wouldn't say that the Americans were great soldiers, but they were magnificent fighters."

Governor Allen interpreted this as meaning that because of reckless disregard by commanding officers of the safety of their men and lack of training how to guard against useless slaughter some of the elements were lacking which the French regard as soldierly.

"Our men did not know how to retreat," said Governor Allen. "They knew only how to advance, and they did it, in spite of horrible and almost unbelievable disregard of certain loss of life. The French officers said that had their army been subjected to the conditions under which our men fought their army would not have lasted a year."

Contradicts March Statement

Governor Allen flatly denied the accuracy of the statement made by General March that American troops at the Argonne did not get beyond the range of the artillery support.

"General March is very much mistaken in that statement," said Governor Allen. "Certainly he could not have referred to divisional artillery, which failed the Thirty-fifth division, as I know. The men were caught in the fire of their own barrage. They were without revolvers in many instances when they went over the top and were without hand grenades. I know that in many cases litters for the wounded had to be improvised from overcoats and wounded men lay for thirty hours on the sodden field, where they fell, in a soaking rain, decreasing by fifty per cent. their resistance capacity and therefore increasing the casualties."

The hearing will be continued tomorrow, when the committee expects to hear first hand testimony from Brigadier General Martin of Kansas, a National Guard officer, who asserts he was unjustly relieved of his command.

Nogie's Creek News Happenings

NOGIE'S CREEK, Feb. 18. — The weather continues mild with little or no snow. There is fine sleighing on the lake.

Miss Golloghy, the local school teacher, who has been at her home in Lindsay for some time ill with the "flu," has recovered and has resumed her duties in the school.

Pleasant Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Parker had quite a nice crowd gather in their home last week to spend the evening. Dancing was the principal amusement and was very much enjoyed by the young people.

Ladies' Club.

The Ladies' Club met on Thursady evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Beatty. A good many were present. Miss Strachan occupied the chair very satisfactorily. Mrs. James Oliver read a paper on the new Bolshevik government. Mrs. R. Cairndoff read a paper on the current events of the day. The ladies gave some general and interesting information. Refreshments were served and as some gentlemen had driven their friends out they were invited to partake of the good things which were going. The meeting adjourned to meet again next week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ventress.

ALL CHILDREN LOVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once if bilious or constipated.

Look at the tongue, mother. If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's somach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish; stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels, without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Police Night Sticks Save Driver Whose Truck Kills Pedler

New York, Feb. 20.— The vigorous application of nightsticks and a display of revolvers were necessary to check the crowd which attacked Robert Spreadman, driver of an automobile truck, of No. 726 East Fifty-seventh street, Manhattan, after he had run down and killed a pushcart pedler in the gehtto district of Williamsburg.

The victim of the accident was Jacob Price, thirty-seven years old of No. 63 Morrel street. The man killed was pushing his cart, laden with fruit, when the big truck swung into Moore street from Morrel street. The truck is owned by the Hupfel Brewing Company and was piled high with kegs of beer. Price was directly in the path of the truck and before Spreadment could check the vehicle, the front wheels had passed over Price causing instant death.

Immediately excited pedlers and pedestrians choked the street and attacked Spreadment. He managed to escape and ran down Moore street and into the mattress factory of Berman & Margaril, at No. 153 Moore street, bolting the door after him. The mob hurled missiles, smashing the windows and occupants of the building, fearing further damage, opened the door and left Spreadment at the mercy of the mob.

A call had been sent to the Stagg street station, and when the reserves arrived the crowd had set upon Spreadment at the entrance to the factory. The police had to club their way through and Spreadman was placed in the automobile patrol only after the police had driven the mob back with their clubs and had threatened to shoot.

Spreadment was but slightly injured, having suffered only superficial cuts and bruises. He declared that he was in no wise responsible for the accident. He was held on the technical charge of homicide to await the action of the medical examiner.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards— Receipts were 57 cars, with 690 cattle, 88 calves, 1,788 hogs, and 186 sheep and lambs.

There was a sharp rally in yesterday's cattle prices, the market suddenly jumping up 25c. on practically all grades of butcher and export offerings. With a light run and some extra choice quality cattle offering there was a very active demand for choice heavy steers for the export trade, and this stimulated the market for the local butcher trade. The market was well cleaned up of all offerings at the advance over Monday's prices.

Calves were strong and steady.

Lambs steady, but firm.

The hog market is easier and 25c. lower.

GRAIN MARKET

With the exception of the February option, the corn markets yesterday made almost an even break with Tuesday's close, the May option being only 1-4c. apart and lower than Tuesday. As usual, there was considerable fluctuation during the day's trading, shorts running to cover at one stage, and sending the market up about two cents. Some free selling later brought the quotations down again. Oats closed practically even. In the local cash market there is no business doing except in barley, which one local firm is buying for export.

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS

Mrs. Curtiss Expounds Her Views

CHAPTER CXXIV

Ruth was gone for two or three days. She had an interesting bit of work to do; and when she returned it was easily to be seen it had done her good. A few days after her return, another letter came from Brian In it he made no mention of Mollie; but spoke of expecting soon to be ordered to the front. He also told in a few simple words that he was now a Lieutenant. He said nothing of what had led to his promotion, however; which was like him—Ruth thought.

Someway, this letter made her even more uneasy than had the other, but for a widely different reason. She felt guilty toward him in that she had allowed her feelings to restrain her confession concerning the baby. She wished she had sent the letter she had destroyed. The mails were so uncertain, so slow. What if something should happen to him and he never know he had a little son? She would feel guilty all her life.

So once more she wrote of her boy, and this time she hurried out and posted it. She would give herself no time to change her mind, or to let her thoughts of Mollie King prevent her doing her duty.

"I have written Brian about baby," she said to her aunt.

"I am glad, dear. Your friends would be shocked did they know you had not."

Even though she didn't like Brian and really would have aided Ruth to divorce him, she felt that it was wrong to hide the knowledge that he had a son from him; that Ruth was also wronging herself by doing so, Brian would have a real cause for complaint against her.

Mrs. Curtiss had called one evening and had quoted at length from a letter she had received from Mollie King. Ruth was so glad she had acknowledged that she knew Mollie and Brian saw each other. Thankful that she had not evaded the issue when Mrs. Curtiss spoke of Mollie.

"It is a good thing you aren't jealous, Ruth. I should be, if it were my husband and I knew how intimate they had been before Biran married. I am such a goose where Mr. Curtiss is concerned. I honestly think it would kill me if he gave me any reason to be jealous."

"I am not of a jealous disposition," Ruth returned calmly. She had deceived even her aunt as to the feeling she had about Mollie King.

"Be thankful that you are not. It is an awful feeling. And a woman is so helpless. A man has so many opportunities to deceive. He is away all day; his time—if he is in business for himself—is his own. How in the world is a woman to know he isn't spending it with some other woman, if she doesn't feel sure he knows no other intimately? I have always said that I never would give Mr. Curtiss a chance. You see your being in business has given Brian all sorts of excuses to do anything he wanted to—men hate to be alone, you know."

"You certainly haven't a very high opinion of men," Mrs. Clayborne broke in. "For myself, I do not believe that any amount of espionage will keep a man straight if he wants to step aside. With some men it simply urges them on to indiscretions they never would think of committing if they were trusted. People who aren't congenial, aren't well-mated, are better off apart. I feel that it is more sinful to live together under such circumstances than it is to separate. If one cannot trust, there can be but little happiness."

"But men have so many temptations," Mrs. Curtiss resumed. "If a man is good looking and attractive in other ways, there is always some woman trying to tempt him away from his allegiance—so it seems to me."

"Nonsense," Ruth exclaimed. "You are too foolish to talk that way. Women aren't so anxious to have other women's husbands as you seem to think," she felt that Mrs. Curtiss had Mollie and Brian in mind. "Most girls prefer to be first with a man. Then, too, I think most men are honorable," she flushed a little, but went on: "and if they are trusted, will not be unworthy."

"Go on believing that, but I do not agree with you. And I shall continue to keep a close rein on Mr. Curtiss. That is why I never go anywhere without him when he is in town. He is away or I shouldn't have been here to-night."

After she left Mrs. Clayborne and Ruth talked of what she had said.

"I imagine she thinks she has some reason to be jealous of Mr. Curtiss to talk as she did," Mrs. Clayborne remarked.

"Or she is trying to make me feel uneasy about Brian and Miss King."

Ruth replied in so bitter a tone it gave her aunt a feeling that perhaps Ruth was a little jealous. But some laughing remark she immediately made, dispelled the impression.

Ruth Hackett was too proud to let even her aunt know how she felt.

To-morrow—Ruth is Disappointed in Brian's Letter.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; leaves the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Cashier's Fall Is Laid to Wife

Charles Duncan Sentenced to Two Years in Prison.

Fifteen years ago Charles O. Duncan of Detroit, a $40 a month assistant cashier for the Michigan Central Railroad, needed $10 to make a first payment on the home he had contracted to buy at 65 Church Street.

Sitting on the high stool in the dingy freight office at the Third Street depot, studiously and while no one was looking, he altered the books of the company and stole $10. He placed the $10 on a certain race and the horse lost.

Years of Anguish Follow.

And because of that Charles O. Duncan, 42 years old, father of a 19-year-old son, was sentenced to Leavenworth for two years by Judge Arthur J. Tuttle in Federal Court, charged with embezzlement. The $10 had become $8,350.65 when Mr. Duncan was arrested last July.

Mr. Duncan's confession was absolute and he pleaded guilty to the charge. Saturday night in his cell at the County Jail he told of the madness and the anguish that followed his original sin. To-day there is not a race horse in the country whose name Duncan doesn't know.

He never played for big stakes. Last summer he placed $10 on Old Rosebud running in Windsor. He won $300.

His Only Plunge.

This was Duncan's only plunge, the largest wager he ever placed and the largest winning he ever made. He said Saturday he could remember vividly the thrill he got when he placed that money, the awful anxiety as he watched Old Rosebud round the oval track.

Winning a little, losing a little more, $3 or $10 or $15 at a time, Duncan slipped further and further into the abyss of debt. He wanted his home. He wanted to pay back what he had stolen. He was crazed with the dread of discovery, mad with the fear of failurt. So he kept on, telling no one, lying awake at night shuddering at the future, yet continuing to alter the company's books and playing the ponies through all these 15 years that are now only a hideous past.

Looks Forward to Jail.

For Duncan, waiting to be taken to a Federal prison hundreds of miles away, sees a new life before him. He is happy.

"I hear I shall be able to study at Leavenworth," he said. He was as enthusiastic as a boy, walking up and down with his thumbs in his vest pockets. "It will be like going to the university. They tell me a man can study music there. No; I am not a musician, but I shall study something."

Judge Tuttle had said, when he pronounced the sentence, "Duncan, I believe these two years will be the happiest of your life." And Duncan laughed to think of it. The load was gone from his shoulders.

Judge Scores Wife.

But Judge Tuttle had also said; thinking of the woman clothed in velvet and wearing a diamond pendant who had been in court, shortly before: "This man must be punished; but this is one of the cases where I feel that in sentencing an embezzler I ought to sentence the wife to a longer term."

Mrs. Olga Duncan, as the prisoner talked, was sitting at the home at 65 Church Street which Duncan had gambled 15 years away to buy. In the home is an expensive baby grand piano. She drives an expensive car. Her son drives another. She had said Saturday afternoon that Duncan never spent a cent toward buying their home, that he had spent most of his time gambling.

But Duncan told, as he paced his cell of giving $80 out of every $90 he earned every month to her—"All I could spare, eating downtown," he said.

Wouldn't Steal From U. S.

It seems that his salary was gradually increased after 20 years of service, to $90 a month.

When the Government took over the railroads, Duncan was raised to $120 a month. And when the Government took over the road Duncan stopped taking more than his salary.

"I suppose it looks like a pose, but I wouldn't steal from my country," he said. After his salary was raised to that amount, he began to pay back a little every month, but he didn't have time to put back the whole $8,350.65.

When Judge Tuttle saw Mrs. Duncan enter the court-room, the Judge looked at his prisoner.

Domestic Tragedy Hinted.

"I didn't buy these clothes," Duncan said in a low tone. "I didn't buy the automobile, nor the piano."

"Did her mother buy them?" the Judge asked.

Duncan hung his head. "No," he answered. And the Judge said, "I know the circumstances; you need not state them."

"My wife and I shall be divorced soon," said Duncan thoughtfully, after it was all over. "I shall let her get it, though, on the ground that I am a criminal."

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Some French In Max!

Prince Maximilian Alexander Frederick William of Baden, to give him his full name, though a member of a German reigning house and heir-presumptive to the Grand Duke of Baden, has quite a strong dash of French blood in his veins, for his mother, the Princess Maria Maximilianovna, was the granddaughter of Eugene de Beauharnais, the son of the Empress Josephine and her first husband, says the Manchester Guardian. Maximilian, Eugene's son, married the Grand Duchess Maria, daughter of the Emperor Nicholas I. of Russia, and on his marriage was created Prince Romanovsky, and it was their daughter who married Prince William of Baden, Prince Max's father.

The house of Zaehringen, which reigns over Baden, has a long history behind it. An ancestor early in the eleventh century was a count of the empire. The luck of the family really began in the first decade of the last century, when the bishopric of Constance, part of Rhenish Bavaria, and much other territory was added to the paternal possessions. By judiciously taking part with the winning side in the troublous times before the Battle of Waterloo the grand duke was able to keep his lands intact. The present grand duke and Prince Max belong to the Hochberg branch of the family, which, though descended from a morganatic marriage, was declared capable of succeeding to the throne.

The Raven's Warning.

Tradition has it that all the calamities which dog the footsteps of the ill-fated Austrian royal family are foreshadowed by the appearance of a raven.

When the Archduke Maximilian departed for Mexico—and execution—a raven followed him on the path; and when the Archduchess Christina left for her unhappy life in Spain a raven hovered over the carriage.

A whole flight of ravens is said to have hovered over the crowning of the late Francis Joseph, and one of the ill-omened birds dashed a peach from the hands of the Empress Elizabeth the day before she was murdered at Geneva.—Tit-Bits.

Gold Soap

You notice the size of the cake of Gold Soap when the grocer hands it to you. It is the biggest as well as the best cake of laundry soap for the money. A much respected resident of Asphodel, passed away on Sunday afternoon in the person of Mrs. T. J. Lynch. The deceased had been ill for some time. She leaves to mourn her loss her sorrowing husband, two daughters and one son, to whom much sympathy is extended. The funeral was largely attended.

CHILDREN MUST BE PROTECTED

The children must be safeguarded, for, if they do survive the frequent coughs and colds, it is often with the lungs so weakened that they become chronic sufferers from bronchitis or consumption. Being composed of simple ingredients of undoubted value, Dr. Chases Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is admirably suited as a treatment for children. It is pleasant to taste, so much so that children delight to take it on this account, as well as because of the quick relief it affords them.

FARM MECHANIC NEW TRADE FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS

Washington, D. C.—A new vocation that of farm mechanic, will be an outcome of the war in the belief of the Federal Board for vocational education, which now is preparing to train disabled soldiers who formerly were farm boys for such work.

Owing to the scarcity of labor on farms the Board believes there will be more extensive use in the future of farm machinery. Soldiers will be trained to handle and repair tractors and all other farm machinery. Every farm of 100 acres or more will need such a mechanic, in the opinion of the Board, which announced to-day that indications are that the demand will far exceed the supply.

COUGHED, COUGHED ALL NIGHT LONG

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep. Sometimes it is a constant cough, cough that will not be quieted.

Sometimes it is a choked-up, stuffed-up feeling that makes breathing difficult, and sleep impossible.

Whatever kind of a cold or cough you have, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy you need to cure it, for the simple reason that this valuable preparation combines all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree with which is combined wild cherry bark, and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks.

Miss Margaret Landly, Bristol, P.E.I., writes: "I am writing to tell you the benefit I have received from Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Last fall I took a severe cough and cold in my head. I was unable to do anything. At night I could not sleep, but cough, cough, all night long. A friend advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before the second bottle was used, I was entirely cured, and I have found this the best cough medicine I can buy."

Do not accept any other "pine" preparations when you ask for "Dr. Wood's." This remedy has been on the market for a quarter of a century. It is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief — no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffing, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of his fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with cold or nasty catarrh.

Japan Rent By Dying Wish of Sumako Matsui, Actress, To Be Buried Beside Patron

Society of All Degrees Participating in Controversy Over the Woman's Request—Her Ashes to be Laid on the Altar.

Tokio, Feb. 19.—It is not the peace conference and Japan's hopes thereat, nor the situation in Siberia, nor even the results of the annual wrestling matches now on, that is most discussed in Japan at this moment. The burning topic of debate, from government officials to squatting circles of ricksha men, huddled around their firepots is:—What is to be done with the ashes of Sumako Matsui, Japan's most popular actress, who committed suicide a week ago with parting instructions that she be laid at rest beside her instructor and patron, Professor Shimamura?

Sumako was at the height of her artistic career, undisputed leader of the modern stage in Japan. Her sway was acknowledged by her colleagues, by the press and by the public, and the Yurakuza Theatre, at which she was appearing in "Carmen," was sold out for the entire month of January. Her portrait bloomed in every postcard stall in Tokio. Her fashions were imitated by most of the "modern" women of the land.

On Saturday evening, before the performance, she appeared before the other members of her company, asking for criticism of her make-up, announcing that she desired to appear more beautiful than ever before. Her appearance, that night was never excelled, agreed the critics, visiting her in her dressing room with congratulations, which Sumako received smilingly.

Her Last Request

Dressed as she appeared on the stage, she went home and spent the greater part of the night writing letters. At two o'clock in the morning of Sunday, at the hour when professor Shimamura had died exactly two months before, she knotted a crimson scarf around her neck, and her body was found afterward. She had strangled herself.

Her hand held a letter addressed to her brother, which said:—

"Dear Brother:—I die. I am going to the place where Professor Shimamura is. Please bury me where he is buried."

And it is this request which has upset Japan.

Professor Shimamura was widely known as a literary man and dramatist. He occupied a chair at the Waseda University and his friends predicted a most brilliant career. Then came this liason with the actress through which he abandoned his wife and two small daughters, estranged his best friends and was forced to resign his professorship. Two months ago he died, one of the many victims in Tokio of the influenza.

Young, romantic Japan desires to see the ashes of Sumako buried beside Professor Shimamura with a "hiyoku-zuka" a lovers' mound, marking the joint grave. The grand passion of the great actress which carried her across the dark valley to join her soulmate, has won for her all that she died to accomplish, argue these "moderns," whose artistic temperaments urge the flouting of all old Japanese ideas of the sacredness of the family and sanctity of the home. They insist that the opposition of the widow is too old-fashioned to be listened to, and through the Geijitzuza—the Dramatic Society of Japan—they threaten the widow if her opposition continues.

Her Ashes on an Altar

Columns of communications have appeared from them in the Japanese press, columns of interviews with the high and the low on the subject have been published and there is hardly a newspaper in Japan but has discussed the question editorially. Meanwhile the ashes of the actress remain on the altar of the Temple of Tamon In.

Opposition to carrying out the dying wish of Sumako, headed by the widow of Professor Shimamura, comes from the "old-fashioned" ones of the empire, from those who have not "advanced" through translation of Russian and Scandinavian treatises and novels dealing with modernity. The student body of Waseda also has taken a voice in the question and a delegation has presented its views to the widow, pledging Waseda's support in her desire to save her children from the future shame of knowing that their father is sharing a lover's mound with an actress suicide.

Lovers' mounds are common in Japan. When the fates prevents the marriage of lovers they frequently commit suicide together. A common method of carrying out such a death is for the two to bind themselves together back to back, with the girl's long obi or girdle, and thus bound to jump into a river or wade out beyond their depth in the sea. Other less particular couples lie down together on the railroad track and wait for the first express. Invariably their bodies receive a common burial, which is regarded as the least that can be done for those who die together because they cannot live together.

Funeral Oration by Actress

The death of Sumako in the eyes of her admirers, has washed away all the stain of her life, and earned her the right to a lovers' mound. At her funeral, attended by all the leading actors and actresses of this capital, one of the many funeral orations was made by Miss Ritsuko Mori, star of the Imperial Theatre, who voiced thesentiments of the profession.

"Why were you to die leaving all your friends and admirers? Why must you leave us the actresses of Japan, struggling hard for the perfection of woman's part upon the stage new to the Japanese public and most difficult for us?" she said, addressing the body clothed in the costume she had herself put on for her final appearance before the public and as her own death robes. "But we are confident, continued Miss Mori, "appreciating the motives for your tragic death that you will go to the place your heart was set upon, and there live peacefully forever more with him you did to join, distracted never again by earthly care."

The latest announcement is the determination of the members of the Dramatic Association to bury the actress' ashes in the Shimamura plot in the Zoshigava cemetery despite all protest, and by force, if necessary. To-day one set of guards watches the home of Professor Shimamura's widow to prevent any atempt to obtain by force or undue persuasion her written consent to such a burial; another set of volunteer guards is watching the Shimamura plot in the cemetery, and still another watch is maintained over the ashes of the dead actress lest Professor Shimamura's relatives spirit these away and make the possibility of a lovers' mound an impossibility.

WORKERS TO RUN PLANT.

Sewell Clapp, Envelope Company Transfers Business to Employes.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—As a reward for faithful service, the good-will, entire management and chief ownership of the Sewell-Clapp Envelope Company has been turned over to the employes of the concern for their personal benefit.

The formal transfer of the property was made at a banquet given at the Hotel Lasalle last night by Clement L. Clapp until recently President of the company, in behalf of himself and his partners.

"The transfer," said Mr. Clapp, "is in the spirit of world democracy and of reward for faithful service and fealty to duty. The employes now hold more than 90 per cent. of all the stock in the company, and will operate the plant themselves."

Mr. Clapp was a pioneer in the manufacture of envelopes in the Middle West. He retires from active business after more than thirty years' continuous service.

Mr. Wilson's Charges Against Hamilton Doctor

HAMILTON, Feb. —The case Gordon C. Wilson, M.P., considers one of the worst he has come across amongst the charges of extortion by doctors was described by Mr. Wilson as follows:

Calls It Extortion.

"A woman was very ill, in a dying condition, in fact. Her brother called in a doctor, and stated that money was no object in the case if his sister could be afforded relief. The doctor ordered the patient to the hospital and demanded $75 for treating her. He received $10 then, and got the $65 balance shortly after. The patient was taken to hospital at 9 p.m. on a Saturday, and was a corpse at 3 a.m. Sunday. The physician has the $75. This is a case I intended to place before the attorney-general along with the others when I secure all the evidence. If this isn't extortion I do not know what extortion is.

"If legislation does not exist which will enable us to go after doctors who make extortionate charges we will have to insist upon such legislation being passed," declared Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson spoke of the reply made by Dr. H. S. Griffin to his letter asking how such matters might be brought to the attention of the local medical society. He thought it unsatisfactory and said, as he understood Dr. Griffin's position, it was that the man who felt he was overcharged by a physician had practically no course open to him, but to submit or fight in the courts.

$30 For X-Ray.

In speaking of another case in Dundas Mr. Wilson said: "A man was injured while at work. He called a doctor, who advised that he have an X-ray photograph taken to show the exact nature of the injury. The doctor said it would only cost $5. The X-ray was taken by a Hamilton doctor, who sent a bill for $30 for taking it. When a protest was made against this charge since it had been stated that it would cost only $5, the Hamilon doctor stated that if it was not paid he would bring suit."

Scalp Victory Bond?

Mr. Wilson said he had knowledge of another case where a patient had been treated by a Hamilton doctor. When the bill was rendered the patient said he had not the money to meet it, but said he had a $50 victory bond. The doctor offered to take this and allow it as a $42 payment on the debt.

"An $8 cut on a $50 bond is pretty fair, isn't it" asked Mr. Wilson.

Keep the Bowels Regular and You Won't Be Sick

If the bowels do not move regularly they will sooner or later become constipated, and constipation is productive of more ill-health than almost any other trouble.

The sole cause of constipation is an inactive liver, and unless the liver is kept active, you may be sure that headaches, piles, heartburn, biliousness, jaundice, floating specks before the eyes, and many other troubles will follow the wrong action of this one of the most important organs of the body.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the bowels so that you will have a free and easy motion every day, and one pill a night for thirty days will cure the worst cases of constipation.

They do this by acting directly on the liver and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood, thus causing many stomach and bowel troubles.

Mrs. Jos. Labrec, Louise Apts., Calgary, Alta., writes:—"I have been troubled with constipation for the last two years. I have tried numerous treatments, but have never been relieved by anything until I used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which are helping me wonderfully."

We do not claim that Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are a "cure-all," but we do claim that there is nothing better for a sluggish liver.

Price 25 cents a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PROPOSE ARMY OF 538,488 DURING DEMOBILIZATION

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—A temporary military establishment of 28,579 officers and 509,909 enlisted men is provided for in the annual army appropriation bill reported to the House by the military committee.

The measure carries a total of $1,117,289,400. The committee said an army of the size recommended would be necessary "during the period of demobilization."

PILES ENTIRELY CURED.

Mr. Wm. Woodell, 107 St. John St., Carleton, St. John, N.B., writes:—"I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for itching, bleeding piles, and as a result have been entirely cured. For years I was a great sufferer from this distressing ailment and can say that three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me. You may use this letter for the benefit of others.

ROBBERS IN ODESSA DARING.

Armed Bands Raid Business Houses in Broad Daylight.

ODESSA.—Police protection by the Russians in Odessa is so ineffective that street robberies at the pistol point are frequent after dusk and no night passes without considerable firing. Armed bands have been so bold that they have attacked business houses in daylight. French troops, however, are taking command of the situation by organizing patrols, and the Russian Governor has proclaimed martial law.

Many receptions and entertainments are being given in Odessa for allied officers and men. An address presented by the women of Odessa to the allied forces expresses the conviction that generous France and all the faithful Allies have not forgotten the first years of the war when Russia "proved her valour on Prussian and Austrian battlefields and sacrificed the flower of her patriotic youth."

THE PRAYER HABIT

The prayer habit is like any other good habit, it grows by use. Christ admonishes us to enter into our closets and shut the door and pray to the father in secret, who will reward us openly.

We must get away from the din of the world, from our daily occupations (even if it be for a few minutes) for a personal talk with Jesus, the trysting place can be found everywhere, but be sure that the door is shut, leaving cares and tasks behind for an uplifting interview with Him, who is the source of our spiritual power.

The spirit of prayer will greatly aid in performing the tasks of the day. It influences hope and cheer. It kindles enthusiasm for Christ's Kingdom becoming contagious in its influence on others.

The prayer habit should become so thoroughly interwoven into our moral character and daily life that we will almost instantly turn to our trysting place and refreshed in the inner man, we can go on our way rejoicing all day long, because we walk in the light of His countenance continually. Oh, blessed privilege! Wonderful power in the life of a Christian!—H. B. Taylor.

When Talking About Punchers Don't Overlook Champion Jess Willard

Now that Georges Carpentier has been counted out of consideration as Jess Willard's opponent, Jack Dempsey is confronted with the biggest chance in the history of pugilism. In the next four years we are going to see a period of feverish boxing activity, and if Dempsey should wrest the championship from Willard he will assure himself of the greatest financial success yet attained by a title holder.

If Dempsey earns the title he will be no Willard in the matter of frequency of action. Dempsey is the kind of a man who craves and thrives on action. He is a sort of out-of-date fistic curiosity who fights mainly for the sheer zest and fun of fighting. In view of these considerations we do not believe that Tex Rickard will encounter any difficulties in signing Dempsey to a contract. As challeger and with so great an opportunity before him Dempsey should take anything he can get.

No Hurdles For Dempsey

It will be remembered that after Willard had beaten Jack Johnson he had to borrow money to pay his way here from Havana. Nobody expects Dempsey to fight for next to nothing but the sporting public does not look for either Dempsey, Jack Kearns, Jack Curley or the third partner in the Dempsey syndicate to set up any hurdles for Rickard.

We note that despite the fact that Willard and Dempsey have not yet been signed, there is a general tendency to predict that Dempsey will knock out the champion. It is rather early to hazard any prediction on the likely result of a meeting of Willard and Dempsey, but we have a sneaking notion that when they do meet the champion is going to surprise certain individuals.

Willard Still a Mystery

Nobody knows how good Willard is. He does not know himself. He was credited with having knocked out Johnson, who certainly was no slouch for cleverness and hitting power. Since then Willard has fought only once—the ten round go with Frank Moran in Madison Square Garden. In that encounter Willard never extended himself. He said he feared that if he cut loose he would cause Moran serious injury. Certain it is that Moran's vaunted "Mary Ann" bounced off the champion time and again and as far as could be discerned the ringsiders really made little impression on the giant Kansan.

When Willard enters the ring next summer he will weigh in the neighborhood of 250 pounds—the biggest champion in the history of the American ring. Dempsey will scale at 190 pounds. Dempsey will be many years the younger and probably the harder hitter—we say probably, for again we must emphasize the fact that nobody knows how hard Willard can hit.

Dempsey Above a Mediocre Lot

Dempsey is by far the most formidable contender for the title, but with all due respect to Dempsey's prowess we must admit that the 1915-1919 crop of heavyweights was about as poor a lot as ever stepped into a ring. The heavies who rose during the White Hope period went back, and with the exception of Dempsey, Fulton and Miske no new men worthy of note rose to take their places. Morris, Moran, Smith the Flynns—all went down and out. Fulton was snuffed out in one round by Dempsey, and Miske is too light to be considered among the real heavyweights. Miske is clever, but he is not a hitter and any 175-pounder who cannot punch is not to be considered seriously in any heavyweight championship discussion.

There are some—Jim Coffroth is among them—who still adhere to the belief that Fulton is the greatest heavyweight in the country. They hold that Fulton was the victim of a lucky punch. Relegating Fulton to the ranks of the "never was-ases" we are confronted with the truth that Dempsey has not beaten a single heavyweight of known ability and courage. Both Miske and Meehan have stood Demnsey off. This is in no disparagement of Dempsey. For all we know he may be a super-Sullivan for hitting and a second Corbett for cleverness, but nobody really knows how good either Dempsey or Willard are. It is still an open question.

SUFFERED TWO YEARS WITH PIMPLES
Child Could Not Sleep Till Cuticura Healed.

"My little brother suffered for about two years from tiny red pimples. They appeared constantly on his body but he had the greatest trouble under his ears. The skin was red and very sore and at the least touch he would give a howl of pain. After a few seconds he would have to scratch, and he was not able to sleep.

RED CROSS IS ARRANGING TO RESUME PEACE TASKS.

GENEVA, Feb. 19. — The meeting of the Allied Red Cross Societies and the Red Cross International Committee has decided to invite all committees to report on schemes for the transfer of the efforts of the organization from a war to a peace footing, notably in the direction of such activities as child welfare, public health, the fight against tuberculosis and the assistance of victims of the war.

These reports will be considered by an international conference of Red Cross delegates which it is proposed to summon to meet here a month after the signature of the treaty of peace. This meeting has the indorsement of the allied governments. At that time a scheme of action will be elaborated.

A Never Failing Way to Banish Ugly Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)
No woman is immune to superflous growths, and because these are likely to appear at any time, it is advisable to always have some delatone powder handy to use when the occasion arises. A paste is made with some of the powder and water and spread upon the hairy surface; in about 2 minutes this is carefully removed and the skin washed. You will then find that your skin is entirely free from hair or fuzz. Be sure, however to get real delatone.

LONG NEGLECTED PARLIAMENT RE-OPENED THIS AFTERNOON

Cabinet Ministers Have Been Conspicuous by Their Absence—Parliament May Resume its Normal Place.

ORDERS-IN-COUNCIL

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 20. — Parliament opened to-day. The note of mourning in hanging crepe and half-masted flags was everywhere. There was none of the usual social display. No invitations were issued to the ceremony usually a social event of the year. There was none present but the Governor-General and his staff. Members of Parliament assembled to hear the Speech from the Throne. Judges of the Supreme Court and a few of the men are gathering here to pay their last respects.

His excellency and staff arrived shortly before three o'clock and immediately proceeded to the Senate Chamber for the formal opening.

In the speech from the Throne the Franchise Bill is promised. The bill will among other things enable women to vote and confers upon them the privilege of sitting in Parliament.

There will also be bills to provide for National Highway Construction, to assist returned soldiers in settling upon the land and to promote desirable immigration and farm settlement. Bills to promote vocational education, create a department of Public Health; for promoting of better housing conditions, and validating of the prohibition order in council.

Following the Speech from the Throne, the members of the House of Commons, headed by the Speaker, returned to the House, but the proceedings here were brief. Formal motions incidental to the opening of the session were presented by Sir Thomas White.

Then out of respect, the House adjourned till Tuesday, when a full tribute will be paid by the leaders on both sides to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's memory. Afterwards Major Redmund of Calgary will move, and Capt. Manion of Fort William and Rainy River, will second the formal address in reply to the speech from the throne, and the debate will open.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—After a partial eclipse during the war, and in face of the empty seat of its oldest and most devoted member, the Parliament of Canada re-opened this afternoon. It has not met since May 24, last, and the consequent interrupted interregnum by the Cabinet has been unnaturally long and unprecedently complete.

It has been the era of order-in-Council. The Cabinet has been not only the executive branch of the Government in accordance with its recognized place in our system, but by virtue of the War Measure Act, itself passed by Parliament, has also assumed legislative functions formerly confined to the House of Commons and Senate.

Will Become Normal.

From to-day forth it is anticipated that Parliament more and more will resume its normal place. The power of the executive is becoming less drastic.

Although decision, quick and final, even if autocratic, was a necessity during the war, the actual operation of Government by order-in-Council has had grave defects. The principal objection was that the people became increasingly opposed to it. The Government removed from the contact and the check of Parliament, became estranged also from large sections of the population, at the very time when national co-operation was essential.

The same criticism is being offered of Woodrow Wilson by some of his warmest friends. They say that his policies were admirable, but that, in carrying them out, he failed to use Congress and other democratic instruments as fully as he should, with the result that the people and their representatives, feeling themselves "out of it" became indifferent and often hostile to measures which they would have approved if they had had a share in their initiation.

French Authorities Are Investigating the Attack on Premier Clemenceau—Wound is Slight.

Special to The Examiner:

PARIS, Feb. 20.—French authorities, with the co-operation of intelligence officers of the Associated Powers, were conducting a sweeping investigation to-day in connection with the attack on Premier Clemenceau yesterday, which resulted in the aged statesman receiving a slight wound from a revolver bullet. The officials were working on the theory that the attack may have been only part of a plot against the principal Allied leaders, although nothing had been unearthed so far as is known to support this surmise.

Resting Easily.

No official statement had been issued early to-day on Clemenceau's condition, but it was understood that he was resting easily and that no serious after effects had developed. The bullet had been located in the right shoulder near the spine, and it was reported that an operation for its removal might not be necessary.

Emile Cottin, the assassin, is known to have attended a recent meeting of anarchists in which the participants shouted "Death to Clemenceau." Cottin was arrested in company with other anarchists at the time, but was later released. His explanation of the shooting is that he regarded Clemenceau as an enemy of the workers.

Mad Dog Politics.

Special to The Examiner:

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The attack on Premier Clemenceau was interpreted by the British press to-day as an instance of an outcropping of "Bolshevism" throughout the world. Morning newspapers, fearing "an epidemic of assassinations" suggested that international action should be undertaken to deal with anarchists. The Daily News denounced the attack as "mad dog politics."

Premier Clemenceau, who was wounded in the shoulder yesterday in an attempt by the young anarchist, Emile Cottin, to assassinate him, was in a satisfactory condition this morning, according to the latest reports. No fever has developed. His enforced inaction is weighing heavily upon the Premier, however, and doctors find him a bad patient, unwilling to obey all their orders. He insisted on receiving visitors all day yesterday and in discussing current business with Stephen Pichon, Foreign Minister, who called upon him late in the evening for the first time after the shooting.

Much Pain.

Clemenceau's wounds occasionally give him much pain. He bears this exceptionally well and twinges do not impare his customary good humour or prevent him indulging in lively sallies. Thus shortly after he was wounded, when one of his colleagues, who was an old and trusted friend and particularly dear to him, came to see him, the Premier, smiling broadly remarked, "The Maharaja of Bikenir invited me to hunt tiger in his country. Well it is an anarchist who has hunted the tiger, but they missed him."

Sent For Nurse.

The Premier yesterday sent for Sister Theonese, a nun, who nursed him when he was operated upon a few years ago, and she is now attending him. Clemenceau sat up for quite a while yesterday in his arm chair, but asked that his favourite old grandfather's chair should be brought up from his country house at Bernouville. The Premier's mind never was clearer nor his thought more rapid. He discusses his wound and his symptoms technically jus tas if they were those of another person.

Penetrated Lung.

Special to The Examiner:

PARIS, Feb. 20. — The assassin's bullet penetrated one of Premier Clemenceau's lungs, causing a slight hemorrhage yesterday afternoon, it was officially announced to-day. His condition, however, was said to be satisfactory. The statement said, "There was a slight hemoplysis (hemorrhage of the lungs) at one o'clock yesterday afternoon, owing to the bullet's penetration of the lung. The general local condition was very satisfactory. Temperature was normal and the Premier took a normal amount of food."

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Feb. 20.—Was the attempt upon Premier Clemenceau's life of Bolshevik origin?

This is a question being insistently asked here. The "Matin" to-day recalls that a few days ago the Geneva newspaper announced that the Bolsheviki in Lausanne, Switzerland, were plotting against Clemenceau's life and that two Bolshevik had crossed the frontier to carry out the plan.

(Special to Examiner.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. — Two Americans and three English aviators have entered the "Daily Mail" $50,000 competition for the first aerial flight across the Atlantic.

It was rumoured here to-day that Lieut.-Colonel William A. Bishop, the British ace of aces, was contemplating a flight from Newfoundland to Iceland. He was said to have an exceptionally fast plane "somewhere in Canada" ready for the venture.

NIAGARA FALLS MAN MURDERS HIS FAMILY

Bodies of Mother and Two Little Children Found in Their Beds

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 20.—Frederick Mountain, aged 30, who came here from the West Indies about five weeks ago, at an early hours yesterday morning killed his wife and two children, aged 5 and 3, by cutting their throatst with a small clasp-knife. Then he slashed his own throat and wrist with the knife, but not deep enough to cause death. He is now at the hospital and will recover.

Just before noon George Littlewood, collector for an insurance company in which the whole family held policies, tried to get into the Fountain rooms on the second floor of 210 Culp street, to collect the weekly premiums. The door to the bedroom was locked, so Littlewood, thinking all was not right, informed the police.

Sergt. Hardwick, of the city force, broke open the door and his eyes bet a dreadful sight. There were three beds in the room, two large ones and a little crib. The little crib was saturated with blood. On the big bed in the centre of the room lay four persons, the mother the two little children dead with terrible gashes in their throats, while Fountain himself lay beside them in a semi-conscious state. The two children's bodies were between the mother and father.

At twenty minutes to two yesterday morning James Greenwood, owner of the house and who occupies the downstairs partion, heard the woman scream and also the cries of the children. There was silence after that. Greenwood went up and knocked at the door and asked "Is everything all right, Fred?" Fountain mumbled that it was.

Evidently Fountain murdered his wife first in her bed, and her screams awoke the two little children asleep in their cot a few feet away. They probably witnessed the killing of their mother, and then their father came to them and killed them. The cuts in the throats were not slashes, but made in a digging manner. Both beds were saturated with blood.

The police think the motive of the triple crime was jealousy, because they think Mrs. Fountain had threatened to leave her husband. She did so a few weks ago, but came back after two days. An empty whiskey flask was found in the room. He appeared dazed when the police arrived, but it may have been from loss of blood.

Fountain was employed at the American Cyanamid plan and those living in the house say he appeared to be a steady worker and kind to his family. They say they appeared to be a very amiable couple. The two rooms they occupied were scrupulously clean, and the children were kept nicely dressed. The scene of the murder is just beyond the city line. Fountaian is Spaniard and Mexican, but his wife was an English woman.

This is the fourth murder case in Welland County in about a month, two being in Niagara Falls, a third at Thorold, and the fourth at Welland. In all cases the alleged murderers were foreigners.

THIRD DIVISION WILL LEAVE SOON

RUSSIAN QUESTION DISCUSSED TO-DAY

Special to The Examiner:

LONDON, Feb. 20. —The Russian question was scheduled to come up in the House of Lords this afternoon. A spirited debate was asked on the result of Lord Lansdowne's question regarding the Allied position in Northern Russia. He asked specifically what steps had been taken to insure the safety of the Allied troops.

W. J. KEARN'S CLAIM AGAINST R. R. HALL WAS DISMISSED

Chief Justice Falconbridge Delivered Judgment This Morning—Mr. Hall is Allowed Costs.

ALSO CLAIM ON NOTES

To-day Chief Justice Falconbridge delivered judgment in the case of W. J. Kearns against R. R. Hall, dismissing Mr. Kearns' claim against Mr. Hall for $25,000 damages, and allowing Mr. Hall's claim against Mr. Kearns upon two promissory notes for $234.50 with interest on the notes since they were made in February, 1914. Mr. Hall was also allowed his costs of action and his counter claim against Mr. Kearns.

This action was tried on Wednesday before Mr. Justice Falconbridge and evidence was given as to the proving of a vein supposed to have contained galena.

In the judgment Sir Glenholme Falconbridge states that he finds all the facts in controversy in favour of Mr. Hall, and that Mr. Hall did not agree to finance the enterprise any further than he said he would risk $500.00, and that Mr. Kearns' representations as to the finding of a vein were not founded in fact, and that Mr. Hall had a right to terminate the contract at any time when he found the vein was not making the showing Mr. Kearns represented it could make.

Mr. Kearns was allowed $65.00, the amount of goods that were sold and the moneys paid to Mr. Hall, Mr. Hall having consented to Mr. Kearns being allowed $65.00, the value of the goods.

Mr. J. Guise-Bagley appeared for Mr. Kearns and Mr. G. N. Gordon and Mr. John Birnie appeared for Mr. Hall.

Twenty Nurses on Local Register

Report of the Central Registry for the Year.

The yearly report of the Central Registry for Graduate Nurses as submitted by Miss Caroline Peck, 758 George street, follows:

Yearly report from Feb. 15th, 1918, to Feb. 5th, 1919.

In the past year there have been more than 244 calls for nurses from city or country. During the epidemic it was impossible to keep an accurate account of the calls, and equally impossible to supply nurses to answer them.

Nearly all the nurses had influenza more or less seriously. Two volunteered to go to Renfrew where they were both taken ill, but happily recovered.

Three nurses have married during the year. Miss price is in charge of the Isolation Hospital.

There are twenty nurses at present on the register, namely:

Miss Deyell, Miss Foote, Miss Montgomery, Miss M. O'Brien, Miss L. O'Brien, Miss Price, Miss Thornton, Miss Moloney, Miss Fallon, Miss G. Watt, Miss Heffernan, Miss M. Merrell, Miss M. Merrell, Miss Jones, Miss P. Denne, Miss M. E. Sloan, Miss S. Morrison, Miss P. H. Robertson, Miss Louise Conroy, Mrs. Gamey, Mrs. Guerion.

ISSUED AN ULTIMATUM

A Political Upheaval is Expected in Bavaria—Poles Defend Lemberg.

GENERAL STRIKE

(Special to Examiner.)

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 20. — The Soldiers and Workmen's Council of Munich has issued an ultimatum to the Bavarian government ,according to despatches received here to-day, demanding that it resign or agree to the following: dismissal of a number of Conservative officials; dissolution of the cadet corps; re-organization of the Bavarian army under the control of the Soldiers' Council, which would elect all the officers.

The War Minister, refusing the consideration of this proposal, resigned. A complete political upheaval is feared.

ATTACK RESUMED.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Feb. 20. — Ukrainian forces resumed the attack against the Poles defending Lemberg on Sunday and have captured all the points between Przemysl and Grodek. Railway communication in that region has been interrupted.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, Feb. 20. — The general strike in the Ruhr Industrial District continues to spread in spite of the fact that a large majority of the miners, as shown by the votes taken at many places, oppose the movement.

Coal production in the region is virtually at a standstill. The Socialist "Vorwaerts" and the Bourgeois newspapers declare that the strike is a political movement instigated by the Spartacans and the Independent Socialist leaders.

The Spartacans announced their intention of carrying the strike from the Rhineland into Central Germany for a final struggle between Labour and Capital.

Former Peterboro Resident is Dead

Friends of Pte. A. B. Bates Were Looking for His Early Return.

Word came to Peterborough yesterday of the death in England of Private Archibald Beecham Bates. He is the oldest son of Mr. Walter Bates, formerly of Peterborough, but now in the baking business at Campbellford, Ont. His friends had been expecting his early return to Canada, and were shocked at the news of his death, not having previously been made aware of his illness. The deceased was a young man in his prime, who answered the call in 1916 and went overseas with a Toronto unit. He leaves a widow. His brother, Orville, is still overseas.

Mr. F. W. Bates, 654 Stewart street, is an uncle, and Mrs. Ed. Cooney, 350 Aylmer street, is an aunt.

Gale Springs-up in Mid-Atlantic — Will Likely Address Congress on League of Nations.

(Robert J. Bender.)
(Special to Examiner.)

Aboard the U. S. S. "George Washington," Feb. 20. — While planning to reach Boston on Monday, President Wilson amy be delayed until Tuesday by a gale of wind which has sprung up. The string wind is accompanied by a driving rain.

The President devoted the most of yesterday to working. He appeared on deck with Mrs. Wilson for a short time and joined the soldiers and crew in "abandon ship" drill. He has not yet decided whether he will address a joint session of Congress on the League of Nations, but it is believed that he will do so.

Food is More Plentiful Than in Poland, Where the Monetary System is in a Tangle—Poland May Assume Portion of Russia's Indebtedness.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WARSAW, Feb. 20.—German soldiers in East Prussia are still bearing the old imperial standard instead of the republican flag, according to reports brought by fugitives to the American mission here. They also say that the junkers have undertaken to organize a strong movement in Germany against Poland.

Food is more plentiful in East Prussia than in Poland, the fugitives declare, and is much cheaper. An average meal costs about ten marks ($2.50), compared with 10 to 25 marks ($3.25 to $6.25) in Warsaw. Shoes are also cheaper costing 90 marks ($22.50) in Geramny, and 500 marks ($125) in Poland. Rolling stock is much more plentiful in Germany than here.

Poland's financial situation, according to members of the American mission, will necessitate sending a high financial expert here. The natural resources of the country are great, but the monetary system is in a tangle. The new state of Poland has no war or natural debt, but France may ask her to assume a portion of the Russian indebtedness in consideration of the large sums that Russia spent on Polish railways.

Brest is Not the Worst Military Camp in the World

Men Claim They Are Victims of Mismanagement—Opinion of Officers and Men.

FOOD CONDITIONS

The following is the first of a series of despatches from Mellett, regarding conditions in Brest, where he is conducting a personal investigation.)

By Lowell Mellett.

(Copyright 1919 by the United Press.)

BREST, Feb. 20.—Brest may not be the best military base in the world, but it is far from the worst, in the opinion of officers and men permanently stationed here.

An investigation, conducted under such circumstances as the situation will permit, failed to substantiate the charges that Brest is a "pest hole" or that men are victims of mismanagement. It is true that, in common with much of Western France, there is a super abundance of mud, but this is due to climatic and geological conditions. This could not be avoided, as Brest was seelcted as a base because of strategic and geographical reasons. Reports of shocking food and sanitary conditions are unfounded, according to the inhabitants of the camp themselves.

A Few Figures.

Rumours are understood to have been circualted in the United States that 3,000 American soldiers died in Brest during September and October of last year. The fact are, according to figures given your correspondent, that from November, 1917, when Camp Pontanezen, where soldiers are congregated to await transportation home, was established, up to the first of the present month, there were 2,1919 deaths from all causes. This includes victims of pneumonia and the influenza epidemic during September and October, most of whom are said to have become infected either en route here or before they left the United States. It also includes 510 who died aboard ship while coming over. These figures were authorized by General Elthelmick, the base commander.

Delivery Wagons Here

New Bread Company Ready to Serve the Public.

The delivery waggons of the Peterboro Bread Company, Ltd., arrived in the city to-day. As previously stated this company has secured the building and plant formerly operated by N. Lash at 241 Dublin street. Mr. G. A. MacKay of Toronto will be in charge.

The company is prepared to enter the bread making industry on a large scale and will offer a high class quality of bread and bread products. The company will have a complete plant in every particular and service plus quality to the public will be two essential features of the company's business policy.

ANNIVERSARY QUEEN ALEXANDRA CIRCLE

SATURDAY NIGHT WILL BE A BIG NIGHT AT BROCK ST. RINK

A Band of Twenty Pieces—Continuous Music Up to Eleven O'clock—No Stops.

The Brock street rink will give a big night's skating Saturday night next. The best ice of the season now prevails and everything will be done to make it very attractive.

There will be a fine band of twenty pieces from the Great War Veterans, who will give an excellent programme of real music for skating.

The music will be continuous; no intermissions, and there will be skating until eleven o'clock. It will be the biggest quarter's worth of skating ever offered. Don't miss Saturday night.

ATHLETICS' SHARE

The Repatriation Committee of the Dominion Government is appealing to the Athletic Associations of Canada to play their part in assisting in solving the problems of repatriation. It is Bulletin just issued the committee acknowledges the value of athletics in the general life of the community and points out that sporting associations can do much to keep the returned fighters physically fit and mentally bright. It is the belief of the Repatriation Committee that it takes time for the returned soldier to re-adjust himself to the conditions with which he was formerly familiar and that if associations such as the Y.M.C.A. throw open their club-houses to him they can give him the companionship that he needs. "He will find it difficult to fill in his time after the long hours and endless routine of army life," says the appeal, "and it is during the hours after his day's work is done that he will need most the kindly hospitality of club-like associations and institutions. Let it be possible for these men to exercise in the gymnasium or wherever possible let special arrangements be made for programmes of sports in which they may mingle. The returned man has led a life of excitement in the past months and he must have excitement of a kind that will adjust himself to the humdrum of civilian life. What better can be provided than keen competition on the gymnasium floor in which he is taking a part and striving for victory? Let the programme be arranged not for men of exceptional skill, but so that all can take an active part; make every soldier visitor a welcome visitor and he will enjoy it and thank you for it.

"The smaller athletic clubs can do their share. Invite the returned men to join with your members. Give them a welcome, arrange programmes in which they can take part, the matter how little their athletic ability. Let the baseball, tennis, lawn bowling and skating clubs do their share by welcoming the fighters to their grounds and precints. This spirit of welcome and of comradeship will be an effective means of enabling him to tide over his re-adjustment days."

The Peterboro Y.M.C.A. has not waited for the appeal of the Repatriation Committee. During all of last year their building was open to all returned soldiers who were invited to make use of the equipment, baths, etc., as they wished. A sign at the front door told the Veterans that their badge was a membership ticket that would be heartily honored.

REGISTRATION NECESSARY

With the opening of the Provincial Labor Bureau here and the appointing of a representative of the Soldier's Civil Re-establishment Department, the first steps towards solving the unemployment question have been taken. The second step must be taken by the returned soldiers themselves. It is the duty of every ex-service man who wants employment to register with the Bureau as soon as possible. Some returned men have been heard to say that there was no use in going near the Labor Bureau. "How can they give you jobs when they haven't any?" one veteran asked the other day and he followed this question with a pessimistic summary of conditions as regard unemployment. This returned man and others who may be inclined to view the matter in the same light are putting themselves in the wrong by taking this position. It is up to them to give the Bureau a chance to make good and they can do this by calling upon Capt. Morrison and Mr. Robertson as soon as possible. The quicker these officials are enabled to make a complete survey of the local unemployment situation the quicker will they be able to do something towards solving the problem. Both men are returned soldiers and members of the Great War Veterans Association and every veteran who is without a position is sure of a sympathetic hearing and a sincere effort to do something to help him. But he must first help himself by calling upon the Bureau and filing his application together with the particulars in regard to himself. Until he has done this, no returned man has a logical ground to complain about being out of employment.

A FITTING MEMORIAL.

Canadians of all ranks and stations of life and of every different shade of political and religious belief who are mourning the death of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, can most fittingly honour the memory of the great statesman who has left us, if they will not forget the object that was always foremost in the mind of the old chieftain—the attaining of a United Canada. The principle of unity, of equal rights to all, was the principle that was his guiding star through his long and brilliant career. A Canada in which the old clash of racial and religious differences should disappear forever, was the vision that was ever before him, and students of Canadian history know how faithfully he adhered to the course he had mapped out for himself. The way of moderation was ever his way in dealing with the problems that threatened to destroy the unity of the Dominion he loved so well and served so faithfully. He consistently opposed the domination of church in politics, yet stood for the principle that the church should have the same rights as other citizenship. In his attitude on the Manitoba school question, in which he had to oppose the wishes of the people of his own province, Sir Wilfrid gave a striking testimony of his desire that fair play and justice should prevail while he held the reins of power. And as in this matter, so did Sir Wilfrid conduct himself towards all the big problems that confronted him. Always before him was the picture of a Dominion whose people, although of different races and religions, could live happily and contentedly together, bound in spite of these differences, by ties of mutual confidence and tolerance.

The principle that guided Sir Wilfrid Laurier was never more needed in Canadian affairs than at the present time. With the farmers of the west clamouring for free trade, and the manufacturers of the east just as vigorously agitating for protection, with the agricultural community as a whole dissatisfied with conditions and uniting for political purposes, with the labour unions also bringing their demands and problems into the political field, with returned soldiers agitating against alien residents; there is need of the wise counsel and statesmanship that always distinguished the life of Sir Wilfrid. The ideal that was always cherished by the departed chief is in danger as a result of existing conditions. It must not be allowed to perish. The "flaming torch" of Sir Wilfrid has been thrown from his falling hands to his country men; they must not let it fall.

There is a duty and responsibility for every Canadian in the present re-adjustment period. If the principles of unity and justice are kept before our minds as they were always in the case of Sir Wilfrid, then we will meet the great task undaunted and Canada will emerge from its difficulties of the present into the happiness and prosperity of a country, thoroughly united and peopled by citizens who have learned that the middle path of moderation is the safest road for individuals as well as for nations. In helping to perpetuate the principle for which her greatest statesman unwaveringly stood in his every public action and private thought, Canada will have chosen the most fitting manner in which to do honour to the leader whose death the country is now mourning.

LAND SETTLEMENT

The need of speeding up in the Dominion Government's Land Settlement plan is recognized by the Toronto Mail and Empire, the Government's chief organ in Ontario which sympathizes with the returned soldiers and their complaints in regard to the lack of progress that has been made. Here is what the Mail has to say:—

"The complaints of returned soldiers in Calgary and other Western Canada cities about their inability to get settled on the free land promised in the Land Settlement scheme ought to receive attention in Ottawa. It is said there are hundreds of them waiting for the Settlement Board to provide quarter-sections on which to get to work—and in the meantime they are using up their limited capital in living expenses. The Land Settlement scheme, which is a big intricate affair, should be speeded up.

"With Spring approaching, and soldiers coming home at a rate of 30,000 or 40,000 a month and the Third Division now in England, the need for having ready large areas for soldier-settlement is obvious. Evidently most of the land to be given to the Western soldiers will have to be expropriated. That is the reason the Great War Veterans Association in Alberta is making a protest against the giving of large areas to Alberta merchants and farmers under lease for grazing purposes. Several years ago, for the encouragement of cattle-raising in the West, the Department of the Interior granted a large number of leases for grazing. But the lands were understood not to be first-class agricultural lands. The veterans who are clamoring for the land thus leased seem to regard them as first-class farming lands. If their statements are correct, the Government could reclaim some of this land and settle the men before the appropriation and other dilatory proceedings are carried through.

"Considering that one-third of the Canadian troops overseas have returned to Canada, the fact that demands for land have not hitherto been insistent shows that 50,000 acres might be sufficient to meet momentary needs. It is very desirable indeed that there be a minimum of red tape and official dilatoriness in bringing the Settlement scheme into full operation. The legislation required ought to come before Parliament at the first opportunity."

Grain to the home of Mr. "Ted" Cavers Turner's Weekly which is familiar with conditions in the West, also makes a vigorous plea for action:—

"Without detailed criticism of any of the tentative proposals which the authorities have published regarding the land Settlement legislation which they intend to bring forward at the next session, we would venture the opinion that any scheme, however excellent, will prove abortive if it is not operative this coming Spring. The Government has dallied too long with the question and immediate action is absolutely vital to success.

"As the Ottawa Citizen remarks, 'The situation is one that brooks no delay, and if the matter is allowed to drag much longer, the placing of men on the land this year will be either out of the question or else a useless and expensive, because belated, move.'"

The question should be among the first things to be considered by the House.

THEIR EYES ON THE SWORD

By H. F. GADSBY

OTTAWA, Feb. 20. — The war has brought not peace but a sword to Union Government. This sword is Criticism. There will be plenty of it this season. The good old hush-hush-me-too days are over.

The signs of changed times are visible everywhere at the Capital. The khaki has disappeared largely from the streets. Most of the swivel-chair generals and brigadiers have slumped back into "civies" in which, truth to tell, they do not look nearly so imposing. The Minister of Militia does not stalk about in uniform any longer. The Headquarters Staff has packed its glory of brass hat and red tabs in the old tin box with the moth balls and has become a sober hued citizen again. The captains and the kings are departing as rapidly as possible. The four years war madness is over and reason is about to resume her sway.

Of course some ravages of war remain—maimed men, a staggering national debt, a huge pension list, high taxes, the forty-two and a half per cent. tariff, the War Time Election Act, the press censorship, various war boards and commissions, and a raft of Orders-in-Council, which look now like ugly warts on the fair face of the British North America Act.

Certain of these disfigurements are bound to disappear quickly. The maimed heroes, the national debt, the pension list and the high taxes, we shall have with us for years to come, but I misjudge the temper of this House if it doesn't make an early effort to scrap the rest of the war machinery. Government by order-in-council wanes. Parliament waxes,—and bit by bit, and quickly at that, we are to get our shattered constitution back.

Parliament has long had a Committee on expiring laws. It never did anything. Most of the laws that were due to expire died a natural death, and were buried without ceremony. This committee can do good work with the Orders-in-Council, some of which are half dead already, while others are black in the face, and others again gasp for breath. The Committee will not be arrested for murder if it hits all of them on the head and puts them out of business. Nothing can be more ghastly than an Order-in-Council which hangs on with the death rattle in its throat.

Now that the war is over the War Time Election Act looks like a bad practical joke. The Joke is on Union Government which expected to be elected for five years on a whittled franchise and now finds itself with perhaps a year's existence in sight, and precarious at that. Union Government expects to survive this session, but after that the dark. It lived by the sword—expected to go on living by the sword, and now the sword—a hideous breach of faith with Union government—throws it down by making peace with the Germans. If Union government perishes within the next eighteen months it will be because the sword was sheathed too soon to suit its purposes. At all events the Opposition will say that a war-time government has another guess coming it it thinks it has a four years' peace mandate, and the Ginger Group in the House, headed by Sir Sam Hughes, and the Ginger Group outside, headed by the Hon. Bob Rogers, will develop the same line of attack. One of the first things Parliament will take a kick at is the War Time Election Act. It has few friends on either side of the House.

Of course all this is to say that party spirit is reviving. One war is finished—now let the other begin — the merry war of Grit and Tory that we have waged for fifty years and have not tired of yet—not by a long way. Humpty Dumpty had a great fall, but Humpty Dumpty, safe and sound is back on the wall. What all the King's horses and all the King's men did was simply to put him together again. The partakers of Union government may have been educated to lofty heights of brotherhood and loving kindness, but the people —never. They want their quarrels back—that being about the only way they can get a frank discussion of public questions. That is what Bob Rogers means when he says that he will wait and see, what Sam Hughes means when he breathes slaughter and what Dr. Michael Clark means when he hints that Union Government is now "on its merits." Red Michael was, above all, a Briton when the trumpet sounded, but now he is a free trader and a Liberal again and no doubt intends to cut loose. It bids fair to be a long session with plenty of plain talk from everybody concerned—a sort of ammunition dump for the next general election which may be nearer than many people surmise.

A heavy barrage fire will be directed against the press censorship which has outlived its usefulness.

Everybody in the House, except those hopelessly addicted to Union Government, will take a shot at it. The press censorship will die of shell shock or worse and when it crumples, some of the worst of the Orders-in-Council will come clattering down with it. The War Measures Act, may stand up for a while but it will be taking refuge in the reserve trenches. Once the press censorship is destroyed, free speech bobs up and the sword Union Government fears most —open criticism—hangs heavy over its head. My information is that the Ginger Group will be the first to crowbar the lid and take this good, old reliable Excelibur out of the box where Colonel Chambers keeps it.

When this sword is again suspended from the ceiling of the Green Chamber, the late lamented Damocles will have nothing on Union Government for nervous anxiety. We can imagine them examining the suspensive thread every day, expecting the knots they have tied in it to strength en the slender cord, and asking, while the cold sweat bedews their manly brows, "well how is the little old sword this morning?"

For example Sir Thomas White will look closely at the knot which stands for a forty-two and a half per cent. tariff. How long will it stay tied? Will it fray through? Will the Western Unionists? spill the beans The Western Unionists, by the way, don't like their name. It sounds like a certain American telegraph company and what they really want from now on is wireless politics which will give the farmer his full rights and reduce the pull of the Canadian Manufacturers Association to a minimum. It is only a question of time until the Western Unionists get back to those peaceful alignments and freer trade ideals which they intermitted while thewar was being won. Ifg the Finance Minister desires the sword to remain where it is he will probably shake a chiding finger at Big Business which wants war profits to continue after the war is over, even if the Government has to dip into the Victory Loan to "Stabilize prices" and cash the notes of shaky European republics.

The Hon. Arthur Meighen will pay close attention to the knot labelled land policy for returned soldiers. It seems to be very loosely tied. The war ended too soon for the Hon. Arthur. With Union Government safely entrenched the Minister of the Interior expected the war to make good for a considerable period The short, sharp way in which the Allies bit it off, at the first good chance, left Mr. Meighen and his land policy very much up in the air. In fact he had no policy and he had no land. He has had to make both up on the spur of the moment. He was in a ghastly state of unpreparedness, Mr. Meighen will have to tie the knot pretty tight and very soon or the sword will come crashing down on that long clever head of his.

Sir George Foster, if he ever comes out of this trance, will take a new turn in the knot, known as after-the-war trade. He has already realized that the Overseas Trade Commission which threatens to become permanent, and the War Trade Board, which was a special Band of Hope to corral European business, have not earned their salt and that for Canada is for the Canadian Manufacturers to send their own commercial travellers after it. He has realized it—as certain cable despatches indicate—but will he act upon it? If he doesn't down comes that cruel sword of his revered but lethargic cocoanut.

Juniors and Intermediates Will Clash To-night

To-night's City Championship game between the Peterboro Intermediate and Junior O.H.A. teams, will be called at 8.15 o'clock and there is a fast sheet of ice awaiting for the battle. Full teams will be at full strength for this game and it promises to be an exciting struggle all the way. The fans hardly know how to size up the game and both teams have many supporters who will be on hand to root for them to-night. The speed merchants on both outfits should have a good chance to show their wares in view of the ice conditions.

Matthewson Returns to America As Gas Goes Out of Use With the Signing of the Armistice

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. — Captain Christy Mathewson, who has been in France since September, when he went to a gas school there as an instructor, being assigned to the Twenty-eighth division, has arrived home aboard the Rotterdam. At Chaumont, he said, he met Captain Ty Cobb, Major Percy Haughton and Major Branch Hickey.

"All that Sherman said about war is true and then some!" was the way the famous pitcher described the war as he found it. "People over here ought to be glad that it was not fought out on this side of the Atlantic. I was assigned to the Twenty-eighth division as assistant gas officer, and was just about to get to the front when they signed that bit of paper which the Germans have found it impossible to tear up.

"Baseball will never be popular in France. The French think it too rough. We played many games in France, between Americans and Frenchmen, but it was soon evident that no Frenchman will ever become a proficient catcher. He is afraid the ball will hit him every minute and is altogether too nervous for that job.

"Some of my men were playing ball in the street one day, the catcher having a stone wall of a building back of him with about fifteen feet between him and the wall. Would French pedestrians walk back of him on their way? Not much! Every Frenchman felt sure that the catcher would miss the ball, and so traffic was blocked while the game went on. They preferred to wait to taking what they believed to be chances."

Captain Mathewson said that he did not think the baseball players now in the service would return home in time for the ball season. That is, he thought many of them would not.

"I came home, because in my branch of the service there is little need of my presence in France," said the popular Christy. Gas has gone out of use with the signing of the armistice. We might try it on some of the umpires, but that would be about all, and that would not keep me in France!"

De Laval Won Two Games

Last night in the business Men's Ten Pin League played at the Water street alleys, the De Lavals took two out of three games from the packers. For the losers Everett was high with 525, while Pratt had the high single of 213; for the De Lavals Ruiter had the high count of 518.

The scores:

| Matthews-Blackwell— | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|

RICKARD "OFFICIALLY" NOTIFIES WILLARD.

CHICAGO, Feb 20. — Jess Willard, the heavyweight pugilist champion, has been 'officially' advised by Tex Rickard that Jack Dempsey would be his opponent in the championship fight on July 4th.

"There was no significance to this meeting to-day," Ricard said. "I was in Chicago on the way west on some personal business. Willard came on some other business and decided to talk things over with me. There is a stipulation in our contract that I am personally to advise him who the opponent is to be. I did that on Tuesday."

Ricard has started for Fort Worth, Texas, in connection with some oil business. He said that his trip had no connection with the selection of a site for the fight. He declared he had received many bids, some of which were favorable beyond expectations, but that the arena would not be chosen until every consideration had been given all bids, which probably will be several weeks.

Willard came to Chicago from Kansas City where he disposed of his remaining circus equipment for $47,000. The champion is now free to prepare for the contest.

"I expect to start light training within a couple of weeks," Willard said. "That may seem a little early, but I have not taken much strenuous exercise for so long that I plan to start early."

Pte. J. A. Foster, 4th C.M.R., 161 London street.

U.T.S. Defeat Lindsay By 15-2

TORONTO, Feb. — University Schools acquired a lead of 13 goals with which to trade Lindsay on Friday night in the return game of the second half fixture of the Junior O.H.A., series by defeating Lindsay Midgets at the Arena last night by the score of 15 to 2. This lead, despite the fact that it is supposed to be an unlucky number, will probably be far too big for the Midgets to overcome, although they should show to far better advantage on their smaller ice at home and will probably force the issue all the way.

On the huge ice surface at the Arena Lindsay appeared to much disadvantage in contrast with the superior speed and weight of the local boys, but the main cause of their defeat lay in weak goal-tending and in their inability to bore in. They shot from well out practically all the time, which was "apple pie" for Joe Sullivan, and their combination failed to be effective when they struck the sturdy U.T.S. defence.

HOCKEY GAME IN BROCK STREET

An exciting game was played at Brock street rink last night between Robinson's Owls and Byers Factory Ends, which ended in the Owl's favour by the score of 6 to 5. The outstanding feature of the game was the great work of Creighton in goal for the Factory.

A return game is to be played early next week, when a team will be picked to represent the De Laval Hockey Club. The management of the above will like to hear from any other shop team who desire a game. Kindly answer through these columns.

Mr. Dyer Asserts Americans Die at Brest "Like Pigs"

War Department's "Criminal Carelessness" Again Denounced in House.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Attacks upon the War Department for alleged "criminal carelessness" at Brest, France, recently expressed by the Evening Teelgram, and for favouritism in favour of regular army officers and against National Guard officers, were renewed in the House. Representative Dyer (republican), of Missouri, told the House that "while we are waiting and trying to find out what the administration wants in regard to bringing the boys home they are dying like pigs from criminal carelessness of the War Department at Brest."

Representative Gallivan (democrat), of Massachusetts, read a letter showing that a Wyoming colonel, Joseph Cavander, had killed himself through disappointment caused by an order given to him which separated him from his command; that he had been officially reported as "killed in action," and that later this record had been revised to show he died of his own hand.

The facts about the Cavander case were related in a letter which Mr. Gallivan read to the House, as follows:

"Colonel Joseph Cavander, who left Wyoming with as good a regiment of husky Westerners as ever was organized, and who was transferred from the infantry to the artillery with no choice, and who took up the new work with vim and enthusiasm, and put together a regiment whose record has not been excelled, and which was on the fighting line for five months, was detached from the regiment and sent to the board. He was informed that he could take a captain's commission or go home. Broken-hearted, he walked over to the hotel and fired a .45-calibre pistol bullet into his brain, and then the casualty reports showed him 'killed in action'."

Later the War Department changed its record to show that the officer killed himself. Mr. Gallivan told the story in order, he said, that the House might know the facts about many injustices done by officers in high command.

RECITAL AT CONSERVATORY

A very interesting Piano Recital was given last evening at the Peterborough Conservatory of Music by Miss Dorothy Stuart, a very talented pupil of Mr. Gliddon. Miss Stuart played a difficult and exacting programme, with a distinction, brilliancy and refinement, that promises well for her future success as a concert pianist. Her playing shows the result of careful training and was a delightful surprise to her friends.

Programme

Following is the programme:

"Prelude and Fuge No. 12" Bach.
"Sonata Pathetigne" Grave. Allgro Moito.
"Adagio Cantabelo, Rondo" Beethoven.
"Barcarolle" Haberbier.
"Reveil di Printemps" Haberbier.
"Ballade op 47' Chopin.

Mr. R. Gliddon, musical director of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, is in Toronto, a guest at the banquet given to Dr. Dann, Dean of the Musical Faculty of Cornell University.

Dr. Dann will give an address on "Schools and Music Credits" to representative musicians of the province.

The Hamilton Board of Control has practically decided upon a 32-mill tax rate.

New Industry.

F. E. Partridge, of Guelph, is planning to erect a footwear plant capable of turning out 5,000 pairs a day and employing 500.

Alcohol Seized.

Chief Moffat of Merritton, Ont., investigating a tub of lard, found it to contain cows' bladders in which were four gallons of alcohol.

A New School.

Brantford Board of Education has decided to erect a twelve-room school, which will cost more than the $75,000 voted in January last.

WAS TAXIED TO POLICE STATION

Tom Flannery Paid One Dollar For This Luxurious Method of Travelling to the Clink

Tom Flannery, 202 Dublin street, went into a doctor's office on George street last night shortly after nine o'clock to get something for a cold. He reached the corner of McDonnel and George streets when two men planted him, according to his own story. He doesn't know who the men were; he was feeling too good for that. Whoever they were, they made a good job of it.

"One, two, three, four, five went on the Magistrate, carefully scanning the swollen features of the prisoner's face.

"No, there are only two marks," which goes to show what a poor counter Flannery is.

The unknown knocked Tom out completely and, contrary to tradition, a blue coat showed up and tried to escort him to a comfortable place for the night. By this time Tom had reached the water fountain that stands in Central Park. He kicked and he squirmed and he made a great fuss, but he almost gave up when two more constables dropped from a north bound George street car, but he didn't give up and neither did the policemen. A taxi was called, and after many ineffectual efforts he was shoved head foremost into the cab. He lashed out in all directions and after a few unsuccessful attempts to break the windows and land P. C. Bromley an uppercut, he was borne off in triumph to the police cells with his legs out of the car and moving like a Dutch windmill.

Still Groggy.

"You look as if you were guilty of something," commented the Magistrate.

Flannery was still groggy and din't know if he were guilty or whether he wasn't. "Oh, I guess I'm guilty," said he, more to end the suspense than anything else.

The bill amounted to $15.10, a ten dollar fine, one dollar for a taxi and $4.10 court costs.

"Now tell the Magistrate where you got your liquor," said the Chief, beaming on the prisoner. Flannery tried to beam back, but his right orbit somehow was not in good working order and the pain of his face was something terrible when he attempted to force a smile.

"Was the lamp post near," asked Mr. Dumble when Flannery had finished telling how his assailants had "planted" him.

"Oh, no, I didn't run against any lamp post," returned the prisoner with confidence.

"You look as if you had been dragging around the pavement," commented the Chief. Flannery had to turn his head when he was addressed because his right eye being out of commission he could see in only one direction at a time.

He doesn't know anything about the sparring match which took place between him and the constable, nor does he know just how comfortable the bed in the cells was. He does know, however, that he does not want to be remanded for a week, but that is just what the Magistrate did.

"Can't I go to work," asked Mr. Flannery.

"I suppose that they will give you work to do on the hill," replied the court.

PACKING HOUSE EMPLOYEES GET 10 PER CENT. MORE PAY.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 20. — Packing house employees received a 10 per cent advance in wages by the decision of the arbitrator, Judge Alschuler, who announced the award today.

Counsel for the packers estimated that the award would cost the packers $13,000,000 a year. About eighty-five thousand employees will receive the retroactive advance.

Judge Alschuler said that while there was a slight decline in some items of the cost of living, rents have gone up.

The advance is retroactive to November 10th. In addition the award grants 2½ cents an hour raise to all workers under 21 years of age whose earnings are less than 42½ cents an hour.

Labour Council to Negotiate With the Board of Trade

Will Ask for Larger Representation in That Body and Fair Measure of Influence.

FIREMEN'S UNION WELCOMED

The Trades and Labour Council last night welcomed delegates from the City Fire Fighters' Union, No. 109, of the International Association of Fire Fighters. They bore credentials signed by Arch. McDonald, president, and E. G. Johnston, secretary. The representatives to the Council are Thos. Hatley, Victor Lebarr, Percy Pannett, and E. G. Johnston, and alternates, Robert Wilson, Bruce Menzies, Jas. Weyer and W. Copperthwaite.

A communication from the Board of Trade invited nominations for the offices of the Board to be presented at the annual meeting on March 4th. It opened a discussion in which some members emphasized the desirability of securing for labour the representation on the Board which they deemed it deserved. The secretary was instructed to continue negotiations with the Board for that purpose.

One delegate asserted that a representative of the Trades and Labour Council should be on every committee of the Board of Trade. Others declared that a strong impression seemed to obtain regarding the Board's operations.

For New Representation.

A special committee recommended a new basis of representation for the locals in proportion to their membership, instead of the present method of receiving five delegates from each local. The report proposed as follows: Unions of less than 50 members, five delegates and an annual tax of $8; of 50 and less than 100, six delegates and tax of $12; over 100 and less than 200, seven delegates and tax of $18; over 200 eight delegates and tax of $24.

After a prolonged discussion the Council endorsed the report and instructed that delegates present it to their respective locals for their consideration and opinion. There are now sixteen Labour Unions in Peterborough.

The Council went on record as opposing the expenditure by the Police Commission of $175 for Chief Thompson's trip to the convention of Chief Constables at Calgary this year. A protest will also be forwarded to the Royal Commission now in session in Toronto, objecting to the administration of police departments by commissions, and requesting that this control revert to the municipal councils. A copy of this protest will also be sent to the City Council.

A resolution asking the City Council not to renew Yeates brothers' pool license, because of three convictions registered against them, was deferred until the secretary investigated the regulations and learned whether a protest could be made.

It was also decided to invite representatives of the Farmers' Association to meet the Labour Council for the purpose of discussing the conditions of the local milk vendors and of considering whether action may be initiated to prevent the Peterborough Pure Milk Company from gaining control of the retail milk business in this city. A delegate reported that a monopoly was impending, and he advocated that steps be taken to defeat it.

Will Write Sir Adam Beck.

Referring to the published accounts of the Hydro-Electric Commission's intention of securing electrical machinery outside of Canada, the Council decided to write Sir Adam Beck for information before protesting against this reported export of business that is needed by Canadian workingmen.

A resolution to invite the Ministerial Association to send representatives to the Labour Council was declared to be unconstitutional.

HUSBAND LEFT $25,000 WIDOW TELLS OF FINANCIAL STRAITS

Mrs. Stephen O'Connor Permitted to Occupy Farm the Stock and Implements of Which Were Sold at Auction —Transferred Insurance to Estate.

LAWYER THREATENED EXECUTORS

Although the late Stephen O'Connor left an estate worth between $25,000 and $30,000, his widow stated this morning that last year she had lived without receiving one cent from the monies and property left by her husband. She has brought an action for dower against her co-executors, J. F. O'Connor, Mr. J. S. A. Fitzgerald, and herself. Mr. John R. Corkery is solicitor for the defendants, and Mr. H. H. Davis of Kilmer, Irwin and Davis, Toronto, for the plaintiff.

Mr. Davis educed the fact in the hearing before Chief Justice Falconbridge that Mrs. O'Connor had placed entire dependence upon the executors and Mr. Corkery without realizing that their interests were connected to the affairs and management of the estate. When she entered a writ for dower on Jan. 29th, 1918, the executors notified her that the payment of the money Mr. Corkery had secured from the estate for the maintenance of her children was forthwith cancelled.

"They told me that when I was looking for dower I couldn't get maintenance," Mrs. O'Connor affirmed. By an application to Mr. Justice Middleton, $600 a year for two years had been granted from the estate for the maintenance of the children.

Mr. Davis stated that they had paid Mrs. O'Connor nothing since Jan. 29th, 1918, until Wednesday or Thursday of last week, when he took up her case and threatened to put Mr. Corkery and Mr. Fitzgerald in jail for contempt of court if the $600 that had been withheld was not paid at once.

The plaintiff stated that her husband's estate consisted of $11,000 insurance and four or five parcels of land in Ennismore and North Monaghan townships. Her husband died on January 25th, 1917. They had lived happily together and had four children ranging in years from four to 16. Mrs. O'Connor said that she didn't read the will and wasn't sure that she understood it to-day. The property comprised the Jopling, Killen, Cavanagh and Carney farms in Ennismore, and the Bennett farm in Monaghan. Plaintiff assigned the insurance to the estate, she said, and under the provisions of the will she was to get $100 a year from the Jopling farm when her youngest son, who was ten when his father died, reached the age of twenty-one, provided Mrs. O'Connor remained unmarried.

She was also to get $2,000 when the youngest boy came of age.

Mr. O'Connor had died on the Bennett farm, and the family remained in occupation, but the stock and implements had been sold at auction by the executors bringing about $2,000.

"I couldn't farm without stock and implements," Mrs. O'Connor said, "and I went into debt the first year." She had been left the household furniture. The executors wished her to remain on the farm where the children could be cared for.

Mr. Davis — So you gave up the $11,000, and all you got for it was the right to live on the Bennett farm on the conditions set out."

Mrs. O'Connor broke down when she told of the refusal of her co-executors to put up a simple monument to her husband.

They had told her they couldn't do it. She then ordered one costing $300 on a promissory note, and the holders were threatening to sue her for the money.

The Defense.

This afternoon the case was concluded with the evidence of Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Corkery, who stated that the terms of the will had simply been carried out. Mrs. O'Connor was left an interest in the Bennett property until her son reached twenty-one, giving her the right to live there, and also an annuity of $100 from the Jopling farm when he reached his majority, the first payment to be made by him to his mother on his twenty-second birthday. Mr. Corkery had explained to her that the dower meant one-third of the rents and profits from the property. The defense argued that the benefits bequeathed to Mrs. O'Connor by her husband were in lieu of dower, and also that having accepted the benefits dower was stopped.

Judgment was reserved, and the argument will be submitted in writing.

Chief Justice Falconbridge returned to Toronto this afternoon.

INDIAN WHO TRIED TO AID GORDON IN KHARTUM DIES

MONTREAL, Feb. 20.— Jean Baptiste Canadieu, an Iroquois Indian, who with a party of men in whale boats tried to traverse the cataracts of the Nile and forward British troops to assist General Gordon in Khartum in 1885, died Saturday at his home in Caughnawaga. He was seventy-eight years old.

"Big John," as he was familiarly known, was famed throughout Canada for his annual exploit of "shooting" the dangerous Lachine Rapids in a large wooden canoe each New Year's Day.

LONG NEGLECTED, PARLIAMENT RE-OPENED

et Ministers here attend the House more frequently than last session. Borden, Sifton, Foster and Doherty are away, but there are enough left to make a good showing in the House if they care to come.

Never was Parliament so neglected by the Ministers as last year. For long stretches, Mr. Sifton would be the only Minister in his seat, and he didn't appear to be particularly excited about its proceedings. Even men who previously had been active parliamentarians visited the House only on rare occasions. The explanation, and in many respects it was a valid one, was that the Ministers were overwhelmed with urgent executive business connected with the war and simply could not spend their time in the House or anywhere else, but in their offices. The strain has now been lifted a bit, and it will be worth watching to see if the Ministers begin to frequent the House again.

It wasn't only in Canada that Parliament was overshadowed. In Great Britain, Lloyd George rarely went to the House. He was the first Premier who for long periods almost ignored its existence. His absence, however, was made constitutional by the appointment of Bonar Law as leader of the Government in the House of Commons with Lord Curzon holding a similar post in the Lords.

Shift of Power.

In England during the war though there was a shift of power to the executive similar to what occurred here, Parliament at least was kept in session for much longer periods than in Canada, and touch with the people through their representatives, was thus maintained a little better.

As for the attendance of Ministers in Parliament, the British practice, even in normal times, is more and more in the direction of parliamentary under-secretaries who relieve their chiefs of much of the routine work of the House. There are few parliamentary under-secretaries here now, including Hugh Clark and, more lately, H. F. Keefer, but so far, such appointments have not altered our parliamentary practice to any considerable extent.

It still occupies a special field of its own, and there is still no danger of a usurper.

Ford Endurance, Ford Dependability, and Ford Service, have made the Ford Car universally popular, so much so that it is still true that "every third Car in Canada to-day is a Ford Car."

If you contemplate the purchase or a car let it be a FORD—and, by all means, BUY IT NOW. The sooner you buy the less it will cost.

This does not mean that the price will be raised, but it does mean that the production of cars will be entirely inadequate.

Spring is only a few weeks off. No Ford Dealer has enough cars to meet the requirements when Spring buying gets under way.

Pathetic Story Unveiled in the Matter-of-Fact Evidence of Outram vs. Guerin Case

The Daughter of Alfred J. Gaddye's Adopted Daughter Contested His Will Disposing of an Estate Worth $20,000—Had Married Against Wishes of Her Guardians, Witness Testified:

CLAIM WAS DISALLOWED

In the case of Outram vs Guerin, Chief Justice Falconbridge gave judgment declaring that Alfred J. Gaddye was of sound and disposing mind when he made his will, and that there had not been undue influence when it was executed. His Lordship ordered that it be probated. Costs were allowed Mr. Outrom's solicitor, Mr. F. D. Kerr, who was assisted by his brother, Mr. W. F. Kerr of Cobourg, also to M. H. Roach of Beaverton, solicitor for adult beneficiaries and to Mr. B. D. Hall, solicitor for infant beneficiaries. No costs allowed Mrs. Guerin who was represented by Mr. G. N. Gordon. The estate of $20,000 goes to Mr. Gaddye's nephews and nieces and their children.

A story abounding in human interest was unwoven in the evidence for the plaintiff in the case of Outram vs. Guerin before Chief Justice Sir Glenholm Falconbridge, at yesterday afternoon's session of the Assizes.

In this action W. J. Outram, executor of the last will and testament of the late Alfred J. Gaddye, asked for formal proof of the will, and for a declaration of the court that it was the last will of the deceased.

The defendant, Mrs. Ethel May Guerin, disputed the validity of the will, contending that Mr. Gaddye was not of sound mind when he signed it, and also that it was executed under undue influence.

Mr. F. D. Kerr was solicitor for the plaintiff, and Mr. G. N. Gordon for the defendant.

The hearing of this case induced the sense of witnessing an affecting drama that involved the lives of three persons now dead, and in which this lawsuit had its genesis. The sequence of the principal episodes was necessarily broken by the disconnected testimony, but they fitted together and arranged themselves in an easily comprehensible whole, or like the motion pictures, sustained and illuminated the action with "inserts" and "switchbacks," swiftly and intelligibly flashing upon an imaginary screen. It was such a series of living chapters that comprise in their hopes and disappointments, their revealing incidents and essentially human qualities, the little volume of experiences, more or less similar, that befall most men.

Like some of this season's dramas of the theatre, the action was retrogressive. It began with the last days of Alfred John Gaddye, when past 80, his doctor advised him to make his will disposing of property and lands worth about $20,000, and it carried backward through a generation to the first years of his childless marriage, when he and his wife took into their home a little girl upon whom they centred the affection, the care, and the expectations that had sought expression in the children they had desired and been denied.

The actors in this drama may be set out as follows:

Alfred John Gaddye.
Ruth Gaddye, his wife.
Fidella, their adopted daughter.
Ethel May Guerin, daughter of Fidella, who asserts that she is the sole heir.

The Story.

Dr. Morgan, the first witness, testified that he attended Mr. Gaddye at the Nicholls Hospital, during the latter part of January, and the first half of February, 1917.

"He was an old man living alone on George street, and I had him removed to the Hospital."

Mr. Outram stated that Mr. Gaddye was 82 years of age.

Mr. Kerr—"What would you say as to his mentality for making his will?"

"I think he was perfectly capable of making a will. Several days later I heard that he had made it."

Dr. Morgan added that Mr. Gaddye was strong willed. He had strenuously objected to going to the hospital, and it was only after considerable difficulty that he had been prevailed upon to go."

Mr. Gordon suggested that many persons objected to doctors and to going to hospitals, but Dr. Morgan replied in the same humour that he had not met any of them.

Deceased was a Recluse.

Continuing he stated Mr. Gaddye had lived alone for years, and was something of a hermit. His wife predeceased him by ten or eleven years. He became ill in January, 1917, the winter was severe, and it was necessary that the old man should receive proper care. The neighbors urged him to go, and Dr. Morgan finally succeeded in having him removed to the hospital.

To Mr. Gordon, witness stated that Mr. Gaddye drank liquor regularly took it every day, but he had seen him intoxicated only once. He had diabetes and arteriosclerosis.

Mr. Gordon directed his questions to the effect of hardening of the arteries upon Mr. Gaddye's brain, but Dr. Morgan explained that there would have been delusions as a symptom. He had died of diabetes and a general decline.

Miss Wood, his Private Nurse.

Miss Sarah Jane Wood, who had nursed Mr. Gaddye at the hospital, related the incidents of the execution of the will. She and Mr. Kerr were the only persons present, and had witnessed his signature. He had signed it unaided and was well enough to sit up in bed without a pillow prop. The will was made a few days after he went to the hospital.

Mr. Kerr—"What would you say of his mentality at that time?"

"I would say that he was apparently sound in mind."

"I believe he displayed an interest in his bills?"

"Yes; he didn't want to stay too long because of the expense."

Miss Wood said that Mr. Gaddye remained in the hospital a few weeks after he had made his will.

Mr. Gordon, cross-examining—"Why was it necessary to engage a special nurse?"

"The staff is often very busy."

Mr. Gordon—"And when the patient is very sick? Persons don't engage a special nurse for minor cases? That is a fair inference?"

Miss Wood—"Yes."

Witness said that Mr. Gaddye was very irrational when she first attended him a few hours after he had reached the hospital. He was under the influence of liquor.

Mr. Gordon reverted to the execution of the will.

Miss Wood recalled that before that occasion some of his relatives, including Mr. and Mrs. Outram, had visited him. She left the room during these visits, which were about 20 minutes in duration.

In re-examination Mr. Kerr adduced the fact that the old man was a smoker, and had expressed a wish to smoke when he first came, but the rules of the hospital forbade smoking in private rooms unless the patient had a special nurse attending him. That is why he had a private room and a special nurse.

Miss Eva Outram.

Miss Eva Outram, a public school teacher, testified that Mr. Gaddye was her father's uncle. She taught at the Auburn school, and in 1917 called frequently to see him on her way home. He announced that the doctor had advised him to make his will and he asked Miss Outram to prepare a list of all his relatives. She did so but he complained that it was too long. She deleted the names of the children of his nephews and nieces, and this list likewise was not approved by him. Mr. Gaddye said that this list would make the nieces and nephews rich and apportion nothing to the others. It was too short. Finally he accepted the first list.

"At the advice of my parents, I put Mrs. Reid's name on the list. She was not a relative, but she lived next door and had been kind to him. I told him he ought to leave her the house she lived in, but he got warm at that suggestion saying that she had been paid for everything she had done. Subsequently he left her $50."

Never Mentioned Defendant.

Continuing to Mr. Gordon, Miss Outram testified that Mr. Gaddye never spoke to her of Ethel May Guerin.

"Why didn't you put her name on the list?"

"It never entered our heads. I had only heard of her from my father and mother, and knew that she was not a relative."

Miss Outram said that she had heard that Mr. Gaddye had raised an adopted child, and that she had a daughter.

"The contention of your family was that this child was adopted and was not his natural child?"

"Yes."

Miss Outram affirmed that her grand uncle had been sociable and active. He went to all the best shows, attended church on Sunday evenings and visited back and forth with his relatives.

His Brother's Wife.

Mrs. Sophia Gaddye, sister-in-law of the deceased, had lived in Atherley, near Orillia, until Mr. Gaddye went to the hospital. She came to Peterboro to take care of him upon receipt of a letter from Miss Outram, and had attended him from the time of his return from the hospital until his death in August. Mr. Gaddye had told her that Ethel May Guerin was the daughter of the child that his wife raised.

"I asked him what love did she have for him more than the others had. He said, 'Love for my money.'"

"Did you know of any clothing he gave her?"

"Yes; she came in the spring. He told her she could have his wife's coat and a child's bed, but she never came for it, and I took it from what he said that she had despised them."

Mrs. Gaddye inherited nothing under the will.

The witness herself is an elderly woman. After Mr. Gaddye's death she found a tin box in his bureau drawer containing his marriage license and a document releasing to him and his wife the girl that they had brought up.

Mrs. William Outram.

Mrs. William Outram stated that Mr. Gaddye had been in the hospital for several days before he made his will. His mind was perfectly clear. He was taken to the hospital because of a weak spell that overcame him, and in which he was found on the floor of his home.

"After my first baby," witness stated, "Mr. and Mrs. Gaddye came to my home. Mr. Gaddye stayed in the kitchen talking to my husband. She came into my room. She appeared to be feeling badly, and I said, 'Aunt Ruth, you've never had a child?' She said, 'No; I've never been lucky enough.'"

"I knew she had raised a girl," Mrs. Outram said. "She was known as Fidella. I had never seen her. In days gone by, Aunt Ruth used to speak of her. Fidella died before I had a chance to become acquainted with her."

Married Albert Crouter.

"One day when Mrs. Gaddye heard that a neighbor was going to adopt a child, she said the woman would rue the day. Mrs. Gaddye said that she would never take another child. The girl she had brought up, she said, had married against her own and her husband's wishes. She married Ab. Crouter."

Mrs. Outram said there was no doubt that Mrs. Guerin was the daughter of that girl.

Continuing she recalled that after Fidellas' death she had heard that the child was being brought up by the father's people. She suggested that an effort should be made to secure it. Mr. Gaddye replied that she was a perfect stranger.

"See what Ruth says," he added. Mrs. Gaddye got the Crouter girl, but she stayed only half a day. She addressed Mrs. Gaddye as Grandma, but Mrs. Gaddye told her she was a Grandma, but that if the child would stay she could call her what Willie's children called her—'Auntie.'"

Mrs. Outram stated that in Mr. Gaddye's illness she had never mentioned Mrs. Guerin to him nor did he speak of her.

A School Girl Friend.

Mrs. Thomas Jewitt, who is apparently past middle age, touched a poignant note as she grew reminiscent of the girlhood friend she knew as Fidella.

"I met her," said the witness, "on the way to Sunday school at St. Luke's church. She told me her name was Fidella and that she lived with Mr. and Mrs. Gaddye, that they were not her parents, but had taken her when she was a child."

"Do you remember Fidella?" Mr. Kerr asked.

"I do, very well," Mrs. Jewitt answered with a kindly contemplative smile. "Then I moved to the country and lived there for seven years. When we came back I learned that Fidella had married a Mr. Crouter, and had died."

"When I was going to take a girl, Mrs. Gaddye advised me not to. She might cause me trouble, she said. Fidella had caused her trouble. She was all right while she was small, and until she grew big enough to mix with her relatives. Then she married Crouter against the wishes of Mrs. Gaddye and her husband. Mrs. Gaddye told me she never had a child of her own."

Mr. Gordon—"When was that?"

Mrs. Jewitt—"When we lived beside them."

"How many years before Mrs. Gaddye's death?"

"Perhaps ten years. It is about twenty five or more years ago."

"Do you remember Fidella?"

"Indeed I do. She had her hair down her back and she had a freckled face. I can see her——"

Mr. J. J. Hartley.

Mr. Hartley said he had known Mr. Gaddye in his younger days before he married. He was a bricklayer then. He married a Miss Hill. They lived for a time on Edinburgh street and then moved to Downer's Corners.

Mr. Kerr—Did you know the little girl with red hair?

"Yes, we used to call her Mr. Gaddye's adopted daughter. I never heard of them having a daughter of their own."

To Mr. Gordon—"I don't know that I ever heard Mr. Gaddye refer to her as an adopted daughter."

Mr. Kerr's Testimony.

At this morning's session Mr. F. D. Kerr went into the box to give evidence, and his brother Mr. W. F. Kerr of Cobourg assumed the case for the plaintiff from that stage.

Mrs. Ethel May Guerin was then called for the defense. Her father is Mr. Albert Crouter now living in this city. She had been brought up by her paternal grandparents in the country and came to Peterboro when she was ten or eleven years old to live with her father. She married William Guerin. Her mother died when she was two years old. Witness stated that Mr. Gaddye had said that her mother was his daughter. "I am so glad", he had said to witness "that I have some one to call me grandpa."

When Mr. and Mrs. Gaddye lived at Downer's corners she used to visit them nearly every Sunday, but not so frequently when they moved into the city.

When Mr. Gaddye came home from the hospital she visited him. His housekeeper told her that he was getting childish.

"I said to him that I heard he had made his will. Crying he said that they wanted his money and had got it at last. He also said that he would change his will so they wouldn't get it. He told me that my mother was his own daughter. Grandpa gave me a picture my mother had worked. On the bottom were the words Fidella E. G."

To Mr. Kerr the defendant said she had never seen her supposed grandfather until she was fourteen. "He never gave me any money after my marriage."

Albert Crouter.

Mr. Courter testified that he had married Fidella in 1887. She died three years later. She was living at Downer's Corners when he paid court to her. He kept company with her for nine months. Occasionally he called at her home.

"I asked Mr. and Mrs. Gaddye if they had anything against me marrying their daughter, and they said they were satisfied. Mr. Gaddye gave her a wedding present of $100. We visited them frequently. I married again."

Mr. William Guerin and Mr. [illegible] Reid were the last witnesses.

LABOUR'S REQUEST.

February 19th, 1919.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—In your editorial of Tuesday's Examiner, "Labour's Request," the question as asked; is it practicable? This request of a 40-hour week, and a minimum wage of five dollars a day. I would commend to your notice the system of the Henry Ford plant, which I believe practically meets the above demand, and pays five dollars a day minimum wage to the producer, and ten per cent. to the shareholder. T. Eaton & Co., of Toronto, if I am not misinformed, now works the five days a week system, with better results all round, pays as high a dividend as ever to its shareholders. The whole matter is summed up in the word efficiency; and the producer is getting nothing more than justice, in the shorter hours and minimum wage as their share of that efficiency. With this system of efficiency, production is greatly increased, through physical fitness of the worker, and improved machinery. If the world's markets ever demand more production than an eight-hour-day can produce, work two shifts of six hours each, this will help solve the unemployment situation, and the manufacturer, will get a 12-hour producing day, in place of eight. Competition demands efficiency, and it is this which causes centralization of industry and capital, which cause the weaker concerns to go to the wall; a natural result of our present form of civilization; "not the demands of labour." If industry was justly controlled there would be no labour question. To hire a man for 25 cents per hour when his pay should be 25 cents might be called "good business," but is it fair? (Modern business principles). As to the dear Senator's remarks: Workingmen of Peterborough had a talk with him; his conversation made us feel ten years younger, because he discussed labour as understood in 1909, not 1919, and after four and one-half years of war.

PTE. R. G. MARTIN DIED IN ENGLAND

Home is at 711 Bethune Street —Enlisted in 1916

At Kimmel Park Military Hospital, England, on February 13th inst. 868230, Private Russel Garfield Martin, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Martin, of 711 Bethune street, Peterboro, died of pneumonia.

He had arrived in England only a short time before, as the last letters received were written on Jan. 25th, in France.

Pte. Martin enlisted at Longford Mills, Ont., in the 182nd Batt., then in training at Beaverton, in April, 1916. In July, 1916, he transferred to the 116th Batt., to help make up the required number to proceed overseas as a complete battalion. During the following winter, on the departure of the 116th for France, he was transferred to the 139th Batt., and later to the 25th Co., of the Forestry Corps, with which he went to France, where he served since. His brother, Pte. A. H. F. Martin of Salmon Arm, B.C., who was also in service in France in the Forestry Corps, came over on the Aquitania and got home on Feb. 1st.

OBITUARY

MRS. AARON COMSTOCK

Mrs. Aaron Comstock, an aged and respected resident of this city for many years passed away yesterday at her late residence, 305 Water street.

The late Mrs. Comstock, the Miss Mary Ann Martin was born in East City in 1843 and was married to Mr. Aaron Comstock in 1869.

She leaves to mourn her loss three sons, William, John and Manson, and three daughters, Mrs. R. H. Boyle, St. Catharines; Miss Lottie at home, and Mrs. John McIntyre of this city.

The funeral will take place from the family residence 305 Water street on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Canon J. C. Davidson of St. John's Anglican Church will conduct the service.

SIR WILFRID IS HONOURED IN DEATH

Canadian Papal Delegate Will Be Celebrant of High Mass at Former Premier's Funeral—College Associates Will Assist.

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—Monsignor Petro Dimaris, Papal delegate to Canada, will be the celebrant of solemn High mass at eleven o'clock Saturday morning at the religious services at the funeral of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. A representative of Assumption College, of the Alma Mater of Sir Wilfrid, will be the sub-deacon of the mass. Several other priests will assist.

$1,000 DAMAGES.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 20. — A small boy who strayed from his mother during their after luncheon stroll wrought nearly $1000 property loss at one of the fashionable boardwalk shops. The child released an iron night gate that was tied back at the entrance of the store and the heavy frame crashed into the plate glass show window and wrecked the store front.

LORD READING RESUMES POST.

LONDON, Feb 21 — Earl Reading sailed to-day to resume his post as Ambassador in the United States.

Will Remove Restrictions on Local Restaurants

Legal Committee Make a Recommendation—Fuel Commission Wound Up Its Affairs.

Last night the legal committee with very little discussion recommended to the City Council that the existing bye-law restricting the open hours of local restaurants on Sunday be repealed. Mr. G. N. Gordon was present in the interests of the restaurant keepers. Ald. Phelan moved the recommendation and Ald. Garside seconded it.

Mr. C. R. Widdifield, the new City Solicitor, was introduced to the Committee and took his place at the Board for the first time. The Committee recommenedd that $2,200 be set aside by the City Council for the use of the Legal Committee.

Inspect Bridge.

On motion of Ald. Gainey and seconded by Ald. Garside, the City Clerk was instructed to write to the Dominion Railway Board asking that the city be advised when their engineer will arrive in the city to inspect the G.T.R. bridge on Bethune street.

Chairman Tupper thought the sheet on the file regarding the city versus Bogue and Conroy contractors had been thumbed enough and that the matter should be cleared up as soon as possible. On motion of Ald. Gainey and seconded by Ald. Garside the City Solicitor was instructed to look into the matter and get everything concerning the matter in shipshape order. This case is over a year old and has been on the file of the legal committee ever since.

Mr. Widdifield was also requested to communicate with the executors of the E. Greene Estate and ascertain what offer they will make for a portion of the reserve along the river running from Charlotte street which they wish to acquire.

A Valedictory.

The Fuel Commission practically wound up its affairs at last night's meeting. Present were Mr. Joseph Wearing, chairman, and Mr. T. C. Quinn. They decided to ask the city council to relieve them of their duties as Fuel Commissioners for the city as they were no longer required in that capacity.

All the fuel regulations that the local board have made were rescinded including the regulations requiring reports from the local coal dealers regarding their supply of fuel on hand.

A letter was read from Mr. E. L. Cousins, Assistant Fuel Administrator for Ontario in which he stated that he had no objection to the dealers in Peterborough delivering coal to the residents for their normal needs up to March 31, which being interpreted means that a householder may have all the coal that they require.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Alderman J. J. Turner took the time on Tuesday evening to celebrate his birthday. Immediate friends and relatives spent a very pleasant evening.

Miss May Laing, 489 Cedar street graduate nurse of the Toronto General Hospital, has received an appointment as a nurse on the public health staff of the city of Toronto.

To-night the hostesses at the exhibition of paintings being held in the Public Library will be Mrs. R. Gliddon, Mrs. Robert Neill, Mrs. A. E. Sherwood. To-morrow afternoon, Mrs. A. Mowat, Mrs. F. C. Neil and Mrs. W. H. Hill will be the hostesses.

Mr. Martin Mowry, of Toronto, was in the city visiting his mother, who is leaving Nicholls Hospital this afternoon to go to the home of her son Mr. M. Mowry, 586 Charlotte street.

The condition of Ald. Murray, who has been seriously ill with diabetes is reported to be somewhat better to day.

Miss Myrtle Telford returned to Toronto, after spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. James Telford 658 Concession street.

Mrs. J. R. Stratton and Mrs. Ormond leave to-day to spend the balance of the winter in Los Angeles, Cal.—Toronto Globe.

Mrs. Carnegie, who has spent the past few months in Simcoe, returned to the city on Friday.

Miss Elinor Seward is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Peck, East City.

Mrs. Mowry is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hall, Toronto.

Mrs. Wm. Emery, 374½ George street, is convalescent after her recent illness.

Mrs. Seward, Toronto, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Peck, East City.

Mr. R. B. Rogers has received word that his sons, Captain Harry Rogers and Corporal Heber Rogers, both of whom were recently released from prison camps in Germany, are expected to arrive shortly in Canada and that their arrival has been delayed so far on account of the strikes in London.

SOLDIERS ARRIVED HOME LAST NIGHT

Eleven more soldiers arrived in the city last night by the Grank Trunk and were met by Adjutant Buntin at the platform. Amongst these were Cadet D. V. B. Lyle, Ptes. O. Spillsbury, C. C. Mowry and W. McNab. Cadet Lyle went overseas with the Queen's Field Ambulance Corps in October, 1916, and transferred to the Sanitary Section with which he went to France in June, 1918. While in France he was given a commission with the Air Force and returned to England to qualify two days before the signing of the armistice.

RESTORE THE NATURAL SIGHT

Beating the German Spy System

Further light on the methods employed by the British Directorate of Special Intelligence in detecting German spies was given in the farewell address of Brigadier-General Cockerill to his staff. "We used to stop 1,000 letters a day," he said, "because they contained information to the enemy, and, of course, a proportionate number of cables and telegrams. Just to show the keenness of the staff I may say that 150 dummy letters were posted in the ordinary way, and addressed to places in neutral countries. The only way in which they differed from the usual type of letter was that they contained secret writing. They were sent as a check — and out of the 150 secret messages no fewer than 148 were detected.

The Department was much intrigued at one time over what appeared to be a very mysterious affair. Letters were being posted in different parts of the United Kingdom, all addressed to the same place in a foreign country. Each contained a certain number of playing cards from the same pack. They were all brought together—a secret message obviously being indicated — but the whole thing turned out to be nothing but an ingenious method to dodge the Customs by a bridge-playing lady living in a neutral country where the tax on playing cards was very high.

Lovers of the story of the "Russians" who passed through England in the early months of the war will be interested to learn that at the time the spy Lody was caught— he was afterwards shot in the Tower— he was sending information to Germany as to the number of these same "Russians" on the way to the front.

One of General Cockerill's souvenirs is the signature of the King, originally written in invisible ink, when His Majesty visited the postal censorship. The ink was prepared by the King himself by soaking in water a piece of bootlace taken from an enemy agent, who had used it as a means of conveying into his country a preparation suitable for secret writing. A similar kind of ink had previously been obtained from a pair of socks taken from another German agent, who was afterwards sentenced to death.

POWER FOR TOWNS IN EAST PETERBORO

ENGINEER IRELAND STATES THAT LINE WILL BE CONSTRUCTED WHEN TIME IS OPPORTUNE

At a meeting held in Norwood by the Councils of Hastings, Havelock and Norwood, Mr. G. L. Ireland, an engineer of the Hydro Electric Power Commission said that the Commission had decided to build the trunk line from Healey Falls to Peterboro just as soon as the Commission thought that prices of material had reached a normal level.

Engineer Ireland stated that then the three villages could obtain Hydro power, and outlined the proceedure that would have to be taken.

In brief the Commission had decided to build one sub-division at Norwood, and the three municipalities would be served from that point by low voltage service lines to Hastings and to Hovelock, the price to each being the same, delivered at the village limits. On each of these lines farmers could also obtain a service.

Just when the Commission will proceed is hard to say, but prospects are that the trunk line will be proceedad with this fall.

In view of this assurance by engineer Ireland, it was decided to cancel the proposed deputation to Toronto to interview Sir Adam Beck, because the object of that proposed trip was to induce the Commission to state that the trunk line would be constructed.

GRAIN MARKET

Corn was again strong on the up grade yesterday, February closing at the high for the day at 3 1-2c. over Wednesday's close, May 3 3-8c. up, and March and July each 3c. up. Farmers' deliveries of corn continue very light, and the short interests are becoming very anxious. Oats again followed corn, going strong at Chicago and Winnipeg. Local cash are higher, though business continues extremely quiet. While a little Manitoba flour is beginning to move, there is nothing doing with Ontario flour. Barley is strong, with a good enquiry for export.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 northern, $2.24 1-2; No. 2 northern, $2.20 1-2; No. 3 northern, $2.17; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

Manitoba oats—No. 2 C.W., 79 1-4c., in store, Fort William; No. 3, 63 3-4c.; extra No. 1 feed, 65 1-4c.; No. 1 feed, 61 3-4c.; No. 2 feed, 57 7-8c.

Manitoba barley, in store, Fort William; No. 3 C.W., 80c.; No. 4 C.W., 81c.; rejected, 74c.; feed, 74c.

Ontario wheat—No. 1 winter, $2.14 to $2.20; No. 2 winter, $2.11 to $2.19; No. 3 winter, $2.07 to $2.15; No. 1 spring, $2.09 to $2.17; No. 2 spring, $2.06 to $2.14; No. 3 spring, $2.02 to $2.10 f.o.b. shipping points, according to freight.

Ontario oats—No. 2, white, 58c to 61c; No. 3, 57c to 60c, according to freight outside.

Barley—Malting, 77c. to 80c.

Peas—No. 2, $1.75 to $1.80, according to freight outside.

Buckwheat—No. 2, 85c., nominal.

Rye—No. 2, $1.25 nominal.

Manitoba flour, government standard, $10.85 to $11.10 Toronto.

Ontario Flour—Government standard, $9.75, Toronto-Montreal, $9.75, new bags.

Mill feed—Car lots, delivered, Montreal, shorts, $42.25; bran, $40.25; feed flour, not quoted; middlings, not quoted; good feed flour, per bag, $3.25 to $3.50.

Hay—Baled, track, Toronto, car lots, No. 1, $20 to $21; No. 2 mixed, $18 to $19 per ton; straw, car lots, $10 to $11.

Voice of the People

Peterboro, Feb. 20th.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

I was very much interested in Mr. F. W. Miller's statement in the Examiner of yesterday concerning the farmers wanting men to work but he never stated the wages offered by some of them. I have worked on a farm for 30 years and might have to do so again but not on your life for one dollar per day for six days a week and Sunday thrown in. That is just what I was offered from a farmer in good circumstances to-day. That's good wages with wood at $13 per cord, coal at $12 and flour at $12 per barrel.

Thanking you for space, in your worthy Examiner.

Yours truly,
"A Working Man."

FEELS TWENTY YEARS YOUNGER

Can Walk a Mile Now Where Before Taking Tanlac Couldn't Go Two Blocks.

"Since Tanlac has relieved me and built me up so much I feel twenty years younger," said Mrs. W. B. Lapsley, who resides at West 121515 Eleventh Ave., Spokane, Wash., recently.

"I had suffered from stomach trouble," she continued, "until I had become almost a nervous wreck and unable to do my housework and look after my children. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could hardly retain a thing I would eat. I lived for days at a time on nothing but boiled milk and poached eggs, and half the time they failed to agree with me. I was kept on a diet all the time and my stomach was pumped out nearly every day, but this nor anything else did me any good. I was advised that a higher altitude might help me, so I took a trip to the mountains in Canada, but came back home just as bad off as when I left. What I ate would sour on my stomach, and the gas formed by it would bloat me up terribly. Sometimes my heart would palpitate like some one beating with a hammer, and then stop suddenly and keep still so long that I though I would never draw another breath. My back, over my kidneys, hurt me dreadfully, and at times my left side pained me until I could hardly stand it. I was constantly taking something to relieve constipation and was almost frantic at times with headache, and was so nervous that sleep was almost impossible for me.

"Now, this is just the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac and I commenced to pick up with my first bottle. It was only a short time until I was eating most anything I wanted. I can now eat all kinds of vegetables, or anything else I want, without the least bit of trouble from it. My headaches and pain is all gone and I have already gained ten pounds in weight. I sleep like a child every night and have so much more strength and energy that I can walk a mile, where before I took Tanlac I couldn't walk two blocks without being all tired out. Tanlac has not only helped me, but my husband; who has been troubled with his stomach for a good many years, is now taking it with just as good results. Some of my neighbors are also taking it on my recommendation, so you can see what I think of it. I am thankful enough for what it has done for me to tell everybody about it.

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Best Mayor New York City Ever Had," is Mr. Hylan's One Ambition; He Says It Is

He Declares He Does Not Yearn to be President, But Expresses a Modest Wish to be Elected for Another Four Years.

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. Mayor Hylan said here that ambition is to be the best New York City ever had.

"I have no ambition to be Governor of the State of New York or President of the United States," he said. "I would like to be the best mayor New York City ever had.

"If I perform my duties faithfully and well the people may employ me for four years more when my present term of office expires. That would be sufficient honor for any man."

Mayor Hylan's statement was to Joseph L. Earman, president of the Florida Board of Control. After talking of his ambition and his hopes, he also expressed his opinion of Bolshevism, which, in the United States, he charged to the action of "certain few men" in forcing up the price of necessities of life beyond the reach of the poor.

Admits Hope for Re-election

He declared that if Bolshevism is to be fought it must be the federal authorities in the stamping out of profiteering.

When Mayor Hylan was seen at his hotel to-night he willingly repeated his conversation with Mr. Earman. He was asked if his statements with regard to the mayoralty means that he would be a candidate for a second term.

He said he had not referred to that directly, but that what he said to Mr. Earman expressed his views.

"I will have two years to serve," he added, "but my statement expressed my feelings."

Then Mayor Hylan took up the question of Bolshevism, which he declared was the "violent protest of the masses against selfishness, corruption and injustice of the classes."

"There is rapidly shaping in this country a movement the result of which means the destruction of both property and personal rights," he said. "Unless something is done to stop it, the people are likely to divide into two classes—those led by agitators, called Bolsheviki, who are a menace to our form of government, and the reactionary element, with powerful influence and enormous wealth and composed of men who are absolutely blind to the rights of others.

"What we call Bolshevism is the extreme of violent radicalism, the result of reactionary conditions equally as extreme.

"In other words, it is a violent protest by the masses against the selfishness, corruption and injustice of the classes.

"Certain few men in this country are responsible for Bolshevism and the red flag followers."

Illiteracy in the United States Army Amazes the Authorities

Indications From Draft That One-fourth of Male Population Cannot Read or Write—South Carolina Worst.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Striking figures dealing with illiteracy have been supplied to the Department of the Interior by the Surgeon General's Office of the army in connection with the consideration of the Smith-Bankhead Americanization bill which has just been introduced in Congress providing for co-operation between the Federal Bureau of Education and the States in bringing the English language and citizenship to native illiterates and non-English speaking persons.

The last prior indication as to illiteracy in this country was the census of 1910, which showed 5,500,000 immigrants and native illiterate persons over ten years of age, of whom 5,500,000 were unable to read and write English. The basic of the census reports was the ability of the individual to write his own name and his own opinionas to whether he could speak English. The figures just released to the Interior Department by the War Department would seem to indicate that one-fourth of the adult males in the United States are illiterate in any language. The reports indicate that the educated foreign-born have been quick to learn English.

The War Department's records show that 24.9 per cent. of the draft army examined by that department's agents were unable to read and understand a newspaper or write letters home. Of 1,552,256 examined, 386,196 were illiterate or unable to read or write English sufficiently to take the simple test "Alpha" and had to be classed "Betta." The Surgeon General's figures were compiled on account of the need for giving examinations for normal intelligence and the necessity in that connection, for the draftees to read simple questions. The standards for determining the ability of recruits to take these tests varied in different camps. The whether the man could read the newspaper or write letters to his family.

Record of Negros Good

One of the surprising features of the data, compiled by the Surgeon General's staff is the general indication that the percentage of negro illiteracy in some states is smaller than that of the whites, while another is the fact that most of the foreign-born who are educated in their own language can also read English. It is quite generally assumed that it would be easy to communicate with foreign-born residents who do not speak English by means of their own language, but it now appears that most of those who cannot read and write our language cannot read and write at all.

Ruth is Disappointed in Brian's Letters

CHAPTER CXXV

Now followed a period of waiting for Ruth—waiting for Brian's letter in reply to the one she had written about the baby. She watched nervously for the reported arrival of ships; and was disappointed in not hearing from him—long before it would have been possible for a letter to reach her.

Mandel wondered at the change in her at her repressed manner.

"She is anxious over something," he said to himself, just as he had said a short time before: "She is unhappy over something," then set himself to think of something to divert her.

Arthur Mandel longed for Ruth, yet his thought for her was singularly unselfish. The great melting pot of war, and war activities, had ennobled the man. He longed to see her happy, regardless of his own love for her. And whenever he saw her looking worried or anxious, he almost cursed Brian because of it.

He contantly gave her all the consideration possible in her work, but even so she carried a great deal of responsibility. He often wondered what he should have done in this crisis without her. Many of his clerks were either overseas or in camps. Some had volunteered, others been drafted. Like other business men, he was slowly replacing them either with men above the draft age, or with women. But it takes time to induct new help into such an establishment; and mistakes are costly. So Ruth often went home wearied in body and mind.

Little Brian was growing fast, and Mrs. Clayborne said, bid fair to be entirely spoiled when he became old enough to take advantage.

Rachel worshipped her "little Mussa" and Ruth idolized him. Mrs. Clayborne loved him dearly; altho in her heart she regretted that he was growing to resemble Brian.

"I wish he had looked like Ruth," she often murmured when she looked at the tiny features.

True to her determination, she tried to make things more lively for Ruth. She invited first Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss, then Mr and Mrs. Roberts in for cards, and occasionally to dinner. They were almost the only friends Ruth had made, as their circle was necessarily limited. Then once in a while she would ask Mr. Mandel. She was often puzzled by his manner when with Ruth. That he loved her niece she knew; but that he was becoming so unselfish in that love that Ruth's happiness, not his own, was his first consideration, she had not realized.

When finally a letter came from Brian, Ruth's hands trembled so she scarcely could open it. To her almost unbearable disappointment it was not in reply to the one telling him he was a father, but a belated one written about the time she had sent her own.

Tears of disappointment filled her eyes as she read. Then a fear took possession of her; fear that Brian might never know. He had expected to be sent from the place where she had addressed the letter; and more than half expected,—as he expressed it—to be in the fighting line when she received the letter.

He was plainly enthusiastic over the idea—rot ellious because of the long waiting. He pictured the exploits of some of the men who had gone over the top with honor and safety in glowing terms; and spoke of those who had gone West in the discharge of their duty as fortunate to have the privilege to die for their country.

Then he spoke again of Mollie. He told how she cheered the wounded, both our own boys and the blesse of France. How brave she was, and how she resisted at nothing, no matter how menial the task to help.

"There are many like her over here," he write, "but I tell you of her, because you know her. The men all love her. They call her "Little Mother" and she does mother them all, from bearded men to boys of seventeen, many of whom I strongly suspect have lied about their ages to fight for Uncle Sam. But such lies will not be held against them should they go West now; or should they come thru. Of that I am sure.

"I looked for a letter to-day, but none reached me. The mails are so uncertain that I am not blaming you, but them. I feel that there is a nice, long letter from you somewhere, waiting to be delivered to me, and I will try to possess my soul in patience until it appears. By the way, send me more chocolate next time. I have found a chum over here whose sweet tooth beats anything I ever heard of. So send me a double measure if you expect me to get a single cake. His name is 'Henderson,' 'Larry' his front name. He has your address so in case I am injured he will let you know. So unless you hear from him you may know that I am O.K. and loving you, Brian."

To-morrow—Brian Is Pleased That He Has a Son.

Do This Each Morning, You Won't Need Cascarets

Great exercise! Keeps Stomach, Liver and Bowels active. Nothing like it! Splendid!

But if you insist upon taking your exercise in an easy chair you simply must take a laxative occasionally. The very, very best laxative is Cascarets—10 cents a box. "They work while you sleep."

Nothing else works the bile, sour fermentations and poison from the liver and bowels like harmless Cascarets. When Headachy, Bilious, Constipated or if Breath is Tainted, Complexion Sallow, Stomach Sour, just take a Cascaret at night. Wake up next morning looking rosy and feeling fine. Cascarets never gripe or sicken. Cause no inconvenience!

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

BRITISH TO COMMEMORATE HEROIC DIVISIONS OF ARMY

LONDON, Feb. 20.—(British Wireless Service.)—In a statement on the work of the Imperial War Commission by Rudyard Kipling, announcement is made that memorials to commemorate the part borne by various army divisions or regiments in the campaign and battles, as for instance by the Canadians at Ypres, the South Africans in the Deville Wood, the Australians at Amiens, and the British at the breaking of the Hindenburg line, will be considered by representatives of the amilitary committee.

It has been recommended that in each cemetery there should be erected a "cross of sacrifice" and an altar or stone in remembrance of the dead and that the headstones of graves should be of uniform shape and size; these would be chiselled the name of the dead and his regiment and also a cross or other religious symbol of the dead man's faith.

OTTAWA FLORISTS' STOCKS DEPLETED

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—One result of the sudden death of Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been a dearth of flowers in Ottawa. Florists have been having so many orders that even the largest firms are now refusing to receive more, and are ordering flowers from as far as Boston. One man alone sent in orders for three thousand roses to Boston and the express cars coming to Ottawa to-morrow are reported to be carrying large quantities. One large car is expected by the Dominion Express Company to-day.

OUR HISTORIC FRIEND

PORTUGAL IS ANCIENT ALLY OF THE BRITISH.

The National Character of This Little Nation Has Always Been Misunderstood—Recent Death of Dr. Sidonia Paes Calls Attention to Past and Present of the Small Southern Republic.

ONCE again Portugal appears before the world in a role cruelly misrepresentative of her intrinsic worth, her aspirations and the potent influences which she has exerted on civilization. In the assassination of her estimable and scholarly president, Dr. Sidonia Paes, it is easy for the hasty-minded to read an alarming commentary on her national character. Mention of a much-advertised music hall star calls to mind the dethroned monarch, Manuel II., now a resident of England. His father, Carlos, and elder brother, Luiz Felipe, were slain in a bomb outrage. Ugly facts like these have naturally cast the impression that Portugal is a little nest of turbulent conspirators, a land as pestiferous as insignificant. Evil needs no press agent. Record of it travels with untamable swiftness. Despite these deplorable instances of political restlessness, stability and fidelity are cardinal elements of Portuguese character.

Great Britain has known this for centuries, accepted it almost as a matter of course, referred to it with comparative infrequency. Rather contemptuous indifference to Portugal and her achievements has been the most prevalent attitude of other countries. The Portuguese are an unboasting race, and hence misconception of their ideals and accomplishments has become chronic. At the risk of repeating facts which are perfectly assessable (though persistently ignored), it is part of fairness to restore proportion to the picture, and this is done in admirable fashion by an article in the Philadelphia Ledger. "Unstable" Portugal can afford to look with righteous scorn on the "scrap of paper" principle in international obligations. Since the fourteenth century she has kept inviolate treaty ties with Great Britain and at least twice in the midst of tremendous crises with which she had no direct concern. In 1385 five hundred English archers despatched to "old John of Gaunt" assisted the Portuguese to win their independence from Spain in the overwhelming victory of Aljubarrota, now commemorated in the exquisite abbey of Batalha, one of the most precious architectural gems in all Europe. Gratitude for this assistance has profoundly affected the whole course of Portugal's history.

The alliance was often strengthened, never imperilled. It has been said that Portugal of late years has materially profited by British support and thereby retained her hold on vast African colonies. Indorsement of this view can be validly made, but at the same time it is significant to note what Portugal did. In the two greatest armed struggles of history, with whose causes she was not originally involved — the Napoleonic wars and the late war conflict—her sense of treaty obligation was paramount. The glory of Wellington in the Peninsular campaign owes not a little to Portuguese fidelity, which permitted a base of operations to be maintained in the fair little kingdom. Sheer loyalty dictated Portugal's part when she enlisted in the European strife in 1916. She has poured forth such treasure as she possessed and gallant soldiers whose blood ennobles Flanders' fields. In the ruin which smote Gough's Fifth British Army on March 21, 1918, the Portuguese contingents also paid a tragic price for their espousal of freedom and solemn treaty pledges.

It is indeed a generous people who have now so happlessly lost an admirable national pilot. Charles II. casually realized this trait when he courted Catharine of Braganza and made her Queen of England. Portugal was weak then, but she was as ever lavish. In addition to a monetary dowry she turned over to Great Britain Tangier, and Bombay, now the choicest jewel of the whole British India empire. A nation cherishing such unselfish ideals of honor is assuredly worth consideration at an hour when her struggles for republican freedom are shadowed by a series of misfortunes. The democratic experiment in Portugal was bold indeed, for education had long languished in a land where a mild climate and a fertile soil make for debility, and where the poor are much more illiterate than wretched.

The Spaniards, in their lofty pride, are wont to regard the easy-going Portuguese as the "rubes" of the peninsula. They have helped to spread the false impression that a nation which discovered the sea route to India, which can claim the dauntless rover Da Gama and the immortal poet Camoens and the ancestors of Velasquez, which still holds nearly a million square miles of colonial empire in Africa and Asia, and whose language, the idiom of Brazil, is spoken by some 30,000,000 people, should shine by the reflected light of Castilian history in southwestern Europe. Simple-minded country folk, indeed, many of the grape growers along the Tagus, the Douro and the Mondego still are, and for that reason a certain amount of easily acquired political demagogy has smirched their ideals of self-determination. But there were minds and forces in Portugal keen enough and brave enough to break an absolete monarchy in 1910, when a new republic on the continent of Europe was truly a subject of scornful curiosity. It is profitable to recall this hopefulness of her statesmen, most of them products, as was Dr. Paes, of the venerable Coimbra University, just now when new electric seem to be gathering.

Idleness is such a slow traveller that poverty soon overtakes it.

Unless his wife's relations are rich and distinguished, the average man is never interested in them.

BRITISH NEED GREATEST NAVY

Theodore Roosevelt Makes an Important Statement.

SEES OUR POINT OF VIEW

Former President of United States Says That Great Britain Requires the Most Powerful Fleets In the World and Calls Upon His Countrymen to Back Up All the Just Claims of Allies.

ASSERTING that the United States has not done nearly as much as the British navy and the British, French and Italian armies to bring about the downfall of Germany, Theodore Roosevelt declared in a statement which he made in New York recently that it is "our business to stand by our Allies at the Peace Conference."

He said it should be "instantly conceded that Great Britain needs the world's most powerful navy and that it is "sheer nonsense" to say the American army was fighting for President Wilson's famous "fourteen points." He made the assertion "there was not one American soldier in every thousand who ever heard of them."

"The British Empire imperatively needs the greatest navy in the world, and this we should instantly concede," said the colonel. "Our need for a great navy comes next to hers and we should have the second navy in the world. Similarly France needs greater military strength than we do, but we should have all our young men trained to arms, on the general lines of the Swiss system.

"The 'freedom of the seas' is a phrase that may mean anything or nothing. If it is to be interpreted as Germany interprets it, it is thoroughly mischievous. There must be no interpretation of the phrase that would prevent the British navy in the event of any future war from repeating the tremendous service it has rendered in this war.

"The British must, of course, keep the colonies they have conquered.

"As for this nation, it must keep its absolute economic independence and raise or lower its economic barriers as its interest demand, for we have to look after the welfare of our own workingman. We must insist on the preservation of the Monroe Doctrine. We must keep the right to close the Panama Canal to our enemies in war time and we must not undertake to interfere in European, Asiatic or African matters, with which we ought to have properly no concern."

This address is a very significant one as it shows that the best type of United States citizen understands the claims of the British Empire that will be made at the Peace Conference.

Extraordinary Wagers.

Curious wagers are not so common now as in bygone days. In 1670, for instance, Lord Digby staked £50 that he would walk five miles round Newmarket Heath in a certain time, barefooted and stark naked, and lost by the narrow margin of half a minute, the King and all the court being witnesses of the performance.

In the latter half of the eighteenth century a Liverpool scientist bet a brother scientist that he would read a newspaper by the light of a farthing dip at a distance of 30 feet. The first scientist merely coated the inside of a shallow wooden box with sloping pieces of looking-glass, so as to form a concave lens, placed it behind his farthing dip, and easily read the small print at the distance named. The winning of the wager was witnessed by a Liverpool dockmaster, who ultimately applied the idea to lighthouse requirements, and evolved the modern reflected light.

About two years ago, during a yachting trip of members of the Mersey Docks and Harbor Board, Mr. A. W. Willmer, a leading Liverpool cotton broker, was presented with a pair of wooden shoes for his birthday, and another member of the board offered to contribute a sum of money to two charities if Mr. Willmer would go to the Cotton Exchange wearing them. For sweet charity's sake, Mr. Willmer appeared on 'Change wearing the wooden shoes, and the stakes were handed over to him.

Perhaps the limit was reached in a certain town in Canada, where a man propelled a green pea with a toothpick for about 80 yards along the pavement within half an hour of the stipulated time, and won his wager.—Tit-Bits.

Paper Clothing.

Underclothing made of finely crisped or grained paper, is now being manufactured in Japan. After the paper has been cut to a pattern, the different parts are sewn together and hemmed, and the places where the buttonholes are to be formed are strengthened with calico or linen. The paper is very strong and at the same time very flexible. After a garment has been worn a few hours it will interfere with the perspiration of the body no more than do garments made of cotton fabric. The paper is not sized, nor is it impermeable. After becoming wet the paper is difficult to tear. When an endeavor is made to tear it by hand it presents almost as much resistance as the thin skin used for making gloves.—Family Herald.

Sunday School Lesson Questions

(Feb. 23, 1919.)

Moses Praying for Israel. Exodus 32:1; 31:9. (May be used with missionary application.) The following questions are on Chapter 32 only.

Golden Ttext: The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working. James 5:16.

1. Verse 1. Why would you say or not that these Israelites were trusting more in Moses than they were in God?

2. How long had Moses been absent? (See Ex. 24:18.)

3. What was the real cause of these people wanting gods to be made for them?

4. Upon which would you say the average professed Christian places the greatest dependence, and why: His fellow men, money or God? —(This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.)

5. Verses 2-6. Which is the greater idolatry or folly, and why, for women to wear gold rings in their ears or to melt them up into images to represent God?

6. When a pastor sees that the influential majority of his church is bent upon card-playing, dancing, tippling, smoking and other worldly or sensuous things that do not make for spirituality, what should he do?

7. Which costs the more money, to serve god with all our hearts, or to follow a fashionable religion with the gratification of our sensuous nature?

8. Verses 7-8. What proportion of those who are soundly converted never lapse into temporary sin?

9. What is the culpability of the sin to ascribe to other causes, the blessings which come direct from God?

10. What was it a sign of that those people took the glory of their deliverance out of Egypt from Jehovah, and gave it to idols?

11. Verses 9-12. Did God actually want to destroy the people, root and branch, or did he say it to test the faith of Moses? Why?

12. Taking this conversation as literal between God and Moses, which would you say, and why, shows the fairer, or more statesmanlike spirit?

13. What argument does Moses use to persuade the Lord from destroying Israel?

14. If God appears to be harsh in his providence, or to do anything contrary to our reason, will he, and why, take it in good part, if we reverently protest?

15. Verses 13, 14. Was it a fair and respectful argument for Moses to remind the Almighty of his covenant, and is God pleased with us if we quote his own promises, and why?

16. Verses 15-20. Did Moses do well or ill, to get angry, and to break the tables of the testimony, and why?

17. What can you say for or against the destruction of so much valuable Gold?

18. Verses 15-20. When money is invested in that which is working the ruin of the people—like the liquor traffic for instance—why is it the duty of the government to confiscate the property in order to save the people?

19. Verses 21-35. Here is an account of great slaughter through the sin of idolatry; what is the extent of the annual slaughter of the liquor traffic?

Can't Crack This Safe.

The Krupps have produced a material for safes that is not easily fused or penetrated by the oxyhydrogen and oxyacetylene burners now in use by scientific crackmen. It is a variety of cast steel able to resist the best boring tools. It is estimated that to burn a hole of 3.2 inches in a plate of the material 1.6 inches thick would take from six to fourteen hours and necessitate the use of 3,000 gallons of acetylene and 3,000 gallons of oxygen.

Sat Up In Bed To Get Her Breath

Palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, inability to lie on the left side, feelings as if smothering, oppressed feeling in the chest, dizzy and faint spells, tired weak, worn out feeling, involuntary twitching of the muscles, sleeplessless, restless, etc., all point to the fact that either the heart or nerves, or both, are not what they should be. Any of these conditions should be remedied immediately so as to avoid a complete breakdown of the whole system.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring energy to the weakened constitution, strengthen and regulate the heart, and tone up the tired, overstrained nerves.

Mrs. William Steeves, Chemical Road, N.B., writes:— "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles and palpitation of the heart, which was so bad I had to sit up in bed to get my breath. I could not lie on my left side at all. I tried doctor after doctor, also several different remedies, but got no help from them. My mother insisted on me trying Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. By the time I had used one box, I was feeling very much better. I took in all three boxes, and now I am in perfect health and can enjoy a good sound sleep, and can lie on my left side without any trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BIG PROSPECTS IN FOWL.

A Dominion Professor Counts a Whole Lot on Chickens.

OTTAWA, Feb. 20. — At a convention of the poultrymen of Canada here, Professor F. C. Elford of the Dominion Experimental Farm, advocated the policy of 100 hens for every farmer in Canada, or 75,000,000 head by the next census, in 1921. Canada, at the low rate of six dozen eggs per hen per year, should then produce 450,000,000 dozen of which, allowing double the present domestic consumption, 90,000,000 would then be available for export.

"We must get rid of the mongrel hen, the non-producer," said Professor Elford.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Guaranteed to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigour and Nerve Force.

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symtoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

Weak, tired people regain strength and vigour; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks.

It is sold by McDermid & Jury in Peterborough and most all good druggists.

CAUTION:— Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Is Your Blood Poor? If it is, You Need Vinol

Anaemic, run-down, nervous, devitalized conditions result from poor or thin blood. A glance at the formula of Vinol, printed on the label, will show that it contains the very ingredients necessary to make good blood. It soon creates a healthy appetite, improves digestion, and helps you to get full benefit from your daily food, and builds you up.

Dunnville, N. H.

"My daughter was anaemic, had poor blood and suffered from indigestion and bilious attacks. As Vinol helped my son, I gave it to my daughter — she soon improved in health, and it has built her up and restored her health." — Mrs. N. Burnell.

Bradford, Pa.

"I have used Vinol for impoverished blood. I was broken out with a rash and run down so it was hard for me to keep about my work. Other medicines did no good, but Vinol enriched my blood and improved my condition very rapidly."-Rose Lasky.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

EDMOND ROSTAND.

Great French Writer of Brilliant Poetic Dramas.

There was a time when, led by Madame Bernhardt and Constant Coquelin, many literary leaders hailed Edmond Rostand as the equal of Shakespeare. Yet strangely enough, when Rostand died in Paris on Dec. 2nd, the world hardly stopped to glance in his direction. It seemed as though the achievements of the dramatist, "La Princesse Fontaine," "Les Romanesques," "Cyrano de Bergerac," "L'Aiglon," and "La Samaritaine," were entirely unknown to the present generation of people who like to talk about literature. He was the man of whose "merciless virtuosity of expression" Henry James spoke with something like admiration. When Coquelin played "Cyrano" and when Bernhardt appeared in "L'Aiglon," these pieces were the most discussed dramas of the year, both in Europe and America. Then came the astonishing "Chanticleer," the barnyard drama, which was badly cast on this continent, Maude Adams playing a role that was entirely beyond her. No other dramatist of the century had gifts that could be compared in any way to those of Edmond Rostand, [illegible] surely his passing ought not to have been treated as a thing of no importance.

In the New York Post there appeared an estimate of Edmond Rostand which will bear quoting. It justly estimates his genius and interprets the reason for his extraordinary vogue. The writer says: "The wearied last years of the nineteenth century suddenly found themselves confronted with this gorgeous and luxuriant blossoming of an almost Elizabethan gift, and rejoiced accordingly. The trick could still be turned, and the public of cheap magazines and Sunday editions could still be captured for true dramatic poetry. Fancy, wit, hyperbole, a fantastic but inexhaustible torrent of epithet, united with a real romantic spirit, gave Rostand his grip on a world-wide audience. "Cyrano" was not the romance of older days, of Hugo or De Musset. It was more sprightly and sparkling than the one, and more full of popular vigor than the other; it made fewer demands for depth of emotion and spirituality than either. It glittered and dazzled and amused; a meal of dainties, like Ragenau's pastry, fragrant and tempting, spread before a drone-jaded generation.

All the elements of success were in this play, as in those that followed. The earlier "Princesse Fontaine" makes a finer appeal, has a more rounded mood, sparkles less, but glows more. Yet "Cyrano" possesses a universal theme. Its subject, moreover, is one for which Rostand's genius was eminently fitted. He could let his fancy run wild within the spacious enclosure of Cyrano's tragic misunderstanding. The plot carries the imagery; and the riot of imagery, like the vine of roses that runs up to Roxane's balcony, covers the tragedy of the plot. The flavor of D'Artagnan is in "Cyrano," of duels and mighty feats of arms, but also a most un-Dumas like tenderness. The drama, above all, is splendidly playable, full of fine scenes and resonant rhetoric. The verse acts, which is truly a rare quality in dramatic verse. The famous "nose" speech really would force gesture out of a scarecrow; and the equally moving speech, with its constant refrain, in the second act, of "No, I thank you," in which Cyrano refuses to truckle to Richelieu for patronage, ending, "Not to mount high, perchance, but mount alone!" gives a superb opportunity for legitimate bravura.

Having recognized Rostand's extraordinary qualities, the more discerning must be inclined to agree with James in his general verdict. If that stale old distinction between wit and imagination were still valid, it would be applicable to the author of "Cyrano," "L'Aiglon," and "Chanticleer." He plays with language like a juggler who keeps on adding one more ball to those already in the air. But, when the balls drop, when the actor's voice ceases to resound, Rostand also ceases to echo in the soul. "Cyrano" remains a fancy. Think of Cyrano in Shakespeare's hands! In Rostand's own he never grows beyond the proportion of the original idea; the vast depths and heights that his situation might lead him to plumb stay sealed. Beneath the effervescence of fancy lurks a certain barrenness. The same might be said of "L'Aiglon." What theme more vast and noble, opening up more vistas, in the Hamlet vein. Yet, with all its rhetoric, and one, theatrically speaking, magnificent scene, the young, disinherited Napoleon II. remains an unimpressive figure. His tragedy fails to become that of his audience by the poet's power to generalize.

There's a distinction between "common" corn flakes and "The Best"

Try Miss Ranger For Alleged Fake of Brother's Will

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—Miss Edith M. Ranger, member of twenty women's clubs and prominent in the activities of the Women's Professional League and the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs, was placed on trial in the Supreme Court, charged with "conspiracy to pervert and obstruct justice by substituting in the Surrogate's Court a faked copy of a will to overthrow a true will of Henry Ward Ranger," her brother. Co-defendants on trial with Miss Ranger are Carl W. Myer and Richard D. Cunningham.

Mr. Ranger was a noted landscape artist and died on November 6, 1917. His estate was valued at $300,000. It is charged in the indictment that Miss Ranger and Messrs. Myer and Cunningham attempted to cause the revocation of the real will, dated January 21, 1914, and substitute an instrument which would have resulted in the entire estate going to the decendent's sisters as sole heir and next of kin. The defendants deny the allegations contained in the indicement. William Harman Black is counsel for the three accused.

Selection of jurors consumed most of the day and prosecution's case not introduced to the jury. Theodore L. Waugh and Thomas L. Sheridan, Assistant District Attorneys, appear for the people before Vernon M. Davis.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Colour, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn grey, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Peru and Chile Have Quarrel

PATRONS of a boxing meet expect the last bout on the card to be the most important of the evening; they would not sit to see a curtain-raiser at the time set for the fall of the curtain. This Anglo-Saxon custom must have been overlooked by Peru and Chile when, a few weeks ago, they decided to go to war. They have since concluded to arbitrate their differences, when they found that the world at large was prepared to take just as much interest in their arbitration as in their war. A few years ago the prospect of a war between these powers would have sent newspaper correspondents scurrying from all quarters of the earth. To-day the war correspondents who have not gone to Paris to attend the Peace Conference are looking up railroad timetables in preparation for lecturing tours. Newspapers would have let the office boys report the conflict in South America. It would have been an ironical comment upon civilization if, just at the end of the "war to end war," when the powers were about to gather together to form a League of Nations to keep the peace two lesser countries should have appealed to the sword.

There have been various explanations of the issue, between the two countries, and it is generally supposed to be a boundary dispute, but in reality it is a quarrel over an immensely rich tract of country, which for many years has been one of the chief sources of revenue to Chile. They fought over it once before and Chile won. That Chile would not have won again had the matter been left to arms it is difficult to believe. Between the two countries there stretches the immense waterless waste of Atacama and Tarapaca, which was for a long time supposed to be absolutely worthless since no rain falls there and nothing grows. But in the latter half of the nineteenth century it was discovered that in this waste were practically unlimited supplies of nitrate of soda, and since this fertilizer was in great demand in Europe, this desert suddenly became immensely valuable.

The Province of Tarapaca belonged to Peru at this time, Atacama to Chile, while adjoining were Arica and Tacna owned by Bolivia. All were in the heart of the nitrate deposits, the importance of which Chile was the first to discover. Chile then made a bargain with Bolivia whereby for a consideration of $10,000 she secured the right to the nitrate in the Bolivian territory, thus establishing a potential monopoly of an industry that was to attain enormous [illegible]

Ridge, with the exception of the nitrate that Peru could glean from her own province of Tarapaca. Peru industriously set to work, but Chile had the lead, and was never overtaken. It appears that one of the strange peculiarities of Peruvian nature is a jealousy of more thriving and prosperous neighbors, and she began to hope that Chile would choke. Bolivia also witnessed Chile's prosperity with ill-concealed feelings of envy, and finally the two entered into a defensive alliance. It is supposed that it was at the suggestion of Peru that Bolivia imposed a tax on all the nitrate that was exported from Tacna and Arica. This brought a fierce protest from Chile.

Bolivia disregarded the protest and attempted to collect the tax, whereupon Chile seized the port of Antofagasta—so now you see what the word means. This inevitably led to a declaration of war by Bolivia in 1879. Peru offered to act as mediator, but Chile suspecting that she would favor her partner in true Peruvian fashion refused her offices. It was then Peru's turn to grow suspicious, for she feared that victorious Chile might attempt to seize her own nitrate province of Tarapaca. So Peru declared war, and arrived just in time to take Bolivia's place, for the latter, with no navy and a small army, was speedily put out of action by her more powerful antagonist. Chile was, indeed, well prepared to fight. Her navy was made up of Ironclads, then modern, and her troops were Krupp-armed and well trained.

Peru had three ships of war, which fought gallantly against great odds. Her army was more numerous and succeeded in continuing the war for five years, at the end of which time Peru had to acknowledge herself beaten. Chile dictated the terms of peace, and annexed forever the Province of Tarapaca. The Bolivian provinces of Arica and Tacna were to be held by her for ten years, at the end of which time there was to be a plebiscite, the inhabitants of the provinces to determine what nation they wished to belong to. The lucky nation was to recompense the loser to the extent of $10,000,000. At the end of the ten years Chile offered to hold the plebiscite, but Peru refused, and has continued to refuse with each repetition of the offer, alleging that the conditions of the proposed referendum were unfair. The point is that Chile wants to confine the voters to the upper, educated or white classes, whatever they may be called, who are almost all Chileans. They are a minority, however, the masses of the population being made up of illiterate Indians, who are Peruvians. If everybody votes the province will probably go to Peru, for Bolivia has been lost in the shuffle. If it is a hand-picked electorate the provinces will remain with Chile. This is the problem that remains to be solved, but fortunately not by war.

Baby's Footprints.

As a means of establishing identity in future years, it is now the custom in many countries to take a baby's footprints soon after it is born. For, as with finger-prints, the impression affords a life record. That is to say from birth right through till death there will never be any change in the formation of the lines. The only difference will be in the size, and, of course, the footprints of no two babies are exactly alike.

The impression can be easily taken by any mother in her own home a few weeks after birth. All that is necessary is to cover the sole of the child's foot with printer's ink, by means of a roller, and then transfer the impression on to a sheet of paper. Afterwards the ink can be cleaned off the foot with alcohol. Provided that care be taken not to disturb the impression before it is dry, there will then be in existence a record of baby's identity which will carry weight in any court of law in after years.—Tit-Bits.

LAUGH AND GROW FAT.

"Laugh and grow fat," is an old saying laden with value for nervous people in particular. Drop the worry habit and use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you will soon get the nervous system restored to good condition. Digestion will improve, appetite will return, and you will find such symptoms as headache and sleeplessness fast disappearing.

RECEIVING WAR CROSS

The patriotic spirit and devotion with which Canadian women have so far performed war-service work and made sacrifices has never been equalled in the history of any country. Mothers, wives and sisters support this burden with strength and fortitude. But those who are already miserable from the complaints and weaknesses which are so common to women, should take the right temperance tonic for the womanly system.

If a woman is borne down by pain and sufferings, by nervousness or dizzy spells, by headache or backache, "Favorite Prescription" should be taken. It can now be had in tablet form as well as liquid at most drug stores. Send to Dr. Pierce's Branch at Bridgeburg, Ont., for a 10c trial pkg. of tablets.

For fifty years Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have been most satisfactory in liver and bowel troubles.

Windsor, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription made a new woman of me. For about six years I suffered with woman's trouble, during which time I became all run down, weak and nervous. I would have severe backaches and pains in my side. I doctored with the doctor but did not get cured of my ailment and was so bad that I could scarcely walk across the floor when I began taking the 'Prescription.' When I had taken two bottles I was much improved and four bottles completely cured me, and I have enjoyed better health than I ever did before taking this medicine. It is truly a wonderful medicine for women."—Mrs. Martha Mudgeon, 6 Albert St.

Lichnowsky Makes Appeal

DIRECTLY following the publication in Germany of the terms of the armistice signed Nov. 11, Prince Lichnowsky, the former German Ambassador to Great Britain, whose famous "My London Mission," laying the blame for the outbreak of the world war upon the shoulders of the Kaiser and the Junker clique, created such a sensation last March and eventually resulted in his being expelled from the Prussian House of Lords, addressed an appeal to the British nation on behalf of his defeated countrymen. This appeal, which was widely printed in the German press and was briefly mentioned in the cable reports, reads as follows:

"In this hour of misery and dejection I turn to the British nation and its leading statesmen, not in an official capacity but as a private citizen, a friend of England, as one of the many Germans who have condemned this unhappy war from the beginning, and who, despite all the horrors we have witnessed for more than four years, have never doubted the British people's sense of justice, its loyal intentions, and its sincere desire to offer us its hand for reconciliation after the end of this fratricidal strife.

"I turn to my many personal friends, particularly to Lord Lansdowne, Lord Grey and Mr. Asquith, and entreat them to throw their far-reaching influence, their great personal prestige that elevates them above all party differences, into the balance for the lofty ideals of humanity and justice that characterize their political past.

"I cannot believe that, after the objects for which Britain entered the war—the protection of Belgium and France and, finally, the transformation of Germany into a political entity based on democratic principles—have been achieved, the necessity for revenge, the wish to throttle the German people, are repressing all the other sentiments that dominated the British people during the war and which I have witnessed upon so many occasions.

"If I, since the beginning of the war, have never feared to declare that it was not the will for destruction, as was asserted by a blustering press, that drove the British Government into the war, I have reckoned, and so have many of my political friends, that the attitude of Great Britain after the end of the struggle would justify my views and bring evidence of the fact that the sense of humanity and justice had survived even the confusion of the war and would not impose anything upon the German people that has made, and must still make, such fearful sacrifices, which would signify its throttling and make impossible the subsequent mending of the torn bands uniting it with Great Britain.

"But the armistice conditions imposed upon us are inspired by a spirit that cannot be characterized as anything but that of revenge, because their scrupulous observance would infallibly result in misery and famine, anarchy and chaos. No government would be in a position to ward off the consequences of such conditions, to guard all Europe and the entire civilized world against the infectious danger of lawless tendencies, to prevent the transmission of Russian terrorism, the greatest and most dangerous enemy of democracy and freedom, to all the other members of the society of nations.

"In their own most vital interest our former enemies, with the great British nation at their head, must tell themselves that they ought to help us to maintain order instead of making it impossible for us to do so, and that they must not deprive the German people, which in its overwhelming majority did not want the war and which sincerely desires to enter the road leading to reconciliation and peaceful work as an active member of the great family of nations, or the foundations necessary for reconstruction after this unexampled catastrophe and for the erection of a new, peaceful, democratic state.

"Is it necessary for me to point out that a peace of violence effected by inhuman exploitation of our present situation would menace the ideal of the League of Nations, and endanger the future peace of the world, a peace accompanied by conditions bringing about our financial and economic ruin; that the dismemberment of the Fatherland, the detaching of districts indispensable, both geographically and economically, which owe their prosperity and their bloom to German administration and German order, would signify the destruction of the labor of many generations, and the abandonment of solid sections of the German people?

"As a German patriot, and, at the same time, as a friend of Great Britain, I address myself to the British people, to all Britishers who have preserved their sentiments of humanity and justice from the horror of this war, to those whose political perspective is not clouded by passions, and I ask them if they want to help us create a condition that makes possible, on new principles, the later reconciliation and drawing together, the restoration of the commercial relations indispensable to both nations, the mutual peaceful work in the service of ideal of a common humanity, or if they want to destroy this principle, to use a club on the German people and abandon it to chaos, and thus make illusory the world peace and the world order?

"I appeal not to sympathy but to intelligence, and I hope that my cry will not go unheeded."

atarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

TELLS SAFE AND SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, a few drops of phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the basic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.

FROM GERMAN TO FRENCH.

Names of the Rescued Provinces to Be Restored.

The newly-formed Association Generale des Alsaciens-Lorrains is issuing an appeal to the press and the educational institutions of Britain and America to restore the French spelling of geographical names of places in the redeemed provinces of Alsace and Lorraine. The appeal proceeds:

"While we realize that the German form has unfortunately been the enforced spelling for the last forty-seven years, we feel sure that when you reflect that many of us have during this time always continued the French chirography of these names and refrained from using the German spelling, you can be sure it jars upon us in these happy days to see this Teutonic form constantly employed.

"We are venturing to send you herewith a list of the French form of the principal cities, and if these can hereafter be employed you will be conferring the greatest favor upon all our compatriots."

| French. | German. |
|---|---|
| Strasbourg | Strassburg |
| Colmar | Kolmar |
| Mulhouse | Mulhausen |
| Saverne | Zabern |
| Wissembourg | Weissemburg |

The Golden-Tortoise Beetle.

What is that tiny, hovering gem, almost like a shooting spark, that flashes circling in the sun above the vines? See, there's another; it falls upon the foliage, leaving a glittering streak in its track, and immediately glides beneath the leaf. Come closer. We have struck a gold mine among this bindweed. Yes, it is more than gold—gold, pearl, and coral in wondrous alchemy. Look beneath this leaf, that burnished drop. That is the Cassida—the golden tortoise beetle—the one most richly endowed from, I venture to say, that the insect world can show. How the eager eyes of the visionary alchemist of old would have responded to this dance of the glittering midge! And yet I have never seen three people, outside of special students, who have known of this presence among the bindweed. This sort of genuine, winged gold is away below par. It is not quoted on the market, and hence the world knows it not. A nugget in the clod, and how quickly they had discovered it!—William Hamilton Gibson.

Labor-saving Appliances.

Revival of the wooden shipbuilding industry has brought into the limelight a number of labor-saving appliances, among which is a groove and planing machine, capable, it is claimed, of doing as much work as 15 to 20 men equipped with manual tools. The device, says the Popular Mechanics Magazine, weighs about 66 pounds and may be driven either by compressed air or electricity.

These Trade Marks Make it so Easy for You to Get Perfect Fitting Rubbers

SINCE the Dominion Rubber System focused their experience and skill on Rubber Footwear, they have made rubbers a comfortable and economical necessity.

There are no better rubbers in the world than those made and guaranteed by Canada's great pioneers in rubber goods; and no other country can boast of having six brands as consistently good as

"Jacques Cartier" "Merchants" "Maple Leaf" "Granby" "Dominion" "Daisy"

More than this, the enormous demand for these rubbers, due to their uniformly high quality, enables the Dominion Rubber System to make rubbers in every style and shape to fit every shoe.

These are two reasons why the leading stores like to carry, and are glad to recommend, any of these Dominion Rubber System brands of guaranteed rubbers.

Look for the Trademarks when you buy.

Was Troubled With BOILS FOR SIX MONTHS.

From the days of Job to the present time, boils have been one of the greatest afflictions of the human race.

Very few people escape from having them at some time.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do won't cure them and stop more coming.

Boils are caused by bad blood bursting out, and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils will disappear.

Burdock Blood Bitters is the greatest blood purifier known. It cleanses the system, and purifies the blood by removing every particle of foul material from the system, and when this is done, never another boil comes and health and strength are permanently restored.

Mr. C. H. Bridges, 470 Barton St. E., Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with boils for about six months and tried several remedies without any relief until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters, and the effect has been wonderful. After using two bottles, I was rid of them all. I feel like a new man; my appetite is better, and I sleep better than I have for years. I can highly recommend B. B. B. to all who are troubled as I was."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for the past 40 years; and manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Shooting Trees.

For literally shooting trees to death a pistol has been invented by an Englishman that fires steel bolts into their limbs to tear out the living cores.

Picture Fans In Great Britain.

The latest figures show that there are 4,500 picture houses in the United Kingdom, with an annual attendance of 1,075,000,000.

The time that a lock patented by a United States inventor is locked or unlocked is recorded on a paper ribbon.

The Largest Clock.

A largest clock in the world adorns the tower of an insurance company's building in Liverpool. It has four dials of twenty-five feet each in diameter, and minute hands fourteen feet in length.

Cars in Mud.

To enable automobiles to run over deep sand or mud, light perforated and elevated steel rims that can replace the tires on wheels have been invented.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to such in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water dissolve grease and freshen the skin on the outside, so hot water with limestone phosphate put on the inside effects (illegible) (illegible) (illegible)

Chocolates as a Dessert

"PASS the chocolates again, please." They certainly give a finesse to the meal, which is a most decided improvement over the customary heavy puddings or fancy pastries.

Good chocolates are quite the vogue now for the third course and as a tasty, profitable and beneficial dessert their use is a most sensible custom.

The many occasions on which chocolates can be served with relish and appreciation, make them almost a household necessity.

As delicate, delicious desserts—at afternoon tea—as a relish for luncheon—'mid the family circle in quiet hours—or at late suppers—chocolates may be served with excellent taste and good form.

Chocolates are not a luxury. They are energy-producing food and can be eaten in your home with benefit to both old and young.

Canadian-made chocolates have no superiors. Their high standards of quality and wholesomeness are obtained by purity in manufacture and the careful selection of all materials used.

WHY LVOFF FAILED.

Leader of Best Element Among the Russian Reformers

Prince George E. Lvoff has come to America to convince the people of this continent that Russia's revolution is about spent and that Russia is about ready to return to the aims and ideals that animated the first Provisional Government, of which he was Premier.

It was his Government which on the overthrow of the Czar and the pro-German Protopopoff by the rabble and soldiers in Petrograd gave some semblance of order to the revolution and some promise that the Russian middle class would master the chaos that threatened. Its definite failure found Lvoff in Siberia maintaining the fight for the cause of Russian republicanism.

Prince Lvoff, as Prime Minister of the Provisional Government undertaken by the Duma until such time as the constituent assembly should be called, strove vainly to re-establish authority in the land. His Government, however, from the beginning was under the thumb of the soldiers' and workmen's committee, and, lacking even the shadow of authority, was helpless to check the drift toward peace with Germany and social disintegration within the mighty empire.

When Lvoff finally turned over the semblance of responsibility to Alexander Kerensky the revolution had passed beyond the control of democrats and into the hands of the extreme radicals. There have not been wanting accusers to maintain that the first Provisional Government, formed by Premier Lvoff, failed to recognize the scope of its responsibilities to the country and that by neglecting to take firm hold while there was yet time made itself answerable for the failures and crimes of Bolshevism.

Lvoff is an aristocrat of the aristocrats by birth, tracing his ancestry to Rurik, the prince who created in the ninth century the kernel of future Muscovy. He is a Slav of blood uncrossed with German and during his whole life has displayed the typical Slav tendency toward democracy. Lvoff kept aloof from the court as much as his father, the composer of Russia's national anthem, sought the court's favor. His career is a story of progress in democratic practice.

After graduation from the university he settled on his estate in the province of Tula, and soon was taking a conspicuous part in the work of the local Zemstvo, those organizations which kept a mild democracy alive in Russia during the darkest periods of reactionarism. In 1893 he was chosen head of the Tula Zemstvo, and by his work, reforms and liberal views thenceforward he won unstinted love of the masses.

He opened schools and established hospitals and accomplished much to promote the welfare of the peasants, and his work became so active in these directions as to earn for him the suspicious disapproval of the Government. During the Russo-Japanese War Lvoff organized sanitary and feeding stations for the army. After the war the Czar offered him preferment, but he refused, not caring to give up his social work for such a career as was at the disposal of the autocrat.

He is acquainted with America. Following the ending of the war with Japan he made a trip through Europe and through this country. He made a study of the conditions of life of the working people in this country, but he came and carried on his studies so quietly as to attract no attention here.

In 1913 he was elected Mayor of Moscow, but the Government, on account of his strong democratic leanings, refused to recognize the election. After the outbreak of the world war the Zemstvos united for the purpose of aiding Great Russia to victory and Lvoff was chosen to head this war organization. As the leader of the Zemstvo Union he found himself leading one of the most powerful forces that ever existed in Russia under autocracy. Thus Prince Lvoff, then about 50 years old, widely known and admired by the masses of Russia, was deemed the best fitted to bring order out of chaos when the first Provisional Government was set up.

Chinese Minister Was Murdered

THE Government of the Chinese Republic has communicated with that of this Dominion requesting that every endeavor be made to secure information incidental to the assassination at Victoria, B.C., recently of the Hon. Tang Hua Lung, Minister of Education and former Minister of the Interior at Pekin—an international political crime which it is suspected may have deep significance even beyond the domestic circle of what was until recently the world's most ancient monarchy and is now its newest republic and the first in the far east. Pending further developments the bodies of the unfortunate minister and of his assassin, Chung Wong (also known as Mah Chew) have been embalmed and in due course will be despatched to China.

The authorities at Victoria held the usual inquest—a coroner's jury heard in set formal terms such facts as were self-apparent from the beginning—the Orientals watched proceedings with mask-like faces and still tongues—the jury promptly returned a verdict of murder against the dead man who had been seen to do the shooting—and the impelling motives in the tragedy remain to the white community as complete a mystery as before.

That the assassination was a purely political crime and quite in accord with Oriental methods was conclusively established from the outset. Indeed the ill-fated minister had been warned that an attempt upon his life was contemplated and had altered his travel plans accordingly, for the avoidance of San Francisco, from which port he had originally intended to sail in returning to China, but where he had reason to suspect death lurked in wait for him. While a member of the Republican Cabinet, Hon. Tuan Hua Lung was credited with devotion to the individual cause of Tuan Chi Jui, who in turn was suspected by the southern or radical wing of Chinese republicanism as secretly favoring a restoration of the monarchy with himself on the throne, and to be not unfriendly to suggestions of Teutonic assistance.

The murderer himself in a letter left for his business partner, Ngon Long Bah, declares:—

"I cannot bear to sit here and watch my country perish. I have determined to act with blood and iron doctrine. When you see this do not worry on my account. What I shall do you will see."

This cryptic letter was dated "in the seventh year of the Chinese Republic, September the 1st.

Suggesting that the deed of blood might have been inspired thereby, the crown authorities at Victoria produced at the inquest held on the dead statesman's body an article that had been published in "The New Republic," British Columbia's morning Chinese newspaper, the day that the deed was done, a translation of which article in part reads:

"It is said that the coming of Tan Hua Lung to America this time is for the purpose of attempting to borrow foreign loans privately for Tuan Chi Jui. Although I cannot say for sure whether this is so or not, judging from Mr. Tang's movements during the recent years I cannot help being suspicious. Is Mr. Tang come really for the purpose of borrowing loans for Tuan Chi Jui? If so, what are the ways of the expenditure? Against Germany? It is simply to be used for doing harm to our south! Tuan Chi Jui is a great traitor of our country. Even those citizens who do not think of punishing him, regard as guilty the one who attempts to make loans privately for him and who is certainly more so. If the object of Tang Hua Lung's coming to America is not for the borrowing of foreign loans we leave it alone. If so Tang's guilt is ten or a hundred times more than that of the traitor Tuan,, and he is also a great traitor to our country!

Supposing the coming of Tang Hua Lung is really to aid the traitor, has he succeeded in getting the loans as expected? I am afraid it is rather uncertain, because most of the Chinese residents in America are patriots. Should someone try to borrow loans for the traitor's party to rebel against the country, few will not oppose it. Furthermore, the United States is also a republic. The Americans certainly know that every movement of the traitor, Tuan, is contrary to democracy. How could they be willing foolishly to lend loans to assist a despot to harm the people? Ah, no! Not only Tang cannot satisfy his expectations, but he has earned the great guilty name for assisting the traitor."

Minister Tang, who had been in Canada since Aug. 26 last, had been on a secret mission to Washington, allegedly for the Chinese Government. He was a man of 51, a graduate of Harvard.

Other similar murders have been committed during the past five years in America arising out of the vexed political situation in the Flowery Land. On May 3, 1914, Struck How Lin was stabbed to death at St. Louis. On Dec. 26, 1915, Wong Yuen Yung was fatally shot at San Francisco, following a Christmas banquet, he being known to favor the restoration of the ancient monarchy. The most sensational incident of the kind affecting the Chinese in America was, however, that which led up to the trial and subsequent execution of Eng Hin and Leo Dock in New York, from which arose certain serious tong feuds there. Although original murders occurred several years ago, the perpetrators were not executed until Feb. 15, 1915.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards—Receipts were 37 cars, with 234 cattle, 38 calves, 1,394 hogs, and 178 sheep and lambs.

There was a good clean up of the very highest run of fresh cattle offering, prices holding strong and steady with Wednesday's advance of 50 cents over Monday and Tuesday's sales.

Choice quality well-finished steers and heifers continued in good demand, both for the local and export trades.

Calf trade good and active for anything choice, but very few offering.

Lambs strong to 25 cents higher. Light sheep firm.

Hogs again came back strong. Rumors Wednesday of a possible embargo against hogs for a time unsettled the market, and lower prices were talked. The embargo, however, failed to realize, and prices again held firm at $18 fed and watered basis.

GRAIN ELEVATOR WAS DAMAGED.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A small bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

Would Be Good Training.

Dutch Guiana, to which the Government of Holland is said to have suggested that Big and Little Willie be sent for life, is, according to all accounts, about as pleasant and salubrious as a place of residence as Devil's Island an adjoining possession of the French. In comparison with either St. Helena would be a veritable heaven. If such a suggestion has been made the ex-Kaiser is hardly likely to welcome it with enthusiasm. Doubtless he would prefer some lovely island off Java, Borneo, or Sumatra, also Dutch colonies. This is a matter, however, about which he will have no say. The Allies will fix his future place of residence for him.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acids and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion

Lose Your Fat, Keep Your Health

Superfluous flesh is not healthy, neither is it healthy to diet or exercise too much for its removal. The simplest method known for reducing the overfat body two, three or four pounds a week is the Marmola Method, tried and endorsed by thousands. Marmola Prescription Tablets, containing exact doses of the famous prescription, are sold by druggists at 75 cents for a large case, or if you prefer you can obtain them by sending direct to the Marmola Company, 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. They are harmless and leave no wrinkles or flabbiness. They are popular because effective and convenient.

Leather.

In the hunt for new sources of leather strange things are turning up. It has been ascertained that the skins of frogs and toads can be tanned and turned to account for card cases and other fancy articles. The Government fisheries bureau says the skin of the codfish furnishes an excellent leather, tough as parchment and very durable. The same is true of salmon skin. Eel skins are employed in Europe for binding books, and in Egypt shoe soles are made from the skins of certain fishes caught in the Red Sea. Sturgeon skin affords a handsome ornamental leather, and the hide of the armored garfish is much valued in Europe, being covered with horny plates that can be polished to an ivory-like finish.

Chinese Reasoning.

A merchant of Shanghai offers five pounds of tea for $2, and ten pounds for $5. When the tourist told him that was ridiculous, the Chinaman answered that the more a man buys the richer he is, and the richer he is the more he can buy.

Barbed-wire Disease.

A peculiar psychosis of war prisoners which is international in type, as shown by its identity in all races represented in the prison camps, is described in the Medical Record. In these war prisoners the barbed wire fences act as a red flag to a bull. Prisoners themselves have coined the name given the ailment.

There is a period of latency before the barbed wire disease develops. The first phase is one of stimulation. Men argue, become quarrelsome and envious. There is a rage for games. Gradually the picture changes to one of depression. One is no longer able to concentrate. Even music becomes undesirable. Sleep is disturbed by dreams and there is an abnormal sensitiveness to sounds.

The barbed wire acts throughout as the badge and symbol of servitude. The part played by the wire appears to be shown by the fact that prisoners who work in small squads in the open under guard do not develop the disease. The author sees analogies of the "barbed wire disease" in Napoleon's life in St. Helena, in Stanley's prison experience, in Dostoyewsky's Siberian convicts, and especially in the polar explorers' mental state as recorded in many diaries.

The Czar's Estate.

The late Czar of Russia, before his deposition, possessed a single estate covering more than 100,000,000 acres—that is, about three times the entire area of Bulgaria.

The Pope's Title.

The official title of the present Pope of Rome is Benedict XV. His name is Giacomo Della Chiesa, and he was born near Genoa, Nov. 21, 1854. His father, Giuseppe Chiesa, was a nobleman of considerable wealth, and the future Pope began his clerical career with the advantage of the best education money could procure. He is regarded as a scholarly and gifted man of affairs. In his first encyclical, issued Nov. 1, 1914, he said: "The immense spectacle of a general war has struck us with unutterable horror and sadness."

Fish Killed by Cold.

It has been proved that sudden cold sometimes causes the death of thousands of fish in the shallow waters of the tropics and subtropics. Many species are so chilled as to become helpless, and either killed directly by drowning or are washed ashore in a comatose state. The phenomenon is known locally as "freezing," although the temperature of the water may be several degrees above the freezing point.

Manila Hemp.

The production of manila hemp in the Philippine Islands made substantial progress during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, according to statistics compiled by the Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department. The quantity was nearly 12 per cent. greater than in the preceding fiscal year and was the largest since 1913.

Industrial Relations One of Most Difficult Matters Before Present Parliament

Hon. Senator Robertson Favours Organization by Industries—Similar Organizations Under British Scheme.

LABOUR COMMITTEE

Special to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—"Industrial relations," one of the most vexed and urgent questions facing the urban sections of the country are not mentioned in the speech from the throne. The government unofficially says, however, that as usual, the speech is more formal than comprehensive, and that it does not exhaust all the legislation coming nor all the subjects receiving attention.

Hon. Senator Robertson, Minister of Labour, told the Examiner correspondent this morning that the Government was actively encouraging the principles if not all the details of the English Whitley report creating joint industrial councils, with equal representation of workers and employees, to discuss wages, hours of labour and all matters affecting the conduct of the industry.

Correct Method.

"We feel," said Senator Robertson, "that organization by industries, rather than by individual businesses, is the correct method. Such co-operation secures better standardization of labour conditions, an advantage to all the parties in industry. The leather trade, for example would be organized as a whole, rather than by isolated conferences and arrangements in individual plants.

Senator Robertson, however, does not mean to infer that he is opposed to shop committees. He thinks there should be joint committees in local plan to deal with local conditions and to apply to principles and arrangements agreed to at the larger conferences.

It is understood that the government at present is negotiating with more than one specific industry, encouraging the experiment of joint councils, based broadly on the Whitley.

British Scheme.

The organization under the British scheme provides for local councils, in a municipality, then district councils for a larger area and finally national councils.

The reporter asked Senator Robertson if there was any chance of a committee similar to the Whitley Parliamentary committee, being established here. Without definitely saying yes or no to this, the Minister of Labour pointed out that there already was a committee, although not a parliamentary one, dealing with the whole subject, and that in his opinion it was making satisfactory progress.

This is the Labour committee. Its history dates back to October 23, 1917, although it was not regularly constituted until May 4, 1918, and its greatest development has come in various reorganizations in the last few months.

THE BOLSHEVIKS WILL RETALIATE

Special to The Examiner:

HELSINGFORS, Feb. 20. —In retaliation for the arrest in Switzerland of the wife of Karl Radek, the Russian Bolshevik emissary, now imprisoned in Germany, the Bolshevik threaten to execute ten Swiss subjects by March 15 unless Mrs. Radek is released, according to a Petrograd despatch received to-day.

Will Return the Booty

Special to The Examiner:

BASLE, Feb. 21.—The German National Assembly has decided that industrial material taken from France and Belgium must be returned, according to a despatch from Weimar to-day.

The communist coal miners in the Ruhr district have resolved not to resume work until the present German government is overthrown, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung. The strikers now total 120,000.

Inter-Allied Army.

PARIS, Feb. 21.— L'Intransigeant announces that it hears an Inter-Allied army soon will be formed to keep the field until Germany makes complete financial settlement. The army, according to the newspapers, would include 850,000 French, 450,000 Americans, 350,000 British and 100,000 Belgians.

Strikes Continue.

Special to The Examiner:

BASLE, Feb. 21.—The general strike and attendant disorders in Germany are increasing, it was indicated in despatches received here to-day.

Mutinous sailors and government troops clashed in Munich, when sixty sailors armed with hand grenades attacked the building in which the Bavarian Council was sitting, according to despatches received here to-day. The sailors retreated after two of them were wounded.

Peterboro Soldier Is Dead Overseas

The official casualty list to-day contains the name of Pte. Arthur A. Alsept, formerly of the 93rd Battalion who is officially reported to have died. Pte. Alsept is well known in Peterboro. He was an employee of the Board of Works Department for a number of years, leaving that work in the spring of 1916 to join the 93rd Battalion with which unit he went overseas. No particulars have been received as to the cause of his death.

Liquor Parades Occur in Michigan

Supreme Court Search All Whiskey Smugglers—Cars Cross State Line in Thousands—Fatalities Occur.

Canadian Press:

DETROIT, Feb. 21.—The first fatalities incident to increased whiskey smuggling as the result of the Supreme Court's decision invalidating the Search and Seizure Law occurred last night when an inter-urban train demolished an automobile at Wyandotte near here, instantly killing three occupants. According to the police, the car was heavily laden with liquor supposed to have been brought into the State from Ohio. The liquor parade from Toledo grew to such proportions yesterday that the railways were forced to put extra cars on their trains. Reports from Monroe, near the State line, place the number of automobiles passing through there in 24 hours at 4,000. Of this number it was said about 100 have been wrecked.

Ohio's Fatalities.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Feb. 21.—The toll to-day of the Federal officials in their efforts to stamp out smuggling of liquor of liquor to Michigan was thirty arrests and four barrels, 306 cases, 20 gunnysacks, 25 suit cases, 68 jugs and 150 bottles of whiskey. Hundreds of Michigan visitors, unable to get home last night, spent the night here in doorways, in railway stations and in hotels.

Struggle for the Presidency

Canadian Press:

WARSAW, Feb. 21.—Campaign between Ignace Jan Paderewski and General Joseph Pilsudski for the Presidency of the new Republic of Poland, is in full swing. Paderewski, although he is probably more popular with the people than his rival, is not having clear sailing by any means. Pilsudski's strength lies in his popularity with the army.

FOCH GAVE PERMISSION

Recaptured Public Buildings From the Spartacans Within the Neutral Zone.

HEAVY FIGHTING

(Special to The Examiner.)

BASLE, Feb. 21.—The German government troops, operating with Marshal Foch's permission, have recaptured from the Spartacans all the public buildings in Elberfeld, according to despatches received here to-day. The fighting continued until noon yesterday when in agreement with the Allies, the troops withdrew until this morning, leaving a guard to maintain order.

Elberfeld is within the neutral zone, east of the Rhine.

Bruce Hutchinson Gets New Appointment

The Gerhard-Heintzman Piano Company, of Toronto, have appointed Mr. Bruce Hutchinson as their sole representative for Peterborough city and district—a position which he formerly occupied with the same firm. Mr. Hutchinson recently severed his connection with "Heintzman Hall" of this city, which he had represented ever since its opening in Peterborough, for the purpose of entering on his new engagement with the Gerhard-Heintzman Co.

Supreme Council Sessions Resumed

Clemenceau May be Able to Attend the Conferences on Monday—Neutral Powers Present To-day.

PREMIER'S CONDITION

By Fred S. Ferguson.
(United Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The Supreme War Council was to resume the sessions this afternoon, despite the absence of Premier Clemenceau.

The crisis in the Premier's condition was expected to be reached Sunday, when it will be determined whether it will be necessary for him to remain quiet for a few days longer. It was understood Clemenceau suggested that the Council hold no meetings before monday, at which time he was confident he could participate. The desire to clean up minor matters, however, prompted continuance on the sessions.

French Concurred.

The French delegates are said to have concurred readily in the suggestion that the conference be resumed.

To-day's meeting was expected to mark the first appearance of a neutral power to present its claims. Denmark was to urge that Schleswig Holstein, which was seized by Prussia more than half a century ago, be restored. Albania's claims to recognition also were to be read.

The Pan-African Congress, which has for its purpose the advising of the peace delegates regarding the desires of the coloured people of the world, was continuing its sessions here to-day.

W. E. B. Dubois, of New York, editor of the Crisis, has been in Paris for several months, organizing the negroes in face of difficulties such as the issuance of passports. Six coloured members of the French Chamber of Deputies finally made the meetings possible.

SINN FEINERS ARE ON THE MOVE

Special to The Examiner:

DUBLIN, Feb. 21. — The Sinn Feiners were reported to-day to have resumed activity throughout Ireland. A congress composed of delegates from Sinn Fein Clubs from all parts of the country was said to be meeting secretly here.

Clemenceau Is Improving

Several Plots Said to Have Been Unearthed in Switzerland.

(Special to Examiner.)

PARIS, Feb. 21. — Clemenceau, shot by an assassin on Tuesday, will be out of danger within 48 hours, it was announced to-day.

"I am very optimistic of my ability to return to work in four or five days," he told President Pointcare late yesterday.

Rumors were being circulated in Paris to-day that several plots have been unearthed in Switzerland, regarded as a hotbed of progerman and extremist conspiracies in connection with the attack on Premier Clemenceau. One report was that the Radicals had planned to assassinate both Clemenceau and President Wilson, but that none of the conspirators had succeeded in crossing the frontier into France owing to the watchfulness of the police. None of these rumors could be traced to its source.

(Canadiana Press Despatch.)

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Premier Clemenceau will receive his colleagues of the Supreme Council at his home this afternoon to discuss certain important matters with them. His doctors consider him out of danger and therefore authorized him to receive the ministers this afternoon. The physicians believe he can resume his political activities on Monday.

Out of Danger.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Premier Clemenceau is progressing as well as possible. We shall not feel altogether reassured for forty-eight hours. But then he will be out of danger, said Georges Mandel, Premier Clemenceau's chief clerk, to Marcel Hutin, editor of the Echo De Paris. Over the telephone at an early hour this morning, Clemenceau at that time was resting, and inquiries, mostly newspaper, desirous of some late news for their last editions, were informed that his condition continued satisfactory. "The only possible danger," said a celebrated French surgeon who was consulted by the "Matin," "and it fortunately a very problematic one, is appearance of a local pulmonary congestion caused by reaction. Such an eventuality has not developed, and the robust constitution and magnificent vigour of the "Tiger" are against such complication. Let us then have every confidence if by to-morrow night there is no temperature, our confidence may be changed to an assurance of absolute recovery. Every day that passes without fever appearing, doubles the patient's chance."

Meeting To-day.

In the meantime, however, the Peace Conference is to go on. It will meet this afternoon under the Presidency of Robt. Lansing, Secretary of State of the United States. France will be represented by Foreign Minister Pinchon and other delegates who know and are in sympathy with Clemenceau's views and opinions.

Narrow Escape From Drowning

East City Man Slips Through Hole In Ice—Saved by Comrade

Mr. David McGrath, Hazlet street East City, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday while working for the Allin Ice Company. He slipped through a hole in the ice and had it not been for the timely assistance of Mr. Burt Craig, McGrath would in all probability, lost his life.

Mr. James Conroy and Mr. Michael O'Brien drove him to his home and it is expected that he will be able to return to his work in a few days.

Social Service Officers Were Elected at Last Night's Meeting

Rev. Gilbert Agar Gave An Address —Rev. A. J. Thomas Occupied the Chair.

The meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. last night to organize a local branch of the Social Service Council, was largely attended. A large number of delegates who were appointed by different denominations, societies and organizations were present. Rev. A. J. Thomas, of George Street Methodist Church, occupied the chair in the absence of Mr. R. F. Downey, the temporary chairman of the executive. Mr. Hughson Johnstone, the provisional secretary, read the report of the actions of the executive, which was unanimously adopted.

The chairman introduced to the meeting, Rev. Gilbert Agar, B.A., Provincial Secretary and Organizer. He gave a brief account of the Social Welfare Conference held in Toronto last week which emphasized that the business of the church should be inter-denominational.

A Common Duty.

"It is the business of the church and of the laity to make the community as safe as the home," said Dr. Agar. "It is the duty of each citizen to see that the churches and organizations, Hebrew, Roman Catholic and Protestant, alike to do what the churches have been neglecting in the past, namely, community work." The speaker wished to make it absolutely clear that the Social Service Council was inter-denominational and should express the conscience of the city.

"Let us take a survey of the city which will likely reveal menaces that are not apparent now," continued Dr. Agar. "Our one great weakness has been in getting together."

The speaker was of the opinion that a Social Service secretary would be appointed who would devote all of his time to the work of the Council between Ottawa and Toronto. The general opinion of those present was that such an officer should be stationed in Peterborough, it being the logical centre between the capital and Toronto.

Four Vice-Presidents.

Mr. J. J. Hartley recommended that the recommendations of the speaker be adopted and that the suggestion that four vice-presidents be elected, each one to be in charge of a particular branch of the work that the local Council will undertake. Mr. G. W. Powell seconded the motion and it was carried.

Mrs. James Kendry asked whether the work should be taken up by the Ministerial Association or by laymen.

Rev. W. H. White, representing the Ministerial Association said that the work should be underaken by the laity.

The Officers.

"The business of the ministers is to stir up the minds of the laity into action. For after all the laity are the real force in a community," said Mr. White, backing up his argument. The position of president was left open for the present and the remaining officers were elected. The President of the Ministerial Association by virtue of his office will be honourary president. The Rev. A. F. Mackenzie, of Knox Presbyterian, consequently the first honourary president of the local council.

Vice-President—Mr. A. B. Cunningham (temperance department).

Vice-President—Dr. E. E. Harvey (health department).

Vice-President—Dr. Jesse Birnie (Child Welfare Work).

Vice-President—J. J. Hartley (Industrial Department).

Secretary — Mr. Hughson Johnstone.

Treasurer—Mr. Frank Adams.

Rev. Dougald Brown, of Park Street Baptist Church, suggested that a public amusement department be started at once and the suggestion met with hearty approval.

The Wage Problem.

At the conference held in Toronto it was suggested by one of the delegates and the matter will be taken into serious consideration by the local council, that manufacturers give 25 per cent. of their net earnings over and above 7 per cent to their employees in the form of wages and thus simplify the wage problem.

PLANS FOR HOMECOMING

All Canadian Troops Will be Home by August.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 21.—Elaborate plans for the demobilization of the Canadian Expeditionary Force are rapidly nearing completion. No official announcement has yet been made by the authorities at Ottawa, but the Examiner correspondent was to-day given details of the scheme by one who has had much to do with its preparation. According to present plans all the Canadian troops will be home by the end of August. During February, March and April it is hoped to bring 30,000 troops monthly. In May 40,000 will be brought back and the number will be increased to 45,000 for the months of June, July and August. According to an estimate recently made there still remains overseas 28,000 troops for New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, 160,000 for Ontario and Quebec, and 100,000 for districts west of the Great Lakes. It is figured that it will take 27 weeks to return all the troops for Ontario and Quebec, 25 weeks for those west of the Great Lakes, and 14 weeks for those in the Maritime Provinces. All troops for London, Kingston, Toronto and Montreal districts will be disembarked at Montreal. Those for Quebec, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Vancouver disembark at Quebec, and those for Halifax, St. John and Prince Edward Island at Halifax.

A Successor For Late Sir Wilfrid

Vacancy May Not be Filled During the Present Session—A Caucus on Monday Next.

SESSIONAL LEADER

Special to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 21.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is still leader of the opposition. In fact he is leading the House. His place is in the centre between the right and left of the Speaker, and his seat and desk are the only ones in the chamber. From eight last night until after midnight the people were filing in, and from nine o'clock this morning they recommenced.

Sir Wilfrid's chair will remain vacant in the Commons even after he has found a sepulchre. For the present session it is very unlikely that any one will fill it. A permanent leader will not be appointed until the Liberal party, gathered in general convention, have selected him.

A Successor.

Of Hon. W. S. Fielding, the member for Queens, Shelbourne, there is little probability that he will be called to move down to the front benches of the Opposition, not really because the Opposition has any objection to Mr. Fielding, but because there is a general feeling at the present time that the time is not opportune to go without their own ranks for a temporary leader. To say that the French-Canadian members want one of their own number is to state something which has no apparent truth. To insist upon this would leave them an isolated party in the House, which at best could but exercise a balance power in critical moments. The French Canadian members, or at least the most influential of them, have no such purpose. James Rabb, of Huntingdon, a Protestant with knowledge of both languages, and an able business man, and who is respected by everyone in the House as fair minded and broad in his views, was delegated yesterday to speak for the Opposition on three separate occasions, "as the chief whip of the party." In that fact many have seen the possibility of Mr. Rabb becoming sessional leader, with a committee of management and a number of the ablest of the old Chief's lieutenants, including a son of Rodolphe Lemieux, D. D. Mackenzie, Earnest Lapointe, Hon. Jacques Bureau, Hon. Charles Murphy and others to assist. From present indications the caucus on Monday may decide upon this course.

Aristocrat Kills Bavarian Premier

Spartacus Premier of Bavaria is Assassinated by Nobleman—Kurt Eisner Was a Former Editor of "Vorwaerts."

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Kurt Eisner, the Socialist Premier of Bavaria, was this morning shot and killed by an aristocrat, Lieut. Count Archo-Valley. The Count was wounded severely by the guard and is reported to be dying.

Kurt Eisner, who seized the reins of government in Bavaria after deposing the Royal family early in November, was a Socialist of the Spartacus type. The Archo-Valley family have been prominent in Bavaria and Germany for years. Eisner, a Jew, was born in Galicia, and at one time was editor-in-chief of the "Vorwaerts" of Berlin. He was arrested last April by the Bavarian government, and was reported to have committed suicide in prison. Eisner also had been opposed to the German Majority Socialists and since his rise to power in Bavaria had repeatedly attacked President Ebert and his colleagues. Accompanied by guards in uniforms and on a special train, Eisner went to Berne to attend the International Labour Conference there early this month.

Eight Persons Burned to Death

Canadian Press:

MONTREAL, Feb. 21. —Eight persons were burned to death in a small hotel at Ste. Koviet in the Laurentian mountains last night from fire, started in an overheated stove. A. Coupal, the proprietor, got out, but lost his life when he went back for his purse containing five hundred dollars. His wife and children jumped into a snow bank and escaped. Other victims were shantymen employed in the woods nearby.

TEMPORARY COMMITTEE

This Course May Be Followed by the Liberals When House Meets on Monday.

NOT A PRECEDENT

(Special to Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Feb 21. — The old-timers here are pointing out that if on Monday the Liberals name a temporary committee to lead the Parliamentary party, they will merely follow the precedent set at the time when Sir Wilfrid Laurier assumed the leadership himself. In June 1887 Edward Blake resigned the leadership of the Opposition two months after the general elections of that year which saw Sir John A. MacDonald once more returned to power. The Liberals appointed a committee of eight to temporary control. This group in turn as well as Edward Blake himself nominated Laurier. He first accepted the post only for that season. At its conclusion, however, the appointment was made permanent.

Since 1874 when Wilfrid Laurier entered the House as a debater and as a parliamentarian his selection as a leader was inevitable.

HUNTER STREET BRIDGE

The Hunter Street Bridge question seems to have reached the point where the City Council are hesitating between the alternative of altering the original plans of the structure and eliminating some features that may not be considered as essential or else appealing to the rate-payers for more money to construct the bridge, according to the design first approved. The Examiner believes that the public should be taken thoroughly into the confidence of the Council in regard to the matter and a public meeting at which the whole question could be thoroughly discussed might prove of much assistance in determining a policy.

The rate-payers should be given an opportunity to judge for themselves. If the "trimming" that Mr. Frank Hubner says could be made to the bridge, does not mean the elimination of some things that, while not absolutely necessary, are nevertheless desirable, the public might be in favor of the change. But they are not likely to want or sppprt a upenny-wise, and-to olish policy. Cut down to the bare essentials the bridge will cost a quarter of a million dolars and there are many of the opinion that if that much money is to be expended, it might be as well to add the other details that would make the bridge a better structure, both in appearance and utility, even if the cost is more.

In all events a public discussion of this important problem could do no harm and might prove a source of much benefit. There are many features in regard to the matter about which the rate-payers need enlightenment, and a frank, open discussion of the matter with all the cards laid on the table, would enable the people of Peterboro to decide whether or not they would be willing to vote a further grant towards the cost of the bridge.

A WELCOME ACTION.

The city council are to be congratulated upon their action in removing the restrictions in regard to the hours during which restaurants may remain open on Sunday. The bylaw will be repealed and Peterboro eating houses from now on will be able to operate on Sundays as they do on the other days of the week. The measure, however well intended, was a mistake; it has been a source of inconvenience to many residents, and the spectacle of tightly closed restaurants was not one that presented Peterboro in the most favorable light to visitors, especially when in search of a meal at an hour when the hotels were unable to serve them.

The council have decided to ask the Ontario Government to amend the Municipal Act so that municipalities may have the power to restrict the sale of ice cream on Sunday without interfering with the regular restaurants. It was in a desire to close the ice cream parlours that the bylaw of last year was passed, but as they as well as the restaurants were operating under an eating house license, it was found impossible to restrict the hours of one without similarly interfering with the other. The result was not satisfactory and the council have acted wisely in throwing off the restrictions, and at the same time endeavoring to secure power to deal with the ice cream parlours without having to adopt similar regulations for the legitimate eating houses.

THE NEW LEADER

The question of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's successor in the leadership of the Liberal party is already under discussion in the newspapers and elsewhere. There should be no hasty selection, however. The man who succeeds the old Chieftain should be the choice of the rank and file of the Liberal party throughout Canada, a leader who shall be strong enough to bring together and hold under his command the forces of Liberalism. He should be progressive and enterprising, devoted to the principles which Sir Wilfrid cherished during the long years he led his party, and a man whose qualities will appeal to the people of all parts of Canada. He will not necessarily be found among the men who hitherto have occupied chief place in the Liberal Council, although such leaders as Hon. George P. Graham, Hon. W. M. King and Hon. W. S. Fielding, have much to commend them for the position and they will undoubtedly be carefully considered. The appointment of a temporary leader to preside over the opposition during the present session is of course a necessity and Hon. W. S. Fielding would seem to be exceedingly well qualified for this position. Although he deferred from Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the Conscription issue and was elected nominally as a Unionist, he has conducted himself as an Independent in the House, voting against the Government on several occasions. He enjoys the confidence of Liberals generally, is an abled and skilled Parliamentarian, a facile speaker and is splendidly versed in financial matters. The financial situation will occupy a good deal of the time of Parliament during the session and Hon. Mr. Fielding would, under the circumstances, be admirably suited for the position of Liberal leader.

Whether or not he would be the choice of Liberalism as a permenent chieftain, remains to be seen. The appointment will, it is likely, be delayed until the close of the present session, when no time should be lost in calling together a convention that will be thoroughly representative of the whole Liberal party.

"Her Surrender" Based On Remarkable Theme

New Ivan Production to be Seen To-day and To-morrow at the Empire.

Whether love can be transferred is the remarkable theme of the new Ivan Production, "Her Surrender," which is opening at the Empire Theatre in this city for two days run, today and tomorrow. The stor Anna Nilsson, takes part of a wealthy young girl, betrothed to a millionaire whom she greatly loves. By urgent surgical necessity blood of a convict is transfused into her veins to save her life. Upon her recovery she meets the outcast, who has given his blood for her. Notwithstanding the promptings of her love and position the blood of the outcast in her veins cries out for recognition, and the photoplay hurries on to an amazing climax, which can better be seen upon the screen than told. The picture promises to arouse the greatest interest, as the story is one of the most original which has been presented on the screen for a long time.

HAIR AFLAME SHE LEAPS THREE STORIES AND MAY DIE

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Miss Catherine Lynch, 44 years old, a school teacher in Public School No. 3 Jersey City, was badly injured here She became panic stricken and jumped from a third storey window of her home at 228 Second street, Jersey City, a distance of about 40 feet when her hair caught fire from a gas get as she was combing it.

She is now in the Jersey City Hospital and is not expected to live. Her hair was almost entirely burned from her head, and in the fall she received internal injuries and a possible fractured skull.

Labour Party's Platform Laid Before Meeting Last Night

Also Summary of Achievements During Period of the War By Labour Goverament in Australia —Forms Contrast With Canada.

MEMBERSHIP GROWING

New recruits were added to the increasing membership of the Independent Labour Party at last night's meeting in the Labour Hall. The attendance was altogether encouraging, the addresses were thoughtful and stimulating, and there were signs of progress that should be quite impressive at the next meeting on March 6th, when the organization will be completed and officers will be elected for the year to carry on the work that has been set in motion by the Provisional Board. Signs of enthusiasm were found in the group of new members, some of whom had accompanied those who had previously enrolled.

Mr. Peter McArthur was chairman, and, with Mr. Tooms, Mr. McMurray and Mr. Joseph Begley, presented the aims of the Labour Party and the reasons why every worker should become actively identified with it.

Mr. Tooms stated that the object of the Independent Labour Party was to promote the political, economic and social interests of people who live by their labour, mental or manual, as distinguished from those who live by profit upon the labour of others. The platform was reviewed as follows:

Free and compulsory education — Free education in all institutions, supported by the Government.

Free text books.

Public ownership of all public utilities and natural sources of wealth.

Nationalization of banks and credit systems.

Direct legislation through the initiative, referendum and recall.

Gradual elimination of unearned increment through increasing taxation.

Equal pay for equal work.

Abolition of property qualifications for all municipal offices.

Abolition of all election deposits.

Abolition of the Canadian Senate.

No court to be legally competent to declare as unconstitutional any Act of the Parliament of Canada.

Amending the British North America Act in order that the decisions of the highest court of appeal in Canada shall be final in all matters, civil and political.

Adequate equal pensions for disabled soldiers, either officers or men, or their widows and dependents.

Pensions for mothers with dependent children.

Old age pensions.

Creation of national reserves of coal and timber.

Mr. McArthur remarked that this platform was broad and democratic enough for any working man. From the farmers, he said, every encouragement had been received in the movement to bring about an understanding between them and the city's workingmen, and it was hoped that definite action would materialize in the effort to unite the two forces.

In his address, Mr. Begley recalled Senator Robertson's suggestion regarding the Labour party. He had expressed the opinion that while it was a success in Great Britain, it would not succeed in Canada because of the predominance of agriculture. He did not tell us of what the Labour Party in Australia had accomplished, Mr. Begley continued, and a large proportion of its 5,500,000 inhabitants follow agriculture. The Government of Queensland had conducted public affairs far better than Canada during the war. Mr. Begley enumerated the following achievements by the Labour Government that went into power in Queensland in 1915 against a most powerful opposition by capitalists and other big interests:

1. Reduced prices, which rose 100 per cent. under Liberal Government in 1914-1915, almost to the pre-war level.
2. Nationalized the sugar industry and reduced sugar prices by 50 per cent. Set up State butchers' shops and reduced meat prices by over 50 per cent.
3. Started State Fisheries, broken the ring of fish dealers, and reduced fish prices by 66 per cent.
4. Nationalized the timber industry, reduced prices, and worked the industry at a profit to the people.
5. Set up a State Legal Department, affording legal advice to the workers at nominal fees.
6. Developed State Banking, and hus provided cheap credit and enabled houses to be built and let at ow rents.
7. Opened up State coal mines, iron mines, iron and steel works, oil wells, etc., reduced prices, and made a profit for the people.
8. Socialized the hospitals, and driven out the curse of charity and pauperism.
9. Established widows' pensions for all widows and orphans, and carried out the endowment of mothers.
10. Executed public works by direct labour, thus eliminating the contractor and greatly reducing the cost.
11. Set aside land for returning soldiers, and given them training on State farms at good rates of pay.
12. Made generous provision for disabled soldiers.
13. Resumed the ownership and use of much land which had been allowed to pass into the hands of profiteering combines, and worked the land for the benefit of the people.
14. Greatly increased the pay of all State employees, thereby causing a general rise in wages.
15. Been abused and reviled by all the capitalist parties and interests.
16. Been triumphantly returned to power at a second general election by a more than two-to-one majority.

Boys Fined For Stealing Shoes

One of the Boys Destroyed the Shoes When He Found They Would Not Fit.

The theft of two pair of curler's shoes at the Brock Street rink on the 12th of February, when the big bonspiel was being held, culminated in Police Court this morning when the two thieves pleaded guilty to the charge. One of the boys had destroyed the shoes when he found that they would not fit him, and $10 was added to the fine to pay for a new pair. In all the fine amounted to $30.10, which was paid by the father of the accused. The other boy who obtained one of the pair of shoes wore them in court this morning and seemed indifferent to the charge preferred against him. Some time ago he was in court on a charge of vagrancy and was remanded for a week, but he never turned up again.

"You are a dead beat," said the Magistrate.

He was assessed a $20 fine, and as the boots are useless now he will have to buy a new pair. The costs amounted to $10.10.

Mr. A. J. Gould, of Bancroft, owned one of the pair of shoes, and Mr. N. W. Rieve owned the other pair. Mr. Fordyce Strickland, formerly of Cornwall, but now of this city, acted in the place of Crown Attorney Hatton.

We Are Proud Of Our Record

In the few years that we have been in business in Peterboro' we have fitted hundreds of difficult cases of eye trouble. We have made friends and satisfied customers by the score through our efficient methods.

One of the chief factors in our success has been our painstaking effort to make each pair of glasses suit the individual needs of the patient. Not only do we fit the eyes correctly, but we consider the looks as well as the purpose for which glasses are wanted.

We have had great success in the use of invisible bifocals, tinted lenses, shell frames, and all the modern units used in the higher standards of Optometry.

Local Men Saw Heavy Fighting

Three Peterboro Soldiers Who Are Returning.

Among the Peterborough men reported in yesterday's issue of the Examiner as having arrived at Halifax on the Royal George was Pte. J. Willshaw, 457 Elm street, who went overseas with the 59th Battalion and was subsequently transferred to the 18th Battalion. While serving with his unit he was wounded in the thigh at Hill 70 after two years in France.

Served Two Years.

Pte. B. Mason, 373 St. Thomas street, went overseas with the 8th Canadian Mounted Rifles in July, 1915, and then to France with the Canadian Field Artillery in June, 1916. There he served for two years before being wounded at St. Julien in November last.

Pte. F. Kiff, 585 Division street, went overseas with the 21st Battalion in May, 1915 and crossed over to France in September of that year. After three years and four months he was wounded while fighting near Elverdhinghe.

War Veterans' Band Meeting

The first annual meeting of the above band, held last night, proved they were in an excellent position. The number of members present were 34. The band is making good progress, which proves the great interest the members take in this organization, by regularly attending the rehearsals. The band posses a repertoire of music valued at between four and five hundred dollars, and Comrade Walter Hughes, the bandmaster, is confident of producing a programme of high-class music in the park this summer such as will be a credit to the city and the band. He has received several letters from comrades overseas, congratulating the band and wishing it success, expressing willingness to become members on their return. The band will be, it is expected, over 50 strong by the time the open air concerts begin and the instrumentation will be one of the best in Canada. The band has already booked several important engagements (some out of town) for April, May, June and July, which shows how popular the G.W.V. Band is with the public.

Officers Elected.

The following were elected officers for the ensuing year:
Hon. President— Lt.-Col. T. Johnston.
Band President — Comrade Capt. Morrison.
Band Quartermaster— Comrade R. Muir.
Band Sergt-Major — Comrade T. Miller.
Band Sergt.—Comrade H. Wood.
Band Corp'l—Comrade R. Browne.
Bandmaster—Comrade W. Hughes.
Band Treas.—Comrade A. Murray.
Band Sec.—Comrade W. Dyer.
Librarian—Comrade T. Gazley.
Executive committee — Comrades Gray (chairman), Robinson, Bohn, Alton, Blondin, Armitage and Walton.

Trapped a Big Whiskey Supply

(Special to Examiner.)

KINGSTON, Feb. 21. — At Napanee yesterday afternoon Provincial License Inspector Taber and Police Chief Barrett paid a visit to the Queen's Hotel and found 91 bottles of whiskey underneath the bathroom floor, which they confiscated. There has been a great deal of boot-legging in Napanee and one source has been discovered. Big developments are awaited.

To Grow Hair On Bald Heads

Specialist Gives Simple Recipe That Works Fine.

Specialist Gives Simple Recipe That Works Fine.

Thousands of people suffer from baldness, and falling hair who having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomforts. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and it also is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces, Lavona de Compose 2 ounces, Menthol Crystals, one half drachm. If you wish it perfumed add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics. Ladies using this prescription should be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired.

A prepared milk food taken before bedtime will often make an old person or an invalid sleep better.

The Anglican Church and Problem of Reconstruction

The various meetings being held at present time in the Anglican churches of the city of Peterborough, as part of a general effort being made throughout the Diocese of Toronto to place the work of the church on a better basis.

The termination of the war finds the church confronted with a great responsibility in connection with the problem of reconstruction.

Churches in City.

In the city of Toronto some thirty churches are at present uniting in what is known as an Every-Member-Canvass, and the church in Peterborough is doing likewise. From these two cities the work will be carried into the towns and rural communities until every Anglican shall have a definite opportunity presented to him of sharing in a systematic way, in the work of the church.

The total financial needs of the church for all its departments of Work—Missionary, Sunday School, Social Service, War Service Commission, Diocesan Funds, have been apportioned. This total has been divided among the various parishes and information by means of addresses and literature, is being disseminated.

The system of contributing that is being urged for adoption is that known as the Duplex Envelope. To make this effective in each parish the laymen of the church are being organized for a definite effort once each year to visit all who claim membership in the church, with a view to presenting the work and needs of the church, and to securing their co-operation. The real nature of money as an instrument for service is being emphasized as well as the great principle of stewardship.

Special Addresses.

On Sunday last special addresses on the above were given in St. John's, St. Luke's and All Saints' Churches, and on Sunday next similar addresses will be given in the above churches and also in St. George's, South Peterborough. On Monday evening last a service of Intercession was held in St. John's church for the men of the whole Anglican Communion in the city, and on Monday evening of next week a men's supper will be held in St. John's school house. During the present week organization meetings are being held in the various churches.

All Saints has already completed its canvass. St. John's is at present engaged in one, and St. Luke's and St. George's are preparing for theirs.

By repeating this programme each year it is believed that many of the weaknesses of the past can be overcome and such an intelligent force be generated as will enable the church to face the problems that lie ahead of it.

GERHARD-HEINTZMAN PIANOS.

Mr. Bruce Hutchinson, of this city, has been appointed sole representative for Peterborough and district for the well-known Gerhard-Heintzman Piano Company of Toronto. The tonal effect and beauty of mechanical construction of these pianos have won for them a high reputation. Mr. Hutchinson's address is 334 Rubidge Street, with telephone call No. 849. 3d44

Ald. A. A. McIntyre Charges the Council With Being Dilatory Regarding Hunter Street Bridge

Members of the Council Want to See the Work Speed Up in Spite of Chairman's Disability—Special Meeting of the City Council—General Business.

Dissatisfaction with the manner in which the Hunter street bridge problem is being handled was expressed by a number of aldermen at last night's session of the City Council. Mayor Duncan explained that Ald. Phalen, chairman of the Board of Works and Bridge committee, was sick, with the result the committees were unable to get together. The question was opened by Ald. McIntyre, who declared it was up to the Council to see that the work was pushed along faster. The city had an agreement with the Quaker Oats Company which it would have to respect, and besides, the construction of the bridge would provide work for many who are at present out of employment.

Ald. Edgar concurred in Ald. McIntyre's remarks.

Mayor Duncan explained that Ald. Phalen, chairman of the Board of Works committee was sick and unable to call a meeting on that account.

"I do not think that a sick man should hold up the city of Peterborough," observed Ald. Murray.

Ald. Gainey suggested that a meeting be called in the absence of the chairman.

"The Bridge committee should have been called together two days ago, when Mr. Frank Barber was in the city. We should proceed with this work as rapidly as possible," said Ald. Gainey.

Mayor Duncan promised to get after Ald. Phalen and ascertain the prospects of calling a meeting at an early date.

"I can sympathize with a man when he is sick, but I would not want to hold up the business of the city if I were sick," remarked Ald. Murray.

A motion moved by Ald. Edgar and seconded by Ald. Garside, that the Mayor call a meeting of the Bridge committee was lost.

Mayor Duncan assured the aldermen that he would get in touch with Ald. Phalen at once.

Increases Granted.

The Council endorsed the Fire, Water and Light committee's report, which, among other things, provided an increase of $100 a year to the Fire Chief and $60 a year to the engineer.

The increases were opposed by Ald. Murray, who was about to say something regarding "Masonic influence" at the fire hall when he was checked by Ald. Morrison, who rose to a point of order.

Ald. Garside said he favoured the increases, claiming that the firemen were entitled to all they could get, as they ran many risks and their duties were arduous.

"The Fire Chief is more entitled to an increase than the Chief of Police or his whole force," said Ald. Garside. "They run twice as many risks," he added.

Swing Span.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company wrote to the Council, announcing the company's intention of putting in a swing span in their bridge crossing the river as soon as this change is required by the city. The company will be notified to complete the work once the Hunter street bridge is started.

Eating Houses.

The Council confirmed the Legal committee's report recommending that the by-law limiting the hours on Sunday during which restaurants may remain open be repealed.

On motion of Ald. Edgar and Ald. Hamilton, the Provincial parliament will be asked to amend the Municipal Act so that municipalities may restrict the sale of ice cream on Sunday without interfering with or closing eating houses. The present Act does not make any distinction.

$50,000 For Bridge.

A letter was received from the Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals, confirming the grant of $50,000 towards the construction of an overhead bridge on Hunter street over the Otonabee river.

Ald. J. J. Turner moved that a vote of thanks be tendered Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., for the services rendered by the Federal member in assisting the Council to secure a grant from the government. This was seconded by Ald. Edgar and confirmed by the Council.

Good Roads.

Mr. E. G. Patterson, in a letter addressed to the Council, suggested that the city take steps to secure a portion of the government grant towards the construction of highways. The writer recommended that an effort be made to interest the County Council in the project.—The matter was referred to the Board of Works.

A Turn Table.

It is the intention of the Canadian Pacific Railway to construct a turntable at the company's station in the city. A request for permission to construct a turn-table was referred to the Board of Works.

Out of Commission.

A letter was read from Fire Chief Grange, stating that the steam fire engine was out of commission owing to leaky tubes. Repairs may cost in the neighbourhood of $600.

Bridge Contract.

Mr. John O'Toole, contractor, Ottawa, informed the city that he would construct the proposed Hunter street bridge for $318,000, providing the plans were substantially modified.

Soldier Appointed.

Mr. William Henry, assessor, notified the Council that he had secured the services of Arthur Ringer, a returned soldier, as assistant in the assessor's office.

The Fuel committee was officially relieved of its duties on recommendation of the Legal committee.

Ald. Turner was instructed to go to Ottawa to represent the city in the Bell Telephone Company's case.

The Fire, Water and Light committee was authorized to purchase a couple of horses for the fire department and also dispose of a pair of the greys at present in the service.

To get the real, full flavour of mustard it should be mixed with salad oil only.

PRIZEWINNERS AT THE ICE CARNIVAL

Proceeds Will Go to Building Fund of Church.

Splendid costumes, perfect ice and weather, and good live entries, contributed to make the ice carnival at the Mark street rink last evening a pronounced success, and a considerable sum was realized to be devoted to the building fund of the church.

The winners in the different events were:

Boys Race—Leo O'Connell.
Gents' Race—H. Nellist.
Gents' Race—Jimmy McMartin.
Best Dressed Lady Representing Canada—Mrs. Bolwell.
Best Ladies' Fancy Costume—Miss Freeburn.
Best Dressed Clown—Miss L. Myers.
Best Dressed Girl—Edith Jenkins.
Best Dressed Boy—Donald Miller.

The judges for the evening were Mr. Burnham and Mr. Hurl.

DAVIDSON GOLD MINES

Electric power has been turned on and the enlarged plant at the Davidson Gold Mines is now in full operation. Word to this effect reached the city from the mine over the week-end. The workings have been drained of any water that had accumulated and the mine management is making provision as speedily as possible for the opening up of the important new ore body recently located at the 465 foot to the 500 foot level in the new shaft. The equipment is adequate to enable the company to carry forward vigorous development work and run the new mill at capacity.

Word from the camp is to the effect that disclosures of the first importance have been made in the mine. The statement was accompanied by liberal orders from Northern Ontario, which generally presages an important announcement.

The persistent buying on the market of large blocks of Davidson stock has continued, until it is impossible to draw out any amount of stock even at steadily advancing prices, from day to day. Buying orders have been filled cautiously, because orders amounted to several hundred thousand shares, and precipitate buying would have run the stock up to a dollar, so tight is the market.

Will Investigate Fuel Commission

City May Lose Between $1,500 and $2,000.

The Fuel Commission of the City Council is to be the subject of an investigation. This action was decided at a special meeting of the City Council held last evening. Ald. Edgar supported by Ald. McIntyre fathered a resolution calling for an enquiry into the activities of the Commission for this and last year and the submission of all papers, letters and other documents to the investigating committee. Ald. Edgar intimated that the city was likely to lose between $1,500 and $2,000 for coal that had gone astray or had been confiscated in other towns.

Mayor Duncan replied that this matter was being looked into by the City Solicitor.

"We want the facts," said Ald. Edgar.

The investigating committee will be Aldermen Hamilton, McIntyre, Gainey and Edgar.

Bolshevik Army Was Defeated

Russian Cossack Leader Scores Another Success.

Special to The Examiner.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—General Denikin, Russian Cossack leader, has extended his victories in the Caspian region, reaching Brianskoye and putting the Bolshevik eleventh army completely out of action, according to a Constantinople despatch to the Times today.

(Brianskoye is on the west shore of the Caspian sea, 300 miles north and west of Baku.)

Genuine New York Company Here Saturday

A Treat for "Grand" Patrons.

"The Man Who Came Back," the play with a thrill in every act, and there are five of them, will be the attraction at The Grand Opera House, to-morrow Saturday, February 22 with the usual matinee. It comes to Peterborough with a record of having played 72 weeks in New York and each and every week capacity houses greeted the players at every performance. Its last performance in New York was given two weeks ago to-night. Rounding out its seventy-second week, it broke the record of the theatre. The play by Jules Eckert Goodman from John Fleming Wilson's short story of the same name has all the elements of a human appeal to theatre goers of every class and description. Millions have seen it and the story so well told is bound to carry its theme to millions more before it grows old. The regeneration of a young man who has fallen by the wayside and picking himself up to fight his way to the front again in any walk in life has a big appeal to every red-blooded man and woman. There is a story in "The Man Who Came Back," and is the reason of its great success. Its human and virile story makes a wonderful appeal. The cast presenting this William A. Brady production includes James Dreyenforth, Katherine Cornell, James Seeley, Esther Howard, Peter Land, Jane Carlton, Richard Clarke and Nick Long.

INTERMEDIATES EASILY WON FROM JUNIORS

Score in City Championship Game Was 14 to 4 in Favour of the Halpin Squad—Intermediates Showed Their Best Form of the Season and Had Big Margin on Youngsters.

The Peterborough Intermediate O. H.A. team succeeded in proving to the members of the Junior crew in the City Championship game at Brock St. rink last night that the youngsters have still a lot to learn about the national winter pastime. Grover Halpin's squad won handily by 14 to 4, and although the score hardly represents the play, yet the Intermediates had a wide margin on the kids. The Juniors can have no excuses to offer. They had their full squad in action, were reinforced with Murray in the nets, and had two substitutes, while the Intermediates were shy Ray Rose and only used the same six men all the way through the battle.

The winners played the best hockey they have shown all winter. Evans, Halpin and Jackson looked a 100 per cent. better forward line than the Landrault-Murphy-Hodgins trio that performed against Oshawa here. The three did some nice stick-handling and shooting, and showed unexpected team-work that took them in close without difficulty. Their unselfish passing around the nets accounts for the big score, because it earned goals for them while the Juniors threw away many chances through failing to pass. Legros made some clever stops, and Schults and Lowes formed a defence that was very hard to beat.

Individually the Junior bunch did not suffer much in comparison to the winners, but in team-work and shooting ability the youngsters were badly outplayed. Their marksmanship was weird. Park, although handicapped by a bad knee, a souvenir of the last Lindsay game, seemed to be the only Junior to get the puck on the nets. He beat Legros twice, and the Intermediate goaler had to move fast in two or three other occasions to save counters from shots from the same player. All the youngsters worked hard and never stopped trying, but wild shooting and lack of combination kept their score down. While on the defence they were made to look bad on a number of occasions. They almost invariably crowded after the man with the rubber and a quick pass across the ring left the path to the nets wide open. The winners took full advantage of these openings and most of the goals scored on Murray were hammered through at close range.

"Jerry" Coughlin handled the bell, and had an easy time of it, as the teams played clean hockey all the way. It was a good game in spite of the score. The teams were:

The Juniors started off at a terrific clip. They pressed from the face-off and the game had hardly got under way when Cherrett and Hagermna combined nicely for a counter, the former scoring on an easy shot.

The Intermediates were not long in tieing it up. Evans got away, and although Murray stopped the first shot, Evans slammed the rebound in. He came back a few minutes later with a neat rush and scored. A pass at the right time from Jackson gave Evans a chance for his third goal, and he followed it up by tallying number 4 on a side shot. Halpin batted in a rebound on a shot from Evans for the fifth counter, and Jackson dodged in alone just before the end of the period and grabbed another, leaving the figures 6 to 1.

The Juniors played their best hockey of the night at the beginning of the second session. They began to pass the puck a little, and as a result they kept Legros busy. Three or four good chances to score were lost by poor shooting before Park taking a pass from behind the nets from Hagerman, slipped the rubber past Legros.

When Park came right back and netted another on a pass from Girard it began to look as if the Juniors had a chance, but Jackson stopped the rally with a pretty rush for a goal. He added another a little later on Evans' pass, and Halpin made it 9 to 3 when he went down alone.

The Intermediates had a big margin in the last period. Although they used a three-man defence with only two forwards on the attack, they outscored the Juniors four to one. Halpin started the fireworks by scoring in a rebound, and Jackson walked in and beat Murray at close range for the next one. Jackson and Evans combined for another counter, the former doing the shooting and Lowes followed with a counter after a good rush. That made it 13 to 3. Hagerman gave the Junior rooters a chance to yell when he scored on Williams' pass, but Jackson got that one back on a nice rush. It was the last score of the game. The summary:

1—Juniors, Cherrett.
2—Intermediates, Evans.
3—Intermediates, Evans.
4—Intermediates, Evans.
5—Intermediates, Evans.
6—Intermediates, Halpin.
7—Intermediates, Jackson.

O.H.A. FINALS PLAYED NEXT WEEK AT TORONTO

Outside Hockey Groups Challenge O. H.A. For Allan Cup—Some Good Games Promised.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—The Senior O. H.A. finals will be played during the week of March the third, it was announced by Secretary W. A. Hewitt this morning. The first game will be on Tuesday, March fourth and the second on Friday the seventh, or Saturday the eighth. If one of the Toronto teams is in the running, the latter date will be chosen.

Kitchener and the St. Patricks, who are tied for group honours, will play off at the Arena on Saturday, March first, the winners to meet the survivors of the Hamilton-Dental series. The Manitoba Selkirks, one Montreal team and Thunder Bay have each challenged for the Allin Cup now held by the O.H.A.

HOCKEY

The Mark Street Church team, all the members of which are within the age limit of the Junior Church League wish to challenge the George street team, champions of the Church League to a game of hockey to be played at Brock street rink as soon as possible. The Mark street team have rounded together most of the players who made such a good showing in the church League several season's ago and should make a good showing.

Engineer For New York, Out of Army, Strangely Missing

Lieutenant William H. Stuart, Who Suffered Shell Shock in France, Disappears.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—His disappearance attributed to depression following shell shock in France, Lieutenant William H. Stuart, an engineer in the Public Service Commission, has not been seen since January 15. Not a clue was left by the lieutenant, and his absence is a mystery the police of the city are trying to explain. On the day he dropped from sight, Lieutenant Stuart bade goodby to a fellow soldier at the Grand Central Terminal.

Upon request of Lieutenant Byron D. Stuart, the engineer's brother, who is staying at the Pershing Club, Acting Captain John H. Ayer, of the Missing Persons Bureau at Police Headquarters, yesterday distributed thousands of circulars bearing a picture and description of the missing man. According to friends of Lieutenant W. H. Stuart he intended to go to Oneonta, N.Y., for several days before returning to his duties in the Public Service Commission.

Lieutenant Stuart's melancholy, it is said, became noticeable first in Bordeaux, France. His ordinary cheery disposition had disappeared, and he preferred to be alone. Accustomed to smoking a cigar occasionally, he smoked many cigars every day, his associates attributing the change to effects of shell shock.

LIQUOR VALUED AT $5,000 SEIZED ON A STEAMSHIP

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 21.—Agents of the Department of Justice boarded the steamship Kershaw, of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company, here to-day, shortly before the vessel was due to sail for Norfolk, Va., and seized whiskey valued at $5,000. The officers declare the liquor was to be taken into Virginia, a prohibition State, in violation of federal law.

Virtually all of the liquor was in pint bottles, and had been packed in suitcases and bags and hidden in lockers and beneath bunks in the crew's quarters. Officers of the Kershaw aided the federal agents in searching the ship. No arrests were made. Federal officers said the whiskey was of good quality and would have sold for $6 a pint in Norfolk.

Fire Upon Polish Mission While En Route to Lemberg.

WARSAW, Feb. 20.—Members of the Inter-Allied Commission to Poland were fired upon by the Ukrainian soldiers while travelling to-day from Cracow to Lemberg on a Polish armoured train. The delegation returned to Cracow.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR WORLD CONFLICT

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—In discussing the responsibility for war before the Berne Conference, Eisner declared that former Emperor William was undoubtably directly to blame for precipitating the war. He said that documents found in Munich tend to support this view. He insisted that all of the German military caste should be tried by a German tribunal for their share of the responsibility.

HAS CONSENTED TO A CONFERENCE

Canadian Press:

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The Northern Russian Government, with headquarters at Archangel, has finally consented to a conference of Russian factions with Allied powers, and the question of houding this conference will be reopened.

Two Years For Kinmount Man

Charles Doherty in Sentenced by Magistrate Dumble this Afternoon—No Excuses Accepted

Charles P. Doherty, a merchant at Kinmount, was sentenced to two years less one day on the Guelph Prison Farm, for being an absentee from His Majesty's Forces.

According to the evidence he was ordered to report on March 29, 1918 at Kingston but failed to do so. On Feb 14 of this year on the information of Inspector H. F. Word he was arrested in his store in Kinmount

The prisoner, only 34 years of age, seemed to take the sentence hard. Mr. G. N. Gordon, who acted for the prisoner put up a splendid defence but the Magistrate would not accept Doherty's excuses, and said, that he didn't see why he should take a lenient view of the case.

"If the 500,000 Canadians who went overseas had made excuses what kind of an army would we have, inquired the Magistrate of the prisoner.

Doherty offered as an excuse that he had written to Major H. P. Cooke the Registrar at Kingston, for leave but that he had received no answer.

Mr. Fordyce Strickland conducted the prosecution.

Always wet cornmeal with cold water before pouring it into the boiling water to make mush.

Cayenne pepper should be used sparingly as it affects the liver.

Few men would decline to have their photographs taken Dominion cabinet size.

OBITUARY

OWEN D. BAKER

Last evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jenkinson, 635 Union street, the death took place of Owen D. Baker, aged eighty-seven years. The deceased was born in Birmingham, England. Forty-five years ago he came to Canada and for the greater part of that period has resided in Peterboro. His wife predeceased him thirty-two years ago. Two daughters and one son survive, namely, Mrs. Robert Harson of Orillia and Mrs. J. Jenkinson. A third daughter Daisy, died some years ago. The surviving son is William H. Baker of the Peterboro Planing Mills. A second son, Bert was killed in action at Vimy Ridge.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at three-thirty o'clock from the late residence of the deceased to Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. ROBERT LAING.

Many friends in Peterborough will regret to learn of the very sudden death of Mrs. Robert Laing, of Montreal, for many years a resident of this city.

The deceased, who removed to Montreal about eight years ago, had enjoyed the very best of health until a week ago when she sustained a stroke at her home from which she never recovered, her death taking place last evening, Thursday, February 20th.

Mrs. Laing's maiden name was Elizabeth Stewart, and she was married to Mr. Robert Laing more than 40 years ago, who still survives her, as well as eight sons, who are as fololws: Arthur Torrance, Ross anad Kenward, all of Montreal; Chester of Chicago, Archie of Erindale, James of Hamilton, and Savigny overseas.

The deceased was in her 68th year, and during all her life in Peterborough had the acquaintance of many friends, being an active member of St. Paul's Church, and also through her unfailing kindness and sympathy on all occasions, and her death will be greatly deplored by all who knew her.

The funeral will take place from St. Paul's Church on Saturday afternoon, February 22nd, at 3:30 o'clock.

Interesting Address

Rev. J. L. Taylor gave a most interesting and instructive address on "India" in the Sunday School room of St. John's Church on Tuesday afternoon. The address was thoroughly appreciated and it is hoped that Mr. Taylor will repeat it in the near future as illness prevented a large number from being present. Mr. Taylor has lived in India and knows his subject thoroughly.

Mind your own business unless you are able to employ a private secretary.

DIED

LAING—At Montreal on Thursday, February 20th 1919, Elizabeth Stewart, beloved wife of Mr. Robt. Laing, in her 68th year.

The funeral will take place from St. Paul's Church, Peterborough, on Saturday afternoon, February 22nd 1919 for interment in the Little Lake Cemetery.
